MARKET HAS GOOD UPTURN

Wheat Strong With Active Bidding on Northwest Weather Reports.

Flaxseed Bulges on Buying By Crushers After Yesterday's Break.

Duluth Board of Trade, April 25.—The market was strong at the close with a fresh burst of buying and covering.

May wheat closed 1⅝c up, and September 1½c up.

May durum closed 1⅜c up, and July 1⅝c up.

Oats closed ⅛c up at 41⅞c for on the track; rye unchanged at 92c, and barley unchanged at from 64 to 72c.

At Winnipeg May oats closed ⅛@¼c up at 45¼@45⅜c.

At St. Louis May wheat closed at $1.09¼, and July at $1.10¼.

At Kansas City May wheat closed at $1.04⅝, and July at $1.06⅛.

Puts on Minneapolis May wheat closed at $1.17⅛, and calls at $1.20.

Longs held the upper hand in the wheat market today, prices showing moderate advances. Gains were recorded at the outset by reason of the failure of Liverpool to follow the break registered in the American markets yesterday to its full extent. After the execution of some resting orders around the opening, the market turned firm and held so throughout with little inclination in evidence to sell in any quarter. Reports told of backward conditions over nearly the whole of the Northwest, with more rain reported, whereas dry weather is now urgently desired to enable farmers to catch up with their seeding. The Southwest crop news was also bullish. Stocks in elevators at the Head of the Lakes are expected to be materially lightened during the next few days with the loading of boats now on the way up. Every effort will be made to get bonded grain out, and in that connection it is noted that a considerable tonnage, chiefly oats, is still being shipped out all-rail to the East.

Operators appeared to be more bullish all around in their views today, the opinion being held that in the event of the trouble with Germany blowing over, wheat quotations might easily be marked up 10c. In support of that, attention is drawn to the probability of a greatly reduced area being sown to wheat in the Northwest this spring, and the forecasts of a lighter yield in the winter wheat territory. Under these conditions and with smaller European crops in sight, wheat is regarded by many as cheap at around its present price basis. Estimates now are that the new crop acreage to wheat in Australia also will be fully 20 per cent less than last year.

May wheat opened unchanged at $1.16, and moved up ⅞c to the noon hour. July opened unchanged at $1.16⅝, and gained ¾c more.

Durum was more active with reported good Eastern inquiry for grain to go out immediately. May durum opened ¼c off at $1.10, and gained 1⅛c. July opened unchanged at $1.11½ and advanced ⅞c.

Bulge in Flaxseed.

Active bidding by crushers after yesterday's break led to advances extending up to 4⅝c in flaxseed quotations at one stage. Receipts were light and the market was influenced by reports of a stronger consumptive situation in linseed oil. Realizing on the advance brought about a reaction from the high figures set during the session, but the material gains were still left at the close.

May flax opened unchanged at $2.04½, advanced to $2.09⅛, and closed 2¾c up at $2.07¼ asked. July opened unchanged at $2.06, gained 4⅝c, and closed 2¾c up at $2.08¾.

At Winnipeg, May flax closed 1¼c up at $1.83¾ bid, and July 2¼c up at $1.86¾.

Walter Newcombe of the Globe Elevator company has returned from a three weeks' vacation trip to New York, Boston, Philadelphia and other Eastern points. He was informed that business was never as active in the East as it is at present. On account of the shutting off of European travel New York and other cities are receiving a great influx of visitors, and the hotels are consequently filled up.

The steamer Sultana loaded durum wheat at the Capital elevator today, and the Bradley is taking on 300,000 bu durum at Great Northern elevator S.

Operations in cash grain were limited today in the Duluth market with light receipts. Cash No. 1 northern was quoted at the May price to 2c over and cash durum at the May price to 1c over. Cash flax was in good demand by crushers at the May price.

At Minneapolis cash trade was slow and some of the buyers reported purchases at ½c to 1c lower compared with futures. Elevator wheat was offered rather freely. Late sales were the weakest. Blue stem No. 1 northern sold at 2½c to 4c over May and velvet chaff 1½c to 2c over. Flour trade was very quiet and dull.

Regarding linseed, Broomhall cabled:

"Argentine market was easy in sympathy with the American decline, but stocks and arrivals are light. The general market was very firm with an advancing tendency."

Foreign crop summary:

India—Weather is fine and harvesting in most places is finished and plenty of grain is moving to ports. Holders, however, are not pressing, as reserves of old wheat are light. Freights are scarce and shipping very difficult.

Australia—Weather is not favorable for the new crop and the acreage will suffer as a consequence in some districts. The loss will be fully 20 per cent of last year. Holders are firm and selling sparingly when prices favor. Shipping is still very slow. Continent is taking a large percentage of the clearances. This is due to better tonnage from this source.

Russia—The weather has again turned colder after a period of mildness and damage is feared. There is still very little grain moving to ports of shipment owing to bad railway facilities and it is estimated that spring shipments in export channels will be very light.

Broomhall cabled from Liverpool: "Dullness prevailed as a result of the holidays, but the undertone was steadier, with shipments to the United Kingdom smaller. The spot market was dull with prices unchanged to 5d lower than Thursday. The cargo market was steadier, Manitobas 1½d lower and winters unchanged. Arrivals are ample, but there has been a falling off in shipments during the week as the continent is taking freely. Australia and Argentina are holding steadily."

C. E. Lewis & Co. had the following from Winnipeg: "Fort William shipped out over 4,000,000 bu; afloat in storage there are about 2,500,000 bu, and there has been about 1,500,000 bu shipped out of the elevators so far."

Russell's News, New York, said: "It is persistently stated in some quarters that foreigners have been fair buyers of Canadian wheat this morning and that there has been a little business at the gulf. Other claims are that the early advance in the market checked business. One authority claimed more orders here than for some time, partly due to the lull caused by the holidays. The freight rate on wheat to Liverpool, which was at a high of 52c per bu a few weeks ago, and was recently down to 36c, is now quoted at 40c."

Bradstreet's world's visible supply—Wheat decreased 5,500,000 bu, corn decreased 2,703,000 bu, oats decreased 3,293,000 bu. Last week wheat decrease was 1,137,000 bu, corn decrease 1,279,000 bu, and oats decreased 1,576,000 bu. Last year wheat decreased 2,811,000 bu, corn decreased 968,000 bu, and oats decreased 1,417,000 bu.

A Chicago wire said: "Some of the strength in wheat today is due to cold and some rainy weather in the spring wheat territory. Reports are that at Williston, N. D., it is clear and calm; Grand Forks rain and snow; Devils Lake cloudy, and New Rockford cloudy with a little snowfall."

Duluth car inspection: Wheat—No. 2 northern, 2; No. 3, 3; no grade, 1; durum, 13; winter, 3; mixed, 9; total wheat, 31, last year, 110; flax, 2, last year, 16; oats, 6, last year, 17; rye, 5, last year, 1; barley, 5, last year, 8; total of all grains, 49, last year, 152; on track, 16.

Charles E. Lewis & Co., had the following closing letter from Chicago: "Up to noon, market was unsettled on political news with trade largely professional. In last hour Northwestern strength became an influence and prices advanced some. September made the most gain reports on delayer seeding and reduced acreage, in consequence creating bullish sentiment. May further widened its discount. Bradstreet's decreased liberally in the world's visible. Local cash demand was slow. Seaboard said some foreign government is in the market for wheat."

CHICAGO MARKET.

Chicago, April 25.—Wheat prices turned upward today after a hesitating start. The ascent appeared to be due chiefly to increased hope that a solution would be found for the difficulty between Germany and the United States. Stormy weather that interfered with seeding in the spring crop belt tended also to lift the market. Early weakness was ascribed to lower quotation from Liverpool. The opening here, which varied from unchanged figures to ⅛c down, with May at $1.11½ to $1.11¾ and July at $1.12¼ to $1.12½, was followed soon by a rise all around to well above yesterday's finish.

Crop advices from the Northwest became much more bullish later. In addition, export sales in East and lower freight rates on the Great Lakes counted in favor of the bulls. The close was strong, 1¼@1⅜c to 2½c net higher, with May at $1.13⅜@1.13½ and July at $1.14⅛@1.14¼.

Corn strengthened with wheat. Besides, attention was directed to estimates that 200,000 bu of corn were daily being made into starch by Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and Kentucky factories, presumably for export to be used in the manufacture of explosives. After opening ⅛c off to ⅛@¼c up, the market scored a moderate general advance.

Foreign bids at the seaboard helped to sustain prices here. The close was steady at ¼c to ⅝c net advance.

Sympathy with other grain lifted oats. Gains, however, were relatively slight.

Lard went to a new high price record for this season. Big export lard transactions gave force to the buying and carried pork and ribs along.

GOOD ADVANCES IN THE COPPERS

General advances were registered in mining stocks at Boston today on the improved situation with Germany.

Trading in the zinc stocks was the feature and they set the lead in point of strength. Butte & Superior sold $3 up around the close at $93, and American Zinc $2.50 up at $91.25. Greene-Cananea recovered to the extent of $2 at $46.50. A quarterly dividend of $1 was declared on this stock.

Calumet & Arizona sold 87 cents up in the late trading at $71.87; Copper Range $1.62 up at $62.62; Keweenaw 25 cents up at $6.25; Mohawk $1.50 up at $97; North Butte $1.50 up at $26.75, and Osceola $2.38 up $93.50.

Chief Consolidated has declared an extra dividend of 5 per cent, payable May 15, to stock of record May 1.

London metal markets—Spot copper closed unchanged; futures unchanged, and electrolytic unchanged.

With the Lake Superior companies getting 31 cents a pound for copper for nearby delivery and electrolytic copper bringing 30 cents a pound, it is predicted that the next quarterly reports of the leading metal producing concerns will show phenomenal profits. Copper producers say that there is no telling what the immediate future holds in the way of prices and they are confident that no let-down will come about during the balance of the year.

Some of the leading interests, on the contrary, fear that in the frantic demand, a runaway market may ensue and that there may be a metal famine. The large companies are contracting for deliveries at later dates than ever before in their histories at prices that will yield enormous profits. As producers have placed themselves in a strong financial position, it is thought that some sensational dividend increases will be made during the next few months.

ADVANCES IN STOCKS

Final Dealings Are Completely Dominated By the Marines.

New York, April 25.—Judging from the course of the market at today's opening, Wall street feels assured of a lessening of the international tension. Yesterday's general buying movement was resumed with undiminished vigor, some of the more active specialties rising from 1 to over 2 points, while investment shares responded in moderate measure. Mercantile Marine preferred, yesterday's leader, rose 2¼ to 83, with a point gain for the common. Other foremost features included United States and Lackawanna Steels, Mexicans, the Zinc and Copper groups and motors. Baltimore & Ohio led the rails with an advance of 1¼.

Activity quickened on the confident absorption of offerings and prices kept pace with the increased dealings in today's stock market, the turnover of the morning exceeding half a million shares. An unusual variety of rumors contributed to the advance which was the most impressive of several weeks.

Reports were current that Berlin had acceded to the more important demands of this government, and the course of United States Steel, which added materially to yesterday's recovery, pointed strongly to an extra dividend at today's meeting of the directors.

Various war shares and specialties were higher by three to six points, with ten for Bethlehem Steel at 439. Slight recessions from best prices occurred before midday. Bonds were strong.

Following its customary tendency, the market quieted during the midsession and leading shares were again inclined toward moderate reaction. Metals and minor specialties proved the exception, however, some of these supplementing early gains.

Marines duplicated yesterday's performance, completely dominating the final dealings. Elsewhere prices were again disposed to sag, with weakness in New Haven. The closing was firm.

STEEL CORPORATION DECLARES DIVIDEND

New York, April 25.—The United States Steel corporation declared its usual quarterly dividend on the common stock of 1¼ per cent.

AMOUNT OF WAGES GREATLY INCREASED

Washington, April 25.—Manufacturing industries in the United States are shown by figures published today by the department of labor to be spending generally from 20 to 60 per cent more for wages than they were a year ago. Much of the increase is accounted for by the additional number of men employed but a considerable amount is credited to higher wages.

The iron and steel industries lead with a 60.3 per cent increase in the amount of wages paid and a 36 per cent increase in the number of men employed. The car building and repairing industry is next with a 51 per cent wage increase against 36 per cent in men employed.

MANN WOULD HAVE ARMY OF 250,000 MEN

Washington, April 25.—Republican Leader Mann took the floor today and supported the senate amendment to the army bill to provide for a regular army of 250,000 men after he had failed to prevent consideration of a special rule to bring disputed points between the senate and house to a conference.

"I am against this country entering into war," he said, amid applause, "but I am in favor of sufficient preparation now so if we are forced into war we will have something to fight with. I shall, however, do everything in my power to prevent this country from going into war except under extreme circumstances.

"We ought to provide 250,000 men, put them in training and have them prepared for use as the first line of defense if it becomes necessary. When peace reigns again throught the world, should there be a desire to lower the standing army, I would favor it."

Industrial Workers Arrested.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., April 25.—Following a riot today at the colliery of the Pennsylvania Coal company at Boston settlement, state troopers arrested thirty-six members of the Industrial Workers of the World. The riot occurred between the I. W. W. men and the United Mine Workers of America. Several shots were fired and clubs and stones were thrown.

NOTICE OF EXPIRATION OF REDEMPTION—

To Geo. N. Bissell:

You are hereby notified that the following described piece or parcel of land, situated in the county of St. Louis and State of Minnesota, and known and described as follows, to-wit: The Northeast quarter of the Northwest quarter, Section twenty-one, Township fifty-nine, Range fifteen, according to the government survey thereof, is now assessed in your name; that on the 9th day of May, A. D. 1910, at the sale of land pursuant to the Real Estate Tax Judgment, duly given and made in and by the district court in and for said county of St. Louis, on the 25th day of March, A. D. 1910, in proceedings to enforce the payment of taxes delinquent upon real estate for the year 1908 for the said county of St. Louis, the above described piece or parcel of land was bid in for the state for the sum of two and 2-100 dollars; that on the 4th day of August, A. D. 1910, the said piece or parcel of land not having been redeemed, the county auditor, according to the statutes in such cases provided, assigned and conveyed the same and all the rights of the state, therein acquired at such sale, for the sum of two and 8-100 dollars; that the amount required to redeem said piece or parcel of land from said sale, exclusive of the costs to accrue upon this notice, is the said sum of two and 8-100 dollars, with interest thereon at the rate of twelve per cent per annum, as provided by law, from said 4th day of August, A. D. 1910, to the day such redemption is made; that the tax certificate issued upon said assignment has been presented to me by the holder thereof, and the time for redemption of said piece or parcel of land from said sale will expire sixty (60) days after the service of this notice and proof thereof has been filed in my office.

Witness my hand and official seal this 18th day of April, A. D. 1916.

CERTIFICATE OF INCORPORATION —OF— RANGE MERCANTILE COMPANY.

KNOW ALL MEN BY THESE PRESENTS, That we, whose names are hereunto subscribed, have agreed to and do hereby associate ourselves together under the Constitution and Laws of the State of Minnesota, and more particularly under the provisions of Chapter 58 of the General Statutes of Minnesota for the year 1913, for the purpose of forming a general mercantile corporation under the name and for the purposes hereinafter set forth, and to that end do hereby adopt the following articles of incorporation:

ARTICLE I.

The name of this corporation shall be RANGE MERCANTILE COMPANY, and the general nature of its business shall be to do a general mercantile business, including the purchase and sale of merchandise of all kinds and in all quantities; to buy, sell, own and deal in real estate and mortgages, both real and personal; to operate stores dealing in general merchandise, and to do anything that is properly incident to or necessarily connected with such mercantile business, said business to be carried on in the State of Minnesota and elsewhere. The principal place of transacting the business of said corporation shall be at Buhl, in the County of St. Louis and State of Minnesota, with such offices and places of business, either within of without the State of Minnesota, as may from time to time be determined by the management of said corporation.

ARTICLE II.

The time of the commencement of this corporation shall be the first day of May, 1916, and the period of its continuance shall be thirty (30) years.

ARTICLE III.

The names and places of residence of the persons forming this corporation for the purpose of incorporation are as follows: Arthur R. Folsom, Albert A. Williams and Emma Williams, each and all residing at Buhl, St. Louis County, Minnesota.

ARTICLE IV.

The government and management of the affairs of this corporation shall be vested in a board of three directors, who shall be stockholders thereof, and who shall be elected annually at the annual meeting, which shall be held on the first Monday of October in each year. The officers of said corporation shall be a president, vice president, secretary and a treasurer, who shall be elected annually from and by the Board of Directors at their first meeting after the annual meeting of the stockholders, and of such officer that of secretary and treasurer may be held by the same person. The Board of Directors and such officers shall hold their respective offices until their successors have been duly elected and qualified. The names and addresses of the persons composing the first Board of Directors of this corporation, and who shall hold office until the first annual meeting and until their successors are elected and qualified, shall be Arthur R. Folsom, Buhl, Minnesota; Albert A. Williams of Buhl, Minnesota, and Emma Williams of Buhl, Minnesota, of whom Arthur R. Folsom shall be president, Emma Williams shall be vice-president, and Albert A. Williams shall be secretary and treasurer.

ARTICLE V.

The amount of capital stock shall be Twenty-five Thousand ($25,000) Dollars, divided into Two hundred and fifty (250) shares of the par value of One hundred ($100.00) Dollars each, to be paid in as called for by the Board of Directors in cash or its equivalent, subject to the approval of said board.

ARTICLE VI.

The highest amount of indebtedness or liability to which said corporation shall at any time be subject shall be Twenty-five thousand ($25,000) Dollars.

WANT AD RATES AND INFORMATION

1c a word per day; $1 per line per month. Display classified, 72c per inch per day.

No ad taken for less than 15c.

CHARGE WANT ADS will not be run longer than seven days without renewal order.

ALL CHARGE WANT ADS are due and payable the same day first insertion of ad appears. All out-of-town want ads are cash in advance. Mail orders given prompt attention. Address all letters to Want Ad Department.

CLOSING HOURS—Want ads to be classified properly must be in The Herald office by 11:30 a. m. on the day ad is to be run. Want ads received after closing hour will be inserted under the heading, "Too Late to Classify."

TELEPHONE WANT ADS are charged at the same rate as cash ads and collection will be made at your home or office as soon as possible thereafter. This is an accommodation service and payment should be made promptly when the bill is presented so as to avoid further annoyance and to aid the efficiency of our service. Always ask that your telephone ad be repeated back to you by the telephone ad taker to make sure that it has been correctly taken.

BLIND ADS—No answers to blind ads will be given unless ticket is presented at time of request. Always save ticket showing key number when placing blind ads. Herald employes are not permitted to tell who any advertiser is. Answers to out-of-town blind ads will be forwarded without extra cost.

THE HERALD desires to give the best service to its readers and advertisers. If you desire any suggestion as to the wording of your ad, call the Want Ad Department.

TWO AMERICANS ARE KILLED AND THREE ARE WOUNDED IN BATTLE BETWEEN CAVALRY AND BANDITS

SIX MEXICAN DEAD FOUND AFTER FIGHT

Nineteen Wounded and Quantity of Munitions Captured.

Villa Command Numbered 260 Under Four Bandit Chiefs.

Engagement Fought in Center of Sierra Madre Mountains.

Field Headquarters, April 26, via wireless to Columbus, N. M., April 26.—Two Americans were killed and three wounded in an engagement between cavalrymen under Col. George A. Dodd and 260 Villa bandits at Tomachic, in the center of the Sierra Madres, in Western Chihuahua, on April 22, according to an official report reaching here today. The Villa command under four chiefs, Baca, Cervantes, Dominguez and Rios, was surprised in the late afternoon and routed. After the battle, the Americans found 6 dead and 19 wounded, while a quantity of horses, arms and equipment was captured.

Reported at El Paso.

El Paso, Tex., April 26.—A report has been received here that Col. Dodd's advanced cavalry detachment had an engagement several days ago in which both sides suffered losses. It was not indicated whether the battle was with Villa bandits or with Carranza troops.

The information regarding the battle

ZEPPELIN AND FRENCH AEROPLANE IN DUEL

Nine Incendiary Shells Fired at German Ship; Said to Be Damaged.

Paris, April 26.—A French aeroplane and a Zeppelin fought a duel at an altitude of 4,000 meters off Zeebrugge today. The aeroplane fired nine incendiary shells at the Zeppelin, which appears to have been damaged.

The engagement, occurring more than two miles above the earth, was fought at 3 o'clock this morning.

At the same time another French aeroplane, armed with cannon, fired numerous projectiles on a German torpedo boat off Ostend.

A German aeroplane of the Fokker type was brought down in an aerial combat near Luneville, France.

WILL OPPOSE LA FOLLETTE

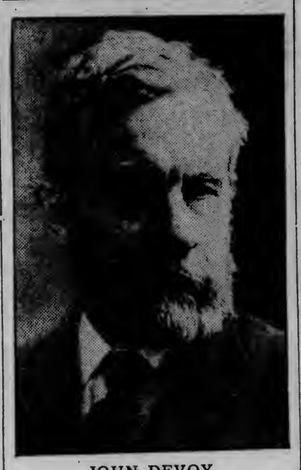
Madison, Wis., April 26.—One hundred and ten delegates, ten from each of the eleven congressional districts of Wisconsin, met this afternoon at a conservative Republican conference for the purpose of indorsing a candidate for United States senator to oppose Senator La Follette at the fall primary election.

It was expected prior to the meeting that the choice would lie between John M. Whitehead and Malcolm G. Jeffries, both of Janesville, the only two avowed candidates. Both candidates have written letters in behalf of their candidacy, but it is said the delegates attending the conference are coming without pledges.



Governor Philipp is not expected to take part in the proceedings, having been credited with a desire to do nothing that might be construed as influencing the choice of a candidate.

State Senator Edward T. Fairchild was chairman of the gathering and in addressing the conference, said in part:

"We are met here commissioned to consider the indorsement of a candi-

JOHN DEVOY.

John Devoy, editor of the Gaelic American, New York, will be a witness in the Welland canal plot case when the men accused come to trial. Devoy's connection with the case is said to be he was asked by a member of the German embassy to recommend someone in Buffalo who would pay off some men "engaged in a little speculation in grain" and that he did so. But he denies any knowledge of the canal plot.

COAL STRIKE POSSIBILITY

Anthracite Operators and Miners Have Reached a Deadlock.

General Miners' Board to Hear Report By Its Committee.

New York, April 26.—Deadlocked over the question of recognition of the United Mine Workers of America, the anthracite operators and miners today face the possibility of a strike involving 176,000 men. The general board of the Mine Workers' union meets here today to receive the report of a subcommittee which was unable to reach an agreement with the operators' subcommittee. Both subcommittees will report tomorrow to a general conference of both miners and operators that they have been unable to reach an agreement after seven weeks of discussion.

Unless this conference is able to find a way to break the deadlock, it will be left to the miners' convention, May 2, to determine whether the miners shall declare a strike. Representatives of the miners today expressed faint hope that further negotiations would be productive of results and said that not one of the eleven demands made

WAR COSTING NINETY MILLIONS EVERY DAY

Cost Per Hour to Entente Allies Estimated at $2,500,000.

New York, April 26.—War now is costing the nations of Europe more than $90,000,000 a day, according to estimates prepared in a booklet to be issued by the Mechanics and Metals National bank of this city. Of this enormous total the principal burden falls on the Entente allies. The bank estimates that the cost per hour to England, France and Russia is approximately $2,500,000, while to the Teutonic empires the cost is in excess of $1,000,000.

The total cost of the war, if it is still in progress Aug 1, next, will have been $46,000,000,000. Of this sum Great Britain's share will have been $11,600,000,000, Germany's a trifle less and France's $9,250,000,000.

Two years of the war, the booklet states, will cost six times more than the full amount expended in the Civil war; will reach a sum forty times more than the amount of our national debt and will be 120 times more than the cost of the Panama canal.

VIGOROUS GUNFIRE ON FRENCH POSITIONS

Verdun Front, West of Meuse, Heavily Bombarded By Germans.

Paris, April 26, 12:35 p. m.—French positions on the Verdun front west of the Meuse were bombarded vigorously by the Germans last night. The attack was centered on Avocourt wood and the first line trenches north of Hill 304.

In the Woevre there was a big gun bombardment. The official French statement today says a number of German prisoners were taken during yesterday's attack north of the Aisne.

ARRANGE FOR CONFERENCE

Gen. Scott Will Meet Obregon Across River From Eagle Pass.

Washington Holds Up Problems Until After Meeting of Generals.

San Antonio, April 26.—It was indicated at headquarters today that the Scott-Obregon conference would be held at Ciudad Porfirio Diaz, or Las Vacas, across the Rio Grande from Eagle Pass. Tentative arrangements for a special car to carry Gen. Scott and Gen. Funston to Eagle Pass tonight have been made.

Await Result of Conference.

Washington, April 26.—Diplomatic and other problems surrounding the American pursuit of Villa are being held in status quo pending the conference between Gen. Scott, chief of staff of the United States army and Gen. Obregon, Carranza's war minister, which is expected to take place at some border point within the next day or two.

Advices as to the time of Gen. Obregon's arrival on the border to confer with Gen. Scott and Gen. Funston were still awaited today at the state and war departments. Judging by the time Obregon was reported officially to have passed Saltillo yesterday officials estimated he might reach Eagle Pass tonight. Nothing has been received so far to indicate where the conference will be held.

No Instructions to Scott.

Secretary Baker said his department

TO NO LONGER DENY SINKING THE SUSSEX

Swiss Paper Hears Germany Will Probably Admit Torpedoing.

Berne, Switzerland, April 26, via Paris.—The Bund, which has exceptional sources of information in regard to German affairs, says it is probable the German government will not maintain any longer that the steamship Sussex was not torpedoed by a German submarine.

Compelled to Make Statement.

Geneva, April 26, via Paris.—The Gazette de Lausanne says it learns from German newspapers that there have been filed at the American legation at Berne and the American consulate at Zurich affidavits sworn to by the two Swiss passengers on the steamship Sussex who asserted they were coerced into stating they saw a torpedo approaching the vessel.

The German papers say the men, Cenoni and Niederost, swore they were compelled by the French and British authorities to make this statement on pain of having their passports taken from them.

PRINCE OF MONACO INDORSES STAND OF PRESIDENT WILSON

PRINCE ALBERT.

Paris, April 26.—Prince Albert of Monaco has sent the following cable message to President Wilson:

"As a sovereign prince, as a navigator, as a scientist, I adhere to the protest you have made with fine sentiment and human dignity against offenses committed by German arms against the rights of neutrals, the honor of mariners and public conscience.

"ALBERT,
"Prince of Monaco."

ZEPPELINS RAID EAST COAST OF ENGLAND

Gunfire Causes Them to Keep at Great Height; Damage Not Reported.

London, April 26.—The Zeppelins which made a raid over the east coast last night remained at a great height, probably because they were subjected to violent fire from anti-aircraft guns. The raiders were favored by the dark night and light wind, but were forced to flee after a short time.

A correspondent in a town of Essex county says a Zeppelin was picked up by a searchlight at the outskirts of the county, and in a few minutes was outlined by other searchlights. Then shrapnel began to burst around it from many directions. The Zeppelin climbed higher and hovered above for ten minutes. Then it sailed eastward. No bombs were dropped after the searchlights found it.

The number of casualties and extent of the damages caused by the raid have not yet been ascertained.

DUBLIN HEADQUARTERS OF IRISH REBELS TAKEN BY MILITARY FORCES

Stephens Green, Captured By Them, Is Also Occupied.

Martial Law Proclaimed in City and County of Dublin.

London Papers Sharply Criticize Policies of Chief Secretary Birrell.

London, April 26.—Liberty hall, headquarters of the Dublin rebels, and Stephens Green, which was captured by them, have been occupied by the military, Premier Asquith announced today in the house of commons.

Martial law has been proclaimed in the city and county of Dublin, it was announced in the house of commons today. Troops have arrived at Dublin from Belfast and England.

Steps to arrest all those concerned in the movement, Mr. Asquith said, were being taken.

Premier Asquith told the house of commons that drastic action to suppress the movement in Ireland was being taken.

Outside of Dublin, he said, the country was tranquil. The premier added that steps were being taken to acquaint neutral countries of the real significance of "the most recent German campaign."

Birrell Going to Ireland.

TO SEARCH INTERNED GERMAN STEAMSHIPS

Customs Inspectors Ordered to Go Through Ships in Thorough Manner.

New York, April 26.—Acting on instructions from the treasury department at Washington, it was learned, seventy-five customs inspectors yesterday went to Hoboken to make a thorough search of the German steamships which have been lying at their piers since the beginning of the war.

No information could be obtained from the inspectors except that they were obeying orders from the collector of the port.

MISSISSIPPI IS STILL HIGHER

Factories Close at Winona; Families Moving From Homes.

Winona, Minn., April 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Mississippi river at this point came up six-tenths of a foot during the night, and this morning stood at 15.8 feet and was still rising. This is six-tenths above the high point reached two weeks ago. One factory, that of the Schroth & Ahrens company, was compelled to close down today on account of inability to keep the fire pits free from water, and with a rise of another foot at least half a dozen other manufacturing plants will have to suspend operations. Most of these are now cut off from railway switching service.

Families Moving Out.

Hundreds of residences in the lower sections of the city have water in their basements and on West Fourth street it is close to the first floors of some residences and families are moving out today.

For the first time since the washout on Sunday of its tracks across the river from here the Burlington

SERIOUS ILLNESS OF HETTY GREEN DENIED

New York, April 26.—Published reports that Mrs. Hetty Green, considered the wealthiest woman in the world, had been stricken with paralysis and was seriously ill, were denied today by her son, Col. Edward H. R. Green, who said that his mother contracted a slight cold while out riding on Sunday. "She was up yesterday attending to her usual heavy routine of business," Col. Green declared.

NEWSPAPERS TAKING MORE SERIOUS VIEW

Chancellor Leaves for Headquarters After Interview With Gerard.

Surface Indications Point to Some Satisfactory Understanding.

Berlin, April 26, via London, 3:55 p. m.—The German answer to the American note may not be expected before the end of the present week. It may be presented on Saturday.

Taking More Serious View.

Geneva, April 26, via Paris.—German newspapers are now taking a more serious view of the German-American situation. They say Emperor William is expected to return to Berlin from general headquarters.

In the meantime Americans attempting to leave Germany by way of Switzerland are encountering difficulties. Many of them are held up at Constance, the Baden frontier having been closed since yesterday.

Frontier Closed.

Paris, April 26.—The German-Swiss frontier has been closed since Monday afternoon, even to mails, says a dispatch to the Matin from Berne. Foreigners now in Germany have been informed that none will be allowed to leave the country before twenty days have elapsed, the dispatch adds.

Go to Headquarters.

Berlin, April 26, via London.—Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg and Admiral von Holtzendorff, chief of the naval general staff, departed for headquarters on last evening's train to consult with Emperor William in regard to the reply to the American note.

Prior to his departure for headquarters to consult with Emperor William the submarine issue and Germany's relations with the United States were again under discussion by Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg, the imperial chan-

Expense of Telegrams Paid By German-American National Bund.

Ottawa, Ill., April 26.—German-Americans of La Salle and Peru sent 2,000 telegrams yesterday to Senators Sherman and Lewis and to Congressman Fuller asking to use their influence against a break with Germany.

Paid by German-Americans.

Aurora, Ill., April 26.—The telegraph tolls on war protests sent to senators are paid by the German-American National bund, Dr. C. J. Hexamer, Philadelphia, president, according to Otto May, president of the Aurora branch of the national bund.

Continue to Pour In.

Washington, April 26.—The organized propaganda of telegraph protests against a break with Germany continued to pour into the capitol today and the telegraph companies were overwhelmed. Senators and representatives, particularly from the Middle West states, had extra forces of clerks at work sorting the messages, and the telegraph companies brought in extra operators from New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore and other cities.

Some members of congress today were suggesting an investigation to disclose who furnished the prepared forms of telegrams and paid thousands of dollars for their delivery.

WHERE IS THAT HEROIC MOOD?

SUMMARY OF THE WAR NEWS

There has been a halt in the heavy infantry fighting in the vicinity of Dead Man's hill, northwest of Verdun, but the Germans are vigorously employing their artillery in the region west of the Meuse, foreshadowing an early resumption by the infantry arm.

The German gunfire, according to the afternoon Paris bulletin, was centered last night on first line trenches north of Hill 304 and on the Avocourt wood on the French left, while in the Woevre region, southeast of the fortress, the French lines were also subjected to big gunfire.

Paris reports a sensational engagement two miles up in the air off the Belgian coast before daylight today between a French aeroplane and a Zeppelin. The aeroplane is believed to have damaged the German aircraft.

General military compulsion is foreshadowed in Great Britain unless unattested men come forward in sufficient numbers to satisfy military needs. At the secret session of parliament yesterday Premier Asquith stated that the government would ask parliament for compulsory power unless by May 27, 50,000 men had attested or if thereafter 15,000 men were not secured each week until the total reached 200,000.

British papers are replete with the situation in Dublin, where a revolutionary outbreak has occurred, there being considerable criticism of the government for permitting conditions under which such a movement was possible.

Sir Roger Casement, the leader of the Separatist faction in Ireland, who was captured on the Irish coast while making an attempt to land arms, may be tried for high treason. The fact that he has been taken to London for trial leads to this assumption.

OBJECTS TO RULES AT SANATORIUM

Authorities are puzzled over the case of Frank Cunning, 34, tuberculosis sufferer, who is in need of medical treatment and care, but who refuses to stay at the Nopeming sanatorium because the rules of the institution infringe on his "personal liberty."

Cunning told his story to the Humane society yesterday. He declared that he had no home and did not care to return to the sanatorium, where he would be obliged to follow "rules." For instance, if he wanted to wash his clothes in the bathtub, an attendant would stop him and tell him that it was not the laundry room. Cunning said that he did not care to live up to such rules.

Cunning has passed the last two nights at the city lodging house, but he is suffering from a fever and his condition is regarded as critical. Another effort will be made to have him return to the sanatorium. He came to Duluth from Michigan and after six months at the county poor farm sanatorium he was removed to Nopeming, where he has been a patient for fifteen months.

EVERY HOTEL WILL HAVE BATHROOM

Duluth hotels will at least be sanitary and orderly within a very short time, according to Commissioner Silberstein, head of the safety division and father of the new hotel ordinance.

In order to comply with the provisions of the new ordinance, he said, the hotel owners are cleaning and painting their buildings, making them as sanitary as possible and providing sufficient bathing facilities.

Every hotel in the business district near the railroad stations is being fitted out with shower baths, according to reports received by Commissioner Silberstein. A number never had a bathroom up to the present time. Because the commissioner refused to grant a license to a hotel unless it has the proper bathing facilities, these improvements are now being made by the owners.

In addition, each hotel is being supplied with a proper register, while the owners are taking every precaution to operate in an orderly manner.

About sixty-five hotel licenses have been issued already, and the ordinance regulating the operating of the hotels will be enforced after next Monday, Commissioner Silberstein announced.

"Big Drive" on the Ash Piles Will Begin May 4.

Mayor Issues Call for Recruits in Clean-Up War.

MAYOR'S PROCLAMATION.

I, W. I. Prince, mayor of the city of Duluth, hereby declare and designate the week of May 4 to May 10, inclusive, as "Cleanup and Paintup week" for the city of Duluth.

During this week every citizen of Duluth should clean up his house and property so as to avoid fire risk, clean up his front and back yards, paint his premises if necessary and remove or repair all unsightly structures.

This week will give every citizen of Duluth an opportunity to show not only his personal pride, but also his civic pride. Let us work together to clean up and paint up Duluth during the week designated and then keep the city clean throughout the year.

W. I. PRINCE,
Mayor.

Duluth, Minn., April 26, 1916.

Following the issuance this morning by Mayor W. I. Prince of a proclamation fixing the week of May 4 to May 10 as "Clean Up and Paint Up" week in Duluth, a Commercial club committee headed by Whitney Wall as chairman met at the club at noon and opened the campaign.

The other members of the committee are Mayor Prince, Commissioner J. A. Farrell, Health Director E. W. Fahey, H. R. Armstrong, Frank X. Gravel, H. H. Beckwith, W. F. Henry, Miron Bunnell, E. J. Zauft, E. F. Neff, R. E. Denfeld and L. A. Simonson.

Various publicity plans were laid for the campaign and the committee decided to ask every civic and commercial organization in the city to assist in the work. The clubs in all parts of the city will be asked to appoint special committees to urge "Clean Up and Paint Up" on the residents in their districts and to make periodical inspections during the week to see how the plans are being carried out.

An inspection committee, consisting of F. X. Gravel, H. H. Beckwith and H. R. Armstrong was appointed to make inspections on behalf of the committee.

"We hope that during 'Clean Up and Paint Up' week every citizen will see that his premises are put in repair, that the owners of vacant lots will clear them of rubbish and young weeds, that the city departments will make inspections and call attention of residents to the significance of the movement," said Chairman Wall after the meeting.

"We are sure the people of Duluth will display a desire for cleanliness that will endure during the year so that Duluth may remain a clean and attractive city."

Mayor Prince and Commissioner Farrell, who attended the meeting, promised hearty co-operation on behalf of the city departments.

The seven days opening with Thursday, May 4, were selected, in order to include in the week Friday, May 5, designated by Governor Burnquist as "Clean Up" day.

MAY BUILD PART OF LINE

Duluth may build its own terminal line through the central part of the city.

This was intimated at the city hall today, it being stated semi-officially that the council might turn down the proposed franchise of the Western Terminal Railway company in part, and consider a municipally-owned line, which will be leased to any railroad desiring entrance.

"It is almost impossible to protect the city for all time to come," said Mayor Prince this morning. "I, for one, am opposed to a franchise and will stand squarely for the municipal ownership of this line."

The municipal road would be built along Railroad street, from South First avenue east to Garfield avenue, the only artery remaining open for the laying of tracks. Beyond Garfield avenue, there is more available property and railroads or terminal companies desiring entrance into the city could build, connecting their lines with the city-owned road. The Western Terminal company, it is pointed out, could build the loop originally planned, by connecting with the city tracks at Garfield avenue, continuing out to West Duluth, up the hill, and then around back of the hill to the Lakewood pumping station, where it would connect with the D. & I. R. road. The original program could be carried out in this manner, although the city would own the stretch in the wholesale district, merely leasing it to the terminal company or any other railroad desiring entrance into the city.

The original ordinance granting the Western Terminal company a franchise has been tabled, but the officials of the company and the commissioners are now considering another draft of the measure. A conference on the franchise will be held within a few days, it was announced this morning.

GOLD MINE OVERLOOKED

State Forestry Association Would Advertise Minnesota's 'Great Outdoors.'

That millions of dollars are lost to Minnesota every year through lack of proper advertising of the recreational grounds of the state is the belief of the Minnesota Forestry association, which is sending out personal letters to all of the representatives of the regional recreational grounds in which personal action is urged.

M. M. Hanna, city passenger agent of the Duluth & Iron Range road, who is a member of the association and who, together with A. R. Gibbs of the Commercial club of Tower, will leave this evening to attend the annual meeting of the association to be held tomorrow at the West hotel in Minneapolis, stated this morning that the Minnesota association has been a recognized leader in recreational promotion but that there is still much to be done.

D. P. Tierney of Minneapolis, chairman of the program committee, says in his letter to Mr. Hanna that the officers of the association are convinced that much of the advertising has missed the point, either by falling into unproductive channels or because it was too general. He says:

"There is need for concerted action on the part of the people of each district, and again, concerted action on the part of all the districts if Minnesota is to have the prosperous summer business which should naturally come here.

"There are nine fairly well defined districts, the names of which show the approximate location of each: Lake of the Woods, Bowstring country, North Shore and boundary country, Mississippi headwaters, Lake Park region, Crow Wing-Mille Lacs, Big Woods lake belt, St. Croix-White Bear district and Southeastern River district."

Weather is the only thing that will keep this season from being the most prosperous in point of tourist business that Northern Minnesota has ever experienced, according to well informed men.

SPECIAL VOTE PRIMARY DAY

Initiative Ordinances Will Be Submitted on June 19.

Firemen's and "Drys" Questions Up; Maybe Charter Amendments Also.

On Monday afternoon, May 8, the city council will issue a formal call for a special election to be held Monday, June 19, on the proposed initiative ordinances establishing a double platoon system for the firemen on Jan. 1, 1917, and ousting the saloons of the city on July 1, 1917.

This announcement was made today by Mayor Prince, who said that the council has decided to submit both measures to the voters of the city and that formal action will be taken a week from next Monday. The election will take place on the same day that the state primaries are held. The voters will register on June 6 and June 12, the regular registration days set by the state. In this way, the city will save approximately $3,000 in election expenses, by combining the primaries with the special vote on the ordinances. In all probability, the amendments to the charter will be submitted to the voters at the same time.

Both Petitions Legal.

Both initiative ordinances have been submitted to the commissioners and the clerk has already certified to their sufficiency. The council has until May 10 to pass the measures, or submit them to a vote of the people not earlier than forty nor later than fifty days from the date of the call. This places June 19 within the legal limit allowed by the charter.

Local leaders in the "dry" fight have opened offices in the Exchange building, from which they will conduct a vigorous campaign from now on until election day. The firemen are staging a dance this evening to raise funds with which to conduct their fight for a double platoon system.

WILL LECTURE ON PHILOSOPHY

L. J. Hopkins of Chicago will be the principal speaker at the Men's club dinner of the First Unitarian church, Eighteenth avenue east and First street, next Friday evening, when he will give a lecture on "The Religious Aspects of Modern Philosophy." The dinner will be served at 6:30 and it is announced that Mr. Hopkins will begin to talk at 8 o'clock. No admission will be charged and everybody is cordially welcomed.

Mr. Hopkins is well and favorably known to a large number of prominent Duluth people. For many years he has been one of the principal stockholders in the Swallow & Hopkins Lumber company, large timber and sawmill operators in Northern Minnesota. In recent years he has devoted much time to the study of philosophy and has many admirers wherever he has lectured.

Water Curtails Production.

Appleton, Wis., April 26.—High tail water has curtailed the runs of paper mills here from 15 to 20 per cent. There is no danger in sight, however, to any of the mills.

WEST END TROLLEY MEN IN BURLESQUE

Play Presented By Employes Shows Funny Side of Day's Work.

Big Crowd Comes From Superior; One More Performance.

The first night's production of a burlesque on the operation of a street car attracted a crowd that filled the club rooms of the carhouse to capacity last night. The entertainment was produced by members of the operating department of the Duluth Street Railway and proved to be the best entertainment that the employes have given since the organization of the Duluth Street Railway Employes' Athletic association.

A miniature car which had been built for the play was used. The cast was composed of about twenty employes and included men and women. Albert Campbell as motorman and H. H. Patterson as conductor were star players. Their bright repartee with sarcastic passengers caused repeated applause and laughter from the audience.

Harry Hokanson took the part of a "cripple," presenting the character in an interesting manner. Arthur Pearson was the sarcastic shopman who "knew" more about street car operation than the officials and whose "duty" in life was to bawl out the crew and company. R. T. Smallidge, a "six-footer," took the part of a Jewish boy and presented a laughable appearance in make-up. Joe Vitali entertained the audience with accordian numbers while C. R. Rankin as the "ideal fisherman" with his fish stories proved a hit.

The play is to be presented again this evening for the employes who were unable to attend last night. A special car brought nearly seventy Superior employes and their families last evening and another special car from across the bay is expected tonight.

In addition to the play a reading was given by Miss Elizabeth Donovan and musical numbers were given by the employes' orchestra. Refreshments were served.

The play was produced by R. B. Thompson with the assistance of several of the carmen. Many funny incidents that have taken place on cars were used.

Will Initiate New Members.

A class of new members will be initiated Friday evening at the meeting of Greysolon camp No. 527, Royal Neighbors at the Woodman hall, Twenty-first avenue west and First street. Following the business meeting a social session has been planned at which refreshments will be served.

Grove City Pastor to Speak.

Rev. C. B. Bergfalk, pastor of the First Swedish Baptist church of Grove City, Minn., will speak this evening at the midweek services at the Swedish Mission church, Twenty-first avenue west and Second street. Rev. Mr. Bergfalk was called to Duluth on account of the death of his sister, Mrs. Ellen Lindberg.

Basket Social.

The Epworth League of the Grace Methodist church, Twenty-second avenue west and Third street, will entertain Friday evening at a basket social to be held in the clubrooms of the church. An informal program has been planned. Misses Ethel and Elenore Anderson are in charge of the arrangements.

"Y" Secretary Speaks.

An interesting illustrated lecture was given last evening by A. E. Fagerstrom, secretary of the Y. M. C. A. at Albert Lea, at the First Swedish Baptist church, Twenty-second avenue west and Third street. Mr. Fagerstrom spoke on "The American Boy."

On Friday evening Mr. Fagerstrom will give an illustrated lecture on "A Trip Through Sweden," at the local church.

West End Briefs.

Mrs. E. J. Burns and son, Maynard, 2015 West First street, have returned from a visit to her sister, Mrs. J. D. Healey of Hibbing, Minn.

The Epworth League of the First Swedish Methodist church, Twentieth avenue west and Third street, will entertain Friday evening at a musical and literary program.

The St. Luke's Guild of St. Peter's Episcopal church will hold its annual meeting tomorrow afternoon at the home of Mrs. Thomas Bark, 2120 West Third street.

Modern shoe repairing at Economy Shoe Works, 204 20th A. W. A. Thoren.

Duluth camp, No. 2341, M. W. A., will entertain at another of its social evenings Friday night at the Woodman hall, Twenty-first avenue west and First street. A membership contest is being held by the members of the society.

L. A. Simonson and family of 2102 West Superior street, are moving this week to their new home at 515 West Fifth street.

BACHELOR FARMER LEAVES WITH GIRL

Polk County Soil Tiller and 14-Year-Old Ruth Whitmore Gone.

Crookston, Minn., April 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—"To hell with Polk county, I have $30, me for Wisconsin," was the message found on the table in the deserted home of Will Kenning by the parents of 14-year-old Ruth Whitmore, who reside just across the road in Hammond township, when they found Ruth was missing and went to the Kenning house to make inquiries.

Kenning drove to Crookston with the girl, arriving at 1 o'clock yesterday morning, put his team in Bjoin's livery barn and the two disappeared. It is believed they took the 2 o'clock train for Winnipeg.

The parents of the young girl are frantic. Kenning was single and came here from Wisconsin six years ago, residing on a rented farm.

AEROPLANE AS IT WOULD APPEAR IF EQUIPPED WITH DULUTHIAN'S INVENTION

A Duluth man is the inventor of a device that he feels confident will assure the stability of aeroplanes under all conditions.

This is a problem that has proved a stumbling block in aeronautics. As the records show the lives of scores of airmen have been lost each year through losing control of their flying machines in treacherous cross-currents of air as they approached the earth. Expert after expert has been dashed to the ground through planes becoming unmanageable from that cause. Apart from war operations, 140 Americans, British and French flyers met their deaths in that manner during 1914.

Vernon J. Price, architect, has just applied for a patent upon a balancing device for aeroplanes, and his invention is already attracting the attention of experts. It has been brought to the notice of the war department at Washington, and it is thought that it will be fully tested out in the near future.

The device is so simple that it may be readily attached to any aeroplane, and being manufactured of aluminum, it will add only a few pounds to its weight. In practice, with two of them attached to an aeroplane one upon each wing on either side of the operator, they act on the same principle as a gyrator, the balance of the flyer being preserved under all conditions.

It consists of feathering fan blades placed inside of a heavy rim and having spokes tapped into the hub which is keyed to the vertical shafts. The fan blades are feathered by the action of a gravity weight swinging from right to left or vice versa. The blades are made perfectly flat, thus giving no resistance and affording a great deal of stability through the action of the revolving body. The gravity ball does not revolve or swing fore and aft, but moves simply from right to left. The fans are driven by the engine through two ratchets, one clockwise and the other anti-clockwise and they work against each other. Should the plane tilt one fan works down and the other bringing the machine back to an even keel almost immediately. The gravity ball works the sleeve up and down causing the hub to move automatically with it. A rack placed on the right and left side of the gear causes the blades to tilt from one side to the other, or to remain in a neutral position.

It is claimed that this device will enable the aviator to rise in a short distance, to carry more weight and to maneuver slowly. The inventor is also satisfied that his balancer will act as a governor to the aeroplane, so that the liability to accidents when making landings will be reduced to a minimum.

WHEAT ACREAGE TO BE SMALLER

Cando, N. D., Banker Predicts Farmers Will Plant Less.

Grand Forks, N. D., April 26.—Thousands of bushels of wheat less than last year will be raised in North Dakota this summer, on account of the lateness of the season, according to Harry D. Lord, master of the grand lodge of Masons, and a prominent banker from Cando, who is in the city to attend the meeting of the grand commandery.

"Many of the farmers in North Dakota will not care to take the chance of seeding a large acreage of wheat at this time of the season, but will seed more to barley, oats and flax, which are later grains," he said.

"A shortage of wheat in North Dakota, however, may cause serious conditions next fall all over the country, as this state is depended upon for large quantities of the wheat and flour used."

Farmers in the vicinity of Cando were in the fields Monday, according to Mr. Lord, but have very likely been forced to remain idle yesterday on account of the rain. The moisture that fell yesterday is likely to postpone activities in the fields a few more days. Once the crops are in the ground, however, they will spring up with great rapidity, he declares, on account of the moisture that is in the soil.

"The conditions in North Dakota are excellent for good crops this fall," he added, "if the farmers can once get their grain into the ground."

CROOKSTON WILL HAVE APARTMENTS

Two Modern Flat Buildings Expected to Relieve Housing Problem.

Crookston, Minn., April 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—Two modern flat buildings will be available here soon to relieve the housing situation. For the last three years very few houses have been built for rent, the building being confined to people who were building their own homes, because, following the closing of the big sawmill here, there were quite a number of vacant houses, and rents took a drop below the profit point and for a time no inducement was offered in that line to capital seeking investment. Since last fall it has been almost impossible to rent a house, and this spring there is pronounced activity in the home-building line.

Contractor Otto Eichoff has purchased the corner of Ash and Hurlbut streets and will erect a modern brick apartment house, and Ole Fylling has purchased the old Ottawa hotel on South Broadway and Loring street, including one single and one double house. He will remodel the hotel into a flat building, strictly modern, and the improvement will be a notable one in that section of the city.

Is Home Missionary Head.
Ashland, Wis., April 26.—The Wisconsin Congregational association has recently redistricted the state for the purpose of more efficient work and Rev. F. M. Dexter of this city has been put in charge as district superintendent of the home missionary and Sunday school extension work, with general oversight of the churches of the Western division, comprising Superior and Eau Claire districts. Headquarters for a time will continue here. It is expected that later they will be transferred to Eau Claire.

IT'S YOUR KIDNEYS

You have swollen feet and hands! Stiff, achy joints! Sharp-shooting, rheumatic pains torture you. You have aching back, pain in the lower abdomen, difficulty when urinating! Look out! These are danger signals. Trouble is with your kidneys. Uric acid poisoning, in one form or another, has set in. It may lead to dropsy or fatal Bright's disease if not checked.

Get some GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules immediately. They are an old preparation, used all over the world for centuries, combining natural healing oil and herbs, well known to physicians and used by thousands in their daily practice. The Capsules are not an experimental, make-shift "patent medicine," or "salt," whose effect is only temporary. They are a standard remedy, and act naturally, gently and quickly. But when you go to the druggist, insist on getting the pure, original Haarlem Oil in Capsules. Be sure the name GOLD MEDAL is on the box, and thus protect yourself against counterfeits.—Advertisement.

Cocoanut Oil Makes A Splendid Shampoo

If you want to keep your hair in good condition, be careful what you wash it with.

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Just plain mulsified cocoanut oil (which is pure and entirely greaseless), is much better than the most expensive soaps or anything else you can use for shampooing, as this can't possibly injure the hair.

Simply moisten your hair with water and rub it in. One or two teaspoonsful will make an abundance of rich, creamy lather, and cleanses the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rinses out easily and removes every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get mulsified cocoanut oil at most any drug store. It is very cheap, and a few ounces is enough to last everyone in the family for months. —Advertisement.

WOMEN SHAVE UNKNOWINGLY

When women are so unwise as to use so-called hair removers, they actually shave unknowingly, because such preparations stimulate hair growth after each removal.

The proper way to remove hair is to devitalize it. It is impossible to accomplish this result with pastes and rub-on preparations because they only remove hair from the surface of the skin. DeMiracle, the original liquid depilatory, devitalizes hair by attacking it under the skin as well as on the skin.

Imitations of DeMiracle are as worthless as pastes and rub-on preparations because they lack certain ingredients that DeMiracle alone contains which give it the power to rob hair of its vitality—its life-sustaining force. DeMiracle works equally well for removing hair from face, neck, arms and under arms or from limbs to prevent it from showing through stockings.

Buy a bottle of the genuine DeMiracle today and you will get the original liquid hair remover. Others are worthless imitations—refuse them. Remember, you are not asked to buy DeMiracle on a mere promise of your money being refunded. DeMiracle is the only depilatory that has a binding guarantee in each package which entitles you to the refund of your money if it fails.

DeMiracle is sold in 50c, $1.00 and $2.00 bottles. The larger sizes are the most economical for dermatologists and large users to buy. If your dealer will not supply you, buy a bottle from I. Freimuth or order direct from us. The truth about the treatment of superfluous hair mailed in plain sealed envelope on request. SUPPORT TO PRESIDENT

Annual Meeting of Great News Gathering Association Is Held.

New York, April 26.—In a toast offered to President Wilson at the luncheon in connection with the annual meeting of the Associated Press here yesterday, Frank B. Noyes of Washington, D. C., president of the organization, tendered "our affectionate sympathy and our loyal support to the man who by virtue of this great office is our spokesman to the world and who speaks for our right and our honor as God gives him to see our rights and our honor." Mr. Noyes' audience included newspaper publishers and editors from all parts of the country.

Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia university, made the principal address at the meeting. Mr. Noyes in his toast to President Wilson said: "On similar occasions in past years I have dwelt on the heterogeneous character of the membership of the Associated Press, mainly for the purpose of emphasizing the fact that varied as are our opinions on subjects, we all agree that each and everyone is a loyal American.

Right of Opinion.

"The 900 who compose our membership exercise their inalienable right of holding an opinion on every conceivable subject, including the relations of this government with foreign powers and this right they hold and exercise in common with the rest of the hundred million Americans.

"Our form of government provides that the duty and obligation of voicing the opinion of this nation in its intercourse with foreign nations rests with and is imposed upon our chief magistrate. When he speaks for us in the course of that intercourse he speaks for all of us.

"It is a very great, indeed a very terrible responsibility for a man to bear at any time.

Tender Loyal Support.

"So in this hour of uncertainty as to what the immediate future may bring to us, we tender our affectionate sympathy and our loyal support to the man who by virtue of his great office is our spokesman to the world and who speaks for our right and our honor as God gives him to see our rights and our honor.

"It is our custom at the annual gatherings to drink but one toast.

"I offer it today with a full heart.

"I give you the health of our president, Woodrow Wilson."

Resolutions were adopted at the meeting expressing regret because of the deaths of three former directors—Col. William B. Nelson, publisher of the Kansas City, Mo., Star; Charles W. Knapp, treasurer of the New York Times, and Herman Ridder, publisher of the New York Staats Zeitung.

At the annual meeting of the Associated Press held here yesterday the following directors were elected:

SHAM BATTLE FOR COLLEGE CADETS

Illinois and Wisconsin Corps May Clash This Spring.

Chicago, April 26.—A sham battle between the cadet corps of the University of Illinois and the University of Wisconsin may be staged this spring, according to word received here from cadet officers of the two institutions. Professors of each institution have signified their willingness to aid the plan in the hope such a battle, ranking with other competitive athletic events, would increase interest in military training.

The Illinois corps consists of two regiments of infantry, four auxiliary companies and might be augmented by a battery of the state guard composed largely of professors and students which drills with the cadets.

The Wisconsin corps is slightly smaller and it is said would be compelled to purchase additional equipment before such a battle would be possible.

TO SPEAK AT HOME COMING.

W. A. Pittenger Will Give Address to Odd Fellows at Palisade.

W. A. Pittenger, Duluth attorney, is to be principal speaker at a home coming and anniversary celebration at Palisade, Minn., Odd Fellows tonight.

Ceremonies connected with the anniversary will occupy most of the day, as Odd Fellow organizations in Remer, McGregor and Aitkin, nearby, will have special meetings.

"The History of the Odd Fellows," is the topic of Mr. Pittenger's address. A dance will be given following the program of talks.

MUST THINK OF FINANCES

Mayor Talks to Lester Park Club on Initiative Ordinances.

Railroad Will Release Land for Street for Fair Consideration.

Mayor W. I. Prince, in an address before the Lester Park Men's club last night at the Lester Park M. E. church, told members to consider seriously the financial aspect of the questions before voting on the "dry" ordinance and the double platoon system for firemen.

The city's chief executive discussed at length the city's park and boulevard system and advocated the widening of East Superior street from Forty-seventh to Fifty-fourth avenue west before it was improved. In connection with this he gave a detailed explanation of the limitations of city finances.

The Duluth & Iron Range railroad is willing to release a 15-foot strip of land, to be used in widening the street, if given reciprocal benefits, the club members have learned. The street is now but twenty-five feet wide.

Boys of the Lester Park district appeared before the club to petition for aid in obtaining a baseball diamond. They were promised the support of the club.

Wives and women friends of the club members will be guests at the next monthly meeting to be held May 17. M. R. Bush, James Watt and Lloyd Williams comprise the committee in charge.

The committee in charge of last night's meeting included Dr. C. W. McFadden, E. T. McManus and Glea Harris. A dinner was served by the ladies' aid society of the church.

SHERIFF TO COLLECT $50,000 IN TAXES

Prepares 3,000 Notices to Be Sent Those in Arrears.

Approximately $50,000 in delinquent personal property taxes has been turned over to Sheriff John R. Meining and his deputies for collection this year. The sheriff is now preparing about 3,000 notices, which will be sent out to those in arrears. After May 15, if the taxes remain delinquent, the sheriff will levy an execution against the property taxed and sell it to satisfy the judgment.

In addition to the 10 per cent penalty which became due on March 1, last, costs of collection are added—50 cents for clerks' fee and 5 per cent in addition.

LONG RAILROAD TICKETS DISCARDED

Eighteen Companies Adopt New Fan-Shaped Card Boards.

Long railroad tickets for long trips are in the discard.

Eighteen railroads entering and leaving Chicago, including the Northwestern to Duluth, have adopted a new form of ticket for their through travel that will replace the present kind that fold and unfold for several yards. The new tickets are fan-shaped and can be printed at a big saving to the railroads. The territory formerly covered by 1,500 of the old forms is now cared for by 100 of the new style tickets.

FOR BENEFIT OF CANDIDACY

Dr. J. A. Gates, Candidate for Lieutenant Governor, in Duluth.

Was Legislative Friend of St. Louis County; Against Tonnage Tax.

With the assurance to his Northern Minnesota acquaintances that he is the same steadfast friend of this part of the state that he showed himself to be in the legislature in 1905, 1907 and 1909, Dr. J. A. Gates of Kenyon is a visitor in Duluth in the interests of his candidacy for the Republican nomination for lieutenant governor. He has just been making a tour of the northwestern part of the state and visited Bemidji, Crookston, Warren and other places. His popularity was attested by the fact that at several of the places visited local friends had a banquet all ready on his arrival in his honor and without his knowledge. Receptions and social gatherings greeted him at almost every point and the doctor was given ample opportunity to meet the voters and get acquainted.

"I feel certain," said he this morning, "that I will get the bulk of the vote in the northern part of the state. Mr. Peterson will get a heavier vote than Mr. Frankson, but I will lead.

"I noticed," he continued, "that Mr. Frankson was in Duluth a while ago and was inclined to apologize for his position on the tonnage tax. I feel that I need offer no apology for my attitude toward Northern Minnesota."

Fought Tonnage Tax.

Dr. Gates not only voted against the tonnage tax, but worked against it. He and two or three others from Southern Minnesota helped very materially in saving the day for the St. Louis county delegation.

"I am against a tonnage tax bill," said he, "and I am against anything that smacks of sectionalism. A sectional man is not a good man to elect to a state office."

Speaking of legislation that is likely to come up during the next session of the legislature, and in which the lieutenant governor will cut a very important figure, Dr. Gates said today that he believes there will be considerable in the way of drainage bills, and he is strongly for drainage for those sections of the northern part of the state which needs it.

Helps Get Drainage.

"I was instrumental in obtaining the passage of a large part of the legislation favorable to drainage," said Dr. Gates, "and that is why the people of the northwestern part of the state like me, I suppose, and why they treated me so well on this trip. I believe in improving the state as a whole, and where drainage will do it, I am for drainage. I am for such measures as are needed for general welfare and improvement for any part of the state. I favor amendment No. 1, which provides for a revolving fund, for state land development, and it seems to me that there should be no question of its adoption."

Dr. Gates was a champion of pure food laws and other legislation for the benefit of the public health, and took an active interest in the laws permitting the establishment of tubercular sanitoria. He was active in establishing the sanatorium in his own county, Goodhue.

Regarding the distribution of offices, Dr. Gates points out that the Twin Cities have a United States senator, three members of the supreme court and the governor; that two of the candidates for lieutenant governor are from the two big cities; and he thinks that to make a proper distribution the country should be given one office. Obviously, therefore, Dr. Gates believes that he should be the country representative.

EFFICIENCY METHODS PAY

Sunday Schools Gain 50 Per Cent in Attendance, Says Dr. Ingham.

Efficiency methods for teaching in Sunday schools, which were adopted eight years ago, have caused a 50 per cent increase in attendance, according to Rev. H. A. Ingham, in a commencement address to seventy-five graduates of the Duluth City Training School for Sunday School Workers last night. The exercises were given at the First M. E. chrch.

Rev. Mr. Ingham told of the tragedies of the modern Sunday school. "Lack of training among teachers, loss of boys and girls from the Sunday schools and the lack of evangelistic spirit among instructors—these are some of the tragedies," he said. "Work we are doing in this school to overcome these tragedies constitutes the triumph of the institution."

A banquet at the Y. M. C. A. preceded the commencement exercises. Mrs. C. M. Nelson, Mrs. John MacLeod and Prof. J. E. Taylor were among those who gave speeches at the banquet. Robert E. Miller presided.

The faculty of the Duluth City Training school, which was organized last fall, includes: Robert E. Miller, A. B., S. T. B., dean; Wilbur H. Schilling, B. S.; Mrs. John MacLeod, A. L. Turner, James F. Taylor, Mrs. Charles M. Wilson, Mark G. Holtzman, A. A. Locker, Norman McLeod, Miss Edna Thatcher, Mrs. William F. Moore, John Carson and Earl Thompson.

W. B. Patton is president of the school. Directors are Rev. J. W. Hoffman, Rev. C. N. Thorp, Rev. J. J. Daniels, J. A. P. Neal, J. W. Walker and J. J. Moe.

MANN DEFEATED; ARMY BILL TO CONFERENCE

Washington, April 26.—Democratic leaders in the house yesterday finally defeated the efforts of Minority Leader Mann to prevent the army bill from going to conference until amended, and the conferees of both houses, appointed later, will meet today to work out a final draft of the first great preparedness measure.

A special rule adopted after brief debate paved the way for action in the house. The rule permitted one motion to recommit the bill, but most of the Republicans, resenting Speaker Clark's recognition of Representative London, Socialist, to make the motion, declined to vote on the proposition, and it was defeated 248 to 1.

When the senate conferees were announced there was much comment on the fact that all "big army" men had been named. Senator Hitchcock, second majority member of the military committee and opposed to a large standing army, was not on the list. The conferees are Senators Chamberlain, Beckham, Broussard, Du Pont and Warren, and Representatives Hay of Virginia, Dent of Alabama and Kahn of California.

ROCKY BOY, NOMAD INDIAN CHIEF, PASSES

Great Falls, Mont., April 26.—Rocky Boy, head of a wandering band of Chippewa Indians, that in some manner were omitted from a share in lands when the rest of the tribe received their allotments and which for the last thirty years or more have wandered about in northern Montana, died recently on land which friends of the tribe are trying to have set aside for them on the former Fort Assiniboine reservation. The exact age of Chief Rocky Boy is unknown, but he was over 80 years of age. The old chief was a picturesque character.

BISHOP WILL VISIT MORGAN PARK CHAPEL

Rt. Rev. James Dow Morrison, D.D., LL.D., the bishop of the Episcopal diocese of Duluth, will visit St. Mary's chapel, Morgan Park, Sunday. He will be met by members of the vestry at Morgan Park depot and will be escorted to the home of John McLimans, North Boulevard. The vestry and officers of the chapel will confer with him there informally, and he will be accompanied by them to the chapel, where he will conduct vespers and preach at 8 o'clock.

Red Wing Votes Wet.

Red Wing, Minn., April 26.—In a spirited election with the license question the main issue, Red Wing voted wet by a vote of 1,038 to 869, a majority of 169 votes. The drys gained better than 100 votes. The ordinance eliminating high bridge tolls when Trenton, a Wisconsin township, takes over the Island road in Wisconsin, was carried by a large majority.

NOTED SURGEON'S BRAIN TO BE USED FOR STUDY

Philadelphia, April 26.—The brain of Dr. J. William White, the noted surgeon who died at his home here Monday night, was removed yesterday by pathologists of the University of Pennsylvania for the purpose of study. This was in accordance with Dr. White's wishes. The brain weighed slightly over forty-nine ounces, which is about the average weight of any normal white man. It was taken to the laboratory of the Wistar institute at the university, where peculiarities in formation will be studied and a comparison made with the brains of other noted men which have been preserved there. The body of the surgeon will be cremated.

Working on State Road.

Brainerd, Minn., April 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—F. Veillette, in charge of building State Road No. 6 from Barrows to the Morrison county line, has started work between Barrows and Crow Wing. Graders will soon be operated.

Freckles and Blotches Are Easily Peeled Off

If you are bothered with any cutaneous blemish, it's a poor plan to use paint, powder or anything else to cover it up. Too often this only emphasizes the defect. Besides, it's much easier to remove the disfigurement with ordinary mercolized wax. Applied nightly, the wax will gradually remove freckles, pimples, moth patches, liver spots, sallowness, red blotches or any surface eruption. The affected cuticle is absorbed, a little each day, until the clear, soft, youthful and beautiful skin beneath is brought wholly to view. Ask the druggist for one ounce of mercolized wax and use this like you use cold cream. Remove in morning with soap and water. Many who have tried this simple, harmless treatment report astonishing results.

If troubled with wrinkles or furrows, a wash lotion made by dissolving 1 oz. powdered saxolite in ½ pint witch hazel, will prove wonderfully effective.

Tea, Coffee and Children

It would be difficult for any parent to find a physician of modern education who would contend that coffee and tea are not harmful, especially to growing children.

The fact remains, however, that many parents give these beverages to their little folks and allow their use in older children at a time when physical and mental development is the most rapid.

The drug, caffeine, in coffee and tea retards growth and interferes with school progress. Disturbances of eyesight, headaches, nervousness, irritability, indigestion and other ills appear in many, seemingly without cause, and the damage often occurs at the most impressionable period of life.

No parent should permit the use of coffee and tea in the growing young; for the men and women of tomorrow will be what the parent of today makes the children by wise upbringing.

Children as well as adults need an invigorating, warm drink, and in a growing number of homes it has been found that the most wholesome table beverage is

INSTANT POSTUM

This pure food-drink, made of prime wheat and a bit of wholesome molasses is readily prepared at the table, a cup at a time.

FIRST COAL CARGOES HERE

Four Steamers Reach Port With Fuel; Average Supply Held Over.

Ore Loading Hampered By Cold and Damp; Grain Moving.

The first coal of the season arrived this morning, four cargoes reaching this port, two being for the Philadelphia & Reading dock, one for Pittsburgh No. 5 and one for North-Western No. 2. This will add to Duluth's hold-over supply about 36,000 tons, and it is understood that several more boats are on their way.

At no time during the winter was there any fear of shortage of coal, for Duluth had a pretty good supply to start with. It is estimated that the hold-over supply was about 1,500,000 to 1,750,000 tons, which is about the average. That of a year ago was away larger than that amount.

Most of the early receipts of coal it is understood will be of Hocking and smokeless, as these two kinds are almost out of the market here and have been selling at a high premium.

A few more boats have arrived for grain, and the steamer A. M. Marshall is loading at one of the elevators with wheat to go to Montreal. The steamer Sultana of the Tomlinson fleet, the first vessel to come up from below for grain, pulled out last evening for Buffalo with 186,000 bushels of wheat.

Ore Loading Hampered.

Ore is moving faster now than it had been. The cold weather, together with the rain, froze the ore badly in the cars and made it almost impossible to load into the pockets at the ore docks and from the pockets into the boats. However, conditions have improved and the boats are loading faster today. Up to this morning quite a bunch of boats were lying in the harbor waiting for a chance to get up to the ore docks. They are rapidly disappearing now, and quite a fleet of ore carriers have gone out in the last twenty-four hours.

Boats are being loaded at the ore docks at Two Harbors and Ashland, and shipping is increasing in rapidity.

The Pittsburgh Steamship company will move its four barges which have been tied up at the Zenith Furnace company all winter, to the ore docks to load on Monday. These barges are the Maida, Bell, Bryn Mawr and Manda.

It is expected that after the first round trip the boats take, matters will become adjusted for the season's work, and dispatch will be much more rapid.

The steamer America arrived at 6 o'clock this morning from her first trip to Port Arthur, intermediate points and Isle Royale. She encountered but very little difficulty in making progress.

ICE COULD BLOCK WAY TO SAULT

Ashland, Wis., April 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—Capt. John H. Babbitt of the steamer William Livingstone which arrived here yesterday, says that a northwest gale would fill Whitefish bay and block the Sault canal. From the Sault almost to Parisian island, there was clear water when he passed through on Monday. From Parisian island to within twenty miles of Whitefish, there was plenty of hard ice, then a clear space of fifteen miles, then ice for ten miles, hard and plentiful enough to interfere with navigation.

There was no more ice in sight, until the Livingstone was west of Keweenaw where extensive ice fields apparently extended clear from the shore adjacent to the Porcupine mountains, to the regularly traveled course. A strong south wind would send this big field of ice directly across the course.

The Livingstone encountered ice almost continuously from Buffalo to Fairport, there being practically as much ice in sight on Lake Erie, as on Lake Superior, but considerably softer than Lake Superior ice.

TWO GROUNDED BOATS RELEASED UNDAMAGED

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., April 26.—Tugs released the steamer Collingwood, which was driven ashore by ice on Sunday above Whitefish point, by dredging astern of her in the sandy botton on which she grounded. The steamer sustained no damage and came on down, locking through at 12:30 p. m. yesterday.

The fog has cleared somewhat, but ice still is heavy above the point, many unbroken fields floating around.

The Cort and Neilson, which were employed in assisting steamers through the ice, were released and left for Two Harbors to load ore.

The Zenith City, which grounded off Nine Mile point, Lake Huron, also was released yesterday. She proceeded to Milwaukee.

Lighthouse Keepers' Places.

Ashland, Wis., April 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—The lighthouse keepers and their assistants were taken to the several lighthouses of the Apostle islans yesterday. The beacons should be lighted from now on, beginning today. The Ashland breakwater light has been in operation several days. The first coal boat, the Manchester, arrived Monday.

Wind and Weather on Lakes.

The following were wind and weather conditions on the Great Lakes at 7 o'clock this morning, as reported by the weather bureau:

Duluth—Northwest, cloudy, twelve miles.

Port Arthur—North, partly cloudy, fourteen miles.

Sault Ste Marie—North, cloudy, ten miles.

Portage (Lake Superior)—Northwest, cloudy, eighteen miles.

River Falls at Winnipeg.

Winnipeg, Man., April 26.—The North Red river, which has been causing heavy damage in and about Winnipeg, fell three inches at Emerson during the night and conditions were reported to be considerably improved in the flooded districts today. The authorities believe the crest of the flood has passed. Merchants here have been heavy losers, because of the destruction by flood waters of goods stored in basements.

CLOQUET PIONEER PASSES IN DULUTH

Crookston, Minn., April 26.—Funeral arrangements are being arranged for J. F. O'Brien, old Cloquet resident and well-known contractor, who died in St. Mary's hospital, Duluth, yesterday following an operation, aged 57. A native of Peterboro, Ont., he came here in 1887, and for many years ran a livery stable, disposing of it twelve years ago to embark in contracting.

Mr. O'Brien was a member of the Knights of Columbus, Woodmen of the World and Catholic Order of Foresters. Besides his wife he is survived by three children, John, Mary and Alice, also two sisters, who are St. Joseph's nuns of Peterboro, Ont., Can., and five brothers, James and Michael of Peterboro, P. W. and D. D. O'Brien of Chicago and Morris of Duluth.

RED RIVER AT FARGO IS ABOUT STATIONARY

Fargo, N. D., April 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—Unless there should be a heavy rain, it is not believed here that the Red river, which it on its second rampage of the season, will go any higher.

The water is practically stationary here, while from up the stream come the reports that the stream is falling again. Although the river here is not as high as it was three weeks ago, there are a large number of homes in both Fargo and Moorhead inundated. Some of these houses will be practically ruined, the water having been out of them only a few days in the past three weeks.

The Art of Being Well Dressed

Being well dressed is an art—and like all arts it is the result of careful attention to many details. Thought should be given to the important—we might almost say vital—detail of the corset. Of course the C-B a la Spirite corset is everywhere recognized as the standard of quality. But it is not enough to buy the right make of corset. The right model must be selected. Among the C-B a la Spirite corsets will be found absolutely the right model for every figure. Take time to select the model which was made for you.

NEWS of the marriage today of Mrs. Addison W. Greenway, sister-in-law of John C. Greenway, to Dr. L. D. Ricketts will be of interest to Dulutbians as both Mrs. Greenway and Dr. Ricketts are well known to a large circle of friends here. The Bisbee Review has the following to say:

"Dr. L. D. Ricketts and Mrs. Addison W. Greenway will be married Wednesday at the residence of John C. Greenway in Warren. Those in attendance will be limited to immediate friends and relatives. Among the out-of-town guests will be Mr. Greenway's mother and sister.

"Mrs. A. W. Greenway has been a resident of the Warren district for the last five years, her personal charm and graciousness as a hostess drawing to her a circle of loyal friends.

"Dr. Ricketts was honored recently by being designated as Arizona's most distinguished citizen. He enjoys world-wide fame as a mining engineer. His election as president of the American Institute of Mining Engineers at its last meeting met with universal approval. Few professional men in this country undertake as many business activities as does Dr. Ricketts. He is consulting engineer of the Guggenheim interests; president of the Greene-Cananea Copper company; consulting engineer for the Calumet & Arizona and Copper Queen companies; and a director in half-a-dozen other mining companies and banking institutions.

"Dr. Ricketts returned last week from a two months' tour in South America where he inspected various mining properties.

"With his bride he will make his home part of the time in New York but they will also continue their fealty to Arizona."

Events of Interest.

Miss Henrietta Krebs of St. Paul will arrive tomorrow to be the guest of her cousin, Miss Lois Trott, whose wedding to Walter Dacey will take place Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the residence of Bishop McGolrick. Miss Krebs will be Miss Trott's maid of honor, while Henry Cloutier of Minneapolis, a fraternity brother of Mr. Dacey, will be the best man. After the ceremony an informal luncheon for the relatives of the two families and attendants will be served at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Trott, 104 South Sixteenth avenue east, after which Mr. Dacey and his bride will leave for a wedding trip to Kentucky and other Southern points.

J. B. Culver Relief corps, No. 69, will meet tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 at Memorial hall.

Black and White Ball At Kitchi Gammi Club

The Kitchi Gammi club was the scene of a very effective party last night, the event being Duluth's first Black and White ball.

This has been one of the most popular innovations of the winter's dances in different Eastern cities this year, and as exemplified last night in the decorations, the black and white made a most striking background for the dancers. The gowns of the women and the costumes of the men all conformed to the general color scheme. Several attractive Pierrot costumes and some all white suits, worn by the men, lent an added glamour to the general ensemble.

Among the dancers were Mr. and Mrs. Whitney Wall, Mr. and Mrs. Wayland W. Walker, Mr. and Mrs. William H. Rattenbury, Mr. and Mrs. Carl A. Luster, Mrs. Augustus B. Wolvin, Mr. and Mrs. Michael H. Kelley, Mr. and Mrs. Alexander W. Hartman, Mr. and Mrs. James E. Granger, Mrs. Copeland, Miss Edith Kelley, Miss Esther Adams, Miss Ruth Hobbs, Miss Martha Wall, Charles Kelley, Charles Fitzgerald, A. Laird Goodman, Duncan Frick, Paul Welch, Martin Haakinson, George Monaghan, Francis S. Sullivan and W. Hyle of Pittsburgh.

Will Sing Haydn's Famous Oratorio

Haydn's oratorio, "The Creation," will be given at 8:15 o'clock tonight at the First Methodist church by the Duluth Choral society. It will be sung by three soloists and a large chorus of mixed voices.

The composition relates the story of creation as given in the Book of Genesis, the soloists, Mrs. Lucile Brown Duxbury, Joseph J. Granbeck of Minneapolis and Rollin M. Pease of St. Paul representing the angels Gabriel, Raphel and Urel.

EVENTS OF TONIGHT AND TOMORROW.

The Duluth Choral society will give "The Creation," by Haydn, at 8:15 o'clock tonight at the First Methodist church.

Company 3, Third infantry, M. N. G., will give a dance tonight at the armory.

St. Michael's club will give a dance tonight in the Cathedral gymnasium.

Farewell Dinner.

In honor of Thomas J. McDermott, who will leave Saturday night for Indianapolis, Ind., where he will make his home, a number of his friends gave him a farewell dinner last night at the St. Louis hotel.

Edmund E. Killeen was toastmaster, while a farewell toast was given by Vincent J. Fitzgerald of the University of Minnesota. Short talks were given by Allen E. Wagner and Edward F. White, and Douglas Clark sang a few Scottish songs.

The guests were: Frank S. Kelly, Jr., Leslie Bowman, Ambrose Kelly, William Armstrong, Walter Bashan, Edward Harrington, Melvin Dock, John J. Garvey, Allen E. Wagner, Cecil Du Rose, A. J. Belleperche, Alfred Bowman, Henry Bowman, Joseph L. Gruesen, Douglas Clark, Vincent J. Fitzgerald, Edward F. White, E. F. Killeen and Harry Mix.

Church Meetings.

Circle No. 5 of St. Paul's Episcopal church will hold a home cooking sale Saturday at 131 West Superior street.

Efficient Housekeeping

BY Henriette D Crauel

For Miss Curly Locks

MRS. C. M. K., Mechanicsburg, writes: "Recently some one asked you how to keep a small daughter's hair curly. Hair that is naturally curly is made more so by dampness, so if, after brushing and arranging the little girl's hair, she will wet her fingers and pat the hair on the temples and forehead, little wisps will curl out into ringlets. Do not drench the hair, but moisten it liberally with water once a day. I read 'Efficient Housekeeping' daily, and like the helpful suggestions therein." The editor hopes the mother who wrote about Miss Curly Locks will see this friendly note.

Will Miss P. H. C., Milwaukee, who sent a postcard for a quilt pattern, please write again and give her address on a stamped, self-addressed envelope?

Questions and Answers.

Where can I buy the porcelain egg spoons you wrote about during Lent? —Miss G. H. M., Conn.

Reply—You will find these in any china or housefurnishing store.

Please tell me of something that I can put on my inlaid linoleum. I used varnish, but it washes off.—Mrs. D. Y., Ind.

Reply—Ask your paint dealer for a can of linoleum finish. This is a preparation, somewhat harder than ordinary varnish, that will not rub or wash off and is inexpensive. I do not know the precise name for it, but a dealer will know.

Kindly publish recipe for bran muffins or for bran biscuit and oblige a Reader.

Reply—Bran muffin recipe: One pint of bran, one-half pint of flour, two teaspoons of baking powder, one-half pint milk, six tablespoons of molasses. Mix bran, flour, baking powder and a little salt together and add milk to the molasses and then combine all the ingredients. Bake in gem pans.

Please tell me if I need to put scrim and voile curtains on stretchers after washing them.—Hester.

Reply—To dry such curtains you will find it sufficient to pin one end evenly on the clothes line and run a curtain pole through the opposite end. They dry evenly when hung so and only the hems need to be pressed.

Is there any way to clean tatting without washing it in suds? I have just completed a collar and it became badly soiled in the process of making. —Tatter.

Reply—An art worker assures me that tatting may be cleaned thus: Fasten a Turkish or other heavy towel to a board and pin the article to be cleaned upon it. Use a pin in each point of the edge, so it will be solid. Then make a suds of white soap and water and scrub gently with a nail brush. Rinse by pouring clear warm water over lace, towel and board and dry before the oven or in sunshine.

To have the inspection of the 23,000 public school children in Manila, P. I., is the important work of Dr. Marian Griffin, who, with her mother, Mrs. Dona Griffin, are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Bostwick of 419 West Third street.

Mrs. Griffin, who is a cousin of Mrs. Bostwick, and Dr. Griffin have visited India, Burma and Ceylon since leaving Manila in November. From Duluth they will go to Pittsburgh and New York for visits with relatives before returning to Manila by July 22, the expiration of Dr. Griffin's eight months' leave after four years' service. The Griffin family were formerly residents of Minneapolis.

Biggest Primary School.

The public schools of Manila include the largest primary school in the world. The old Spanish barracks and several additional buildings house 3,000 children from the first to the fourth grades.

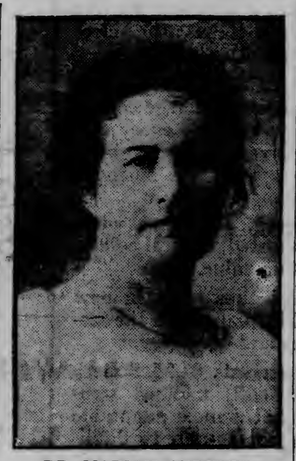
Children are received into kindergarten as young as 3 years. After the primary school come the intermediate, from the fifth to the seventh grade, which is followed by the high school and the school of commerce. There are also in the public school system of Manila an institution for the deaf and blind, an orphan asylum and a reform school for girls.

"As most children quit school after the completion of the fourth grade, efforts are made to give them the rudiments of a trade in a few years," said Dr. Griffin. "The boys are taught basket making, carpentry, wood carving and gardening. The girls are taught to make all their garments and to cook.

Cheap Lunches.

"It was found that many children were going to school without breakfast and, as a result, were doing poor work. Now a lunch is served at the 10 o'clock recess. A bowl of soup or stew, sandwiches of fish, eggs or meat, or a dish of ice cream may be bought for the equivalent of a half cent, so that no child need go without. The girls take turns preparing these luncheons. In the higher grades more complicated dishes are prepared.

"The school day in Manila is from 7:30 to 12:30 o'clock, because the afternoon is too warm for work. I inspect each child for eye, ear, skin and teeth troubles, infections and other diseases, and I keep a card catalogue in which I enter the child's name, address and other information and my diagnosis. If it is necessary, I recommend that the child visit a dispensary, where medical attention is given free. One hour is required for each room, the average number for each room being forty pupils.



Trachoma Prevalent.

"Trachoma is prevalent, but the Filipino children have better sight than American children. There is a great deal of deafness, caused by abscesses of the ears that receive no attention. Children contract colds in the rainy season, and as the abscesses are not treated, the drum is often destroyed when the children come under my observation.

"Defective teeth are one of the most serious problems, as 10 or 11 per cent of the children I examine have decayed teeth. Several dentists are at the hospital clinic. No charge is made for work, but persons are expected to pay for the gold and silver used. Children's teeth are generally filled with cement. Donations have been solicited in order that the clinic may be put on a firmer basis."

Few Contagious Diseases.

Dr. Griffin explained that she has never seen a case of scarlet fever in the islands and that there are very few cases of diphtheria. A few cases of measles have been taken there by transports. There are few cases of mumps and chickenpox and these are mild. Most of the school children have never seen a doctor until Dr. Griffin visits the school. Leprosy, bubonic plague and cholera have been practically eliminated, but tuberculosis and infant mortality offer serious problems. The lepers are segregated. There are now 3,500 on the island of Culion, where several cures have been effected.

DR. MARIAN GRIFFIN.

Ventilation Neglected.

Tuberculosis is due in a great measure to the Filipino's antipathy to ventilation. The houses are closed at night to keep out spirits and the native's hospitality is such that floor space alone limits the number of guests at night. It was necessary to pass a law that closets must be too small for persons to lie down in them, or if larger, must be provided with windows.

At the beginning of the American occupation of the islands 50 per cent of the children died before they were 2 years old, but the natives, who are indulgent parents, are being educated by doctors and nurses in the proper way to feed their children.

A peculiar form of smallpox, to which Westerners are practically immune, is one that leaves few marks, but distorts the joints and so affects the bones that the legs and arms do not grow to their proper lengths. The natives fear this disease because of the deformities that follow.

Vaccinated Yearly.

"The Filipinos are vaccinated every year," said Dr. Griffin, "and it is not unusual to see a person with five or six large vaccination marks, showing that he was in such a condition that the vaccination 'took'."

Dr. Griffin's description of the sanitary conditions of Manila are enough to make those who have suffered from flies, mosquitoes and insanitary conditions of food wish to settle there for life.

"The city is divided into four health districts," she said, in explaining the sanitary system. "In each district there is a health station, with a medical inspector in charge. This medical inspector, who is a physician, has under him from twenty to twenty-five assistants, who have acquired some knowledge of preventable diseases. The assistants make house-to-house tours of inspection and report diseases to the medical inspectors.

"There are no flies and practically no mosquitoes. Garbage is collected every night and every few days the mosquito brigade sprays standing water with a petroleum preparation.

Sanitary Conditions.

"As most of the natives do not have ice they must go to market every morning. The cement floors of the markets are washed each morning and flooded at noon, when they close. Street venders are compelled to carry their wares in special dishes provided with screen covers. Once a month each vender must report at his health station for the inspection of his vessels and for a license which is issued without charge."

Mrs. Griffin, who is familiar with the problems that beset a housekeeper, told of the abundant supplies of American and native food that may be had in Manila.

Chinese Grocers.

"With the exception of a Spanish grocery, all groceries are kept by the Chinese. American and English canned goods are carried and everything is in excellent condition, as even oatmeal, cornmeal and cakes are sold in soldered tin boxes. With the exception of asparagus, peas and parsnips, all the American vegetables are raised. Cabbages do not grow near Manila, but are brought from the mountains. We eat nothing that is not boiled.

"Filipino women go out as nurse maids and laundresses, but all the other work is done by men, or 'boys,' as they are called, even if they are 80 years old. The servants are provided with breakfasts like the members of the family. For each servant, 5 cents for fish money and a measure of rice are given out for the other two meals.

"Washing is done by native women or Chinese laundrymen, and for about 3 cents one may have a white dress laundered in a way that equals the work of the finest French laundresses. We get tired of wearing white, and once in a while buy a colored dress, but when it is faded after about the second washing, we regret our foolishness.

"English is now compulsory. The Filipinos delight in long words, beautiful phrases and arguments. Almost every young man wants to be a lawyer. I wonder how there can ever be enough quarrels to keep all the lawyers busy."

As an example of the Filipinos' love for fine phrases, Mrs. Griffin and Dr. Griffin told of their house boy, who had attended school for only a short time. Hearing a great deal of loud talking from two natives, they asked him what was the matter. He told what province they were from, and said: "The people of that province have not acquired the art of speaking softly."

More About Miss Chameleon

ONE bright, warm morning Miss Chameleon hung by her tail from a leaf-covered shrub and meditated on what she was to do that day.

"I might climb up high in that tree and eat some of the ants I am sure to find there," she thought; "or I might go down to the ground and lie in the sunshine, or I might—I might—" she thought slowly, "why, I might stay right here! Whatever is the use in running around the forest when I have a perfectly good place to stay in already?"

So, without wasting any more time in thought, she pulled herself up to the branch of the tree and stretched herself out at ease. Hardly had she made herself comfortable till she realized that she should change her dress.

"Isn't it lucky," she said to herself, "that I do not have to go to a lot of fuss and trouble over my costume, as many creatures do? I was green, now I am dressed in brown, and that's the end of the matter." And, indeed, she was exactly right! Her green dress had vanished with a thought, and she was covered with a brown skin that looked just like the bark she was lying on.

The insects will have to have sharper eyes than they usually have if they want to see me now," she laughed to herself, and then she turned her right eye up to watch for danger from overhead, and her left eye down to watch what was going on toward the ground. Her handsome long tail she curled around her and then she was settled for the day.

For you see Miss Chameleon was far from a greedy creature, such as many of the animals of the forest were. She didn't have to think of eating all the time—indeed no.

To be sure, she was not averse to a good square meal any time she happened to get one; but she didn't spend all her time hunting food. She would go one day, two days, and sometimes even a week or more without a bit. And she didn't mind it so much, either.

On this particular morning she had remembered that she had not eaten to amount to anything for two days. "But what of that?" she said to herself. "Haven't I air bags to blow myself up with? I will simply blow myself fat, and then I will forget all about eating and I can rest in peace."

"Whatever is the use in running around the forest when I have a perfectly good place to stay in already?"

No sooner said than done. She blew all the little air cells with which her dainty body was filled full of air, and she looked as fat and plump as though she had eaten a score of flies.

But hardly had she settled herself when an unusual sound caught her attention. Instantly she let out all the air and lay close to the bark—a creature so small and so brown that she seemed to be a part of the tree.

Whatever the danger was, it did not come nearer, so gradually she forgot her fright, filled up the air bags again and lay at ease in the sunshine all the day long.

Peggy Peabody's Observations

The Spoiled "Fond Mother"

If you can possibly impress the habit of personal tidiness upon your children, do so. It is one that will stand them in good stead to the last day they may live. The tendency of the present day mother is toward a slavish devotion that is a serious detriment to the young. She does not insist that her children shall hang their hats and coats up when they are not in use. The children leave their playthings, their school books and articles of clothing just where they drop them for their tired mother to pick up.

Many children of a capable age are washed and dressed by their indulgent mothers until both the mother and the child should be ashamed. The child in such cases is only being encouraged in idleness and helplessness and the mother is adding to arduous duties and shaping a course which may be very difficult to change later on.

I know of great girls, 15 years old, who cannot comb their hair. They have fine times pinning it on their heads in imitation of their mother and her friends, but when it comes to arranging the hair neatly for attendance at school the mother has to do it. The result is that they have never been taught to care for their hair and neglect it when the duty becomes theirs, and a frowzy, poorly dressed head of hair is the result.

I think almost every woman has seen a home interior where the children are not taught their duty in the matter of care for personal belongings and one where they are waited upon as veritable little princes and princesses with a sorry disregard for their future.

One of the greatest things you can teach a child for his or her future peace of mind and happiness is order and neatness, both as it applies to the child personally and the apartment it occupies and shares with another. Scrupulous neatness and a knowledge of how to perform every duty that contributes to a well-groomed appearance is an essential part of every young person's education, also care in preserving the wardrobe and order which makes the well-groomed, well-dressed man or woman a reality.

The habit of taking care of one's things and of having a place for everything and of keeping each thing in its place, is one of the best one can acquire. The sooner you begin to train children in these ways the better it will be for both parents and the young people.

System in Living

A FRIEND of mine lives in a district where the cars on the nearest car line run about every ten minutes, but where, by walking an eighth of a mile further, one could reach a square through which two more lines pass.

Now, it is a much-considered question in that neighborhood whether it is worth while to walk to the square or not.

The other day I heard a group discussing this point.

Said one woman: "I don't think you gain anything by walking up. Seems to me I always just miss a car and have to wait for my own, after all."

Said another: "Oh, I think you are apt to get one if you walk fast enough."

Said a third: "I don't know whether I gain time or not, but I always walk up, because I would rather walk than stand still."

The Rest Thought; She Knew.

Said my friend: "You have just about two chances of getting a car at the square to one of having to wait for your own car. I kept count, and out of nineteen times, I gained time thirteen times by walking up. I wanted to find out definitely what the chances were."

Of course, the other women thought such a method of going about things very amusing. "So like Gertrude!" they said. "So original!"

It certainly was original from their point of view. They would never have thought of doing anything so systematic. They would have continued indefinitely to cling to and act upon their vague opinions on the subject.

She Used to Be a Business Woman.

It was also "like Gertrude," who, before she married, was a business woman, and who, either from that experience or because her mind is naturally of that order, has some idea of what I call "system in living."

Here's another example of system in living: A friend of mine lives near a square through which two lines of cars run, and there is also a steam railway station not far from her house. As soon as she moved into that locality she ascertained the exact time at which both trains and trolleys left, and had her daughter typewrite a schedule which she keeps pasted upon the kitchen clock. And last, but not least, she makes a point of having that clock absolutely right. Think how much time her household and guests save by that accurate information!

How a Systematic Man Chose His Home.

A doctor was choosing a location for his home. He has to come to town every day in his machine, and so, after boiling down the possibilities to three equally desirable suburbs, he carefully tried out the roads to each in his car. He found out just how long it took him to make each trip, compared the roads as to roadbed, number of turns, car tracks and other impediments, and finally chose that locality which could be most easily reached.

System in living means translating "I think" into "I know" in the business of daily life. Most of us prefer to keep on thinking.

Trinity Cathedral Is Scene Of Reichert-Liscomb Wedding

Easter decorations marked the wedding last night of Miss Eleanor Reichert to Charles F. Liscomb, which took place at Trinity cathedral at 8 o'clock. The altar was banked with lilies and palms, while a large cross of Easter lilies was held by the crucifer.

As the bridal party entered, the full vested choir sang the wedding march from "Lohengrin" and during the service "The Voice that Breathes O'er Eden," while "O Perfect Love" was sung as a recessional. Bishop Morrison read the marriage service, assisted by Rev. Thomas MacLean.

The bride's gown was of heavy white satin trimmed with silver and white tulle. Her veil was caught with lilies of the valley at the head, and lilies caught the veil below at the skirt. A short frill lace veil was worn and the bride carried an armful of Easter lilies. Miss Marianne Williamson, the maid of honor, wore a flesh-colored silk net gown over satin and trimmed with white satin bands. She wore a large pink hat and carried pink Killarney roses. The two maids who attended the bride, Miss Elsie Overman and Miss Gladys Segog, wore white net gowns with pink tulle sashes and wore pink shepherdess hats with rose bud streamers. They carried baskets of pink sweet peas and roses. Mrs. Reichert, the mother of the bride, was gowned in pearl gray taffeta with silver trimmings. Miss Lida Pierson, an aunt of the bride, wore black satin trimmed with Honiton lace.

Emmett Flynn was Mr. Liscomb's best man. The ushers were Ray Fenton and Frank Beatty of Des Moines, Iowa. After the ceremony an informal reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, the house being decorated with Easter lilies.

Mrs. James Vivian and Mrs. David Fairchild presided in the dining room, and were assisted by Mrs. Earl Pattison, Miss Marie Craig and Miss Mary Bradbury.

Mrs. James Tracy Hale and Miss Elizabeth Baker of St. Paul were the out-of-town guests.

The bride wore a sand-colored gabardine traveling costume with a purple hat. Mr. and Mrs. Liscomb left for a trip to the coast, and will be at home at 120 South Fourteenth avenue east, after June 1.

When You're Just Four Years Old What Can You Do But Run Away?

When you're 4 years old and the boy across the street has new shoes and it's spring, what is there to do but run away? Nothing.

Such was the decision of Master William Elston, little son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred C. Elston of 1114 East Second street.

The little boy across the street has passed about the same length of time on earth that William has. He is Tommy Rhodes and Tommy's father and mother are Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Rhodes.

He had new shoes and the spirit of adventure yesterday. William had a nickel and a burning desire to travel and see the world. Express wagons are rather tame playthings anyway. There is a limit to the possibilities of an express wagon, William decided. First he drew Tommy and then Tommy drew him. Then they each put a foot in the wagon and pushed with the other one. What was there left to do?

The express wagon was abandoned at 9:05 yesterday morning. At about 9:08 William's mother and Tommy's mother discovered the desertion of the wagon. At 9:11 telephones began ringing in the offices of William's father and Tommy's father. At 9:12 the police were "notified." Police are always "notified" when anything happens—never just told.

Meanwhile William was trying to decide how to spend his nickel. He hesitated between an automobile and a train, but compromised on some candy that made up in lasting qualities what it lacked in real merit. It was thoroughly satisfying candy, sticky, sweet, and with high coloring.

While parents and police searched the highways and alleys, William and Tommy continued their way unperturbed. The noise of the trains attracted them. Lake avenue looked like a nice street to run away on and William chose it. They lingered to watch the engines, and then decided to take in other methods of transportation, and visit the ship canal. The ride on the aerial bridge was a big adventure. Down on Park Point some children had a new game of hop-skoten that held interest for considerable time.

By 5 o'clock William had decided that running away was not so much fun after all, and Tommy was on the verge of tears. William decided it was time to go home. And that was the big problem. Then a woman stopped them and began to ask a lot of questions. She gave them a big bowl of bread and milk. The big adventure was over, but William and Tommy are going back to visit that woman again. She lives away down near Thirty-fifth street, but she has a good milkman.

How to Stop Growing Bald

WILLIAM BRADY M.D.

Is there any such thing as a "hair tonic" or a scalp tonic? If so, the young man who is just beginning to grow bald will be eager to try it.

It is just as logical to think that medicinal applications rubbed into the ends of the fingers will make the nails grow faster as it is to believe that any alleged "hair tonic" rubbed into the scalp will cause a better growth of hair.

Why do men grow bald? That is a question upon which theorists have speculated wonderfully for hundreds of years, but men continue to grow bald about as fast as ever. There is just one elementary fact which can be accepted by all, namely, that failure of nutrition of the hair follicle is the cause of the hair dropping out or ceasing to grow. Our own personal theory is that men's headgear tends to interfere with scalp nutrition by pressure upon the arteries, and at the same time prevents the natural preservative action of air and sunlight.

But anyway, nutrition of the hair follicle is deficient. Can it be improved by artificial means? Yes, beyond the shadow of doubt. Massage of the scalp is the sure remedy. Massage must be done by the individual himself—and it is excellent exercise, too.

It must be done at least once a day, better two or three times a day, for about five minutes at a time. And it is most readily performed in the following manner:

Grasp the scalp with the open hand and, with firm pressure, endeavor to gather up a handful of scalp in a bunch. First one hand, for a few grabs, then the other, alternately, for it is really hard work. Keep it up, going systematically over the entire scalp, until the skin is in a warm glow. Do it vigorously. Don't be afraid to put muscle into the work.

A scalp massage, self-administered, is only a fair recompense for the injury done the scalp by unnecessary wearing of hats. Hats, for men, are unnecessary about nine-tenths of the time, mere vain adornment and nothing more.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

Can Flesh Be Boiled Away?

Is there any ill effect to be anticipated in taking cabinet baths or Turkish baths three times a week to reduce flesh?

Answer—That would depend upon the individual's heart. But it is a mighty poor way to reduce. If you have no other reason for such baths, better not experiment with them. The way to reduce weight is by diet and exercise—both remedies to be supervised by a doctor who is fully informed about your physical condition.

Pruritis From Bathing.

I suffer from irritation and itching of the skin for some time after my morning bath. If I omit the bath for a day or two I have no trouble. I wear light silk underwear. Is it the hardness of the water? I know several others who suffer in the same way.

Answer—Frequent bathing in cool weather, especially if the water is very hard, is likely to cause such irritation or pruritis. It is well to add a handful of soda to the water used for rinsing. This skin cream may be applied:

Lanolin	2 drams
Boroglyceride	1 dram
Cold cream (made with white vaseline)	6 drams
Menthol	10 grains

Theater Gossip.

"Omar, the Tentmaker," the sumptuous Persian spectacle in which Guy Bates Post is starred, will return to the Lyceum theater for three days commencing Thursday evening, April 27. Those persons who have witnessed the play several times aver that each visit unfolds for them new delights and subtle phases previously overlooked.

GUY BATES POST IN "OMAR, THE TENTMAKER."

Unquestionably the Rubaiyat of Omar Khayyam is one of the most popular heritages in the literary world, but merely the fact that "Omar, the Tentmaker" is based upon the life, times and Rubaiyat would not in itself account for the immense vogue of the play. Much credit must go to Mr. Tully, who not only has maintained a high literary flavor throughout his work, but who has been able to infuse in it elements of humanity and universality understandable and appreciated by every sort and condition of play-goer.

Mr. Post's impersonation of the lovable and eccentric poet is widely recognized as a fine piece of work, his artistry being particularly marked in the complete plausibility of his Omar, whether the youthful lover at the start of the play, the middle-aged poet later on, or the elderly philosopher at the end.

Scenically "Omar, the Tentmaker" is unsurpassed for lavish stage adornment, while the elaborate incidental music, composed of Anita Baldwin is a pleasing feature of the performance.

"Nobody Home" will close its engagement at the Lyceum this evening, after a run of four nights and two matinees. It is a musical farce in which dancing and comedy are the chief ingredients. The work of Percival Knight has created much favorable comment in Duluth.

The photoplay that has interested New York, Chicago and Los Angeles is the new picturization of Rex Beach's famous story, "The Spoilers," presented at the Orpheum-Strand all this week.

FARNUM AND "THE SPOILERS" POPULAR AT ORPHEUM-STRAND.

In a measure what "The Old Homestead," "Way Down East," and "Uncle Tom's Cabin" are to the American stage, so is "The Spoilers" to the American motion picture screen. It unquestionably is a thrilling story.

"The Spoilers" is in twelve reels and contains 12,000 feet of red-blooded action. This de luxe issue never has been presented in this city before and large crowds are expected all week. "The Spoilers" is said to be one of the most popular film dramas of American life ever released. The all-star cast includes such favorites as William Farnum, Kathlyn Williams, Thomas Santschi, Bessie Eyton, Frank Clark and others. More than 400 persons were used in making the picture, which was produced at an enormous cost.

The beautiful vampire dancer, Princess Ka, and the other acts on the present bill at the popular New Grand close their engagement with today's performances, as also does the excellent photoplay program which includes the second adventure of "The Social Pirates," an excellent three-reel subject featuring Richard C. Travers, and entitled "The Light Bearer," and two comedies.

POPULAR SHOW AT GRAND COMES TO CLOSE.

Tomorrow the new bill opens for the week-end. It is full of excellent features and is toplined by Gallagher and Carlin in a nautical travesty, "Before the Mast." F. J. Moore, "The Gabby Trickster"; Maley and Woods, offering a variety of songs and dances, and the Flying Mayos, aerialists, make up the remainder of the vaudeville program.

"The Man Who Called After Dark," a two-reel story, featuring Jack Mulhall and Vera Sisson, heads the film dramas. One of the Sis Hopkins comedies, "The Fickle Fiddler's Finish," the Selig-Tribune News and a cartoon comedy, make up the remainder of the program.

When theater-goers tire of American plays they welcome one laid in a foreign land, and Paramount producers often turn out some of their best work in such motion pictures, as for instance "The Sowers," being seen today and tomorrow at the Lyric. There is a very good reason why the standard of excellence is reached in the staging and acting of a play like this, which is laid in Russia. Directors, producers, playwright and actors probably give more study to realism in a foreign play than they find necessary in one laid in America—their own country.

BLANCHE SWEET IN FOREIGN PLAY AT THE LYRIC.

Blanche Sweet, a Duluth favorite, has given to her part in "The Sowers," what a great many critics have pronounced her best work.

There is a plot, having to do with the struggle of the proletariat in Russia, for freedom—in which important papers having to do with the revolutionists' plans, secretly hidden, play an important part. The play is clean, but exciting and full of realism and has a good love story.

In addition to this picture, Burton Holmes takes his audience to San Francisco and furnishes a most enjoyable half hour of "going some" in the exposition city.

In addition to the two grand opera singers at the Zelda theater, "The Hero of Submarine D-2," written by Cyrus Townsend Brady and picturized by Jasper Ewing Brady, two brothers, will be shown at the Zelda for three days beginning this afternoon.

SUBMARINE FILM PLAY AT ZELDA.

Dr. Brady was graduated in 1883 from the naval academy at Annapolis and resigned to take up civil life, but later served as chaplain of the First Pennsylvania volunteers in the war with Spain. Col. Brady enlisted in the United States Military corps and after serving eight months was discharged by order of the secretary of the navy at the request of Senator Ingalls of Kansas. He joined the army as a private and served in Company D of the United States infantry under his uncle, Col. G. K. Brady. He passed a competitors' examination for second lieutenant and rose to the rank of captain in the Spanish-American war. He then served as lieutenant colonel of the Twenty-third New York regiment until his health broke and he went to California.

That these two brothers should have entered different branches of the service and reach such high places in the motion picture industry and work together on the same big picture is considered a remarkable coincidence.

"The Hero of Submarine D-2" is a navy thriller with a love story that makes the picture valuable not only from a dramatic standpoint but from an educational one, showing as it does the true condition of the United States navy at the present time.

In Meena Bauer's telescope bag, which the "little Dutch girl" takes with her to the luxurious home of her city relatives when she goes to make her home with them, is a fortune which she never tells her fashionable kinfolk—who scorn her—anything about. This is one of the odd turns in "Little Meena's Romance," appearing today and tomorrow at the Rex Beautiful, with Dorothy Gish as Meena.

DOROTHY GISH IN QUAINT ROLE AT THE REX.

Of course, the character Meena is well done. So with the prince—a real prince—who becomes Meena's lover when he is selling patent clothes wringers, his real title for the time being obscured. Owen Moore is the prince.

There are an even dozen strong characters, all handled by capable actors. There is plenty of comedy, as well as the pathos in this play, and to round out the program a roaring Keystone comedy goes on the screen for the two days.

TODAY IN HISTORY.

Johnston surrendered to Sherman, 1865.

Joseph Eggleston Johnson, C. S. A., one of the greatest generals of the Civil war, was sent at Lee's request on the forlorn errand of driving back Sherman, who was "marching from Atlanta to the sea." Johnston was hopelessly outnumbered, and after being defeated several times, and having heard of Lee's surrender at Appomattox April 9, he surrendered to Sherman at Durham's Station, North Carolina, April 26, 1865.

READING (available in Duluth public library)—General W. T. Sherman, "Memoirs;" R. M. Hughes, "General Johnston" (pleasantly written, with bias toward Confederate side nowhere shown in exaggerated or offensive form); General J. E. Johnston, "Narrative of Military Operations" an earnest, almost passionate, defense of himself before the Southern people).

GERMAN CONCESSIONS.

Word comes from Germany that the German government is prepared to make concessions in the submarine controversy, being very anxious to avert a break with the United States.

The agreement to conduct the submarine campaign in accordance with international law, which was made some time ago, would be sufficient, perhaps—if Germany would simply abide by it, which it has not done.

It is not difficult to understand the position of the German government. It does not wish a break with the United States. A break with the greatest neutral would have a tremendously adverse moral effect. Even if it did not mean war, it would mean a stiffening of neutral resentment of German methods. It would hearten the Entente allies, and dishearten the Teutonic allies.

And if it led—as it very easily might—to actual war, the result would be far more serious than the unthinking realize. It is not that this country has either men or ships to launch into the fight against Germany; but that it has money. Long ago Lloyd George said that the last hundred million pounds would win the war. All the nations of Europe are close to the ragged edge financially. The problem of financing the war grows more difficult every day. The United States has an available surplus of several billions. Throw that into the balance, and Germany's cause is indeed hopeless.

So it is easy to see why the far-seeing German government wishes to avoid a break with this country. Moreover, those interested in the German vessels interned in this country are doubtless moving heaven and earth to avert a crisis that would inevitably mean the confiscation of this great property by the United States.

On the other hand, there is a widespread feeling in Germany that the submarine is Germany's most effective weapon. If a complete starvation blockade of England could be managed, they feel that it would quickly end the war to Germany's advantage. But such a blockade could succeed only if the submarine and its torpedoes were used ruthlessly against every vessel approaching British shores, no matter who owned it nor what the circumstances.

There is a powerful party in Germany, therefore, which demands that the submarine be used without mercy, without scruple and with utter disregard to everything in heaven or on earth except the desire to win.

The German government is between these two fires, and its position is not easy. Indeed, it is perhaps desperately difficult. If it heeds the submarine party, it means a break with the United States and, most probably, throwing the enormous physical, moral and financial weight of this country into the scale of war against Germany. On the other hand, if it concedes too much, there may be real danger in the disaffection of the submarine party.

Whether, in these circumstances, Germany will concede enough to make the continuance of friendly relations possible, cannot be determined until it is known precisely what Germany proposes to concede. The concession must be very substantial indeed. This country can no longer palaver and accept quibbles and false promises. Yet it cannot possibly take any other course than to treat Germany's offers seriously and accept them if it is possible. The American government cannot afford to give heed to the criticisms and jeers of partisans seeking to wrest party advantage out of an international crisis, and it will not heed them. This country wishes a break with Germany no more than Germany wishes a break with it. A severance of diplomatic relations, possibly a step toward war, will come only if honor and self-respect demand it. The nation as a whole will warmly support a settlement that preserves neutral and American rights and American self-respect.

If it must be enmity, the country will support that too, knowing that it had to be. If it can be friendship, the country will be glad. Whether it is enmity or friendship is entirely in the hands of Germany, and depends on how broad are the concessions it is prepared to offer.

That new visit of German cruisers to the British coast reminds us once more of that question as to the whereaboutsness of the English navy.

BRYAN'S DEFEAT.

Completer returns leave no doubt that Mr. Bryan was defeated as a candidate for delegate-at-large from Nebraska to the Democratic national convention. There was at no time any doubt that his brother had been defeated for the nomination for governor on a prohibition platform, or that the man he opposed for the senatorial nomination had been overwhelmingly victorious.

We are not glad of all this. We are sincerely sorry. We do not celebrate, but deplore, this unhappy outcome of Mr. Bryan's recent activities. We believe Mr. Bryan made a mistake in resigning from the president's cabinet at a critical moment, for his action gave Europe a misleading impression of a division in American counsels, and so stiffened and encouraged the disposition to defy American demands. We believe Mr. Bryan made a mistake in urging an embargo on munitions of war—which he had said in a state paper would be a deliberately unneutral act. We believe Mr. Bryan made a mistake in advising congress to sacrifice national, neutral and human rights by warning Americans off the high seas.

But Mr. Bryan's mistakes, we are glad to admit, are the mistakes of his virtues. They are none the less mistakes, and grave mistakes; but they are not discreditable mistakes, as they would be if selfishness or greed or political intrigue had inspired them. We can freely aquit him of all but good intentions.

And Mr. Bryan, as a spokesman and agitator for human freedom and democracy and world peace, has been and still will be a powerful factor for good. Nor must we forget that at Baltimore four years ago he labored powerfully and effectively for the good of the nation and of humanity. All our appreciation of his later mistakes must not blind us to that.

So we are not glad, but sorry, because of the rebuke of defeat his home state has administered to him. The rebuke is not so much to him as to the mistaken excesses of his very real and very tangible virtues. Even those who believe that the rebuke was merited will feel no jubilation that it had to fall upon a man to whom, despite all his errors, his country owes much.

There is a growing conviction that there is a vast difference in meaning between the words manly and Mannly.

RIGHT YOU ARE, SIR!

"Duluth, the summer city," is the boast of The Herald. We can do better than that—Duluth, the all-year-'round city, and a crackerjack at that.—St. Cloud Journal-Press.

The amendment is accepted, sir, and thank you, Alvah Eastman!

Resisting the impulse to ululate and panegyrize on the text thus kindly furnished, we shall merely admit the incontestable truth of it and express regret that Editor Eastman isn't running for something so Duluth could testify its appreciation.

But it isn't every state that gets a chance to beat two Bryans in one day.

WHAT'S THIS?

Oyster Bay, New York.—Reports that Col. Theodore Roosevelt might support ex-Senator Elihu Root if Mr. Root obtained the Republican nomination for president were declared without foundation in a statement made today by Judge Albert D. Nortoni of the Missouri court of appeals, after a conference with Mr. Roosevelt.—Associated Press dispatch.

What's this? Has that adamantine mind at last been changed? Has the unalterable become fluid? Has that Rooseveltian will, rock-like in its fixedness, actually given way?

A little while ago the Colonel said he would be glad to support Root for president, though he wasn't sure his friends would—though if he felt that way about his indorsement ought to be all-sufficient for his friends.

Awhile back of that, the Colonel said that Elihu Root was the greatest living American, and that he would gladly crawl on his hands and knees from the White House to the Capitol to make him president.

And now—a gentleman fresh from the sanctum sanctorum, the holy of holies, the repository of our whole stock of patriotism and statesmanship at Oyster Bay, declares himself to be in a position to deny the report that the Colonel would support Root if he were nominated! And after that luncheon, too!

But the Colonel hasn't yet changed his mind about supporting himself if he is nominated. That's one enduring thing to cling to in a shifting, distracted world, anyway.

Those who are really earnest in their preparedness advocacy are already refreshing their memories on the words to "Just as the Sun Went Down."

He'll Get Over That.

Birmingham Age-Herald: "I saw you out in your new car yesterday."

"Did I look like a motorist?"

"Well, no. You had an air of responsibility that gave you away, but that will disappear in time."

Coinage.

Judge: Cynthia—"It takes a brave man, Jack, to deliberately face death to get a cross."

Jack—"Oh, yes! but it takes a braver man to deliberately face a woman and get the double cross!"

A Contemptible Attitude

Editorial in the New York Evening Post.

From what craven mouth, from what fanatic of pacifism, from what enemy of national security, comes the following test:

> The country cannot now be expected willingly to enter the world war to enforce the comparatively trivial rights asserted by the administration on behalf of Americans who wish to travel or find employment on foreign ships.

The words are from the editorial columns of the Chicago Tribune, one of the pillars of preparedness in the West, a journal which announced that, having printed Henry Ford's peace advertisement, it had turned over the proceeds to the Navy league; a journal which simply cannot think of Hughes as a candidate because it does not know where Hughes stands in the matter of national defense.

We know that preparedness was born out of the war in Europe, that its appeal to fear is based on what Germany may do to us, that its war maps show German ships bombarding New York and German armies straddling the Susquehanna river.

Having read the lessons of the war, the Chicago Tribune joins with Mr. Hearst in demanding preparedness that shall save New York from bombardment and Pennsylvania from a Hindenburg invasion, by an American invasion of Mexico. Our rights on the Lusitania and the Sussex were trivial. It is in Mexico that our rights and our national honor have been violated.

Have German torpedoes destroyed American lives?

Let us firmly demand reparation from Carranza.

No; the Chicago Tribune, like Mr. Hearst, and unlike Mr. Wilson, is not too proud to fight. It is ready to fight Mexico at any time; a safe war, with the chances 1,000 to 1 in our favor; a profitable war, with all kinds of mineral and grazing lands to be accounted for in the treaty of peace, instead of pure abstractions and trivialities like neutral rights such as we should have to discuss with Germany.

America having been injured and flouted by a first-class power, the Tribune and Mr. Hearst and greater men than Mr. Hearst are not too proud to pick out a small boy and get even.

The same prudential considerations would impel a man whose wife's face has been slapped by a bully, as Mr. Roosevelt described it, to pick out a small and obnoxious neighbor and have it out with him.

It does not matter that American lives have been lost in Mexico because her government is too weak to enforce order, and that American lives have been lost on the sea because a strong government willed it so; in the latter case it is a triviality; in Mexico our honor has been directly affected.

Such is the psychology of men who have railed at Mr. Wilson's pusillanimity.

The Lonely Belgians

Arthur Gleason in the Century Magazine:

The Belgians are a race of children whose feelings have been hurt. The pathos of the Belgian army is like the pathos of an orphan asylum; it is unconscious.

They are very lonely, the loneliest men I have known. Back of the fighting Frenchman, you sense the gardens and fields of France, the strong, victorious national will. In a year, in two years, having made his peace with honor, he will return to a happiness richer than any that France has known in fifty years. And the Englishman carries with him to the stresses of the first line an unbroken calm which he has inherited from a thousand years of his island peace. His little moment of pain and death cannot trouble that consciousness of the eternal progress in which his people have been permitted to play a continuing part. For him the present turmoil is only a ripple on the vast sea of his racial history. Back of the Tommy is his Devonshire village, still secure. His mother and his wife are waiting for him, unmolested, as when he left them. But the Belgian, schooled in horror, faces a fuller horror yet when the guns of his friends are put on his bell towers and birthplace, held by the invaders.

"My father and mother are inside the enemy lines," said a Belgian officer to me as we were talking of the final victory. That is the ever present thought of an army of boys whose parents are living in doomed houses back of German trenches. It is louder than the near guns, the noise of the guns to come, that will tear at Bruges and level the tower of St. Nicholas. That is what the future holds for the Belgian. He is only at the beginning of his loss.

Women Who Have Achieved.

W. L. George in the Atlantic Monthly: In the attempt to indicate what the future may reserve for women it is important to consider what she has done, because she has achieved much in the face of conservation, of male egotism, of male jealousy, of poverty, of ignorance and of prejudice. These chains are weaker today, and the good will that shall not die will break them yet; but many women, a few of whose names follow, gave while enslaved an idea of woman's quality. Examine indeed this short list:

Music and Drama—Rachel, Siddons, Ellen Terry, Sarah Bernhardt, Teresa Carreno, Sadayacco.

Literature—George Eliot, Jane Austen, the Brontes, Mme. de Stael, Mme. de Sevigne, Christina Rosetti, Elizabeth Browning. More recent, Mrs. Alice Meynell, Miss May Sinclair, "Lucas Malet," Mrs. Edith Wharton, "Vernon Lee."

Social Service and Politics—Mrs. Charlotte Perkins Gilman, Miss Jane Addams, Mme. Montessori, Mrs. Fawcett, Mrs. Enniss Richmond, Mrs. Beecher Stowe, Florence Nightingale, Mrs. Havelock Ellis, Mrs. Sidney Webb, Miss Clementina Black, Josephine Butler, Mrs. Pankhurst, Elizabeth Fry. Observe the curious case of Mrs. Hetty Green, financier.

Rippling Rhymes

By Walt Mason

Excitement.

One man gets all fussed up and rattled, when, from old Europe's smoking shore, dispatches tell how hosts embattled have shed a new supply of gore. Another by the spring campaigning is exercised, his withers wrung; he bores us all by his explaining of Vital Themes, with tireless tongue. A third has bought a brand new motor, and plans excursions near and far; he cares not for the groaning voter, nor for the echoes of the war. The time for which a fourth was wishing has come at last, and he is gay; tomorrow he will go a-fishing, and he is digging bait today. One man is locoed while he's digging — his garden means a happy time, and he is whistling while he's rigging a lattice for his beans to climb. I view such things without emotion; yet friends can hardly hold me down, for I've just heard about a lotion for dyeing whiskers black or brown.

The People and War

Theodore H. Price in Commerce and Finance.

Eight men of affairs were lunching together in New York last Friday. Two of them were Englishmen. Two were from the Middle West. Another was from the South, and the remaining three lived in New York or nearby. The host of the occasion submitted the following question to his guests in turn: "If you were president of the United States today what action would you now take in regard to Mexico and Germany?"

None of the answers suggested a course that would affirmatively imply war with Germany and only one advocated a policy toward Mexico that would inevitably bring us into conflict with the de facto government of that country. The gentleman making this one answer said that if he were president he would at once withdraw our present force from Mexico and proceed to organize an army of 1,000,000 men with which to establish orderly government in that republic, if it can still be so described.

This proposal was criticized as likely to provoke mistrust of us by the South American republics and unlikely to secure the support of congress.

The most definitely hostile course toward Germany that was suggested was that we should dismiss her ambassador, confiscate her interned ships and interdict all financial and commercial intercourse between the citizens of this country and the subjects of the kaiser. Such action, it was urged, would not result in war and would probably be followed by all the other neutrals, so creating a confederacy in ostracism that might hasten the end of the war by shaming Germany into an admission of her error.

The colloquy is reported not because the suggestions evolved are novel, but because it indicated that even the most thoughtful and patriotic Americans are not yet willing to admit the imminent contingency or necessity of war for this country.

The gathering at which the conversation occurred was not in any sense political or partisan. Most of those present were more or less sympathetic with the allies, though some were of German ancestry. If the group was fairly representative of intelligent public opinion in this country, and we believe it was, the inference must be that the sentiment of the nation is still opposed to war except as a last resort, and that the majority of the people approve of the president's patient efforts to avert it.

If it is thought that we generalize from a single and insignificant incident in reaching this conclusion we may point out Henry Ford's popularity as shown by the vote he received at the Michigan primaries and his probable selection at the Nebraska primaries as the favorite Republican candidate for the presidency from that state. Another straw which shows the way the wind blows is the slow progress made in recruiting the additional 20,000 soldiers now required to bring our present small army up to war strength. In thirty days only 3,927 men have enlisted, and in the nine days ending April 13 not more than 1,048 new recruits were secured.

We shall not discuss the political import of these facts, depressing as they are to us, in the unconcern with regard to the country's future that they disclose. The truth seems to be that the people do not want to fight and have made up their minds that we will somehow muddle through our difficulties without a war.

What Could Poor Greece Do?

Richard Harding Davis in Scribner's: Than Greece, no country is more vulnerable from an attack by sea; and if she offended the allies, their combined fleets at Malta and Lemnos could seize all her little islands and seaports. If she offended the Kaiser, he would send the Bulgarians into Eastern Thrace and take Salonika, from which only two years before Greece had dispossessed them. Her position was indeed most difficult. As the barber at the Grande Bretagne in Athens told me: "It makes me a headache."

On many a better head than his it had the same effect. King Constantine, because he believed it was best for Greece, wanted to keep his country neutral. But after Venizelos had invited the allies to make a landing place and a base for their armies at Salonika, Greece was no longer neutral. If our government invited 170,000 German troops to land at Portland, and through Maine invade Canada, our neutrality would be lost. The neutrality of Greece was lost, but Constantine would not see that. He hoped, although 170,000 fighting men are not easy to hide, that the kaiser also would not see it. It was a very forlorn hope. The allies also cherished a hope. It was that Constantine not only would look the other way while they slipped across his country, but would cast off all pretense of neutrality and join them. So, as far as was possible, they avoided giving offense. They assisted him in his pretense of neutrality. And that was what caused the situation. It was worthy of a comic opera. Before the return of the allied troops to Salonika there were on the neutral soil of Greece, divided between Salonika and the front in Serbia, 110,000 French soldiers and 60,000 British. Of these, 100,000 were in Salonika. The advanced British base was at Dorian and the French advanced base at Strumnitza railroad station. In both places martial law existed. But at the main base, at Salonika, both armies were under the local authority of the Greeks. They submitted to the authority of the Greeks, because they wanted to keep up the superstition that Salonika was a neutral port; when the mere fact that they were there proved she was not. It was a situation almost unparalleled in military history.

Hold Fast Your Dreams.

Hold fast your dreams!
Pain waits for you,
And care and fear are near—
They are very near!
There is death, too—
Death comes to every dream and death
Will come to you.

Within your heart
Keep one still, secret spot
Where dreams may go,
And, sheltered so,
May thrive and grow—
Where doubt and fear are not.
Oh, keep a place apart
Within your heart
For dreams to go!

Think still of lovely things that are not true.
Let wish and magic work at will in you.
Be sometimes blind to sorrow—make believe!
Forget the calm that lies
In disillusioned eyes,
Though we all know that we must die,
Yet you and I
May walk like gods and be
Even now at home in immortality.

We know so many ugly things—
Deceits and wrongs and quarrelings,
We know, alas! We know
How swiftly go
The color in the west,
The bloom upon the flower,
The bloom upon the breast
And Youth's blind hour.
Oh, keep within your heart
A place apart
Where little dreams may go,
May thrive and grow,
Hold fast your dreams!

Keeping Up With Minnesota Editors

Scattered Comments By and About Newspapers In the Gopher State.

An Unanswerable Argument.

It must be admitted that some arguments can't be answered effectively. The Waverly Star and Tribune has found that such are being used in this country today, and gives a sample, thus: "Congressman Gardner of Massachusetts does not like Hughes because of his whiskers. He gives equally good reasons for a larger navy."

They Dassent, That's Why.

Why don't the men let the women vote? They dassent—that's why, if there is anything in the suggestion made by the Bemidji Pioneer: "Perhaps the real reason why men won't let the women vote is a good one after all. It may be that they fear that the intelligence of the fair sex will be more than a match for them. At the University of Minnesota seventeen women were elected to Phi Beta Kappa and only six men—a ratio of nearly three to one. Phi Beta Kappa is the honorary scholastic fraternity. Does that mean that woman is nearly three times as intelligent as man? Let mere man explain."

Why Not?

The Wabasha Herald puts thus a thought that has doubtless occurred to a good many people in this country frequently within recent weeks: "It's too bad there isn't some clear way of bringing to justice the marplots who, for their own sordid gain, would shed American blood on the soil of a neighbor country." It might not be such a bad stunt to make 'em enlist and then send them down to take some of the medicine they've stirred up.

Figures Are Dangerous.

Figures of speech are dangerous, unless you study them pretty carefully before you spring them. For instance, the Bemidji Sentinel's attack on the primary is very neatly met by the Mokah Chief: "Do you remember those first one-lung, pump-handle, back-door, little old red automobiles? Well, they were Pullman palace cars compared with Minnesota's present election laws," said the Sentinel, to which the Chief replied: "And because those first one-lung, etc., automobiles were not the magnificent cars we have today, did we stop making autos and call the idea a failure? No; we kept on improving the crude machines until we reached the present perfection. And that's just what we're going to do with primary voting."

We're Waking Up.

The people of Minnesota, as of other states, have been asleep on some propositions a long time, but we're waking up at last. For instance, the Dawson Sentinel puts thus a sentiment that is beginning to go the rounds of the state papers: "The importance of the office of lieutenant governor is being emphasized by many of the newspapers of the state. Through his power to name committees, the lieutenant governor wields an influence over legislation greater than that of the governor. Voters should carefully consider the records and the fitness of the men aspiring to that important office."

Which Brings Us to Rural Credits.

If anybody doubted that a rural credit system is needed in this country, and needed badly, let him stop long enough to realize the existence of the conditions to which the Warroad Pioneer thus calls attention: "Our capitalists are anxious to make loans to Europe at 5 per cent, while those who develop our agriculture pay from 8 to 10 per cent. Every shot fired makes European securities less valuable, while every furrow turned makes the farm land better security. And the trouble lies in the lack of an efficiently organized rural credit system, such as they have in Denmark, Germany and other countries.

Brief Paragraphs From the Wolverine State Press.

"Look Before You Sleep."

Crystal Falls Diamond Drill: An open window is better than an open grave! Look before you sleep—for an open window.

Selling Americans Short.

Keweenaw Miner: Wonder where those jiggers are now who ridiculed everything American in the list of soldiers. They were sort of blatant in their braying against the valor, the prowess and the worth of our boys. Seems to us since that ride of Dodd and his men that those blatant wind artists have crawled into their holes and pulled the holes in after them. You can yell yourself black in the face about the superiority of the soldiery across the water, but you'll have to show us another bunch on God's footstool who can beat the record of our little bunch of fighters, and you'll have to hurry a bit to find a bunch that can equal their work, for we're from Missoury. The jigger who goes into the market and sells Americans "short" is fooling with a buzzsaw with radium for its motive power, for we're not all pacifists when there is real work to do.

Yes, Or Anybody Else.

Marquette Chronicle: When it gets so labor agitators yell "to hell with the Stars and Stripes," it is about time they were made to live under another flag.

It Was Plain, Political Dirt.

Marquette Mining Journal (Republican): The Mining Journal believes there is a disdain among the people for all attempts to make, at this juncture, out of our involved foreign relations, partisan capital. Mr. Mann struck a false note at Washington when, by innuendo, he sought to convey the idea that the president's stand in the present crisis was taken, in any measure at all, in response to promptings of British sympathies. It was a cheap and unworthy thing to do.

Walk!

Hancock Copper Journal: In these days, when spring calls to mankind to come outdoors, when the ground is still too soft for tennis, baseball and other sports which demand great activity, when winds are cool enough to be dangerous to the inactive loiterer, walking is safe, sane, wholesome exercise. Two hours of it per day is a larger order than most of us care to fill; but a brisk hike of two or three miles will often keep the doctor's automobile from the door.

Even With a Big Stick.

Grand Rapids News: You can fool some of the people all the time and all the people some of the time, but we know a certain politician who thinks you can fool all of them all the time.

Missed It a Mile.

Baraga Journal: That Americans are capable of keeping cool heads has been effectively demonstrated by the attitude of congress toward the movement which has been boomed with brass bands, cannon oratory and greased editorial utterances, intended to stampede the country in the interests of a huge military policy. Those gentlemen who had it in mind that they were going to put Uncle Sam in pawn with armament and ammunition manufacturers, and the steel interests, have missed their bet.

Sounds Fascinating.

London Times: The adjudicators of the Smithis prizes and the Rayleg prizes at Cambridge are of the opinion that the essays sent in by the following, among others, are of distinction: H. M. Garner, B. A., St. John's; two papers on orbital oscillations about the equilateral triangular configuration in the problem of Three Bodies.

Talks on Thrift

Issued by the American Bankers' Association.

How to Draw a Check.

The first thing a depositor in a bank should learn is how to draw a check, for if a check is improperly drawn it may lead to confusion and might bring a loss to the bank and annoyance to the despositor. In the first place the figures should be plainly made, so that no question can arise as to the amount. If a figure is carelessly made, so that it confuses those who handle the check, numberless hours of work may follow. For instance, if a bank receives a check for $1.88 with a poor "8," and a clerk lists it as $1.08, it may take many hours' time to find the difference, and the entire day's work may have to be gone over. The rule should be: Never make a figure that may be mistaken and never pass one that is in doubt—correct it by crossing out the bad and making a good one alongside.

Second, the words and figures should agree. The law says that if the two are different, the written words govern, but make both carefully and get them alike.

Third. Begin the writing well to the left of the writing space and fill in the unused space with a wavy line. Begin the figures well up against the $ sign and make the character 00|00 after, but close up against the figures. Use a good black ink and write firmly, so that plenty of ink gets into the fiber of the paper.

Four. Always write your name exactly as you wrote it on the bank's signature card. "Mrs. William Smith" may be the same person as "Mary V. Smith," but the bank account doesn't stand that way.

Adopt one signature and stick to it. Do not flourish, nor make a fancy signature. Handwriting experts will tell you that a plain, distinctive signature, with no furbelows, is the most difficult to forge.

The law of forgery is that the bank is bound to know your signature, and pays a forged instrument at its peril. The risk is all theirs, but that is not to say you should not help eliminate the chance of forgery by taking care that your checks are properly drawn. If you are grossly negligent, you might have to stand the loss yourself. Better be safe than sorry. There are numerous protecting devices on the market, some better than others, and these may be used as added safeguards; but there is no rule of law that compels you to do so. You are safe if you use a protecting device, for then you cannot be charged with any negligence in making your checks forgery proof. Do not make it easy to work a fraud through your account. Do not give checks to strangers. Do not leave your check book lying around. Do not leave a signed check where it may be filled in and used. Your banker will bless you if you follow the foregoing suggestions.

Just a Moment

Daily Strength and Cheer.

The Soul and Nature—Ps. cxlviii.—"Praise ye the Lord. And the Psalmist calls upon the creation to join in the anthem. And that is the gracious purpose of our God, that the world should be filled with harmonious praise. It is His will that the character of man should harmonize with the flowers of the field, that the beauty of his habits should blend with the glories of the sunrise, and that his speech and laughter should mingle with the songs of birds and with the melody of flowing streams. But man is too often a discord in creation. The flowers put him to shame. The birds make him sound harsh and jarring. He is "out of tune."

What then? "Tune my heart to sing Thy praise." We must bring the broken strings, the rusted strings, the jarring strings to the Repairer and Tuner of the soul. It is the glad ministry of His grace to reawaken silent chords to restore broken harps, to "put new songs" in our mouths. He will make us the kinsfolk of all things bright and beautiful. We shall "go forth with joy," and "all the trees of the field shall clap their hands."—From "Daily Meditation."

A Just Complaint.

Harper's Weekly: Stout, Red-Faced Lady—Do you mean to say you won't give me my money back for this book just because I have read it? You know you advertise that it is your aim to have only satisfied customers.

"Yes, madam, but what is the matter? Is the print imperfect, or anything like that?"

"No."

"Then why are you not satisfied with the novel?"

"Why, I don't like the way it ends."

Twenty Years Ago

From The Herald of this date, 1896.

The trial of the case of the state against Edwin Ball, manager of the Soudan mines of the Minnesota Iron company, in the municipal court yesterday, resulted in a dismissal on motion of the defendant. The court held that the prosecution had failed to make out a case under the statute. Capt. Ball was charged with discharging C. J. Rinn because he belonged to a labor union, but the evidence did not prove this.

Frank M. Stephenson, the baritone singer, who has made his home in Duluth about a year, will leave next month for Pittsburgh. He has been baritone of the First Presbyterian church choir.

Mulford Wade has gone to Cleveland, where he will be married on April 29 to Miss Margaret Pope, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward C. Pope. Mr. and Mrs. Wade will make their home in Duluth at 1414 East Superior street.

Mrs. August Nolte, accompanied by her brother and Mrs. Caroline Nolte, left yesterday for Davenport, Iowa, where they will reside in future.

Miss Oliver, who has been visiting for several weeks with her aunt, Mrs. A. W. Dutton, returned yesterday to her home in Saginaw, Mich.

H. M. Eshelman, who has been train dispatcher on the Duluth, Missabe & Northern road, has gone with his family to St. Paul, where he has secured another position. Miss T. Shalleen, sister of Mrs. Eshelman, who has been teaching school at Proctorknott the past past winter, went with them.

The pentathlon contest at the Y. M. C. A. is finished, and J. G. Seecamp, who has led from the first event, wins the cup and first rank by a comfortable majority. Leon Shaw took second rank at the finish, relegating Dr. Fred Richardson to third place. William Olson was fourth.

At last night's meeting of the Duluth Curling club the plan of moving in town was adopted. The Massachusetts Investment company has offered a site on Fourth street between Ninth and Tenth avenues east on an eight-year lease. It was decided to build a curling rink only, with five ices and the clubrooms. The following committees were appointed: Site, D. G. Cutler, R. A. Eva, A. H. Smith; building, E. S. Palmer, L. P. Hall, R. J. Macleod; finance, F. N. La Salle, E. N. Bradley, Thomas Gibson.

THE OPEN COURT

Readers of The Herald are invited to make free use of this column to express their ideas about the topics of general interest, but discussion of sectarian religious differences is barred. Letters must not exceed 300 words—the shorter the better. They must be written on one side of the paper only, and they must be accompanied in every case by the name and address of the writer though these need not be published. A signed letter is always more effective, however.

The Herald does not publish original verse. Contributions of this nature that are submitted for the editor's perusal must be accompanied by a stamped and addressed envelope, if their return is desired. Otherwise no manuscript will be returned.

WANTS PEOPLE TO SEE WHERE SOME MONEY WENT

To the Editor of The Herald:

Some one of these bright, sunshiny days I'd like to organize a parade of citizens—taxpayers—up around the court house. Then I'd like to head the parade, with a megaphone—a la rubberneck wagon—and call attention to the way some of the cement work around that building is going to pieces. It's just melting away, Mr. Editor—melting away as if it were made of sugar and were getting the benefit of some warm, summery rains.

Now, Mr. Editor, you and I and our neighbors helped pay for that work, and we ought to feel a personal interest in it. So why don't we go to the men responsible for it and ask some pertinent questions? If our money is being spent on such makeshift stuff as that, we ought to oust the men responsible for allowing it.

Take a look yourself, Mr. Editor—you and all your friends and enemies. And if anybody can see any excuse for that kind of work I'd like to know what the excuse is.

STILL PUZZLING OVER "SANE LOGIC'S" DEWDROP

To the Editor of The Herald:

If the wonderfully erudite logician and psychologist, whose name is "Sane Logic," were less obsessed by the profundity of his knowledge, he might be able to see more clearly some of the things that are merely superficial to us ordinary mortals.

He tells us that many cases of "mental sickness" are caused by thinking of it. After reading his two letters one is almost converted to the idea, and wonders how long "Sane Logic" was "thinking about it" before writing those letters.

Assuming for sake of argument that national preparedness makes a nation seek war: We all know that most of the larger nations of the earth, except our own, are prepared. On this hypothesis, does it not seem to any one of ordinary caution, even without using logic, psychology, theology, etymology, or even bugology, that we must of necessity prepare to keep these other nations from practicing their gentle arts of war on us? The ordinary caution, without which one should not wander beyond the walls of some institution for the care of the feeble minded, would teach one that.

The result of our war with Spain to which I referred was the raising of many people out of a benighted condition of slavery and anarchy and giving them an opportunity of becoming educated and civilized, to learn logic and psychology. We paid Spain $20,000,000 for the privilege of doing this, which Mr. "Sane Logic" calls "murder and robbery." His attitude, however, may be understood when one notes the sneering reference to "loyal Americans" in his letter.

I wish I could get that about the "dewdrop," but I've reread that paragraph until the paper is worn out.—Nobody Home. Goodnight.

STANDING BY OUR PRESIDENT.

To the Editor of The Herald:

Monday night ex-President Taft at the First Methodist church urged his hearers to stand by the president, as he is the president of the whole United States, and not of any political party solely. It is hoped that his hearers will not stand by our president in the way that Senator Clapp, the coming "guest of honor" of Culver post, G. A. R., did. C. E. HOLT.

USING UP VITALITY

The struggle for success uses up vitality in America at a greater rate than any other thing. Fighting to keep away from the poor-house we shorten the distance to the grave.

Especially in middle age, at forty or thereabouts, do we become impressed with the necessity of laying up a competence and with that feeling in time comes worry, nervous breakdown, neurasthenia. The entire system feels the result of the nervous strain. The digestion resents things that it accepted before, the heart palpitates on slight exertion, the muscles of the back ache after a day's work. Your blood is thinner and not so bright a red.

When these things occur, whether you are fourteen or forty, you need a tonic. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills suit most people's need because they are non-alcoholic and they really build up the blood and strengthen the nerves. They are useful for growing children and for men and women whose nervous energy has been overtaxed.

Your druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills or they will be sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box, six boxes $2.50 by the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y. Write today for free booklets on the blood and nerves.

IN THE LITERARY WORLD

A Geyser of Crystal-Clear Ideas.

WE. By Gerald Stanley Lee, author of "Crowds," etc. Garden City, N. Y.: Doubleday, Page & Co. $1.50 net.

How in the mischief to review a book like this! Of course, we can—and do most heartily—advise you to read it; and that's the simplest way out of it, and the best favor we can do you. But that seems not enough; and yet the book cannot be compressed into the space of a review, and if we started to quote the quotable we should come in conflict with the copyright laws, for presently we should have lugged the whole book into these columns.

Here is a forceful but gentle and whimsical dynamo of democracy, of peace, of human brotherhood, of common sense, of virile thought expressed in piquant language. It is charming, edifying, exhilarating, almost intoxicating with its heady logic.

Mr. Lee has written about peace as no other man has written about it, and he makes it contrast with the ordinary man's peace talk as an old-fashioned Fourth of July contrasts with Palm Sunday. This is how he describes his own book: "A confession of faith for the American people during and after war; a study of the art of making things happen; a recommendation of the first person plural for men and nations." Finding a great need of a war book that would cheer people up about human nature, which all the war books were treating pessimistically, he wrote one for himself—and for us. Thank you, sir! The hammer of war has at last struck the fire of common sense out of one strong soul.

Let men and nations learn to say "we" instead of always "I," and the trick of peace is turned. Only God or the whole world has the right to use force, and hereafter the nation that usurps that right shall be locked up—sent to Coventry—taught by isolation to beg for the chance to say "we" instead of "I." "And the only right the whole world has to use force is to use force to keep force from being used by anybody except by a God or by a whole world.

"But when I bring forward the idea that a nation can better defend herself by advertising, that she can attract more attention by being human and expressing it than by being frightful and expressing it, Mr. Roosevelt will remind me that Germany in the last year has received, by fighting, more notice than all nations put together in this world. But notice is all she has got. • • • A great clutter and heap of rage is all Germany has got—an overwhelming, insurmountable, undying rage of shooting and not listening. • • • Germany has been busy all the last sixteen months postponing any power she may have, or ever have, of getting the attention of other nations—600 years."

We run, we find, to quotations; yet do not hope to find the spirit of the message fully told here, even by quotations. The spirit of a message that it took an extraordinarily good writer a fat book to tell cannot be crowded into this space. More quotations:

"It is the essential nature of militarism that people shall be kept in holds where they cannot see and that they shall be ready to die when the order is shouted down to them." Bringing the people up out of such holds is one sure way to peace.

The trouble in Europe is the use of armies for expressing a people That habit clings though people should be expressed otherwise. "The war is the failure of our machines for expressing our real selves. In each nation the machine it has paid the most attention to was its army—its machine for expressing itself when it was scared. The machines for expressing the courage of the people toward other peoples, the machines for expressing love and expectation, common service and common faith in human nature were not ready. These latter machines, while infinitely more powerful and effective, had not been finished off for quick work. Without warning, a few military minded men, so scared they had to fight, fooling with nervous fingers in the trigger of the world, touch it—and the world goes off."

There is something wrong, even peace-lovers see, with many peace advocates and their peace talk. They are too dull, flat, gray. He tells what is wrong: "Most of the peace talk I hear bores me. It seems so abstract, cold, twiddling and scared about real human nature. • • • The people who have got hold of peace and who are running it as if it were some little thing of their own today, are the wrong people. They are brackish, lukewarm, gray-minded, neuter people. • • • They cannot have thought it out and they ought not to represent it. They make everybody misunderstand peace. They do not understand peace themselves. If they did derstand it they would believe in it. • • • I present peace as a better way of fighting. I present peace as fighting to a finish. I am a fighter. I fight against carbonic acid gas, against the air, the sky, the sea, darkness, clouds, the entrails of the earth, and against cold, heat, microbes; against time, space—against lies in the hearts of people. I fight against lies in people, not against the people, but the lies that have seized them. I present peace as a sublime, difficult, hazardous, beautiful glowing-up of every man's common sense. People who present a sublime, irresistible, implacable, burning energy like peace as if it were a duty or a mere virtue do not believe in peace."

"A soldier or a gun-fighter is a man who has no courage about himself—his ability to make people see things, and no courage about others—their ability to see them. So he backs down and fights."

"A great nation may be defined as a nation which has listened to a crowd talking, has listened to its own people. Then it listens to other nations."

"The same militant attitude Theodore Roosevelt has with guns, I have with ideas."

"Advertising, like any other arts and forms of life, may be said to divide off into three forms of power: motion, heat and light. If this nation can arrange to use Theodore Roosevelt as National Advertising Motor, William J. Bryan as National Advertising Heater, Warmer or Incubator, and Mr. Wilson as Light, everybody will know America."

If nations know each other—as they are, and not as superstition and fear and privilege and custom make them appear to each other—there will be no war. Nations must express themselves through advertising; and then it will have no wars and there will be no wars.

"Some Americans think with their heads. Others butt." We fear that he alludes to Roosevelt.

"When Mr. Roosevelt reads a book (as everybody knows) he takes it up in scoops, the way a Pennsylvania locomotive drinks water—breathlessly, roaringly, sixty miles an hour."

"If they all massed—5,000,000 men on one side and 5,000,000 on the other—in helmets and flashing bayonets, and stood there over against each other and twirled their thumbs, it would be more practical and more impressive than what they are doing now. • • • They would soon be doing the same with their thumbs. Then they could go on to more important things." They would learn to know each other as they are, and then there would be no war.

"The modern civilization is lunging along, spending nine-tenths of its time, its money, on one supreme effort between the nations and corporations to get along without brains."

If there is sanity enough in the world to get this book out of one man and have it read understandingly by another man, then there is not only a hope of peace, but an inevitability of peace.

A Soothing Tale.

INSTEAD OF THE THORN. By Clara Louise Burnham. Boston and New York: Houghton Mifflin company. $1.25 net.

Linda Barry is a Chicago girl brought up in luxury and having a good time. Her father is ruined and dies as a result of it under circumstances that make Linda believe that Bertram King, a young business associate of her father's, who loves her, is responsible. Linda goes all to pieces, not to put too fine a point upon it, and her conduct indicates that her indulgent father had spoiled her. She is cruel and hard and bitter. Finally she is persuaded to go to New England for a rest, and there she comes under the influence of a calm, comforting figure with a gentle philosophy of peace and love and polse—not difficult to recognize for "Christian Science," especially with those who are used to this element in Mrs. Burnham's stories. Yet the touch is always delicate, and is never made in a proselyting frenzy. The tale is cheerful, optimistic, with an impulse toward the happier side of things that is there if one looks for it in most cases. There is a quaintly humorous picture of "Down East" life and "Down East" characters, too, especially Blanche Aurora, the little "help" in the Maine cottage to which Linda goes.

Virginia Hammond's Romance.

In this third volume of the series about Virginia Hammond, the bright and pleasant and pretty young American girl, she is discovered in Paris, finishing her musical studies on money that she had earned herself, a rich aunt having gone back on her promise. With her is Elizabeth Jordan, who is rich, but who insists upon living as Virginia lives. The story deals with Virginia's ups and downs, dangers and hardships, romances and experiences, and ends with her marriage—and not to a Frenchman, either. It is pleasant and lively, well told, and will interest the older girls, especially those who have followed the fortunes of the fair young heroine through the previous volumes, though this is a story in itself and quite distinct.

SHIP SEARCH IS DEFENDED

British Note to United States Declares Practices Legally Sound.

Willing to Do All Possible to Minimize Delays and Seizures.

Washington, April 26.—The latest British note in answer to the American protests against allied interference with neutral trade, made public last night at the state department, contends that the practices complained of are "juridically sound and valid," and that the relief which neutrals seek is rather to be obtained by the mitigation of necessary hardships than by "abrupt changes either in the theory or application of a policy based upon admitted principles of international law carefully adjusted to the altered conditions of modern warfare."

It discloses that "an impartial and influential commission" has been appointed to find ways to minimize delays and pledges the allies to make their restraints on trade as little burdensome to neutrals as possible.

The note in which the French government concurs reiterates the military necessity of regulating commerce to neutrals contiguous to Germany and justifies the effectiveness of the blockade which was challenged by the last American note.

More Correspondence Expected.

More diplomatic correspondence over the issue is expected to follow.

The unanimity of sentiment among the world's neutrals for the protection of neutral rights is recognized in the British note, which refers to the subject in terms embracing not the rights of trade alone. It says in conclusion:

"His majesty's government have noted with sincere satisfaction the intimation contained in the concluding passages of the United States' note, of the intention of the United States to undertake the task of championing the integrity of neutral rights.

"The first act of this war was the unprovoked invasion by the enemy of neutral territory—that of Belgium—which he was solemnly pledged by treaty to protect. • • • The disregard of neutral rights has since been extended to naval warfare by the wanton destruction of neutral merchant ships on the high seas regardless of the lives of those on board. • • • His majesty's government would welcome any combination of neutral nations under the lead of the United States which would exert an effective influence to prevent the violation of neutral rights, and they cannot believe that they or their allies have much to fear from any combination for the protection of those rights which takes an impartial and comprehensive view of the conduct of this war and judges it by a reasonable interpretation of the generally accepted provisions of international law and by the rules of humanity that have hitherto been approved by the civilized world."

American Complaint.

At the outset the note suggests that the American complaint is not so much that shipments intercepted really were intended for use in the European neutral countries to which they were dispatched, as that the dispatch of goods to Great Britain's enemies had been frustrated by methods not hitherto employed by belligerents. "It would seem," says the note, "to be a fair reply to such a contention that new devices for dispatching goods to the enemy must be met by new methods of applying the fundamental and acknowledged principles of the right to intercept such trade."

At some length the note argues the impossibility of making searches at sea, for various reasons among which are weather, the size of modern steamships, and the manner in which contraband has been concealed. A report from Admiral Sir John Jellicoe, commander of the grand fleet, based upon his experiences of eighteen months, is included. After summing up the circumstances which it is contended work for less hardship upon trade by sending ships to port for search instead of searching them at sea, besides the added danger of submarine attack while search is in progress, Admiral Jellicoe's report concludes by saying:

"The difference between the British and the German procedure is that we have acted in the way which causes the least discomfort to neutrals. Instead of sinking neutral ships engaged in trade with the enemy, as the Germans have done in so many cases, in direct contravention of their own prize regulations, • • • we examine them, giving as little inconvenience as modern naval conditions will allow, sending them into port only where this becomes necessary."

WIDOW GETS PETRE ESTATE

Decision of Probate Court Will Probably Be Appealed.

Brother Makes Settlement and Does Not Contest Last Will.

Relatives of the late Cuthbert J. Petre, "remittance man" and a familiar figure on the streets of Duluth and Superior for many years, appeared in probate court yesterday to fight for the $15,000 estate which he left.

Petre died on Jan. 26, 1916. After his death his widow, Emma Shumaker Hoolihan Petre, filed a will under date of Oct. 28, 1914. Then Gevenith Jean Rogers Cunningham, daughter of the late Mrs. Florence Rogers Petre, his former wife, came in with a prior will, bearing the date Oct. 23, 1909. The stepdaughter asked that the later will be disregarded by the court and that the first one be admitted in its stead on the ground that at the time of his second marriage Petre was under guardianship and lacked capacity to either exercise the right of a marriage contract or to make a will.

Reginald W. Petre of Baltimore, a brother, objected to both wills and in papers filed last month with the court sought appointment as administrator of the estate as if Petre had died leaving no will. His position was that his brother, Cuthbert, had been adjudged an incompetent and had been placed under guardianship before he had married the first time and that he lacked testamentary capacity when he made both wills.

Settles With Widow.

But when the matter came on for a hearing before Judge Gilpin yesterday it appeared that the three-cornered fight had developed into a contest between the widow and the brother on one side and the stepdaughter on the other. Homer C. Fulton, who appeared as attorney for Reginald Petre, told the court that his client did not admit the rights of either the widow or stepdaughter to the estate, but that no contest would be made against the latest will. It is understood that a settlement has been agreed upon between the brother in Baltimore, representing the natural heirs in this country and England, and the widow, Mrs. Emma Petre, 25 Second avenue west.

Decides for Widow.

Judge Gilpin decided the case in favor of the widow, who was represented in court by her attorney, John Norton. The probate court's decree, however, is appealable and it is expected that the main battle will be fought out in the higher court on appeal. Donald S. Holmes of Baldwin, Baldwin & Holmes, appeared as counsel for Mrs. Cunningham, the stepdaughter, who resides at 2112 West Second street.

According to the testimony adduced by witnesses who were examined yesterday afternoon, Cuthbert Petre, during his lifetime, was a heavy drinker. He had been an inmate of an insane asylum at one time, having been placed there after an examination which disclosed that he was suffering from a mental derangement. Later he was released under guardianship. At first Prof. George L. Tyler, former Duluth music teacher, acted as guardian, and later he was succeeded by Frank I. Salter of this city.

Cuthbert's break with his brother, Douglas Petre, who died in Minneapolis in 1912, first came when he married Mrs. Florence Rogers of Superior. Douglas learned of the marriage and attempted to have it annulled, but was unsuccessful. The marriage took place in 1909, and a few months later Cuthbert made his will in which he gave all of his property to his wife who, however, died in April, 1914. Mrs. Cunningham, daughter of Mrs. Rogers, claims under her mother's heirship rights. Just before Cuthbert made his will he had received about $20,000 from England, as his share in his father's estate. Cuthbert's money was invested in Duluth real estate by his guardian.

Mrs. Cunningham declared that when Petre married her mother he was strongly addicted to the use of intoxicants and that an attempt was made to break him of the habit. "Mother use to allow him three whiskeys a day," she said. "He would have one drink with each of his meals."

The step-daughter stated that when her mother's father was alive—Petre and his wife were living with her parents in Superior—he seemed to keep himself in bounds, but that his habits grew worse as soon as her grandfather had died.

Petre's Disappearance.

Mrs. Cunningham also testified that Petre's condition mentally seemed to decline from that time on down to his disappearance in the spring of 1914. Mrs. Petre, No. 1, died in April of 1914. For a few weeks, Cuthbert continued to make his home with his wife's mother, Mrs. Shaver, and his stepdaughter and her husband, at Superior, but one day he failed to show up. Later they learned that he had remarried. He was wedded to Mrs. Emma Shumaker Hoolihan on Aug. 27, 1914, at Grand Rapids. Mrs. Cunningham stated that he returned to Superior after that date and refused to explain his absence. He spent about six weeks there, she said, and then disappeared. The next time they heard from him, he wanted his trunk sent over to Duluth. This time "Mrs. Petre" was mentioned. The stepdaughter and her grandmother refused to give it up until the matter had been placed before the guardian. It was finally released.

H. A. Shumaker, a brother of the widow, testified yesterday afternoon. He stated that she was not in the city and that he thought that she had gone to Winnipeg to look after some property interests there. Shumaker testified that he saw Petre before he married his sister and from all appearance he was in his right mind.

On his wedding day, Petre wanted to take his morning nip as usual, but his bride-to-be persuaded him to forego this part of his daily routine. Mrs. Cunningham testified with reference to the first marriage. She told of how Petre secured monthly allowances from his guardian and of how her mother used to accompany him to the guardian's office to get the money. Mrs. Petre always assumed charge and doled out the money to Petre as she saw fit.

Joseph Ryan, an old-time friend of Cuthbert Petre, defended the memory yesterday afternoon when he testified as to Cuthbert's habits. Ryan admitted that Cuthbert took a drink now and then, but declared that he was not the kind of a man to get intoxicated.

"Well, when do you call a man drunk?" inquired Attorney Holmes.

"When he begins to tell you he is sober," was Ryan's retort.

Mrs. Petre, No. 2, the second wife, who is claiming, under the latest will, was divorced from Alfonse Hoolihan on Sept. 10, 1910.

New Mexico Delegates Uninstructed.

Albuquerque, N. Mex., April 26.—New Mexico's delegation elected at the state convention here last night will go to the national Republican convention uninstructed. Politicians declared, however, that five of the six delegates were for Theodore Roosevelt. Roosevelt's name was mentioned but once at the convention, and at that time it brought out an outburst of cheering.

HIGH TRIBUTE TO FRANKLIN E. SEARLE

Former Duluthian Writes of His Fine Character and Ability.

A high tribute to the ability and character of Franklin E. Searle, who died at his New York home last Saturday, is given by Jane W. Guthrie, formerly of this city, but now of New York. In a letter to The Herald she gives the following eulogy:

"Franklin E. Searle, who died early Saturday morning at his residence, 445 Riverside drive, New York city, from injuries received in an elevator accident, was formerly a citizen of Duluth, identified with the city's interests in one of its most vital periods—from 1894 to 1901. He left Duluth to join the legal staff of the Northern Pacific railroad at New York and received immediate recognition as a man of unusual ability in his profession.

"A student and observer, a keen judge of human nature, Mr. Searle possessed a most winning personality and that rarest of all gifts—tact, to a unusual degree. All qualities which combined with force of character, as in Mr. Searle's case, make for leadership among men. A lover of outdoor life, Mr. Searle was a member of a country club, where he found his diversion in golf, and yet he kept in close touch with all that New York offers in art, music and letters. He was a member of the Lawyers' club, and the Republican club. In the very prime of life, of constantly growing mental breadth and vision, those who have known him as a man of distinction, whose abilities have found wide recognition, sincerely grieve over his untimely death. Mr. Searle left a widow and two daughters."

President Ladd Better.

Fargo, N. D., April 26.—President E. F. Ladd of the North Dakota agricultural college, who suffered two sinking spells Monday, probably due to overwork, is resting well, though his condition is not entirely satisfactory. He has been under heavy strain of work for many months.

KNIGHTS TEMPLARS ARE AT GRAND FORKS

Grand Forks, N. D., April 26.—The grand commandery of the Knights Templars of North Dakota met here yesterday and will conclude its session today.

About seventy-five members of the grand commandery are in attendance, some of the prominent Masons in the city being Harry Lord of Cando, Clark E. Kelley and Allan V. Haig and Andrew Slade, Devils Lake; Walter A. Williamson and J. W. Carroll, Lisbon; Frank H. Sprague and John H. Fraine, Grafton; S. J. Hill and W. L. Stockwell, Fargo; Ex-Governor Frank White of Valley City.

Most Eminent Sir Francis E. White, past grand commander and grand recorder of Nebraska, was officially received as the representative of the grand commandery of the grand encampment of the United States.

In his address he referred to the singular fact that his name is so nearly the same as the present grand commander of the state of North Dakota, Ex-Governor Frank White.

Pimples Sores and Ulcers are the outward sign of Disease Laden Blood

Diseases of the skin are entirely caused by poisons in the blood. You cannot cure a skin disease until the poisons and impurities in the blood are removed.

The use of salves, ointments and other local applications on pimples, ulcers, boils, abscesses and other skin eruptions, may give a little temporary relief, but the poison that causes them is still in your system and will break out on the surface again.

You must go to the root of the trouble and remove the cause—impurities and poisons in the blood.

The artificial lives we lead are conducive to bad blood. The system is unable to throw off the impurities and poisons that accumulate. The presence of this underlying trouble is proved by the sores that break out in the skin and which cannot be permanently cured by local applications.

S.S.S. is a remedy that acts through the blood entirely. It removes the poisons and impurities that cause the skin troubles. The healthy blood then nourishes the flesh tissues and cures the diseased spots.

S.S.S. has been curing ulcers, sores, pimples and other skin troubles for half a century. It contains no harmful drug. It is purely vegetable, being a scientific extract of certain native roots and herbs.

Should your trouble be particularly malignant, write to our Medical Department for advice.

S.S.S. is on sale by all druggists in the United States. Get a bottle today and start on the road to skin health. Accept no substitute for S.S.S.

TAFT TALKS TO STUDENTS

Urges Young Folk to Be Patriotic and Respectful to Parents.

Early Training Develops Citizens Who Shape Nation, He Says.

Students of Central high school were greeted with their first address from an ex-president yesterday afternoon, when William Howard Taft, who had been spending the first two days of this week in Duluth, favored the student body with a surprise appearance shortly before the close of the school day. At the conclusion of the sixth period the students were unexpectedly called to the assembly hall where the ex-president addressed them.

Mr. Taft presented a double theme in his short address, one carrying the appeal for less conceit and more self-sacrifice, modesty, and respect and consideration for others on the part of the younger generation, and the other impressing the love of country that should prevail in the heart of every young man and woman.

"We are living in an age of sensation and emotion," declared the former president, "and we should not let our own conceited notions get the better of us. The younger generation, for the most part, is enjoying greater natural advantages than fell to the lot of their parents, and they should make the best of their opportunities.

"The young men and women of today are to be the business men and women of influence of tomorrow, and it is necessary for this reason that their training be such as will enable them to properly take their places in the world. The former kindergarten idea that the student should pursue the line of least resistance is far wrong, and he should be forced to understand the subjects that he does not grasp so that his mind will be fully and proportionally developed, just as the athlete works to develop all of his muscles so that he will not be weak in any part of his physical body.

"The pupils are far from the intellectual development that their parents have gained, and they should not haughtily consider themselves more advanced than their fathers and mothers, but should treat them with the greatest courtesy, reverence and respect.

"It is the early training that develops the citizens who shape the nation's destiny in later years. You do not need to be told that you should love and respect your country, and although some of you do not show that you realize that fact, the majority of you are loyal and patriotic. Some of you may not be able to comprehend the serious problems that are facing our country at present, but it is a matter of the utmost importance that we stand firmly behind our common-sense president and be ready to back him in any crisis that may arise."

Mr. Taft was introduced by Principal Leonard Young.

WILL OPPOSE LA FOLLETTE

date for United States senator. The conference whose agents we are, has taken a position declarative of our attitude toward national policies. It is for us to select a representative in the person of a candidate, who will present our views of the members of the Republican party.

Not Unmindful of Strife.

"In assuming the office of chairman of this meeting, I am not unmindful of years of strife and factional quarrels. I am men here who have been so much a part of the political movements that it would seem impossible for them to forget ancient differences and still we are met today—in these trying times—to do what we can to put the whole Republican party in the service of the people.

"Whatever we do here, must be done in the light of present day events. Our acts and our utterances must square with our country's needs. We are not to revive old prejudices; but, as I suggested, to prepare for submitting our case to the tribunal whose verdict must control. We intend to conduct a primary campaign, and so manage affairs that at the conclusion the result will be accepted by a united party.

"The present Democratic tariff has proved an object lesson. It has demonstrated that the consumer gets no benefit from free trade. One hundred and seventy-five millions of annual revenue has been literally thrown away, and the consumer is paying no less for everything he has to buy—such legislation cannot command public approval. It defies every maxim of national prosperity, and the demand for its revision is so widespread and so strenuous that it must be regarded as not only a dominant political issue but an imperative business issue as well.

"Our purpose requires the indorsing of a candidate for United States senator who believes in Republican doctrines, who will support Republican policies, who can present to the people our beliefs, hopes and plans; who will lay before the people fully and fairly the facts and all the facts for their consideration and deliberate judgment; and in such a way that the fullest understanding of the vital things involved, may be had; so that the best judgment of our people may dictate the policies; so that the verdict announced by the ballot in the primary may leave no one uncertain as to the attitude of the rank and file of the Republican party on national questions."

No definite decision in the premises apparently has yet been reported and one probably will not be arrived until the chancellor reports at headquarters. All the surface indications, however, point more and more to the probability that an arrangement regarding the Sussex and a modus vivendi on the submarine problem will be offered to the United States and that a sincere endeavor to reach an understanding will be made from this side, putting the decision regarding the future status of relations up to Washington.

The public and the press continue to view the situation gravely but calmly and for the greater part with a desire that a way out of the controversy may be found.

secretary for Ireland, said it was difficult to say whether any routes to Ireland were open or closed. He added that he was going there if he could make arrangements.

The following telegram was received in London today from Baron Wimberne, lord lieutenant for Ireland, dated Dublin:

"The situation is satisfactory. Stephens Green has been occupied. Eleven insurgents have been killed. The provincial news is reassuring."

Natural Result.

London, April 26.—"The revolt in Ireland is the natural result of the government's policy in Ireland," says the Daily Mail. "Augustine Birrell, chief secretary for Ireland, and Premier Asquith sat still and allowed a rebel force to be enrolled and armed. They did not move hand or foot against it. On March 17, 1,600 Irish volunteers paraded, mostly armed with rifles, and nobody stopped or challenged them.

"Mr. Birrell never asked why the volunteers existed. He knew it was not to serve against the enemy, but rather to obstruct the imperial forces. On Dec. 10 he declared 'evidence of their disloyalty is voluminous,' yet he did nothing.'

"If he had any policy other than merely drifting, it was to turn a blind eye to the disloyal movement. The government persuaded itself that the treason could be overcome by resolutely looking the other way. The government's wait-and-see policy was complicated by a hide-the-truth policy.

Publicity Needed.

"If the newspapers had been permitted to publish information in their hands Sunday night these things could not have happened. The Irish authorities would have been aroused from their sleeping sickness by the publication of news that something very exceptional was occurring. They might have taken ordinary precautions, but the press was muzzled. It is proof of the grossest negligence and obtuseness when four or five parts of a great city can be seized by comparatively a small number of armed men.

"This colonial blunder follows upon and surpasses all other blunders of the war. How much longer is the nation prepared to drift under the domination of leaders who refuse to lead?"

The Daily Express says that Augustine Birrell's strange hesitation in informing the house of commons of the Irish revolt makes it natural to imagine the situation is worse than officially reported. It is the duty of the government, says the Express, frankly to admit the truth that stern measures must be adopted against the "crass folly of the rebels."

May Rankle for Generations.

The Daily Chronicle says: "What is most dreaded now is that even the order speedily restored may be at the cost of bloodshed, which may rankle for generations. One cannot help fearing reaction against the prospects of constitutional home rule."

The Times says: "The whole miserable business is a sorry comment upon the complete failure of Mr. Birrell to maintain respect for law and order during the nine years of his weak, callous administration. Such are the fruits of truckling to sedition and making light of contempt for law."

Sir Roger Casement's invasion appears to have been the merest opera bouffe, the Times adds, the character of which will be thoroughly appreciated in Ireland. The paper suggests that the Germans had grown tired of him and his boasts and insisted that he redeem his promises.

German Calculations.

"The Germans may have calculated," continued the Times, "that the rising in Ireland would influence certain kinds of American opinion in their favor at a time when relations with the United States are critical. German societies and Irish societies in America have been working hand in glove to prejudice opinion against Great Britain. They doubtless will exert themselves now about 'Ireland's struggle for freedom.' If the cabinet tries to hush up any part of the truth or confine the intelligence reaching America to official communications doled out by themselves, the German and Irish agencies in the United States will have a free field for their malign activities; but if the government allows responsible, competent American correspondents to investigate matters freely and unfettered we are confident the Germans will find they have misunderstood real American opinion."

May Charge High Treason.

The fact that Sir Roger Casement has been brought to England to stand trial and is detained in military custody leads to the assumption that he will be tried on the charge of high treason.

This charge has been preferred less than a half a dozen times in England in the last hundred years. The last instance was during the Boer war, resulting in the conviction of Arthur Lynch in 1903. Mr. Lynch, who is now a member of the house of commons was sentenced to death, but the sentence was commuted and a year later a pardon was granted.

The Express suggests the possibility that Sir Roger, if convicted of high treason, may be beheaded, as under the existing law a person found guilty of this offense may, by crown warrant, be given the penalty of beheading instead of hanging.

MISSISSIPPI IS STILL HIGHER

railway was operating trains over this stretch this morning, but only by the light local trains, heavy trains being moved over the Milwaukee & St. Paul tracks.

Records show the highest water experienced here was in 1880, when a stage of 16 feet, 8½ inches was reached, a foot over the present stage.

Higher at La Crosse.

La Crosse, Wis., April 26.—The Mississippi river at this point rose seventenths of a foot during the night, a remarkable rise considering the wide district flooded and the vast volume of water required to advance the stage a single inch. The water at 9 o'clock this morning was at a 13.2 foot stage, more than a foot above danger point and one-tenth of a foot above the recent flood's highest point. The weather bureau issued an announcement that before night the river would be at the highest point in nineteen years.

Residence Districts Affected.

All the residence districts affected in the former flood, the railway tracks on the levee, the parks on the river front on both sides of the river, the farms in the river bottoms, the roads in the lowlands and numerous farm houses are under water. Great crews of men are at work on the railway tracks and wholesalers warned by their recent experiences, are removing their stocks from river front basements.

Capt. W. A. Thompson, head of the great Trempealeau draining project, has been working day and night with a crew of engineers and laborers, fighting off the river at the drainage tract. He said today that it had entered only the lower section, but that a rise of two feet more would put it all under water with heavy loss.

It is the hope that the rise will stop before it reaches that point.

came in a private dispatch. Advanced detachments of Col. Dodd's cavalry recently have been operating north of Satevo.

Officials of the de facto government were optimistic today in the belief that the conference of Gen. Alvaro Obregon, minister of war, and Maj.-Gen. Hugh L. Scott will result in peace on the border.

Pending the conference, the bases and lines of communication of the American army are being strengthened for any eventuality.

Pursuit of Villa Resumed.

Field Headquarters, Namiquipa, Chihuahua, April 25, via wireless to Columbus, N. Mex., April 26.—Several detachments of American troops have resumed active pursuit of Villa and are whipping the mountains north and west of Parral, where the bandit chieftain is reported to be hiding.

The advanced base, 300 miles south of the border, is now completely equipped, trainload after trainload of motor trucks having arrived here within the last ten days bringing rations, clothing and equipment.

Scott Awaits Instructions.

San Antonio, Tex., April 26.—Maj.-Gen. Hugh L. Scott, chief-of-staff of the American army, was still awaiting instructions from the war department this morning that will govern his coming conference with Gen. Alvaro Obregon, Carranza's minister of war.

He and Gen. Funston have arranged to leave for El Paso tonight on the assumption that it is there Gen. Obregon will meet them.

To Reopen Mining Plants.

El Paso, Tex., April 26.—As an indication of their confidence that serious trouble will be avoided between the United States and Mexico, three important American concerns made preparations today to reopen their plants in Northern Mexico.

The Alvarado Mining company, operating near Parral; the Compania Agricola, with a plant at La Boquilla and the National Mines & Smelter company, with headquarters at Magistral, will send forty mine operators into Mexico next Monday. These men have been given permission by the de facto government to carry guns and ammunition to protect themselves against the roving bands of bandits who still infest Chihuahua.

had not prepared any instructions to the chief-of-staff as to what he should discuss with Gen. Obregon. Secretary Lansing said no state department representative would attend the meeting of the officers. Secretary Baker suggested that the question of greater co-operation between the American and Carranza forces in policing the bandit-ridden portion of Chihuahua probably would be the main topic of discussion and the danger of clashes with civilian or irregular Mexican troops would be greatly lessened by an understanding. State department officials said no steps towards preparing a reply to Gen. Carranza's note suggesting the recall of American troops would be taken until a report from Gen. Scott was received.

Refused By Operators.

The deadlock is attributed to by the operators to the miners' demand for full recognition of the union, a closed shop and the compulsory collection by the operators of all dues and assessments of the United Mine Workers laid upon the members. The operators refused this demand, known as the "check off" on the ground that it is un-American and against the practice of every other labor organization in the country.

The other demands of the miners and the answers given by the operators follows:

A two-year agreement. Unanswered.

Twenty per cent increase in wages. Five per cent offered.

An eight-hour day. Granted provided production is not curtailed.

Simpler methods of settling grievances. Operators willing to adopt any plan to speed the work of the conciliation board.

Equitable and uniform price of supplies to miners. Operators willing to consider at any time.

"Mine run" basis of pay for piece work. Refused.

Readjustment of machine mining scales. Operators offered minimum rates of $2 to $2.85 a day.

Arrangement of detail wage scales and settlement of internal questions by districts. Refused.

To prohibit individual contracts in mining. Refused.

MILWAUKEE GIRLS HELD IN CHICAGO

Chicago, April 26.—Four girls, who, the police say, ran away from their homes in Milwaukee, are in the custody of the police here today. The girls were taken last night at the home of Nicholas Vacin, on the West side, by detectives.

The girls are Stella Mchalak, 18 years old; Irene Giskowski, Sallie Jendzak and Anna Olenieszak, the last three named each 15 years old.

Their parents have been notified of their apprehension.

COMPULSION CERTAIN UNLESS MEN ENLIST

Government Proposals, Framed By British Cabinet, Are Made Public.

London, April 26.—Premier Asquith at the secret session of parliament yesterday presented on behalf of the government proposals foreshadowing general military compulsion unless success attended "immediate efforts to obtain men required by voluntary enlistment from amongst unattested married men." The government's proposals were publicly announced today in a long statement to the press.

The government, Mr. Asquith said, will "forthwith ask parliament for compulsory power" unless at the end of four weeks ending May 27, 50,000 men have been secured by voluntary enlistment. The same course is proposed if in any one week after May 27, 16,000 men have not been secured by direct enlistment. These arrangements are to hold good until 200,000 unattested men have been obtained.

Owing to the length of time required to sift individual cases under the present system, the press statement said, recruiting to date has "fallen short of requirements which were necessary to fulfill our proper military efforts."

UNPLEDGED DELEGATES WIN IN NEW JERSEY

Trenton, N. J., April 26.—Late returns from New Jersey's presidential primary election yesterday show that the unpledged national delegates on the Republican ticket were successful over those favorable to Col. Theodore Roosevelt as a presidential nominee. The delegates on the Democratic ticket were all favorable to the renominating of President Wilson.

COPPER VEIN AT BUTTE & ZENITH CITY MINE

Butte, Mont., April 26.—In cutting a station at the Butte & Zenith City mine at a depth of 650 feet, a strong vein has been cut into which distinctly shows the presence of copper values. Assays as high as 3 per cent have been obtained. The prevailing character of the ore up to this time has been chalcopyrite, but with the new find is also discovered a fine showing of bornite, one of the staple ores of the Butte district.

The ledge was first encountered on the 450-foot level, a few feet north of the station.

ROGERS CASE ABOUT READY FOR THE JURY

New York, April 26.—Mrs. Ida Sniffen Rogers, on trial charged with the murder of her 2-year-old son John, to whom she administered poison, expects to know her fate this afternoon or tonight. The taking of evidence was virtually concluded yesterday.

Neither the defendant nor Lorlys Elton Rogers, the lawyer, who is the father of her children and who has become her husband since the alleged crime was committed, was called to the stand.

CASEMENT IS NOT TO BLAME

Duluthian Thinks English Nobleman Is Mentally Irresponsible.

That Sir Roger Casement, now under arrest in England for high treason, is not entirely responsible for his actions is the opinion of John D. Shanahan of the Duluth Board of Trade.

Mr. Shanahan and Sir Roger Casement were fellow passengers in the fall of 1913 on shipboard in a trip from Dover, England, to the Canary islands. The latter, he said, had just returned from a trip from the head waters of the Amazon river, where he had gone to investigate charges of cruelty to the natives preferred against British traders in rubber in that region, and he was going to the Canaries to recuperate after the hardships experienced by him down there. He was suffering from inflammation of the spinal cord, and reports are current that his brain was affected later by that trouble.

The Irishman impressed the passengers favorably, being courteous and agreeable in every respect, according to Mr. Shanahan. "He had for twenty years been recognized as a sort of humanity officer of the British government, having been employed in that connection in various investigations. He worked up the case of atrocities upon the natives in the Congo against King Leopold of Belgium and his report was the means of bringing it to a focus," said Mr. Shanahan today.

Punch Board Scheme Not Legal, Declares Safety Head.

A new gambling scheme has hit Duluth.

It is a safety razor that is offered and although its promoters declare it to be a perfectly legal proposition, Commissioner Silberstein, safety head, has ruled otherwise and so notified the police.

According to the plan, a gold-plated razor is sold to a druggist, cigar dealer or merchant, for $12.75. A large punchboard goes with the razor. If the druggist or merchant returns this board—full of holes—he will receive another razor, thus giving him two gold-plated razors for $12.75. The person punching the lucky number wins the razor.

"This is nothing but a punch-board scheme," said Commissioner Silberstein this morning, "and I will not permit a single one of these boards in Duluth."

CLAN WILL HEAR SONG OF ALLIES

"Keep the Home Fires Burning," the song that has replaced "Tipperary" in the trenches, will be sung by Dr. J. G. Annand tonight when Clan Stewart gives a Canadian program.

Canadian-Scots, or those of Canadian descent, are in charge of the program, and proceeds will be to swell the Benevolent fund of the clan. Purchases of tobacco and other supplies sent to the "boys" in the trenches have reduced the fund considerably.

A piano recital by Misses Ella and Cecil McKercher, twin daughters of Chief of Police McKercher, will be one of the features of the concert.

Another feature of the "Guid Scots Nicht" will be a Canadian country dance by four persons in native Highland costume. Musical numbers and recitations will complete the formal program, which will be followed by a dance.

CADDY HEAD SELECTED.

Lakeside Youth Draws Northland Country Club Prize.

Ronald C. Myron of Lakeside has been appointed caddy master of the Northland Country club and entered upon his duties today. Mr. Myron was a former caddy, who served with distinction on the local links and his appointment comes as a promotion for faithful services. He will begin right away lining up his crew of about 130 boys who will be employed on the green this coming season.

It is probable that the board of directors will meet tomorrow noon at the Kitchi Gammi club when much business of importance will be transacted.

FORMER FOOTBALL STAR IS NOW A SALESMAN

R. H. Saxton of Minneapolis, well known football player, but now a commercial traveler, is at the Spalding today. Mr. Saxton played end for the Dartmouth team in 1907, when that college defeated Harvard 22 to 0. Since then he filled the role of coach for two successive seasons at St. Thomas college, this state. He is now working for the United States Radiator & Boiler company. Mr. Saxton is a warm personal friend of Pitcher Glade, who was with Hibbing one season and who was a member of the Dartmouth baseball team.

International Opens.

Baltimore, Md., April 26.—The International league opens its baseball season today with games at Richmond and Baltimore. Montreal plays here, while Buffalo is scheduled for the opening game at Richmond. Tomorrow Newark will usher in its season with Toronto as visitor, while Rochester will play in Providence.

DULUTH POLICE AFTER WALKER

While a jury in Louisiana is debating over the fate of Charles S. Walker, alias C. Howe, alleged forger, Duluth police are arranging to have Walker brought here for trial, if he is released.

Chief R. D. McKercher wired authorities at Shreveport, La., where Walker is being held, today, and asked them to hold him for the Duluth police, if the Louisiana jury found him not guilty of the charge on which he is being tried.

Walker, according to the police, is one of the cleverest forgers in the United States, and he is wanted in various cities for passing worthless paper. He is alleged to have passed a $250 check on a local bank.

LANDS OPENED BUT NO SETTLERS APPEAR

For the first time in the history of the Duluth land office a large tract of government land was opened to settlement without a single entry. Heavy snow and rainfall and a late spring are given as the causes.

Some time ago announcement was made that large tracts of Indian lands in Northern Minnesota would be opened to settlement. At that time there was several feet of snow on most of the land and warm weather caused floods to follow, and the heavy rains of last week caused still further embarrassment to would-be settlers and kept them from looking the land over.

It was said at the land office today that when the lands became dryer and open for examination that many entries would be made. This has been the most unfavorable time in years for opening lands to settlers, land officials say.

SETTLE ELEVATOR CASE.

Fargo Trust Company Taking Steps to Protect Itself.

Fargo, N. D., April 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—The same action as was taken by the North Dakota railroad commission in recovering funds from the Consolidated Elevator company of Duluth, to retire storage tickets held by depositors of grain in elevators at Walum and Bazey, will be taken by the Northern Trust company of this city, in covering its losses.

Under the law the Consolidated Elevator company was made liable to the holders of storage tickets because grain purchased by the company from North Dakota grain growers did not belong to the company, but to farmers who stored it. A settlement was effected between the railroad commission and the Consolidated company, the settlement taking into account the bond of the Northern Trust company and other assets. The trust company stands to make a payment of nearly $10,000 and when payment is made a claim will be presented to the Consolidated company.

PRESIDENT OF OWLS HERE.

Supreme Hea dof Order to Give Lecture in Duluth.

E. Talbott of South Bend, Ind., supreme president of the Order of Owls, will deliver a lecture at the entertainment to be staged this evening by the minstrel troupe of Duluth nest at the Owls' hall, 418 West Superior street. Mr. Talbott arrived in the city this morning and is the guest today of the officers of the local lodge.

During the evening the minstrel troupe will render several vocal and instrumental numbers, while the Owls' quartet will sing a number of Southern melodies. A monologue will be given by E. J. Blanchard, a member of the local lodge. Following the entertainment there will be dancing and a luncheon.

The committee in charge of arrangements consists of John Murphy, chairman; E. J. Blanchard, Joseph Feaks and William Neville.

Two Seek Divorces.

Mary Anderson, 21, alleging desertion, filed suit in district court today against Robert Anderson, 21, whom she married in Eveleth on March 6, 1906. She claims that he left her on July 4, 1913.

Charles Rankin, 36, is suing for divorce from Lillian H. Rankin on the ground of desertion. They were married in 1907 and he alleges that she deserted him four years later.

TAGGART NOMINATED FOR U. S. SENATOR

Indianapolis, Ind., April 26.—The Democratic state convention here today worked rapidly and before noon had elected the delegates-at-large to the national convention and named the state tickets. Governor Ralston, as tempororary chairman, delivered the keynote address.

The platform praises President Wilson's stand on foreign and Mexican affairs and declared that the record of achievements of the Democratic party warrants its continuation in power, both in state and nation.

The nominations of John W. Kern for the long term in the United States senate and Representative John M. Adair for governor, made in primary, were ratified.

Senator Thomas Taggart was nominated by acclamation for the short term in the United States senate. He said last night that if the convention nominated him he would make the race.

Mayor Benjamin Rosse, Evansville; W. H. O'Brien, Lawrenceburg; Senator John W. Kern and Stephen B. Fleming, Fort Wayne, were chosen delegates-at-large.

Electrical Engineers Meet.

Washington, April 26.—The American Institute of Electrical Engineers began a three days' meeting here today with many of the leading electrical engineers of the country in attendance.

USE GOPHER FLAG AS PART OF DECORATIONS

From The Herald Washington Bureau.

Washington, April 26.—The Minnesota state flag now used in the flag collection of the postoffice department is to be used as part of the decorations at the annual Flag day celebrations.

The flag was sent here by Mrs. F. B. Kendrick of St. Paul and presented to Postmaster General Burleson today by Representative Vandyke.

HYDE IDENTIFIED AS CAROLINA MURDERER

Minneapolis, Minn., April 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—William Hyde, arrested at the request of North Carolina authorities, was identified here today by Sheriff O. M. Davenport of Buncombe county, N. C., as Thomas Jordon, who, more than two years ago, murdered Luther West in the Toluda creek church, Graham county, N. C., following a quarrel over a girl.

According to Davenport, Jordon and West were rivals for the hand of a young girl. West took the girl to church to attend a box supper and when festivities were at their height, Jordon entered, shot down West, held the crowd back with his pistol, and escaped, Davenport said. The prisoner said he would fight extradition.

NIGHT AND DAY SHIFTS WORKING AT PRISON

St. Paul, Minn., April 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—Night and day shifts are being worked at the Stillwater prison binding-twine plant and the factory is being pushed to its capacity. The night crew, the board of control said today, was added about a week ago.

Last year the prison twine plant turned out over 21,000,000 pounds of binding twine and that figure will be exceeded this year. The board announces that it now has orders enough on hand to take every pound of twine the prison can manufacture. The output this year will probably be in excess of 22,000,000 pounds.

FINK EXPECTS TO TALK FOR REST OF THE WEEK

Chicago, April 26.—Albert Fink, attorney for William Lorimer, continued his closing argument today in the trial of the former president of the La Salle Street Trust & Savings bank on charges of embezzlement and conspiracy to defraud in connection with the failure of the bank in 1914.

Attorney Fink stated in opening his argument yesterday that he expected to talk the remainder of the week. Assistant State's Attorney Hayden N. Bell will make the prosecution's closing argument.

MORE INFORMATION IN VON IGEL'S PAPERS

Washington, April 26.—Papers seized by department of justice agents from the New York office of Wolfe von Igel, secretary to Capt. Franz von Papen, withdrawn German military attache, are understood to contain, in addition to data connected with alleged German plots, material disclosing activities in this country related to the uprising in Ireland and names of Americans who had knowledge of the plans.

CALIFORNIA TO MINNESOTA

Read This Interesting Bit of News--It Is to Your Interest to Do So.

For many years we have experimented with the California cacti, and after all these costly experiments we produced a new world's wonder. I do not ask you to take my word for it, but read what others have to say about

CALIFORNIA CACTUS JUICE COMPOUND

A prominent city official of Duluth who has been taking it says that the small amount that he has taken has made him feel like a new man. Then here is a statement from a prominent Portsmouth, Ohio, contractor; Mr. George W. Lowery, living at 831 Sixth street: "I heard some of my friends recommend California Cactus Juice for stomach trouble; I gave it a trial and it cured me."

Here is the praise that a man in San Diego sings of that wonderful medicine that is being introduced in Duluth, Mr. C. A. Davis, 1520 G street: "California Cactus Juice is the real thing for stomach and kidney trouble, as I have been a sufferer for the past ten years with these afflictions I am in a position to know. It has done wonders for me."

From a noted restaurateur of La Jolla, California, Mr. J. H. Brown: "California Cactus Juice has sure put me back on my feet. It is the real enemy to nervous indigestion."

Mr. Harry Eldred, 2959 National Ave.: "I cannot speak too highly for California Cactus Juice, as it has done wonders for my wife. It is worth its weight in gold."

And so that is the way that people all over the country where we have introduced this wonderful medicine praise it, for it is the correct remedy for you to take. It is taken from old Mother Nature and given you to assist nature in her battle for health in your system. So come to the LYCEUM PHARMACY any day and talk with the Cactus Juice man, as he is there to tell you of this marvelous medicine.

"BEST OF ALL," WOMAN AVERS

Mrs. Lesler Says in Her Opinion There's No Medicine Like Tanlac.

Her Appetite Is Restored and She Now Enjoys a Night's Rest.

Many new names are being added daily to the already large list of well-known men and women of Duluth who are praising Tanlac, the Master Medicine, for the great good it has done them. Among those who recently expressed their appreciation of the beneficial results they had derived from Tanlac's use was Mrs. F. Lesler, who lives at 126 East First street, this city. She said:

"I recommend Tanlac to anyone as the best tonic and system builder I ever tried.

"I had catarrh of the throat and was in a terribly run-down condition. My system was so weakened that I was not able to do anything. Walking upstairs would bring on a fit of coughing that would leave me exhausted.

"I saw Tanlac advertised and bought a bottle of the medicine. After taking three bottles of Tanlac, my cough has disappeared and my appetite has improved. I now enjoy a good night's rest, something I hadn't been able to do for years. I recommend Tanlac to anyone as the best tonic and system builder I ever heard of. I can say that I am agreeably surprised by the results I have had from its use."

A tired, dragging feeling of the body, a sluggish mind and dull memory, depression of spirits, nervousness, stomach disorders, weak back, cold feet, headaches, constipation and susceptibility to coughs and colds are among the symptoms from which a large percentage of men and women in all cities like Duluth suffer. Tanlac was designed especially to overcome that very trouble. The best evidence that can be offered that Tanlac is fulfilling its mission is the statements of people you know who have been benefited by the new medicine.

Hundreds of persons in Duluth and vicinity have found Tanlac excellent for rebuilding systems run down by the after effects of coughs, colds, la grippe, pneumonia and the like. Tanlac is an appetizer, invigorant, combatant and tonic. It purifies the system, revitalizes the blood, heals inflamed tissues and membranes and makes you like old-fashioned folk were—strong, sturdy and well.

Tanlac, the Master Medicine, is now being especially introduced and explained to the public of Duluth at W. A. Abbett's drug stores.—Advertisement

PLAN WELCOME FOR GOVERNOR

West Duluthians Arrange All-Day Program for State Executive.

Burnquist and Other Prominent Men Will Speak at Banquet.

Final details for the entertainment of Governor J. A. A. Burnquist, who will be the guest of honor at the fourteenth annual banquet of the West Duluth Commercial club tomorrow evening, were made at a meeting of the general committee held last night at the office of W. B. Getchell, 319 North Central avenue. The governor will be met at the Union depot at 8:15 a. m. tomorrow by a delegation of members and escorted to the Duluth Commercial club, where the party will have breakfast.

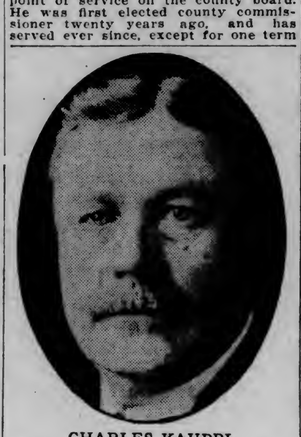
Following the breakfast at the Commercial club the party will go to the Robert E. Denfeld high school, where the governor will speak to the students of that school, as well as those of the Ely school. From there he will go to the Irving school, where he will speak to the junior high and grade pupils.

Arrangements were completed yesterday to have luncheon served at 11:45 o'clock at the cafe of the Tourist hotel, 309 North Central avenue. The entire committee will lunch with the governor at this place, following which automobiles will convey the party to the Union station for the trip to the steel plant.

The party will be the guests of W. A. McGonagle, president of the Duluth, Missabe & Northern, on this trip. The special will leave the Union depot at 1 o'clock. The party will spend about three hours in the plant visiting its various departments.

It is planned to return to the city by 5 o'clock in order that members of the party may have time to rest up for the banquet. The supper will be served by the Ladies' Aid Society of Our Savior's Norwegian Lutheran church at 6:30 o'clock sharp at the Moose hall. Plates will be laid for 350 guests. The entire upper floor of this building has been leased by the club for the occasion.

During the supper music will be furnished by Flaaten's orchestra. Rev. J. H. Lillico, pastor of the Merritt Memorial Methodist church, will give the invocation. Following an address of welcome by Emil J. Zauft, president of the club, M. M. Forbes will preside as toastmaster. The speakers will be Mayor W. I. Prince, J. M. Davidson, Warren E. Greene, Governor Burnquist and John Owens. Congressman C. B. Miller will probably not be able to attend. Recent communications received from him from Washington state that he will probably not be able to leave Washington owing to the present crisis between the United States and Germany.



The musical part of the program will include a solo by D. W. Helstand, who will be accompanied by Miss Marie Krantz; vocal solo by J. R. Batchelor and selections by the R. E. Denfeld male chorus.

KAUPPI FILES FOR RE-ELECTION

"Watch Dog" of County Treasury Would Again Be Commissioner.

Charles Kauppi, county commissioner from the Fifth district, filed for re-election this morning with County Auditor Halden and his name will go on the ballot as a candidate for the nomination at the June primaries. There are now eight candidates in the field, and there is a possibility that two or three more will enter.

Mr. Kauppi is the oldest member in point of service on the county board. He was first elected county commissioner twenty years ago, and has served ever since, except for one term of four years when the district was represented on the board by Albert Overton. He is now serving his sixteenth year.

Mr. Kauppi has been known as the "watch dog" of the county treasury, but at the same time has been prominently identified with the good roads movement. He declared this morning that he was willing to stand on his previous record for efficiency and economy.

Albert Overton, commissioner from the Fifth district for one term, will be a candidate again for the nomination. Others who have already thrown their hats in the ring are: John L. Seymour, Warren A. Pond, Joseph Becks, James A. Wilber, Andrew Myles and George A. Rakowsky.

Dinner Party for Friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Blechl, 620 North Central avenue, entertained Monday evening at a dinner party for a number of their friends at their home. Easter lilies were used in the decorations. Five hundred was played at which honors were won by Mr. and Mrs. George Gemuche and Mr. and Mrs. George Miller. The other guests were Mr. and Mrs. John Deutsch, Mr. and Mrs. James Lydon, Mr. and Mrs. William Huckhelin, Misses Anna Cormier, Beatrice Cormier, Eva Freggard, Marie Blechl, Vivian Gamache and Messrs. Roy J. Deutsch, Joseph Blechl, W. Buckheim, Victor Buckheim, Frank Blechl, Louis Blechl, Michael Blechl and George Blechl.

LODGE TO PRESENT FLAG

Winners in Yeomen Membership Contest to Be Honored.

Members of Non-excelled homestead, No. 4276, B. A. Y., will celebrate this evening the winning of a membership campaign banner, for the first three months of the year. The banner will be presented by P. F. Harouff, district manager.

Invitations have been extended to members of Duluth homestead and the three Superior homesteads. The banner is awarded every three months to the lodge having the greatest increase in members during the three months.

There will be an initiation of a class of new members, followed by cards and music.

Arthur Henricksen Dies.

Arthur Henricksen, aged 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Henricksen, 628 North Fifty-eighth avenue west, died this morning at the Duluth hospital following about a month's illness from appendicitis. The young man leaves besides his parents one brother Fred, and a sister, Matilda Henricksen. The body was taken to Bell Brothers, undertaking rooms where funeral arrangements will be made this afternoon.

Woodmen Will Entertain.

Old Hickory camp No. 1555, Modern Woodmen of America, will entertain next Wednesday evening, May 3, at a "Ladies' night" at the Great Eastern hall, 210 North Central avenue. The entertainment will include music, cards and dancing.

The committee in charge of the arrangements consists of Peter S. Wick, chairman; Nels P. Willner, Henry L. Fedi, David Harris, Roy Sanfaire, George Dunleavy and Bert Onsgaard.

West Duluth Briefs.

The Young Ladies' Sodality of St. James' Catholic church will entertain Friday evening at a card party and dance at the auditorium of the St. James' parochial school.

The Denfeld High School Alumni association will hold a business meeting this evening at the R. E. Denfeld high school. Plans will be made for social activities to be held during the next two months.

Miss May Larrive, 620 North Fifty-sixth avenue west, will entertain this evening for members of the auditing board of the Women's Catholic Foresters.

Rev. James S. Leary of the Duluth mission will speak next Sunday morning at the Asbury M. E. church, Sixtieth avenue west and Raleigh street. Rev. Hardy A. Ingham will speak at the church in the evening.

Miss Dorothy Mackay, 5722 West Eighth street, has returned from a visit to friends in the Twin Cities.

Dancing featured an entertainment provided for members of West Duluth and Pocahontas councils, Royal League, last evening at the West Duluth Commercial club rooms. The committee in charge consists of C. J. Yoho, Dr. R. S. Forbes, G. N. Winton, E. Fogelberg and A. E. Swanson.

Rev. W. H. Farrell, pastor of the Asbury Methodist church, and Mrs. Farrell, 6009 Raleigh street, left yesterday afternoon for Winfield, Kan., and Muskogee, Okla., where they will spend a month visiting relatives.

MEETS DEATH INSTANTLY

Gust Petrones Has Skull Fractured at Iron and Metal Yards.

Workmen Differ as to Manner in Which Accident Occurred.

Gust Petrones, 25, a laborer, was instantly killed while working in the yards of the Duluth Iron & Mental company, Second avenue east and Michigan street, shortly after 10 o'clock this morning.

Although several fellow workmen were near him at the time, no one knows, or will tell, how Petrones met his death, and Coroner C. F. McComb, aided by police, has started an investigation. The man's skull was fractured.

At the time of the accident a crew was unloading large sections of boiler plate from a gondola car, standing on the side track, and Petrones had just finished hooking a chain about the section to be carried to a cutting machine by a derrick.

Some of the fellow workmen say that Petrones was down beside the car, and that the plate swung, catching his head against the journal on the car, and crushing it. The car obstructed the view of the man operating the crane, a friend of Petrones.

The foreman denies this version, however, and says that it was Petrones' fault. He says the man jumped down from the side of the car to avoid being hit, and that he pitched forward, falling headfirst on the railroad track.

Petrones was unmarried and has been rooming at the New England hotel, 113-115 West First street, since last fall. Letters written in Polish, found in his room, are expected to aid authorities in locating relatives. The body was taken to Grady & Horgan's undertaking rooms.

LUZICH MAY BE REFUSED LICENSE

The second hotel license to be refused by the city council probably will be that of Mike Luzich, at 629 West First street. On Monday the commissioners denied a license to Lawrence Bennett, proprietor of the Ford hotel, 210 Lake avenue south.

Luzich was tried in municipal court yesterday afternoon and convicted of keeping an unlicensed drinking place. Chief R. D. McKercher, with detectives, raided the place Sunday and found Luzich, with a number of his friends, drinking beer and whisky.

Twice before police have raided the place, and once before he has been convicted of tilting the Sunday lid. He paid a fine of $100 for this offense.

Although hampered by the difficulty of obtaining direct evidence, police convinced Judge W. H. Smallwood that the place had an unsavory reputation, and that it had violated the Sunday closing law on various occasions.

Detectives told the court that Luzich was in the habit of transporting beer and whisky from his saloon, on Superior street between Sixth and Seventh avenues west, to his boarding house. A suitcase full of beer was found on the premises in the last raid.

"I will present this evidence to the commissioners Monday," said Chief McKercher, "so that they will have it before them when they consider Luzich's application for a hotel license."

TO BEGIN OILING STREETS.

Machines Will Be Out Next Week If Present Weather Continues.

Oiling of Duluth streets will begin next week if the present warm weather continues, according to James Lawson, superintendent of street maintenance.

Four oiling machines will be used on the streets this year, he announced this morning, two in the East end and two in the West end.

The council recently appropriated $10,000 for the oiling of streets during this summer.

MEASLES EPIDEMIC WANES.

Health Department Reports But Thirty-Nine Cases in City.

The epidemic of measles is now down to thirty-nine cases, according to the records on file at the city health office this morning.

Last week there were 109 cases under the surveillance of the health authorities, while a month ago 297 cases were reported to the department, according to Health Director Fahey.

No more trouble is expected from this disease at the present time, say health officials.

COBBLER LOSES HIS "HOME" AT WORK FARM

Gust Maki, 57, shoemaker at the county work farm, has lost his job, after all.

Maki used to tap soles and rebuild heels for a living, before he went astray, and at the work farm he was given a chance to continue in his profession.

When his first sentence expired, Supt. Fred Ward liked his work so well that he offered to let him stay, and to pay him for the work. After earning enough money to finance a celebration, Maki came to town, and in due time, landed in jail.

"Sixty days," said the judge and Maki started back to his cobbler's bench.

That was on Sept. 23, 1915. A week later he skipped. He was tired of his job, without pay.

Day before yesterday Maki was picked up by police. He had a revolver, a black jack and a flashlight in his pocket. Suspicious of his intentions, the judge sent him to the work farm for sixty days.

As soon as the bus arrived with prisoners, the work farm officials recognized the erring shoemaker, and sent him back to the city jail. When told of Maki's escape, the judge added twenty-five days to his sentence, making it eighty-five days in jail.

Hjalmar Carlson, 28, another fugitive, was given a similar sentence. Carlson went "up" to the farm March 29 for sixty days and skipped out without leave on April 24. He was captured near Twig the same night.

BRITISH STEAMSHIP FIRED ON SUBMARINE

Berlin, April 26, wireless to Sayville. —The circumstances which attended the sinking of the British steamship Goldmouth, March 31, were related today by the Overseas News agency as follows:

"It is stated authoritatively that the crew was first signaled to leave the ship. As no attention was paid to the warning signal, a shot was fired. Thereupon the steamship immediately opened fire on the German submarine.

"An engagement of half an hour followed. The steamship was hit eight times. The crew then left the Goldmouth. One of them was wounded severely.

"The captain of the Goldmouth was made prisoner because he had attacked a German war craft. The guns of the Goldmouth were served by two gunners of the British navy."

CLOQUET WATER SITUATION IMPROVES

Cloquet, Minn., April 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—The planning mill of the Cloquet Lumber company started up this morning after being idle since Wednesday on account of high water. The water is still too high for the lumber mills to operate and it is not known when they will be able to start up. Hundreds of men are idle as a result of the inactivity, and some of them have left town.

COPPER COUNTRY SLAYER SENTENCED

Houghton, Mich., April 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—Sebastian Stefano of Franklin, convicted of murder in the second degree, was sentenced Tuesday by Judge O'Brien to state's prison for from ten to twenty years, with fifteen recommended. Stefano was convicted of killing a fellow countryman during a war argument.

NEWS OF THE NORTHWEST

CO-OPERATION IN ROAD WORK

This Is Urged in Polk County By State Highway Engineer Forbes.

Alleged Polk County Bridge Combine Given Jolt By Commissioners.

Crookston, Minn., April 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—State Highway Engineer Forbes is here from St. Paul conferring with the board of county commissioners regarding the good roads program for the coming year. Mr. Forbes is strongly urging greater co-operation between counties and townships in connection with good road work, and specially to promote a greater amount of graveling and all permanent road construction under state supervision. He believes that if townships made special appropriations for graveling each year, working along well defined plans with the county commissioners and the state highway department, splendid results would show within a very short time.

Bridge Combine Gets Blow.

At a meeting of the commissioners yesterday, The Hussey Construction company dealt a body blow to an alleged bridge combine when the concern was awarded the contract for the construction of seven steel and concrete bridges to be built this season. It has been alleged that in the past a certain group of bridge building companies apportioned the work in various counties among themselves, causing considerable criticism, but this year their plans went wrong and a local concern landed all the work let thus far.

FARGO BUTCHERSHOP REGULAR BLING PIG

Proprietor Arrested, Fined $200 and Given Ninety Days.

Fargo, N. D., April 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—G. H. Knapp, a local butcher, was sentenced to ninety days in the county jail and fined $200, with an additional ten days for failure to pay the fine, after pleading guilty to bootlegging.

A raid was made upon Knapp's butcher shop by Sheriff John Ross and his deputies, and an hour later Knapp had pleaded guilty before Judge A. G. Hanson in the county court and had started to serve his sentence.

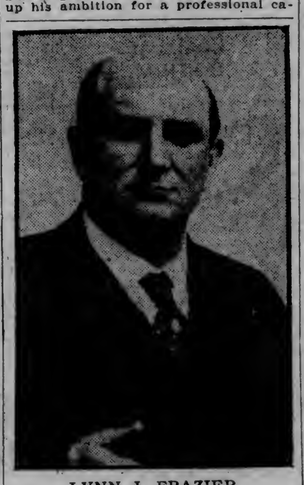
The meat market has been under the eye of the sheriff for some time, but sufficient evidence could not be secured until the raid was made, when it was found that a full cask of beer, 72 bottles, an empty cask, 4 pints of whisky and a gallon jug of whisky were taken in the raid. Knapp had just received 44 pints of whisky, but only 4 were to be found.

WOMAN AVOIDS OPERATION

Medicine Which Made Surgeon's Work Unnecessary.

Astoria, N. Y. — "For two years I was feeling ill and took all kinds of tonics. I was getting worse every day. I had chills, my head would ache, I was always tired. I could not walk straight because of the pain in my back and I had pains in my stomach. I went to a doctor and he said I must go under an operation, but I did not go. I read in the paper about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and told my husband about it. I said 'I know nothing will help me but I will try this.' I found myself improving from the very first bottle, and in two weeks time I was able to sit down and eat a hearty breakfast with my husband, which I had not done for two years. I am now in the best of health and did not have the operation." — Mrs. JOHN A. KOENIG, 502 Flushing Avenue, Astoria, N. Y.

Every one dreads the surgeon's knife and the operating table. Sometimes nothing else will do; but many times doctors say they are necessary when they are not. Letter after letter comes to the Pinkham Laboratory, telling how operations were advised and were not performed; or, if performed, did no good, but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was used and good health followed.



If you want advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential), Lynn, Mass.

FORMER GOPHER IS AFTER GOVERNORSHIP

Lynn J. Frazier Candidate on North Dakota Non-partisan Ticket.

Hoople, N. D., April 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—Lynn J. Frazier of this place, candidate of the Non-Partisan league for governor of North Dakota, was born on a farm in Rice county, Minn., on Dec. 21, 1874. His father came with his family to North Dakota in the spring of 1881 and settled on section 36, 159-54, in Pembina county, then in Dakota territory. Thomas Frazier, Lynn Frazier's father, built there a little sod house in which his family lived for several years. Lynn Frazier's present home is on the same place. It is the old homestead, practically the only home he has ever known.

After graduating from the Grafton high school and from the state normal at Mayville at 20 years of age, Mr. Frazier took up teaching, and when 23 entered the state university at Grand Forks graduating in 1901. He gave up his ambition for a professional career to take charge of the old farm on which he still lives. He married the daughter of a farmer and they have four children, twin girls and two boys.

LYNN J. FRAZIER.

Never Sought Office.

It is said he never sought political office, although for a number of years he has been a member of the board of Elora township. He is secretary-treasurer of the Hoople Farmers' Grain company and a director of the Crystal Home Improvement company, which operates rural telephone lines and four town telephone systems. He is a director of the Crystal Farmers' Co-operative Mercantile company, which operates a general store at Hoople.

He is the owner of three quarter sections of land and rents a fourth owned by his niece and nephew.

Locally Frazier is known as somewhat of a prohibition crank, as his father was before him and he has been a constant agitator for more thorough methods of enforcement.

F. B. KELLOGG TO ADDRESS NURSES

Senatorial Candidate to Speak at Brainerd Hospital Commencement.

Brainerd, Minn., April 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—Frank B. Kellogg of St. Paul, candidate for United States senator, will speak at the commencement exercises of the Northwestern hospital training school for nurses, at Elks' hall, Tuesday evening, May 2, taking as his subject, "Preparedness of Nurses."

Carl Zapffe will preside. Dr. Joseph Nichoison, chief of staff of the hospital, will present the diplomas. The two out-of-town musicians on the program are friends of the superintendent, Miss Anna L. Michaelson, being Miss Alma Johnson, graduate of the Northwestern Conservatory of Music, and John Moody, graduate of Flaaten Conservatory of Duluth, and both were classmates of Miss Michaelson in the Cloquet high school. Rev. A. B. Colvin will deliver the invocation. Miss Mildred I. Skauge of Brainerd will play a piano solo.

THIEF RIVER FALLS BUTTER IS POPULAR

It Is Being Shipped Direct to City of New York.

Thief River Falls, Minn., April 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—To supply the demands of farmers in the Goodridge country General Manager H. W. Protzeller of the Minnesota & Northwestern Electric Railway company has ordered a second refrigerator car placed in commission on that line, which will make the trip once a week in order to take care of the big egg and farm produce products from that section.

The first refrigerator car, which was placed in commission over a year ago, handles butter exclusively, the shipment going from here direct to New York city, where Thief River Falls creamery butter is eagerly sought.—Wautoma—W. H. Berray, senior editor of the Waukesha Argus, has sold his interest in that paper to T. M. Risk, principal of the Wautoma high school. Mr. Berray has been the senior editor for thirty years.

Coleman—F. N. Blatz, proprietor of the Hotel Coleman, was found dead in the high school basement. He was janitor at the school. The back of his head was blown off and a gun was found beside the body.

MENOMINEE RIVER IS STILL RISING

Marinette Dam Threatened and Niagara, Wis., Conditions Bad.

Marinette, Wis., April 26.—The Menominee river rose three inches Monday night and one inch yesterday and there is great apprehension for the local dam, bridges and mill property. The force at work trying to prevent the water from washing out the big mill of the Menominee-Marinette Paper company had additional work yesterday as the water broke down a dike and swept into the mill.

A call was issued for all available men and teams in the two cities. Crews of men are busy.

Serious at Niagara.

Reports from Niagara, Wis., indicate a serious condition of affairs there. The Kimberly-Clarke company and other property owners have already sustained a damage estimated at $100,000. A large storehouse filled with paper, owned by Kimberly-Clarke company has been washed away with all its contents. One residence owned by the same company was carried away. The school houses are flooded. Schools are closed and lights are all gone. The main street is flooded through a good part of the town. A new addition to the paper company's plant containing the electrical machinery is crumbling and will be a total loss. The electrical machinery installed in it recently is ruined.

Several homes have been weighted down with heavy stones and iron to save them. The railroad bridge here has been rendered unsafe.

HOT WATER THE BEST LIVER AND BOWEL MEDICINE

Says Glass of Hot Water Before Breakfast Washes Poisons From System.

Physicians the world over recommend the inside bath, claiming this is of vastly more importance than outside cleanliness, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, causing ill health, while the pores in the ten yards of bowels do.

Men and women are urged to drink each morning, before breakfast, a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, as a harmless means of helping to wash from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels the previous day's indigestible material, poisons, sour bile and toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

Just as soap and hot water cleanse and freshen the skin, so hot water and limestone phosphate act on the eliminative organs.

Those who wake up with bad breath, coated tongue, nasty taste or have a dull, aching head, sallow complexion, acid stomach; others who are subject to bilious attacks or constipation, should obtain a quarter pound of limestone phosphate at the drug store. This will cost very little but is sufficient to demonstrate the value of inside bathing. Those who continue it each morning are assured of pronounced results, both in regard to health and appearance.

NEW CREAM RATES.

Express Company to Reduce Long Haul Toll in North Dakota.

Fargo, N. D., April 26.—It is stated that the Northern Express company has prepared, and will issue to agents during the week, a new schedule of cream rates in North Dakota. The new rates will go into effect May 1, and will be slightly higher on short hauls but very much lower on long hauls.

In commenting on the new rates G. L. Hubbell of the Midland Produce company, stated that they would benefit every creamery in North Dakota.

DIVORCE CASE ENDED.

Judge Cooley of North Dakota Gives Mrs. Gray Decree.

Fargo, N. D., April 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—The long drawn-out divorce case of Mrs. Maria H. Gray against her husband, Oscar F. Gray of Casselton, which has been before the district court of this county and the supreme court of the state for the last three years, has ended by a decision handed down by Judge Charles M. Cooley of the First judicial district, granting the divorce, giving Mrs. Gray custody of the one child, allowing her large alimony and giving her an allowance.

The case was tried in the district court here on March 25, Judge Cooley of Grand Forks sitting for Judge Charles A. Pollock. Judge Cooley took the case under advisement and has just rendered a decision.

MEASLES EPIDEMIC AT COUDERAY, WIS.

Couderay, Wis., April 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—This town is passing through an epidemic of measles. Two deaths resulted from the disease during the last ten days. Scores of young and old have had the disease.

BOOTLEGGER LAW TEST.

Proceedings Started at Bismarck to Get Judicial Ruling on Act.

Bismarck, N. D., April 26.—The last gun in the fight to put house bill 114 before the people of the state was fired Tuesday by J. F. Sullivan, an attorney of Mandan, acting in behalf of a score of interested persons, when he appeared before Judge Nuessele in district court here and sought an alternative writ of mandamus to compel Secretary of State Thomas Hall to put the bill on the ballot at the June election.

House bill No. 114, as passed by the last legislature, classes all representatives and salesmen of liquor houses as "bootleggers," and makes the taking of an order for goods shipped from the Twin Cities, or elsewhere, a violation of the prohibition statutes.

The action taken yesterday follows closely on an opinion by Attorney General H. J. Linde that the bootlegger law referendum petition is void because the legislative body failed to provide means for putting an initiative or referendum action in operation.

DENIES COMPROMISE.

La Crosse Senator Not to Withdraw From Gubernatorial Race.

Madison, Wis., April 26.—"Neither I nor any of my friends are spending any time on a compromise," declared Senator Otto Bosshard of La Crosse Tuesday, in replying to a report in the morning papers that Senator Bosshard and Francis E. McGovern would withdrew from the race for the Republican gubernatorial nomination in favor of A. W. Sanborn for the purpose of effecting a reconciliation of the Progressive forces.

"I know nothing of any conference held here," said Senator Bosshard, when asked how many were at the conference, according to a printed report. "Neither do I know of any plan by some Progressives to name A. W. Sanborn as a compromise candidate for governor.

"McGovern recently expressed himself as determined to stay in the race. I am preparing my plans of campaign and expect to begin shortly in a thorough canvass of the state," said Mr. Bosshard.

WOMAN TO PROVE UP ON NORTH DAKOTA CLAIM

Little Falls, Minn., April 26.—Mrs. Gertrude D. Simmons, who has been doing stenographic work for A. H. Vernon the past two winters, resigned and left Tuesday for Williston, N. D., where she intends to make final proof on a 320-acre homestead this summer. The homestead is located twelve miles from Williston.

SWALLOWS NITRIC ACID.

Despondent Copper Country Man Takes Life in Woods.

Calumet, Mich., April 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—Ramond Grosse, aged 22, of Hubbell, died yesterday from effects of drinking nitric acid while despondent because of ill health. Grosse hid himself in the woods to commit suicide and was found before he died by woodsmen.

Faces Murder Charge.

Jamestown, N. D., April 26.—The formal charge of murder has been lodged against John Miller as the result of the death in a local hospital of Valentine Hens of Medina, the result of a Christmas day shooting tragedy.

Christmas day Miller visited at the Hens family home, and became involved in an argument with Fred Hens and his son. The young man first was shot down, then the father, rushing to his aid, and Mrs. Hens. Miller then telephoned to the sheriff, asking that he send a physician out.

WISCONSIN BRIEFS

Ashland—Much trout fry are being shipped from the state fish hatchery at Salmo every night with the exception of Saturday, to various parts of the state, where they are planted.

Madison—Governor Philipp appointed Prof. D. W. Meade of the University of Wisconsin as expert hydraulic engineer to inspect the big dam being built by the Wissota Power company at Chippewa Falls and see that the interests of the state are properly protected.

Ashland—County Highway Commissioner W. E. Dillon left Monday with a force of men to put in a new bridge over the Brunsville river some distance from Marengo, which had been washed out as a result of the high water, caused by the heavy rains of last week. Three hundred dollars worth of damage was caused there.

Madison—State Superintendent Moritz Blumenfeld of the state capitol cut five men from his payroll to reduce expenses. The men will leave on May 1. They are Assistant State Carpenter George H. Mason, Policeman W. H. Cobb, Joseph Reiter, John G. Jennings and Assistant State Painter T. O. Homme.

Stevens Point—City scalers of weights and measures in this district have decided to adopt a plan suggested by E. H. Flentle of this city of labeling all packages sealed in stores in order to inform the customers and also prevent resealing the packages at future times.

PENINSULA BRIEFS

Marquette—Edwin Niness, a resident of Marquette for the last two years, previous to which he held the position of Alger county clerk for twelve consecutive years with headquarters at Munising, died April 25. A widow and two children, Sheldon, age 12, and Evelyn, aged 10, survive. Mr. Niness was a member of the Munising lodge of Masons and also held a membership in the Marquette lodge.

Negaunee—K. I. Sawyer, county superintendent of roads, has announced that the road between Negaunee and Gwinn is in dangerous condition for travel. The high water has caused the Escanaba river to overflow from its banks in a number of places and the road is under water in many places. Warnings have been posted against driving over the road.

Ishpeming—Thomas Cassin, who has been here for the past several weeks, has left for the Cuyuna range in Minnesota, where he will take a position as steam shovel operator for McDougal & Duffy, who have a big stripping contract at one of the mines.

Houghton—The evangelistic campaign to be conducted in Houghton under the auspices of Grace M. E. church by Rev. W. M. Runyan, of Baldwin, Kan., and F. E. Ruekert during the next three weeks, opened Monday.

Marquette—Final arrangements have been made for the spring festival to be given by McKinley council, 1905, Royal Arcanum, in the opera house Tuesday evening, May 2. The entertainment will be a benefit production, a share of the proceeds going to the Marquette Emergency club.

Calumet—Calumet butchers shortly will meet to arrange their annual picnic, which likely will be held in July. The outing will be held at one of the nearby parks and there will be the usual parade, headed by the C. & H. band.

Negaunee—Over 400 members of the Negaunee and Ishpeming lodge, Sons of St. George, attended the special services in the Mitchell M. E. church Sunday morning. Rev. R. L. Hewson, the pastor, preached a special sermon and excellent musical numbers were rendered.

Marquette—Arrangements have been completed and invitations issued for an Easter ball to be given in Colonial hall next Thursday evening, April 27, by Presque Isle chapter, No. 403, Order of Eastern Star.

Hancock—Miss Eliza Cameron is home from Chicago, where she took the state board examination of trained nurses and has returned to her duties at the Trimountain hospital.

Houghton—William Andrews, grand vice president of the Sons of St. George of Michigan, and George Tucker of Marquette, past grand president of the order in Michigan, will be here on the evening of May 4 to visit the members of General Fuller lodge.

Hancock—Mrs. Sylvia Johnson, aged 24 years, died at her home at Albion Sunday afternoon. She had been ill about two months. She is survived by her husband, two brothers, Andrew of Dorcie and Palmer of Calumet, also by four sisters, Mrs. James of Canada, Mrs. Lammotte of Calumet, Elsie and Ellen of Calumet. The funeral was held Tuesday at 1 o'clock p. m.

Lake Linden—News was received here of the death of his sister, Mrs. Mrs. Plumadore at Deerfield, Mich. She was formerly Miss Catherine Quirk of Lake Linden.

Hancock—John Jacob Helkkola, a resident of Newtown, died Monday after a short illness. The funeral was held Tuesday afternoon with services at the Finnish Lutheran Evangelical church, Rev. Pesonen officiating. Interment was at Lakeside cemetery. The deceased was 20 years of age and unmarried.

DAKOTA BRIEFS

Washburn, N. D.—The Farmers' Elevator and Mercantile company of Minden is the name of the new organization formed by the prominent farmers near Washburn. The board of directors is G. A. Brown, Ole Grandin, Ole H. Holtan, A. S. Brewer and P. M. Malloney. The company is incorporated for $25,000.

Grafton, N. D.—The contract for the erection of the new elevator for the Farmers' Co-operative Grain company of Grafton was let to T. L. Eberson of Minneapolis, Minn., by the board of directors for $9,700.

Fessenden, N. D.—James T. Capron dropped dead while at work in the Farmers' Trust company office in this city of heart failure. He was born at Broadalvin, N. Y., May 24, 1861. He lived in the town of his birth until fourteen years ago, when he came to North Dakota. He first taught school in Fairville township, north of Cathay. Later he filed on a homestead near Kermitt, N. D., and made final proof, after which he returned to Fessenden, where he has been employed in clerical work for the past seven years as chief bookkeeper for the Farmers' Trust company.

Fargo, N. D.—Paul J. Scott, aged 15 years, died at a local hospital April 23 of an abscess of the lungs. The boy was the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Scott, residing at Detroit, Minn. The parents arrived in the city and accompanied the body to Detroit Sunday afternoon.

Grand Forks, N. D.—The East Grand Forks police believe that the men who robbed five freight cars in the Northern Pacific yards here last Thursday night have been located. Louis Smith, who is being held in the Grand Forks county jail for disorderly conduct, is one of the alleged thieves and J. C. Duncan, former shooting gallery proprietor, is another.

Valley City, N. D.—Miss Frances Foote, who was dean of women at the normal school for a while, will teach story-telling at the University of Minnesota during the summer school and is elected to a position on the faculty of the Virginia normal school in the fall.

Fargo, N. D.—H. F. Emery, president of the city commission, and Commissioner of Finance Alex Stern and Commissioner of Streets Joseph Ames have been in St. Paul conferring with the officials of the Northern Pacific railroad relative to the construction of a trunk sewer under the Northern Pacific tracks on Tenth avenue north, and relative to the company's stand on the construction of a lateral sewer west of Front street.

Grand Forks, N. D.—Tom Day, aged 60, one of the old characters of Grand Forks and East Grand Forks, employed as a porter around the Hotel Frederick for the last four years, was found dead in bed in his room at the hotel here. Coroner McLain of Gilby made an investigation of the death and decided it was due to heart failure. Before working at the Frederick, Tom Day was employed for many years at the old Ingalls house and Logan's cafe.

RASH ON FACE SORE AND INFLAMED

Developed Into Serious Eruption That Itched. Caused Annoyance. Lost Much Sleep.

HEALED BY CUTICURA SOAP AND OINTMENT

"I was afflicted with a heavy rash on the lower part of my face which was caused, I think, by an overindulgence in sweets. The affected portion of my face was sore and inflamed and the rash developed into a serious eruption that itched causing a desire to scratch my face. I was also caused much annoyance and embarrassment and lost much sleep.

"The trouble lasted about three weeks and after trying sulphur remedies, ——, etc., without effect, some one recommended Cuticura Soap and Ointment to me. I purchased them and after I used one cake of Cuticura Soap and about a half a box of Cuticura Ointment the trouble disappeared and I was healed." MINNESOTA BRIEFS

Brainerd — Sheriff Claus A. Theorin has commenced the collection of Crow Wing county delinquent personal property taxes. Last year he gathered $2,200 in delinquent taxes.

Fairmont—C. Dean of this city has announced himself a candidate for judge of the Seventeenth judicial district, comprising Martin, Faribault and Jackson counties. Judge J. H. Quinn, who has held the position eighteen years, is also a candidate. Mr. Dean is county attorney of Martin county.

St. Cloud — That by maintaining the Cold Spring dam at a height of 7.11 feet the milling company of that village is not violating the right given it by the supreme court of the state is the opinion of County Attorney Paul Ahles in his report to the county commissioners, following a complaint entered by the farmers of Richmond that the water was backing up and overflowing the roads.

Grand Marais—Charles Purdy has gone to Duluth to take charge of the engine room on the City of Two Harbors.

Spooner — Twenty-eight thousand acres of land on the Canadian side of the Rainy river will be sold at a sale at Rainy River, Ont., May 16, to the highest bidders. One-fifth of the purchase price is to be paid in cash and the balance in four equal payments. It is expected that a large number of people will attend the sale.

Bemidji—Albert Kousel and Felix Mullette were given fines of $5 each here in municipal court for drunkenness. Two women were fined $2 each and the fines suspended.

International Falls—Stanley Thompson and Miss Marion Fuller were married Monday by Judge Berg. The bride is the niece of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Riley, with whom she has grown to womanhood. The groom is the junior member of the general mercantile firm of S. E. Thompson & Son.

Rochester—Mathew Markham, who Monday began serving his third term as city health inspector, is probably the oldest city official in the United States. Although he will be 90 in July, he energetically attends to all the duties of the office. His intellect and physique are excellent.

St. Cloud—W. R. Goodwin, for several years employed by Minneapolis as creosote block inspector, was selected by the city commission to inspect blocks used by Hanlon & Oakes in the paving work here.

Stillwater—The water in the St. Croix river here Monday was 15.7 feet. David Bronson, who has been a resident of Stillwater for sixty years, said that the water is the highest he has ever seen it, although he said that he remembered hearing old settlers say that at one time earlier the water was high enough so that boats landed at the Minnesota house.

Grand Marais—Charlie Seglem of Duluth has arrived and has rented the Ashford barber shop. He expects his family on Wednesday's boat.

Little Falls—Maurice Richard, who has been employed at Hibbing by the Virginia Enterprise, is here visiting at his home. He has resigned his position and will leave in a few weeks to take a position at either Minneapolis or Milwaukee.

Moorhead—John Seveland was arrested Monday on the charge of violating the county option law. He was given a hearing before Police Magistrate Wade and was bound over to district court. He was released on $250 bond. It is alleged that Seveland took a cash order for two quarts of whisky from one James Ryan.

No more the mashie flicks the pill
Along the ancient green;
No more the brassie's sweeping clout
Re-echoes down the scene;
But caddies for the player Death
Amid the shots that fly,
The only divots they replace
Are where the dead men lie.

Deep-bunkered in the crimson trench,
Unplayable with gore,
Their flashing irons leap to meet
The cannon belching "Fore!"—
And where the shrapnel's long approach
Comes booming through the strife,
The only par they dream of now
Is one more day of life.

The verdant turf still winds afar
Where April's fairway rolls,
Safe from the iron that today
Rips only into souls;
And each man's drive shall come to rest
Within a trap so deep
That nothing but the blade of God
Shall lift him from his sleep.

And you who curse the cuppy lie
Or mourn your wretched fate,
Because you missed a simple putt
And marred your perfect slate—
Give one thought to their game today
Among the rotting dead,
Where in the wake of every shot
The dark green turf grows red.

Remarkable Athlete.

Donald Dinnie, the most famous athlete in the annals of the Highland games, who died recently at nearly 80 years of age, made his first appearance in competition when he was 16 years old and his last when he was three-score and ten. It is said he was never beaten in sheer feats of strength, wrestling and hammer throwing, and in spite of his size he was a jumper and runner of merit.

In his prime Dinnie stood six feet one inch in his shoes. He weighed 220 pounds and had a chest measurement of 48½ inches. He had a record of six feet lineal at the high jump, twenty feet lineal at the broad, and could hop, step and skip forty-four feet and run 100 yards in 10 2-5 seconds. He was a good hurdler besides. There is some question whether he ever showed the class that would have made him the equal of Jim Thorpe and Martin Sheridan in the modern all-round schedule, but in the Highlands he was supreme for very many years.

Fat Man Is There.

The fat man has been subjected to considerable derision when he has appeared in the lists for athletic competition. He has been the butt of much chaffing at the hands of spectators. Now comes Alfred Brown, who scales 210 pounds and was the first man to make the difficult Sandy Hook swim of twenty-two miles, who says that the big beefy man is the ideal, for tests of endurance in the water. Statistics show, according to Brown, that long distance swims and plunge for distance records are held by the men of weight.

The reasons assigned are that they possess more lung power for under water work; have more buoyancy, which causes them to exert less effort to finish a long swim and, owing to their fleshiness are more impervious to the cold.

In the long tests of endurance it is claimed that the heavy men can lose weight without being affected, while the slim swimmer, not having any reserve flesh, is weakened. The slim man, however, has the advantage in the sprints.

Boxers Are Humane.

Many people imagine that boxers—or, as they prefer to call them, fighters—are without feeling, etc., when in the ring and out of it. Such persons know little of the real boxer or fighter, or they would change their minds in a hurry. It is seldom that a boxer deliberately tries to injure another one when in a contest. Of course, there are cases of this kind, where one boxer will try to hurt another purposely, but the same can be said of baseball and football players. However, we must hand it to Matty McCue, the Racine, Wis., lightweight, as being a real little gentleman both in and out of the ring. Recently Matty fought Walter Jacobson of Chicago as a semi-final to the Welsh-Mitchell match, and in the fourth round the Racine boy put over a sleep-producer to Walter's jaw. Immediately after the contest the two boxers were in their dressing room, and there was Matty helping Jacobson to don his attire and at the same time giving him good advice. "Don't let this worry you," said Matty, "for we all get it once in a while. Just keep in your class for a while and you will come out on top." Then, walking over to his grip, Matty picked out two oranges and handed one to Jacobson to eat. It was only a real act of kindness, and showed Matty to have the tender feelings of a girl, even though he is a fighter.

For Colored Belt.

The elimination tournament for the selection of a colored heavyweight champion of the world, started by D. J. Tortorich, the New Orleans boxing promoter, is creating a great deal more attention than was at first expected. Since Jess Willard announced his intention of fighting only white contenders for the championship of the world—a statement that he made before his match with Jack Johnson at Havana a year ago—it dawned upon Promoter Tortorich that it would be a good idea to have the best of the colored heavies meet and settle the question of supremacy among them. Of course Jack Johnson claimed the colored title, but Sam Langford and Sam McVey entered a strong protest against it, as they have not been given a chance to prove their claims in actual battle. There are some corking good colored heavyweights and the tournament will, without doubt, prove a success, even in the South. The first meeting in the elimination is to be between McVey and Joe Jeanette at the new arena in New Orleans, May 8, the distance to be twenty rounds to a decision. The winner of this match is to meet Harry Wills, the Southern champion, and the winner of this bout will tackle Sam Langford. That will assure the promoters three big contests, and the winner of the final will in all probability be sent against Jack Johnson. Efforts will be made to bring the former champion back into this country, but if it cannot be done, then the match will probably be arranged for some point away from the states, either Mexico, Cuba or Canada. It would be necessary for Johnson to train hard for the match to get in proper shape, but there is no doubt that it would attract a lot of attention just the same. George Lawrence, manager of McVey, is willing to wager a tidy sum that his man will be the winner of the tourney and that he will also beat Johnson for the title, if they ever come together. It seems queer that all the colored stars of the present times are confined to the heavyweight class. Colored fighters of the Joe Gans, George Dixon and Kentucky Rosebud type seem to have passed away.

Cow's Tail Ruined Him.

A cow's tail deprived the major leagues of Ty Cobb II.

This is the substance of a strange story told today by Fred Toney, star hurler of the Redlegs.

"When I was playing with a small team down in Tennessee," said Fred Toney, "there was a youngster named Hatfield on the same club, and, believe me, he was a demon. He could hit 'em a mile, he could steal and he was a terrific outfielder.

"We were playing a game for the county championship, and Hatfield, in the early innings, made a triple and a home run and caught three hard fly balls. We were performing on a decidedly rural field and a cow came ambling across it during the fifth inning.

"Hatfield went over and addressed the cow, requesting her to go right away from there. She replied with a swish of her tail; it took Hatfield right across the eyes and temporarily blinded him.

"During the rest of the game he let four balls get by and struck out three times. It broke his heart, and in spite of all we could do to coax him he quit baseball, went into the mountains and, so I have heard, became a hermit."

Boston, Mass., April 26.—Rudolph held New York to four hits yesterday, Boston winning, 3 to 1. The visitors' run came after two were out and the bases full. Rousch hit a grounder to Konetchy and Rudolph failed to reach the bag in time to take the throw. Boston tied the score in their half of the first inning on doubles by Maranville and Wilhoit. Rousch made a great catch of Compton's hard drive in the fourth inning and doubled Smith at first, Konetchy scoring from third before the latter play was completed. Compton singled to McKetchnie during the seventh and went to third on the latter's wild throw, scoring on Gowdy's sacrifice fly. McGraw was ordered off the field for talking back to Umpire Klem. Indians 9; White Sox 2.

Cleveland, Ohio, April 26.—Cleveland defeated Chicago in the opening game of the series yesterday 9 to 2. Chicago used five pitchers and the two left handers, Russell and Williams, were the only ones to show any effectiveness. Coumbe, who pitched for Cleveland, held Chicago to six hits, three of which were made by Fournier. He passed the first two batters in the fourth and the recipients were the only Chicago men to score.

The Woodland Bards of Chicago were present in honor of their fellow member, James C. Dunn, president of the Cleveland club, the day being designated as "Dunn day."

Dunn was presented with a large wardrobe trunk by the Cleveland fire department. Among the notables present were Secretary of War Baker, B. B. Johnson, president of the American league; Charles Comiskey, owner of the Chicago White Sox and Charles Weeghman, owner of the Chicago Cubs. Score: R. H. E.

Goes Ten Innings.

New York, April 26.—The world's champion Boston team retained the lead in the American league by defeating New York in a ten-inning game yesterday, 4 to 3. The hitting of Nunamaker, a former Boston player, kept New York in the game, as he made two singles, a double, and a triple in four times up. After scoring both of New York's early runs he drove in the tying run with a three-base hit in the ninth inning. Boston won, however, in the tenth, when Henriksen opened with his third hit, took second on Janvrin's sacrifice, third on Hooper's out, and scored the winning run on Hoblitzell's single. Hoblitzell also drove in two Boston runs in the sixth inning. Score: R. H. E.

Colonels Make Clean Sweep.

Louisville, Ky., April 26.—Louisville made it a clean sweep of four games from St. Paul by winning yesterday, 4 to 1, chiefly through Middleton's effective pitching. Upham, who was knocked out of the box Monday, fared better yesterday, giving way to a pinch hitter in the eighth. Corriden, with a triple and two singles, led at bat. Score: R. H. E.

Chappelle's Effective Hit.

Columbus, Ohio, April 26.—Larry Chappelle started yesterday as a Columbus American association player and in the fifth inning made the single which scored Demmitt with the decisive run of the game that was taken from Milwaukee, 2 to 1. Leonard's triple and Bratchi's double in the opening inning off Walker accounted for the first run. Davis allowed Milwaukee batsmen only three singles, the first two coming bunched ahead of two sacrifices in the fifth inning for a run by Aitchison. Score: R. H. E.
Milwaukee .....00000100 0—1 3 3
Columbus .....10001000x—2 6 0
Batteries—Walker, Aitchison, Ditto and Mayer; Davis and Pratt.

Only One Run Scored.

Indianapolis, Ind., April 26.—Skillful and courageous pitching by Victor Aldridge enabled Indianapolis to win a shut-out victory over Minneapolis. The only run of the game came in the first inning when, with the bases full and one out, Bronkie scored on Crandall's fly before Altizer's throw to Smith had doubled Wickland, who tried to advance from second after the catch. Score: R. H. E.
Minneapolis ....000000000—0 6 0

DILLON DEFEATS GOTHAM BATTLER

Takes All But Two of Fifteen Rounds; Other Fight Results.

Kansas City, Mo., April 26.—Jack Dillon of Indianapolis defeated Battling Levinsky of New York in a fast fifteen-round bout here last night and was awarded the referee's decision.

The New York light-heavyweight won the second round and took an even break in the thirteenth but Dillon took the remainder. Levinsky did his best work at long range.

Dillon showed unexpected speed and several times had his opponent in distress. Unofficial weights were: Dillon, 168; Levinsky, 174.

Wills and Langford Again.

St. Louis, Mo., April 26.—Harry Wills of New Orleans defeated Sam Langford of Boston on points in an eight-round boxing match here tonight. The men are heavyweights.

Twin City Horsemen Expecting Good Harness Meet—Minneapolis May Continue Bouts Through Summer—White Sox Manager Talks to Boys.

Minneapolis—Twin City horsemen are looking for a large out-of-town entry list for the racing meet of the Twin City Driving club, which, it has been decided, will be held June 8, 9 and 10 at the Hamline track. A prize fund of $2,500 has been guaranteed and a publicity campaign to advertise the meet throughout the country has been started, according to B. E. Nowlen, secretary of the club.

Chicago—If George Washington was alive and could play baseball he would be eligible for membership on the White Sox club. Manager Rowland of the White Hose admits he is not an orator, but says it gives him great pleasure to address a bunch of "kids," and recently he brought the George Washington "stuff" before a gathering of boys at a settlement. During the course of Rowland's "oration" he said that he believed that when they were old enough to vote, to smoke if they desired and that a drink once in a while didn't hurt any one as long as they knew when to quit.

When the 200 listeners, boys from 11 to 18 years, got wrapped up in his remarks, he "hit from the shoulder out," and declared that he hated a conceited man or boy worse than a thief, that he always found the best ball players and the best men in any line of work were home-loving fellows; that perseverance was all a boy needed to make good and that he wouldn't have a liar on his ball club. When Rowland finished his remarks the boys almost tore the house down. Rowland told them that he once was a poor kid and had a hard time working along and that was why "he was with them." He invited all the boys to be his guests at the game on May 6, when the Cleveland Indians and White Sox meet.

Lawrence, Kan.—Already the football followers at the University of Kansas are beginning to worry. A recent announcement that only six of the fifteen men who won their "letters" last year on the varsity squad would report for the team next fall has had a depressing effect. Five of the players will graduate, three have withdrawn from the school, and one has been declared ineligible, according to announcement.

OFFICERS TO BE ELECTED

Annual Meeting of Duluth Oarsmen Booked for Commercial Club.

Gathering Will Be One of Most Important in History of Organization.

Many matters of grave importance to the Duluth Boat club will be taken up tomorrow evening when the annual meeting will be held at the Commercial club. New officers will be chosen for the coming year, many standing and temporary committees will be appointed and plans for a big publicity and membership campaign will be formed. This will surely be one of the most notable of the annual gatherings of the organization.

Up till last evening it was planned to hold the meeting in the main house of the club on Park Point but for various good reasons this was changed. Julius H. Barnes, the leading spirit in the boat club, will be present. He has just returned from the East where he visited many of the boat clubs and learned that they would be ably represented at the regatta of the National Amateur Oarsmen's Association of America which will be held here next August. Mr. Barnes says that all of the big eastern crews, including Pennsylvania, Harvard, New York Boat club, crews from Boston, Springfield and other of the larger cities on the Atlantic seaboard will be entered.

What Mr. Barnes will try hard to do is impress upon the members of the local club the real importance of the regatta which will bring many thousands of people, from all parts of the United States and Canada to this city. It will not only be the greatest athletic show ever held in the Northwest; but will advertise Duluth in every quarter of the globe.

The Senior Eight.

Coach Ned Ten Eyck will have the senior eight of the club on the water this evening, if conditions are favorable. The personnel of the crew is about the same that won all the honors in the East last year. Kent will be stroke; Haley, 7; Harney, 6; Aarons, 5; Hall, 4; Grant, 3; Emmons, 2, and Beschenbossel in the bow. Barring accidents this will, in all probability, be the crew that will represent Duluth in the senior eight competition. Osman, Whiteside and possibly Williams, will arrive home from Syracuse about the middle of June. All are trained oarsmen and in fine condition from their spring work on the 'varsity crew at the New York institution of learning.

Coach Ten Eyck will put in much time and a heap of hard work with the green material from now until the time the pruning operations begin. He believes there are a number of jewels among the recruits which, if polished up a bit, will be able to shine.

Secretary Ames stated this morning that it was Mr. Barnes earnest wish that every member of the Duluth Boat club be present at the annual meeting tomorrow evening.

O'Dowd Scores Kayo.

Boston, Mass., April 26.—Mike O'Dowd of St. Paul, fighting his first battle in the East last night, knocked out Joe Eagan of Dorchester, by an uppercut in the ninth round of what was to have been a twelve-round bout.

DATES SET FOR TRACK MEETS

Interclass and Dual Meets Will Be Held May 5 and 12.

Hilltop Men Are Expected to Make Excellent Showing.

Announcement of dates for the first two outdoor track meets to be held in this city this spring was made yesterday by Coach Blake of the Central high school squad of athletes. On Friday, May 5, the annual Central high school interclass meet will be held and on the following Friday, May 12, the athletes of Central and Denfeld high schools will clash in their annual dual meet.

Track work in the high schools of the city is expected to attract considerably more attention this year than heretofore, and already the several school squads are out getting into shape. There is some real rivalry existing among the schools of the Head of the Lakes, and it is expected that some lively meets will be held and some great marks made when the representative athletes of the several schools get together.

Track work is oldest at Central high, and for this reason the athletes of the hilltop institution have been getting the better of the meets for the last few years. This year, however, the Cathedral and Denfeld schools are expecting to turn out some strong opposition to the Red and White squad from Central. Central will make the first outdoor test of her men on May 5, when the interclass meet will be held. The "D" men, that is, the men who have won their letters on former high school track teams, will be allowed to participate, it was announced yesterday by Coach Blake, but their marks will not be counted. They will be allowed to participate merely to give them practice. The rivalry among the several classes is intense and an exciting meet is therefore expected to result. The men who do the best work in the class meet will be chosen to fill out the school squad.

Dual Meet May 12.

The Denfeld-Central dual meet on May 12 will be the first means of testing the average strength of the school teams. Although it is generally expected that the Red and White athletes, because of their greater experience and better advantages, will eventually come out on top, the Maroon and Gold men from West Duluth are determined to give their opponents a tough meet, and it will not be a runaway by any means.

Last year some exceptionally good work was done in the Denfeld-Central meet and some good marks were made. Central turned out the winner, but only after a hard fight. Denfeld made a remarkably good showing in the big Northwestern Interscholastic meet in June. With several of their best men back in the fold this year it is expected that the West Duluth school will be heard from considerably.

The second annual Northwestern interscholastic meet will be held here early in June, about two weeks after the state meet. The same plan as was originated last year will be carried out this year in inviting all of the schools at the Head of the Lakes and all of the range institutions as well. There was a big representation last year and it is planned to even double it this year. The meet proved to be the greatest high school clash ever held in this part of the country, and some exceptionally good marks were made in all of the events.

The only handicap in connection with track meets in Duluth is the lack of a proper place to hold them. The schools are unable to build a proper park for the purpose because of the cost, with the result that they have to be contented with the streets, vacant lots and the boulevard.

SEMI-PRO MEN TO ORGANIZE

Ex-Leaguers of Duluth Will Organize to Play Week-End Games.

Many Fast Ball Crews in Northern Minnesota and Wisconsin.

If plans now being formulated come to a successful issue Duluth will have the fastest sem-pro baseball team in its history. The promoters figure on securing the services of a number of ex-leaguers, now in the city, and these veterans, together with a number of likely looking young diamond stars of fair magnitude, will be formed into a squad from which a crew will be selected.

The names of Frank Summers, Frank Schaefer, Si Bennett, Frank or Mike McGraw, all ex-members of various leagues, are being considered and it now looks as if Bill Snow and Hoffman, former Northern league pitchers, will be added to the list. Both of the latter are now working in Duluth and could easily get in condition for week-end games. Besides these are a number of young pitchers in Duluth who have shown good ability and one of these may be used. Paul Biaski, a big, hard-hitting first baseman who has performed on various teams in Duluth, will also be asked to get in.

If this team is organized games will be secured with Washburn, Ashland, Cloquet, Two Harbors, Ironwood and other cities near Duluth. It is not believed that any games will be scheduled with the Mesaba range towns for the reason that the expense of making the trips would eat up all of the profit.

Baseball interest in the Chequamegon bay district is at a white heat this year. This is especially true at Washburn, which will have one of the best ball crews since the days when Tim Keefe, Jim Whiggs, Artie O'Dea, Red Thiery, Artie Anderson, Jim Paige, Dillon and the other members of that famous wrecking crew hung up their hats in that city about fifteen years ago. That year Washburn beat the Chicago Unions, Page Fence Giants and all of the best independent clubs in the world. They all looked alike to Washburn.

Fans at Ashland are making a strong effort to induce Tommy Upthegrove to assume the management of the home team. Tommy is circuit court clerk in the Chequamegon bay metropolis, is an excellent manager and a very popular fellow. If anyone can give that city a real ball crew he is sure the person to be selected. He developed a number of fast pitchers that were sent up to the big shows and made good.

Northern Wisconsin now has a league composed of Ashland, Washburn, Mellen, Phillips, Park Falls and Hurley, which is made up of the younger players in all of the towns. It is not thought that this would in any way conflict with the installation of the bigger teams.

Efforts will be made this week to get the sentiment of the Duluth players. The only drawback that can be seen right now is the shortage of pitchers; but if Snow and Hoffman will agree to sign, no further trouble should be had.

BLUE-BLOODED DOG TO COME INTO HIS OWN IN DULUTH DOGDOM

FANCIERS WILL FORM CLUB; STAGE SHOW

The thoroughbred dog will soon supplant the scraggly-haired mongrel in Duluth.

F. L. Ober, formerly an assistant in the Chicago veterinary college, is getting Duluth fanciers together, and will organize a local branch to be affiliated with the American Kennel club, which has among its members August Belmont, Dr. De Mund and other famous dog fanciers of the East. There are a large number of fine dogs in Duluth, Dr. Ober says, and it is expected that fanciers will organize some time next week.

The new society will have two main objects in view at the outset—first, to promote the raising of thoroughbred dogs, and second, the arrangement for a dog fanciers' show to take place next fall.

Mr. Ober said today that there was a large number of Duluthians interested in dogs, and some of the most prominent sportsmen and sportswomen would join the local club branch.

It is planned to have a licensed show and bring some noted Eastern expert here to act as judge. A show of this sort, it is said, would reveal just how many thoroughbred dogs there are in Duluth.

There are said to be a number of fine Airedales, setters, pointers and other hunting dogs and a large number of lap dogs. Eastern dog fanciers also would be persuaded to bring their animals here.

Mrs. Agnes L. Atwood, who was manager of the cat fanciers' show here last winter which proved a great success, is planning to arrange to have cat fanciers co-operate with the dog fanciers, and to have both shows staged at the same time at the new armory. The cat show, she says, did a great deal to promote interest in blooded cats, and she believes a dog show would be just what is needed to promote interest in thoroughbred dogs.

RAIN STOPS EARLY WORK

Northern League Crews Idle From Snow, Rain and Wind.

Winnipeg Team Is Undergoing Torment at Whitewater, Wis.

With leaden skies hanging over the diamonds of nearly all the cities in the Northern league, the veteran managers are scratching their grizzled domes and appealingly looking to Mr. J. Pluvius to call off his rain dogs and give the young baseball recruits a little sunshine to help them sprout.

Charles Moll, manager of the Winnipeg Maroons, thought he would place his team in condition to make a speedy sprint from the barrier when the league bell rings and, so planning, assembled his players at Whitewater, Wis., a little town in the southern part of the Badger state which has for its chief asset a Normal training school for budding pedagogues. With all his precautionary measures, Moll is up against the same brand of weather that is being featured in the North. Rain, snow and winds are just as plentiful down Whitewater way as they are in Duluth, Superior, Fort William, Virginia, Fargo, Winnipeg and Port Arthur. But they do not cost as much up here.

However, there is time yet to get the various crews in fair shape for the first heat of the big race, if the old man with the sprinkling can will take a squint in the arm and purr a while. Manager O'Brien of the Duluth White Sox is becoming more and more pleased with his crew with each succeeding day's practice. Vigerust, who came here to do backstop work, received a tryout yesterday and showed to advantage. All of the pitchers are going big; but are taking only light work on account of the chilly air. Batting practice is the principal feature at Athletic park right now as all of the fielders have proven they have real class.

Superior's Prospects.

Manager Brautigan of the Superior club has a number of speedy men coming to join his crew and expects to furnish a strong lineup for next Saturday, when he will send his men against the White Sox in the second practice game of the year. He is not at all disheartened over last Sunday's performance although he did expect his recruits to make a better showing. He is praying for warm weather which will take the kinks out of a number of his veteran players who, when they get their hinges oiled a bit, are slated to bust many fences. Brautigan has a good reputation in Wisconsin, where he played professional ball for many seasons, and he can be depended upon to give Superior a crew that the fans will not be ashamed of.

Lefty Davis, manager of the Virginia team, is having a little trouble getting just the men he wants for the reason that he was not called to handle the Queen City club until late in the spring when most of the good baseball material had been picked off by other pilots. However, Lefty has a wide acquaintance among the big league heads who are friendly to him and they will, undoubtedly, come to his assistance and see that he is taken care of. He has some players now coming from the Western league that should go big in this circuit. There is no doubt but what Davis will prove to be not only the most capable manager the Ore Diggers have ever had, but the most popular as well. He is a good fellow, a great general and a real gentleman.

TWIN PORTS LEAGUE MAY BE REORGANIZED

The reorganization of the old Twin Ports baseball league which started off under bright prospects last year but waned as the season drew to a close, is being considered by a number of managers of local teams and it is probable that the project will be a reality.

The Rowells, Fairmonts and Palace teams of this city have already been organized and it is probable that another team, either from New Duluth or Morgan Park will come in. Superior has four crews already to place in the field. They are the Russells, Itascas, Little Ideals and the East Ends.

A meeting of the various managers will be held some evening this week when the personnel of the new league will be determined upon. Saturday and Sunday ball will be played throughout the summer months.

DULUTH BOYS TO WRESTLE

Local Amateurs Will Stage Tournament at Y. M. C. A. Gym Saturday.

An amateur wrestling tournament, open to all comers, will be featured next Saturday evening at the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium under the management of Physical Director Al Olson. Louis Ardouin, who instructs at the Y youths in the manly art of toe holds, hammerlocks and scissors, has a large and able class of boys who are itching to place their fins on some likely aspirants for mat honors.

There will be a special class for boys weighing 125 pounds and under, while the lightweights will go on at from 125 to 135; welterweights, from 135 to 145; middleweights, 145 to 158; light heavyweights, 158 to 175, and heavyweights, all over 175.

NEWS AND GOSSIP OF THE BOXERS

Packey McFarland wants $15,000 to meet either Ted Lewis or Jack Britton. No promoter would give him any such amount.

Mike McNulty of St. Paul, manager of Jemmy Ertle, figures that New York and Philadelphia are the only cities in which Ertle can get a square deal. He says that he would like to have Ertle meet Kid Williams in either of the cities for that reason. It is a good bet that the real reason is that those cities are no-decision ones, so Ertle would not be in danger of having a verdict rendered against him. He will, however, have to box Williams at the featherweight limit if he really wants another chance at Williams, for the latter has outgrown the bantam class.

Promoter Baker of Australia would like to get Jack Dillon to go to the kangaroo land and box Darcy, the Australian champion. Baker sends word that there is a good bunch of money waiting for Dillon in Australia. Buck Crouse is to have a chance at Darcy shortly. If Dillon gets the match with Frank Moran in this country he will get more out of it than he would meeting Darcy in Australia.

Jack Kearns, the California manager of boxers, must be planning another trip to Australia, for he is now handing out a lot of "salve" to Australians to make them feel kindly towards him. He has written to Australia saying that their champion, Darcy, can defeat Willard or any of the heavyweights in this country. Of course the American sports know that Kearns does not believe that, but is just trying to be a "toreador."

Charlie White had a chance to meet Ritchie Mitchell in Milwaukee, but when he demanded a bigger percentage than Mitchell, he spoiled his chance. Mitchell, who is the big card in that city, was willing to split the percentage evenly, and White should have grabbed the offer on that basis, for he lost a lot of prestige in that city when he boxed Freddie Welsh.

Young Sailor and his manager, Bronson, are now running a dance hall in Indianapolis.

The proposed ten-round go between Milburn "Young" Saylor, the crack Indianapolis lightweight, and Johnny Dundee, the New York fighter, at the Stadium A. C., on May 4, is not likely to be consummated unless Scotty Monteth, manager of Dundee, accepts the terms offered by Matchmaker Gibson, who is willing to give Dundee 27½ per cent of the gross receipts. Montieth is holding out for 33⅓ per cent of the receipts.

Mike Collins, who brought Fred Fulton to New York for three fights, the first of which will be with Al Reich at the Stadium A. C. on April 28, now demands that Matt Henkle, the Cleveland referee, be the third man in the ring. Mike hasn't a chance of pulling off this stunt, because Henkle is not licensed to referee in that state. Besides, Maxey Blumenthal, manager of Reich, says that he wouldn't consent to Henkle.

Bill Gibson, matchmaker of the Stadium A. C., will try to clinch matches for his next show between Gunboat Smith and Bartley Madden of Newark, and Joe Cox, the Western fighter, who claims he once made Willard quit, and Bill Brennan.

Now that the Broadway Sporting club of Brooklin has been indefinitely suspended by the state athletic commission for permitting a 13-year-old boy to box at the club's matinee recently, many bouts that were arranged by Promoter Weissmantel have been called off. Weissmantel has declared that he will appear before the commission and try to have his club's suspension lifted.

Coulon in Come-Back Stunt.

Kenosha, Wis., April 26.—Johnny Coulon, former bantam champion of the world, signalized his "comeback" to the prize ring last night by defeating Johnny Ritchie, according to critics at the ringside. The fight was fast and clever throughout the ten rounds.

Prefers "White" for Name.

Chicago, April 26.—Charles Ankowitz, known in the boxing world as Charley White, asked the circuit court today to change his name to that he wears in the ring. His petition states he is 26 years old, was born in Liverpool, Eng., and has lived in Illinois eighteen years.

INCREASES PAY OF ELECTRICAL WORKERS

Hibbing Will Pay Union Scale of $100 Per Month Hereafter.

Hibbing, Minn., April 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—The water and light board last night decided to raise the wages of the electrical workers employed by the village to $100 a month from $90 in accordance with the standard scale. A petition has been before the board three weeks asking that the raise be granted. It was supported by a communication from G. W. Larson, secretary of the Minnesota Federation of Labor, requesting that the workers be paid the union scale.

G. A. Oveson, contractor, who is installing the new incinerator plant near Brooklyn, requested a surface extension of water pipes to his construction work. The board granted the request with the condition that the contractor lay his own pipes and pay 50 cents per day for use of water.

Ward System Extended.

The question of extending the heating system from the municipal plant to First avenue, 1,640 feet, was considered but no action taken. W. T. White, engineer, and J. W. Copeland of Minneapolis, representing the Tyler Underground Heating system, installers of the Hibbing plant, gave an estimate of the cost of extending the system, as requested by residents along First avenue, and also suggested that the village lay heating pipes in the direction of the suburb of Alice, a distance of 3,000 feet.

This extension would include the Jefferson school, the Carnegie library, the Lincoln high school and the new courthouse, besides several business blocks. White stated that it would be a paying proposition for the village as the present equipment was giving satisfactory returns financially. He expressed his opinion, at the request of the board, upon the capacity of the power plant and stated that he believed it had just power enough to take care of the proposed extension to the new courthouse. He advised that the village build a municipal power plant.

VIRGINIA COUNCIL IN LIVELY SESSION

Mayor Calls Rejected Job Seeker Liar, Daring Him Outside.

Virginia, Minn., April 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—The city council last night sustained Mayor Boylan's veto of the appointment of T. C. Mellis as auditor after a sensational incident during which the mayor called Mellis a liar, a cur and a coward and dared him to step outside that personal differences might be settled.

City Clerk A. E. Bickford, for the first time in sixteen years' service, took a hand in the proceedings and roasted Mellis, defending his record against what he construed as insinuations made against it, by Mellis, in a lengthy address to the council preceding the confirming by the council of the appointment of E. J. Bishop & Co. as the city auditors by a vote of 8 to 1, the dissenting vote being cast by Alderman Coffey.

Mellis, talking to the council after the mayo's veto of his appointment had been sustained, reviewed his record during the years he was city auditor, cited what he alleged were specific irregularities he had discovered during the course of his audit, declared city improvements had been installed and not assessed against the abutting property as required by the charter, that warrants had been drawn overpaying for certain specific city service and named other instances of alleged irregularities in bookkeeping, concluding with what Mayor Boylan construed as an insinuation against his personal integrity, when he said he was not so fortunate as the mayor, who was able to live without working.

Mayor Passes the Lie.

The mayor jumped to his feet in a fury. "All of us admire a sport," yelled the mayor, "but this man has laid bare his small, little, rotten, innermost self, because he has failed to receive an appointment at the hands of this city. Nobody but a cur and a coward would stoop to such action. I want to say that last year I did over $30,000 worth of work and made over $3,500. This city has paid Mr. Mellis' firm more than $8,000 for auditing its books. His firm is the one that had Mr. Sandhoff retained to check up public improvements. The discrepancies found at that time were not found by this outfit; they were found by the city engineer. Furthermore, this firm sent to a Virginia newspaper an advance copy of their report, which was published before ever it reached the city council. That is the sort of treatment we have received here from Mr. Mellis and his concern."

Mellis declared he would have the full text of his statement published.

No Fight Outside.

Street crowds who expected a personal encounter between the mayor and Mellis after the council meeting were disappointed. The council's audience hurried to the street after adjournment, but both the mayor and Mellis had gone.

City Clerk Bickford concluded a sarcastic rebuke of Mellis' statement concerning irregularities in his office with the statement: "You have nothing on me, Mr. Mellis, I would just as soon see you step in my office tomorrow morning to audit my books as anyone I know of. My books are open to all the world all the time."

Mayor Boylan during the routine recommended an eight-hour day at $2.50 a day for city laborers and an eight-hour day for teamsters at $5.50 a day. He called attention to the pressing need for a new city hall, asked the council to have something done about it the present year and complimented the water and light board, the park department and the library board on the fine record they have attained during the past year.

The appointment of H. K. Maitland as assistant city engineer was confirmed as were the appointments of Miss Brown and Miss Gorman in the city clerk's office.

Mayor Boylan asked the council to get together, forget personalities, forget the patronage fight and work for the interests of the city. The council crowd gave him a "big hand."

STATE AUTO HEAD LAUDS TWO HARBORS

Praises Work of Auto Club on Progress Made Since Organization.

Two Harbors, Minn., April 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—The work that has been accomplished by the Two Harbors Automobile club since its organization came in for fine compliments from Henry H. Orme of St. Paul, president of the Minnesota Automobile association, who was the chief speaker at the second annual banquet of the club held last night at the Y. M. C. A., attended by nearly 100, with President Evans of the local club as toastmaster. John Dwan and Rev. D. V. Patt also spoke. During the afternoon Mr. Orme had enjoyed a ride about the city and in his address he stated that people residing in this locality did not fully realize how delightful it was to motor through Lake county; that they did not appreciate the splendor of the beautiful surroundings, which compare favorably with those in California and other points he has visited.

Praises Road Superintendent.

Mr. Orme complimented County Road Superintendent H. C. Hanson for the splendid work on the Lake county roads and the fine condition in which they are kept, laying special stress on this feature several times. He stated that while the roads are not as wide as they might be, yet so far as the roadbed is concerned it would be hard to beat them. Mr. Orme told the club he would never forget the spectacles presented yesterday afternoon, especially the one coming down the state road towards the lake and along the lake road into the city. He stated that it compares favorably with anything he has ever witnessed. Mr. Orme urged the local club to keep up its good work, and promised himself another visit to this locality in the near future.

HIBBING CONCERT BAND IS RETAINED

Musical Organization to Receive $150 for Each Appearance.

Hibbing, Minn., April 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—There is general gratification here today over the decision reached at the conference of the park board and the concert band committee yesterday afternoon that results in the musical organization being saved to Hibbing. The band will receive $150 for each of thirty-two concerts, the dates to be fixed by Superintendent of Parks Conrad Wolf.

The band will pay its own expenses, furnish its own uniforms and pay for its own advertising.

The village council was represented at the conference by Trustees Burrows and Swinnerton, the band by Edward Ekstrom, Roy Blake, Frank Dimarco, Pater Aha and Joseph Panter. All the members of the park board were present.

Seek Band Leader.

Secretary Ekstrom of the band says three band leaders are being communicated with in an effort to engage the services of a leader to take the place made vacant when Director Ahola resigned last Saturday.

George A. Barnard, leader at one time of the famous Calumet & Hecla band of Calumet, Mich., may come here if satisfactory arrangements can be made. Harry Howell, leader of the Seattle band and at one time director of the Superior Marine band is being considered.

Professor Cassil of the Dakotah state band is another leader who may be secured.

ALICE SUBURB ASKS FOR NEW SIDEWALKS

Hibbing, Minn., April 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—Petitions from citizens of Alice asking for sidewalks were before the village council yesterday afternoon and were referred to the village engineer. Petitions from Brooklyn taxpayers asking for sidewalks were treated in the same way.

Carl Thiel's request for a building permit was referred to the fire chief.

Engineer Hawley reported on the alleged cutting of timber on lands of Nestor Maki near the new wells, that Maki had no just complaint and that the timber was not cut by village crews and that Maki was mistaken regarding the description of his lands.

The report of the municipal clerk for the week ending April 22 showed receipts of $27.

The council instructed the recorder to ask for bids for a garbage wagon.

Plans for the new proposed addition to the public library were discussed. The council took no action.

Chautauqua for Hibbing.

Hibbing, Minn., April 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—Plans were practically completed yesterday at a meeting between the management of the Vawter chautauqua system and the Commercial club committee to bring the chautauqua back here this summer.

Mountain Iron Lecture.

Mountain Iron, Minn., April 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—The lyceum course will close here this evening with a lecture on popular science by Prof. Burt L. Newkirk of the University of Minnesota. The lecture will be illustrated with apparatus and all fundamental principles upon which the lecture is based will be thoroughly explained.

FOUND GUILTY ON GAMBLING CHARGE

One Virginian Convicted, Other Acquitted and Court Adjourns.

Virginia, Minn., April 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—At the close of the trial of Charles Campbell and Walter Darcy last night, on indictments charging them with permitting gambling on premises under their control, Judge Martin Hughes instructed the jury to find Campbell guilty and left the question as to Darcy's guilt with the twelve men. The jury acquitted Darcy after deliberation of about an hour.

Campbell was released under $1,000 bail. John Daly, the state's star witness, owned to having lost a large sum of money in the place he alleged Campbell and Darcy conducted and confessed to stealing $200 of the sum from a closet in his home, where his wife had hidden it from him.

None Others Lost.

Other witnesses examined by the state admitted playing cards for money in the place, but none of them had lost any considerable sums.

Judge Martin Hughes adjourned the term last night until next Monday. The judge is suffering from an infected leg. Some time ago he received a slight bruise on the shin. Yesterday it developed considerable pain and his physicians have recommended absolute rest for a time.

EVELETH HOMES IN BIG DEMAND

Unprecedented Scarcity of Suitable Dwellings in Range City.

Eveleth, Minn., April 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—Never before has houses and apartments been in such demand as at present. All during the winter houses were at a premium and the situation is more acute now than ever before. There are people in the city now who have had applications in for residences for six months and there is no prospect of them getting quarters.

There have been instances in the last few months where men with good positions here have left because they were unable to bring their families. Good residence quarters are so scarce that a stranger coming to the city has small chance of getting a house. Families already in the city who are getting along with unsatisfactory rooms have applications in for every residence or suite of rooms that become vacant.

Bargh & Perham state that they have more applications for residences than there is any prospect of their being able to fill. In fact there are no vacant apartments and changes can only be made when some one leaves the city or for some reason vacates his quarters.

LAKEVIEW PARK TO BE IMPROVED

Two Harbors People to Be Asked to Donate Services in Work.

Two Harbors, Minn., April 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—A petition to have Fifth avenue graded this summer was presented to the city council Monday evening by a large percentage of the property owners on that avenue, but after discussion it was laid over for a week or until the city decides what is to be done with Pine street on which grading and improving was started last year, between Second and Fifth avenues. There is some talk of extending the work on Pine through to Seventh avenue but no definite action has been taken.

It was definitely decided to greatly improve the grounds and buildings in Lakeview park this summer and asked that all the citizens donate at least one-half day of their services to the cause. A new concrete toilet will be constructed, new paths built and the park otherwise beautified. The work will be in charge of the city street commissioner and the city engineer.

The matter of purchasing a team of horses for the city use during the coming summer was referred to a committee to look into the advisability of doing so.

POOR TEETH BAR LATVALA FROM NAVY

Virginia, Minn., April 26.—Oiva Latvala was anxious to join the United States navy and applied for a position in the navy appearing before Recruiting Officer R. E. Bonney.

Latvala progressed nicely in the physical examination until Officer Bonney peered into his mouth. He found defective incisors and molars and this ended Latvala's naval career. Latvala hopes to have his teeth fixed and may make another application later.

Return From Mesaba Range.

Ishpeming, Mich., April 26.—S. R. Elliott, superintendent, and O. D. McClure, master mechanic, of the Cleveland-Cliffs Iron company, are from Nashwauk, Minn., where they witnessed the placing into commission of a new ore washing plant at the corporation's Crosby mine. Miss Agnes Flannigan has returned from Gilbert, Minn., where she spent several weeks visiting her brother, Thomas Flannigan, general superintendent of the Republic Iron & Steel company's mines in Minnesota.

A CLEAR COMPLEXION

Ruddy Cheeks—Sparkling Eyes —Most Women Can Have

Says Dr. Edwards, a Well-Known Ohio Physician.

Dr. F. M. Edwards for 17 years treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments. During these years he gave to his patients a prescription made of a few well-known vegetable ingredients mixed with olive oil, naming them Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets; you will know them by their olive color.

These tablets are wonder-workers on the liver and bowels, which cause a normal action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter that one's system collects.

If you have a pale face, sallow look, dull eyes, pimples, coated tongue, headaches, a listless, no-good feeling, all out of sorts, inactive bowels, you take one of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets nightly for a time and note the pleasing results.

Thousands of women as well as men, take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets now and then just to keep in the pink of condition.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the successful substitute for calomel—10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

ELY CLUB AGAINST D. & I. R. TRAIN CHANGE

Commercial Club Names Committee to Interview Company Officials.

Ely, Minn., April 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Commercial club met last evening at the city hall and the proposed changes in the Iron Range passenger schedule were discussed. Charles Trezona and Peter Schaeffer were appointed a committee to interview the Iron Range officials at Duluth and ask for the retention of the present schedule and for a Sunday train service the same as the present daily train service.

A map, showing the automobile roads, lakes, rivers and other interesting features surrounding Ely was approved by the club for advertising purposes. E. L. De Lestry, editor of the Western Magazine published at St. Paul, presented an advertising proposition to the club which was adopted.

Size of Fish Nets.

Some few weeks ago the state game and fish commission asked for recommendations as to size of nets to be used by licensed fishermen in international waters, also the limit of fish to be caught in a season by the fishermen. A committee met with a committee of Winton business men last week and the report of the committee was approved, that the Commercial club recommend that a four-inch mesh net be the minimum in size and that a limit be set on the amount of fish to be taken out of a lake in a season. A committee was appointed to attend the meeting of the State Forestry association at Minneapolis, April 27, where Ely will be represented at the "Playground of the Nation."

TO SHIP PULPWOOD.

Many Thousand Cords at Knife River Awaiting Boats.

Knife River, Minn., April 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—Shipments of pulpwood are expected to begin soon. Fifteen thousand cords of Curry & Whyte's wood going to the Hammer Mill Paper company of Erie, Pa., is here awaiting boats. There will in addition be several thousand cords from Alger Smith & Co., which are to be loaded direct from cars into the boat. This industry furnishes employment to about 100 men.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Craven announce the birth of a daughter April 25.

LAWLER RE-ELECTED AS CLUB SECRETARY

Hibbing, Minn., April 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—At an executive session of the directors of the Commercial club and the village council held last night, until nearly midnight, it was agreed that J. E. Lawler, present secretary of the club, be retained for the ensuing year and that his salary remain as at present, $150 a month, the club and council sharing equally in the payment of salary.

A communication was presented by Lawler asking that he be retained as secretary and that his salary be advanced to $200 a month.

STATE LABOR MAN IS IN VIRGINIA

Secretary Lawson Arranging for Labor Forward Meetings Movement.

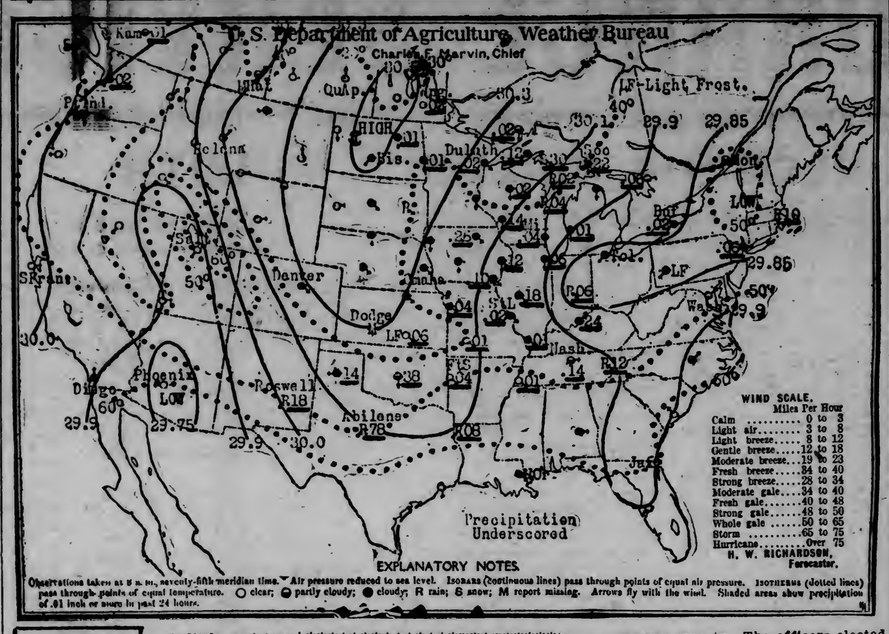
Virginia, Minn., April 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—Secretary Lawson of the State Federation of Labor is here today to arrange for meetings in the interest of the labor forward movement, following the labor rally the week of May 8 in Duluth.

Local unions are interested and will arrange for meetings here. It is also proposed to have them in all range towns with representatives of the national federation as speakers.

Virginia Church Election.

Virginia, Minn., April 26.—The annual parish meeting of St. Paul's Episcopal church was held in the Guild hall. Reports of the following organizations were given: St. Paul's Guild, St. Cecilia's Guild, Girls' Missionary Guild and the Sunday school. The secretary and the treasurer of the church also gave reports. The officers elected for the following year were: J. E. Howe, senior warden; T. W. Lusk, William Bennett, H. O. Griggs and R. R. Bailey, vestrymen.

TO DARKEN HAIR APPLY SAGE TEA



Look Young! Bring Back Its Natural Color, Gloss and Attractiveness.

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea with sulphur added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Just a few applications will prove a revelation if your hair is fading, streaked or gray. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get a 50-cent bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound at any drug store all ready for use. This is the old time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients.

While wispy, gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared, and, after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant.

This preparation is a delightful toilet requisite and is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.—Advertisement.

OFFICIAL MAP OF THE WEATHER

WARMER

A little moisture fell late yesterday but not enough to amount to anything; and it may be that the earth will get a soaking some time today. The day is rather chilly, too. Sunshine which started late in the morning helped matters.

A year ago today was hazy and warm. The sun rose this morning at 5 o'clock and will set this evening at 7:11, giving fourteen hours and eleven minutes of sunlight.

Mr. Richardson makes the following comment on weather conditions:

"Rain fell during Tuesday or last night over Central and Eastern Canada, the Lake region, Lower Ohio, Mississippi, Lower Missouri and Red river valleys and the Southwest. Light snow fell over portions of Lake Superior. Cooler weather prevails in the Middle West and Southwestern states, elsewhere the temperature changes were generally slight. Cool weather is the rule in interior and northern districts. Frost last night at Pittsburgh, Pa."

General Forecasts.

Chicago, April 26.—Forecasts for the twenty-four hours ending at 7 p. m. Thursday:

Minnesota—Generally fair tonight and Thursday; somewhat warmer Thursday.

Wisconsin—Partly cloudy and continued cool tonight and Thursday; probably frost tonight in west portion.

Iowa—Partly cloudy tonight and Thursday; probably frost in northwest and central portions tonight; somewhat warmer Thursday in west portion.

North Dakota—Fair tonight and Thursday; somewhat warmer Thursday and in northwest portion tonight.

South Dakota—Fair tonight and probably Thursday; somewhat warmer Thursday.

Montana—Partly cloudy tonight and Thursday; warmer in east portion tonight.

LOCAL FORECAST

Duluth, Superior and vicinity, including the Mesaba and Vermilion iron ranges: Partly cloudy tonight and Thursday. Warmer Thursday. Fresh north and northwest winds.

WILL BOOST ROAD TO BORDER CITY

Virginia and International Falls Road Advocates Are Co-operating.

Virginia, Minn., April 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—Virginia and International Falls good roads enthusiasts are arranging for a joint meeting to take up with the commissioners of St. Louis county the matter of building thirty miles of new road to furnish a complete highway from Duluth to the International border.

Senator Nord, president of the International Falls Commercial club, indorses and fosters the plan. The commissioners may be asked to hold a special meeting in Virginia.

MISSING BUYCK MAN'S BODY FOUND

Taken From Vermilion River and Coroner Is Investigating.

Virginia, Minn., April 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—The body of M. O. Kjos, the Buyck township homesteader missing since last November, was found today in the Vermilion river a short distance from his home, by neighbors, who have been searching the countryside for a trace of the missing man for some days.

A message was received by Deputy Coroner John H. Crowe shortly before noon today telling of the find, but gave no details. The theory that Kjos was murdered or that he was a suicide has obtained. Coroner Crowe left Sunday afternoon for Buyck to make an investigation.

PLAY MAYOR'S MARCH.

Music Composed By J. S. Saari Thirteen Years Ago Is Rendered.

Eveleth, Minn., April 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—A march composed thirteen years ago by Mayor J. S. Saari was played Sunday afternoon as part of the concert by the Eveleth City band, a new organization directed by Victor Park, which made its first public appearance Sunday and gave a very pleasing concert. The band hitherto was known as the Eveleth Star band.

The march by Mayor Saari is known as the "Spartonia" march. It was composed Thanksgiving day thirteen years ago. Mr. Saari was then a resident of Sparta and employed in the grocery store of Saari, Campbell & Kraker and a prominent band man.

ORGANIZATIONS WIN OUT IN OHIO

Slates of Both Republicans and Democrats Are Successful.

Columbus, Ohio, April 26.—Returns received today from yesterday's primaries made certain the election of organization candidates for delegates-at-large to both the Republican and Democratic national conventions.

Former Senator Theodore E. Burton of Ohio received the Republican vote for president and President Wilson that of the Democrats.

A few voters wrote in the names of Henry Ford, Theodore Roosevelt, Charles E. Hughes, Elihu Root, Charles W. Fairbanks, William J. Bryan and Champ Clark as their choice for the presidential nomination.

The Republicans elected as delegates-at-large Senator Warren G. Harding, Governor Frank B. Willis, John J. Sullivan of Cleveland and Col. William Cooper Proctor of Cincinnati.

The Democratic delegates-at-large elected are Former Governor James M. Cox, Former Governor James E. Campbell, Former Governor Judson Harmon and Senator Atlee Pomerene.

DELEGATES OF BAY STATE UNPLEDGED

Thirty-Two Out of Thirty-Six Republicans Have Free Rein.

Boston, Mass., April 26.—Thirty-two of the thirty-six delegates chosen in the presidential primaries yesterday to represent Massachusetts in the Republican national convention at Chicago are unpledged to any candidate for president. These include the four delegates-at-large, Governor Samuel W. McCall, Senators Henry Cabot Lodge and John W. Weeks and Former Senator W. Murray Crane. The remaining four district delegates are understood to favor the nomination of Theodore Roosevelt. A revision of the figures for the entire state today showed the following vote for delegates-at-large:

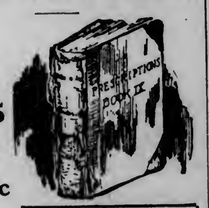
Unpledged ticket—Samuel W. McCall, 62,775; Henry Cabot Lodge, 61,352; John W. Weeks, 58,568; W. Murray Crane, 59,185.

Roosevelt ticket—Charles S. Bird, 46,209; Grafton D. Cushing, 46,255; Augustus P. Gardner, 45,495; Robert M. Washburn, 42,757.

The Democratic delegates-at-large were chosen without opposition and all favor the renomination of President Wilson.

To Hold Missionary Congress.

Washington, April 26.—Hundreds of delegates gathered here today for the opening session tonight of the National Missionary congress to be held under the auspices of the laymen's missionary movement.



TO END CATARRHAL DEAFNESS AND HEAD NOISES

If you have Catarrhal Deafness or head noises go to your druggist and get 1 ounce of Parmint (double strength), and add to it ¼ pint of hot water and 4 ounces of granulated sugar. Take 1 tablespoonful four times a day.

This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy and the mucus stop dropping into the throat. It is easy to prepare, costs little and is pleasant to take. Any one who has Catarrhal Deafness or head noises should give this prescription a trial.—Advertisement.

GREAT INTEREST IN TIME-WORN RECORD

Book Used In 1855 Proves Historic Facts

The Old Prescription Book

The old prescription book, used at Carleton & Hovey's Drug Store in Lowell, Mass., in 1855, is still carefully preserved. On the page dated June 9, 1855, is written the original prescription for Father John's Medicine. This prescription was compounded for the Reverend Father John O'Brien at the old drug store on that date, and was so successful in treating Father John's ailment, which was a severe cold and throat trouble, that he recommended the medicine to his friends and parishioners. In going to the drug store and calling for the medicine, they always asked for Father John's Medicine, and in this way the medicine got its name and was advertised. Father John's Medicine is a safe family remedy for colds, coughs, throat troubles, and as a tonic and body builder, because it does not contain opium, morphine, chloroform, and any other poisonous drugs, or alcohol, but is all pure, wholesome, nourishing.

MARKETS UP ON CROP NEWS

Bullish Southwest Reports Lead to Heavy Buying in Wheat Futures.

Flaxseed Again Bulges With Active Bidding By Crushers' Interests.

Duluth Board of Trade, April 26.—The market was steady around the close, but final prices were fractionally off from the top. The new crop future was, however, especially strong.

May wheat closed 1@1⅛c up, July 1c up and September 2¼c up.

May durum closed 2c up and July 1⅞c up.

Oats closed ⅛c off at 42¼c for on the track; rye unchanged at 92c and barley 1c up at from 65c to 73c for on the track.

At Winnipeg May oats closed unchanged at 45¼@45⅜c bid and July at 45@45⅛c asked.

At St. Louis May wheat closed at $1.10¾ and July at $1.11⅝@1.11½.

At Kansas City May wheat closed at $1.05½ bid and July at $1.07¼.

Puts on Minneapolis May wheat closed at $1.17¼ and calls at $1.20⅛.

The wheat market was strong again today, advancing 1c during the first three hours' trading. The main impetus was furnished in the report of the chamber of commerce at Washington placing the acreage in winter wheat at below a ten-year average, and one-third less than last year. It placed the acreage in wheat at approximately 20 per cent less than a year ago, with the greatest losses coming in the large wheat-growing states.

The news from over the Northwest was, however, better, farmers being reported as in the fields all along the line of the Great Northern railroad in Dakota, and the opinion is expressed in some quarters that the usual acreage will be seeded, even though farmers are forced to put in a proportion of their crop on the stubble. That there will be a large falling off in the Red River valley is, however, conceded.

Weather reports were also more cheerful from over the Canadian West. Growers in Saskatchewan are rushing ahead with their spring work, according to advices from Winnipeg today.

An unsatisfactory feature noted in the local market just now is the quiet Eastern demand for wheat. Offers were made freely by interests here to Eastern millers for Buffalo delivery today, but no trade was worked. As a result of present conditions in the market, an easier tone was noted in grain boat rates. Tonnage from the Head of the Lakes to Buffalo was advised to have been offered today at 4c, or 1c off from the figure made at the beginning of the week. Shipments of durum are being made to cover contracts, but the outgo of domestic spring wheat from the elevators is limited. Inspections of wheat at Duluth today were only 8 cars, and there were just 14 cars of all grains on the tracks.

May wheat opened unchanged at $1.17⅝, and advanced 1c till the noon hour. July opened ⅛c up at $1.18⅜, and gained ⅞c more. September opened unchanged at $1.14 and gained 1c.

The market in durum was relatively more active than in spring wheat. May durum opened ⅛c up at $1.12, and gained 1c more. July opened unchanged at $1.13⅛ and bulged ⅞c.

Flaxseed Still Strong.

Flaxseed quotations were advanced 1⅛c at the start on the execution of a fair quota of buying orders from crushers' interests. The market was later called upon to absorb profit taking sales and prices eased off. A shipment of flaxseed was made for the East by boat today, and it was intimated that a considerable tonnage of the seed will go out in the near future.

May flax opened 1½c up at $2.09, and closed 1¼c up at $2.08½ bid. July opened ¼c off at $2.08, and closed 1¼c up at $2.10 bid. November was quoted at $1.92 bid.

At Winnipeg, May flax closed 2c up at $1.85¾ bid, and July 2c up at $1.88¾ bid.

At Buenos Aires, flax closed 1½c off at $1.30⅝, and London 4⅝c up at $2.61.

The Chamber of Commerce of the United States at Washington makes a report upon the wheat situation in which it says that, "The winter wheat crop this year will be below the ten-year average, approximately one-third less than the crop of 1915, or roughly speaking around 450,000,000 bu. There is approximately 20 per cent less acreage in wheat than at this time last year. The decrease in acreage is the greatest in the large wheat growing states, particularly in Kansas, Missouri, Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, Ohio and Iowa. The abandoned acreage is much larger than the average and much will be plowed up and replanted in oats and corn."

Winnipeg wired that Western Canada weather map shows better weather than is expected. Field work is progressing well in all sections of the Western Saskatchewan district.

At Minneapolis there was a brisk demand for wheat. Improvement started before the close yesterday with an elevator company bidding 5c over for good blue stem No. 1 northern. That kind was quoted today at 3c to 5c over, with No. 1 hard in very good demand at 6c over and velvet chaff at 1½c to 2½c over. Several millers reported improved flour trade, but no important business was done.

Broomhall cabled from Liverpool: "Wheat was dull with pressure of spot and this offset firm American cables. Spot was unchanged to 1d lower, with pressure of Manitobas, for which there is quiet demand and lack of storage room. Cargo market was steady, but nominal, Manitobas 4½d higher; winters, 3d higher. Argentines and Australians were steadily held. English country markets easier, offering shilling lower. It is expected that Canadian shipments will shortly commence and with large reserves there arrivals to United Kingdom will be liberal, and with Argentina, Australia and India competing, supplies will be liberal and favoring buyers."

Price Current says: "Developments in the winter wheat region were slightly favorable last week. Cold weather has helped to sturdy growth. Winter killing is confined largely to the lake states and to Missouri and Texas. In the three states south of the Great Lakes the loss is greater than in 1912. Total loss to acreage of winter wheat will be around 44,4500,000 acres. Indicated yield is about 525,000,000 bu in the spring wheat country, particularly in North Dakota and Northern Minnesota conditions are unfavorable. Rains have been excessive with weather cool. In this section the loss is perhaps 3,000,000 acres, leaving 7,000,000 acres to be seeded, assuming that planting will be possible within the coming week."

Weather forecast: Illinois and Kansas—Unsettled tonight and Thursday cool.

Missouri, Iowa and Nebraska—Part cloudy tonight and Thursday.

Minnesota and Dakotas—Generally fair tonight and Thursday; warmer.

Chas. E. Lewis & Co., had the following closing letter from Chicago: "The Northwestern crop outlook was the principal influence. It gave the bulls courage and they added to their lines. It put September over May and close to July, a most unusual condition. It reflects speculators' sentiment. He is willing to pay a carrying change on the theory of the short crop. Winter wheat crop was favored with more moisture."

MINNEAPOLIS MARKET.

Minneapolis, Minn., April 26.—Wheat—Higher; receipts, 176 cars, compared with 85 a year ago.

May opened $1.18¼; high, $1.19½@1.19⅝; low, $1.18¼; closed, $1.19⅛; July opened $1.18¼ to 1.18⅝; high, $1.19⅝; low, $1.18¼; closed, $1.19@1.19⅛.

Liverpool Grain.

Liverpool, April 26.—Wheat—Spot, No. 1 Manitoba, 12s 10d; No. 3, 12s 4d; No. 1 northern spring, 12s 4d; No. 2 red western winter, 11s 5d.

Corn—Spot, American mixed, new, 10s 10d.

CHICAGO MARKET.

Chicago, April 26.—Excessive moisture in the Northwest prevented to a serious extent the seeding of the spring crop, ran prices up today in the wheat market here. The bullish situation as to the spring crop was specially emphasized by estimates that the yield of winter wheat this season would be under a ten-year average and one-third less than the crop of 1915. Buying, which was on a broad scale, included a good deal on the part of foreigners. After opening a shade off to ⅝c up, with May at $1.13⅜@1.13⅝ and July at $1.14⅛@1.14⅝, the market scored a substantial advance all around.

Continued uneasiness over the diplomatic outlook operated as an offset for the large stocks in sight. The market closed unsettled, but ⅝@¾ to 1⅜c net higher, with May at $1.14⅝ and July at $1.15@1.15⅛.

Corn shared in the strength of wheat. Persistent buying for large interest took the surplus off the market. Opening prices which ranged from unchanged figures to ⅜c higher, were followed by moderate general gains.

Assertions that Liverpool was paying prices equal to 90c per bu at the seaboard in the United States kept the market on the upgrade. The close was nervous at ⅞ to ⅞@1c net advance.

Trading in oats was of a local character. Most of the business consisted of changing speculative holdings from May to July, causing irregular but unimportant fluctuations.

Provisions weakened owing to a setback in the price of hogs. Many holders seemed disposed to realize on lard.

Wheat—No. 2 red, $1.20@1.21; No. 3 red, $1.13¾@1.17; No. 2 hard, $1.16½@1.17; No. 3 hard, $1.13@1.14.

Oats—No. 3 white, 44¼@45c; standard, 45½@46c.

Rye, No. 2 and No. 3, nominal; No. 4, 92c; barley, 63@75c; timothy, $4.50@8.00; clover, $7.50@16.00.

Pork, $22.75@23.45; lard, $12.40; ribs, $12.25@12.50.

General summary, received from Chicago: Well distributed rains in the winter wheat belt, varying decidedly in amounts from eastern limits westward to including the greater portion of Oklahoma, extreme Eastern and Southern Kansas, and the eastern half of Iowa. Frost in Kansas. Otherwise temperature changes were of no importance.

Summary of weather and crop conditions in the corn and wheat region for the week ending April 25, 1916:

Washington, D. C., April 26, 1916. — Weather very favorable for winter wheat in most districts. General rains in central states checked development of Hessian fly. Spring wheat seeding delayed in extreme north by cold, wet weather but germination is satisfactory in the southern part of the region. Corn coming up well in southern and planting and plowing is progressing satisfactorily in central states, although somewhat later than average. Weather generally favorable for pastures, meadows, oats, truck crops and fruit.

H. W. RICHARDSON, Local Forecaster.

GOOD ADVANCE IN GREENE-CANANEA

Apart from the zinc stocks, which weakened under profit taking sales, the market in mining stocks at Boston was firm today. Greene-Cananea was a feature, advancing $2.50 to $48.

American Zinc sold off $1.62 around the close at $89.38, and Butte & Superior declined 87 cents to $91.62.

Calumet & Arizona sold in the late trading, 25 cents up at $72; Copper Range 50 cents up at $63; Isle Royale 50 cents up at $29; Lake 50 cents up at $16; Mohawk 75 cents off at $96.50, and North Butte 50 cents off at $27.

London metal market—Spot and futures closed up £1; electrolytic up £1; spelter, spot unchanged, and futures unchanged.

The sharp recovery in Greene-Cananea during the last two days after its break at the end of last week was brought about largely through the relieving of the apprehension that had been created through the statement that its franchises had been canceled by the Mexican government. Officials of the company now state that the concessions referred to are minor ones granted by the state of Sonora, and their annulment would not affect the operations of the company to any extent.

Greene-Cananea's principal franchises were granted by Porfirio Diaz, and have been recognized by the Carranza government. The action of Gen. Calles is purely a state and not a Mexican government move, and Greene-Cananea officers do not anticipate any serious difficulty in arranging for a renewal of the concessions controlled by the state of Sonora.

The Butte & Zenith City Copper company is reported to have struck a strong vein of copper in its shaft at a depth of 650 feet. This ledge was first encountered at the 450-foot level, and it is believed to extend all the way down. Officials say that no attempt will be made to open it until the 1,000-foot level has been reached by the shaft.

STOCKS ARE UNSETTLED

Recent Buying Demand Absent and Market Is Under Pressure.

Norfolk & Western Has Advance on Higher and Extra Dividends.

New York, April 26.—Latest foreign advices, failure of the United States Steel directors to increase the common dividend and the more acute phases of the domestic labor situation accounted for the irregular tone of today's early market. Declines of 1 to 3 points were recorded by some of the more active specialties, notably Crucible Steel, Baldwin Locomotive, Studebaker, Mercantile Marine preferred and New York Airbrake, while others of the same class lost substantial fractions. United States Steel was again under pressure, as were also leading rails. There were moderate gains in Pacific Mail, Mexican Petroleum, Industrial Alcohol and Distillers' Securities.

The noteworthy feature of the forenoon in the stock market today was the absence of the recent buying demand. A further unsettlement was occasioned when Crucible and Baldwin, together with other active munitions and industrials, were singled out by the short interest. New Haven, one of yesterday's weakest features, denoted increased pressure, and other prominent rails were lower. There were counter-movements in Marines and some of the coppers, Greene-Cananea responding favorably to prospects of an increased dividend. United States Steel and other former favorites were under steady restraint, with renewed selling of the list at noon. Bonds were steady.

A brisk inquiry for Norfolk & Western, which rose 2⅜ in anticipation of an increased dividend, featured the dull and narrow dealings of the midsession. Pressure against leading specialties and rails relaxed slightly.

Norfolk & Western increased its gain to 3½ in the final hour on announcement of increased and extra dividends. Elsewhere lower prices prevailed. The closing was heavy.

DAY IN CONGRESS

SENATE.

Resumed debate on rural credits bill.

Conferees on army reorganization bill held a preliminary meeting.

HOUSE.

Took up calendar bills.

JOHN A. PATTEN DIES IN CHICAGO HOSPITAL

Chicago, April 26.—John A. Patten, president of the Chattanooga Medicine company of Chattanooga, Tenn., died at a local hospital early today after a short illness. He was attending the trial of the libel suits which he and Z. C. Patten had brought against the American Medical association. He was taken suddenly ill with intestinal trouble yesterday and hurried to the hospital, where an operation failed to save his life.

Mr. Patten was prominent in Methodist circles, having held many offices in the church.

FOUR ARE KILLED IN ATTACK ON YARMOUTH

London, April 26.—Yarmouth was bombarded as well as Lowestoft by the German warships which attacked the eastern coast yesterday. Four persons were killed and twelve wounded.

CHINESE REBELS ARE TO MARCH ON PEKIN

San Francisco, Cal., April 26.—A rebel advance on Pekin, the capital of China, has been ordered by the Chinese revolutionists, according to a Shanghai dispatch to the Chinese Republican association here today.

An army of several hundred thousand troops under Luy Ung-Ting, formerly commander of Yuan Shi Kai's forces in Kwangsi province, and Gen. Lung Chi Kwang, formerly with the government troops in Kwang Tung, will begin the march upon Pekin soon, it was said.

WOULD RAISE FUNDS TO AID WAR SUFFERERS

Washington, April 26. — President Wilson was asked today to issue a nation-wide appeal through all churches and religious denominations for contributions to relieve suffering in Europe and Asia growing out of the war. A committee of clergy from the Federal council of the churches of Christ in America, sponsor of the plan, presented a formal memorial to the president. It proposed that a campaign to raise funds be held throughout the United States during the week preceding Memorial day. The president will give the plan serious thought.

U. S. ISSUES STATEMENT ON ARMED MERCHANTMEN

Washington, April 26.—A statement defining the attitude of the United States toward armed merchant ships, was made public today by the state department by direction of President Wilson. It originally was prepared as a circular note to other powers.

The statement holds to the right of a merchant ship to arm for protection only but declares that "merchantmen which have used their armaments for aggressive purposes are not entitled to the same hospitality in neutral ports as peaceable armed merchantmen."

Volsted Files.

St. Paul, Minn., April 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—Congressman A. J. Volsted, Republican, of the Seventh district, today filed for renomination. Ralph J. Parker filed for representative in the state legislature from a district composed of Houston and Fillmore counties. The office is non-partisan.

Camp Latter Part of August.

Appleton, Wis., April 26.—Word came from the adjutant-general's office today that the encampment of the Wisconsin National Guard will probably be held after the middle of August.

Russian Troops Parade.

Marseilles, April 26.—The Russian troops which arrived here yesterday held dress parade today in the presence of a vast crowd which cheered them wildly. They were preceded by little girls who strewed flowers in their path.

CELEBRATION IN TWO BORDER TOWNS

International Falls, Minn., April 26.—A joint celebration of the Odd Fellows anniversary by Odd Fellows of this city and the Canadian Odd Fellows across the border in Fort Frances, Ont., next Sunday will be one of the novel observances of the Three Linkers great day. The program calls for the morning services in this city at the Viking theater, with sermon by Rev. Mr. Blake. In the evening the services will be at the Fort Frances Methodist church.

In the morning the local Odd Fellows and Rebekahs, headed by the local band, will march to the bridge to receive the visiting members and escort them to the theater.

In the evening the members from this city will be accorded similar honors by the Fort Frances brethren.

BORDER CITY NOTES.

International Falls, Minn., April 26.—The scale of wages for men working in the woodroom at the paper mill has been $1.75 per day for the past three years, and has been raised to $2.45, upon demand of the workmen. The work is largely in the water and for that reason is not looked upon with favor by the average laborer.

John Murphy and family are preparing to remove to Duluth, where they will make their future home. Mr. Murphy is an old timer here and during his stay, in the early days, homesteaded a nice quarter section in the Ray country.

Fred Harmon went to Northome Monday night to attend to business matters in connection with the opening of the road work of the Northwestern Construction company, for which all preparations have been made. As soon as the weather permits, the work will be started.

SHERIFF'S SLAYER TO BE TRIED NEXT MONTH

Barron, Wis., April 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—Circuit court for Barron county will convene May 1. There are eight criminal cases on the calendar, twenty-two cases of fact for jury, and twenty cases of fact for court. There are thirty-two petitioners for citizenship.

Wenzel Beronek, who killed Sheriff Matt Olson last winter, will be tried at this term.

Alfred Kringle, who, while drunk last summer, by reckless driving upset his auto and killed two women near Mikana, will also be tried for manslaughter.

It is expected the term will last about three weeks.

Barron Oratorical Contest.

Barron, Wis., April 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—In the oratorical contest held here, Edwin Solie took first and Arthur Teigen second place, and in the declamatory contest Clara Ellsworth took first and Nellie Rerbach second place. The girls will go to Rice Lake and the boys to Bloomer to the district contest, April 28.

Sentenced for Fraud.

Manitowoc, Wis., April 26.—P. S. Gayton, giving his home as Chicago, and said to be a magazine solicitor, was sentenced to six months at hard labor here today on charges of obtaining money under false pretenses.

Lopez Taken to Chihuahua.

Torreon, April 26, via El Paso, Tex.—Pablo Lopez, the Villa lieutenant captured recently near Santa Ysabel, has been taken a prisoner to Chihuahua by Gen. Barrios. Lopez is wounded in both legs. He says he knows nothing of Villa's whereabouts, or whether he is dead or alive.

FIRST JOB IN DULUTH'S BIGGEST PAVING PROGRAM IS UNDER WAY

TEARING UP EAST SUPERIOR STREET PAVEMENT.

Duluth's 1916 paving program is under way.

On Monday morning the D. H. Clough & Co., began work on the Superior street pavement, from Sixteenth to Twenty-third avenues east, and within a day or two Rogers & McLean will begin on the West First street pavement. Several other paving jobs are expected to be under way by the latter part of next week, including Central avenue, Fifth avenue west, Nineteenth avenue east and Grand avenue.

The street car company is now tearing up the pavement between the tracks along the proposed East Superior street pavement and a crew of men will begin excavating the entire surface within a few days. A machine, ordered especially for this work, has arrived and will be used by D. H. Clough. The material torn up will be spread along several of the roadways in the vicinity of Eighteenth avenue east.

East Superior street will be closed to traffic until the entire improvement is finished. It is expected that the pavement will be ready for use within two months. Superior street will be paved with Trinidad Lake asphalt and West First street with Class A brick.

ARBOR DAY TO BE APRIL 28

Rural Schools in All Parts of County Will Have Exercises.

Friday, April 28, will be Arbor and Bird day.

It has been set apart by Governor Burnquist as a day on which residences should be beautified by the planting of trees, shrubbery and flowers and for encouraging the protection of bird life.

In school throughout St. Louis county special Arbor day exercises will be held, according to H. B. Hursh, assistant county superintendent of schools. Practically every school which will be in session at the time will observe the day by beautifying the school grounds in some way.

Boys' and girls' clubs which have been organized in the rural communities have taken up the work of beautifying the school grounds by planting shade trees, vines and flowers, and in several instances plats of the manner in which improvements are to be made have been sent in by the children to the county superintendent.

Supt. N. A. Young declared this morning that the children in the rural schools were very much interested in this work and in several instances had worked out excellent plans for making the grounds more attractive.

COMMENCEMENT AT CLOQUET ON JUNE 2

Class Night and Commencement Exercises Will Be at Same Time.

Cloquet, Minn., April 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—It has been decided to hold the Lincoln high school graduation exercises the evening of June 2.

Class and commencement exercises will be united and held the same night. Prof. Maria Sanford of the state university will be the speaker of the evening. The class will graduate about thirty-five and members will wear caps and gowns made of a light gray material.

By Young Peoples' Society.

The Young Peoples' Society of the Episcopalian church gave an entertainment last night in Elms' hall. Miss Sarah Ruth Bates, noted lyceum reader, gave one of her farewell entertainments, this being her final tour on the stage. The entertainment was good and was enjoyed by a large and appreciative audience.

STEEL PROFITS SET NEW HIGH RECORD

U. S. Corporation Reports Quarterly Earnings of $60,713,624.

New York, April 26.—All previous records for earnings by the United States Steel corporation were surpassed in the first quarter of the present year, according to the detailed statement for that period, issued after the close of business yesterday. Total earnings amounted to $60,713,624, net income to $51,218,559, and the surplus for the quarter to $32,854,172. These figures compare with the previous high record made in the quarter immediately preceding of $51,232,788 in earnings, $40,853,113 in net income, and $23,300,692 in surplus.

The most remarkable feature of the statement was the steady rise in monthly earnings with the progress of the quarterly period. For January, earnings amounted to $18,794,912, swelling to $19,196,396 for the shorter month of February, and mounting to $22,722,316 in March. Earnings in March were almost twice as much as the preferred and common dividend requirements for the entire quarter.

The balance for the quarter, after liberal allowances for depreciation, payments applicable to the sinking fund and other outstanding bonds, amounted to $45,512,872, whereas a year ago there remained a balance of only $915,058.

Contrary to expectations in many quarters, the directors not only failed to order an extra disbursement on the common stock, but, according to Chairman E. H. Gary, the subject was not even formally discussed. Taking the first quarter's exhibitions as a basis, the current month is expected to show earnings of $25,000,000, with a total of not less than $70,000,000 for the second quarter. The regular quarterly preferred dividend of 1¾ per cent was also declared.

The United States Steel corporation, it is understood, is almost fully booked for the balance of 1916, and has taken many large contracts for delivery during the coming year. Prices for the business of the first and succeeding quarters of the year are at highest averages of recent years and in some instances they establish new records.

Two More Quakes Recorded.

Washington, April 26.—Two earthquakes, one beginning at 9:27 p. m. last night and the second at 2:23 a. m., were recorded on Georgetown university seismographs today. The first disturbance ended at 10:07 p. m. It was estimated the distance from Washington was 2,200 miles. The movement was east and west. The second disturbance continued until 3 a. m.

HOOPES-KOHAGEN COMPANY

RECORD CUT OF LUMBER

Backus-Brooks Company Will Saw 150,000,000 Feet This Year.

Good Demand But Prices Low, Says E. W. Backus.

The Backus-Brooks Lumber company, which has mills at International Falls, Spooner and Keewatin, will saw 150,000,000 feet of lumber this year, which will be a record cut. All of their three mills have large capacities and are working day and night crews.

This information was given out this morning by E. W. Backus of Minneapolis, one of the principal stockholders in the company, who is at the Spalding hotel on his way home from the North country, where he has been on a trip of inspection. "We are looking forward to the biggest year in the history of our operations in Northern Minnesota," said Mr. Backus. "We employed more than 5,000 men in our logging camps the last winter and expect to keep from 500 to 1,000 men busy in the woods during the coming summer.

"No, the northern floods did not interfere with the operation of our mills and we did not lose a log on account of the high water. I know of one railroad bridge that was carried away by the ice and I guess the paper mills were disabled for a few days, but all are running now and the flood water is seeking its natural level.

"We are not finding any difficulty in disposing of our lumber output, but the prices are too low considering the high cost of operation. We should be getting more money for our lumber and I think we will before the season is very much further advanced."

IMMIGRATION IS AT LOW EBB

Few Foreigners Are Asking for First Papers in Duluth.

Owing to the compulsory army service in most European nations involved in the war, few emigrants are leaving for the United States, according to Frederick A. Junnikkila of Finland, who came here April 13 and applied for his first citizenship papers at the United States district court today. Like many others, he grew tired of the hardships occasioned by the war, and sought a new country and new home for his family.

Junnikkila is 48 years old and he has a wife and eight children, all of whom are now in Finland. The husband and father expects to save enough money as an unskilled laborer to pay transportation expenses for his wife and children and to provide a home for them in the New World. When declaring his intention to become a citizen here, he said that conditions in Finland and other European countries were very bad, and that it was almost impossible for a man to support a family there. There would be thousands of emigrants, he said, except for the compulsory army service in most European countries.

The United States district court has had a dull month in the handling of prospective citizens. Very few have applied for papers during the month of April.

MONEY IS SOON RAISED.

Fargo-Moorhead Shakespearean Celebration Is Assured.

Fargo, N. D., April 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—In an hour, enough money was raised by the finance committee for the Shakespearean tercentenary celebration to be held here on May 6 to 13, inclusive, to pull off the event. Considerably more than $500 was subscribed, $500 being all that was asked for by the central committee that has charge of the entire celebration.

It was decided to hold a masque party on the streets of the city as the closing event of the week, this event to take place on the evening of May 13. The week will open with a great pageant procession on the afternoon of May 6, followed by dancing and games in Island park. Seven Shakespearean dramas will be presented by the educational institutions of Fargo and Moorhead during the week.

MUTE WALKS LONG WAY FOR JOB

Delavan, Wis., April 26.—John Zgola, of Milwaukee, a former student at the Wisconsin state school for the deaf, adopted Edward Payson Weston's method of travel in returning to Delavan to take a position in the Bradley knitting works, which employs scores of deaf workmen. Young Zgola walked from Milwaukee to Delavan, sixty-five miles, in less than two days.

To Enter Reconstructed Car.

Bemidji, Minn., April 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—In an automobile, reconstructed in Bemidji, and which will bear the name "Bigmidg," C. W. Jewett of this city will enter the opening of the Twin City Speedway races on Memorial day. The car Mr. Jewett will use is a reconstructed Ford, designed by himself and he intends to enter all the races with it.

BURDICK TO STICK.

North Dakota Gubernatorial Candidate Will Not Quit.

Fargo, N. D., April 26.—A final attempt of the North Dakota Farmers' Nonpartisan league to effect the removal of U. L. Burdick, Williston, from the field as a candidate for governor has failed. Burdick flatly declined to withdraw, and efforts to center Republican support upon any one candidate in the coming primaries have failed. Four now are seeking the nomination.

Petitions for the nomination of Louis B. Hanna as a candidate for United States senator placed in circulation here, dispel all doubts as to the governor's intentions. There recently were rumors afloat to the effect that either McCumber or Hanna would withdraw.

Key Chief to La Crosse.

Grand Forks, N. D., April 26.—F. J. Rank of Minneapolis, who has held the position of manager of the local branch of the Western Union Telegraph company for the last two weeks, during the absence of J. C. Jackson, left last evening for La Crosse, Wis., where he will hold a similar position. Mr. Jackson resumed his duties at the Western Union office after a two weeks' vacation.

MARTIAL LAW DECLARED THROUGHOUT IRELAND

ONALASKA, SUBURB OF LA CROSSE, MAROONED BY WATERS OF RIVER

Little City Completely Cut Off With Exception of One Track.

All Wagon Roads and Streets Overflowed By Flood.

Railroads in Flooded Districts in Danger of Further Washouts.

La Crosse, Wis., April 27.—Onalaska, a city of 1,500 people, four miles north of La Crosse, is completely marooned from the outside world today except via the Northwestern railway over which through a lake miles in size trains are still able to creep slowly into the town. All the wagon roads out of Onalaska were overflowed last night, and the rise of the water until it ran a foot deep over the interurban tracks cut off street car communication with La Crosse today. Any hour the Northwestern may be obliged to stop sending out trains because of the rising water, or the greater danger from the undermining of its tracks by the high water of weeks, with the result that Onalaska will be cut off from the world altogether.

Will Pass 1897 Stage.

The Mississippi river at La Crosse today stood at 13.5 feet and before tomorrow it is announced that it will pass the high stage of 1897 and rank next to the great flood of 1888, when the stage was 14.5. It is hardly expected that that stage will be reached this year unless there are further heavy rains.

For five miles between Marshland and Winona the Northwestern railway is today running through a sea which

RAILROADS CONTINUE REBATE PRACTICES

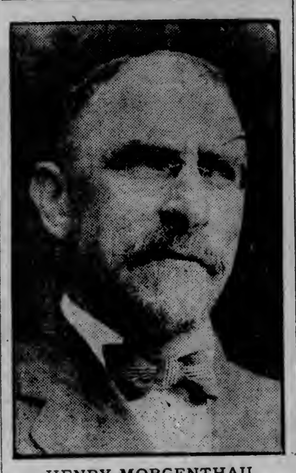
Railroad Brotherhoods Call Attention to Report of Commerce Commission.

Cleveland, Ohio, April 27.—In a statement issued here today by the railroad transportation brotherhoods, campaigning jointly to secure an eight-hour day from the railroads of the country, attention is directed to "the practice of railroads in granting rebates to shippers and hauling private cars."

The statement says in part:

"If the railroads are really sincere in desiring to conserve their revenue, a recent report of the interstate commerce commission shows them how they would save millions of dollars which they lose through the practice of hauling private cars and the granting of rebates.

"This is important in connection with the highly exaggerated statements which the railways are handing out to the public as to the cost to the carriers of the adoption of the eight-hour work day in freight train service.



"It is commonly supposed that the practice of rebating has been brought to an end, but the record of fines imposed upon the railroads shows that this unlawful practice has not yet been stopped. Not only do the railroads lose revenue by granting rebates but the fines that are imposed by the courts when rebates are detected are very considerable. It is reasonable to suppose that only a small percentage of the actual rebating is discovered by the authorities. In 1915 the fines imposed upon the carriers amounted to $264,000.

"Tables prepared by the commission show that the revenue from private cars handled free during the year 1913 on only eighty-eight roads would at tariff rates, have been $644,250.79."

Miners and Operators Confer.

New York, April 27.—Thirty representatives of the United Mine Workers of America and an equal number of mine operators are here today for a meeting of their joint conference committee and final vote on the demand of the miners for an eight-hour day, a 20 per cent increase in wages and recognition of the union.

U. S. AMBASSADOR TO TURKEY RESIGNS; TO DO POLITICAL WORK

HENRY MORGENTHAU.

Washington, April 27.—Formal announcement was made at the White House today that Henry Morgenthau, American ambassador to Turkey, had resigned and that his resignation had been accepted. Abram I. Elkus, a New York lawyer, probably will succeed him. Mr. Morgenthau will do organization work for the Democratic party in the presidential campaign.

CLUBBED INTO SUBMISSION

Prisoners Attempt to Attack Man Charged With Murdering Young Girl.

Mob Surrounds Lawrence Jail Trying to Get Suspect Who Is Taken Away.

Lansing, Kan., April 27.—Aroused by stories of the murder of Edna Dinsmore in Topeka Tuesday, 200 prisoners today were dispersed after they had attempted to attack Fred Bissell of Topeka, suspected of the crime, in the state penitentiary yard.

The prisoners had heard of Bissell's arrival here to save him from the Topeka mob that invaded Lawrence last night. Deputy wardens and prison guards clubbed them into submission.

Lawrence Quiet.

Lawrence, Kan., April 27.—This city is quiet today after the departure of the mob of nearly 200 unmasked men who came here from Topeka, Kan., thirty miles away, with the avowed intention of taking Fred Bissell, alleged slayer of Edna Dinsmore, from the Douglas county jail here and lynching him.

The first members of the mob, hav-

HOLLAND OFFICIALS CALL ON PRESIDENT

Washington, April 27.—President Wilson today received a party of Holland government officials and business men seeking to strengthen business relations between the Dutch government and this country. In the party were J. E. Inckle, director of the technical branch of the Dutch colonial department; J. C. Ankersmit, chief engineer of the department, and D. De Vries, representing business interests. Secretary Redfield introduced the party.

U. S. AMBASSADOR TO GERMAN HEADQUARTERS TO SEE KAISER

GERARD OFF TO THE FRONT

Will Be Received By Emperor William at Army Headquarters.

Chancellor Expected to Return to Berlin Friday to Prepare Note.

Problem Considered to Be Most Difficult of the War.

Berlin, April 27, by wireless to Sayville.—James W. Gerard, the American ambassador to Germany, will leave Berlin tonight for the German army headquarters where he will be received by the German emperor.

Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg, the German imperial chancellor, who up to the present has been at the army headquarters, is expected to come to Berlin tomorrow to prepare Germany's answer to the latest American note.

Problem Difficult One.

London, April 27.—The most difficult problem of diplomacy which Germany has been called upon to solve since the war began is that presented by the American note on submarine warfare, says a semi-official telegram from Berlin to the Cologne Gazette as forwarded by the Exchange Telegraph correspondent at Amsterdam.

"The semi-official telegram says the answer to the American note will not be given before the end of the week," the correspondent telegraphs, "as the decision to be arrived at is the most difficult since the outbreak of the war.

"The telegram adds that Germany's enemies desire a breach between Germany and America. Therefore German leaders must consider means of disappointing the expectations of their enemies without hindering Germany in the fulfillment of her heavy task."

Confers With President.

Washington, April 27.—President Wilson and Senator Stone, chairman of the senate foreign relations committee, discussed for an hour last night international questions affecting the United States, including the submarine controversy with Germany, the Mexican situation and Japan's protest against features in the house immigration bill which will be taken up by the senate immigration committee tomorrow.

The conference was devoted chiefly to the submarine issue. While Senator Stone would not discuss the details, it is known that eventualities which may follow the receipt of Germany's reply to the last note sent by the United States were gone over thoroughly.

Situation Grave.

The president did not attempt to minimize the gravity of the situation, but

GEN. OBREGON COMING TO JUAREZ TO CONFER WITH U. S. ARMY HEADS

Mexican Minister of War Expected to Arrive on Friday.

Conference Will Be Held Somewhere in That Vicinity.

Disturbing Reports Come From Some Sections in Mexico.

El Paso, Tex., April 27.—The conference between Generals Scott, Funston and Obregon will be held in El Paso, Juarez or "this vicinity," according to the statement of army officials today. This was confirmed by Mexican Consul Andres Garcia, who said that "Gen. Obregon is coming to Juarez."

Gen. Gavira, commander of the Juarez garrison, received a message from Gen. Obregon today saying he would arrive in Juarez tomorrow.

Disturbing Reports.

El Paso, Tex., April 27.—Disturbing reports were received here today from many points in Northern and Central Mexico regarding anti-American feeling on the part of Mexicans.

The most serious of these reports referred to towns in Durango and especially to Durango City, where the Americans still living there have been repeatedly warned by United States Consul Coen to leave.

The present trouble seems to be due in part to the persistent anti-American campaign which has been carried on by the Mexican papers in the state capital.

Scott Has Instructions.

Washington, April 27.—Maj.-Gen. Hugh L. Scott, chief of staff of the United States army, who is to confer with Gen. Obregon, Carranza's war minister, regarding the Mexican problem, had instructions today from the Washington government which will guide him in his conference.

"The instructions," says a statement issued by Secretary Baker, "are to discuss a basis for the most cordial and complete co-operation between the American and Mexican forces in the attainment of their common object."

Await Word From Obregon.

El Paso, Tex., April 27.—Carranza officials tried today to get into communication with Gen. Obregon, minister of war of the de facto government, to determine definitely where the conference with Maj.-Gens. Scott and Fun-

GERMAN OFFICER WHO DEFENDED THE KAMERUNS AGAINST BRITISH

CAPT. VON RABEN.

Capt. von Raben of the German colonial troops is being acclaimed a hero in Berlin because of his brave defense of the Kameruns against the British. With a small body of Germans and a native troop he defended to the last possibility the farthest north corner of that German colony.

NEUTRAL VESSEL SUNK BY GERMANS

London, April 27.—The sinking of a neutral vessel by gunfire from a German submarine was announced officially today. The Norwegian bark Carmanian was destroyed and a boat containing part of her crew capsized.

The official announcement follows:

The Norwegian bark Carmanian was sunk by gunfire from a German submarine on Tuesday, fifty-five miles off the west coast of Ireland. The crew took to boats. The submarine immediately left them.

"One boat capsized. The other, containing the captain and nine of the crew, reached the coast. The men were rescued by cliff ladders.

The Carmanian, 1,840 tons gross, was built in 1897 and owned in Stavanger. She was last reported on sailing from Buenos Aires on February 18 for Falmouth.

REBELS CONTINUE TO HOLD IMPORTANT DUBLIN BUILDINGS

Irish Situation Growing More Serious With Indications of Spread of Rebellion in Other Sections.

Gen. Sir John Maxwell Sent to Rebellious Isle With Full Power to Act Under Martial Law.

London, April 27, 3:20 p. m.—Martial law has been declared throughout all Ireland.

Premier Asquith announced in the house of commons today that the rebels continue to hold important public buildings in Dublin and that street encounters were still in progress.

Premier Asquith told the house the Irish situation still presented serious features today and that there were indications of a spread of the movement to other parts of Ireland, especially in the west.

Maxwell Goes to Island.

The premier announced that Maj.-Gen. Sir John Maxwell, who formerly commanded the British forces in Egypt, was leaving this afternoon for Ireland. The general has been given plenary powers, under martial law, over the whole country.

The premier said there would be a searching investigation into the cause of any responsibility for the outbreak. He added that it was obviously necessary to exercise military censorship while martial law prevailed in Ireland. This censorship, however, would be directed merely with regard to the essential military requirements of the situation. All possible latitude in the transmission of news would be allowed.

Sir Edward Carson and John Redmond, who were the leaders of the opposing factions in the Irish home rule controversy, expressed in the house of commons their abhorrence of the uprising and their desire to support the government.

Troops Reinforced.

The troops in Ireland have been and are being strongly reinforced, Mr. Asquith added, and the government was

GOVERNMENT IS ATTACKED

Lord Middleton Severe in His Criticism of Neglect in Ireland.

Condemns Statement That Conditions Were Well in Hand.

London, April 27.—Viscount Middleton attacked the government in the house of lords yesterday for failing to take heed of warnings regarding activities of the Sinn Feiners. He asked what the government meant by saying Tuesday that the situation was well in hand. So far as his information went, at the time this assurance was given, not only were rebels in possession of a number of prominent parts of Dublin, but no attempt had been made to dislodge them.

Viscount Middleton further asserted that Baron Wimborne, the lord lieutenant of Ireland, went to Belfast on Monday while a large number of officers had been allowed on that day to attend a race meeting near Dublin. Some of these officers were seized on their return to duty. The viscount was unable to conceive any government so blind as to permit such a state of things to continue.

Doomed to Failure.

Lord Lansdowne in reply said he believed this outrage was doomed to be an ignominious failure, but he was not disposed to minimize the serious inconvenience likely to be occasioned by it. He said that on Monday, April 24, the rebels made a half-hearted attack on Dublin castle, but the attack was not pressed. They then occupied Stephens Green, held up troops which were returning from the barracks, fired on them from the roofs of buildings, seized the postoffice, city hall, the four courts and the Westeon road and Amiens road railway stations and telegrapic communication was interrupted.

The four courts are the principal courts of justice in Ireland and the two railway stations seized are the main arteries of communication with England.

Some Casualties.

The rebels, Lord Lansdowne said, were driven from Stephens Green with

KELLOGG'S CAMPAIGN IS OPENED

Candidate for Senator Presents His Platform at Rochester.

He Urges Immediate Preparation for Defense of the Country.

Praises Senator Nelson for Standing Squarely for American Rights.

Rochester, Minn., April 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—Frank B. Kellogg of St. Paul opened his campaign for the Republican nomination for United States senator with a largely attended meeting here this afternoon. Mr. Kellogg grew up on a farm near this city and began his political career here, and his many old friends decided that this was an appropriate place to start his senatorial campaign. Special trains were run to Rochester from various parts of Southeastern Minnesota to accommodate the people of this section who desired to attend, and a large number also were present from other parts of the state.

In addition to this afternoon's gathering, another meeting will be held tonight. Mr. Kellogg was the principal speaker this afternoon, and Former Governor S. R. Van Sant, Fred C. Stevens of St. Paul, J. Adam Bede and Senator F. E. Putnam of Blue Earth were also scheduled to deliver addresses.

Jacobson for Kellogg.

A letter from J. F. Jacobson of Madison, declaring his support of Mr. Kellogg for senator, was read at the meeting. Mr. Kellogg's speech was, in part, as follows:

BRITISH SUBMARINE SUNK BY GERMANS; CRUISER IS HIT

Teuton Naval Forces Destroy the E-22 and Also Send Torpedo Against Ship of the Arethusa Class.

Berlin, April 27.—(By wireless to Sayville)—The German admiralty announced today that the British submarine E-22 had been sunk by German naval forces.

The announcement also says a British cruiser of the Arethusa class was hit by a torpedo from a German submarine.

The announcement, given out under date of April 26, is as follows:

The German naval forces on April 25 sank the British submarine E-22. The Germans rescued and captured two men.

A German submarine on the same day hit with a torpedo a British cruiser of the Arethusa class.

London Reports Sinking.

London, April 27, 3:10 p. m.—It was announced officially here today that the British submarine which was sunk was the E-22 as reported in a wireless dispatch from Berlin.

Start in Early and Maybe You Can Get Away With It.

SUMMARY OF THE WAR NEWS

There are signs of increasing activity along virtually the entire battle front in the west, notably on the southern end of the line down to the Vosges. The great struggle at Verdun is being continued with little diminution in vigor, however, with the German heavy guns almost continually in play.

The only infantry movement in the Verdun region noted in this afternoon's Paris statement was to the north of Fort Vaux, northeast of Verdun, where what is alluded to as "a small attack" was stopped immediately by the French artillery.

In Lorraine the Germans are feeling out the French positions. Dispersal of a reconnoitering party which attempted to reach the French lines east of Le Mesnil is reported by Paris, while north of the Aisne German patrols were driven back with hand grenades.

Two Russian hydro-aeroplanes are reported from Athens to have raided Constantinople.

BETTER DISPATCH FOR ORE CARRIERS

Shipping Easier; Many Coal Boats Arrive; Ice at Whitefish.

Ore shipping is having much better dispatch today than at any time since the season began, for the ore is becoming easier to handle as the dry weather continues and the atmosphere warms up. Boats are being sent out in better order than they have been, as the ore loosens, and a large tonnage will be headed east by the time the week closes.

A big fleet of coal boats arrived in the last twenty-four hours, most of the steamer arrivals in the Duluth-Superior harbor being coal carriers.

The first package freight carrier to arrive this season, the Lakeport of the Port Huron & Duluth Steamship company, left the harbor late yesterday, so that she is the first merchandise ship in and out this year. She took out 60,000 bushels of flax and 30,000 bushels of wheat.

News from the Sault and Whitefish is to the effect that a large fleet of steamers is stuck in the ice there, the wind having blown the field back into the bay. The Lakeland of the Port Huron & Duluth Steamship company is on her way up, but is lying below the Sault waiting for the ice to clear out of Whitefish bay. H. W. Cross, agent here for that line, said today that he understands that quite a number of upbound steamers are doing the some thing.

Ice is still heavy in Lake Erie and navigation is being retarded at that end of the route, so the Lake Superior situation is not so bad. In fact, it is reported that Lake Erie is in a much worse condition than Lake Superior.

JOE FUNKEY APPOINTED.

Will Be in Charge of Great Lakes Transit Dock in Hancock.

Hancock, Mich., April 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—The appointment of Joseph Funkey as Hancock agent for the Great Lakes Transportation corporation has been announced, the appointment being made by C. O. Berglund of Houghton, general agent for the transportation company in the Copper country.

The company has leased the Ross & Lieblein dock in Hancock, which was occupied by the Mutual Transit company. Mr. Funkey was on the clerical staff of the Mutual line in the Hancock office. The appointment takes effect May 1.

RUSHING WORK ON ASHLAND ORE DOCK

Soo Road Shows Anxiety to Get Big Structure Done.

Ashland, Wis., April 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Soo railway is so anxious to begin the construction of its million dollar concrete dock at Ashland that it has already sent tugs and a pile-driving outfit here to begin work. The tugs Gladiator and J. L. Williams arrived at Ashland last night with a complete dredging outfit from Duluth to dredge out the site of the new dock, which will lie immediately west of the present wooden structure.

A gang of men is already at the cribwork, which will be towed to the channel as soon as the dredging is finished and sunk, inside of which piling will be driven to be followed by steel and concrete work which has been assembled during the past few weeks. Dredging will begin tomorrow morning.

By special arrangement with the city an ordinance was passed practically vacating a part of Stuntz avenue, over which viaducts and approaches will be built. The dock is not expected to be finished in time for use this season.

TWO STEAMERS IN DISTRESS AIDED

Big Fleet Also Reported Stuck in Ice at Whitefish.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., April 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—The steamer Edmonton broke her air pump in the ice yesterday afternoon near Whitefish and was taken in tow by the two tugs which went to the assistance of the Garretson yesterday morning. She was brought to the Sault for repairs.

The Garretson was released by four other steamers of the Wilson line.

Whitefish point reports a big fleet stuck in the ice there this morning, but they will be able to work through slowly during the day.

ICE BLOCKADE IS BEING RESUMED

Field Again Filling Whitefish Bay; Steamers Go Ashore.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., April 27.—Ice conditions which had improved the last few days are again becoming obstructive to navigation. According to a despatch received from Lightkeeper Carlson at Whitefish Point the ice fields are closing in against the point and filling up the bay.

A steamer was driven ashore Tuesday night abreast the point by the ice. Her name was not learned. Capt. Smith and Capt. Bailey of the Pittsburgh Steamship company, who have been in charge of ice crushing operations and who had intended to return to Cleveland went to her assistance with two tugs. She was released yesterday afternoon apparently in a disabled condition as the tugs were seen towing her through the ice fields north of the point toward the Sault. Vessels should still use caution in getting into the ice fields.

Most of the upbound fleet has passed the point. A steamer with a tow is stuck in the ice near Detour, according to advices. Ice conditions are not favorable for steamers with tows in the lower river. The North Star upbound pulled off the steamer Underwood from a shoal near Detour yesterday afternoon. The Underwood proceeded uninjured.

URGES CARE IN FIXING VALUES

State Tax Commission Sends Letter to All County and City Assessors.

In a circular letter to all the city and county assessors of Minnesota, the Minnesota tax commission urges careful and accurate valuations in compiling the assessments for this year, with special attention paid to all the state laws governing this work.

Included in the letter received by City Assessor Scott are the following figures: Total amount of taxes levied in St. Louis county, $9,525,142.10; of each $100, $9.50 went to the state revenue fund for expenses of state government and institutions, $31.55 for education, $12.32 for roads and bridges, $11.53 to the county, $33.98 to cities and villages, and $1.12 to townships.

"Before entering upon the discharge of the responsible duties imposed upon you," states the circular signed by Samuel Iverson, T. Hale and J. G. Armson, members of the state tax commission, "the tax commission desires to again remind you of the importance of your work and to impress upon you the necessity of a strict and faithful observance of all the provisions of the classified assessment law."

THREE TEACHERS ON RETIRED LIST

St. Paul, Minn., April 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—Applications for membership in the State Teachers' Insurance and Retirement association fund to the number of twenty-five were accepted today by the board of trustees in charge of the fund. At the same time three teachers were placed on the retired list and will receive teachers' pensions at once. The board voted to invest $8,000 in school district bonds of Douglas and Todd counties and also to buy $10,000 worth of bonds of the city of Blue Earth.

Those whose applications for membership in the fund were accepted include Ella D. Pease, Rochester, taught twenty-nine years; Mary C. Devany, Virginia, taught thirty years; Emily E. Wilson, Rochester, taught twenty-one years; Matidal Heuss, Winona, taught twenty-seven years.

Those whose application for retirement were accepted are:

are reproduced at their artistic best on Columbia Double-Disc Records.

Whether it is a violin solo by Ysaye or Kathleen Parlow, or a solo by Casals, the wizard of the 'cello, Columbia reproductions possess a matchless quality of beauty. And this is equally true of the splendid Columbia trio ensemble recordings, or the triumphs of Hofmann and Godowsky on the pianoforte. These records are impressive examples of all that musical recordings should be:

36524 { Hungarian Dance in G — Eugen Ysaye)

5755 { Etude in C Minor / Prelude in G Minor — (Josef Hoffmann, Pianist)

Ysaye, Casals, Parlow, Hofmann and Godowsky play exclusively for Columbia Records, as do the Trio de Lutece, the Barrere Ensemble, the Taylor Trio and other foremost ensemble organizations. Only two ways to hear them—and the Columbia way is the living reflection of reality. Listen to one of their records to-day—to hear it is proof enough.

LABOR FORWARD WEEK WILL BE CLIMAX OF BIG CAMPAIGN

Organized Labor Has Added 1,000 Men to Its Ranks.

Prominent Speakers Will Address Numerous Meetings Next Week.

The climax of the Union Labor Forward Movement in Duluth, covering more than three months work by local unions and state federation officers, will be reached during Labor Forward week, which will begin Sunday and close on the following Sunday.

The campaign in Duluth has resulted in the formation of five new unions and the organization of the unskilled workers, giving a total new membership of 1,000 men. Noted speakers will be here for Labor Forward week and meetings will be held in fifteen churches and many halls throughout the city.

Result of Co-operation.

President E. G. Hall of the Minnesota Federation of Labor has been in Duluth most of the time since January and has addressed every union in the city. He has met with fine co-operation, and union labor is said to have been given the greatest impetus here in the history of the movement. Henry Pereault, chairman of the Labor Forward Movement committee, has worked with Mr. Hall and fifty labor unions and organizations are represented on the committee. The meetings next week are expected to be highly educational, and union labor will be discussed in its most important phases. Among the topics to be discussed are: "What Does Labor Want?" "Economic and Social Importance of the Shorter Workday," "Convict Labor (Contract) vs. Free Labor," "Organized Labor, Its Struggles," "Child Labor and Female Labor" (illustrated), "The Minimum Wage," "The Trade Union of Today."

Every labor union man in the city is expected to take part in the meetings and at least nineteen delegates, some of them of national prominence are to be here and give addresses. President Hall is completing the program today, and definite word is expected by "wire" from the last of the speakers to send in their acceptance to the invitation to speak.

Among the noted outside speakers will be Collis Lovely, vice president of the Boot and Shoe Workers' International union; C. W. Cullen, United Hatters of North America; J. D. Chubbuck, organizer of the American Federation of Labor; E. G. Hall, president of the Minnesota State Federation of Labor; R. S. Sexton, organizer of the International Unions of America. The program as it now stands follows:

Sunday Evening, April 30.

Lester Park M. E. church, Fifty-fourth avenue east and Superior street, Collis Lovely, vice president Boot and Shoe Workers International union.

REQUEST IS TURNED DOWN

Duluth-Superior's Effort for New Lighthouse District Checked.

Capt. Alex McDougall Declares Fight Has Only Begun.

The joint effort being made by the Duluth and Superior Commercial clubs to have a separate lighthouse district established at the Head of the Lakes and embracing Lake Superior and the Sault river alone, has been checked by the refusal of the lighthouse department at Washington to sanction it. However, that will not end the effort, according to Capt. Alex McDougall, who suggested it, broached the matter to the Superior Commercial club and obtained its support, and presented the matter to Congressmen Clarence B. Miller of Duluth and Lenroot of Superior.

Capt. McDougall returned from the East yesterday morning and found awaiting him a letter from Congressman Miller enclosing a letter from the assistant secretary of the treasury, in which the Federal official informed the Duluth congressman that the lighthouse board, to which had been referred Mr. Miller's request for a new district, deemed it inadvisable to change the present arrangement. This arrangement is that Lakes Superior and Huron and the Sault river are under supervision of the Detroit headquarters, and the district contains more lights, buoys, etc., than the districts with headquarters at Chicago-Milwaukee and Buffalo, combined.

Refutes Negligence Charge.

The assistant secretary also declared that the implied charges that accidents and loss to the shipping interests have been caused by reason of negligence in the lighthouse branch on Lake Superior, were not well founded, and claimed that the only thing he could learn had been charged was the loss of the steamer Benjamin Noble near Duluth in 1914, and that investigation had shown that the lighthouse department could not be blamed in that instance.

He further informed Congressman Miller that the law prescribes the number of lighthouse districts that can be established, and should another one be needed, the law would have to be amended.

Concerning the observations of the assistant secretary, Capt. McDougall said yesterday:

"There have been numerous losses due to neglect of lighting facilities on Lake Superior, and in furthering this fight for a new lighthouse district, data will be furnished the department to prove our assertions.

Refusal Expected.

"I am not surprised at the refusal. That was to be expected. It takes a lot of unwinding of red tape before you can get anything new started in Washington, and the establishment of a new district and the disarrangement of things as they are causes a lot of commotion. It will take some time to get it, but we will get it. If we go after this thing properly we will give the officials in Washington no rest until they see things our way; and when that is done, the matter of amending the law will be a minor job.

"The importance of Detroit as a shipping point is exaggerated. The fact is that it has lost its importance in this regard, for it is now simply a way station on the chain of lakes. During the Civil war, when the western terminals of commerce practically were Detroit and Chicago it was very important, and many Washington officials have not yet awakened to the fact that it has long since been supplanted by Duluth-Superior."

Speaking of the need of a new district, the captain declared that it is illogical to believe that the commerce of Lake Superior can be given adequate protection by headquarters as far away as Detroit, when a lesser volume of commerce on Lake Erie and Lake Michigan require separate districts with local headquarters.

This Is Largest Port.

"Duluth-Superior," said he, "is the largest port on the Great Lakes, handling the greatest amount of commerce of any port on the lakes, and second in America only to New York. It is inconceivable to think that we need less attention, therefore, than the minor ports. We have been given the lighthouse tender Marigold as a sort of sop to our feelings, but we need more than that.

"Duluth-Superior is the home port of the largest fleet of the biggest ships of any port in the world. That seems like a broad statement, but it can be substantiated by looking up the tonnage. This port handles cargoes faster than any other port in the world, handling 1,000 tons per hour per ship for the full season of lake navigaiton. There are owned in this port ships of a registered tonnage of more than 1,000,000 tons, with a carrying capacity of almost 2,000,000 tons. Among them are fifty 10,000-ton ships, and many more of but slightly less tonnage.

"It seems to me, therefore, that the Duluth-Superior port is important enough to head a new lighthouse district, and I think that we can show the authorities at Washington that we are not asking a favor but demanding a right.

"This fight has merely started, and we will win before we get through."

Capt. McDougall will present the matter to the joint committees on rivers and harbors of the two clubs, and begin the fight in earnest now that the preliminary skirmishing has been gone through with.

CANADIAN-BORN SCOTS GIVE PROGRAM

FEATURING SUCCESSOR TO "TIPPERARY"

Keep the home fires burning,
While your hearts are yearning;
Though your lads are far away,
They dream of home.

There's a silver lining,
Through the dark clouds shining;
Turn the dark clouds inside out
Till the boys come home.

Chorus.
Keep the home fires burning.

The Canadian-born members of Clan Stewart, No. 50, O. S. C., gave a musical program and dance last evening at the clan hall, Fourth avenue west and First street, which was attended by a capacity house. A varied program was given and was evidently much enjoyed, for encores were general and insistent. Chief Dan Cameron presided.

The program was opened by the singing of one verse of "America" and one verse of "God Save the King," the audience standing.

J. R. Batchelor sang the new war song of the Canadian soldiers who are at the front, "Keep the Home Fires Burning." Dr. J. G. Annand was to have sung this number, but was prevented from doing so by illness, and Mr. Batchelor substituted.

The song was a hit with the audience of last night, and is said to be replacing the first war favorite, "Tipperary," both in the trenches and in the music halls and vaudeville houses.

numbers on the program were as follows:

Piano solo, McKercher sisters; dialect recitations, Roderick McLeod; piano solo, Miss Margaret Cameron; vocal solo, Miss Roseamond C. Risatti; reading, Miss Lucile Shook; vocal solo, "The Maple Leaf Forever," Canada's national song, George Ward; reading, Miss Irene Long, and a Gaelic song, Mrs. P. M. Young.

DULUTH PEOPLE GET INSTANT ACTION

Those who have used it in Duluth are astonished at the INSTANT action of simple buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., as mixed in Adler-i-ka. Because it acts on BOTH lower and upper bowel, ONE SPOONFUL Adler-i-ka relieves almost ANY CASE constipation, sour stomach or gas. It removes such surprising foul matter that a few doses often relieve or prevents appendicitis. A short treatment helps chronic stomach trouble. W. A. Abbett, druggist.

HALL WILL GIVE TALK ON SYMBOLS

Labor Head Will Speak at Meeting of Trades Assembly.

At the Trades and Labor assembly tomorrow night President E. G. Hall will give an illustrated talk on the emblems of labor, showing the various labels, working cards, stamps and buttons adopted by the various national and international unions.

Mr. Hall will give this talk upon the request of the committee of lectures and literature. A special invitation is extended to all to attend and especially the delegates.

SUES LUMBER COMPANY.

Mullery-McDonald Accused of Trespass and Destruction of Property.

Damages aggregating $1,205 are sought in seven actions filed in district court yesterday afternoon by N. N. Nesthus against the Mullery-McDonald Lumber company. Nesthus claims that during the fall of 1913 the company trespassed on his land and cut a road, one-half mile in length, through his timber, destroying or appropriating the timber cut.

He also declares that during November, 1913, a fire negligently kindled by employes of the company destroyed a house valued at $400 on the property.

GET RID OF HUMORS

Hood's Sarsaparilla Is the Medicine to Take—Makes Pure Blood.

Dry, moist, scaly tetter, pimples, boils, and other eruptions come from humors, which may be either inherited, or acquired through defective digestion and assimilation.

To treat these eruptions with drying medicines is dangerous.

Hood's Sarsaparilla, the old reliable medicine, helps the system to discharge the humors, and improves the digestion and assimilation.

Get Hood's Sarsaparilla from your druggist. It may be confidently relied upon to do its work. It purifies the blood, tones the stomach, and builds up the whole system. It goes to the roots of diseases, and its beneficial results are permanent. It sets things to rights in the system. Remember to ask for Hood's Sarsaparilla, because nothing else acts like it and nothing else can take its place.

FACULTY ANNOUNCED.

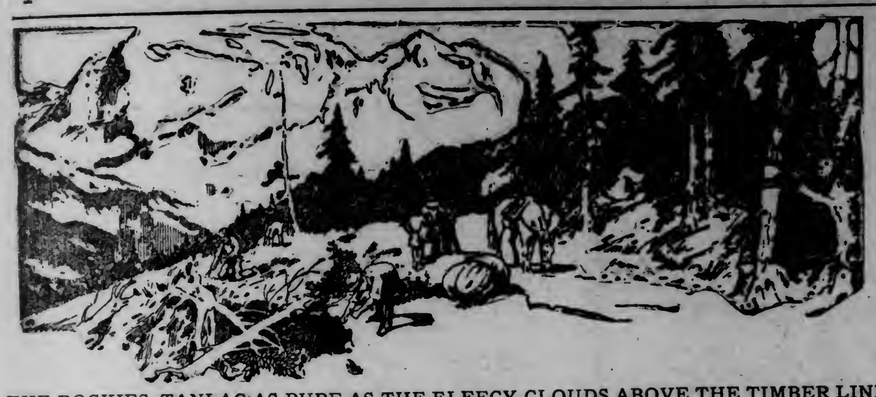
Those Who Will Help Conduct Bemidji Training School.

Bemidji, Minn., April 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—Beginning June 12 the annual term of the teachers' training school will be conducted in the high school building for six weeks, closing July 21.

Supt. W. P. Dyer of the Bemidji city schools, who has been chosen conductor, announces the following faculty to assist him during the summer:

Arithmetic, G. A. Franklin, superintendent of schools at Deer River; physics and geometry, W. C. Cobb, superintendent at Brainerd; algebra and physical geography, F. E. Lurton, superintendent at East Grand Forks; geography and reading, Miss Elizabeth Underwood, instructor in the Minneapolis public schools; rural school management and United States history, Miss Emma Hoglund of Madison; English grammar and composition, Miss Anna Plapp of Eveleth; primary methods and penmanship, Miss Margaret Wilson of Minneapolis; agriculture, Bueford M. Gile, agriculturalist in the Bemidji public schools; manual training, A. D. Bailey, instructor of that department in the Bemidji high school. The music and drawing instructor will be selected later.

MIGRATORY FOWL ON LAKE BEMIDJI



Bemidji, Minn., April 27.—Bemidji experienced a thrill several evenings this week when in the glare of electric lights myriads of ducks, geese, loons and sea gulls settled, under cover of darkness, in the middle of Lake Bemidji, giving the first open air concert of the season.

It is estimated that the number of migratory fowls in the lake reached up into the thousands and each appeared to be trying to make a little more noise than any of the others.

Heavier Rails Being Laid.

THE ROCKIES. TANLAC AS PURE AS THE FLEECY CLOUDS ABOVE THE TIMBER LINE

TANLAC AS PURE AS THE FLEECY CLOUDS ABOVE TIMBER LINE

Master Medicine Is Made Pure, Bottled Pure and Therefore Remains Pure.

Tanlac is as pure as the fleecy clouds above the timber line.

The ingredients are drawn from many of the remotest parts of the earth—the Alps, Appenines, Pyrenees, Russian Asia, Jamaica, Brazil, West Indies, Mountain States near the Rocky Mountains, Asia Minor, Persia, India, Mexico, Colombia and Peru—all contributing the value of their medicinal herbs to the premier preparation.

In the principal Tanlac laboratory the barks, roots, herbs and flowers, or the medicine in the rough, is assembled under the personal direction of a skilled chemist and painstakingly developed so as to obtain that high standard of efficiency that is shown by the uniform preparation, Tanlac.

In sterilized bottles, made expressly for the purpose, Tanlac is placed labeled and cartoned. The preparation is inspected again and then crated for shipment to points over the world, where the demand requires.

Tanlac is made pure, bottled pure, keeps pure—and is, therefore, as pure as the fleecy clouds above the timber line.

NOTICE TO DRUGGISTS AND OTHER MERCHANTS

It is my intention to establish an exclusive Tanlac agency in every city, town and village in Minnesota. Those druggists and other merchants who have signified their willingness to accept the exclusive Tanlac agency in their respective cities and towns may now communicate with me, as I am ready to extend the campaign to all sections of Minnesota.

Druggists and also merchants in towns where there are no drug stores are requested to write me in care of Postoffice Box 254, Minneapolis, Minn. C. J. MEREDITH.

SPRING TIME TANLAC TIME

Master Medicine Puts Man in Shape for Joys of Summer.

The siege of winter, that leaves in its wake countless people suffering from completely run-down system, is one of the great agents of destruction man has to contend with. The many days of snow, sleet, cold rains, and winds that chill a person through and through, are so thorough in their work against humanity that few escape.

At spring time something is needed that will build up the tissues broken down, during winter, by the daily battle of the human system against the great odds of extreme weather. Otherwise the tired, languid feeling so many people experience at this season of the year which denotes a generally run-down system, may lapse into something more serious.

The remarkable new reconstructive tonic and system purifier, Tanlac, that is now sold here, is said by many to be composed of just those ingredients that act most satisfactorily when a body builder and cleanser is needed.

Tanlac quickly overcomes the work of winter. It speedily attacks and drives from the blood all impurities that might, if left alone, bring serious results. It builds up the broken down tissues, the body thus returning to its natural state. It brings about the proper digestion and assimilation of food, the additional nutrition thus gained strengthening the entire system.

GOOD NEWS PASSED ALONG BY M'DONALD

Member of Duluth Fraternal Orders Tells Others What Tanlac Did.

Members of Duluth fraternal orders will be interested in the experience of J. W. McDonald. Mr. McDonald, who is 45 years old, has lived in Duluth virtually all his life. He makes his home at the Y. M. C. A. He is active in several fraternal orders of the city, and few Duluthians have a wider acquaintance in their home town. Here is what Mr. McDonald says of Tanlac:

"For some time I suffered with catarrh. The catarrhal irritation caused watering of the eyes and all the other disagreeable symptoms of this annoying malady. I was advised by a friend to take Tanlac. I am now feeling fine and have no further trouble from catarrh."

MERIT GIVEN FULL CREDIT

Superior Quality of Master Medicine Made It Popular.

Tanlac Success in Duluth Described By C. J. Meredith.

"If I have been successful with Tanlac," said C. J. Meredith, "it is because the preparation contains real merit.

"Tanlac is the result of many years of arduous study by one of the foremost chemists in America, who watched its development from the beginning of the experimental stage to its present high state of efficiency.

"In cases of catarrhal affections of the mucus membrane, stomach, liver and kidney complaints, I believe there is nothing so far discovered that will equal the action of Tanlac.

"Every day some one suggests something that may tend to better our conditions, whether it may appertain to our health, our business or our sociological state. It has, therefore, been my pleasure this time to offer to the world Tanlac.

"When I came to Duluth I stated that the success of Tanlac would be as great in this city as it has been elsewhere. I offered Tanlac on its merits, knowing full well that it would prove satisfactory if properly tested.

"The success the preparation has achieved in Duluth and vicinity is ample evidence that my confidence in Tanlac is well placed.

"A large percentage of your best people are now using the preparation, and they are daily testifying to its excellent worth as a medicine of exceptional value in instances of catarrh, stomach, liver and kidney derangements, nervous debility and in cases where a superior tonic is required.

"It is true that the demand for Tanlac has been large, but no larger than I expected. Duluth is only awakening to an appreciation of the full value of such a preparation. Tanlac's success in your city will be even greater.' '

DRUG FIRM HEAD TALKS

Tanlac's Success Unequaled, W. A. Abbett, of Duluth Says.

Nearly 5,000 Bottles Sold Here Since Campaign Opened.

Leading druggists throughout the United States, many in Minesota, have gone on record declaring that they have never handled a proprietary medicine that proved anything like as popular as Tanlac. Merit, they declare, is responsible, to a large degree, for the unprecedented success of Tanlac.

Here is what W. A. Abbett, proprietor of the Abbett chain of drug stores in Duluth, has to say about Tanlac:

"The biggest seller that we have ever had is Tanlac. In the first 90 days of the campaign in Duluth we sold nearly 3,000 bottles of the Master Medicine. The total number of bottles sold to date reaches the 5,000 mark. For a preparation that had never been sold in Duluth before, this is remarkable. Nothing has ever approached it before in my experience in the drug business.

"The repeat sales and widespread popularity of Tanlac have agreeably surprised me. The wonderful sale is accounted for in a measure, I believe, by the clean-cut advertising of satisfied users of Tanlac, nearly all of whom are actual old-time residents of Duluth. This can be substantiated by anyone."

ONLY MEDICINE THAT HELPED ME, SHE SAYS

Mrs. J. C. Hall, 2704 Huron street Duluth, recently made this statement: "I was run down physically and very weak. Loss of appetite and sleepless nights left me so weak I couldn't work, and I was bothered with spells of dizziness. Since taking Tanlac I sleep soundly, the spells of dizziness occur no more and I am as strong as I was four years ago when I was first taken ill. Tanlac is the only medicine I have found during that time that has helped me the least particle."

PLEADS CAUSE OF FIREMEN

C. L. Hood Makes Address During Intermission in Dance Program.

Thousand People Dance to Give Fire Fighters Campaign Fund.

Cost should not be considered in the effort to remedy conditions under which Duluth's firemen are working, C. L. Hood told 1,000 persons at a firemen's dance at the Auditorium last night, when he pleaded for the adoption of the double platoon system.

Mr. Hood's address was given during an intermission at the dance, which was given by firemen's wives to raise funds for an election campaign in support of the double platoon. About $500 was realized from the sale of tickets.

"The two platoons these men are asking for only mean employing one-third more men than are now on the force. It means that the men will be divided into a day crew and a night crew. It means that these men will enjoy the same rights as all other city employes.

"We who believe in the necessary progress of the human race; we who pride ourselves on our public libraries, our churches, our charitable societies, free medical aid, free employment bureaus and things of similar nature to better the conditions of humanity, must bow our heads in shame if we permit this condition of economic slavery to exist.

Cost vs. Humanity.

"No cost is too great if it will enable our servants to enjoy the benefits of their homes, which we insist on for ourselves but deny to them. Twentieth century progress demands greater efficiency. The two-platoon system gives it. The money to install the system can be had without raising the taxes. There are other sources from which it can be drawn.

"Would you enjoy spending twenty-one hours out of twenty-four at your place of work? What do you think of our city firemen on duty for twenty-one hours, and twice a week allowed twelve hours to get acquainted with his wife or best girl?"

A program of twenty dances, ranging from the cakewalk to the fox trot, was played by Desjaurier's orchestra, from 9 p. m. to 2 a. m.

A large number of the firemen were permitted to attend the dance by Chief Randall. A huge gong, installed in the Auditorium, would have called the men to duty had a fire been reported.

IS PIONEER IN TEACHERAGE PLAN

County Supt. Young Credited With Work for Rural Pedagogues.

Teacherages, or homes for teachers in the rural districts, are the object of a nation-wide campaign, which has been given considerable impetus by the National Lumber Manufacturers' association of Chicago, which recently published a fifty-eight-page booklet entitled "Teachers' Cottages."

The booklet is of interest in St. Louis county because it gives Supt. N. A. Young of the county schools credit for being one of the pioneers in the work and publishes a picture of the teachers' cottage at School No. 14 of the county district, eleven miles northeast of Virginia.

The publication was prepared by R. S. Kellogg in co-operation with the United States bureau of education and it contains practically all of the information available on the subject. Twenty-five thousand copies have been purchased by the Federal bureau of education and are now being distributed among educators of the country.

Supt. Young is a firm believer in the future of the teacherage.

"Of course, the public must be educated to the advantages to be gained by taking money out of public treasuries to build homes for teachers," he said. "The cost of construction amounts to a great deal, but almost every community can really afford to erect and maintain such a home if it only appreciates the importance of doing so. It must be shown that by maintaining a home of this character better teachers may be secured and retained for a longer period of time than where the old plan is followed. It must be shown, too, that the same teacher continuing in the position for the same length of time will do much better work where there is a school home than where there is not."

SUCCESSFUL TEST IS MADE

Local Man's Relief Measured By His Ability to Eat.

E. J. Burk, a well known farmer, who lives at 1009 East Eighth street, Duluth, recently made the following statement:

"I had stomach trouble for four long years without being able to find relief, although I tried many medicines. I was bothered with an accumulation of gas in my stomach, my food fermented, causing sour stomach. At times my conditon was so serious that I was confined to my bed several days at the time.

"Recently, when in Battle Creek, Mich., I read in the Duluth newspapers of Tanlac and the wonderful work it was doing. I have taken three bottles of the medicine and feel like a different man. I am now able to eat anything without bad effects, I sleep peacefully through the night and am gaining weight. I gladly recommend Tanlac to anyone suffering as I was."

Mr. Burk is 66 years old and has lived in Duluth many years.

SINCERE ENDORSEMENT FROM RICHEST VILLAGE

From "the Richest Village in the World" comes this sincere and convincing indorsement of Tanlac:

E. M. Griffith, a well known citizen of Hibbing, Minn., says: "I suffered intensely from griping pains in my stomach. I saw Tanlac advertised in the Duluth paper and bought some. The pains in my stomach now trouble me but little, and I believe Tanlac is helping me greatly. I freely recommend Tanlac because of what it has done for me.' '

UNIFORM TRAFFIC LAWS ARE LAUDED

Silberstein Approves Rules Set Down By Safety First Federation.

Uniform traffic laws and signals, recently prepared by the Safety First Federation of America, are heartily approved by Commissioner Silberstein, head of the safety division.

"The move is a very laudable one," said Commissioner Silberstein, "and I think that the regulations proposed by the federation should be considered seriously by all the large cities of the country. Many accidents and arrests would be avoided if drivers knew the traffic rules in their own cities and especially in communities where they are touring."

By establishing uniform traffic regulations, officials of the Safety First Federation of America hope to educate the automobile drivers of the country so that the number of accidents and arrests will be reduced to a minimum. In addition, travelers would find very little, if any, variation in the traffic systems in cities where they visit, thus preventing confusion and complications.

Duluth has adopted a number of the traffic rules suggested by the federation, while many of the regulations proposed are considered unwritten laws by drivers of this city.

Arkansas Delegates Uninstructed.

Little Rock, Ark., April 27.—Delegates from Arkansas to the Republican national convention in Chicago will go uninstructed, and for the first time in thirty-two years there will be no negro delegates-at-large among the number. The "lily white" faction of the party was in complete control of the state convention which met here today and elected the national convention delegates.

Looting Graves for Copper.

Winona, Minn., April 27.—Numerous cemeteries along the Wisconsin-Minnesota line are being looted to get from buried caskets copper trimmings, according to a report police are investigating. The high price of copper is blamed.

FIVE WORDS ARE PUZZLE TO PUPILS

SAYS SUPT. DENFELD

GIVES RESULTS OF SPELLING CONTESTS

"Grammar," "ache," "meant," "beginning" and "whether" are harder to spell than any other average five words commonly used in the upper grades of Duluth schools.

Supt. R. E. Denfeld recently gave pupils in the fourth, fifth, sixth and seventh grades a spelling test. One hundred "demon" words as he characterized them, were given to each pupil, and the written papers were forwarded to the superintendent's office by the teachers and principals.

Several thousand children took the test, and the perfect marks were rare, except in the higher grades, although the words apparently were simple ones. Later the results will be compiled, it is expected.

Three average reports, picked at random from the list, show the hardest words for the children. There was but one "catch" word in the list, that being "tonight" spelled with a hyphen: "to-night." In most cases it was counted correct if spelled with or without the hyphen.

At the Jefferson school, Second street and Ninth avenue east, the word "grammar" was misspelled 116 times. Pupils taking the test were the grades between the B third and the A eighth, numbering 466.

The next hardest was "ache," which was missed ninety-four times. "Beginning" was next with eighty, "whether" was next with sixty-five. Other hard ones were "meant," "been" and "color." Markings ranged from 98 per cent to 73 per cent.

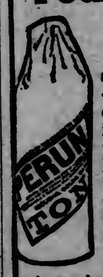
At the Jackson school, Fifth avenue west and Third street, "ache" and "February" were the hardest for pupils in the upper grades. Those in the lower classes paused the longest over "grammar," "meant" and "laid."

Two words in the list, "dear" and "some" were spelled correctly by every child in the Fairmont school, Sixty-seventh avenue west and Redruth street.

"Tonight" or "to-night" proved the Waterloo of many Fairmont pupils, and "grammar" again was the downfall of many. "Whether," "minute," "straight," "believe" and "truly" were missed by a score of pupils.

Four words were missed just once at the Fairmont. They were "sugar," "don't," "country" and "they." The average marking at the Fairmont was 82 per cent, and the grades taking the test were those from the A fourth to the B seventh, inclusive.

TRAIN SERVICE IS MUCH SAFER



Less Fatalities to Employes in 1915 Than Ever Before.

Chicago, April 27.—"There were less fatalities to railroad trainmen and enginemen in 1915 than in any other year since the interstate commerce commission began to compile its accident statistics, in 1890, although the number of such employes has more than doubled in that time," says the Railway Age Gazette in an editorial in its current issue.

"In 1915, when there were approximately 300,000 train employes on the railroads of the United States, the number killed was 884, or about one to every 340 train employes. In 1890, when there were only 163,000 train employes, the number killed was 1,459, or one to every 105 in service.

"The increase in the safety of railway operation as indicated by these statistics is especially notable during the past ten years. Less than half as many train employes were killed in 1915 as in 1905, although the number in service in 1915 was about 15 per cent greater. While the proportion of fatalities in 1905 was one to each 133 employed, in 1915 it was about one to each 340.

Your Tonic for Spring should do these things—clear away waste; dispel inflammation; invigorate the bodily processes. After a hard winter your blood may be clogged, your digestion not up to the mark, and stagnant areas (catarrh) exist in the membranes of the stomach, intestines or lungs. The result is a tired feeling, irregular appetite and loss of energy.

Peruna Invigorates

all your body, helps to soothe away all inflammation, restores the irregular appetite to a healthy condition, and clears away all waste. It's a real tonic—especially good in catarrhal conditions like indigestion, after effects of grip, convalescence, and spring lassitude. You may take it with perfect safety, confident that it has been of benefit for 44 years to thousands, and hence possesses real merit. What it has done for them is the best evidence of what it will do for you. Begin it today.

FORWARD TO LAND MOVEMENT IS ON

Travel to the Northwest Is the Heaviest Since 1908-9.

Chicago, April 27.—A "Forward to the Land" movement, especially to the Northwest, is noted in advices issued by railways operating to that territory. Not since 1908-9 has there been such heavy travel northwest, say railroad officials, and the movement, which began as far back as February continues unabated, with prospects of increase.

Hundreds of freight cars, loaded with household goods from Illinois, Iowa and other points in the United States have been moved. General prosperity is given as the main reason for the land movement, and it is figured by experts that the number of homeseekers going west will be much greater than for a decade.

The movement in 1908 was made up largely of "homesteaders" or those who settled on government land. Many of them were excellent farmers; they "roughed" it and made good. The colonists of today are said to be better fixed financially than the settlers of that time. In many instances they are paying good prices for their land, and their buildings are up when the family arrives.

The farm movement of colonization work is characterized as taking on a bigger aspect. Inquiries now are for better grades of land, and the farmers are paying good prices. Big crops are again attracting them, as the banner crops of the West last year attracted world-wide attention.

SUES TO RECOVER ON STOLEN MONEY

Street Railway Company Files Against Casualty Company.

On Sept. 25 last in the elevator of the First National Bank building, smooth crooks relieved S. L. Reichert, treasurer of the Duluth Street Railway company of $1,600.

Although Ralph H. Miller, one of the three men suspected of the crime, was caught, tried, convicted and sentenced to the state reformatory, the company has failed to recover any of the money.

In district court yesterday, the street railway company, through Thomas S. Wood, its attorney, filed suit against the Fidelity & Deposit company of Maryland to recover $1,600 on a policy which insured the company against loss or damage by robbery.

The policy was taken out on May 27, 1915, and was in force last September.

Don't Stay Gray

Tint your hair to the shade desired with "Brownatone." This new preparation is far superior to any mixture that contains henna, sulphur, silver, lead or similar preparations.

There is no danger of an itching or poisoned scalp when you use "Brownatone," for this simple preparation positively contains no lead, mercury, silver, sulphur, zinc, aniline, coal-tar products or their derivatives. You just brush or comb it into the hair and presto!—your gray hairs instantly disappear—your hair is a beautiful and uniform color throughout—the ends are as dark as the balance and you have any shade desired from a light brown to a black. Just a moment's "touching up" once a month and no one can ever detect it.

No rubbing or washing off—no fading.

Prepared in two shades—one to produce golden or medium brown, the other, dark brown or black. Two sizes—25 cents and $1.00.

We will send absolutely free, for a short time only, a sample bottle of "Brownatone" if you will send us your name and address accompanied by 10c to help pay postage and packing. No samples at dealers. This offer is made for you to try "Brownatone" Hair Stain, and find for yourself just how superior it is to all so-called "dyes," combs, etc. The Kenton Pharmacal Co., 527 Pike street, Covington, Ky.

SPANISH WAR VETERANS HEAR PROGRAM AND TALK ON PATRIOTISM

MISS JOSEPHINE COBURN, Violinist.

MISS MYRTLE FINKLE, Soloist.

Patriotism is only expressed in service, W. E. McEwen, Duluth postmaster, told an audience of United Spanish War Veterans and their friends assembled at Memorial hall, courthouse, last evening for the annual "country store" and entertainment given by Camp John G. McEwen, No. 6.

The speaker strongly urged that, right or wrong, the people should stand back of their president. He declared that it was those who had risked their lives for their country who have always loved it most and that the test of true patriotism was service. He also discussed the immigration question and strongly favored a literacy test for immigrants.

Miss Beatrice Green gave a piano selection; Mrs. Frank Bradley, song recitation; Miss Josephine Coburn, violin solo; Miss Myrtle Finkle, vocal solo. Miss Mabel Flix was accompanist. Following the program, 350 prizes were awarded to winners in the country store competition, and a lunch was served.

In charge of the entertainment was a committee consisting of the following members: T. W. Gunn, chairman; L. G. Andrews, A. E. Neilson, M. P. Orchard, Nick Bergerson, W. L. Pierce, T. F. Brown, George J. Sherman, H. M. Hutchings and Harry Rosenberg.

SHRINERS PROVIDE UNUSUAL FEATURES FOR VAUDEVILLE SHOW

Mrs. Donna Riblette Flaaten, well known Duluth soprano, and little Dorothy Alyne Crouch, a pupil at the Jefferson school, will furnish two of the acts for the vaudeville show to be staged by the Shriners at the Orpheum-Strand theater next Tuesday and Wednesday evenings and at the Broadway theater in Superior the following Thursday.

Mrs. Flaaten will render a polonaise from "Mignon," by request, and several folk songs, while Dorothy will present a series of costume dances. The latter is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Crouch and she appeared recently at the Red Cross bazar, where she scored a success.

The headline attraction will be the Shrine girls, who will make their first public appearance at this show. They will close the show with a thirty-minute musical comedy number under the direction of Prof. A. F. M. Custance. The crack squad of Arab patrol will present a twelve-minute double-time drill, while the Temple band of forty pieces will render several concert numbers under the direction of Charles Helmer.

The other acts include Harry McEvoy, the Chicago magician, a special comedy sketch from New York and "The Musical Mystery," an act prepared by well known musicians of Duluth. Tickets are now selling at the Orpheum-Strand box office and at the Broadway in Superior.

moved onto a farm in Olmsted county. My boyhood was spent on the farm, the same life led by thousands of others in the great and growing West. It was in your midst that I commenced the study and practice of the profession which has been my life work; it was your encouragement and generous confidence to which is due largely whatever of success I have attained. It is but natural that in your midst, surrounded by my friends, I should make the first speech of this campaign.

"When in response to the request of the editors of the state I announced my willingness to become a candidate for the United States senate, I stated I would declare my position upon the political issues pending before the

FRANK B. KELLOGG.

American people. There are many of these questions today of surpassing importance, and I must for this speech select a few in which I believe the American people are most interested.

His Platform.

"This is the platform upon which I stand: We should

"Immediately prepare this country for defense.

"Protect American citizens upon the high seas and in foreign countries.

"Protect American property and American foreign commerce, which amounts to over $5,300,000,000 per annum.

"Encourage the construction of a merchant marine, in order to handle our foreign commerce and reduce ocean freight rates, which are now exorbitant and an unreasonable tax on our industries.

"In foreign relations, demand and enforce with firmness our rights against other nations, and maintain a bold and just neutrality.

"Protect, by reasonable tariff provisions, the products of our farms, labor and other industries and the development of our natural resources.

"Maintain our control of the Philippines until we shall have fulfilled our pledges, and the islands are suited for self-government.

"Protect and encourage agriculture, the great basis of American wealth.

"Maintain the integrity of representative government and the purity and stability of the courts.

"Strive for a higher standard of social justice, and maintain the independence and security of labor.

"Introduce economy, thrift and efficiency in the departments of government; and,

"Enforce the anti-trust laws, so as to keep open the avenues of enterprise for the American people.

"I should consider it the highest honor to be possessed of the confidence of this people and to be associated with Minnesota's distinguished senior senator, Hon. Knute Nelson, who in this great crisis is standing squarely for American rights and the national honor, and who is serving the people with such conspicuous ability.

Preparation for Defense.

"As we are today facing the shadows of this great European conflict, the first and paramount duty of the American people is to make immediate and thorough preparation to defend the country, maintain our rights and preserve our institutions. No other issue is of such surpassing importance. There is only one way to do it, and that is to immediately take steps to procure an efficient and adequate army and navy and to husband our resources and finances, so that our position will be respected by foreign countries, and thus insure protection to our people. This does not mean war; it is the only way to peace. A weak and unprotected country invites attack.

"In the impending grave crisis there is only one thing for this people to do, and that is to stand squarely for the maintenance of the national honor, for the protection of American property and commerce. We cannot consent that the rules of international law for the protection of innocent people, established by the express agreement and immemorial custom of civilized nations and the highest dictates of humanity, shall be swept away by the exigencies of war. These are duties which we owe to ourselves and to the world, if American citizenship is to be respected. There is no sacrifice a people may be called upon to make which should not be willingly made to accomplish this object, for a government which does not afford that protection and has not the confidence and respect of its own people and of the civilized world cannot permanently endure.

"One man who is, and has been, doing more than anyone else to stir the patriotism of the people and to awaken them to a realization of the dangers confronting the country is Theodore Roosevelt.

Should Avoid War.

"We should, so far as is consistent with national dignity and honor, do everything to avoid war. We should practice and set the example to the people of the world of the principles of right and justice, which go far to prevent these conflicts; but we may not be able to control those mighty currents of public sentiment,—often invisible,—which at times have swept nations into war and changed the destinies of peoples.

"Our conduct during this war has not tended to make us respected abroad. We have not stood firm, as we should, for the protection of American citizens upon the high seas and the protection of our commerce with both neutral and belligerent nations. Foreign countries believe us to be weak, unprepared and afraid of war. We know we are unprepared, but that as a people we have a high sense of honor and patriotism and an unconquerable spirit to maintain American rights.

The Mexican Situation.

"We are forcibly reminded of these duties and of the inadequacy of our defenses by the conditions in Mexico today. As to the vacillating, inconsistent attitude of the present administration in dealing with that problem, it is unnecessary to speak. The American people with substantial unanimity have made up their minds upon this subject. For more than a quarter of a century American citizens have been settling in Mexico, developing its industries and investing in its enterprises. They went to Mexico, not only with the free will of their own country but upon the invitation and with the guaranty of protection by the Mexican government. For nearly five years a state of anarchy has existed in that country; American lives have been sacrificed by the hundreds, American women outraged, millions of American property destroyed and, lastly, American territory invaded. We have been tolerant—almost indifferent—to the demands of our own people for protection, while roving, plundering brigands, who call themselves generals, have defied our authority and laughed at our protests. During this time had we been able to assemble upon the Mexican border 100,000 men, backed by a determined government, does anyone believe these things would have occurred?

Best Security Is Defense.

"We have the very best military authority for the proposition that any first-class foreign power with a large navy and transports could land an army on our Atlantic coast in two or three weeks' time, and that our Pacific possessions could be easily taken and an army landed on the Pacific coast. We know that in the present war large armies have been transported a long distance and landed on hostile shores much better protected than ours in equally short time. Is it necessary, with the examples of this war before us, that we be reminded of the horrors of a hostile invasion? I am not an alarmist, but I believe our best security is proper defense. I know it is said that Europe will be so exhausted that it cannot make war, but all history shows that countries at the close of a war are better equipped for such invasions than at any other time. It will be remembered that the well equipped and trained veterans at the disposal of this government at the close of the Civil war were able, by their presence merely, to induce Louis Napoleon of France to withdraw his support from Mexico. We must remember that we have been peaceful and prosperous during this conflict, and it is impossible for us to tell what animosities, jealousies, trade conflicts and disagreements may follow the close of this war.

"I shall not attempt to discuss the details of military or naval preparedness; that requires the opinion of experts in the war department and navy department—men who have given their lives to this work, and such as every other nation depends upon. When, however, the opinion of trained experts has been given, it should not be overruled and suppressed by some politician who happens for a brief period of time to be the superior officer of such experts."

The Tariff.

Mr. Kellogg discussed foreign commerce and merchant marine and then touched upon the tariff issue, declaring in favor of an efficient non-partisan tariff commission, adding:

"I am not an advocate of extreme protection. As a member of the subcommittee on resolutions which drew the tariff plank in the Republican platform of 1908, I vigorously advocated an honest and reasonable reduction of the tariff on the necessaries of life. I stated then, in letters and speeches, that unless the Republican party should keep its pledges, the agitation would not cease and it would be disastrous to the country. Such proved to be the case. There were then undoubtedly many duties which should have been reduced and certain articles placed on the free list. The principle remains, however, that the people of this country believe in proper protection of American manufacturers, laborers and farmers. Foreign countries are now also coming to this view.

"At the close of the war much of Europe will be unable to purchase our goods, because they will not be able to pay for them in gold, and we shall not need their manufactured articles. We must be prepared to adopt a new policy to meet this renewed competition, to prevent the dumping of foreign goods in our country to the destruction of our producers and manufacturers; to protect our farmers and laborers—where protection is necessary—and to raise a reasonable revenue to support the government.

Democrats Recognize It.

"The Democratic party already realizes the necessity of increasing the revenue and of protecting our domestic industries after the war—although declaring in its platform that protection is unconstitutional—and it has recently taken steps to increase the duty on sugar.

"The claim was made that this tariff bill would reduce the cost of living. As a matter of fact, the cost of living has increased rather than decreased, and the government has lost millions of dollars in revenues. It is estimated that in the last year the government lost $1,600,000 in duties on beef, dairy and grain products alone. It has not yielded revenue for the government, nor afforded adequate protection for our industries. In addition to the corporation tax imposed by a Republican congress, there have been imposed an income tax and an excise tax such as have never been imposed in the history of this country, except under the exigencies of war."

Trusts and Combines.

Mr. Kellogg opposed self-government for the Philippines at the present time, denounced public extravagance and discussed trusts and combinations, referring to his services as counsel for the government in the cases against the paper trust, the Standard Oil trust and the Union Pacific-Southern Pacific merger. He said:

"I have always vigorously advocated that congress should provide for a system of federal license to large corporations engaged in interstate commerce, on condition that they obey the law, not enter into agreements fixing prices, limiting output or eliminating competition, and if they violate the terms of their license, provide for revoking it. This, with the reasonable supervision of the trade commission, would, I believe, not only protect corporations engaged in legitimate business, but constantly aid in preventing agreements raising prices, or other conduct injurious to the public."

VERY BUSY PREACHER.

He Delivers Fifty-Three Sermons in Ten Weeks.

Bemidji, Minn., April 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—Dr. M. D. Fuller, formerly a member of the general conference of the Wyoming conference of the M. E. church, who is here visiting his daughter, Mrs. George H. Strickland, after an absence of two years, preached fifty-three sermons in ten weeks, between Feb. 13, this year, and April 16, and he had engagements up to and including Easter Sunday, but were canceled that he might come to Minnesota. These sermons were delivered in Florida, where Dr. Fuller has passed the last eighteen months.

Dr. Fuller has been a minister for forty-eight years.

FUNERAL OF MRS. CUTLER POSTPONED

The funeral of Mrs. Jane Cutler, who died at Atlantic City, N. J., Monday, has been postponed until 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

Because of a failure to make train connections at Chicago yesterday, the body did not arrive this morning as had been expected and the funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon from the family residence, 2229 East Superior street.

Gilbert Cutler and W. E. Magner are accompanying the body to Duluth. Interment will be at the Forest Hill cemetery.

CHARGES RIVER WITH BREAKING LAW

Floated Liquor From "Wet" to "Dry" Territory, Declares Prisoner.

Probably the first time that a "river" was ever accused of being an "accomplice" in violating the Federal liquor laws was yesterday afternoon according to United States Deputy Marshal Scott Cash. One of the seven prisoners held for violating the liquor laws declares that he was not at fault, as the river washed kegs of liquor from "wet" territory to "dry" and that his only offense was to fish them out. He said a friend placed the kegs in the water to cool and that the river did the rest.

Despite this ingenious answer to the charge, all seven prisoners will be taken to Fergus Falls for trial. Their sentences will not be more than sixty to ninety days while if they were to remain here for trial, they would be kept in suspense about that long before court is in session.

The seven were arrested in Hibbing and at Grand Rapids.

THIEF RIVER FALLS WATER EXAMINED

Thief River Falls, Minn., April 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—J. A. Childs, a sanitation expert of Minneapolis, came here and made an examination of the city's water supply, and also to report as to whether a filtration system should be installed by the city. Mr. Childs secured a number of samples of river water at the city's pumping station, and these will be analyzed by the state health department.

It is estimated that filtration plant would cost in the neighborhood of $30,000.

No More Meetings at Present.

St. Paul, Minn., April 27.—The efficiency and economy commission will not hold any more meetings until after the June primaries. The postponement of any meetings until that period was agreed Tuesday at a meeting here between Senator A. J. Rockne of Zumbrota, chairman of the commission, and Gufnar Bjornson, a member of the commission.

South Dakota Pioneer Dies.

Mitchell, S. D., April 27.—Stewart F. Goodykoontz, who erected the first building in Mitchell thirty-seven years ago, died Tuesday evening. He was 80. He was the first president of the First National bank of Mitchell.

Thousands of Families Rely on This Kidney Remedy

I suffered for three months with what the doctors called Malaria Fever, but I believe it was kidney trouble. Three different doctors were unable to help me, all giving me up and I would have died only for your Swamp-Root. My mother read one of your advertisements that fitted my case, and before I used four bottles of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root I was entirely cured. My Mother and Husband both are using your Swamp-Root and have been greatly benefited by it. I always have Swamp-Root in the house and can't say enough for your wonderful remedy, as it has saved my life.

Yours truly,
MRS. DORA RYAN,
1105 N. Sheridan Ave., Tacoma, Wash.

Personally appeared before me this 5th day of May, 1915, Mrs. Dora Ryan, who subscribed the above statement and made oath that the same is true in substance and in fact.

Entertainment for Summer Visitors

Naturally, the lake is of never-failing interest to out-of-town visitors, especially to those from towns where artesian wells supply drinking and wash water. The boat club is going to make it possible this year for members to entertain their summer visitors at a la carte meals at the main house at all times. The crews on the water and freighters and passenger boats gliding into the bay are going to share honors with the dining room. Table d'hote dinners, preceding dances, will not be neglected, but they will be the exceptions, while a la carte meals will be the rule.

The first dances will be held at the main house and Oatka Saturday night, June 3. Saturday night dances will be held at both houses all season and there will be Wednesday dances at Oatka.

Members may give private dancing parties at the main house any time, with the exception of Saturday night, and Oatka, as usual, will be open for dances at any time.

House Cleaning Hints.

Washington Star: A paint brush will get dust out of cracks better than any duster will, for a cloth cannot reach all the corners. Try it when you are cleaning baseboards, window sashes, etc. A child's toy broom is also a great benefit in dusting corners back of heavy furniture, window sashes and different places about the house. It is just the right medium between a large broom and a whiskbroom. A stocking pulled over the hand is convenient for light dusting. A broom will last longer if it is dipped in cold water after it has been used and then rested on two horizontal supports until it is dry. Two nails driven into a wall will do. The weight of the dampness will help to keep the broom in proper shape.

A place for sweeping utensils may be made from a smoothly planed board about four feet long, six inches wide and one and one-half inches thick. Bore four holes through the board at equal distances apart. After applying two coats of varnish, secure it to the wall in an out-of-the-way corner of the kitchen. Brooms and mops may be placed upright in this rack, and dustpan and brushes may be hung from hooks screwed along the edge.

Kneepads made from iron holders are a great blessing when cleaning floors. Sew elastic to the holders, thus forming a garter. Then when hardwood floors are to be waxed, floors washed up or any of the tasks that make one's knees sore, just slip these garters on, with the holders or cushions on the knees, and you will have no more sore knees.

Saturate an ordinary mop in crude paraffin oil. Wrap the mop in cheesecloth and stand in a draining pan for several days, until the paraffin oil is thoroughly absorbed. It is invaluable for hardwood or painted floors and the cheesecloth is excellent for dusting polished furniture.

Saw a broom handle two feet long. On the bottom nail a lathe nine inches long. On this tack a scrub cloth. Wet and clean under radiators, hot stoves, bath tubs, etc. When worn out rip off and replace. Saw off a broom handle full length and fasten in the hollow handle of a dustpan. This will save stooping.

To clean the picture molding it is often necessary to remove the hooks on which the picture wire is hung. A tiny pencil mark on the molding will show where each hook is to be replaced and saves much tiresome labor.

When washing windows add a small quantity of bluing to the water and the windows will be improved in appearance.

Match marks may be removed from white paint by rubbing with a cut lemon. Smear the spot lightly with the lemon.

When cleaning a house just vacated for your use, use a good amount of carbolic acid.

Remove all gold and silver from rooms in which sulphur is burned.

Miss Myrna Pressnell Bride of Elmer A. Larson

MRS. ELMER A. LARSON.

At noon today at the residence of the bride's cousin, Mrs. F. W. Spicer, 814 Forty-seventh avenue east, Miss Myrna Pressnell, daughter of Mrs. Thomas Pressnell, became the bride of Elmer A. Larson of Kerkhoven, Minn.

The service was read by Dr. John W. Hoffman of the First Methodist church in the presence of the immediate relatives and was followed by a breakfast which was served at 1 o'clock. Mrs. Spicer and Mrs. O. R. Myre of Chisholm both cousins of the bride, played the Lohengrin wedding march as the bride entered followed by her maid of honor, Miss Mary King of Portland, Or. Miss Pressnell's gown was of ivory white satin and tulle made en train and she carried a shower arrangement of valley lilies.

Her maid was gowned in rose taffeta and carried a shower of roses. The house was beautifully decorated with Easter lilies, palms and large white tulle bows. Mrs. Peachey of Chisholm, an aunt of the bride and formerly of this city, was an out of town guest. After June 1 Mr. and Mrs. Larson will be at home at Big Grove Farm, Kerkhoven, Minn.

Choral Society's Interpretation of "The Creation" Delights Audience

Before a most appreciative audience and under the direction of R. Buchanan Morton, the Duluth Choral society gave a performance of Haydn's "Creation" last night at the First Methodist church, which was singular for its strength and beauty.

Haydn's music is fresh and amazingly vital for all of its hundred or more years, and Mr. Morton obtained most gratifying results in the ensemble of the chorus, fine shadings and excellent tone quality throughout.

Mrs. Lucille Brown Duxbury, who essayed the role of Ruth, won much admiration by her excellent interpretation of the difficult part, which she sang with a skill and art, which showed again to splendid advantage the warm flexible quality of her voice.

Joseph Cranbeck of Minneapolis revealed a voice of beautiful tonal tints, decided depth of color and range and admirable breath control, and his solos were well fitted to show the musicianship and temperament of the singer including, as they did, many varying moods.

Rollin M. Pease of the St. Paul Choral society displayed a bass of ample volume, clear enunciation, notably unforced from the faintest piano effects to the most robust, and sang with intelligence and taste. Miss Frances Berg at the piano lent much to the beautiful ensemble by the adequate and beautiful support of her accompanying in which she was ably assisted by Mr. Waghorne at the organ.

Such airs as "With Verdure Clad," "Rolling in Foaming Billows," "On Mighty Pens," and "The Heavens Are Telling," contain much thrilling impulse, while the sublime "And There Was Light" is inspired with warmth and fervor.

Mrs. Duxbury's rendition of "On Mighty Pens" brought forth instant admiration, while the bass solo of Mr. Pease "From Heaven in Fullest Glory Shone" brought forth a storm of applause. The trio, "On Thee Each Living Soul Awaits" was notably well done, and most enthusiastically appreciated and was a fitting close to an exceptionally interesting evening.

Efficient Housekeeping

"Hand Me a Lemon"

MY NEIGHBOR'S electric bell needs recharging, so this morning, when I wanted to take her for a spin in the country, to see the green things growing, I had to go to the back porch and rap on the kitchen door. Her spotless, shining kitchen always seems the most attractive place to me. There is just herself and husband, and because they have breakfast at half-past six she sensibly serves it in the kitchen, where she can make everything hot and appetizing in the shortest time. But this morning breakfast was over, the little round table pushed back against the wall, the screen she keeps in front of the range folded away, and she was washing her lace doilies. The ironing board was out, and the electric iron was ready to attach, so I knew she meant to iron them while they were damp. She is the best-natured woman in the world though, and when I told her I needed her, she wrung the linens and laces out of the rinsing water and laid them away to await her return. I think she presses them on the wrong side and then irons them quite dry between two cloths, for I often notice how firm and smooth they look without any sheeny gloss—just a lustrous polish. But there was no time to inquire. I had noticed she had one of her best cut glass bowls filled with lemons, and a water pitcher and two glasses on a little stand there in the kitchen. This was something new, I was sure, and I had to ask her about it, and let the linen question wait. "How prejy those lemons look in that handsome bowl," I began, and she continued with what I wanted to know: "Yes, don't they? Just like sunshine. We are never without lemons. As soon as my husband gets up he takes the juice of one in a glass of real hot water and I do the same, and we each like lemon juice in our coffee, for we drink it black. We like the juice of lemons better than vinegar on salads, and I use the lemon rinds for cleaning. Some folks like to use kerosene in the bath tub to take off the soapsuds and stain that will gather, but I just imagine the odor never leaves the room, and I cannot stand the smell. So I clean the bath tub and the wash bowl in a jiffy with a lemon rind turned wrong side out. Lemon has a great affinity for grease, and when I do not want to use soap on my best china I squeeze a few drops of the juice of a lemon into the dish and it comes out of the operation of washing all shining."

When she stopped for breath, I asked if she ever used it to take stains from white cloths. "Sometimes," she said; "but salts of lemon is better. This you buy from the druggist, and it is stronger than lemon and salt. I use lemon juice for polishing cut glass tumblers, and that is one thing I believe most housekeepers know nothing about. These pretties are so delicate I am always afraid of breaking the stems, so I fill a pan half full of cold water, place a cloth in the bottom and then add the juice of an entire lemon. Just dipping a tumbler about in this cleans and polishes it and it only needs drying with soft linen."

"Hand me a lemon," I begged. "I have heard it is good for the complexion, and I will try it for bleach, drink, soap, polish and medicine—when we get back."

Disrespect to Parents Leads to Petty Crime, Says "Woman Cop"

Mrs. Alice Stebbins Wells, the Los Angeles policewoman, who will speak at the Commercial club at 8 o'clock tomorrow night, under the auspices of the Women's council, spoke at 11 o'clock this morning to the students of the normal school on the relation of teachers to police work.

Mrs. Wells does not advocate adding to the work and responsibilities of teachers, but she realizes that they exert a great influence. "The beginnings of juvenile delinquency," she said, "present a problem not to the police department or to the court, but to the school. Disrespect to parents and other older persons is the beginning of lawlessness. Small offenses, such as petty thieving and destruction of property are the beginning of greater defections.

"When the parents do not realize that there is any trouble or do not realize its seriousness, they will not call in the policewoman. It is at such times as these that the home teacher, such as we have provided in California, can do good work."

The Home Teacher.

The home teacher, spoken of by Mrs. Wells, was provided for by law for California cities of more than 5,000. Her duty is to make homes useful units of the community, by visiting them to find out what is wrong with them and making suggestions for improvement, and, if necessary, by bringing matters to the attention of the police department. The plan is being tested out in Los Angeles this year. As Mrs. Wells said, mothers will confide in a teacher, who does not represent power, rather than appeal to the police department or court, for fear the children will be taken away from them.

"The home teacher will be able to keep the juvenile court clear of many cases that should not come into it, and the court will be more effective because of the fewer children brought before it," she said. "If six boys out of twelve in a crowd that hangs around a corner are on probation, probation is not taken seriously. In Los Angeles we have a juvenile department in our police force in charge of a sergeant, with three men of fine character, having families of their own, working under him. The policewomen also work in this department. Now, instead of sending juvenile delinquents swiftly through the courts, as formerly, investigations are made and the cases are turned over to the juvenile bureau. By talking things over with the children and their parents, advising both and directing the child's life, the number of cases coming before the juvenile court has been reduced 25 per cent."

Was First "Lady Cop."

When Mrs. Wells became a member of the Los Angeles police department almost six years ago, she was the only woman in the United States holding such a position. There are now four other policewomen in Los Angeles. In less than six years policewomen have been added to the departments in twenty-two states. Six states have changed their constitutions that they might have policewomen. One of these six states is Minnesota, she said, and there are now policewomen in Minneapolis, St. Paul, Virginia and Crookston.

Mrs. Wells is president of the International Association of Police Women, which was established last year. Seventeen states and Canada are represented in the association that was thrown open to all countries in order that all might feel they had a right to ask for help and to make suggestions. Because of the war it is difficult to reach European countries. There are police women in Norway, Sweden and Denmark and volunteer workers in London.

Mrs. Wells came to Minnesota from North Dakota, where she has been speaking under the direction of the extension department of the state university. She is on her way to Indian-

Billy Robin Finds Advice Is Worthless

FOR THE FIRST day or two after Billy Robin and his little mate arrived in the garden they were quite content to rest and eat, for they were hungry and tired from the long journey. But as soon as they were rested and fed, they began thinking about the new nest.

"That old apple tree was all very well last year," declared Billy; "but I think we had better look around a bit before building. Maybe we can find a better location."

"I don't know about that," answered Mrs. Billy, doubtfully. "I liked the nest in the apple tree. Why not stay there?" For, you see, Mrs. Billy was very anxious to get to building, and hunting around for a new place just a waste of time to her.

"Oh, of course, it would do," admitted Billy; "but I mean to get advice on this matter. Maybe we can find a much better place. There's Chirpy Sparrow now. He suggested the apple tree last year, maybe he will have a new place in mind now."

So Billy darted away, leaving Mrs. Billy to wait with what patience she could muster.

"Silly!" grumbled Mrs. Billy, when she noticed that Chirpy and Billy had begun what appeared to be a long confab. "I'll simply not wait for them! How can I build a nest and lay my eggs and everything, if I have to wait and wait to begin? I'll start nest-making this very minute and I'll make the nest in this crook in the apple tree where we lived all summer. What was good one year ought to be good another."

And with that sensible remark she began her hunt for nest materials.

But Billy didn't look behind him; and he was so intent on his own talk that he would not have noticed if she had picked up straws from under his very bill!

"No," he was saying to Chirpy, "I want to find a new place. The apple tree was very good last year, of course, but I want something different."

"Then build in the osage orange hedge," said Chirpy.

"All right, I will," exclaimed Billy in delight. "Why didn't I think of that myself?"

"That will never do for you," croaked Mr. Garden Toad, who, unnoticed by Billy, had been listening. "Don't you remember that the catbird nests in the hedge?"

Chirpy and Billy had begun what appeared to be a long confab.

"To be sure!" grumbled Billy. "And of course he will come back there this year. I think I'll ask Mr. Owl where to build." And away he flew to Old Man Owl's hole in the pine tree over the way.

"Mr. Owl, please, Mr. Owl, wake up and tell me where to build my nest!"

"Go away! Go away!" mumbled the sleepy owl. "Build where you please. Don't bother me!" And that was all the answer Billy could get from him.

He stood there in the pine tree wondering who he should ask next, when who should he spy but Mrs. Billy, carrying a fine big straw toward the old apple tree.

"No more asking advice for me!" exclaimed Billy, as Mrs. Billy likes the apple tree, and that's where we're going to live!" and he began straw-hunting that very minute.

Peggy Peabody's Observations

Mourning and Grief

If one thinks that black clothing better expresses her grief or shows one departed a deeper love and respect, by all means let her garb herself in the blackest that she can procure. I should, I am sure, wear mourning if occasion arose, not because I felt I must wear it to proclaim my loss to the world, not because it was a duty imposed by custom, but because it harmonized with my feelings and gave me an opportunity of paying my dead one of the few outward tokens of esteem left to me. Poor solace though it is, it undoubtedly lends comfort to many.

The "must" sense of mourning I rebel at, however, and very much dislike. I have known people who were unable to go to the expense of purchasing outfits of this nature for a family. But they did so, not so much from the standpoint of grief and respect for their dead as for the opinion of their neighbors whom they felt and who most likely would comment upon the absence of mourning, a "proper respect" and all the rest of it, in a most unkind and inconsiderate way.

The outward semblances of mourning are not compulsory by any means, or even necessary. They tell the world that you have lost a relative, but they do not and cannot measure the sincerity of your grief. No one can do that except yourself. Those who seek to discover its depth in your clothing and your actions oftentimes are deceived by what appears on the surface.

People who realize how little appearances count in such a matter and who, not believing in shrouding themselves in black clothes, or who, for the very good reason that they cannot afford them, refrain from expressing their grief in this manner, are sometimes very harshly criticized for their course of actions.

A case was brought to my attention recently. A family of growing children and their mother were deprived by death of a father and husband. The mother did not have the means to buy mourning for the children and widow's mourning for herself. The mother attended the funeral in a black dress and hat made over and the children wore the clothing that they owned. The husband's family was incensed over the "lack of respect" of the children.

I say that if the husband's family desired that the children all wear mourning, it was their place to provide it, not the widow's to spend money which she would later need for bread and butter to satisfy the silly pride of her husband's cruel, heartless and selfish relatives, always too ready to criticize.

LEFT HAND A MASS OF PIMPLES

Started With Water Pimples Between Fingers. Was Swollen. Could Not Put it in Water.

HEALED BY CUTICURA SOAP AND OINTMENT

"My skin trouble started with a few water pimples between the fingers of my left hand. My hand was red and inflamed always and it itched so I had to do something, so I would rub it with a rough cloth until it looked as if it were ready to burst and bleed, and I was kept awake at night with it. It got to be a mass of pimples inside and out, and was swollen, and I could not put it in water nor use it much.

"A friend told me how Cuticura Soap and Ointment helped her so I got them, and my hand was entirely healed." (Signed) Miss Norma Lee, 157 W. Main St., Battle Creek, Mich., Aug. 6, 1915.

Some Opinions

"Does it pay?

"Yes, it does pay to pay one's bills, because the creditors profit by that action. But does it pay for a girl—for instance—to behave respectably? I go into an eating house and sit and eat my dinner quietly—because I have to eat in order to live. Others spend every cent they have—and haven't—on pretty clothes, manicuring, hairdressing, etc., and flirt with every man in the place. They are getting a lot of fun out of their dinner. They are liked and petted and helped everywhere. I am respectable—and humdrum. Nobody cares a hang for me!

"I wonder what Molly and the Cynic and The-Lady-Who-Always-Knows-Somehow have to say to that?"

So writes a letter friend.

"But They Don't Marry Her."

I showed the letter to the Cynic. He said:

"Yes, I know what she means. There certainly seems to be an attraction about the girl who has a reputation for being a little bit fast. Men always flock about her. But," he finished, "they don't marry her."

I showed the letter to the Lady-Who-Always-Knows-Somehow.

"Poor child," she said. "She's probably in one of those dreadful black moods that we sometimes have, especially when we are young and don't realize that things never stay so black. I wish she had signed the letter, so I could write to her and tell her that it does pay. You have your self-respect, and that's the biggest thing in the world—though you sometimes lack perspective and think it isn't. Some day she'll meet the right man, and then she'll be so glad she didn't 'flirt with every man in the place.'"

I Wonder What He Meant?

I showed the letter to the Author-man.

"I say," he said, "that reminds me of a quotation." And he whipped out his bill-folder, that he keeps full of his latest finds, and read:

"'To withstand steadfastly the allurements of life, yet pass no censure on those who yield to them, denotes a gentle breadth of character, far removed from the complacent self-esteem of the "unco-guid."'"

What Molly Thought.

Lastly, I showed the letter to Molly.

She pondered upon it. "It is hard," she said finally, "to see silly, overdressed, selfish girls getting all the fun and admiration, but—"

"But what?" said I.

"But don't you think that sometimes a girl blames her lack of popularity on the fact that she is straight, when it really is just because she isn't bright and amusing; because she lacks life and charm?"

"That might well be so," said I.

So now my letter friend need wonder no longer what Molly and Co. think about this matter.

apolis to attend the police women's conference that will be held May 10 to 12, and the National Conference of Charities and Corrections, which will be held in that city May 10 to 17. She is a member of the corrections committee, of which Dr. Katherine B. Davis is the chairman, and will be on the program.

Peace Delegate Will Speak At Women's District Meeting

Mrs. W. I. Thomas of Chicago, executive secretary of the National Woman's Peace party, who was a delegate from America to the Woman's Peace congress at The Hague last April, will speak on "Woman and the International Ideal," at the eighth annual convention of the Eighth district of the Minnesota Federation of Women's Clubs, which will be held at International Falls May 2 and 3.

Noted Persons to Speak.

The program of this convention is made especially interesting by the fact that it will include talks by two former state presidents and the present officer, Mrs. Margaret Evans Huntington, the first president of the federation, will talk on "Equal Suffrage"; Mrs. C. L. Atwood, who was president from 1913 to 1915, will discuss "The Awakening of Social Conscience," and Mrs. William T. Coe, who now holds the highest club honor in the state, will talk on "The Club Woman and the Community."

"Rural Life" is one of the topics that will be discussed at the convention. Mr. Swain of the state educational department will talk on "The Consolidation of Rural Schools."

Miss Elizabeth Rowe of the agricultural college will speak on "Home Economics."

Mrs. Peter Olesen, president of the district, has asked each club to send to the convention a chart showing the civic work done during the year. This will enable the women, at a glance at the chart, to get suggestions for civic work from all the clubs of the district.

Dr. Rogers, superintendent of the state school for feeble minded children, at Faribault, has sent to the convention a $500 exhibit, showing the wonderful work which the children in that school do.

Most of the clubs of the district, with a joint membership of about 1,200, are sending their full quota of delegates, and many visitors besides. Every federated club in Koochiching county, in which the convention is to be held, is sending an average of eight visitors.

Civic League Hostess.

The International Falls Civic league will be the hostess. Mrs. F. G. Nelson, the president, appointed her committees early. All delegates and visitors will be entertained at the homes of International Falls women.

The social part of the program will include a luncheon given by the civic league, at which there will be many interesting toasts. The International Falls women are making arrangements to take their guests to Fort Frances, where they will be entertained by the Canadian women.

Delegates Expected.

Some of the delegates who will attend the convention, are: Mrs. J. D. Barstow and Miss Margaret Oldenburg, Carlton; Mrs. C. B. Watkins, Cloquet; Mrs. B. F. Britts, Mrs. John Costin and Mrs. W. E. Hannaford, Virginia; Mrs. P. E. Bowen and Mrs. V. F. Byman, Big Falls; Mrs. A. V. Corson, Mrs. J. J. Neary, Mrs. P. McLaughlin, Mrs. R. H. Callar, Mrs. J. E. Cowan, Mrs. F. J. McLinn, Mrs. C. W. Fields, Mrs. A. H. Hanchett and Mrs. L. D. Beach, Northome.

Central W. C. T. U.

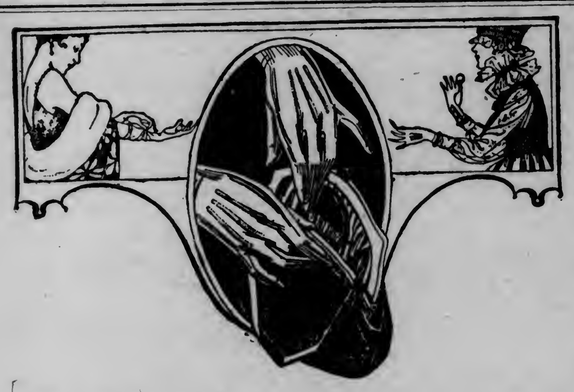
Central W. C. T. U. will hold a business and social meeting at 2:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon at the residence of Mrs. R. M. Hancock, 705 West Third street. Mrs. Joseph Cochran, district president, will give a report of the national W. C. T. U. convention.

Married at Eau Galle.

Arthur J. O'Donnell of 631 East Fifth street was best man at the wedding of his cousin, Erle McRoberts, to Miss Minnie Reckon, which took place yesterday morning at the bride's home in Eau Galle, Wis. A reception followed the ceremony and a ball was held last night. Mr. and Mrs. McRoberts will vist in Duluth on their wedding trip. Miss Inez M. Cross, the maid of honor, and Miss Sammie V. Graves, the bridesmaid, have visited in Duluth.

TO LECTURE ON SHAKESPEARE.

Rabbi Lefkovits Will Begin Series of Addresses Friday Night.



In observance of the tercentennary of the death of William Shakespeare, Dr. Maurice Lefkovits, rabbi of Temple Emanuel, Seventh avenue east and Second street, will begin a series of lectures on his works at the regular services tomorrow evening.

It is the plan of Dr. Lefkovits to lecture on a number of the well-known plays written by Shakespeare, beginning with "The Merchant of Venice" tomorrow evening.

The services will begin at 8 o'clock and are open to the public.

POLICEWOMAN GIVEN TOUR THROUGH CITY

Commissioner Silberstein, safety head, took Mrs. Alice Stebbins Welch, policewoman of Los Angeles, and Miss Emma J. Tyler, policewoman of Superior, on a visit to the county work farm at 2 o'clock this afternoon. They are inspecting the farm for the purpose of making reports to their respective cities. The trip was made in the police department's new automobile, which arrived this morning.

AMUSEMENTS

TONIGHT'S ATTRACTIONS.

LYCEUM—Guy Bates Post in "Omar, the Tentmaker."
NEW GRAND—Vaudeville and photoplays.
ORPHEUM-STRAND—William Farnum and Kathlyn Williams in "The Spoilers," photoplay.
REX—Dorothy Gish in "Little Meena's Romance," photoplay.
LYRIC—Blanche Sweet in "The Sowers," photoplay.
ZELDA—Grand opera singers and photoplays.

Theater Gossip.

Again will joyous Omar Khayyam pitch his tent in Duluth. Guy Bates Post will reappear at the Lyceum theater for three days, beginning this evening, with a matinee on Saturday, in Richard Walton Tully's magnificent Persian spectacle, "Omar, the Tentmaker." The engagement will mark Mr. Post's final local appearance in "Omar," inasmuch as Mr. Tully has nearly completed for his star a new and equally elaborate spectacular play which is scheduled for production in New York this coming fall.

OMAR AGAIN PITCHES HIS TENT HERE.

As every theatergoer already knows, "Omar, the Tentmaker" is based upon the life, times and Rubaiyat of Omar Khayyam, the beloved poet of the eleventh century, especial emphasis being laid upon his engrossing love-life. At the same time the play is compact, with brisk, thrilling action, the swift succession of exciting escapades being calculated to quicken the pulse of even the most blase theatergoer.

Many discerning critics have proclaimed "Omar, the Tentmaker" to be the logical successor to "Kismet." This is probably because not only both plays have an elaborate Oriental background, but because they are the only massive and important spectacular productions made in America since "Ben Hur" and the late Richard Mansfield's "Cyrano de Bergerac." Pictorially the luxurious adornment of "Omar, the Tentmaker" has probably never been surpassed in beauty upon the stage. From beginning to end, there is an unceasing procession of brilliant, colorful settings all suffused with the almost intangible and mysterious spirit of the Orient.

A strong bill is offered at the popular New Grand this week-end and each act is said to possess the qualities of a headliner.

NEW SHOW AT THE GRAND.

Gallagher and Carlin are awarded the topline position with their skit, "Before the Mast." The offering is a nautical travesty with character song numbers and dances interwoven.

With tricks of legerdemain accompanied by breezy patter, E. J. Moore, who styles himself "The Talkative Trickster," is one of the important features of the bill. Moore is not only proficient as a prestidigitator, but his line of patter is original and entertaining.

Songs and dainty dances are featured by Maley and Woods. Both are said to have good voices and pleasing manners.

The Flying Mayos, man and woman, feature the flying rings and trapeze, and their speed and routine of tricks are sensational, almost bordering on the foolhardy. Jack Mulhall and Vera Sisson are featured in "The Man Who Called After Dark," a two-reel drama that toplines the photoplay program. "The Pickle Fiddler's Finish," a comedy, featuring Sis Hopkins and the Selig Tribune News, and a cartoon comedy make up the remainder of the bill.

Kathlyn Williams, co-star with William Farnum in "The Spoilers," at the Orpheum-Strand, has received a wealth of flattering Spoilers." The Los Angeles Times speaks of her as "a finished artist in the technique of the screen."

KATHLYN WILLIAMS POPULAR IN FILM AT ORPHEUM-STRAND.

"Dressing the part in motion pictures has become a most important part, for the time has arrived when the movie actress must 'dress the part' in every meaning of the term," says Miss Williams. "One or two modish gowns will not do as was once the case, for, after all, the women must be pleased for they are one of the mainstays of the film industry.

"I have discovered that even the most expensive gowns must be quickly altered. If a motion picture actress wears one gown too frequently even in a single film play, sharp feminine eyes discover this fact and feminine pens do not hesitate in writing to the film company, and the actress, with caustic comment.

"I have arrived at the belief that the motion picture theater has, to a very great extent, supplanted in influence the fashion journals. Many women have confessed to me that no small part of the entertainment they derive from patronizing film society dramas is from viewing up-to-date gowns worn by the actresses and in criticizing the gowns that are not so up-to-date."

With tonight's performance at the Rex, Dorothy Gish will close the three-day engagement of picture that did great credit to both the Triangle Fine Arts company and to this winsome star. Owen Moore, playing opposite Miss Gish, as the titled nobleman, who won her love disguised as an agent for a patent clothes wringer—makes a strong duo for a very strong play.

"LITTLE MARY" COMING TO THE REX.

Mary Pickford's newest and latest achievement—all of her work being a distinct achievement as critics freely admit, is "The Eternal Grind," in which the noted star and her especially selected company appear for Friday and Saturday at the Rex.

In "The Eternal Grind," "Little Mary" takes the role of a factory girl, and while it is "different" from most of her characters, her capable, undaunted, powerful personality rises unflinchingly to meet every crisis in a life of hardship.

Against the grasping and brutal owner of the factory in which she is employed, against his vicious son who victimizes her favorite sister, and against the terrible disease that is crushing her invalid sister, the indomitable will of the factory girl—Mary—wages ceaseless warfare.

For the first time in pictures the life of naval cadets at Annapolis is shown by special authority of the government in the latest Vitagraph Blue Ribbon feature, "The Hero of Submarine D-2," which is now showing at the Zelda. James Morrison, who portrays one of the leading roles, is dressed as a seaman apprentice and mingles with the others, doing his part in the daily routine.

LIFE IN NAVY SHOWN IN FILM

Morrison distinguishes himself in target practice, succeeding in hitting a target three miles distant. He underwent the experience of donning a diving suit and taking a trip to the bottom of the ocean.

Paul Scardon directed the film and was aided by special permission from the government to use all the units of the United States navy in its production. The film is a five-part play embodying two interesting love affairs besides showing the inner workings of the navy.

Two days of the week are looked forward to by the patrons of the Lyric on account of the Burton Holmes travel pictures that are shown there on Wednesdays and Thursdays. This afternoon and tonight in connection with the Blanche Sweet drama, the Holmes pictures about San Francisco may be seen.

BURTON HOLMES VIEWS AT THE LYRIC.

Burton Holmes is unquestionably one of the most famous and interesting travelers of America. In consenting to take the camera-man with him on his journeys this year through the interesting parts of the United States, Mr. Holmes gave the great stay-at-home public a chance to see their country in a very happy way. His journeys are made by automobile largely and the audience looks through the Burton Holmes eyes of his moving picture camera, and sees all the interesting sights that the traveler himself sees. The San Francisco picture today and tonight is unusually fine.

Miss Sweet in "The Sowers," a strong Russian play, will be seen tonight for the last time. Friday and Saturday Valeska Suratt will return to the Lyric in "The Immigrant," a picture not without its startling phases. Both of these stars are well known and their work in the plays offered proves more than satisfying.

HEALTH TALKS

BY WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

Herpes, Fever Blister, Or Cold Sore

WILLIAM BRADY M.D.

Herpes, or cold sore, occurs upon the lower part of the face, about the mouth, cheek or chin. The patient first feels a stinging, burning sensation, or itching. At the same time a group of little pinhead sized blisters form. These are filled with clear yellowish fluid, and they are surrounded by a reddened area of skin or mucous membrane. Herpes may come upon the lips, or upon the eyelids. There may be one patch or several, and sometimes a large area of skin is covered with herpetic eruption. After a few days the little blisters dry up into a crust which soon falls off and leaves a red spot that disappears after several more days.

Upon the lips or eyelids, when mucous membrane is involved, the crust is apt to leave a superficial ulcer which is very painful and irritable.

Something like a thousand readers have asked us to tell what is the cause of herpes, and in our skilful way we have evaded the issue by springing Latin or medical terms to cover our stupendous ignorance. Unfortunately the authorities, who generally serve us in good stead when we are thus pinned down, have nothing to offer in the way of causes of herpes, so we shall have to give our own little theoretical conception and let it go at that.

Herpes or "cold sore" or "fever blister," then—the oracle now speaks—is a reflex signal thrown up by the system to indicate, dumbly, that something has gone wrong inside. Herpes on the face is almost a classical symptom of pneumonia. Herpes on the cheek recurs again and again in certain children whenever a tooth becomes carious, and only careful attention by the dentist will clear up the frequent and annoying attacks of herpes.

Herpes on the lip is a common incident of an acute coryza or tracheitis.

Some people have an attack of herpes whenever they indulge in overeating.

A good many women have about thirteen attacks of herpes annually.

The treatment is simple. The lesion will clear up rapidly if left to itself. A small spot on the skin may be protected with collodion, or painted with compound tincture of benzoin, or gently smeared with zinc oxide ointment. Touching herpes on the lip frequently with spirits of camphor dries it up.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

Canker Sores in Mouth.

Please give some suggestions regarding the cause and relief of canker sores in the mouth. I suffer agonies from this trouble, and I meet many others similarly afflicted, but no one appears to have anything to offer.

Answer—Faulty oral hygiene is the first factor—decayed teeth, chronic inflammation or infection of gums, diseased tonsils, perhaps in some cases too prolonged use of antiseptic dentifrices, too vigorous brushing, tobacco. Toxemia from intestinal stasis is another factor, whether you think you are constipated or not. Touch the canker sore once each day with tincture of iodine diluted with an equal volume of alcohol.

Second Operation for Goiter.

I have had exophthalmic goiter seven years. Two years ago half the gland was removed, but it only made me more nervous. I am also badly constipated. Doctor now advises another operation. Should I have it? Is it a sure cure?

Answer—It is not a sure cure, but have the constipation properly remedied first.

The Antitoxin Bugaboo Again.

What effect would an injection of antitoxin have upon a person who had tosilitis, and not diphtheria?

Answer—Unless a trifling attack of hives, the antitoxin would have no apparent effect. We know, because we have taken it as a prophylactic, when we had no illness at all, but wished to be prepared against possible infection. If antitoxin were dangerous we would not voluntarily take any.

Dr. Brady will answer all signed letters pertaining to health. If your question is of general interest it will be answered through these columns; if not it will be answered personally if stamped, addressed envelope is enclosed. Dr. Brady will not prescribe for individual cases or make diagnoses. Address, Dr. William Brady, care of this newspaper. Protected by The Adams Newspaper Service.

THE FIRST CIRCULATING LIBRARY.

Magazine of American History: In 1781, when 25, Benjamin Franklin prepared a plan for a public library to be maintained by subscribers. Next year the Philadelphia library was started, the first in the world that permitted books to be taken home to read. The only other library in the colonies was in Boston, but was not circulating. He likened such a library to a well to which one had to travel to drink, while a circulating library was like a water supply sent to houses through pipes.

Try This If You Have Dandruff

There is one sure way that never fails to remove dandruff completely and that is to dissolve it. This destroys it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive, and four ounces is all you will need. This simple remedy has never been known to fail.—Advertisement.

ROTARIANS WILL BE GUESTS OF MEN'S CLUB

Duluth Rotarians will be guests of the Endion Men's club this evening at a dinner which will be served in the parlors of the Endion M. E. church, corner Nineteenth avenue east and First street at 6:30.

An interesting program has been prepared. Among the numbers will be an illustrated talk on logging operations which will be made by John Lumm. A business session will follow when the applications for membership of a number of Duluthians, will be passed upon.

The most important feature of the business session will be the appointment of two representatives to the annual convention of the International Association of Rotarians to be held in Cincinnati next July 16, 17, 18, 19 and 20. It is probable that more than two delegates from here will attend.

BORDER CITY NOTES.

Druggist Rubin and Wife Going to Florida to Live.

International Falls, Minn., April 27.—Mr. and Mrs. S. N. Rubin are to soon leave the city, Mr. Lawrence having decided to transfer Mr. Rubin to Tampa, Fla., where he is operating several drug stores. They expect to leave early next month and will make the trip via New York, where they will visit Mr. Rubin's relatives for a short time. Mr. Rubin has been with the Lawrence pharmacy for years, and recently as manager, since Mr. Lawrence removed to Tampa. The name of the new manager of the local store has not been announced.

A card party will be given this evening at the church hall by the Ladies' Aid of St. Thomas church. Lunch will be served.

H. C. Ash of Duluth, who was resident engineer here on dam construction, is in town.

Commissioner Harrigan and Engineer Ogaard went to Littlefork last night and from there will walk to town over the Elweel highway for inspection purposes. It is reported that several culverts have been washed out, but it is not believed that the damage is very heavy.

Sam Byerly of Duluth, auditor of the Duluth Brewing company, spent Tuesday in town.

Joseph Gauthier, the millwright, left last night for Duluth to accept work.

BLAMES ACTOR FOR BREAKING UP HOME

Paul Oliver, 23, is cultivating an aversion for the show. "A Pair of Sixes," which played the Lyceum theater in this city last January. Not that he has any quarrel with the playwright, for he has not. It simply calls to his mind one occasion that helped to break up his home, for he alleges that one of the actors in the company, which appeared here, was too intimate with his wife, Mrs. Jennie Nelson Oliver, 26. In divorce papers filed today in district court, Oliver charges them with adultery.

Peter Green, Sam Orlicks and Charlie Wright are named as other co-respondents.

The divorce papers were served on Mrs. Oliver in Minneapolis. She will not contest.

BRITISH REPORTED TO HAVE SUNK DUTCH SHIPS

Berlin, April 27, wireless to Sayville.—The Overseas news agency says a report has been published in the Dutch newspaper De Tribune that the British sank a Dutch warship several weeks ago. According to this report the crew of the man-of-war was sent to India to conceal news of the affair and Great Britain promised to pay damages.

TODAY IN HISTORY.

U. S. Grant born, 1822.

(Hiram) Ulysses Simpson Grant was born at Point Pleasant, Ohio, the eldest son of a tanner and farmer. Was graduated from West Point, twenty-first in a class of thirty-nine. Took part in Mexican war, and was breveted captain for gallantry at Chapultepec. Resigned from the army in 1854, engaging in farming and real estate near St. Louis with very ill success. When Civil war broke out he was working for his father in Galena, Illinois. Offered his services to the government, but receiving no reply entered the Illinois troops as a volunteer, becoming brigadier-general of volunteers in August, 1861. His great service was, first, to divide the Confederacy by his drive south through Vicksburg, and, second, to wear out and defeat Lee in Virginia. Made lieutenant-general in command of the army after Vicksburg. Elected president 1868 and 1872. Died at Mount McGregor, New York, from cancer of the throat, 1885.

READING (available in Duluth public library)—General U. S. Grant, "Personal Memoirs" (covers the author's life down to the close of the war in simple and unaffected style, sentences often having the same pithy directness and brevity that marked his dispatches from the battlefield); Hamlin Garland, "Ulysses S. Grant, His Life and Character" (an attempt at characterization; composite picture of Grant's character more or less distinct).

NOT IN THAT KIND OF "HEROIC MOOD."

In the Massachusetts presidential primaries out and out Roosevelt candidates for delegates at large were rather decisively defeated. The same thing happened in New Jersey, where the "unpledged delegates" beat the Roosevelt delegates. This isn't conclusive, of course. It may mean only that the Old Guard controls the delegations and will do as it pleases with them. In that case it is not at all hopeless for Roosevelt. On the other hand, while New Mexico sent uninstructed delegates, five out of six of them are for Roosevelt.

Regardless of these returns Roosevelt stock seems noticeably lower.

There hasn't exactly been a panic in it. It isn't that it isn't still high, or that he hasn't still a good chance for the nomination. Indeed, the fear that he won't play unless he IS the nominee, whatever the circumstances, still remains to force his nomination if nothing else does. This despite the fact that preferences, wherever they get a chance to be expressed, lean markedly toward Hughes rather than Roosevelt—Hughes, whom in private talk Roosevelt refers to as "that Baptist hypocrite."

But the tide of political news from the country—especially from the Middle West, which is as patriotic as the Atlantic coast but not so panic-stricken—brings such tidings as the Ford vote in Michigan and Nebraska, and that's not news favorable to Roosevelt stock. When Ford, who is not a candidate and who is most notoriously a peace at any price man, can carry states, it shows that the market for hobgoblin alarms and swashbuckling statesmanship is very small—and growing smaller.

Another thing that makes the Roosevelt stock tend to sink is the bitter complaint which comes from security leagues and defense societies and compulsory-service newspapers, that the people are indifferent to their fate, that they have lost all their patriotism, that, in short, they utterly refuse to become converted to the hysteria of militarism. Indeed, the chief difficulty seems to be to convince them that even the fairly moderate program congress is likely to enact is necessary—though to the militarists this program is vexingly feeble and inadequate.

Roosevelt comes with his champing steed and jingling accouterments, the man on horseback prepared to lead us to gory glory, and finds the people going calmly about their several affairs with complete indifference to the need of any man on the back of a war horse to lead them. It is rather chilling. It is painfully evident that the country is not in the "heroic mood" it would have to be in to invite wanton war by making a presidential candidate out of its most eminent fire-eater and chip-carrier and brickbat-hurler.

And he probably will be nominated, at that.

Can you tell offhand what is the last day for the payment of your real estate taxes?

THE CROWN PRINCE AND MEXICO.

Willow River Farmer: Had the crown prince gone after Villa he would be back by this time with the whole Mexican republic. That is, of course, assuming preparedness from the German point of view.

There, friend, you've said it. And it is a crown prince—or a bunch of them—who have stirred up this whole trouble that made it necessary for anybody to go after Villa. Not princes of the blood royal, to be sure, but princes of the commercial world. And they won't be satisfied until somebody does come back with the whole Mexican republic.

We don't want Mexico—that is, most of us don't, and most-of-us constitutes the real United States, in spite of the fact that a few are trying to deceive themselves into a contrary notion. Nevertheless these crown princes—or perhaps we would do better to call them dollar princes, since we have no coin in this country called a "crown"—these dollar princes do want Mexico, and they won't be happy till they get it.

And because they think it would be pleasant for Uncle Sam to foot the bills to get it, and for the rest of us who are not dollar princes to do the marching and starving and fighting and dying to get it—because they think we have no business on earth except to get for them whatever they want, they are using all the means in their power to put us through the necessary paces to gain their ends.

Leave the crown prince out of Mexican affairs—and keep the dollar princes out if you can. Such a consummation will make things vastly better for all concerned on both sides of the Rio Grande.

A lot of people will find it utterly impossible to understand that New York man's refusal to accept the postmastership.

THE MORAL COURAGE OF PACIFISM.

The success of the preparedness campaign is in large part due to the fact that the proponents of excessive "preparedness" have bluffed down its opponents.

They have, by bullying, made many people believe that there is something unpatriotic, milk-and-watery, spineless, molly-coddlish, cowardly, about opposing too much preparedness.

Pretty soon, though, the opposition will catch its second wind and realize that this is not so.

It is not cowardly, but brave, to fight against militarising a peaceful Republic.

It takes more courage to stand out for common sense and sanity than to turn and follow the current, pretending acquiescence against innate conviction.

A good deal of the ultra-preparedness talk is deliberately propagated for political purposes by politicians, and for profit by men with munitions to sell. A good deal of it is mistaken patriotism. A good deal of it is cheap braggadocio. None of it has any relation to the sensible preparedness which the vast majority of the citizens approve.

It is not only perfectly respectable to oppose excessive militarism, but noble.

It is no better for a nation to rely on guns to do its talking—though to certain crude and easily swayed minds it seems manly and brave to think so—than it is for a man to rely on brass knuckles to do his talking for him.

The only man who needs brass knuckles is the man whose case is bad.

The only nation that needs world-conquering armament is the nation whose aims are inimical to civilization.

Probably over in Germany they are asking who in blazes put the US in Sussex.

"THEY WHO KNOCK AT OUR GATES."

Mary Antin, who is to speak here Monday night at the First Methodist church under the auspices of the Temple Emanuel Aid society, is in herself a striking example of the brightest side of immigration. She came to this country from Russia twenty-two years ago, at the age of thirteen. She had no word of English, utterly no experience of life outside the Jewish pale. Within sixteen years she had produced two of the most thought-compelling books of the time.

This unlettered immigrant is a living illustration of the possibilities for America in the flood of immigration and of the possibilities to the immigrant in the opportunities offered in this land to questioning and aspiring souls.

This young woman has a message—a message of democracy, of liberty, of opportunity. She is spokesman for human rights, and she utters in burning, poignant words her plea for liberty, democracy and human rights. Though one cannot agree with her extreme idea of utterly unrestricted immigration, though sympathizing with it in view of her experience, nobody can fail to be impressed by her sincerity, her intense loyalty to the human family, and the simple eloquence of her plea for universal humanity.

That Chicago judge would have had still more people on his side if he'd stopped with the statement that he wasn't ready to say who wrote the plays, but that it was a cinch Shakespeare didn't.

THE UNSELFISH HEARST.

Mr. Hearst's New York Journal makes the following helpful suggestion:

> In time the government of the United States will be in the hands of men, and will deal with Mexico in the former American way.
> And a slice will come off Mexico that will equal in size all that was left of Mexico after we attached Texas and some other territory.

Now there's a pure, unadulterated, unselfish statesmanship and kindness! Not to speak of the fact that such talk must be enormously reassuring to Mexicans who wrongly suspect the altruism of our attitude toward Mexico, there is also the fact that Hearst feels that in justice to the United States his Mexican ranch of 1,010,000 acres ought to be in American territory. That this would add a mere trifle of twenty or thirty millions to its value is of course a minor item that he gives no thought to.

Meanwhile the G. O. P. is preparing to submit to the influences of the little bad man from Elba.

Mr. Bryan's Case.

Toledo Blade: We have no faith in the theory that hats cause baldness. Take the case of Mr. Bryan, for example; since 1896 he has been standing before the audience with his hat off, yet much of his hair has disappeared.

Voices of Reason in Germany

Editorial in the New York Evening Post.

Reports from Berlin of newspaper comments, and of individual expressions on the controversy with the United States are of all shades of opinion. The net effect, however, seems to us to warrant a hope that the reply of the German government to President Wilson's demand will at least be conciliatory in tone, and may contain great concessions. We must wait a few days to see, but we need not wait at all to point out the significance of the position taken by Maximilian Harden, as given in this morning's dispatches. Under the guise of an imaginary message to the German people by the president of the United States—beneath the caption, "If I were Wilson"—he reads a sharp lesson to his countrymen.

Now, Harden is much more than the irrepressible blurter out of disagreeable truths. His place in the German press is due to something other than his terrible frankness, his biting criticisms, his occasional appearance of a sensationalist and a notoriety seeker. Above all this stands the fact that he has the knack of hitting off the thoughts and feelings of a great many Germans. They may resent what they think his imprudences, but they respond to the ardor and the force of his attacks upon public evils. They did so in the case of his writing, years ago, against the military clique—some of them materialist and decadent—which had the ear of the kaiser. They felt that he was getting on the raw when he exposed, long before the war, the inepiness of German diplomacy, and pointed out how the policy of the government was leading straight to a war on disadvantageous terms for Germany. So that when, today, Maximilian Harden devotes an entire issue of his Zukunft to some very plain speaking about the differences which have arisen between the German government and the United States, we may be certain that his words will have a wide echo in Germany.

What Harden sets out to do is, in the first place, to show the utter hollowness of many of the complaints which Germans have made of the conduct of the United States during the war. Upon all the whining about our sale of munitions to the allies he sets a heel of contempt. The thing was perfectly lawful; Germany had often done it, and would do it again; and it was not the fault of the United States that the Germans could not buy war supplies in this country as freely as their enemies. Harden, however, has some very telling things to say about the foolish and even criminal activities of German agents in the United States, seeking to interfere with the manufacture and delivery of ammunition. He shows what an immense disservice to the German cause this has been, and makes the apt comparison: "I only ask would Germany have allowed, during the Manchurian war, Japanese agents to work in Prussian Poland, and by agitations and endangering munition factories frighten Germany into enmity against Russia?" A more severe rebuke to the attitude and activities of Germans in this country, with their plots and conspiracies in open violation of our laws, could not well be written.

We have as yet only fragments of Harden's long appeal to the good sense of German people, and do not know if he had anything to say about what other German editors are continually making the burden of their complaints—namely, that England is adopting a policy of "starvation" against Germany, yet that the United States has made no protest against it. What Harden could do with this absurdity if he let himself go against it, can easily be imagined. He could show that when the German whimperers say starvation they really mean a blockade; that the latter is a recognized and lawful means of war; and that the United States, having enforced the greatest and longest blockade known to history, and thereby starved into submission the South—which, by the way, never groaned over it in the German fashion—could not without stultifying itself object to Great Britain's using the same method of warfare. Insofar as our government believed the British blockade to be irregular, and to infringe upon the rights of neutral commerce, it has protested, and is still awaiting the answer to its protests. But it could do nothing so fantastic as to cry out against the practice of cutting off Germany's supplies by blockade. Indeed, Harden could tell his fellow countrymen that nothing has befallen them which was not explicitly predicted by their most sagacious advisers, in case Germany got into a war with England. Prince Bulow, for example, in his book published shortly before the war, pointed out how surely the English navy would sweep German commerce from the seas and leave industrial and importing Germany in great peril.

Harden is perhaps at his boldest when he declares that for Germany now to give way to the United States would not be a proof of "weakness." It would be rather a sign of wise looking before and after, considering what would be the effect of making all the Americas enemies of Germany—"and not only for the war time." Harden's whole stalwart plea for an amicable adjustment of the submarine difficulty shows that all the voices of reason are not silent in Germany. That they will prevail in the end there is today ground for hoping.

Extinct.

Judge: Teacher—James, do you understand the meaning of the word "extinct?"

James—Yes'm.

Teacher—Then name one bird that is now extinct.

James—Chipper.

Teacher—Chipper? What kind of a bird is that?

James—My pet pigeon. The cat caught him this morning.

Defined.

Judge: "Aren't the fashions this season less extreme?"

"Oh, extremely less."

Rippling Rhymes

By Walt Mason

The Pipedream Boy.

"My son," I heard the father say, "the boys are playing ball today, so, prithee, cease your round of toil, your delving in the fertile soil, desert the onion and the bean, and join the lads upon the green. For growing boys should romp and play, and not plant squashes all the day." "Oh, father dear," the boy replied, "I take more pleasure and more pride in raising pumpkins which will wear blue ribbons at the county fair, than I would take in playing ball, which is but trifling, after all. What shall it profit any youth to make a three-base hit, forsooth? Let idlers all such games pursue, and entertain an idle crew, while I am raising things to eat, the prune, the nutmeg and the beet, the little early riser pea, and wiener and the banyan tree." The father burbled for a spell, and then he tottered to the well, with feeble, slow and halting tread, and there awhile he soaked his head.

Some Chimney Corner History

By Savoyard.

Washington, April 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—It was amusing to read in the Washington Herald a few days ago a cock and bull story related by Mr. Charles C. Glover, and the Herald introduces it with this charming morality:

> "Murder will out," and so will state secrets and inside stories of international dealings buried deep in the archives of the state department, and known only to a select few who were concerned in the negotiations.

It is about the "consideration" for which the United States paid about $7,000,000 to Russia when Alaska was ceded to our government. We are gravely told that $6,000,000 of this was to compensate Russia for sending a fleet to our shores during the war between the states, which fleet, according to some absurd romanticists, who pretend to write history, successfully discharged its appointed mission to intimidate England and thus prevent that power from "recognizing" the Southern Confederacy.

The fact is that the loudly exploited Russian fleet that anchored at New York harbor during the war could have been put out of the fighting business by the British squadron at Halifax as summarily as another Russian fleet was attended to by the Japanese Admiral Togo in the Yellow sea some forty years later. As for "recognition," England did recognize the Confederacy as a belligerent, and would have recognized that government as a nation if an overwhelming majority of the English people had not been "Union" and "Abolitionist" in political sentiment throughout the war. True, Palmerston, Gladstone and Lord John Russell sympathized with the South; so did the London Times; but the queen, Disraeli, Exeter, Hall and the great body of the English people were for the North, heart and soul.

President Lincoln sent Thurlow Weed, Henry Ward Beecher, Archbishop Hughes and Bishop McAlvine to England and they met with ovations everywhere, whereas, Mason, Slidell and Lamar got the cold shoulder everywhere, and this notwithstanding England would have fought for Mason and Slidell had not our government surrendered them in response to an ultimatum.

The acquisition of Alaska was no novel proposition. The matter had been discussed when Polk was president, and it would have been consummated by the Buchanan administration had not the slavery agitation thrown all other political matters upon the scrap pile. Mr. Glover's informant says there was "a secret agreement" between the United States and Russia providing that Russia should save the blessed Union with her absurd fleet. If that is true, it is matter of record in Russia and in the United States. If it is true there was no reason for keeping it secret after the war. Indeed, there would have been stronger reasons for making public such an agreement during the war than there could have been for keeping it secret after the war. Had such agreement existed the publication of it would have strengthened the North and weakened the South in a moral sense.

If this were real history and not chimney-corner history, it would have been a political, a historical and a literary impossibility to keep it a secret for ten years, much less fifty. Mr. Seward was an excessively garrulous man, and very vain. He was an inveterate letter-writer and surely he would have leaked the thing out had it been true. No one of his several biographers says a word about this diplomatic feather in his hero's cap.

Mr. Glover's informant, a Gen. Simpson, one time governor of Alaska, says that it was agreed that the United States should pay for the mobilization of the Russian fleet $6,000,000, but that the thing was a secret and Seward was afraid to ask congress directly for the money. So he bought Alaska for something over $7,000,000, and that was a trick, as $6,000,000 was to pay Russia for her outlay. He further says that the affair "virtually drove Seward into private life, so severe was the criticism that resulted." When he retired, Seward was 68 years old, and it is suspected in some quarters that his friendly connection with Andy Johnson is what put him out of the political business—that and his age.

Mr. Glover says that a daughter of James G. Blaine told him that her father had revealed this secret to her "under an injunction of secrecy." Mr. Blaine wrote copiously about the history of that epoch. Why this secrecy? The historian should be honest with his readers and as candid and truthful as the conscientious sworn witness in a court of justice. No doubt Mr. Blaine's daughter was sincere; but it is a very credulous man who will accept the story that the United States and Russia were allies in a bloody war and both so ashamed of the connection that both kept the matter a profound secret for half a century.

By the way, where was that Russian fleet when Mason and Slidell were surrendered? If there was any fight in it, it would have come in very handy then.

There are folks in this world who love the marvelous. Well, given our war between the North and the South and the presence of a Russian fleet in New York harbor, what more natural and what more delicious than to jump to the conclusion that it was not chance, but design? The fact is that the Russian fleet had no more influence on the conduct of England in her relations with the United States than it had on the attitude the most insignificant weathervane in New York took when the wind shifted from point to point. Instead of intimidating England, as Governor Simpson told Mr. Glover that it did, had Palmerstone viewed it as a challenge he would have plunged into the war.

The shoemaker should stick to his last. As a money-changer Mr. Glover is as eminent as he is successful. As a historian he is out of his element.

A Useless Old Cry

(From the Gully, Minn., Advance.)

> "One thing is certain, the empty dinner pail will have no place in this year's political campaign. Americans are too wise to allow their prosperity to depend on the politics of the ruling party, and too busy to pay attention to calamity howlers."—Springfield Free Press.

Nobody has got any real grounds for howling or working the calamity racket, except it may be some paid politicians or chronic office-seekers who never hesitate to say or do anything to get the people's attention in order to make them believe, if they could, that the country will surely go to the demnition bowwows unless we have a change of president and parties. But the people, especially the farmers, nowadays have their own ideas on political matters, and the traveling paid politicians, no matter how plausible or eloquent their speeches may be, will have no telling effect on the crowd in regard as to who they should or should not vote for, as the masses are, as a rule, an enlightened people. The farmers, generally speaking, are well satisfied with the party in power, and thousands of them who never voted the Democratic ticket in their lives before will do so for the first time this fall, when they vote for President Wilson. Wilson's vote at the primary election last month in this county of Polk, always supposed to be a strong Republican county, proves this assertion—the president carrying Polk county by a large vote over all and above every candidate in the field. Where did he get his votes from? He got them from the farmers who are ready, if called upon, to speak in his favor at any and all occasions.

An Equal Partnership.

Northern Minnesota, Land of Opportunity

Selection From the Chorus of Minnesota Boosters.

Now Is the Time.

Now is the time to feather your own nest for the future. The Nashwauk Herald tells how: "The real development in Minnesota during the coming years will be in the northern counties. This being admitted, it is quite obvious that land purchased in any of the northern counties will not only be a safe investment but a profitable one as well."

Pitch in, Everybody.

Everybody can help in this work urged by the Warroad Pioneer: "More work should be done to call the attention of prospective settlers to the merits of the north country as a place of residence. In spite of the small amount of publicity many are coming this way. With an organized effort, a boom could easily be started at this time."

"A Continual Knocker."

"A continual knocker" is the way the Baudette Region characterizes opportunity in the land where clover is a weed. Thus: "The fellow who wrote that Opportunity knocks but once at a man's door never lived in Baudette, or in any part of Northern Minnesota. Here Opportunity is not sparing of his visits, and he doesn't come at night seeking whom he may avoid. He flaunts his banner every day and challenges all to follow him to success. Industrially, agriculturally and commercially the paths to success outnumber the feet that are here to tread them."

You Know This—Tell Others.

See how the southern part of the state is helping along the good work. The Le Sueur News puts thus a lesson everybody should labor to teach to those not yet informed: "Northern Minnesota gives an opportunity to farmers seeking homes to make investments for a reasonable sum that in time will grow into money. The lands there are not excelled anywhere, and one need not go far from a railroad and market to find a location. A farm in Minnesota, any part of it, means a home in the best state in the Union."

There's Nothing Like It.

Just one of the host of things worth emphasizing is pointed out thus by the Biwabik Times: "Did you ever see the sun shine like it does in this great northern country? It comes down with a warmth that proves exhilarating, instead of taking all the energy out of one."

An Example Worth Following.

When it comes to boosting, you can't beat the Baudette Region for persistence and punch. For instance, here's a paragraph: "If land in Northern Minnesota sold for what it is actually worth you could carry away about $23 worth of real estate on your shoes."

A Nation on Diet

New York World: Innumerable food-reformers have sought to prescribe strictly scientific rules of diet for the good of the race. Countless treatises have been printed to prove how injurious is the excessive use of many staple articles and how safety lies in carefully balanced rations. Usually such warnings have fallen on deaf ears, and no one has been in a position to put his theories into practice on an extensive scale.

In Germany an occasional word of congratulation has been heard that the shortage of certain foods may serve as a lasting lesson to the German people and that they may profit in the long run by more judicious habits. Whether they learn not by choice but by necessity, as invalids often do, they may be better off.

No such plans for the regulation of the private table have been ever before attempted as are today in force in many parts of Germany. The consumption of bread, meat, sugar, milk, and so on, has been fixed by the authorities, and by their control of the means of distribution they have left few opportunities open to the rich that are closed to the poor. All are placed virtually on the same level of abstinence.

Through the powers of the government, Germany is being instructed in the advantages of a systematized diet, weighed and measured according to legal rules, in a way to delight the scientific investigators of the rest of the world. In effect, it has been converted into an immense diet laboratory.

How Money Makes Money.

The Editorial, South Whitley, Ind.: How long will it take our millionaires and multimillionaires to double the value of their holdings and absorb the greater part of the nation's aggregate wealth? Bear in mind that every increase in the number of millionaires means diminishing opportunity for the many to accumulate. The manner in which millionaires have been and are being made in the United States is not by and through the creation of wealth, but by the absorption of wealth created by the many. The most oppressive trusts we have in this country are those that unscrupulously watered their stock so as to double or treble its nominal value. The productive forces of the country are compelled to pay tribute to these trusts on their inflated basis. How long will the American people tamely submit to thus serving as hewers of wood and drawers of water? Money judiciously invested can easily be doubled in ten or eleven years. Invested in an economically and prudently conducted building and loan association, money will be doubled in ten years and three months. Assuming the present aggregate wealth of this country to be $200,000,000,000, an enormous proportion of which is already held or owned by millionaires and multimillionaires, it will not be difficult to figure out what conditions will be ten years from now—if meanwhile a stiff inheritance tax is not provided for by congress.

Father.

Used to wonder just why father
Never had much time for play.
Used to wonder why he'd rather
Work every minute of the day.
Used to wonder why he never
Loafed along the road an' shirked;
Can't recall a time whenever
Father played while others worked.

Father didn't dress in fashion,
Sort of hated clothing new,
Style with him was not a passion,
He had other things in view.
Boys are blind to much that's going
On about 'em day by day,
And I had no way of knowing
What became of father's pay.

All I know was when I needed
Shoes I got 'em on the spot;
Everything for which I pleaded
Somehow, father always got.
Wondered, season after season,
Why he never took a rest,
And that I might be the reason
Then I never even guessed.

Saw his cheeks were getting paler,
Didn't understand just why,
Saw his body growing frailer,
Then at last I saw him die.
Rest had come! His tasks were ended,
Calm was written on his brow;
Father's life was big and splendid,
And I understand it now.

Her Pride Hurt.

Louisville Courier-Journal: "Your fashionable friend seems to be threatened with palpitation of the heart."

"Yes, she just received a dreadful shock."

"And what happened to fortune's favorite?"

"She was sitting in an employment office waiting for a chance at a cook when a haughty dame swept up and offered her a job."

How We Regard England

H. G. Wells in the Saturday Evening Post.

So far as I can judge the American mind is eminently free from any sentimental leaning toward the British. Americans have a traditional hatred of the Hanoverian monarchy and a democratic disbelief in autocracy. They are far more acutely aware of differences than resemblances.

They suspect every Englishman of being a bit of a gentleman and a bit of a flunky. I have never found in America anything like that feeling, common in the mass of English people, which prevents the use of the word foreigner for an American; there is nothing to reciprocate the sympathy and pride that English and Irish republicans and radicals feel for the States.

Few Americans realize that there are such things as English republicans. What has linked them with the British hitherto has been very largely the common language and literature; it is only since the war began that there seems to have been any appreciable development of fraternal feeling. And that has been not so much discovery of a mutual affection as the realization of a far closer community of essential thought and purpose than has hitherto been suspected. The Americans, after thinking the matter out with great frankness and vigor, do believe that Britain is, on the whole, fighting against aggression and not for profit; that she is honestly backing France and Belgium against an intolerable attack, and that the Hohenzollern empire is a thing which needs discrediting and, if possible, destroying in the interests of all humanity, Germany included.

And they find that, allowing for their greater nearness, the British are thinking about these things almost exactly as they think about them. They follow the phases of the war in Great Britain—the strain, the blunderings, the tenacity, the onset of conscription in an essentially non-military community—with the complete understanding of a people similarly circumstanced, differing only by scale and distance. They have been through something of the sort already; they may have something of the sort happen again. It had not occurred to them hitherto how parallel we were. They begin to have inklings of how much more parallel we may presently become.

Just a Moment

Daily Strength and Cheer.

Compiled by John G. Quinlan, the Sunshine Man.

Being made free from sin, ye became the servants of righteousness.—Rom. vi, 18.

Freedom from sin may be considered in three senses—freedom from its penalty, its power and its presence. We are free from sin in the first sense by justification; in the second by sanctification; in the third by glorification. To ascertain the sense in which it is referred to in any particular verse it is necessary to look at it in connection with the context. In this sixth chapter of the Romans the special aspect in which sin is contemplated is that of a master; as one who seeks to lord it over the soul, who would claim his service, and would pay him wages ("the wages" which sin pays "is death"). Freedom from sin in this chapter means freedom from sin as a master. Identification with Christ in His death delivers the believer from sin's authority. Sin henceforth has no right to demand his service. Sin's claim has been broken through our crucifixion with Christ on the cross. We are now free to yield ourselves and our members unto God. That privilege must be intelligently apprehended by the believer as his right, by virtue of Christ's death unto sin, and of the believers' identification with Christ in that death.—From "Broken Bread."

He Knew.

Philadelphia Telegraph: A young man dropped into a state of coma, and it was several days before he fully recovered. Later he spoke of his experience with a party of friends.

"Oh, yes," the young man said in response to a question, "I knew all the time what was going on, and I also knew that I wasn't dead, because my feet were cold and I was hungry."

"I see," thoughtfully said one of his friends, "but how did that make you think that you were still alive?"

"Well," answered the young man, "I knew that if I were in heaven I wouldn't be hungry, and that if I were anywhere else my feet wouldn't be cold."

THE OPEN COURT

Readers of The Herald are invited to make free use of this column to express their ideas about the topics of general interest, but discussion of sectarian religious differences is barred. Letters must not exceed 300 words—the shorter the better. They must be written on one side of the paper only, and they must be accompanied in every case by the name and address of the writer though these need not be published. A signed letter is always more effective, however.

The Herald does not publish original verse. Contributions of this nature that are submitted for the editor's perusal must be accompanied by a stamped and addressed envelope, if their return is desired. Otherwise no manuscript will be returned.

WANTS CAR ROUTE CHANGED DURING WORK ON STREETS

To the Editor of The Herald:

I'd like to make a suggestion to the street car company for a change in the service, temporarily, that is, while the work is being done on Superior street pavement.

My suggestion is that the Woodland and Hunter's Park cars be routed over the Fourth street lines during that time. As it is, they are held up, along with East end, Lester Park and Lakeside cars to wait their turn to use the single track between the cross-switches. If the Woodland and Hunter's Park cars were routed some other way it would not only make their service better, but would take off some of the congestion that makes delays to the East end and Lakeside cars. So it would help all those routes, by the giving of better service.

The only objection that I can see to this arrangement is that it would cut off the chance to transfer from Woodland to Lakeside and vice versa; but this could be remedied by sending the East end cars up to Fourth street on Twenty-fourth avenue, instead of having them stop at the "Y" on Superior street.

If this change in routes can be made during the work on Superior street, it will mean better service for Woodland, Hunter's Park, Lakeside, Lester Park and the East end, and also for West Duluth by the cars that run from there to the East end and beyond. And incidentally it will fill the people of those sections with new gratitude to the street car company.

WANTS CITY TO DO ITS PART IN CLEANING UP

To the Editor of The Herald:

In a communication in the Open Court columns of your issue of the 24th inst., signed Fred Harkins, anent the billboards which have been erected along East Superior street in this city, the writer has touched upon a subject in which all good citizens should take deep interest; but having viewed these garish plasters for a long period of time, they have become hardened to the situation, and no longer regard them as eye-sores, or even as incongruous.

But why complain of these eye-sores when there are others that are worse? Quite often these offending billboards are used as a screen for something that is infinitely worse, and before taking any steps toward their complete removal, let us take a look behind them.

There is scarcely a block in the center of the city that is not cluttered with rubbish or junk of some kind. Even the city authorities maintain such places. For example, that beautiful assortment of iron pipe and fittings located on the south side of First street near Eighth avenue east. A billboard erected so as to screen this junk heap from public view would be a vast improvement. On the opposite side of the street from this eye-sore are some of the finest residences in the city.

At Sixth avenue east and Superior street is another eye-sore maintained by the city authorities. Certain departments of the city government are continually harping about cleanliness, and even go to the limit of fixing the precise day on the calendar when citizens shall commence to clean their premises, but cleanup day for certain city departments never comes. At one time or another within the past few years we have all read this advice, or pleading, printed on both sides of the city sprinkling carts: "Help to keep the city clean." This is a joke that would compel even an Indian to laugh.

If we are to have a clean and sightly city, it will be necessary for all of us to practice cleanliness. A few slovenly individuals can nullify the work of thousands who are clean and orderly.

WEST END

BIG CROWD SEES TROLLEY BURLESQUE

Car "No. 23" Proves to Be of Unusual Interest as Laugh Producer.

Another capacity house attended the production of a burlesque on the operation of a street car at the clubrooms of the Duluth Street railway car house last night. Fully 250 people crowded into the clubroom to witness the "show" and the applause indicated a highly enjoyable comedy.

Car "No. 23" was a busy place during the evening. This was an improvised affair made of canvas, which during operations wobbled like the oldtime "dinky." Electrical appliances gave the desired effect for its operation.

Harry Patterson, as conductor No. 13, was the busiest man in the place. His strenuous work made beads of perspiration stream down his face. His handling of unruly passengers was a constant cause of laughter. Albert Campbell was the motorman.

Raymond T. Smallidge played several parts during the evening. First he appeared as a typical "tough." Then he appeared as an overgrown newsboy. His appearance as a woman carrying a babe in arms was a scream. At the finale he appeared as a dusky "sport."

Julius Vitali's first appearance as an Italian accordion player, and later as a fashionable matron was a source of amusement. Harry Hokanson as the cripple, C. L. Rankin as the flish peddler and later as a "dummy," and Arthur Simonson as the shopman and later as an accident victim, were good. William Clark took the part of the sarcastic passenger.

Several young women took part. Miss Janet Haley was the fussy old maid, and Misses Edith Haligren, Alice McMeekin and Clara Bartholdi were school girls. Miss Martha Onsgaard took the part of a stately shopper.

A feature of the program was two recitations given by little Miss Carol Wahl. Her selections were given rousing applause.

Ice cream and cake were served.

BUSINESS MEN TO PLAN CELEBRATION

Program Will Be Outlined at Luncheon Friday Night.

Business men of the West end will meet tomorrow evening at luncheon at the Rex hotel, Twentieth avenue and Superior street, for the purpose of planning a celebration to be held some time next month. The celebration will be in the nature of an industrial display for this end of the city.

The meeting is expected to be attended by virtually every business man in this part of the city. A committee consisting of Emil H. Olson of Enger & Olson and Walter A. Swanstrom, county commissioner, has made the arrangements.

It is planned to have an industrial parade of various business interests of the West end. Band concerts and other features will be given on the various corners following the parade. The merchants will keep "open house" during the evening but not for the purpose of sales. Several plan to distribute souvenirs.

League to Entertain.

The Epworth League of the First Swedish Methodist church, Twentieth avenue west and Third street, will entertain tomorrow evening with a musical and literary program. The program will begin at 8 o'clock sharp. Games will be played and refreshments served. The program follows:

CHOIRS TO SING CANTATA

Several Churches Will Unite in Giving Musical Program Friday.

A choir of 100 voices, representing the Bethany Swedish Lutheran, Trinity English Lutheran, First Swedish and Elim Swedish Lutheran churches, will present the cantata "Light Out of Darkness," tomorrow evening at the Bethany church, Twenty-third avenue west and Third street. The first production of the cantata given Tuesday evening at the Elim church attracted an audience that crowded the large auditorium.

The cantata has been arranged under the direction of Prof. A. F. Lundholm. Prof. Albin Palmer, organist of the Bethany church, and Miss Edna Magney are accompanists. The soloists are Miss Olga Johnson, soprano; Mrs. E. W. Lund, alto; Hjalmer Enlund, tenor, and Alfred Anderson, bass.

In addition to the cantata the following program will be given:

Pipe organ solo—"Overture to William Tell" ..... Rossini
Prof. A. F. Lundholm, B. M.
Scripture reading and prayer.....
Rev. Hugo Thoren.
Easter song—"Thanks Be to God"..
..... William Smallwood
Elim choir.
Instrumental quartet — "Love and Flowers" ..... F. Aldrich
Gust Hawkinson and Arthur Pearson, violins; Mrs. A. F. Lundholm, piano, and A. F. Lundholm, pipe organ.
Address in English .....
Rev. Carl O. Swan.
Piano solo—"Egeria," op. 35, E. Kroeger
Miss Florence Mattson.
Cantata—"Light Out of Darkness"..

Prayer Meeting Topic.

"Intelligent Enthusiasm" will be the topic of the prayer meeting to be held at the Central Baptist church, Twentieth avenue west and First street, at 7:45 tonight. The pastor, Rev. Milton Fish, will be in his study at 7:15 to meet those who wish to consult him regarding membership.

Brostrom-Sudich.

The wedding of Miss Lillian Brostrom of Opstag, Minn., to John Sudich of Cleveland, Ohio, took place at noon yesterday at the parsonage of the Swedish Baptist church, 2212 West Third street. Rev. Swaney Nelson read the service. Mr. and Mrs. Sudich left last evening for Cleveland, where they will make their home.

To Talk on "Sweden."

Rev. E. A. Fagenstrom, former state Sunday school missionary and now secretary of the Young Men's Christian association at Albert Lea, Minn., will give an illustrated lecture on "A Trip Through Sweden," at the First Swedish Baptist church, Twenty-second avenue west and Third street, tomorrow evening. The lecture will be under the auspices of the young people's society of the church. Rev. Mr. Fagenstrom spoke last Tuesday evening at the church on "The American Boy."

West End Briefs.

The Epworth League of the Grace Methodist church, Twenty-second avenue west and Third street, will entertain tomorrow evening at a basket social in the church. A literary and musical program will be given.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert L. Moe, 2223 West Second street, are the parents of a son, born Monday.

Mrs. Ole Langdahl, 2421 West Seventh street, and Miss Anna Erickson will leave next week for Norway, where they will spend the summer visiting relatives.

Duluth camp No. 2341, M. W. A., will entertain for its members tomorrow evening at another of its social evenings. Cards, followed by refreshments is planned.

IN THE LITERARY WORLD

Jack London Bangs the Eternal Triangle.

THE LITTLE LADY OF THE BIG HOUSE. By Jack London. New York: The Macmillan company. $1.50.

We think we shall have to "call" Jack London on this one. Here he creates a super-triangle of three super-persons—two super-men and one super-woman—and has them inhabiting a Jack London world, which is different from our world. Then, having led us to expect super-actions from these super-people, what does he do? Has the super-lover act like a cad and a beast, the super-husband like a sheep, and the super-wife like a wanton and a mindless fool! On top of that, after getting us all worked up, he harrows our feelings by a super-tragedy that had no more need of being than a good deal of the conversation that pads the book out. Interesting? Of course; Jack London has written good books and poor books—and we think this is one of the poor ones—but no uninteresting books.

We meet Dick Forrest, the super-husband, on his sleeping porch, where he displays a myriad of expensive conveniences that break the shock of finding that he owns 250,000 acres and many millions of dollars. He takes his bath after breakfast, which he is welcome to do if he wants to, and he has an obtrusive wrist watch. When his Chinese valet massaged his legs they are disclosed to our discreet gaze as a mass of scars, and shortly thereafter we go back over his checkered career. A lad of 13, when his guardians who had charge of his inherited millions refused to let him travel, he ran away and spent years as a tramp. Then he came back, unspoiled, and scattered thousands in hewing out a royal road to a quick education. Next he scattered millions—but always wisely—developing ideas of super-farming, which is a diverting side issue in the story. After he got things organized, he took the fling he had been long contemplating, and sowed wild oats in every adventurous byway of the wide world. Then he came back married, and he had been eleven years married when the story opens and Evan Graham, his friend, came to visit him and Paula, his wife. Paula is a fitting mate for Dick, and Evan, who had been able to escape all feminine lures since his marriage to a South sea princess years before, succumbs to her attractions. So the triangle is set up, and the story is in full action.

To tell more is to tell the story, which is no fair. Dick has a queer collection of young pauper philosophers who are mostly talk and who don't have much to do with the story. There are descriptions of Dick's super-farming—which kept him so busy Graham got his chance to abuse his guesthood—that have much more substance than much of the chatter about "art." There is curious horse play, in which Dick is ring leader, even when he sees what is going on between Paula and Evan, and refuses to compete with the latter—refuses even to give himself, and Paula, a fair shake. The story part is all very tense and moving, but a very bad work of art.

"Throwing a Scare."

THE CONQUEST OF AMERICA. A romance of disaster and victory: U. S. A., 1921 A. D. Based on extracts from the diary of James E. Langston, war correspondent of the London Times. By Cleveland Moffett, author of "Through the Wall," "The Battle," etc. New York: George H. Doran company. $1.50 net.

Besides whatever purpose or purposes ordinarily actuate those who add to the number of books—somewhat needlessly, most of them—Mr. Moffett, in adding this one, plainly had the purpose of interesting us in pretty elaborate measures of "preparedness" by the good old process of "throwing a scare into" us. He seeks to nurse and nourish the fear that after the war in Europe is ended, some European nation —Germany is almost always referred to, and is referred to here—will find itself so enamored with war that it will pack up immediately, set sail across the Atlantic, and light into us. His story as about what happened in 1921, when, as a figment of Mr. Moffett's superheated imagination, Germany waded into the United States. What it was all about is not at all clear, unless it was because Germany got into the habit of fighting and couldn't stop when the European war was over. In any rate, it was pretty soft for Germany. By magic, apparently, she landed an army and simply strolled wherever she pleased, while Americans ran around in circles, and Roosevelt shouted "I told you so!" The chapter in which he was ridden on a rail for so irritating the ruffled feelings of Americans is omitted. For it must be admitted that Americans were seriously annoyed by this invasion, and were anything but hospitable to the visiting team. The chapter in which Sylvester Viereck of the Fatherland with one hand whipped a German corps as an answer to the charge of German disloyalty is also curiously omitted; though Bernard Ridder is just explaining that German-Americans are loyal when he is compelled to interrupt himself by remarking "My God! The machine guns! The Germans are in the street!"

Goodness gracious! But things happen! The few armed Americans fight as best they can, though they waste a good deal of time referring back to political utterances of the campaign of 1916, and saying "We told you so," echoing Roosevelt. But it's no use. It seems natural when, after von Hindenburg had captured New York and J. Pierpont Morgan, he demands an instant tribute of a billion dollars. The Germans shot a New York editor for getting out an extra! The Times correspondent who tells the story gets a big scoop through an interview with the German crown prince, who adds a touch of verisimilitude by solemnly stating that the blame for this war between Germany and the United States belongs at the door of perfidious England. It is awful! Why prolong it? You can read it if you want to—we had to. After a while we get up some seaplanes and raise Cain with the German fleet, and win the war. We really win it, though, because France and Russia break out again and Germany has to go back to defend the Fatherland.

Mr. Moffett shouldn't have let that slip in. It spoils his whole yarn. It calls attention to what everybody who thinks beneath the outer skin of things must realize—that if there is any war spirit left in Europe when the Atrocious War is ended, no nation will dare embark in such an enterprise as a war against America, for fear her enemies will take advantage of it to fall upon her.

Mr. Moffett tells it well, and makes a pretty exciting story out of it, with some aspects of a novel. But it's all tommyrot, just the same.

The Adventures of a Peer.

ALICE DEVINE. By Edgar Jepson, author of "Follycooly," etc. Indianapolis: Bobbs-Merrill company. $1.25 net.

Lord Garthoyle, theretofore an idle young peer of England, was able to look and act like a silly ass, leading people to attempt to take advantage of him only to discover that he was anything but what they took him to be. Garthoyle's rich uncle left him a fortune in the shape of Garthoyle Gardens, a group of twenty-one houses in the heart of Mayfair, renting for $10,000 a year each, with the stipulation that he must manage them himself. Behold, then, a lord at work and having many adventures, pleasant and fearsome, with a ghost, sharpers, fussy tenants, kiddies of both pauper and noble types, tradesmen, hieroglyphics on the wall of No. 12, the wire barricades and snakes and the dead man in No. 16, the scandal in No. 3, others more exciting—and Alice Devine. All of which Mr. Jepson tells in a smooth and easy style, warmed by humor, all his own.

A Lively Mystery Story.

THE BLIND MAN'S EYES. By William McHarg and Edwin Balmer, author of "The Achievements of Luther Trant," etc. Boston: Little, Brown & Co. $1.35 net.

Mystery stories are many—good ones few. Messrs. McHarg and Balmer have made a good one. A blind lawyer with a remarkable power of perception, while traveling on an eastbound transcontinental train under an assumed name with his daughter and confidential secretary, is murderously assaulted in his berth. A mysterious young man is suspected, and becomes a voluntary prisoner in the lawyer's rich home on the shores of Lake Michigan. As the secret of the mysterious young man's past unrolls, the mystery deepens, complicated by the growing interest between him and the lawyer's daughter. The blind lawyer's uncanny perception penetrates the veil and lays bare the mystery. The situations grow more dramatic and the love interest waxes, and the final chapters form a sufficiently exciting climax.

LABORERS RIDE IN EXCLUSIVE CAR

One Hundred Men Hired Here to Work in Foundry at Pontiac.

One hundred laborers left last night in a special car over the South Shore road for Pontiac, Mich., where they will be employed by the Wilson Foundry company.

Railroad presidents and members of the legislature have nothing on these laborers, who made the trip in a car exclusively for themselves. They were hired here yesterday by a representative of the company, through the assistance of the Minnesota Free Employment bureau, and they will begin work this morning.

The men will work as casting cleaners, ladle men, night dumpers, cupola helpers and yard laborers.

This Week's Sunday School Lesson

Written for The Herald By Rev. J. S. Kirtley, D. D.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON: APRIL 30.

Acts xii, 1-19: Peter Delivered From Prison.

CONNECTION.

The last time we saw Peter he was at the home of Cornelius, the Roman centurion at Caesarea, preaching the gospel of salvation to him and his friends, baptizing them and receiving them into the church without first compelling them to become Jews. Of course it turned out just as he expected when he returned to Jerusalem, for he was called to an account by the narrower Christians there for doing that wise and right thing and also for eating with Gentiles, but when he recounted the simple story of how God had brought it about they were not only satisfied but highly delighted. Meantime we naturally ask what had those disciples, who had gone in other directions when driven out of the city, been doing? Can they give a satisfactory account of themselves? They surely can. Read the eleventh chapter of Acts and you will see that some of them went up as far as Antioch in Syria, preaching at first to Jews only, and then straight out to the Gentiles and gathering them into a church, then that those same Gentiles, Christians, when they learned through a prophet from Jerusalem that a severe famine was coming to Judea, sent aid to them. That would be proof that the Gentiles made good Christians, when once converted. Several years have passed since the dispersion and the Jewish authorities have ceased to persecute the Christians, but now the Roman authorities in Palestine take it up and that's a serious matter. This is an instance.

THE LESSON.

I.

Why Peter Was Imprisoned, 1-6.

"Now about that time Herod the king put forth his hands to afflict certain of the church. And he killed James, the brother of John, with the sword. And when he saw that it pleased the Jews, he proceeded to seize Peter also. And those were the days of unleavened bread. And when he had taken him, he put him in prison, and delivered him to four quaternions of soldiers to guard him; intending after the Passover to bring him forth to the people. Peter therefore was kept in the prison; but prayer was made earnestly of the church unto God for him. And when Herod was about to bring him forth, the same night Peter was sleeping between two soldiers, bound with two chains; and guards before the door kept the prison."

1. HEROD.—He was the persecutor this time, and was equipped for it by birth as the grandson of old bloody Herod, who murdered the innocents, and brother of Herodias, who had John the Baptist put to death, and equipped by habit, for he was a heartless time-server. He had been placed over this territory by his friend the emperor of Rome, and, having some Jewish blood in his veins and being anxious to keep the support of the Jews, he began persecuting the Christians. He became zealous for the law and won phenomenal popularity with the Jews. He knows how anxious they are to exterminate the Christians, and he goes at it. He kills James, the brother of John, with the sword—a civil and not a religious execution; he plans to kill off the leaders one by one; he arrests Peter, but a seven days' feast is at hand and they have a reluctance to put a man to death on a sacred day. The sacredness was not in the life but in the day. They will save him up for seven days and then have a good killing. They had released Peter from prison once before, but this time they will see it through with a band of four soldiers at a time, two at the door and two at the cell door, and four shifts a day, besides two guards chained to him and the doors locked. In private Herod laughs at both Jews and Christians, while in public he assumes the role of devout Jew.

2. PRAYER.—Here is a drawn battle. The church prays, while the enemy plans Peter's death. One thing is certain, and that is that God has a stake in this. Peter is in prison because he is doing God's work, and God will see to the success of that servant's work. He is in prison as the representative of the whole church, and they show their concern by getting together and asking God for help. God is guiding this history, is doing so today. His cause may be better aided by our martyrdom than by our deliverance—very well. Let us see His decision in Peter's case. The seven days are past, and tomorrow is death day for Peter, but he is sleeping in confidence. That speaks well for him.

II.

How Peter Was Delivered, 7-10.

"And behold, an angel of the Lord stood by him, and a light shined in the cell: and he smote Peter on the side, and awoke him, saying, Rise up quickly. And his chains fell off from his hands. And the angel said unto him, Gird thyself, and bind on thy sandals. And he did so. And he saith unto him, Cast thy garment about thee, and follow me. And he went out, and followed; and he knew not that it was true which was done by the angel, but thought he saw a vision. And when they were past the first and the second guard, they came unto the iron gate that leadeth into the city; which opened to them of its own accord: and they went out, and passed on through one street; and straightway the angel departed from him."

1. DELIVERANCE.—Of course, we know the prayers would be answered though we might not know how. But Peter is delivered from prison. Note several items. First, it was not a mere natural occurrence, the result of natural forces. God did it through His angel. There are angels and they are serving us now unseen. Again, see that the angel did for him only what he couldn't do for himself—waked him up at the right moment; gave him a light to see objects by, the light of his own presence or a created light; kept the guard asleep or stupefied; kept at Peter, telling him what to do next and kept him going on in his confusion. But he did nothing for Peter that he himself could do. Peter dressed himself, putting on girdle, sandals and outer garment over the tunic; he also walked and was not transported.

2. SAFEGUARD.—The angel kept a veil over the eyes of the guard as they passed by. There was not a sound when the doors turned on their hinges. As long as he needed help the angel gave it and then turned him loose to follow his own judgment when he was safe out. The omnipotent God was doing this and doing it right.

III.

Some Results, 11-19.

"And when Peter was come to himself, he said, Now I know of a truth, that the Lord hath sent forth His angel and delivered me out of the hand of Herod, and from all the expectation of the people of the Jews."

1. DISCIPLINE.—Peter got it—intellectual, spiritual and social discipline. He says "now I know of a truth." The proof of it is what the angel did to him. The men of Samaria said "now we believe not because of what the woman told us but because we have personal knowledge." He shows that discipline by going at once to the disciples both to relieve them and himself.

2. DOUBT.—That was almost natural, the disciples thinking the maid had seen Peter's ghost at the door. We ask and we have not because we don't expect anything. They received more than they expected. The angel didn't give Peter the protection he could give himself by going to a safe place. God is wise.

WHAT THE MASTERS SAY.

The enthroned Lord has given His followers two signal victories so far. They have triumphed over religious persecution. They have burst the bonds of Pharisaic legalism, and established a church among the Gentiles. Their third trial is at hand. The state comes to notice them and unsheathes its sword in opposition.—Stifler.

Peter's prison experience was brief and mild compared with which he had later to suffer in the service of Christ. It was mild too, as compared with the long and cruel imprisonment of Adoniram Judson, our first American Baptist missionary. Judson's deliverance from prison, including as it did, protection from violence and disease through nearly two years, was scarcely less miraculous and wonderful than that by which Peter escaped.—Moore.

PERTINENT QUESTIONS.

1. Can't you learn to be aware of God's presence always and everywhere?

2. Why does not God always save His servants from violent death?

3. If this was a miracle, does a miracle mean the violation of law?

4. What do angels have to do with you daily?

BRAINERD NEWS NOTES.

Brainerd, Minn., April 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—Bondholders of the Brainerd Sash & Door company are considering the plan of having the three trustees, W. H. Cleary, R. B. Withington and Dr. Henri Ribbel, take over the affairs of the plant, engage a competent man to supervise the manufacturing and business end and to operate the plant.

White Bros. are completing plans for a new store front at the G. A. Lagerquist block.

The Brainerd Law Enforcement league, which in former days directed its attention against the licensing of saloons, has reorganized to fight blind-pigs.

Former Teacher Dies.

Bismarck, N. D., April 27.—Mrs. Catherine Spain Michelson, wife of John J. Michelson of Sweet Brier, died Monday evening in Mandan. Mrs. Michelson was formerly Miss Catherine Spain and was at one time one of the best known teachers in the county. She had taught in many of the Burleigh county schools and was very successful in her chosen profession.

The DOCTOR'S ADVICE
by Dr. Lewis Baker

The questions answered below are general in character, the symptoms or diseases are given and the answers will apply in any case of similar nature.

Those wishing further advice, free, may address Dr. Lewis Baker, College Bldg., College-Ellwood Sts., Dayton, Ohio, enclosing self-addressed stamped envelope for reply. Full name and address must be given, but only initials or fictitious name will be used in my answers. The prescriptions can be filled at any well-stocked drug store. Any druggist can order of wholesaler.

Worried Man writes: "Let me say that my condition puzzles and worries me. In the last year I seem to have been growing old rapidly, though only 38. My food and sleep do not recuperate my strength and energy, and lately I have dizzy spells, trembling, headaches, loss of appetite, memory and hopelessness. Despondency and worry over my condition are ever present."

Answer: Cheer up, get well and then conserve your vitality by proper, temperate living. Obtain three grain cadomene tablets in sealed tubes with full directions, use them and an agreeable, pleasing restoration should ensue to your entire satisfaction.

Mr. L. C. B. asks: "Do you think it is possible to reduce my weight from 240 pounds to about 190 pounds?"

Answer: It is impossible to say just how much one can reduce until after trying, but 5-grain arbolone tablets should be used according to directions with each sealed tube, obtainable at most any drug store. If the flesh is unnatural you should easily reduce as desired.

J. R. O. asks: "I am thin, angular, weak and tired. What can I take to improve my health, strengthen my nerves and increase my weight about 20 pounds?"

Answer: Take regularly with your meals three grain hypo-nuclane tablets, sold in sealed packages by druggists with complete directions. These tablets improve the blood, increase nutrition, and strengthen the nervous system if used regularly for several months.

"Lee" writes: "I have tried so many remedies for rheumatism that I am almost afraid to try any more, but if you can tell me a sure remedy I will try it."

Answer: Do not be disheartened because you have not been able to find something that would overcome your rheumatism, for you can be relieved if you will take what I tell you. Get from the drugstore: Iodide of potassium, 2 drams; sodium salicylate, 4 drams; wine of colchicum, ½ oz.; comp. fluid balmwort, 1 oz.; comp. essence cardiol, 1 oz., and syrup sarsaparilla, 6 ozs. Mix and take a teaspoonful at mealtime and again before going to bed.

C. L. asks: "I have tried to cure dandruff, itching scalp, falling hair and baldness with numerous tonics, etc., but in vain. What do you recommend?"

Answer: I have been recommending plain yellow minyol for the past seven years and scores of my patients are delighted with the quick, pleasant action of this remedy in stopping itching, falling hair, dandruff, etc. It gives the hair health, luster and vigor as nothing else does. Obtain in 4-oz. jars with full directions.

H. M. B. writes: "Can you please prescribe medicine which will relieve me of such distressing symptoms of kidney and bladder, as the following: Pains in small of back, soreness in region of bladder, frequent calls at night but scanty flow with pain, burning and foul odor, puffing of limbs, etc.

Answer: Those seeking relief from kidney and bladder disorders should begin taking balmwort tablets, a very successful formula sold in sealed tubes with full directions.

Mrs. N. B. B. asks: "I suffer from headache and constipation periodically and my blood seems too thick causing languor and tired feeling. I will thank you to prescribe for me."

Answer: Three grain sulpherb tablets (not sulphur) are most effective, in relieving constipation, thinning of blood, and removing the symptoms of languor, etc. I advice you to begin taking as per directions with each sealed package. —Advertisement.

MRS. ROGERS GIVEN FREEDOM BY JURY

Acquitted of Murder of Her Two Children on Ground of Insanity.

New York, April 27.—Mrs. Ida Sniffen Walters Rogers, who poisoned her two children on Dec. 29, 1914, was given her freedom in the supreme court here yesterday after a jury had acquitted her of the murder of her 2-year-old son, John. The verdict was "not guilty, on the grounds of insanity." After the verdict was returned, the court dismissed, upon motion of the district attorney's office, another indictment charging her with the murder of her daughter, Lorida, 8 months old.

MRS. IDA ROGERS.

Mrs. Rogers collapsed when the foreman of the jury announced the verdict. She quickly recovered her composure, however, and left the court room with the man who is now her husband and who was the father of her children.

"We are going away somewhere where there are flowers," Rogers replied, when asked their plans.

"We expected this result."

Assistant District Attorney Marlin, the prosecuting attorney, declared, after Mrs. Rogers had been freed, "I think everybody feels that Mrs. Rogers has suffered enough by depriving herself of her children."

On the first ballot, the jury stood nine for acquittal, two for conviction and one undecided. The decision was reached on the third ballot.

is fifteen feet deep on each side of the tracks. The embankment was built particularly to serve as a protection against high water and was built accordingly. Now the water is splashing over the rails and as it is beating fiercely against the embankment, the running of trains through this section is dangerous. From Onalaska north to East Winona on the east side of the river the embankments of the Burlington and Northwestern roads are almost the only unsubmerged spots now to be found.

Water on Tracks.

Three feet of water stand today on the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul tracks on the levee and the manufacturing district below that point is cut off.

An appeal for relief for six families of farmers on Goose Island reached the authorities here today. Goose Island is eight miles south of La Crosse and the water has risen so high that there is danger that the farm buildings will be carried off.

Rising Steady at Winona.

Winona, Minn., April 27.—The Mississippi river at this point is still rising, but more slowly. At 10 o'clock this morning it registered 16.2 feet, which is very slightly under the record made in 1880. The rise since yesterday has resulted in several families leaving their homes.

At a large stock farm on the Wisconsin side of the river at this point it has been necessary to tie farm buildings to trees to prevent them from floating away. One house in Winona was swung around on its foundation this morning.

The Burlington railroad is still sending its passenger trains over the Milwaukee & St. Paul tracks this morning. The Green Bay road is using the Northwestern tracks to Marshland. The retaining dam of the Delta Land company above Trempealeau is still holding.

ing come from Topeka in seven motor cars, reached the Douglas county jail here at midnight. They demanded that Sheriff W. J. Cummings produce Bissell and several flourished revolvers. But the mob was apparently without leaders.

Jail Searched.

The mob accepted the sheriff's order to permit any four men to go through the jail in testimony that Bissell had been taken to Lansing on Governor Capper's orders. Later twenty-five motor loads of mob members came up to the jail for a second search.

Apparently no secrecy was attempted by the mob. Most of the members came to Lawrence in "jitney" motor cars. Sheriff Kiene received a telephone call from his wife in Topeka telling him of the mob's plans three hours before it reached Lawrence.

Bissell seemed little concerned. When Sheriff Kiene left the jail with him for Lansing he said: "Oh, hell, I don't care! They know me at Topeka."

Excitement Subsides.

Topeka, Kan., April 27.—Most of the men who went to Lawrence last night with the mob to get Fred Bissell, who is being held for the murder of Edna Dinsmore, came back to Topeka early today. Excitement apparently has subsided.

How to bring Bissell to Topeka for a preliminary hearing is the problem that is now bothering Shawnee county officials.

"We do not dare to bring him here now," said County Attorney W. E. Atchison, "and yet he cannot be held indefinitely in a jail in another county without being given at least a preliminary hearing."

An attempt on the part of the mob formed in Topeka last night to lynch Fred Bissell at Lawrence, where he was taken for safe keeping, failed through the prompt action of state and county officials, who caused the prisoner to be taken from jail and hurried away in an automobile.

Charged With Murdering Girl.

Bissell is charged with assaulting and murdering Edna Dinsmore, a 10-year-old girl, whose body was found in a burning vacant house in Topeka Tuesday morning.

Sheriff Kiene of Topeka, who was in Lawrence to serve a warrant on Bissell, immediately took charge of the prisoner, and accompanied by deputies, left the city in a large touring car, according to advices from that place. It is believed he started for Lansing.

About the time the would-be lynchers left here for Lawrence, another mob stormed the county jail, under the belief that Bissell had not been taken from Topeka. Officers addressed them and finally a committee of citizens was appointed to examine the jail to prove that Bissell was not there.

The committee's report satisfied the mob around the jail, and in a short time the crowd quietly dispersed.

Safe in Penitentiary.

Leavenworth, Kan., April 27.—Sheriff Kleine of Shawnee county arrived at midnight at the Kansas penitentiary in Lansing with Fred Bissell. A fast run was made from Lawrence.

satisfied the force dispatched was adequate to deal with the situation.

The Irish authorities will place themselves at the disposal of Maj.-Gen. Maxwell, to carry out his instructions.

Replying to a question whether the government had been warned of a dangerous growth of sedition, Premier Asquith said:

"The first and paramount duty of the government is to restore order and to stamp out rebellion with all possible vigor and promptitude. That we are doing.

"Behind that there is undoubtedly an obligation which rests upon the government of making a searching investigation into the causes and the responsibility for these events. That obligation we fully recognize and intend to discharge."

Casement in Lody's Cell.

London, April 27.—Sir Roger Casement is now a prisoner in the Tower of London. He was removed there Tuesday from Brixton jail.

Sir Roger is occupying the cell in which Carl Hans Lody was held as a prisoner before his execution as a spy in the Tower of London in November, 1914. Lody was arrested in Killarney near where Sir Roger was captured.

It is learned that Casement went on board the German submarine in Kiel harbor about April 14, which is near the date on which a report was circulated that he had been arrested in Germany. The submarine was accompanied by a tramp steamer manned by twenty picked men from the German navy and carrying a cargo of 20,000 rifles, machine guns and ammunition bound for Ireland.

Flying Dutch Flag.

The steamer, flying the Dutch flag and with the submarine proceeding awash in close attendance, crept through the Cattegat, across Bohus bay, up the coast of Norway and thence north and west, leaving the Orkney, Shetland and Faroe islands far to the south. Just as the German captain was congratulating himself upon eluding the British, the patrol boat, surprised at seeing a Dutch trammer so far from the North sea, intercepted the tramp, but found her papers regular. Even her crew spoke English, expressed sympathy for the allies and the hope that the patrol boat would not encounter a submarine. All this time the German submarine accompanying the steamer remained submerged.

After reshaping the course of the expedition and while creeping along the north coast of Ireland, another British patrol boat was sighted. The patrol fired a shot across the bow of the tramp and signaled to the effect that they were about to board her. The tramp steamer was then ordered to accompany the patrol boat.

Hoists German Flag.

After steaming for some distance the tramp vessel hoisted the German flag and was sunk by her own crew, in accordance with instructions given before leaving Germany. The patrol boat sent an armed crew to rescue the Germans, who then confessed their mission.

The patrol also found a collapsible boat in which were Sir Roger Casement and another man. It is said that the submarine commander before leaving Kiel received orders that whatever befell the expedition, the presence of Casement was no longer desired in Grmany and that when the plans miscarried Casement was placed in the boat and left to his fate.

a certain number of casualties. Tuesday they still occupied certain buildings and houses. Yesterday Lord Lansdowne said the commanding officer reported there was a complete cordon of troops around the center of Dublin on the north side of the river and two more battalions were arriving from England. The situation, he declared, was undoubtedly well in hand and he had no doubt of the ability of the government to suppress the movement by most drastic methods. There had been a small rising at Ardee and Louth and a rather more serious one in Swords and Lusk, close to Dublin.

Telegrams, he said, are now coming in more rapidly. They showed that Liberty hall was partially destroyed and occupied by the military. Referring to the attempted German landing in Ireland, Lord Lansdowne said he did not know what Sir Roger Casement was led to expect in the way of assistance for his landing, but he added: "I have been unable to find that extensive preparations were made for Casement's reception or distribution of the material with which his ship was supposed to be laden."

SECRETARY DEMOCRATIC NATIONAL COMMITTEE

J. BRUCE KREMER.

New York, April 27.—The temporary appointment of J. Bruce Kremer of Butte, Mont., as secretary of the Democratic national committee to take the place of the late Thomas J. Pence, was officially announced by Chairman William F. McCombs.

Mr. Kremer is a member of the national committee and a member of the committee on arrangements for the Democratic convention to be held in St. Louis in June. The permanent secretary of the committee will be elected at a meeting of the committee after the convention.

U. S. AMBASSADOR TO GERMAN HEADQUARTERS TO SEE KAISER

he has not given up hope that a break in diplomatic relations with Germany may be avoided.

Senator Stone will lay the results of his conference with the president before the foreign relations committee. He left the conference apparently satisfied with its results. The president told him very fully his attitude in the German crisis. No new policies were discussed, the president pointing out that the future course of the United States depended entirely on the German reply to the American note demanding immediate abandonment of her present methods of submarine warfare.

Secretary Lansing received yesterday a report from Ambassador Gerard in Berlin of a conference between the latter and Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg. The secretary would not discuss the report, except to say it was brief and required no reply. He continued to receive summaries of editorial comments on the submarine issue published in German newspapers.

Von Bernstorff Makes Suggestions.

Count von Bernstorff, the German ambassador, it was learned, has sent to his foreign office suggestions on the submarine question which he hopes will prevent a break in diplomatic relations with the United States. The suggestions were sent in response to a request from Berlin and will be considered at a conference between the imperial chancellor and the kaiser. Their exact nature was not revealed.

The publication by the state department of a declaration of the American government's position on the armed ship issue is expected to have an important bearing on the submarine question as a whole. Officials stated that the position of the United States was made known in order that foreign governments might shape their courses accordingly.

ston will be held to determine military questions growing out of the punitive expedition of American forces into Mexico.

Officers of the de facto government in Juarez believe that it would be for the best interests of all parties if the conference was held in some other border city than El Paso or Juarez and have kept the Mexican telegraph wires hot trying to reach Gen. Obregon, urging him to meet Gens. Funston and Scott at Nuevo Laredo or Eagle Pass.

The last official information of Gen. Obregon placed him in San Luis Potosi and en route northward.

"We hope to hear from Gen. Obregon today," said Gen. Gavira. "If the conference is held in Juarez, the conferees will meet in the old customs house, where Presidents Diaz and Taft met several years ago."

Andres Garcia, Mexican consul, said today that he did not think the conference would be an extended one as the military questions should be easily solved in a brief time.

EMPLOYERS TO TRY TO REGULATE LABOR

Organization Formed at Pittsburgh to Handle All Questions.

Pittsburgh, Pa., April 27.—Steps have been taken through the organization of the Employers' Association of Pittsburgh to try to make the district an open labor market and to handle all questions affecting labor. More than 100 manufacturing and other concerns, including some of the largest in western Pennsylvania, were represented at the organization meeting last night. An official statement declares the objects of the association are:

"To secure for employer and employe the freedom of contract in the matter of employment, irrespective of this or kindred associations; to oppose restriction of output, sympathetic strikes and boycotts; to discountenance conditions which are not just and which will not allow a workman to earn a wage proportionate to his productive capacity; to prevent interference with those seeking employment; to avert industrial disturbances; to harmonize differences between employers and employes so that justice may be done to both, and to uphold the law."

The organization it was stated, was a reply to the announcement that organizers of the American Federation of Labor would be ordered here to reinforce the organizers now active in the Turtle Creek valley strike.

Contest at Ashland.

Ashland, Wis., April 27.—The Chequamegon Oratorical and Declamatory league will hold a district contest at Ashland on May 2, when four representatives from the eastern and western districts will compete for representation at the state contest to be decided on later. The schools to be represented are: Nelson Dewey and Superior Central from Superior; Park Falls, Phillips, Iron River and Ashland.

DRUNKS SENT HOME; EMPLOYES STRIKE

Harvester Employes Resent Action of Night Foreman of Plant.

Chicago, April 27.—Fourteen hundred employes of the International Harvester company's plant here were reported to have struck today and a detail of police was sent to the plant to prevent disorder.

Several men on the night shift at the twine factory of the company were sent home last night by the foreman because they showed evidence of intoxication.

According to the foreman of the twine factory, the remainder of the night shift decided to strike, met the day employes as they came to work and induced them to stay out also.

Officials of the company said that the workers had been misinformed and that they anticipated no trouble as soon as the employes found out the actual situation.

G. A. Ranney, secretary of the company, said that the workmen affected numbered seven or eight hundred. He said that a stoppage of work in one department of the twine factory meant closing down the entire factory.

"We have closed the factory for the day, but hope to have the difficulties adjusted before many hours," said Mr. Ranney. "No report of disorder nor of intimidation of any employes has been made."

WOULD PROVIDE GUM RACK FOR CHILDREN

Wisconsin Board Favors Suggestion to Care for Children's Cuds.

Madison, Wis., April 27.—The state educational bulletin issued today comments favorably on a suggestion of President J. W. Crabtree of the River Falls normal school that there should be a gum rack in schools. "Pupils have a right to chew gum," President Crabtree is quoted as saying. "Teachers do it, but they know when, where and how. Why not teach these conventionalities to the pupils? Permit the pupil to chew gum on the playgrounds and on the way to and from school. Permit him to chew in school only when teaching grace of movement. But what will the poor child do with his gum while in the recitation or assembly room? If he keeps it in his mouth he is sure to forget himself and before he is aware of it, be chewing at a lively rate.

"A gum rack at the entrance of the room containing a number and peg for each pupil solves the problem. Each pupil has a number marking the place for his gum. On entering he leaves his gum on his number. On leaving he simply picks his gum off as he walks by. One seldom gets the gum from the wrong number."

ARTILLERY ACTIVE; INFANTRY QUIET

French Positions at Verdun Again Heavily Bombarded By Germans.

Paris, April 27, 12:01 p. m.—French positions before Verdun were bombarded heavily last night, but the Germans made no strong infantry attacks. A small assault north of Fort Vaux was stopped immediately by French artillery, the war office announced this afternoon.

Several German patrols were encountered north of the Aisne, and were repulsed in fighting with hand grenades. A German reconnoitering party east of Le Mesnil was dispersed.

A German aeroplane was brought down in Spincourt wood by a French pilot.

The text of the statement follows:

"North of Aisne several German patrols were repulsed with hand grenades.

"In the region of Verdun there was an intense bombardment of the redoubt of Avocourt and of our organizations on the Cote du Poivre. A small enemy attack directed upon an element of our trenches to the north of the Vaux fort was immediately stopped by our curtains of fire.

"In Lorraine we dispersed a German reconnoitering party which attempted to reach our position to the east of Les Mesnil.

"On the rest of the front there was no event of importance to report beyond the usual cannonading."

ROADS KEPT BUSY SHIPPING AUTOS

Demand for Cars Is Very Heavy on the Ranges.

Shortage of automobile cars to handle the business between Duluth and points on the Mesaba range is giving the railroads running into that district some little worry. Already this week ten machines have been shipped to various towns in the iron ore fields and there are still many to be sent as soon as freight cars of proper dimensions are available.

"In other years when we shipped cars to the range towns they would come back loaded with shipments of various kinds for other destinations; but now we have the cars sent right back light so they will be immediately available for use," said an employe of the Duluth, Missabe & Northern Railway company this morning. "Duluth automobile men are certainly doing a land office business on the range this spring."

Passenger traffic is also greatly on the increase during the last ten days, according to City Passenger Agent Alexander. He stated this morning that this year's business is far ahead of what it was a year ago and that each day the travel between Duluth and ranges increases.

WHAT CACTUS JUICE HAS DONE FOR OTHERS IT WILL DO FOR YOU

Of course any one can tell you a thing, but can they substantiate their claim? There has been many a thing put on the market that could not make good its claim, while at the same time the man that puts that article out did so with all sincerity, he believed in it, but he had not tried it out sufficiently to know positive. Now that is not the case with CALIFORNIA CACTUS JUICE. It has been tried out and has proven what we claim for it. All over the country wherever it has been introduced, we have received great praises. I am located here in the Lyceum Pharmacy just to tell you about this wonderful preparation, and I want you to come in and see me whether you need medicine or not for it is good for any one to learn of things new to them. You may need our preparation at some future date and then you will know just what to get, for without a doubt it is the best blood, liver, stomach and kidney medicine ever compounded, and all that we ask of you is to give it a trial, as we sell all of it on trial. Now isn't it worth a trial to put yourself in good physicial condition? I am sure that it will prove all that we claim for it. If you cannot come to the Lyceum Pharmacy and see the Cactus Juice man, just go to your own druggist and ask for California Cactus Juice and he will get it for you.—Advertisement.

TELEPHONE "CENTRAL" IN THE TRENCHES

This is a telephone central "somewhere in Germany." The telephone system in the large cities of Germany is as perfect as that in the United States; but at the front there is no opportunity to create anything like the ornate central station one finds in a business city. This is the "central" through which reports are transmitted from the commanding officer to the under officers in the trenches and to headquarters, and through it the reports of aeroplane scouts are transmitted to the officers in command of the big guns.

POKER PLAYERS FORFEIT THEIR BAIL

Eight Gamesters and Landlord Find Penny Ante Expensive.

Penny-ante poker at $105 a game. That is Chief of Police McKercher's latest record. Nine men were indulging in the national indoor sport in a room at 615 West Superior street last night, and $105 is what it cost them.

Eight players forfeited $10 bail when they failed to appear in municipal court today to answer to a charge of gambling and the ninth man, Louis Johnson, alias Ole Anderson, forfeited $25 on a charge of keeping gambling devices.

Evidence was scarce when the chief, with Detectives Roberg and Barber, walked into the room and joined the throng around the green-topped table, but the officers found enough to warrant arrests.

Eleven men took a ride in the police emergency, but two of them were released later, when it developed that they were nothing more than spectators.

Those who forfeited $10 gave their names as Chris Hagen, 33; Paul Costello, 25; Gurga Suarich, 40; Erick Johnson, 38; Hjalmar Berglund, 42; Hans Knutson, 33; Joe McGillis, 52; Peter Peterson, 31.

TRIP TO "MICHIGAN" HALTED.

Longshoreman Runs Over Dock Edge in Race for Steamer.

"Back to Michigan for me," said John Soderman, 57, graduate lumberjack and undergraduate longshoreman.

He stood on the end of a dock at Fifth avenue west, gazing sorrowfully toward the canal, where a downbound freighter was passing out into the open lake.

Suiting the action to the words, Soderman started toward the boat on a dog trot, forgetting that the dock stopped a few feet farther on.

The dock stopped eventually, but Soderman kept on going. He discovered that the water was very cold, and that walking was very, very poor. He shouted to the ore boat captain, but the latter didn't seem to want to wait for the walker.

Robert McFarlane, commissioner of the Lake Carriers' association, appeared on the scene at this stage, and after a skillful bit of maneuvering, tossed a rope over Soderman's shoulder. The tug Minnesota, lying at the Sixth avenue dock, also came to the rescue.

With a "yo heave-oh" Soderman's bedraggled personage was drawn over the side of the tug to safety. Patrolman Fred Dinkel, with Driver Mark Stewart, appeared soon afterwards and took Soderman to headquarters.

"Seven dollars or seven days for drunkenness," said the judge this morning.

STOLE FROM CRIPPLE.

Jerry Donahue Gets Thirty Days for Theft of Satchel.

Here is another meanest man.

Jerry Donahue, 48, stole a satchel last night containing the worldly goods of Charles Duby, a cripple.

Duby left the satchel in a saloon at 528 West Superior street, while he was away doing some work, and when he returned, it was gone. Donahue was pointed out to police as the guilty man, and a few minutes later Chief Lahti, with Detectives Toewe and Bradley, picked him up.

In municipal court today Judge W. H. Smallwood found Donahue guilty of the theft and sentenced him to pay a $27.50 fine or serve thirty days. Donahue will take the thirty days.

The satchel was valued at $5.

GIVES HIMSELF UP.

Youth Wants to Clear Himself of Charge Against Him.

After dodging police for three months, Austin Young, 25, walked into headquarters yesterday and said:

"Is Chief McKercher in?"

"Yes," was the reply, "but he's busy just now."

"I haven't an appointment," said Young, "but I think he wants to see me."

It developed that Young was wanted as a suspect in connection with the burglary of a saloon operated by Ignatius Kozlarek at 31 West First street, on Jan. 26.

Police say that Young borrowed $10 from his mother, who lives in West Duluth, and left the city suddenly after the burglary.

Young claims he was working in Fond du Lac, Wis., at the time. He was locked up and is being held pending an investigation.

ANOTHER JITNEY CASE.

Driver Fined on Testimony of Judge and Police Chief.

A wide-awake speedometer salesman could do some business if he finds one John Maki, age 27, jitneybile driver.

Maki had to pay a $15 fine, or rather is scheduled to pay that amount, because he ran by an open street car gate this morning. Although he protested vehemently that he was innocent, the court ruled that he was negligent in not equipping his car with a speedometer.

Had Maki known it, he might have pleaded guilty to the charge and reduced his costs, but he didn't recognize the state's two principal witnesses as Municipal Judge F. H. Cutting and Chief of Police R. D. McKercher—not until afterwards.

Maki missed his dinner this noon. He didn't have $15, and he was pulling wires so that he would not have to spend the next two weeks with Supt. Fred Ward at the work farm.

His fate will be decided later in the day.

ROBBER SAVED BY "NERVE."

Lumberjack Speechless While Money and Watch Are Stolen.

Ecrikki Risu, which sounds like a Siwash college yell when pronounced properly, but which really is a lumberjack who is "broke," was robbed of $5 and a watch as he stood on a curbstone near 237 South First avenue east last night.

Risu's friend, Matt Tampic, saw the robber come and go, but offered no resistance. Risu, judging from his version of the affair, was so astonished that he was speechless for a few moments.

Detectives Roberg and Barber heard Risu's story and locked him up as a drunk, for he had reached the point where he didn't care whether school kept or not.

Later in the evening Sergeant Youngberg brought in Charles Wirta, 27. Wirta answered a description of the thief, but Risu failed to identify him. The victim was sentenced to the work farm for seven days this morning.

BRINGS INJURY ACTION.

Mrs. Katrina Magnuson Sues Livery for $2,517.

Because a rig belonging to Roach brothers livery and driven by Ernest Christenson, one of their employes, collided with the vehicle in which she was riding on the Thomson road out of West Duluth on the night of July 5, 1915, a personal injury suit will be tried in district court, in which Mrs. Katrina Gustava Magnuson is plaintiff and Roach brothers and Christenson are defendants. Mrs. Magnuson claims that the rig in which she was riding overturned and she was badly injured in the spill. She asks $2,617 damages. The complaint charges that Christenson was intoxicated at the time of the accident.

MEET TO CONFER ON DEMANDS OF TRAINMEN

Chicago, April 27.—Three men representing practically all the railroads of the country and four others representing approximately 300,000 railroad traffic employes met here today to arrange for conferences between the two factions at which the trainmen's demands for an eight-hour day and time and a half overtime pay are to be discussed.

J. W. Higgins of Chicago, J. G. Walber of New York and Charles P. Neill of Washington represent, respectively, Western, Eastern and Southeastern lines having an aggregate of 250,000 miles of railroad. W. G. Lee, president of the trainmen's brotherhood; W. S. Stone of the engineers, W. S. Carter of the firemen and A. B. Garretson of the conductors will represent the men of their respective brotherhoods.

The ultimatum of the employes, asking a written reply to their demands, expires next Saturday. It is stated, however, by officials of the general managers' association that practically all of the railroads have already refused the demands. Neither side has shown any disposition to arbitrate.

TWIN PORTS MANAGERS TO MEET ACROSS BAY

Managers who will have teams in the Twin Ports league this coming summer will meet next Monday evening at the Hotel Superior at 8:30 o'clock, when a schedule of games will be arranged and much other business transacted. Superior now has all its four teams ready for the bell, but Duluth is short two crews, only the Rowles and the Fairmonts having reported. Duluth people who are interested in the formation of this league, are anxious to have two more teams enter, which would make an eight-club organization, the same as was featured last year.

NORTH SHORE STREAMS ARE HIGH AND WILD

North shore streams are still a rolling, seething mass of roiley water, according to Fred Payne, proprietor of a hotel at Grand Marais, and one of the best known outdoor sportsmen in the North country. Mr. Payne arrived in Duluth this morning on business and will remain here several days. He lived in this city for many years and is well known to all of the more prominent anglers.

"We do not look for anything like good fishing up our way until well along in May," said Mr. Payne. "All of the streams are high and wild and there is little chance for them to get back to normal before two weeks at least. From inquiries which we have already received we are looking for a record season on the north shore."

IRISH REVOLUTION SPREADING FAST

Official Admission of Some Trouble Is Made in London.

London, April 27.—Official admission today that there were indications of a spread of the revolutionary movement in Dublin to other parts of Ireland, especially in the west, was accompanied by the proclamation of martial law throughout the island. Hitherto only the city and county of Dublin had been under military rule, because of the outbreak.

The statement regarding the indicated spread of the revolutionary movement, was made by Premier Asquith in the house of commons today.

CAMPAIGN IS QUIET YET

"Drys" Will Not Unmask Battery of Orators Until May.

A quiet campaign is being conducted by the "dry" forces and much missionary work is being done among the family heads of the city. Each day the local workers have held conferences with Magnus Martinson of Minneapolis, well known anti-saloon enthusiast, who put over the county option bill in the last state legislature, and who has been identified with successful dry movements in various parts of the country. Mr. Martinson, who has been making his headquarters in Duluth left last evening for Minneapolis, where he will transact business for several days and then return to Duluth.

While much personal work is being done, the dry forces will not actually open up with their big orators until some time in May. When the campaign opens the dry workers assert there will be plenty of activity.

Efforts are being made by the Retail Liquor Dealers' association, the Bartenders' union, and other wet organizations, to bring Clarence Darrow, the well known Chicago attorney to Duluth. Darrow, it will be remembered, defended the McNamara brothers in the Los Angeles Times dynamiting case.

USE AUTOMOBILE ON RAILROAD TRACKS

Traveling in an automobile equipped with flanged wheels, such as are used on regular railroad cars, a party of officials of the Canadian Northern made a trip of inspection over their line yesterday between Duluth and Fort Frances. In the party were M. H. McLean, general manager; J. R. Cameron, assistant general manager; J. L. Pickles, chief engineer of the Duluth, Winnipeg & Pacific, and M. Helston of Virginia, division superintendent.

The party left here yesterday morning at 9 o'clock and arrived at Virginia at 11:51, about the same time the regular trains take, there being but a few minutes difference. They reached Fort Frances at 4:30.

This form of travel over the Canadian Northern is not by any means new. The head men for the Virginia & Rainy Lake Lumber company at Cusson have had an automobile in operation on the line for more than a year.

GOVERNOR BURNQUIST IS GUEST OF WEST DULUTH CLUB---VISITS FACTORIES AND TALKS TO CHILDREN

BREAKFAST PARTY FOR GOVERNOR BURNQUIST.

Governor J. A. A. Burnquist is a guest today of the West Duluth Commercial club.

The governor arrived over the Great Northern at 8:15 o'clock this morning and was met at the station by Mayor W. I. Prince and a delegation from the West Duluth Commercial club.

The party immediately went to the Duluth Commercial club rooms, where they breakfasted. Those at the table in addition to the governor and mayor were Emil J. Zauft, president of the West Duluth club; Lucien A. Barnes, Mason M. Forbes, Charles Kauppi, W. B. Getchell, N. F. Nelson, P. H. Martin, John Dwan of Two Harbors, and E. George Kreidler.

At 9:15 o'clock the party left for a trip through the western end of the city. The governor spoke at the Robert E. Denfeld high school and also at the Irving junior high school building. He also visited the Zenith Furnace company and the Western Rug company. At the latter place he was shown through the plant by Karl Wessel, manager of the company.

Greeted by "Mayor."

At the Denfeld school Ralph Nichols, "mayor" of the school, introduced the party and Mayor W. I. Prince. The mayor gave a short talk in which he introduced Governor Burnquist.

Governor Burnquist spoke of the opportunities which students now have as compared with those of children in the early history of the state and touched upon the fact that Minnesota has a school fund equal to practically all of the states of the union east of the Mississippi river. He praised the students of the Denfeld school for their energy, and especially the boys of the manual training department for building an addition to the stage which he said showed marked improvement over the work of students in the early days. At the close of his address the students gave three cheers and a tiger for the governor and the party.

At the Irving school the governor touched on the early opportunities of Abraham Lincoln and compared his efforts to get an education with the opportunities of the present generation.

Lunch and Auto Ride.

At noon today the governor and party lunched at the Tourist hotel, 307 North Central avenue. There were twenty members of the club seated with him at luncheon. The party hurried through in order to take an auto ride over the boulevard prior to going to the Duluth steel plant.

The partly left shortly after 1 o'clock on a special car furnished by W. A. McGonagle, president of the Duluth, Missabe & Northern railroad for the plant. The special train went over the Spirit Lake Transfer tracks and was given an opportunity of viewing the bay and water front.

It is planned to spend about three hours at the plant, after which the party will return for the banquet to be held at the Moose hall, Central avenue and Ramsey street. The supper will be served at 6:30 o'clock sharp. The Ladies' Aid Society of Our Savior's Norwegian Lutheran church will serve the supper. Flaaten's orchestra will furnish the music during the meal. The invocation will be given by Rev. W. J. Lillico, pastor of the Merritt Memorial M. E. church.

Emil J. Zauft will introduce M. M. Forbes as toastmaster and also give the address of welcome. The speakers, besides Governor Burnquist and Mayor W. I. Prince will be J. M. Davidson, Warren E. Greene, county attorney, and John Owens. Vocal numbers will be given by D. W. Helstand and J. R. Batchelor.

MERRITT ALUMNI TO PLAN BANQUET

Norman McIver Is Chosen President of the Association for Year.

The Merritt school alumni association held its annual meeting last evening at the school. Another meeting will be held by the society on May 10, at which plans will be made for the annual banquet to be tendered the graduating class.

The new officers elected last night are: Norman McIvor, president; Miss Anna Gallagher, vice president; Miss Borghild Hanson, recording secretary; Arthur Ryan, corresponding secretary; Miss Clara Bennett, treasurer, and Miss Petra Hanson, sergeant-at-arms.

It is planned to hold the annual banquet on May 19. The committee chairman to have charge of the various details were appointed. There are Miss Anna Gallagher, program; Miss Clara Bennett, lunch, and Miss Gladys Smalley, decorations.

TALKS ON GARDENING.

New Duluthians Urged to Enter Exhibits Next Fall.

Gardening was the subject of addresses given last evening by speakers at the meeting of the New Duluth Commercial club held at the Stowe school. The talks were given by C. Francis Colman, O. L. Mather, P. Gibson and F. Walker, members of the committee in charge of the agricultural exhibit to be held in the city next fall. The speakers requested that gardening be promoted in this end of the city and that an exhibit as large, if not larger than that of last year, be entered from New Duluth.

According to opinions expressed by members of the club the residents of this end of the city feel confident that the officials of the Duluth Street Railway company will do all in their power to have an extension of the line made to New Duluth this year. The members also discussed the proposed banquet of the club to be held on May 25.

Lodge to Give Dance.

West Duluth lodge No. 85, Degree of Honor, will entertain Tuesday evening at a dancing party at the Moose hall, Central avenue and Ramsey street. The affair is given under the auspices of the Carnation club of the lodge. The committee in charge consists of Mrs. J. H. Gerard, chairman, Mrs. C. J. Kauppi and Miss Florence Hunt.

Hendricksen Funeral.

The funeral services for Arthur Hendricksen, age 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Hendricksen, 632 North Fifty-eighth avenue west, who died yesterday morning, will be held Saturday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock from the residence and at 2 o'clock from Our Savior's Norwegian Lutheran church, Fifty-seventh avenue west and Wadena street. Interment will be in Oneota cemetery. Rev. B. L. Opdahl will officiate.

Bernich Found Guilty.

Slafka Bernich, one of a party of three who were caught in a raid at 1419 Ninety-seventh avenue west Monday afternoon, was fined $10 and costs, following a hearing in police court yesterday afternoon before Judge H. W. Lanners. Bernich pleaded not guilty at the hearing Tuesday afternoon. He said he was only an onlooker at the game, but testimony given by Patrolmen McKenna and Steffin, who caused the arrest, convinced the court differently.

Degree Team Entertains.

The degree team of Edda lodge No. 15, Daughters of Norway entertained last evening for members of the society at the West Duluth Commercial club rooms. Musical numbers, exhibition drill and speeches featured the program. Nearly 100 members were present. The following program was given:

ASKS DAMAGES FOR UNPROVED CHARGE

Edmund Hargest Sues Insurance Company and Local Representatives.

Failure of the Prudential Life Insurance company and its local representative, Richard Keown, to substantiate the charges of embezzlement made against Edmund Hargest, who was in the employ of the company as a solicitor for nearly two years and a half, is responsible for a damage suit filed in district court today against Mr. the company by Mr. Hargest, who wants $3,152 damages.

Keown swore out a warrant for Hargest's arrest on Jan. 20 last. He was apprehended and spent the next night in jail before he could obtain his release on bonds. Later he was bound over to the grand jury. The investigating body, however, returned a no true bill and there the prosecution dropped.

Hargest claims that he has been maliciously abused and that he has been held up to public disgrace and scandal. He thinks that he should be compensated by the company.

ARE NOT HAMPERED BY MINNESOTA LAW

St. Paul, Minn., April 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—Candidates for United States senator and representatives to congress cannot be hampered in their expenditure by the Minnesota corrupt practices act. Under the state law, candidates for the office are limited to an expenditure of $2,500, but Attorney General Smith today held that the state law does not apply.

Instead, the attorney general says, candidates for United States senator and representatives of congress are answerable only to the Federal law, as far as campaign expenditures are concerned. Under the Federal act, an expenditure of $10,000, together with the necessary traveling expenses and postage, are permitted. Mr. Smith says, however, that the state corrupt practices act applies in other respects.

Do Good Business.

St. Paul, Minn., April 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—Marine, inland and automobile insurance companies did a good business in Minnesota last year, according to figures just compiled by S. D. Works, state insurance commissioner. These companies received premiums aggregating $1,198,573.78 and paid the losses amounting to only $346,210.64. The companies operating under the jurisdiction added over $2,000,000 to their surplus.

DEEP PLOT TO POISON MINDS

Senator Husting Tells Senate of Campaign in Wisconsin.

Receives Thousands of Letters From Constituents All Prepared in Chicago.

Washington, April 27.—Senator Husting, Democrat, told the senate today that the American embargo conference had conducted a campaign in Wisconsin to induce him to support an embargo resolution against shipment of war munitions to Europe. He submitted a thousand letters from Wisconsin citizens which he said all emanated from the Chicago headquarters of this organization.

Senator Husting said that thousands of telegrams deluging congress charging the president with seeking war with Germany emanated from the embargo conference. He declared there was a "deep laid plot to poison the minds of citizens all over the country with the thought that the president wants war, when every fact gives the lie to such an assertion."

Letters Identical.

The senator submitted to the senate a form letter signed by the American embargo conference, W. R. McDonald, secretary, sent to citizens of Wisconsin, inclosing forms of other letters to be sent to him urging support of an embargo resolution. The thousand letters from Wisconsin citizens all were identical, he said, and were supplied by the embargo conference.

The McDonald letter, read to the senate, advised Wisconsin citizens to cooperate with the embargo conference "to induce Paul O. Husting to join with the other Wisconsin representatives in supporting an embargo resolution."

The letter stated that the conference would reimburse the sender for any expense incurred for stamps and urged each recipient to get his neighbors to send copies of the appeal to the senator.

Letters in February.

"I received all these letters last February, about the time there was considerable discussion on an embargo resolution," Senator Husting explained to the senate. "I thought it was no use making any public statement about it because it was the general policy not to stir these matters up in the senate. But in connection with what is going on now because of this telegraphic campaign with respect to the German situation, I think it is quite relevant to call attention to this matter.

"I merely wish to call attention to the fact that all these letters emanated originally from Chicago and not from Wisconsin, that they were sent to my constituents and represent the sentiment of some conference or bureau clerk and not the sentiment of the citizens of Wisconsin who signed the letters. At least the citizens did not write the letters themselves. It was a deliberate attempt to deceive the senate from Wisconsin into the belief that he was receiving original personal appeals from his constituents."

All From Same Source.

Senator Husting described the telegrams, which, he said, came in eight distinct forms. An error in one which spoke of the nation being "participated into war" when "precipitated" obviously was meant, the senator declared, appeared in all telegrams and presented conclusive proof that all emanated from the same source. He especially attacked one form which declared the sender heard with alarm "rumors that the country was on the verge of war."

"The cruelty and cunning of this telegram is that it was framed weeks ahead of any crisis," he said, "and the bitter insinuation is spread that this government is seeking to plunge the country into war when in actual fact the forms lay for weeks in the offices of the propagandists, waiting for an opportune time."

Resents Insinuations.

"I believe there is the evidence of a plot which would plunge us into war. I am against those who in the garb of the Prince of Peace, must by these methods bring us breakneck into the conflict. For a whole year, when congress was not in session the president kept us out of war and I resent the insinuations in these telegrams that the president of the United States and the cabinet have any idea except to preserve peace if it can be done with honor to the nation. Here we find a deep laid plot to poison the minds of our citizens all over the country with the thought that the president wants war when every fact gives the lie to that assertion. This is all being done by this mysterious embargo conference. These 200,000 telegrams coming now to congress are sent from a common source and they are being paid for by this same organization."

Senator Husting urged a congressional inquiry to determine exactly who is responsible for the propaganda.

ANOTHER DEMAND ON GREAT BRITAIN

Washington, April 27.—Secretary Lansing announced today that the United States had sent another note to Great Britain demanding the release of the thirty-eight Austrians, Germans and Turks taken from the American steamship China by a British cruiser off Shanghai. The note was dispatched yesterday and will be given out for publication later.

Alternates Lacking.

St. Paul, Minn., April 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—The state Prohibition central committee was notified by the secretary of state's office that its delegates to the Prohibition national convention from Minnesota had failed to complete the list of alternates. There are forty-four delegates and twelve of the number have failed to name alternates.

BETTER HOUSING FOR CONSTRUCTION MEN

National Committee Plans to Stage Interesting Design Competition.

In an effort to procure the best and most practical ideas and plans for the housing of railroad construction gangs, the National Americanization committee has started a nation-wide competition for drawings and models. A total of $600 in prizes will be given for the designs receiving the highest awards, the money to be divided in the following manner: First prize, $300; second prize, $200, and third prize, $100.

The object of this competition, according to a circular just sent out by the committee, is to secure a satisfactory substitute for the freight car now used to house construction gangs on railways.

Four drawings will be required as follows: Plan of situation arrangement, one-sixteenth inch scale; floor plan of each car, one-half inch scale; longitudinal section of each car, one-half inch scale, and individual traverse section, one-half inch scale. All drawings must be on white paper or cardboard and may be drawn in pencil or ink, and the drawings, memoirs, models and sealed envelope, with author's name and address, should be sent to Car Division, Immigrant Housing Competition, 18 West Thirty-fourth street, New York, on or before 12 o'clock, June 1.

The following judges will consider all drawings: R. S. Parsons, chief engineer, Erie railroad; James Buchanan Brady, vice president, Standard Steel Car company; George A. Cullen, passenger traffic manager, Delaware, Lackawanna & Western railroad; Francis A. Kellor, former chief of bureau of industries and immigration, New York state, and member of executive committee, National Americanization committee, and Dr. Andrew J. Provost, Lederle laboratories, New York city.

NEWS OF THE NORTHWEST

NEW CHARTER IS FINISHED

Thief River Falls to Have City Manager If Charter Is Adopted.

General Powers Vested in Mayor and Six Councilmen-at-Large.

Thief River Falls, Minn., April 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—The charter commission which has been working on a new city charter has reported to the city council. The new charter provides for a city manager, the initiative and referendum, with recall while the legislative and general regulative power shall be vested in a mayor and six councilmen, each of whom shall be elected at large by the qualified voters of the city; provides for the nomination of all candidates for city offices by position and that elections be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November of all even numbered years, which means that if the charter is upheld by the voters that an election will take place this fall, while it is provided that for the recall of any city officer a petition, signed by at least 25 per cent of the total ballots cast at the last election, may demand a special election of the successor of the person sought to be removed, shall be filed with the city manager, which petition shall contain a general statement, of not more than 200 words relative to the grounds on which removal is sought. A special election to be then called by the city manager at the expiration of forty days. The new charter states that the mayor must preside at all meetings of the council.

The new charter also provides that there shall be set aside each year until the city reaches a population of 8,000, $300 per year for the mayor's contingent expense, which may be expended for the general welfare of the city. After the city reaches 8,000 $600 shall be set aside each year for the same purpose.

The city manager shall be appointed by the common council, who will be the administrative head of the municipal government and he shall be responsible for the efficient administration of all departments over which he has control, his term of office to be set by the common council. It also provides that it is not necessary for the city manager to be a resident of the city at the time of his appointment. His compensation will be fixed by the council and he will also act as city clerk. He shall have power to appoint and remove all subordinates. He will also be the purchasing agent of the city and will have power over all in all departments.

It will be the duty of the city manager to enforce all of the laws of the city and when any are broken he shall make complaint to the municipal court in order to see that all laws are properly executed.

No Perpetual Franchise.

Under the proposed charter no exclusive franchise shall ever be granted. No franchise shall be granted for more than twenty-five years as a five-sixth vote shall decide for which a fair compensation shall be made.

The first election under the proposed charter, if it is accepted by the voters of the city, will be on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1916, at which time only the officers to be elected or nominated shall be named. The second election, if such second election shall be found necessary, shall be held pursuant to the provisions hereof on the first day of December, 1916. The three councilmen receiving the highest number of votes shall hold office until noon of the first Tuesday, after the first Monday in January, 1921, the three receiving the lowest number of votes shall hold office till the first Tuesday after the first Monday in January, 1919, while the mayor shall hold office for a period of two years.

CROOKSTON AUTO CLUB ELECTION

Members Pledge Themselves to Work for Improvements of Roads.

Crookston, Minn., April 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—The annual meeting of the Crookston Automobile club was held last evening, preceded by a banquet held in the Commercial club rooms, attended by 150, a feature being the presence of women. At the business session held later, officers for the year were elected as follows: President, C. C. Strander; vice president, Edward Peterson; secretary-treasurer, Rev. J. O. Ensrud; board of governors, B. D. Heck, C. M. Lumpkin, W. T. Carlisle, W. R. Low, A. O. Espe.

State Official Speaks.

Interesting talks were given by State Highway Commissioner Forbes, County Commissioner McPhee and others, and enthusiasm was expressed in getting behind every proposition for more good roads, and co-operation with the state highway commission, county commissioners and township officers, with the end in view of following well defined plans in road construction, insisting upon well drained roads, etc. The annual dues were increased from $3 to $5 per year, and a committee was named to draft resolutions to be presented to the legislature favoring a higher assessment against automobiles to be used in good roads construction, each county to receive the money paid by such increased taxation.

Rochester to Buy Plant.

Rochester, Minn., April 27.—The city council decided to purchase the property of the Rochester waterworks for $125,000, providing the voters decide favorably upon a bond issue for that purpose. The decision to buy the plant and property came from H. M. Verrell, the water company's representative from the East. He appeared before the council and offered the plant to the city for the mentioned amount.

MARQUETTE NORMAL TO GRADUATE MANY

President of State Board of Education to Give Address.

Marquette, Mich., April 27.—A large number of diplomas to graduates will be given by the Northern State Normal school here at the commencement exercises to be held June 21, with President T. W. Nodall of the state board of education delivering the principal address.

The Phi Epsilon banquet, which will be attended only by members and members-elect, will be held Saturday evening, June 17. Membership to this society is based on scholarship and is an honor coveted by all the students of the school.

To Give Shakesperean Play.

The baccalaureate services will be conducted Sunday, June 18, in the school auditorium. Shakespeare's "Twelfth Night," the annual senior play, will be given in the auditorium Monday night, June 19, by the students of the school, under the direction of Mrs. Eulie Gay Rushmore, head of the expression department. Rehearsals for this play have been in progress for several days.

Tuesday, June 20, will be set aside as class day, with appropriate exercises throughout the day. The final commencement exercises will be held Wednesday evening, June 21, in the auditorium, at which time a program will be given by the students, speakers from outside the city, and members of the faculty, closing with the presentation of diplomas by President James H. Kaye.

NEGAUNEE HERO'S WIDOW GIVEN CARNEGIE PENSION.

Negaunee, Mich., April 27.—The Carnegie Hero Fund commission has awarded the widow of John Barrett, mine captain, who lost his life during a mine fire here while trying to save a co-laborer's life, a silver medal and an allowance of $45 a month during her life or until she remarries, with $5 a month additional allowance for each of seven children until each reaches the age of 16.

CLOQUET PIONEER'S FUNERAL IS HELD

Cloquet, Minn., April 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—J. F. O'Brien, who died at the St. Mary's hospital, Duluth, Monday, was buried this morning at 10 o'clock from the Catholic church, Rev. Father Limmer officiating.

Mr. O'Brien was born in Peterboro, Ont., in 1859, and came to Cloquet in 1887, where he was engaged in the livery business for several years. For the past twelve years he has worked in the contracting business doing extensive work along that line.

Mr. O'Brien was a member of the Woodmen of the World, Knights of Columbus, and the Catholic order of Foresters. The latter had charge of the funeral. Mr. O'Brien is survived by his wife and three children, John, Mary and Alice, all of this city. He also has two sisters, who are St. Joseph's nuns of Peterboro, Ont., and five brothers, Morris of Duluth; James and Michael of Peterboro; P. W. and D. D. O'Brien of Chicago.

BADGER OLD GUARD SELECTS JEFFRIS

Picks Janesville Man to Oppose La Follette for Federal Senate.

Madison, Wis., April 27.—Malcolm G. Jeffris of Janesville was unanimously indorsed yesterday by the conservative Republican senatorial conference of Wisconsin as candidate for the nemination of United States senator at the September primary election, to oppose Senator La Follette, Progressive Republican.

Mr. Jeffris on the first ballot received 65 out of a total of 101 votes cast, there being nine absentees. John M. Whitehead, Janesville, received 24; George B. Hudnall, Superior, 11, and Francis E. McGovern, 1.

On motion of A. E. Mathewson of Janesville, the nomination was made unanimous.

Criticises Wilson War Policy.

In an address before the convention Mr. Jeffris said he would make a thorough canvass of the state. He criticized President Wilson on his war policy, declaring "above all the United States should keep out of that European war; but at the same time treat every belligerent with equality."

He spoke in favor of preparedness.

"With the right man in the presidential chair of the United States, I confidently believe the European war long ago would have been ended," said Mr. Jeffris. He said Poland should be restablished. The Caucasians must stand together, he urged.

After brief remarks by Governor Philipp and John Whitehead, the conference adjourned.

MANY BADGER DEATHS.

First Quarter of 1916 Exceeded Same Period in 1915.

Madison, Wis., April 27.—Evidence of an unusual number of deaths from illness throughout the state the past winter is seen in the quarterly report on mortality, covering January, February and March, 1916, issued by the state board of health. Total deaths reported were 9,016, as compared with 7,995 in the corresponding quarter of 1915.

Pneumonia holds its customary place in the first rank with a toll of 1,652 lives as against 1,230 in the corresponding quarter last year.

Practically every communicable disease shows an increase in mortality.

DOCTOR'S OLD MARE WILL BE CARED FOR

Marshfield, Wis., April 27.—Requiring the new owner to give a $500 bond to carry out his contract, Mrs. Anna M. Lathrop, widow of Dr. H. A. Lathrop, presented the doctor's old mare, Martha, to Nicholas Bell of Bakerville. Mr. Bell contracts to keep the horse in pasture, with the exception of a drive to the city, four miles distant, not oftener than once or twice weekly. The horse's age is given as 25 years. A further provision of the contract is that when the mare becomes too decrepit to enjoy life further, she is to be chloroformed by a licensed veterinarian and given decent burial.

OPEN MEMORIAL GYM AT COOPERSTOWN, N. D.

Cooperstown, N. D., April 27.—The A. H. Berg memorial gymnasium was formally opened with elaborate programs. A play, "The Princess of Poe," was given Tuesday and Wednesday evenings, local talent, reinforced by four artists from Minneapolis, being in the cast. Wednesday evening an illuminated parade with fireworks was a feature.

The Berg memorial gymnasium was given to the city by the late A. H. Berg. It is a modern structure in every respect and the pride of Cooperstown. The auditorium seats about 400 people.

Cooperstown has a splendid school system and the addition of this gymnasium to the other fine structures makes it one of the best in the state.

DAKOTA BRIEFS

Fargo, N. D.—A. Rubel, proprietor of the Rubel Clothing store of Moorhead, died Monday night at his home, 1012 First avenue south, Fargo, after a lingering illness. Mr. Rubel has had a clothing store in Moorhead for the past five or six years. He was 50 years old and a pioneer settler of Fargo. He is survived by his wife, three daughters and two sons, all residing in Fargo.

Bismarck, N. D.—Frank Allen, colored, charged with feloneously shooting Frank Allen, white, a traveling salesman, was bound over to the district court for trial at a preliminary hearing.

Sentinel Butte, N. D.—W. L. Graham, until recently cashier of the Interstate bank at this place, died at the hospital in Minneapolis, where he went from here to take treatment for heart failure several weeks ago.

Minot, N. D.—Miss H. Nelson, attacked viciously by a man employed by her father, still is in the local hospital, slowly recovering from the effects of the awful beating.

Mandan, N. D.—As the result of the action taken by the city commission, the president and auditor were instructed to enter into a contract with the Mandan Electric Light company. That concern started work the first of the week stringing wires for the city pumping station three miles north of the city.

Galesburg, N. D.—Supt. Emilt Estenson, who the past three years has been the head of the Galesburg public schools, has accepted the superintendency of the Petersburg schools.

Fargo, N. D.—Officers of the North Dakota National Guard residing in Fargo are advised of plans to hold a camp of instruction for officers, probably between May 12 and May 22. The camp will be maintained at Devils Lake, at the Rock Island military reservation.

Minot, N. D.—Martin Foss is in a local hospital with a self-inflicted bullet wound in the upper right side of the chest. The deed was committed at his home in this city presumably with suicidal intent. Domestic and financial troubles, superinduced by a rather protracted spree, are believed to have been the reason for his attempt to take his life.

WISCONSIN BRIEFS

Appleton—A court action to determine who is the treasurer of the town of Freedom will be started within the next few days. The controversy is the result of the election of Nick Liesch as town treasurer, followed a few days later by the announcement that the successful candidate is not a citizen of the United States.

Waupaca—Cyrus Church, a veteran of the Civil war, and member of the Veterans' home, was found dead in Taylor lake. He had been missing for the last week, but no trace of him was found until one of his comrades, while strolling along the shore of the lake, noticed a body partly submerged in the water.

Grand Rapids—Grand Rapids saloon men in session with the new mayor, E. W. Ellis, have decided to close the saloons a part of Sunday, the opening hours to be from 2 p. m. until 10 p. m. Many of the saloon keepers were in favor of closing all day on Sunday, but through the objection of others the forces compromised.

Madison—The commissioner of banking on Tuesday issued a charter to the Barronett State bank of Barronett, Barron county. Capital stock is $10,000. Incorporators are Lynn H. Ashley, Matthew Arnes, Martin Peterson, Edward Anderson and C. A. L. Loomis.

Milwaukee—Roy W. and George W. Peck, jr., are named beneficiaries in the will of their father, George W. Peck, noted author and former governor of Wisconsin, who died recently. No petition accompanied the filing of the will. Included in the personal property left to the sons were the royalties and incomes from the works of the author.

Fort Atkinson—A. Snover, aged 61, died at his home here after several weeks' illness. He was born in Eagle. He was long a leading Democrat. He had been city clerk and mayor of this city and supervisor, and in 1909 was elected sheriff. In 1910 he was elected state senator.

Madison—Preliminary arrangements are being made for the Knights of Columbus convention here May 9 and 10. Fifty-four counties will be represented at the meeting.

PENINSULA BRIEFS

Marquette—Division of Michigan so as to provide three Methodist Episcopal conferences with the Upper Peninsula a conference by itself is receiving consideration in church circles. As yet the plans for launching the project are in embryo.

Negaunee—Joseph Moore and family have left for Bradwell, Sask., where Mr. Moore recently purchased 160 acres of farming land. His farm is located four miles from Bradwell and is in the center of a good wheat country.

Menominee—Menominee is to have a new $25,000 motion picture house. The new theater will seat 500 persons and will be modern in every way. Several sites are under consideration. Local men, including Manager Campbell of the Grand theater, are behind the project.

Marquette — Street Commissioner Wright has men and teams grading with rock the sand fill at the Carp furnace that replaced the bridge in use there for many years.

Marquette—The city commission has granted the petition of the residents on West Fisher street to have that street macadamized west of Seventh street. This improvement has been long sought for by the residents of West Fisher street and vicinity.

Ishpeming — A celebration of the Fourth of July is being agitated here. Financial conditions are in fair shape here and there is little doubt that Ishpeming would receive the financial support of the business men in the enterprise.

Hancock—The annual meeting of the alumni of the Finnish college will be held next Monday evening. Following the business session a program will be given. Officers for the coming year will be elected.

Calumet—Norman Collingwood, aged 21, a well known resident is dead. He is survived by one brother, Will of Seattle, Wash., and four sisters, Mrs. Hilda Gjersvold of Florida street and the Misses Amanda, Geraldine and Emma at home. The funeral will be held on Friday.

Chassell—Supt. V. F. Goddard of the Chassell schools tendered his resignation to the school board to take effect at the end of the school year in June. Mr. Goddard has been offered a position as superintendent elsewhere at a higher salary and has accepted.

Calumet — The Calumet township board will meet Friday afternoon when the bonds of the five liquor dealers who have been granted a license will be acted upon. The application of Joseph Swetish to conduct a saloon in the building at present occupied by Charles Brown will also be considered.

MINNESOTA BRIEFS

Mankato—Governor Burnquist has accepted an invitation to speak at the annual meeting of the Mapleton and Sterling Old Settlers' association near Mapleton June 13.

Redwood Falls—A jury here found T. H. Jordon guilty of arson. He is one of the defendants in the Seaforth arson cases, which caused no little excitement in Redwood county. M. C. Garvey, another of the defendants, is yet to be tried. His case will probably come up during court vacation.

International Falls—Mrs. Magnus is here attending to the shipment of their household goods to Sandstone, where Mr. Magnus will have headquarters while working as an engineer on road construction in Pine county. Mrs. Magnus left for there Tuesday night via Duluth.

Brainerd—Duluth men registered at the Ransford Tuesday were L. J. Belanger, R. J. Stephenson, F. E. Atkins and Joseph Carhart, Jr.

Moorhead—A $75,000 bond issue was voted upon here. The money will be used in the erection of a high school building, costing $100,000 to $125,000.

St. Cloud—With its issue of this week the Catholic Club Herald, a newspaper issued by the Catholic club and chronicling its doings, will pass out of existence, according to announcements made by the publishers, the May Printing company.

Bemidji—The Birchmont Beach hotel will be reopened before June 1, according to a decision of the stockholders. Banquets are being planned to be held at the hotel before the hotel is officially opened.

Stillwater—R. J. Richitzen, director of the prison band and orchestra, proposes to establish a Stillwater band which will give free concerts during the summer at Lowell park. He is conferring with city officials and Civic club officers about the proposition.

Moorhead—Judge B. F. Spalding of Fargo will deliver the principal address at the semi-annual meeting of the Clay County Bar association, to be held at the Comstock hotel Monday evening, May 8.

East Grand Forks—A. B. Karnes, proprietor of a local pool hall, convicted by a grand jury in Polk county district court in January for maintaining a gambling device is seeking a new trial or for a dismissal of the case. A motion was argued before Judge William Watts at Crookston.

Winona—An automobile in which H. T. Stott, a local manufacturer, his wife and small son were riding Tuesday night was struck by a Burlington fast train at a crossing in Winona. Mrs. Stott is in a critical condition. The automobile was demolished.

Minneapolis—In his investigation of the death of William Cogan, Dr. C. A. Hobbs, deputy coroner, has found a letter indicating that Cogan had taken his life because he had no funds with which to buy passage to his regiment in Russia.

MANY OLD-YOUNG MEN SEEM GOING TO THE "BOW-WOWS"

WHY DOCTORS PRESCRIBE CADOMENE TABLETS (3 grain) FOR MEN

Doctors are high in their praise of Cadomene Tablets (3 grain) the Tonic for Mankind, and prescribe them in treatment of Physical and Mental Exhaustion, resulting from overwork, worry, illness, excesses and dissipation.

When a man or woman has symptoms of failing physical and mental power, weakened vitality and loss of normal vigor, characterized by dizziness, hideous dreams, trembling weakness, pains in spine, cold extremities, headache, melancholia, fear without cause, timidity and an unnatural feeling of discomfort and self-consciousness, when the recreations of life lose their pleasurableness and everything seems going to the bow-wows and you feel like a too old "down and out," it's time to start the use of Cadomene Tablets to brace and build you up and add force and vigor to the bodily structures.

CADOMENE TABLETS restore to the nervous system and every organism increased nerve and tissue force, and make the brain active, increase will power and personal magnetism.

Cadomene Tablets are to the nervous Person the means of healthful, effective, efficient life, in business, at recreation and at home, and the full enjoyment of the pleasures of society.

Cadomene Tablets nourish the nerve centers, naturally and persistently, and cause a thorough strengthening of the body's resisting force, a regaining of vitality and endurance; Renewed Efficiency of Body and Mind.

Cadomene Tablets may be purchased of all druggists. Guaranteed to please or money refunded.

Home Celebration of Wonder Interest

The arrival of a baby in the household completely changes the entire aspect of the future. But in the meantime, during the anxious period of expectancy, there is a splendid remedy known as "Mother's Friend" that does wonders. It is for external use, relieves the pains of muscle expansion, soothes and quiets the nerves, extends its influence to the internal organs and removes to a great extent the tendency to worry and apprehension. It is a natural treatment, safe for the mother, has no drug effect whatsoever and for this reason must exert a most beneficial influence upon those functions directly connected with motherhood. In a very interesting book the subject is freely discussed and a copy will be mailed free to all expectant mothers by Bradfield Regulator Co., 406 Lamar Bdg., Atlanta, Ga. Get a bottle of "Mother's Friend" today of any druggist. Use as directed and you will then know why mothers for nearly half a century have used and recommended this splendid aid to motherhood. Their letters are messages of cheer, that breathe comfort in every word.

SPORT NEWS AND GOSSIP GLEANED FROM MANY FIELDS

Pat Flaherty of Fargo Was a Heady Boxman—Sheppard Was Dethroned By Meredith—Speaker Once Left Behind to Pay Rent.

Raking athletic history in the region of 1912, one finds emblazoned the name of Melvin W. Sheppard—Peerless Mel, they called him then. Track and field athletics had never known such a wonderful middle distance runner as Sheppard, and experts predicted that there never would exist a man his equal at foot running. Yet the day came—and was then not far distant—when "Shep" first hit the trail to oblivion. His star had only begun to fade when there appeared in the athletic firmament another star destined to shine even brighter than had Sheppard's.

James Edward Meredith—plain Ted, as he is known throughout the athletic world—first came into prominence about the time that Sheppard, after eight years of the most constant success ever enjoyed by an athlete, had virtually run out his string, and it was only a short time before his name eclipsed that of Peerless Mel.

Meredith was a sensation of the Olympic games at Stockholm in 1912, when as a mere boy he won the 800 meters championship for the United States, and in doing so hung up new world's records for 80 meters and 800 yards, marks that compare favorably with any on the record books today. From the day of his triumph in the Olympic meet, the Pennsylvania youth—he is only 23 today and with several of the best years of an athlete's life still before him—ruled supreme as a middle distance runner, and those who once said that Sheppard would never have an equal are now making the same assertion with regard to Meredith.

Athletics is a game of the survival of the fittest, for the most part, and Meredith long since proved himself the fittest of them all in his line.

Bonnie Laddie Sold.

Bonnie Laddie, one of the best jumpers ever developed in this country and rightly called a second Good and Plenty, has just been purchased by Edward B. McLean, the son of John R. McLean of Washington, for the goodly price of $12,000. He raced last year in the colors of Howard Henry, one of the greatest ends ever boasted by the Princeton football eleven, except in one race at a hunt club meeting when leased by George D. Widener. It was said at the time that Mr. Widener had bought the good horse, but such was not the case.

Speaker Held for Rent.

The sale of Tris Speaker to Cleveland "for more money than was ever paid for a player, not excepting Eddie Collins," recalls the story of Speaker being left at Little Rock in 1908 as rental for the ball park there. The Boston club trained at Little Rock that season, agreeing to turn back a player to Mike Finn's club in payment for the use of the grounds. When the Red Sox left Little Rock, Speaker was left behind.

That season Tris developed into a remarkable player and several clubs, including the Giants, made offers for him. Manager Finn might have sold him without violating any agreements, but he felt that Boston was entitled to first claim, so he sent the player back to the Red Sox for the sum of $500. Eight years later, Tris, once a $500 rent player, is sold for the record figure of baseball sales."

Wefers Leaves Columbia.

Bernie Wefers, formerly one of the world's greatest sprinters, has resigned as coach to the Columbia university track team and will take charge of the Fordham university athletes in September. Wefers, who was one of the first American amateurs to run 100 yards under 10 seconds, has been trainer at Columbia university for nine years.

Waiting for the Gong.

Fred Fulton has one more day in which to prepare for Al Reich. The Rochester giant will increase his boxing and will take on four different sparring partners for two rounds apiece.

The ex-plasterer must make good against the Adonis at the Stadium A. tomorrow night, or forever hold his peace. One thing will be decided. When the dust has settled it will be pretty well established whether Fulton has a papier mache jaw or not.

If he has, the Adonis is bound to rent it. Reich is one of the hardest hitters of all the heavyweights—when he lands.

Fulton is a hefty hitter himself, so there should be a bit of fur flying before Billy Gibson switches off the lights for the night. Fulton must sweep Reich from his path if he is to meet Coffey and Moran in the future.

Flaherty Some Bird.

A few years ago Pat Flaherty of the Fargo-Moorhead team, one-time Boston pitcher, was twirling in the Southern association. Pat's arm was about gone, but he had two valuable assets—a good head and a great motion toward first base, with which he often caught runners napping off the bag.

He had a poor team behind him, and in one game they had made a number of errors which gave his opponents three runs, but when the last inning rolled around Pat's team was leading, 4 to 3.

Flaherty was determined to win that game, and he didn't intend to take any chances on the fielders booting the ball. He passed the first man up, and then picked him off first base with a snap throw. Then he passed the second man and picked him off, and the third batter was also given a base and caught napping, thus ending the game.

Cross Country Golf.

"Cross country" golf is a new departure from the regular game which is finding favor with the students of the University of Oregon. Contestants have only one hole to play for, but its distance from the teeing off place may range from a mile to three miles, or in fact any distance which may be decided upon. As suggested by the title, "cross country," the ground played over is not calculated to be classed as fairway.

All the entries in a "cross country" tournament start at a selected point the distance decided on from the home tee and play go-as-you-please golf until the ball is putted into the cup.

The University of Washington was the first of the northwestern colleges to take up golf, and the Oregonians followed suit a year ago. It is likely that the two institutions will hold an intercollegiate competition later in the spring.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

Both Weaken in Seventh.

Philadelphia, April 27.—After having a pitching duel for six innings, during which the only score made off each was a homer, both Alexander and Cheney weakened in the seventh inning yesterday, and Brooklyn won the game 6 to 3. The visitors bunched five hits with three errors in the seventh and piled up five runs, while the home team got its runs in that session on Burns' double and four passes. Marquard, who took Cheney's place with two out in the seventh, and Oeschger, who went in to pitch for Philadelphia in the eighth, did excellent work. Score:

	R.	H.	E.
Brooklyn	0	0	1
Philadelphia	0	0	1

Batteries—Cheney, Marquard and Miller; Alexander, Oeschger and Burns.

Cubs Beat Pirates Again.

Chicago, April 27.—Williams' home run and Yerkes' triple were among six hits Chicago made off Adams in the eighth inning yesterday and helped to produce five runs, giving the Cubs another game from Pittsburgh, 6 to 3. Errors figured in Pittsburgh's first two runs, but after Lavender had given the visitors an opening in the ninth, Prendergast saved the locals. Otto Knabe played his first game with Pittsburgh and his fielding was a feature. A cold hard wind interfered with the fielders. Score:

	R.	H.	E.
Pittsburgh	0	1	1
Chicago	0	1	2

Batteries—Adams and Schmidt; Lavender, Prendergast and Fischer.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

Indians Again Beat White Sox.

Cleveland, Ohio, April 27.—Cleveland defeated Chicago again yesterday the score being 5 to 3. Scott had Cleveland blanked until the eighth. Then Howard, batting for Coveleskie, walked. The next two Clevelanders were retired, but Speaker, Smith, Gandil and Turner singled, driving in three runs. Wolfgang replaced Scott and Wambsganss greeted him with a single that scored Gandil and Turner. Chicago made two in the fourth on Felsch's single, a hit batsman and Murphy's double and one in the ninth on Leibold's single and steal and Collins' single. Speaker, Felsch and Terry starred in the fielding. Score:

	R.	H.	E.
Cleveland	5	7	1
Chicago	3	11	0

Batteries—Coveleskie, Bagby and O'Neill; Scott, Wolfgang and Lapp.

Yankees Blank Champions.

New York, April 27.—New York took the second game of its series with Boston by a score of 9 to 0 yesterday. The Yankees hit McHale, last year with the New York team, for four singles and a triple in the first inning and scored five earned runs. Markle, a Texas league recruit, pitched his second victory of the season for New York, holding the world's champions to four scattered hits. Nunamaker made a single, double and triple, giving him seven hits for thirteen bases in the last eight times at bat. Score:

New York	9	12	0

Batteries — McHale, Gregg and Agnew; Markle and Nunamaker.

Mackmen 3; Senators 2.

Washington, April 27.—Philadelphia beat Washington 3 to 2 yesterday in a drizzling rain. A pass to Witt, Walsh's sacrifice, and Oldring's hit to left, which went for a three-bagger when Rondeau slipped and fell, accounted for the winning run in the eighth. Score:

	R.	H.	E.
Philadelphia	3	8	0
Washington	2	6	2

Batteries—Bush and Meyers; Gallia, Bently, Boehling and Henry.

How Old Was Jim?

J. L. Abbott of New Duluth writes to this department of The Herald inquiring the height of James J. Jeffries and his age when he fought Jack Johnson. Jeffries height is 6 feet 1½ inches. He was 35 years of age when he fought Johnson. He was born in April, 1875, and the Johnson-Jeffries fight was staged at Reno July 4, 1910.

AMERICAN ASS'N.

Millers 3; Mudhens 1.

Toledo, Ohio, April 27.—Two fast double plays in tight places yesterday aided largely in the defeat of Toledo in the first game of the series with Minneapolis. The score was 3 to 1. Earl Yingling gave out only four hits and one base on balls. The locals scored their only run in the second inning when Stovall was hit, Wood sacrificed and Bresnahan singled. The visitors tied the score in the sixth and tallied two more in the ninth. Shaw, Evans, Stovall and Wood were unable to connect in the final period. Score:

	R.	H.	E.
Minneapolis	3	8	2
Toledo	1	4	2

Batteries — Yingling and Owens; Main and Bresnahan.

Hoosiers 8; Brewers 3.

Indianapolis, Ind., April 27.—Indianapolis came from behind and won yesterday the first game of the Milwaukee series, 8 to 3. A batting rally in the sixth turned the tide. Faeth was knocked off the rubber in that inning, in which eleven men went to bat and six runs were scored. The defensive work of Derrick and Bronkie featured the game, which was played in a steady drizzle of rain. Score:

	R.	H.	E.
Milwaukee	3	4	2
Indianapolis	8	10	3

Batteries—Faeth, Young and Mayer; Carter and Gossett.

ILLINOIS CLUB LEADS.

Chicago, April 27.—The 50-yard Amateur Athletic union championship swim was won last night at the Chicago Athletic association tank by Duke Kahanamoku of Hawaii. Perry McGillivray, Illinois Athletic club, was second; A. C. Riathal, I. A. C., third; Walter Ranna, New York Athletic club, fourth. The time was 23 4-5, within one-fifth of a second of the record for the distance.

M. McDermott of the Illinois Athletic club won the 200-yard breast breast stroke. The time was 2:42 3-5.

As a result of the races the Illinois Athletic club is now leading, with the New York Athletic club but two points behind, in the race for national indoor honors.

Kayo in Second.

New York, April 27.—Charlie Weinert of Newark, N. J., knocked out Jack Keating of Brooklyn, N. Y., in the second round of a match scheduled to go ten rounds here last night.

NEW YORK SPORTS LETTER

Former Federal League Batting Stars Showing Up Well in Organized Baseball Leagues; Tennis Instructors Very Scarce.

New York, April 27.—While the big league players have hardly got into their stride for the long pennant races, the batting averages for the initial week of the schedules show that the heavy hitters of the Federal league have in a number of cases been able to hammer out a place for themselves among the .300 batters. In the National league, Hal Chase in his few games with Cincinnati has been hitting at a .455 clip as against his .284 in the Federal league last year. Konetchy of Boston is given .400 after batting .310 for the entire season of 1915. Rariden of New York hit for .278 as a Federal, but since donning a Giants' uniform he has climbed to .333. Benny Kauff, the star of the Federals last year with .344, is tied with Rariden at .333.

The Federal league representation in the American league is considerably less than that in the National and the heavy hitters of the junior league have crowded out of the .300 or better class, all of the independent league players of 1915. Lee Magee, former manager of the Brookfeds, who batted .330 a year ago, is the nearest approach to the select class. At the end of the initial week of play for the New York Americans, Magee was credited with .286.

"Home Run" Baker, who came to the same club from the Philadelphia Athletics, after a year's lay-off due to his dispute over salary with Connie Mack, is hitting for .385 as against .319 for the season of 1914. Joe Gedeon, who came to the New York Americans via the Federals without having actually

The demand for professional tennis instructors continues to increase with each succeeding season and there is every indication that the supply will prove entirely inadequate during the coming summer. Every English coach, who is in this country at the present time, is tied up to some prominent club by a contract which is satisfactory to both contracting parties. A large number of the smaller clubs, as well as the leading colleges and preparatory schools, are searching in vain for men who have the skill and ability to teach the technique and strategy of tennis.

There are many American players who are fitted to take these positions, which pay good salaries, but they do not care to lose their amateur status and cannot afford to give the time necessary to successful coaching without reimbursement. As a result the National association and the clubs desiring a regular coach are confronted by a problem which does not promise to be easily solved. The remarkable growth of the court game in the past few years is responsible for the entry of large numbers of boys and young men who desire to be taught the proper manner in which to make the various strokes and the real science of both singles and doubles play. For the present at least there appears to be little chance of their procuring instruction except from such amateurs as can spare the time to developing the few who give promise of graduating into the ranks of the stars as a result of the coaching afforded them.

SPORTSMEN PLAN SHOW

Central Game Protective League Would Give Nature Lovers' Exhibit.

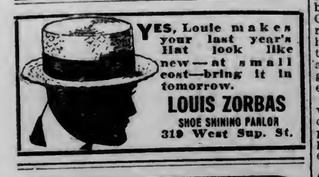
A unique sportsman's and nature lover's show or exhibit will be held in Duluth in the near future, according to plans discussed yesterday afternoon by the members of the Central high school branch of the Minnesota Game Protective league.

Central high school students interested in the preservation of wild game met recently and organized a school branch of the state game league. At their regular meeting yesterday afternoon they decided to hold a big exhibit at the city library, if the space could be obtained, to encourage interest in wild game animals and birds. Many Duluthians go out in the fall to kill animals and birds of which they know very little, and it is expected that the show would interest them. The species of the birds, their range, migration and many other features would be interestingly explained in the show, and it is expected also to have a big influence in checking the law-breakers.

The local Central high school museum, one of the finest of its kind in the entire state, would be drawn on for much of the material. There are species of almost every kind of bird and animal in North America contained in the museum, many of which are very rare. An excellent wild pigeon, of the type that has now become almost extinct, is one of the prized posssions of the museum, and this should create some interest at the show.

The local high school game protective association is a unique organization, being the only one of its kind in the country, and the members expect to exert considerable influence towards the preservation of the rapidly vanishing wild life.

NEW MEMBERS FOR GOLF CLUB



Fifty Applications Passed On By the Board of Directors.

When the board of directors of the Northland Country club met in regular session at the clubrooms this noon the names of fifty applicants for membership were gone over and most of them were favorably passed upon.

Golf is stronger this year in the United States than ever before. So great has been the advancement of the game that the big manufacturing plants that turn out equipment for the sport are working day and night and still are away behind on their orders. No amateur game of recent years has taken hold of the American people like golf.

In this country the various clubs number among their members ex-presidents, senators, noted lawyers, physicians, lumber barons, captains of great commercial industries, philosophers and many great athletes. Ty Cobb, leading ball player of the world is a great golf enthusiast, as is Frank Chance, the Peerless Leader, who piloted the Chicago Cubs to several banners.

Aside from passing on the applications for membership the directors transacted no other business at this noon's session. The local club has a membership of about 300 which is small in comparison to the lists which other cities in the United States are showing.

"HOME RUN" BAKER.

The New York estimate of "Home Run" Baker is very different this season from what it was when the Giants and the Phillies were contending for the championship and Baker's habit of knocking the sphere over the fence cost New York the pennant. After a year of idleness, Baker is showing up well with the big stick since he joined the Yankees, and the latest averages give him an average of .385.

GAME REFUGE AND HATCHERY

Two Projects Meeting With Approval of Duluth Sportsmen.

Would Conserve Game and Fish in Northern Minnesota.

Members of the Duluth branch of the Minnesota Game Protective league are eager that every sportsman in this section of the state aid them in their efforts to make St. Louis and Lake counties the greatest game and fish district in the world.

Already a site for a hatchery has been secured on the Split Rock river. This contains 160 acres and the Duluth branch has taken an option on the property. If the experiment results as local anglers believe it will, a committee will go before the state legislature this coming winter and ask for 9,000,000 fry to be placed there in 1917.

"The crucial test will come late this fall," said James A. Lawrie, secretary-treasurer of the Duluth branch. "If the plant is able to withstand the ravages of the ice-forming season, then it will be a success and we will, I believe, have no further trouble in going ahead with our work as planned.

Game Refuge.

"We are also rooting for the establishment of a game refuge to be located in St. Louis and Lake counties, between the line of the Duluth & Iron Range and the Duluth & Northern Minnesota (Alger-Smith) railroads. This reserve will contain about thirty square miles and deer, moose and game birds will make their home there. Careful protection will be given to the refuge and heavy penalties will be handed out to any offenders who attempt to hunt there. This matter has already been taken up with the state game commission, which has full power to act in the matter.

"As the refuge becomes well stocked with game animals and birds, many of them are certain to move into new pastures, beyond the precincts of the preserve, and these will furnish plenty of good sport for the nimrods."

Mr. Lawrie is most enthusiastic over the success of both the hatchery and game refuge and has the strong support of many St. Louis county anglers and hunters. However, more help is needed and the Duluth branch would like to increase its membership and receive all the assistance possible in putting over the plans which will make the country and streams tributary to Duluth a veritable sportsmen's paradise.

TRACK MEET ACROSS BAY

High School Athletes of Minnesota and Wisconsin to Compete.

Coaches of Various Schools Meet and Draw Up Tentative Plans.

Superior, Duluth's nearest neighbor in the Badger state, will be the scene of one of the greatest track and field meets ever held in the North on the first Saturday in June. All of the high schools of Duluth, including Central, Denfeld and Cathedral will be represented, along with the Nelson-Dewey and Blaine of Superior, Technical high of Virginia, and the high schools of Hibbing, Chisholm, Buhl, Biwabik, Gilbert, Aurora, Grand Rapids, Cloquet, Carlton, Two Harbors, Tower, Ely and Mountain Iron.

A conference of the coaches of the Head-of-the-Lake will be held this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at the Y. M. C. A., in this city when tentative plans will be adopted and initiatory steps taken. There will be present at this meeting Coach C. S. Blake of Duluth Central; Dwight Helstand of Denfeld high, West Duluth, and Irvin C. Martin of the Superior Central high. The coaches will arrange the program of events which will include dashes, hurdles, pole vaulting, high and broad jumping, putting the shot, throwing the hammer and discus, hurling the javelin and distance running.

This meet will be, by far, the greatest ever held in the North.

WILL PLAY ON SATURDAY

Great Interest in Second Exhibition Game Between Leaguers.

Great interest is centering around the outcome of the baseball game at Athletic park to be staged next Saturday afternoon between the White Sox of this city and Brautigan's crew of Superior. The same teams will play an exhibition game at Superior next Sunday.

According to the managers both teams are now right down to playing form and regular lineups will be used. The Duluth team is now an established fact, at least as far as the opening of the season is concerned. What may happen after that remains to be seen. However, on form, O'Brien's men look like the goods.

Manager Brautigan of Superior has pruned his squad until he has reached the men he really thinks will show to advantage in the race which will open May 4. With the departure of Maloney and Ostrum, outfielders, and Heath, pitcher, who were released, the squad now consists of the following players:

Pitchers, Smith, Donaldson, Burden and Bailey; catchers, Erickson and Sampson; first base, Tiffany; second base, Tony Burgwald and Penfold; third base, Brautigan; shortstop, Ted Burgwald; left field, Swalm; center field, Schulz and McGraw; right field, Wilkinson.

O'Brien's men are still taking morning and afternoon workouts at Athletic park. Batting practice and base running are the features that receive most attention.

OARSMEN IN ANNUAL MEET

Duluth Boat Club Members Will Gather at Commercial Club.

Everything is set for the annual meeting of the Duluth Boat club which will be held this evening at the Commercial club. Officers for the coming year will be elected and much other business of importance will be transacted. It is urged that every member be present and take an active part in the meeting.

The business of the club this coming summer will be much greater than in any year since its organization. With the big National regatta to be held here next August, much real work will have to be done to make it the success which it merits. Julius Barnes, well known patron of local aquatic sports, will be present at this evening's gathering and will give the principal speech.

GRAIN STOCKS GOING FAST

Duluth Elevators Will Be Emptied in About Three Weeks.

Rush Expected in Durum and Bonded Wheat; Bulls Optimistic.

Grain stocks in Duluth elevators are being rapidly reduced, and the indications are that the great bulk of the large reserves that had accumulated at this point during the winter will have been shipped out during the next three weeks.

From a maximum for the year of 26,956,000 bu of all grains reported on April 11, the amount in the elevators was reduced up till yesterday to approximately 22,000,000 bu according to the official statement. That total included, however, more than 1,000,000 bu of wheat that had been loaded on steamers, but was not yet reported out of stocks.

It is intimated that an effort will be made to rush out the 4,000,000 bu bonded wheat and 6,000,000 bu durum remaining in store, but it is thought that the marketing of the 8,000,000 bu of domestic wheat on hand may be a draggy proposition. Eastern millers are reported to be fairly well supplied at present, as shown in the poor response to offers by operators sent out during the last few days. The lack of an export outlet such as existed a year ago when foreigners competed in bidding up for supplies, is being emphasized at this stage and in view of the large quantities of grain from the Canadian northwest still to be disposed of, it is thought likely to be a factor for some time to come.

Dealers Are Bullish.

From a statistical standpoint, a more bullish situation has, however, developed in the wheat market during the last few days. The general opinion among experts appears to be that owing to the backward spring season and the falling off in the area plowed last fall, the acreage sown to spring wheat this season is likely to show a falling off of 20 per cent. As the acreage under wheat in the winter wheat states shows a reduction of about the same extent many experts are veering around to the opinion that the market will sell several cents above its present levels in the long run. It is pointed out that owing to the scarcity of ocean steamers, American shippers have a considerable advantage over the Argentine and Australian markets on account of the great difference in the rates in favor of this continent and the shorter time required in handling shipments.

These views are reflected in the material advances that have come about in the grain markets of late. Cash wheat at $1.19¾ on the Duluth market yesterday was up 4c from a week ago and the May future scored an advance of 3c at $1.18¾. The comparative stability in the market of late is shown in the fact that the net change in the May future since April 1 has been only ¾c, it being up to that extent. A year ago May wheat was quoted at $1.59¾ and the daily fluctuations often covered a wide range.

Durum More Active.

A more active market has developed in durum during the last few days. That is attributed to prospects of better foreign inquiry and some quiet buying on that expectation. Dealers specializing in durum predict that the acreage sown to it in the Northwest this spring will be well maintained in spite of the decrease likely to be recorded in spring wheat. Farmers growing durum are said to have met with uniform success during the last three seasons, both in the way of yields and the ability to market their grain. It is believed that the quantity of durum raised last season greatly exceeded the government estimate of 40,000,000 bu. Cash durum at $1.14⅞ yesterday showed an advance of 4⅛c in the week. A year ago there was a scramble for durum and its quotation stood at $1.70, a premium of 11 cents over spring wheat.

Flaxseed Unsettled.

The flaxseed market has continued unsettled and in the main weak. At $2.08½ yesterday, cash and May flax prices registered a drop of 3½c in the week, and that figure was up 4c from the low in this moment, set two days previously. Operators in the flax market who have been hanging on courageously from considerably higher levels, are now in hopes that the bottom has at last been struck. Good bidding by crushers on the low spots has been noted, and it is intimated that sales of linseed oil are assuming larger proportions. Experts in the market are becoming more bullish for the reason that the area seeded to flax, both in the American Northwest and in Canada, is expected to be greatly decreased this season. Farmers in the Canadian west are in fact reported to be short of seed for seeding, so great was the falling off in production there last year, owing to the attention of the farming community being absorbed in raising foodstuffs.

No Child Is "Naturally Lazy"

YOUR little boy or girl isn't listless, apathetic, sleepy at the wrong time—naturally.

Something is wrong.

That something is usually constipation.

Constipation is one of the greatest dangers of childhood—not only in childhood but because it is an insidious habit that grows and becomes chronic as the years go on.

Do not use cathartics and strong purges for children, except on doctor's orders. They weaken the natural process of evacuation and are dangerously habit-forming.

Nujol, a pure white mineral oil, is the medically endorsed remedy for constipation. Nujol acts solely as a lubricant oiling the intestinal tract, softening the contents, and thus promoting easy normal evacuations. It is not absorbed by the system, and may be taken in any quantity without harm. Hence it is especially recommended for children.

Nujol is colorless, odorless and tasteless. Over 42,000 doctors already have asked us to send them samples of Nujol.

Write for booklet, "The Rational Treatment of Constipation." If your druggist hasn't it, we will send a pint bottle of Nujol prepaid to any point in the United States on receipt of 75c—money order or stamps.

UNABLE TO AGREE ON PHILIPPINE BILL

House Democrats Adjourn Caucus After Discussion of the Measure.

Washington, April 27.—House Democrats in caucus last night were unable to agree upon the Philippine independence bill, notwithstanding a letter from President Wilson unequivocally indorsing the measure as it passed the senate. After several hours' speechmaking the caucus adjourned until tonight on the suggestion of Speaker Clark, who advised his colleagues to take further time to think over the matter.

Such vigorous opposition to the bill developed in the caucus that even some of its supporters admitted afterwards that its fate was doubtful.

In his letter, handed to Representative Jones, chairman of the house insular affairs committee and read to caucus, the president said briefly that to clear up any doubt as to whether he favored the bill as it passed the senate with the Clark amendment for independence within four years, he wished to state that he unqualifiedly indorsed it and hoped they would pass without amendment and without a dissenting vote.

Representative Jones made a long speech and presented a resolution to bind the house Democrats to vote for the senate bill without amendment.

Representative Conry of New York submitted as a substitute a resolution declaring "that no action be taken on this or any other bill affecting the Philippine islands looking to the establishment of the independence of the same and the withdrawal of the authority of the United States therefrom until full, fair and complete opportunity be given for hearing to all parties interested in the islands and whose interests are to be affected by the proposed legislation."

These resolutions will be the basis of tonight's caucus.

Representative Garret of Tennessee moved to table the Conry resolution, but withdrew his motion when there were protests of "gag rule."

Representative Fitzgerald of New York and Representative Sherley of Kentucky opposed the bill; Representatives Ferries of Oklahoma, Adamson of Georgia, Brumbaugh of Ohio, Callaway of Texas and others joined Mr. Jones in supporting it.

MOTHER AND DAUGHTER ARE BURNED TO DEATH

Cheboygan, Mich., April 27.—Mrs. Abraham Asseline and her 8-year-old daughter were burned to death and a son 6 years old was fatally hurt in a fire which destroyed their home here yesterday.

Mrs. Asseline gave up her life in an heroic effort to save all of her six children. She had passed five of them out of a second-story window, but collapsed as she reached the opening with the last of the little ones.

An explosion of gasoline is believed to have caused the fire.

SAY MAINS CUT INDIAN

North Country Character Accused of Seriously Stabbing Redskin.

Accused Brought to Virginia and Victim May Die of Wounds.

Virginia, Minn., April 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—Harry Mains, a North country character with a record as a poacher, shacker and bootlegger, was brought into the city this morning and lodged in jail charged with assaulting Andrew Williams, an Indian of the Bois Fort band on the Nett Lake reservation. Mains was recently dismissed after serving a ninety-day sentence at the county work farm for bootlegging. He claims the Indian came to his shack and started the trouble.

Indian in Bad Shape.

Williams was cut and stabbed in several places and his condition is critical. The row started over liquor.

Indian Agent Daniels is expected in the city this afternoon to prosecute Mains, who was arrested at Namakin lake yesterday by Deputy Sheriffs Wring and O'Dea. He has a police record and has several times been involved in trouble in St. Louis county.

CHURCH DISCIPLINE IS BEING DISCUSSED

Norwegian-Danish Methodists Wrestle With Amusement Problem.

Virginia, Minn., April 27.—The question of amusements prohibited by the church, whether they should be specifically named or included in the discipline was discussed at the meeting this morning of the conference being held here of pastors and laymen of the Norwegian-Danish M. E. churches. This subject came before the body under the discussion of "What Stand Should We Take as Norwegian-Danish Methodists With Regard to Changing Paragraph 271 of Church Discipline?" The subject has caused no little argument in church circles and it proved a fruitful theme for debate today. This evening sermons will be delivered by Rev. Knuto Winberg and Rev. Hans Holme.

Discuss Pastor Russell.

The conference organized yesterday appointed committees and mapped out the work. During yesterday the subject discussed was "Pastor Russell's Teachings; in What Way Are They Unscriptural?" The discussion was led by a paper by Rev. Oakland of Landa, N. D., and different members spoke of their experience with followers of Pastor Russell, and the explanation given by these followers of his teachings.

Rev. Henry Danielson led the discussion yesterday afternoon of chapter vi, verse 14 and following, of Galatians. Last night Rev. H. A. Ofstie of Duluth preached and Rev. Bertinius Oakland led in the after meeting.

MAYOR POWER ASKS FOR BIG CLEANUP

Hibbing Executive Urges Hibbing People to Join in Work.

Hibbing, Minn., April 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—The week of May 7, has been officially named cleanup week by Mayor Power in a proclamation issued today.

All citizens are called upon to spend at least one hour on the days named to inspect their immediate premises. They are urged to clean up and remove all inflammable materials, wherever found. Inspection of the basements, attics, yards, alleys, area ways, under sidewalks, storerooms, closets and barns and sheds is urged.

"Make Minnesota fireproof," is the slogan to be used by Hibbing officials in urging a cleanup which will make the village spotless and clean from one end to the other, from basement to top floor, from village to suburb.

DIES IN ASYLUM.

Former Two Harbors Man Passes in Fergus Falls Institution.

Two Harbors, Minn., April 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—Word was received yesterday by Mrs. Charles Johnson of the death of her husband, Charles Johnson, in the hospital for the insane at Fergus Falls. The message, which came from Dr. R. M. Thorlow, staff physician, asked what disposition would be made of the body. Mrs. Johnson answered that she had no funds with which to bring the body here for burial and asked the authorities to bury it in Fergus Falls.

Charles Johnson was committed to the hospital Aug. 12 last. He is survived by a wife and one child.

VIRGINIA NOTES.

Virginia, Minn., April 27.—Mrs. C. E. Moore and daughter, Labelle, of Spruce street, left Tuesday for Duluth, where they will visit for a few days. They were accompanied to Duluth by Miss Francis Moore, who was returning to St. Paul, where she attends Visitation convent, after spending the Easter vacation at her home here.

Clayton Westover of Duluth, who has been employed at the Virginia & Rainy Lake mill for the past month, returned to his home Wednesday, having accepted a position there with the Duluth Street Railway company.

The Finnish Temperance society is making plans for a dance to be held at the hall, May 19.

Walter Hagle of Duluth spent Sunday here at the home of R. McGillivary of 606 Wyoming avenue.

To Keep Your Skin Free From Hairs

(Beauty Topics)

If you are willing to spend a few minutes time in your room using a delatone paste, you can easily banish any ugly, hairy growth without discomfort or injury. The paste is made by mixing some water with a little powdered delatone. This is then spread over the hairy surface and after about 2 minutes rubbed off and the skin washed. You will not be disappointed with this treatment, providing you get real delatone.—Advertisement.

THIRTY-FIVE ORE CREWS ON D. & I. R.

Ore Shipping Is Now at Full Blast From Two Harbors.

Two Harbors, Minn., April 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—The steamer Clarence A. Black, the first coal boat of the season, arrived here last night with 8,000 tons of coal and is now being unloaded at the local Iron Range coal dock. The unloading crew worked all last night in order to finish unloading the boat as soon as possible, as there is another cargo of coal here now and another boat is expected today or tomorrow.

Ore shipping on the Iron Range railroad is going full blast. There are thirty-five ore crews working steadily now and the ore boats are arriving and departing at regular intervals. The night and day gangs on the ore docks are nearly full crewed and as a consequence there are very few idle men in the city.

RANGE LIBRARIANS WILL MEET MAY 3

Story-Telling Program Is Arranged for Chisholm Gathering.

Chisholm, Minn., April 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—A program of story-telling and musical numbers, planned by the Clara Baldwin Range Library club, will be given at the public library on Wednesday evening, May 3.

The program will take the place of the regular monthly meeting of the club, scheduled to be held here on that date. Following are the numbers: (a) "Robin Adair," Scotch melody (arranged by Percy E. Fletcher); (b) "Rose of My Heart" (Herman Lohr), high school double mixed quartet; "Hark! Hark! the Lark" (Franz Schubert), high school boys' quartet; "Origin of Story-Telling," Celia Frost, Hibbing public library; stories: (a) little children's story, "Gingerbread Man;" (b) fairy story, "Snowdrop;" (c) modern story, "Mouffiou," Katherine Williams, Chisholm public library; "Oh, That We Two Were Maying" (Nevin), Miss Alberta Park and Joseph Gzelka; story-telling for mothers and teachers, illustrated by a story, "From Saddle to Rags," Ethel Wright, Virginia public library; story of "Lohengrin," illustrated by records on the victrola, Catherine Cunniff, Hibbing.

STATE PROPERTIES ARE NOW SHIPPING

It Is Said 24,000 Tons Went to Docks Last Week.

Hibbing, Minn., April 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—According to F. A. Wildes, state mine inspector, 24,000 tons of ore were shipped to Duluth last week from state mines, with every indication that it will be doubled this week. Missabe Mountain, Wanless and the Leonidas, all big state properties, began actual shipment.

It is estimated that before the middle of May, 75,000 tons of ore will be shipped from the state mines alone to Duluth and other shipping points.

Every indication promises this to be one of the biggest seasons in the history of this range. The great demand for ore because of the war has caused the manufacturers to double and treble their orders, and the range country will be taxed to its limit to meet the required demands.

BIG VIRGINIA PARADE.

Cleanup Week to Be Given Boost Next Monday Afternoon.

Virginia, Minn., April 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—The fire department with all the apparatus, two platoons of city police, 1,000 school children, the mayor, members of the city council and street department, will participate in the clean up parade Monday afternoon next. Many merchants are arranging floats for the occasion which will inaugurate clean up and paint up week.

PROPOSE ADDITION TO TECHNICAL HIGH

Virginia, Minn., April 27.—The board of education sprung a surprise on the public last night by directing Architect Nystrom of Duluth to alter the plans for the proposed high school by making the proposed structure an addition to the present Technical high school, a solution of the school problem that had not been proposed before.

Nystrom will have the plans ready within a few days, and will submit them to the board. An auditorium to seat 1,200, a gymnasium, swimming pool and industrial arts department will be included.

VIRGINIA-HIBBING NINES ARE PLAYING

Virginia, Minn., April 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Virginia and Hibbing baseball teams are playing in this city this afternoon. Virginia presents a new lineup, as Sunday's game was won by Hibbing. Green and Buster are the Ore Diggers' battery. A great crowd is attending.

Hibbing Club Dance.

Hibbing, Minn., April 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Jolly Twenty club will hold a dancing party at the Close hall on May 19. Dimarco's orchestra will play. The Jolly Twenty club is an organization made up of young women of the village who have given several successful parties in the past and their many friends expect to attend the one on the nineteenth.

Seeks Wireless Operators.

Hibbing, Minn., April 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—R. E. Bonney, recruiting officer for the navy, with headquarters at Virginia, is seeking the acquaintance of all amateur wireless operators who live on the range, for possible service in the navy, and would like to get in touch with all wireless men at once.

MARKET QUESTION CAUSES FRICTION

Chisholm Trustee and Village Grocer Clash at Council Meeting.

Chisholm, Minn., April 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—To raise the scale of wages of village laborers 25 cents per day to conform with the proposed 10 per cent increase in wages rumored to take effect in the mines May 1 was suggested by President Webber at the meeting of the council last night, but other members of the council were reluctant to make a motion to that effect and the question did not come to vote.

Trustee Mahne urged that the village prepare a site for a municipal market place to endeavor to drew the trade of the farmers to the village. C. M. Tramontin, local grocer, stated to the council that a market place would not be at all beneficial to the village but that a municipal auditorium was needed. Mr. Tramontin stated that many so called farmers residing near here were unable to sell their products at a local market for as low a figure as they could be shipped in from the commission houses and to erect a market place for the purpose of disposing of garden truck, which could be sold by grocery stores at a lower figure was ridiculous.

Eli Leskinen, a local real estate man, supported Trustee Mahne's suggestion claiming there were fifty farmers in Balkan township and an average of ninety farmers in each of the four townships surrounding the village who would be benefited by a market place and an effort should be made to draw that trade to the village. A heated retort followed from Trustee Mahne to the remarks of Mr. Tramontin and a debate between Leskinen and Tramontin was started that was continued until long after the council had adjourned without taking any action on the matter.

Sidewalks Petitioned For.

Petitions were received requesting sidewalks on the south side of Maple street, extension of the white way from Lake to Oak street on First avenue and for sidewalks, grading and paving on practically all the streets in the Park addition. The petitions were referred to the street committee.

The Dower Lumber company was awarded a contract to furnish 800 feet of 24-inch sewer pipe on their bid of $1.03½ per foot. Action on bids received for furnishing of road machinery and dump wagons was deferred until a future meeting.

Andrew Haglund appeared as a representative of the United Spanish War veterans and invited the council members to participate in the Memorial day exercises this year. The invitation was accepted.

President Webber suggested that the council reduce the working hours at the septic tank from 12 to 8 hours per day, that the purchase of a motor driven fire truck be given some consideration and that a municipal auditorium should be erected. Trustee Mahne questioned the advisability of the village making any considerable expenditure as streets were being paved and a great deal of expensive work now under way. "I am for anything the village needs if we can get it," retorted President Webber. No motion was made on the suggestions offered.

A letter from J. J. Stukel, village treasurer, requesting that the salary of the village treasurer be set at $1,500 for the ensuing year was received and placed on file.

BUHL TO PLANT TREES.

Cleanup and General Improvement of Village Is Order.

Buhl, Minn., April 27.—The village has started work improving the new park and about $2,000 will be expended in trees and shrubbery that will be planted this spring. A proclamation has been issued calling on all to clean up their premises and work generally is going on for a more beautiful Buhl. Frank J. Demel has been appointed street commissioner by the council, which decided to start having an once on Jones avenue from the town hall to the new school house and on Forest street from Culver avenue to Pennsylvania avenue.

The bandstand in the park will be moved nearer the center of the park and graveled walks will lead to it from all directions.

FOR GILBERT CHURCH.

Entertainment Will Be Given at the Lyceum Theater.

Gilbert, Minn., April 27.—The Lyceum theater is expected to be crowded tonight when a recital will be given for the benefit of the M. E. church, with many out-of-town artists participating, "An Economical Boomerang" being one of the features.

The program follows: Selection, Go-Fer orchestra; solo, Angela Schumacher; reading, Miss M. Savage of Biwabik; solo, L. Manguson of Eveleth;; reading, Miss Agnes Burns; piano solo, Mrs. W. J. Dowling; song by male quartet, Messrs. Newberry, Magnuson, Brown and Peterson; story, Tregoweth Brown; song and dance, Capt. W. M. Mahon of Eveleth; solo, Miss Celia Freeman; reading, Magdelene Feyereisen; trombone and cornet duet, Lindahl brothers; song, Elba male quartet; selection, Go-Fer orchestra; farce comedy, Mrs. Alexandra Dalberton, Lulu Fullers, Alexander Dalberton, R. E. Brown; Bird Pluver, Tregoweth Brown; Mrs. Bird Pluver, Mrs. Frank Hall; physician, Edward Carline; Maggie, Isabel Glubka.

DRINK SIX GLASSES OF WATER DAILY

An Interesting Statement by One of the Big Men In the Drug Business

A. E. KIESLING

of Houston, Texas, says:

"If you have a muddy complexion and dull eyes, you are constipated. Six glasses of water daily and one or two Rexall Orderlies at night will correct this condition and make you 'fit as a fiddle.' DEVELOP SUGAR FIELD.

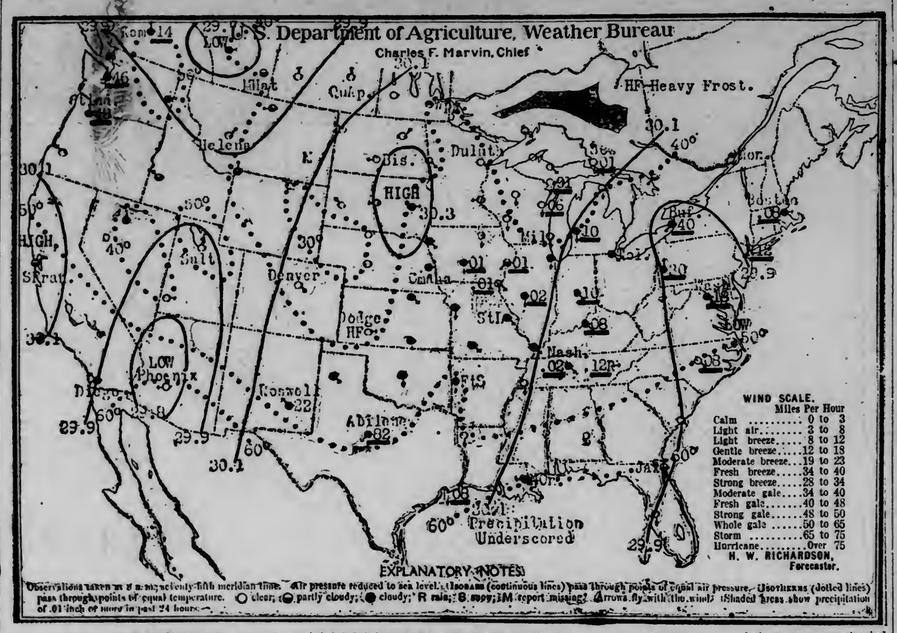
British Empire Will Foster Growth of Industry on Own Lands.



American and Cuban sugar interests are attracted by a meeting to be held in London to make arrangements for increasing the sugar production of the British empire. Delegates to the convention are now en route from all sugar producing countries among the British possessions. Previous to the war, Great Britain depended largely for its sugar supply upon the beet crop of Europe. Since the war it has been a large purchaser of Cuban sugar. Now it is planning to get along without sugar from either of these sources.

It is planned to foster and extend the sugar industry of the empire, and to aid it by bounties and preferential tariffs. It is estimated that the production of the empire can be increased from about 800,000 tons to about 4,500,000 tons. If such a plan can be successfully carried out, it will revolutionize the sugar business of the entire world. The countries which Great Britain expects to turn to for its sugar supplies are Barbadoes, British Guiana, Jamaica, Trinidad, the Windward and Leeward islands, Mauritius, Jiji, British East Africa, Queensland and Natal.

It is conceded that it will take years to make such a plan a success, however, and in the meantime gold is showering down on the sugar planters of Cuba, Hawaii and Porto Rico, and the yield of the Philippines is being rapidly increased.

American interests have been selling large quantities of sugar to England during the last few months, and that has contributed toward advancing quotations for the product to its present high level.

OFFICIAL MAP OF THE WEATHER

Observations taken at 8 a. m., seventy-fifth meridian time. Air pressure reduced to sea level. Isobars (continuous lines) pass through points of equal air pressure. Isotherms (dotted lines) pass through points of equal temperature. ○ clear; ◔ partly cloudy; ● cloudy; R rain; S snow; M report missing. Arrows fly with the wind. Shaded areas show precipitation of .01 inch or more in past 24 hours.

Following the cloudy start yesterday, the weather rapidly cleared to reform, and the result has been a fine stretch of sunshine and agreeable air as has been furnished this spring. A little more warmth would not hurt matters, but the atmospheric conditions are good enough to bring out the grass and buds well.

Rain fell a year ago today. The sun rose this morning at 4:59 and will set this evening at 7:12, giving fourteen hours and thirteen minutes of sunlight.

Mr. Richardson makes the following comment weather conditions:

"Freezing weather prevailed last night in Central and Northern Nebraska, Northern Wyoming, North Dakota, Western South Dakota and the northern portions of Minnesota, Wisconsin and Michigan. Heavy frost at Dodge, Kan. Temperature changes were generally unimportant. Light rain fell during Wednesday or last night over North Atlantic states, the Ohio and Middle Mississippi valleys, portions of the lake region and over North Pacific coast districts."

General Forecasts.

Chicago, April 27.—Forecasts for the twenty-four hours ending at 7 p. m. Friday:

Minnesota—Fair tonight and probably Friday; warmer in northwest portions tonight and in west and south portions Friday.

Wisconsin—Fair tonight and Friday; frost tonight; somewhat warmer Friday.

Iowa—Generally fair tonight and Friday; probably light frost tonight; rising temperature Friday.

North and South Dakota—Fair and warmer tonight; Friday increasing cloudiness, probably becoming unsettled by night; warmer in east portion.

HEAVY BUYING OF STEEL CONTINUES

Foreign Complications Fail to Check It; Top Prices Being Paid.

Heavy buying of steel continues notwithstanding threatening foreign complications. The tendency of prices is still upward, but recent advances have been more in the nature of leveling up.

Top prices are being paid for plates, tin plates, wire, bars and other classes of steel, and a boom in pig iron is foreshadowed. Since the $5 a ton advance announcement in steel rails, tin plate has been advanced $10 a ton, welded steel boiler tubes $8 a ton, and oil country goods $2 a ton. Plates are commanding large premiums for prompt delivery.

Though nothing further has developed in the way of repeat orders from the allies for munitions, the buying of semi-finished steel by England, Canada and France has increased. Orders aggregating $600,000,000 for shells and other war materials, are estimated to have been placed in Canada during the last few weeks, and it is thought that the trade in this country will benefit ...ough it in supplying raw material to the extent of fully $120,000,000.

Exports of iron and steel products from this country during February aggregated 398,000 gross tons, making it the best month on record apart from last August. The value of these exports was placed at $54,155,386, or more than $6,000,000 above the total of any preceding month. Manufacturers say the only limit to exports at present is the vessel room. The incoming business of the United States Steel corporation since the first of the month is said to have been well above 70,000 tons a day. It is expected that the corporation's April report of unfilled tonnage will show another large increase.

BLACKHEADS GO QUICK BY THIS SIMPLE METHOD

Blackheads—big ones or little ones—soft ones or hard ones—on any part of the body, go quick by a simple method that just dissolves them. To do this get about two ounces of powdered neroxin from your druggist—sprinkle a little on a hot, wet sponge—rub over the blackheads briskly for a few seconds—and wash off. You'll wonder where the blackheads have gone. The powdered neroxin and the hot water have just dissolved them. Pinching and squeezing blackheads only open the pores of the skin and leave them open and unsightly—and unless the blackheads are big and soft they will not come out, while the simple application of neroxin and water dissolves them right out, leaving the skin soft and the pores in their natural condition. You can get powdered neroxin at any drug store and if you are troubled with these unsightly blemishes you should certainly try this simple method.—Advertisement.

DRYGOODS LINES SHOW PROSPERITY

Sales Grow in Volume and Best Classes of Goods Are Demanded.

Drygoods dealers and jobbers are reported to be experiencing the greatest measure of prosperity in the history of the trade in this country.

Sales are in larger volume and prices are advancing to higher levels in nearly all classes of goods both in cottons and woolens. A feature commented upon in the trade is the exceptional demand for the best classes of goods, showing that consumers are now in a position to pay for the highest quality of wearing materials.

Some of the large cotton mill interests have again placed their goods at value. They are hard put to it to secure colors to meet the demand, and say there is no sign of relief in sight. They fear rather that the situation will become more difficult from day to day, and the probability of still further advances in consequence is pointed to.

Southern staple ginghams advanced during the past week to a basis of 7 cents a yard, the highest price on record. Some lines of flannels have also moved upwards.

Export demand is growing and buyers from the West Indies and other parts of the world seldom if ever seen before in American markets have been in New York of late placing orders.

ODD FELLOWS HAVE CARLTON MEETING

Anniversary of Founding of Order Observed, Cloquetites Attending.

Carlton, Minn., April 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—About 200 members of the local lodge of Odd Fellows, their friends and visitors, assembled at the Odd Fellows temple last night to observe the ninety-seventh anniversary of the founding of the order in America.

Representative Spencer J. Searls gave the principal address of the evening, speaking on the history of the order from the time it was first originated in England in the eighteenth century, and also followed it up until the founder of American Odd Fellowship, Thomas Wildey, organized Washington lodge, No. 1, at Baltimore, Md., on April 26, 1819.

Cloquet Men Speak.

E. S. Davis and Senator Fred Vibert of Cloquet were present and gave several interesting talks. Mr. Davis showing several stereopticon views of the state forestry tract, the mill district, the log jams, and several other pictures down the St. Louis river through Jay Cooke park, the Dalles of the St. Louis, the Thomson dam, the Great Northern Power company's plant, besides several other items of interest through to Duluth.

About twenty Odd Fellows from Cloquet motored over and attended the entertainment, among whom was F. V. Shampine, who came over to confer with Carlton Wall, who is also a member of the executive committee of the proposed Carlton County I. O. O. F. Picnic association. Messrs. Wall and Shampine will go to Barnum and Moose Lake some time next week to complete the organization.

CITIZENSHIP CLASS WILL BE ORGANIZED

Y. M. C. A. Will Co-operate With Federal and County Officials.

A. L. Turner, educational secretary of the Y. M. C. A., is arranging to co-operate with the Federal and county officials in giving instructions to immigrants who wish to become citizens of the United States. A class will be formed at the association, and it is expected that the work will be begun about May 19.

Mr. Turner declares that the subject of citizenship is one of great importance. Patriotism is essential to the welfare of the country, he says, and in order that new citizens may learn to love their country, instruction is necessary. The aim of the course will be to emphasize the things that an immigrant must know to pass his examinations and also to teach him the great benefits to be derived from American citizenship.

BIG TRADE IN STEEL RAILS

Rush Is Made to Place Orders Before Price Is Advanced.

British Order Prohibiting the Export of Iron Helps U. S.

Buying of steel rails is reported to have been very active during the last few days. The impetus was furnished in the anxiety of the railroads to get their orders placed before the advance of $5 a ton in quotations takes effect on May 1. The Northwest roads have decided to book large tonnages reports say, but no definite announcements have been made so far other than that the Great Northern has bought 30,000 tons. An order for 205,000 tons of rails placed by the Pennsylvania railroad is the largest on record, because it calls chiefly for 125-pound rails.

It is the opinion in steel trade circles that a halt has at last been called in the way of quotations advances. Outside of an advance of $8 a ton in steel boiler tubes there were no notable advances in prices during the last week. It is thought that the rising market in iron and steel products has gone far enough and the leading interests are reported to be discouraging further upturns, believing that they would operate against the stability of the industry through discouraging enterprise. Heavy bonuses are however being made for semi-finished by some manufacturers who are finding their supplies inadequate to cover contracts.

More War Orders Coming.

Small stock is being taken in reports to the effect that future orders from the allies for munitions will be limited on account of plants in England and France having been keyed up to a basis that will enable them to supply the needs of the armies at the front. It is reported on the other hand that British contracts already closed, including a large one placed late in March with the United States Steel corporation, call for all the shell and shrapnel steel this country can supply in 1917. Other contracts are under negotiation. The recent British order prohibiting further iron and steel exports leads American manufacturers to look for substantial increases in business from the neutral nations. Inquiries from South America for various steel products are said to have been bulking up to greater proportions of late, largely as a result of better banking accommodations being afforded through the establishing of branches down there by some of the New York banks.

GERMANS CLEAR BIG COPPER PROFIT

Immense Tonnage Is Resold at Gain of 10 Cents a Pound.

An interesting development in copper trade circles during the last few days was the reported sale by German interests of a large tonnage of the metal bought a year ago on a basis of 18 cents a pound, or 12 cents below the present quotation. It is estimated that after paying interest on loans and other charges, a clear profit of 10 cents a pound would be shown on the transaction.

It is thought that 200,000,000 pounds of copper was contracted for on German account a year ago. The trade was slow at the time and producers were eager to do business. Offers by German buyers to pay 5 cents a pound down and the balance when delivery was made, were, therefore, accepted in some quarters. Proposals of the same nature made later on were rejected when mining men found that with the growing activity of the market, they could readily dispose of their entire supplies for cash.

Commenting on the present position of the copper market, a Boston authority in the trade said yesterday:

"Recent developments in the copper situation reveal the eagerness of buyers to purchase the metal on the biggest scale ever known in the history of the industry. Despite the high market level now ruling it has not proved any barrier to the most vigorous demand on record.

"The remarkable expansion in demand indicates an absorption capacity greatly exceeding anything ever recorded before. Consumption of copper in 1915, and thus far in 1916, is the greatest ever reported. The tonnage of copper going into the melting pot is the true index of the urgency of requirements. If the present rate of domestic consumption is maintained until the end of the current year the aggregate quantity of copper consumed in the United States may reach the stupendous total of from 1,200,000,000 to 1,500,000,000 pounds."

BLIND MAN CAN SEE GOOD AS EVER

Grand Forks, N. D., April 27.—Kent Keith, member of the Grand Forks lodge of Elks and son-in-law of S. Panovitz of this city, stone blind for the past two years, has suddenly recovered his sight.

In a telegram received by S. Panovitz, he states that he "can see as good as ever now."

Bouquet for Owls.
When the Duluth lodge of the Order of Owls got through entertaining E. Talbot of South Bend, Ind., last evening at their clubrooms, the Hoosier visitor, who is national president of the order, told the local birds that their lodge is the best in the state. He said the Duluth lodge has the largest increase in membership, has made the greatest progress in every direction, and is the best situated financially. The Owls minstrels and E. J. Blanchard figured in the entertainment features. The arrangement committee was made up of John Murphy, E. J. Blanchard, William Neville and J. Feaks.

Will Lose Vote at Primaries.
Seventeen prospective citizens will be unable to vote at the June primaries because of the absence of Federal Judge Page Morris, who has charge of the hearings for applicants. The hearing for the seventeen was to have been held today, but was postponed until June 27.

Free Garden Seeds.
Miss Edna G. Meeker, secretary of the Associated Charities, has received several bushels of garden seeds through Congressman Miller at Washington for free distribution to needy persons in Duluth and vicinity. The seeds are represented to be of the best varieties and may be obtained by any persons who want them.

Will Sell Fond du Lac Jail.
The old jail at Fond du Lac will be sold to Thomas McGilvray, former city engineer, who lives in that end of the city. He submitted the only bid opened this morning, offering to pay $25 for the structure. The building has not been used for a number of years and the commissioners recently decided to sell the jail to the highest bidder.

Brings Suit Charging Slander.
When Emanuel Karkainen accused Karl Reinstron at Embarrass of stealing lumber from his neighbor at Embarrass and selling it, he was guilty of slander, according to Reinstron, who today filed suit to recover $3,000. The alleged conversation attributed to Karkainen was in the Finnish tongue.

Beaten; Sues Company.
Claiming that without just provocation he was assaulted and beaten by three employes of the firm of the Culbertson Bros. company, while standing in front of the company's store on Dec. 24 last, David Teslar today started suit in district court to recover $3,000 damages from the company. The men charged with having made the assault are Raymond A. Cosen, Herbert W. Elliott and Max Bamber.

Big Bank Clearings.
Clearings of Duluth banks registered a record aggregate for the week ended today. The total came to $5,081,849.82 showing an increase of $1,381,967.57 over the corresponding week last year. The betterment was attributed to activity in general business.

Young Old Timers to Organize.
A young old timers' club for the East end will be organized next Tuesday night at Gram's hall, Fifth avenue east and Fourth street. Max Makowsky, former alderman, will be present and give an address. Several hundred prospective members are in sight, it is said, and a campaign for members has been going on for several weeks.

SAYS WAR DESTROYS THE BETTER PHYSICAL TYPES

MAJ. LEONARD DARWIN.

Maj. Leonard Darwin, the son of the late Charles Darwin, believes that the war may affect permanently the stature of the English race, though it will be many years before the fact will be evident. In a recent address before the Statistical society in London he recalled the belief that the Napoleonic wars had reduced the stature of the French and asserted that "wars have unquestionably destroyed the better physical types."

MAY DEPRIVE DUKE OF HIS ENGLISH TITLES AND HONORS

DUKE OF CUMBERLAND.

There is much agitation in parliament of the question of depriving the duke of Cumberland of his English titles and honors. He is a cousin of King George through his ancestor, the first duke, who was fourth brother of the duke of Kent. He ranks in England as duke of Cumberland and Teviotdale and in Ireland as earl of Armagh. His father reigned over Hanover till it was incorporated in Prussia. What makes the duke all the more offensive at this time is the fact that his oldest son is married to the daughter of the kaiser.

BIG BULGE IN GREENE-CANANEA

Greene-Cananea was the feature in the mining stock list at Boston today. The directors doubled the quarterly dividend, declaring $2. The stock advanced $3 to $51.

The whole list was strong. American Zinc sold around the close $2.25 up at $91.50; Butte & Superior $1.75 up at $32.75; Calumet & Arizona $1 up at $73; Copper Range 25 cents up at $63.25; Isle Royale, 38 cents up at $29.38; North Butte 75 cents up at $27; Osceola $1 up at $93, and Quincy $1.25 up at $94.25.

SOME THINGS AMERICAN AND CANADIAN CITIES DO NOT KNOW

Few Have Counted Their Dark Rooms or Other Sources of Sickness and Waste.

(Exclusive Service The Survey Press Bureau.)

In these days of investigations and surveys it would seem that American and Canadian cities should be fairly well acquainted with themselves. A recent report, however, based on answers to questions received from sixty-five cities effectively dispel any such notion.

Not only the largest cities, but progressive cities of a size more manageable, and others not so large, in which a knowledge of facts would not seem difficult to get, contribute to this proof that our cities do not yet know themselves. And yet these sixty-five cities are probably the best informed in the two countries, for out of 128 invited only these gave any of the information sought.

Opening Up Dark Rooms.

After years of agitation by anti-tuberculosis societies, of preaching about light and fresh air, practically no city today knows how many dark, windowless rooms there are in its houses and only one or two cities are making any consistent effort to reduce the number.

New York is in a class by itself so far as record of accomplishment goes, for as recently ago it had 256,516 dark rooms. Last year it had only 6,222.

Recognizing that privy vaults are a source of such fly-borne diseases as typhoid, many cities have armed themselves to await the fly but few have taken any effective measures to abolish the place from which he draws his poison.

Several cities have become alarmed, however, and have made investigations, with such unexpected results as these: St. Louis finds that it has 20,000 vaults; Philadelphia, 39,078; Minneapolis, 17,000; Grand Rapids, 4,400; Columbus, 1,800; Detroit, 5,800; Cleveland, 2,880.

A city awakened to a peril nearly always sets to work to remove that peril. Toronto, which had 17,181 vaults in 1912, abolished 12,291 within two years. Philadelphia abolished an even greater number. St. Louis and Minneapolis, while agitated, have no records to show what they have accomplished. Grand Rapids removed about 1,000 last year; Cleveland, 494; Detroit, 213; Columbus, 642.

New York's figures refer only to tenement houses. Ten years ago it had 7,000 vaults; now it has only 194 in its four largest boroughs.

A Housing Awakening.

These figures are indicative of the ignorance of our cities on matters that effect them vitally. They do not know how many houses they contain which are unfit for human habitation, though they are beginning to enumerate those which constitute a fire hazard. They do not know how many inhabited cellar and underground living rooms they contain. They do not know whether their supply of housing is adequate. They do not know the number of their tenement houses, nor how fast this number is growing. Yet it is acknowledged that the tenement house is in itself a menace.

During the past five years there has been a housing awakening; of the sixty-five cities reporting to the National Housing association, twenty-five had secured legislation setting better standards before last year, and sixteen more then followed suit. In twenty-five there is more vigorous enforcement of law. Thirty-six cities reported that their health department had been strengthened. Only eight that it had been weakened.

AMBITION VS. HEALTH

By DR. SAMUEL G. DIXON, Commissioner of Health for Pennsylvania.

The accumulated knowledge of science regarding the workings of the human mind demonstrates how little has been accomplished toward discovering the relationship between the physical and the mental. It is, however, plain to even the most casual observer that the condition of the mind makes a profound impression upon our health.

The intensity of life in modern civilization makes demands upon us in many ways that are in excess of those which a more primitive environment required of our forefathers. This often results in a mental and nervous condition detrimental to good health.

We Americans have often been accused by observers from other lands of living under an intense strain and struggling to advance our financial and social status greatly at the expense of higher aims. It is unquestionably true that ambition often leads us far from the paths of peace and contentment. Our national ideals seem to lean strongly toward the achievement of pecuniary success. In seeking this thousands of men and women sacrifice themselves and fail to observe the simple rules of right living which their intelligence teaches are necessary for the maintenance of health.

Those who plunge unrestrainedly into the exhausting struggle for great riches and power cast aside what the philosophers of all ages have deemed most worth while, the peace of a humble mind open to impressions of the wonders and beauties of nature, art and the sweetness and purpose of a simple life.

LADY COLEBROOKE.

Lady Colebrooke, daughter of Lord Alfred Paget, has just come to America for a visit after an experience of six months working in a munitions factory in England. Lloyd George made an appeal to women of independent means to help in the factories and Lady Colebrooke was one of thirty who promptly applied for work and signed six months contracts.

COURT UPHOLDS CLAIM OF WIDOW

Seven Thousand Shares of Stock to Be Returned to Mrs. Peavey.

Minneapolis, Minn., April 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—Judge Jelley, in district court, today upheld the claim of Mrs. Katherine Jordan Peavey to 7,000 shares of stock in F. H. Peavey & Co., a grain elevator concern, transferred by the late George W. Peavey to her husband, to Frederick B. Wells and Frank T. Heffelfinger.

Under the terms of the transfer, made in September, 1907, Mr. Peavey turned over the stock, valued at $700,000, to Mr. Wells and Mr. Heffelfinger, his brothers-in-law, in return for their note for $700,000, which was to be paid from the dividend accruing on the stock.

Judge Jelley held that this note was not sufficient consideration, since under the terms of the transfer contract the note need not be paid at all unless the company should declare dividends on the stock. Such dividends, the court held, were really a part of the stock itself.

In his decision Judge Jelley ruled that Mr. Heffelfinger and Mr. Wells must transfer the stock to Mrs. Peavey upon her surrendering to them of the promissory note, which they executed to Mr. Peavey at the time of the original transfer.

BITUMINOUS MINERS WILL RETURN TO WORK

New York, April 27.—After a conference here today with officers of the Pittsburgh Coal company over differences with its 24,000 bituminous coal miners on strike to enforce a demand for a 5 per cent wage increase, President John P. White of the United Mine Workers, announced that he expected the trouble would be settled.

"I am very confident," he said, "that this matter will be adjusted satisfactorily."

The 24,000 bituminous coal miners on strike in district No. 5 in Pennsylvania will go back to work tomorrow morning under an agreement reached here today between John P. White for the coal miners and W. K. Fields for the Pittsburgh Coal company and other operators.

LOOK OUT FOR WET MEASURE.

The following is a little story written by James W. Helme, Michigan state dairy and food commissioner, for the Indiana Farmer:

"Oh, pa, what are those red things in the bushel basket?" the small boy asked of his father as they went along the street.

"Those, my boy, are cranberries which your mother always serves with the turkey on Christmas," the father said.

"And, O see, pa, there's a tin measure in the basket just like ma buys milk in. What's that for?"

"That," the father says, "is supposed to be a quart measure in which they measure the berries."

"But, pa, when ma sold some strawberries she measured them in a quart basket. Why doesn't the grocer?"

"Well, you see, my son, there are two kinds of quarts, a dry quart to sell dry things in, and a liquid quart to sell liquids in. The liquid quart holds ten cubic inches less than the dry quart, so the grocer buys his cranberries by the dry quart and sells them by the liquid quart."

"Why does the grocer do that, pa?"

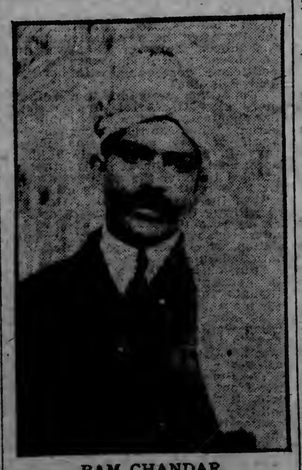
"So he can get 38 quarts out of each 32-quart bushel."

"But, pa, I should think people would insist on having a dry quart of cranberries instead of a wet one?"

"They would, my son, if they only knew the law."

"But, pa, ain't it dishonest to sell persons a short quart of cranberries?"

"Oh, no, my son, it is merely business efficiency."



"What's business efficiency?"

"Oh, that's the art of getting all there is out of business and then some."

"But, pa, ain't that wrong?"

"Now, never mind asking any more questions, my son; you won't understand business principles until you grow up."

EDITOR OF HINDUSTAN GADAR PUBLISHED IN SAN FRANCISCO

RAM CHANDAR.

Ram Chandar, the editor of the Hindustan Gadar, published in San Francisco, says that many misleading reports concerning conditions in India have been published. He says that India is in a state of virtual revolt against the British because of British misrule and the failure to educate the people and improve their condition. Now reports come from London which charge that the staff of the Gadar is responsible for many of the uprisings in India and this Mr. Ram Chandar thinks is done because England wants to bring the paper into conflict with the authorities of this country.

TO PROMOTE TRADE OF U. S.

New Marine Corporation Takes Over Vessels of "Shipping Trust."

Big Concern Now Controls Over 100 Ships of Various Lines.

New York, April 27.—Control of the International Mercantile Marine company, commonly known at the time of its formation by J. P. Morgan & Co., almost fifteen years ago, as the "shipping trust," and now in the hands of a receiver, has been acquired by the American International corporation, it was authoritatively learned yesterday.

The American International corporation, a $50,000,000 organization formed by the National City bank and allied interests a few months ago, has for its main object the promotion of American trade in foreign fields. The corporation already owns the Pacific Mail Steamship company by outright purchase from the Southern Pacific company early in the present year.

It is understood that the American International corporation obtained control of the International Mercantile Marine by purchase of preferred and common shares in the open market. While the holdings acquired do not constitute a majority interest, it is understood that they are sufficiently large to give the owners a dominant voice in its management, which, it is said, the Morgan interests are ready to relinquish.

Owns More Than 100 Vessels.

International Mercantile Marine owns upwards of 100 vessels, exclusive of the number in course of construction. These vessels, together with those already under its ownership, will make the American International corporation the most powerful factor among steamship companies in the world.

The ships of the International Mercantile Marine are operated by the White Star, Red Star, Dominion and Leyland lines, under the English flag and by the American and Atlantic Transport lines under the American flag. These lines are controlled by the company through stock ownership. In the absence of an official statement as to the manner in which American International corporation would exercise its control of the Mercantile Marine company, no information was available as to what, if any, change might be made in respect to the English lines. It was believed, however, that their actual ownership would continue to be vested in the hands of English security holders.

In Receiver's Hands.

International Mercantile Marine went into receivership about a year ago, after showing heavy liabilities to its bondholders as well as other creditors. Since that time the affairs of the company have been much in the courts, the bondholders and shareholders being apparently unable to reconcile their differences. These are about to be fought out before a Federal referee.

From its bankrupt condition in the early months of the war the company began to increase its business because of the scarcity of ships, and recent reports showed that its earnings in the past year have been more than sufficient to pay the bonded debt as well as a part of the back dividends on the preferred stock, amounting to over 80 per cent.

GOPHER FOREST PARKS BOOSTED

State Forestry Association Going to Advertise Their Beauties.

Minneapolis, Minn., April 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Minnesota State Forestry association, which opened its annual convention here today, expected to launch a campaign to make Minnesota forest parks the playgrounds of the country and prove that they are equal to any forest parks in the world.

D. Lange of St. Paul, president of the association, declared that information gathered during the past two years shows that tourists who journey to the woods of Maine, alone spend more than $1,000,000 for supplies there.

Minnesota Parks Best.

"The largest and most scenic forest parks of all are here in Minnesota and it is high time that the people of the country learn that fact," he said. "While hunting, fishing and resting, our guests can learn about forest conservation at the same time."

MLLE. ARTOIS, BELGIAN ACTRESS, RETURNS FROM EUROPE AND RESUMES LECTURES

Mlle. Phillipine Artois of the many curls and the delightful French accent and dainty little shrug of "ze shouldair," still is saving Belgium.

This time she is calling upon citizens of Dayton, Ohio, to do their share, so that the people of King Albert will be able to rise again, throw off the German yoke and resume their place among nations of the world.

Mlle. Artois visited Belgium last winter. She has 250 new photographs, taken with her own camera while she prowled among the Belgian cities and witnessed the devastating work of the kaiser's siege guns.

She does not like King Albert, ruler of the Belgians, any more than she did when she visited Duluth several months after the war started, and told the "inside" story of what was going on abroad, and just what the world politicians were doing with her "poor, dear Belgium."

"Count von Bernstorff is a delightful man," says Mlle. Artois, and she shrugs her shoulders—such a bewitching little shrug. When she told Count von Bernstorff of her mission—mademoiselle says—in person, she obtained his indorsement, and through this means was enabled to enter the country after five weeks of waiting on the frontier.

"For the Germans," Mlle. Artois says, "I will say that the treatment accorded on my recent trip could not have been finer. They gave me every accommodation, when once I was enabled to get into Belgium.

"But, oh my, what a time I did have in getting in. It was terrible! I thought it was 'back to Copenhagen' for me until I received the glad word."

At any rate, she did receive the "glad word." She visited Belgium and now is back in the United States, as bewitching as ever, and as appealing as ever.

The Germans liked her so well, judging from Mlle. Artois' account of her trip, that they provided her with a military escort, while she made little sorties into the Belgian counties, taking pictures when the fancy seized her.

"Men and women of my country are tired of living on rye bread when they are anxious and willing to work hard in order to make a better living," says Mlle. Artois. Nothing further has been heard of her plan of settling Belgian refugees on Northern Minnesota land.

A Danger to Health.

It is just as necessary to clear out the body as it is to clean house. Undigested waste matter remaining in the stomach and intestines is a danger to health, leading to auto-intoxication or self-poisoning of the system. Foley Cathartic Tablets thoroughly cleanse the bowels, remove the undigested waste matter, sweeten the stomach and enliven the liver. They act without griping or nausea. Stout persons praise Foley Cathartic Tablets because of the free, relaxed, buoyant feeling they give. Sold everywhere.

THREE SHIPS SUNK, IS GERMAN REPORT

Berlin Makes Official Statement of Cruiser Raid on English Coast.

Berlin, April 27, via London.—The German naval forces which bombarded Lowestoft Tuesday, sank the steamer King Stephen and captured her crew, it was officially announced. This is the same steamer that refused to rescue the crew of the Zeppelin L-17 which dropped into the North sea.

It also was announced that a destroyer and another scout boat aside from the King Stephen were sunk and that on one of the cruisers attacked a bad fire was observed.

The official statement on the raid is as follows:

"At daybreak parts of our high sea forces bombarded with good success the fortifications and important military buildings at Great Yarmouth and Lowestoft and afterwards opened fire on a group of enemy airmen, small cruisers and destroyers.

"On one cruiser a big fire was observed. One destroyer and two enemy scout boats were sunk, one of the latter being the English fishing steamer King Stephen which formerly refused to save the crew of the German airship L-19 when in distress."

Crew Taken Prisoners.

The crew of the fishing steamer was taken prisoners. The remaining enemy naval forces withdrew. On our side there were no losses and all the ships returned undamaged.

"Simultaneously with the attack of our naval forces a naval air squadron attacked, on the night of April 24-25 the eastern counties of England. Bombs were thrown with good effect on industrial buildings at Cambridge and Norwich railway buildings near Lincoln, batteries near Winterton, Ipswich, Norwich and Harwich as well as enemy reconnoitering ships on the English coast. Despite a violent bombardment all the airships landed untouched is home harbors.

"Areoplanes of our naval air detachment early on Tuesday morning pelted effectively with bombs harbor works, fortifications and the aerodrome at Dunkirk. All returned undamaged.

"The previously reported outpost encounters off the Flanders coast on Monday were continued on Tuesday. A British destroyer was badly damaged by our naval forces and an auxiliary steamer sunk and the crew captured and taken to Zeebrugge. Our forces also returned from these enterprises undamaged. The enemy withdrew again from the region of the Flanders coast."

STUDENTS READY FOR CLASS PLAY

"The Cricket on the Hearth" Will Be Presented at Central.

All is in readiness for the drawing of the curtain tomorrow night at Central high school when the selected cast of senior actors of the local institution will present their annual class play, "The Cricket on the Hearth," dramatized from Charles Dickens' novel of the same name.

The young Thespians have been rehearsing diligently for the last month. During all of the vacation week they worked every afternoon, and this week has seen them putting on the final touches in rehearsals every afternoon and evening.

Lee C. Rasey, in charge of the play this year, is one of the best dramatic coaches that Central has ever had. He declares that the 1916 production will even outstrip last year's play, and that it will be the most successful affair of its kind ever attempted at Central.

The proceeds of the play go to defray the expenses of the publication of the Zenith, the high school annual.

The high school orchestra and the Boys' Glee club will furnish the music. The "Cricket Song," a melody which runs through the entire play, will be taken care of by violins.

The members of the cast are as follows: Willard Thorp, John Perrybingle; Allace Cowan, Dot; Irving Auld, Caleb Plummer; Betty Kyle, Bertha; Philip Bergquist, Mr. Tackleton; Dora Mitchell, Mrs. Fielding; Pearl Deatherage, May Fielding; Katherine Birch, Tilly Slowboy; Donald Alexander, the old gentleman; Daisy Macaskill, the cricket. Norman Tufty is business manager of the play, and Harry Haines has charge of the stage work.

INTEREST IN BIRD HOUSE COMPETITION

Virginia Merchants Donate Prizes to Be Awarded in Competition.

John G. Ross, agent for the Duluth Humane society, returned yesterday from Virginia, where he has been looking after the birdhouse competition which will be held in the range towns under the auspices of the society. Mr. Ross declares that a good deal of interest has been aroused in the contest and that he had no trouble in soliciting about thirty prizes from the Virginia merchants and business men for the winning contestants.

The contest will be held in three or four of the range towns and it is expected that at least 200 birdhouses will be submitted by the school children, they being the only persons eligible to enter.

BRING TOGETHER CHRISTIAN MEN

World's Laymen's Missionary Movement at War's Close Planned.

Washington, April 27.—To bring together again the now widely separated Christian men of the warring nations of the world will be one of the tasks which the leaders of the Laymen's Missionary Movement will undertake at the close of the war, according to one feature of the program announced at the opening session of the National Missionary congress.

This announcement was made at the close of a report presented by the general secretary, William B. Millar, on the progress made by the Laymen's Missionary Movement since its organization on Nov. 15, 1906—a period of practically ten years. A large number of suggestions were made for the extension of the laymen's work, but the one of greatest scope was outlined as follows:

"To organize at the close of the war a World's Laymen Missionary Movement, a federation of the national movements of Christiandom and also of mission lands, and to assist in this arrange for the visitation of these countries by commissions of strong laymen and ministers to confer with the Christian leaders of these nations. The war has widely separated the Christian men of the nations—an unselfish service of this kind would bring them together again with the one supreme purpose of making Christ known throughout the world."

In accomplishing the tasks which the founders of the Laymen's Missionary Movement set for itself a decade ago remarkable progress has been made. These tasks were, chiefly, to supply the lack of the masculine element in church activity and to correct the unbusinesslike methods of church and missionary finance which has for years retarded progress. In the latter connection, the figures show that the foreign missionary gifts of Canada and the United States for the year preceding last January were $18,793,990 as compared with $8,120,725 for the year 1905, the year before the laymen's movement came into being—an average increase of $1,000,000 a year for foreign missions alone, and a gain for the decade greater than that for the previous nine decades combined.

Respondents.

NOTICE.

To the above named Respondents:

You, and each of you, are hereby notified that the petitioner above named, DULUTH, MISSABE & NORTHERN RAILWAY COMPANY, is a railroad corporation duly incorporated under the Laws of the State of Minnesota, and entitled to construct, maintain and operate its railroad in said State, and to enjoy the benefits of the Statutes of said State for the acquisition of lands required for its corporate purposes.

That it has constructed, maintained and operated, and is now maintaining and operating, its railroad, among other places, in the County of St. Louis and State of Minnesota.

That said petitioner has filed in the office of the Clerk of the above entitled court its petition, setting forth that it is necessary, for the use, operation and enjoyment of its said railroad, to acquire, by condemnation, and to appropriate, take and use, for necessary roadways, spur and side tracks, rights-of-way, depot grounds, yards, grounds for gravel pits, machine shops, warehouses, elevators, depots, station houses, and all other structures necessary or convenient for the use, operation and enjoyment of its railroad, all those tracts or parcels of land hereinafter particularly described, and describing such lands, property, estate and easements, which it will be necessary for it to acquire, by condemnation, to appropriate, take and use, for the operation and enjoyment of its railroad; and setting forth also the names of all those appearing of record or known to said petitioner to be the owners of or having or claiming an interest as owners, proprietors, tenants, encumbrancers, occupants or otherwise in such pieces or parcels of land; and praying for the appointment of three competent and disinterested persons to ascertain and determine the compensation to be made to such owner or owners, proprietors, tenants, encumbrancers, and others respectively interested, for the taking of or injuriously affecting such lands or real estate, property and easements.

You, and each of you, are further notified that said petitioner, DULUTH, MISSABE & NORTHERN RAILWAY COMPANY, will, at a Special Term of the above entitled court, to be held on the 13th day of May, 1916, at 9:30 o'clock in the forenoon of said day, in the Court House, in the City of Duluth, in said County of St. Louis and State of Minnesota, present said petition to the above entitled District Court, and will apply to said court for the appointment of three competent and disinterested persons as commissioners to determine the compensation to be made to the owner or owners, proprietors, tenants, encumbrancers, and others respectively interested, for the taking of or injuriously affecting said lands, real estate, property and easements.

The object of said petition is to acquire, by condemnation, and to appropriate, take and use, for necessary roadways, spur and side tracks, rights-of-way, depot grounds, yards, grounds for gravel pits, machine shops, warehouses, elevators, depots, station houses, and all other structures necessary or convenient for the use, operation and enjoyment of its railroad, all those tracts or parcels of land in said petition and hereinafter particularly described.

That immediately following the description of each respective tract hereinafter described, said petitioner has appended the names of all persons who have or claim an interest in said tract as owners, proprietors, tenants, encumbrancers, occupants, or otherwise, so far as the same appear of record in the office of the Register of Deeds of said St. Louis County, or are known to said petitioner.

You, and each of you, are further notified that at the time and place of hearing of said petition, you can appear and be heard before said court in relation thereto, and show cause, if any exists, why the prayer of said petitioner should not be granted.

The lands and real estate so sought to be taken and appropriated by said petitioner are situate in Township forty-nine, North of Range fifteen West, according to the United States Government Survey thereof, in the County of St. Louis and State of Minnesota, and are described as follows, to-wit:

DEFECTIVE PAGE

WHEAT AGAIN TURNS WEAK

Market Breaks on Good Seeding Reports From Over Northwest.

Flaxseed Slumps on Renewed Selling Pressure; Crushers Hold Back.

Duluth Board of Trade, April 27.—The market was weak around the close on renewed selling pressure.

May wheat closed ⅞@1c off; July 1c off, and September ½c off.

May durum closed ⅛c up and July ⅜c up.

Oats closed ¼c off at 42c for on the track; rye unchanged at 91@92c, and barley unchanged at from 65@73c.

At Winnipeg, May oats closed ¼@⅜c off at 45c and July ¼c off at 44⅞c.

At St. Louis, May wheat closed at $1.09¾ asked and July at $1.10⅞.

At Kansas City, May wheat closed at $1.05@1.05⅛ and July at $1.06¾ bid.

Puts on Minneapolis May wheat closed at $1.17 asked and calls at $1.19⅛.

Bulls were not given much encouragement in today's wheat market. The tendency was easier from the start on advices of good weather over the Northwest and satisfactory progress in seeding. Experts contend that if conditions remain favorable for a time now, considerable lost ground would be made up, in view of the abundant moisture in the soil. It is considered that wheat put in on the stubble would get a splendid start on that account, and that under normal conditions later a full normal yield might be obtained.

While prices at Liverpool were unchanged today, a more bearish feeling was noted there. That was inspired by liberal stocks being carried there and competitive selling by America, Canada, Argentina and Australia. Freight rates were also lower, and at the same time there was a slackening off in the demand from European countries.

Durum was the feature in the local market. The course of its market was contrary to spring wheat on reported buying by the Greek government. Advices from the seaboard were to the effect that 1,000,000 bu of durum had been sold to that country for immediate shipment. Clearances of wheat and flour were around the million-bu mark again today, and a better outmovement is forecasted with more vessel tonnage being placed at the disposal of the grain trade.

With farmers engaged in spring work, the marketing of wheat has dropped off to small proportions. Only 7 cars of wheat were inspected at Duluth today. Minneapolis had 167 cars against 232 a year ago. The movement of wheat in the Canadian West is, however, being pushed, Winnipeg reporting 423 cars today against 312 last year. Receipts of bonded wheat at this point are now at a minimum, there being just 9 cars of it on the tracks here today.

May wheat opened unchanged at ¼c off at $1.18⅝. It eased off ⅞c and stood at $1.18⅛ at the noon hour. July opened ¼c off at $1.19⅛, broke ⅛c and later firmed up fractionally.

Durum was strong throughout. May future opened ¼c off at $1.13¾, and moved up ⅝c above yesterday's close at $1.14½. July opened unchanged at $1.15 and gained ⅜c.

Slump in Flaxseed.

After a strong opening and advancing 1½c the flax turned weak on the appearance of profit taking sales. Crushers stood back and quotations sagged to well below yesterday's close. Business was in small lots and did not reach a large aggregate.

May flax opened unchanged at $2.08½, advanced to $2.10 and closed 2¼c off at $2.06¼ bid. July opened unchanged at $2.10, gained 1½c and closed 2½c off at $2.07½. September opened 1½c up at $1.93½ and closed 1½c off at $1.90½.

At Winnipeg, May flax closed 2⅜c off at $1.83 asked and July 1⅝ off at $1.87 asked.

At Buenos Aires, flax closed ½c up at $1.31⅛, and London 3½c off at $2.57½.

MARKET GOSSIP.

The latest wheat threshing on record is reported from the Canadian Northwest. A Winnipeg wire received by a Duluth board of trade house today said: "Just got a letter from Glenewan, Sask., which said: 'Threshing just commenced here. One man has started to thresh 1,000 acres. Yield and quality are both good.' How is this for early threshing."

Russell's News, New York, said: "Rumors have been persistent all the morning that the Greek government had bought or would buy 1,000,000 bu of durum wheat. Some were confident that the transaction had been completed. There were also some rumors of business in corn for the Dutch government. Sales of 100,000 bu of corn are actually reported for export."

Charles E. Lewis was a visitor on the Duluth board of trade from Minneapolis today. He expressed himself as mixed on the market situation. "Considering that the war is on, present wheat prices do not look high to me. I understand that farmers are making progress with seeding in the West. Though the season is backward they have plenty of time yet to get the grain into the ground so that it seems it is premature to feel too pessimistic on that score just now," he said.

The steamers Rochester and Milwaukee are loading out bonded wheat at the Globe elevator today.

Broomhall's International Review says: "War conditions and large continental requirements are exerting a bullish influence for the moment, but it is reckoned that any advance is not likely to go far owing to the fact of present competition with Canada, Argentina and Australia, also prospective competition with India, which country has possibly 20,000,000 bu for export, is a constant checking influence toward bullishness worth noting. This competition will probably continue until the completion of the 1916 harvest."

Foreign crop summary:

France—Official report corrects condition of 87 per cent for wheat given on April 24, to 69 per cent.

Italy—Conditions are favorable on a reduced acreage.

India—Estimated yield wheat in the United Provinces 96,000,000 bu against 112,000,000 bu last year.

Australia — Beneficial rains have fallen in Queensland and central districts. General dryness prevails and fears are entertained regarding the acreage.

Russia—Weather is now springlike.

Argentina—Weather is favorable.

Broomhall cabled from Liverpool: "Wheat was dull but steadier on firm American cables and lighter shipments expected from Argentina. Spot wheat was quiet unchanged. Cargo market was steadier, Manitobas and winters 3d dearer but with lack of demand. Freights are easier and arrivals continue liberal and these offset severe American damage claims as cabled here. Continental demand is apathetic."

* * *

Regarding linseed, Broomhall cabled: "In Argentina rains are favorable for planting and seed preparations. Shipments are estimated at 750,000 bu. Freights are strong and scarce. London opened easier with freer Indian offers, where arrivals at ports are increasing and weather is favorable."

Weather forecast:

Illinois, Wisconsin, Minnesota and Iowa—Generally fair tonight and Friday; warmer Friday.

Missouri—Partly cloudy tonight and Friday; warmer.

Dakotas and Nebraska—Fair; warmer tonight; Friday unsettled by night; warmer.

Kansas—Unsettled tonight and Friday; warmer.

Argentine estimates: Wheat, 2,400,000 bu; corn, 850,000 bu.

C. E. Lewis & Co. had the following from Grand Forks: "Weather is very favorable this morning and if it continues seeding will be in full swing from now on. I talked with several parties in this vicinity this morning and they all claim farmers are hard at work. Light west winds prevail with a high barometer. It is clear and warm."

* * *

A New York wire said: "There was evidence of a little export demand for wheat early, but cables were said to be out of line. It was rumored that Greek interests were in the market for about a million bushels of wheat, which, it was said, would be closed today."

*—Inches and hundredths. †—Highest yesterday, lowest last night. ‡—Not included in the averages.

NOTE—The average highest and lowest temperatures are made up at each center from the actual number of reports received, and the average precipitation from the number of stations reporting 0.10 or more.

General summary, received from Chicago: Rainfall mainly confined to sections east of the Mississippi except a few light showers in Missouri; moderate to heavy in Ohio and portions of Indiana, and moderate in Kentucky. Temperature changes not important.

H. W. RICHARDSON, Local Forecaster.

CHICAGO MARKET.

Chicago, April 27.—Wheat prices developed fresh strength today, influenced somewhat by a renewal of optimism as to the outcome of the crisis between Washington and Berlin. The market was also bullishly affected by the outlook for a diminished yield in both the spring and the winter domestic crops. On the other hand the prospect of sharp competition from Canada, Argentina, Australia and India was said to be operating as a check on all advances. The opening, which ranged from a shade to ⅝c higher, with May at $1.14½@1.14¾ and July at $1.15⅛@1.15½, was followed by a moderate setback, but then another bulge.

Forecasts of good weather Northwest led afterwards to declines. The close was unsettled, ½@⅝c net lower, with May at $1.13½ and July at $1.14½@1.14⅝.

Corn hardened with wheat. Bears, however, made much of reports that the country was selling more freely than has recently been the case. After opening a shade off to ¼@⅜c higher, prices reacted a little, though only in a transient fashion.

Shipping demand from the East was only partly effective afterward in offsetting the influence of late weakness in wheat. The close was heavy at ¼@½c net decline.

Oats lacked support. Liquidating sales by holders of the May option continued.

Speculative buying of lard put firmness into the whole provision list. Offerings of lard appeared to have dried up.

Wheat—No. 2 red, $1.20¾; No. 3 red, $1.15@1.16⅝; No. 2 hard, $1.15@1.15¾; No. 3 hard, $1.11@1.13.

GOOD GAINS BY STOCKS

Rails Assume Commanding Position and Advances Are Scored.

Standard Shares Reach Highest Levels in Afternoon—Close Strong.

New York, April 27.—Material recoveries from yesterday's final prices were registered at today's opening, although gains were again offset by moderate losses. The familiar specialties, particularly American and Baldwin Locomotive, Crucible Steel, Studebaker and United States Industrial Alcohol, advanced 1 to 1½ points, and United States Steel, which was under restraint in the previous session, also showed marked improvement. There was a broader demand for high class rails, the Pacifics, Reading, Erie and Chesapeake & Ohio rising 1 to almost 2 points, with further activity in Norfolk & Western. Mercantile Marine preferred was firm but the common receded a point. Bethlehem Steel fell 4 to 435.

Rails assumed a commanding position shortly after the stock market opened today, that group probably deriving its stimulus from Norfolk and Western's increased dividend and the more favorable labor outlook. Coalers, particularly Erie, Reading and some minor issues, increased their advantage and New Haven gained 2 points of its recent decline. Munitions and Equipments made further upward progress, despite considerable realizing and opposition from the short interest. A few inactive high-priced specialties, including the Sugars and Sears-Roebuck, were 5 to 14 points higher. Trading broadened on the greater activity. Bonds were steady.

Standard stocks rose to higher levels in the afternoon, Union Pacific leading the advance with a gain of 3⅜ to 134. This advance was coincident with the publication of the company's March earnings, showing a net increase of over $1,600,000.

Reading at an extreme advance of 4½ points featured the final hour's active movement. The closing was strong.

PREJUDICE
Did you ever analyze the above word in Webster's? Many of you who are overlooking the opportunity offered by investment in the shares of Calumet & Montana Cons. around 65 to 70 cents are prejudiced and will not investigate. With all the vicissitudes of Calumet & Montana Cons. it must be borne in mind the company now controls a rich property in the heart of the Cobalt camp, surrounded by producing and dividend-paying mines and that they now have the ore and should soon be in a position to make good, which means higher prices for the shares which are now listed on the Boston curb.

NEW ANGLE IN VOTE MUDDLE

"Tampering" With Seal on Ballot Box Holds Court's Attention.

V. J. Benoe Declares He Won Town Clerk Election Over J. C. Eastman.

Whether someone tampered with the seal on the tin box containing the ballots cast at the recent Stuntz township election between the time the election judges finished their count and when it was turned over to inspectors for a recount, or the election officials were careless in putting on the seal is a question which has been raised in the Benoe-Eastman contest for the office of clerk of the township. It furnishes a new angle to the fight, which is now on in district court before Judge Fesler.

The contest is one in which Victor J. Benoe, defeated for re-election as town clerk by John C. Eastman, is claiming that he is entitled to a certificate of election instead of Mr. Eastman, who was declared elected by the canvassing board. The case came on for a hearing this morning before Judge Fesler, M. H. McMahon appearing as attorney for Mr. Benoe and I. K. Lewis of Abbott, McPherran, Lewis & Gilbert representing the contestee.

T. S. Silliman, chairman of the recount inspectors, testified this morning that when the ballot box was turned over to the inspectors, it was found that the box had not been sealed in the way required by law. One corner of the paper over the aperture through which the ballots had been dropped was loose and Mr. Silliman testified that he was able to stick his hand eleven inches into the slot. He then demonstrated how he did it.

Seals Loosened Again.

It appeared, however, that when the inspectors had finished their recount, they also sealed the box, and that between the time the box was turned over to the clerk of the court in Hibbing and it was produced in court this morning, the several attachments of their seals had become loosened. The testimony was that it had been shipped from Hibbing to Duluth, via American Express.

Mr. Silliman offered an explanation for the loosening of the seals which had been placed on by the inspectors. He stated that when the inspectors sealed the box with sealing wax they used a candle. The grease drippings from the candle covered the surface of the tin before the wax with the result that the wax lost its adhesiveness.

It is also considered likely that the same explanations may be taken for the conditions the seals were found in when the recount was made by the inspectors. On this point the testimony of Mr. Silliman was that the box showed that candle grease spots scattered all over its surface at the time the box was first turned over to the inspectors.

Most of the morning session of court today was occupied with testimony relating to the condition of the seals on the box. Attorney McMahon, for Mr. Benoe, however, introduced several of the sixty-six disputed ballots, which were returned by the inspectors. It is expected that other disputed ballots will be introduced by opposing counsel.

Leaving out of consideration the sixty-six disputed ballots, the recount gave Mr. Eastman an undisputed majority of fifteen votes.

TO CONSIDER AMENDMENTS

Charter Commission Will Pass Upon Four Propositions Soon.

Plan Is to Get Measures Before Voters on June 19.

Final action on four charter amendments will be taken by the charter commission at a meeting to be held within the next few days, according to an announcement made this morning by T. T. Hudson, chairman of the commission.

The four amendments, recently approved by the special amendment committee of the commission, follow: Increasing the non-advertised purchase limit from $100 to $500; establishing the non-partisan primary system in place of the preferential ballot declared illegal by the supreme court; assessing for arterial highways and reducing the interest on extended assessments from 7 to 6 per cent and extending the time limit for payment from three to five years.

By taking action on the four amendments at this time, the charter commission will present them to the council so that the measures can be submitted to the voters of the city on June 19, when the special election will be held on the initiative ordinances abolishing all the saloons and establishing a double-platoon system for the firemen. The call for the election will be issued formally on Monday afternoon, May 8, it was announced yesterday by Mayor Prince.

This morning City Clerk Borgen began preparing the ballot for the election, it having been decided to include all the questions on one ballot. Voters will vote "yes" or "no" on the two ordinances and the four amendments to be submitted. The initiative ordinances to be voted on will read as follows on the ballot:

"In favor of an ordinance entitled 'An ordinance prohibiting the purchase, sale and disposal of intoxicating liquors within the limits of the city of Duluth.'"

"In favor of an ordinance entitled 'An ordinance to limit the hours of service in stations of employes of the fire department of the city of Duluth.'"

CANDY STOCK IS DAMAGED

Smoke Causes Heavy Loss at Duluth Company's Factory.

Fire of unknown origin which started in the stock room of the Duluth Candy company's factory at 20 East First street about 6:40 a. m. today caused damage estimated at $15,000, almost wholly from smoke.

Although the fire damage was slight, the flames being extinguished within a short time after apparatus arrived on the scene, damage to the candy stock by smoke and water was considerable.

"Sugar and candy of all kinds are very susceptible to smoke," said Assistant Chief C. W. Wilson, "and it is estimated that the damage on the stock will run from 60 to 75 per cent."

The stock was valued at about $20,000, according to estimates, and was insured for $14,000. The damage to the building was not more than $500, according to Chief Wilson.

The flames were first noticed in the center of the stock room. They penetrated to the second floor, and by the way of the elevator shaft spread to the third floor. Firemen made short work of it, however.

At the Board of Trade Livery stables, next door, preparations were made to abandon the building on short notice, to prevent any danger to the stock kept in the barn, in case the fire spread.

LOSES $150 CASH IN BORDER CITY BLAZE

International Falls, Minn., April 27.—Fire Tuesday night destroyed a two-story dwelling on the corner of Sixth avenue and Ninth street, used as a boarding house, driving the inmates out in their night clothes. The building was wrapped in flames before the alarm was sounded and the department could not save it.

One man had his face and hands burned so severely that he had to be taken to a hospital; another suffered the loss of $150 in currency. The roof of the building was damaged by fire a year ago last winter.

President Indorsed.

Providence, R. I., April 27.—President Wilson's administration, especially in the matter of foreign relations, was indorsed yesterday by the Democratic state convention, which elected delegates to the national convention. The ten delegates chosen are all favorable to the renomination of the president.

Fire Bug in Prison.

Stillwater, Minn., April 27.—Thomas Jordan, the Iowan who was recently convicted at Redwood Falls of arson, has arrived here to begin the service of his term in prison, which is ten years to a lifetime.

Planes Over Constantinople.

Paris, April 27.—A Havas dispatch from Athens says it is reliably stated there that two Russian hydroaeroplanes operated over Constantinople on Monday night.

FARM AND MINERAL LANDS

IRON MINING LANDS.

I have some very attractive mining leases on the Cuyuna and Vermilion iron ranges, lying in the proven belt.

I also have a large list of mineral lands that can be bought on very reasonable terms.

I have some fine lands in 136-25 and 26, that can be had cheap, right in the iron belt. Drills now working.

I handle Iron Mountain Mining Co. and Great Northern Iron Mining Co.'s stocks. I am in touch with all the stockholders of the above companies, and solicit your business.

—TO TRADE—
Have small house and lot, very desirable, in Virginia, Minn. Will give good trade for Iron Mountain stock.

—TALK TO GILIUSON—

About the quality of the Raudenbush & Sons and Knabe pianos. Learn why these wonderful pianos have captivated musical people everywhere.

We know of competitors who say untruthful things about us, because, quality considered, they cannot meet our prices, which are factory net.

Remember, we do not buy our pianos from the different factories, who must obtain a profit. We manufacture them in our own factory and sell them direct to you at an actual saving of $100.

BRITISH LOSE THEIR ELEVENTH BATTLESHIP WITH 124 OF CREW; GERMAN SUBMARINE IS SUNK

RUSSELL HITS A MINE AND GOES DOWN

Admiral Fremantle, Capt. Smith and Twenty-Four Other Officers Saved.

Catastrophe Occurs While Warship Is in Mediterranean Sea.

Eighteen Men Captured By British From Teuton Submarine.

London, April 28.—The British battleship Russell has been sunk by a mine. Admiral Fremantle, the captain of the Russell, 24 officers and 676 men were saved.

About 124 men from the Russell are missing. The warship was sunk in the Mediterranean.

Under ordinary conditions the Russell carried between 750 and 800 men.

The Russell was laid down in 1899 and completed in 1903. She was 405 feet long, 75 feet beam, 26 feet deep and displaced 14,000 tons. She was armed with four 12-inch, twelve 6-inch, twelve 3-inch and six 3-pound guns and four torpedo tubes. She cost about $6,000,000.

The Russell is the eleventh British battleship which has been lost during the war. The others were the Audacious, Bulwark, Formidable, Irresistible, Ocean, Goliath, Triumph, Majestic, Natal and King Edward VII. In addition about thirty-five other British warships of various classes have been destroyed.

German Submarine Sunk.

London, April 28.—A German submarine was sunk off the east coast yesterday, it was announced officially today. Eighteen men on the submarine were captured.

The sinking of the Russell and of the German submarine was announced in the following official statement:

"H. M. S. Russell, Capt. William Bowden Smith, R. N., flying the flag of Rear Admiral Fremantle, struck a mine in the Mediterranean yesterday and was sunk. The admiral, captain, 24 officers and 676 men were saved. There are about 124 officers and men missing.

"A German submarine was sunk off the east coast yesterday. One officer and 17 men of the crew surrendered and were made prisoners."

STILL ANOTHER LOT OF RUSS REACH FRANCE

Disembark at Marseilles and Go at Once to Camp Mirabeau.

Paris, April 28.—A Havas dispatch from Marseilles reports the arrival there of a further contingent of Russian troops, the number of which is not given.

The Russians reached Marseilles this morning, the dispatch says, and disembarked immediately. They were received with the same military and civil honors as were accorded the previous Russian detachments and were cheered by the people as they marched to Camp Mirabeau. They will be sent in a few days to Camp Mailly.

MISSISSIPPI NOW FALLING

Water Reaches 16.2 Feet at Winona and Begins to Recede.

Burlington Railroad Again Enabled to Use Its Own Tracks.

Winona, Minn., April 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—The crest of the flood reached Winona during last night, when a stage of 16.2 was registered. By noon today the water had gone down to 16 feet. The Burlington road began using its own tracks today for the first time since last Sunday when a portion of their roadbed was washed away.

Reports from the Delta Land company near Trempealeau are that its dams are holding and will soon be out of danger.

One large factory in Winona shut down today because of water seeping through their firepits.

Islands All Under Water.

La Crosse, Wis., April 28.—The river stage today reached 13.7 feet and equaled the high water of 1897. Every island in the Mississippi sloughs and tributaries is now under water and the

GEN. OBREGON REACHES BORDER READY TO MEET OFFICERS OF U. S. ARMY

HEAD OF GERMAN NAVY CALLED IN CONFERENCE BY EMPEROR

ADMIRAL VON CAPELLE.

Berlin, April 28, wireless to Sayville.—Vice Admiral Eduard von Capelle, the naval officer who succeeded Admiral von Tirpitz last month as minister of the navy, left Berlin on Wednesday to confer with Emperor William at the German army headquarters.

Vested With Powers to Effect Adjustment of Military Situation.

Has 40,000 Men Near at Hand to Emphasize Claim of Control.

First Conference Will Probably Be Held at Juarez on Saturday.

El Paso, Tex., April 28.—Gen. Alvaro Obregon, minister of war of the de facto government, is in Juarez today awaiting to confer with Maj.-Gen. Scott and Gen. Funston on the military questions that are involved in the American punitive expedition into Mexico. Gen. Obregon, accompanied by Gen. Jacinto Trevino, military governor of Chihuahua; Gen. Samuel S. Santos, Governor Enriquez of Chihuahua and President Jose De Luz Herrera of Parral, reached Juarez on a special train this morning.

Obregon's Best Argument.

The protective presence in Northern Mexico of 40,000 Carranzista troops will be the most potent argument brought to the border today by Gen. Alvaro Obregon in his effort to convince Generals Scott and Funston that the American expeditionary force should be withdrawn from Mexico.

The third section of Gen. Obregon's train, bearing Gen. Luis Gutierrez, military governor of Chihuahua state, was derailed south of Juarez and several passengers were reported injured. It is not known whether Gen. Gutierrez was hurt. Gen. Obregon reached Juarez on the second section of the special train.

Generals Scott and Funston are due to reach here tonight, when it is ex-

BRITISH SHOW MORE ACTIVITY

Bedfordshire Regiment Carries Out Successful Raid Near Carnoy.

Irish Troops Are Specially Praised for Bravery in Counter-Attack.

London, April 28.—Great activity at various points along the British front is reported in the latest official communication. The Bedfordshire regiment carried out a successful raid near Carnoy. There has been artillery activity at La Boisselle, Hebuterne, Monchy-Au-Bois, Neuville-St. Vaast, Armentieres and Frelinghein.

At Frelinghein the Germans entered the British trenches, but were driven out.

Similar attacks on the British trenches on Hill 60 and at St. Eloi were repulsed.

The British communication issued last night is the longest ever sent out from British headquarters. To the extent of nearly 500 words it describes the great increase of activity on the British front where many observers have been predicting that the Germans were about to launch an attack as determined as that against Verdun.

The new German activity has shown itself at more than a score of points

TURKS ANNIHILATE BRITISH TROOPS

Constantinople Reports Severe Defeat of Enemy Near Quatia.

Berlin, April 28, by wireless to Tuckerton.—Turkish troops annihilated four British cavalry squadrons, about 800 men, in a battle April 23 near Quatia, about twenty-five miles east of the Suez canal. This information was contained in an official report issued by the Turkish war department under date of April 27. The official statement says:

"In an engagement near Quatia, east of the Suez canal, on April 23, Turkish troops annihilated four enemy cavalry squadrons.

"The Turkish forces attacked the strongly fortified positions near Quatia, destroying the entire camp and a large part of the fortified positions.

"The enemy suffered heavy losses. The survivors hastily fled toward the canal.

"One colonel, 1 major, 20 captains and lieutenants and 25 unwounded and 24 wounded soldiers were taken prisoner.

"On April 25, an enemy air squadron, composed of nine aeroplanes, in order to avenge the defeat, raided Quatia and dropped about seventy bombs upon the hospital, which flew the Geneva flag. One British and two Turkish wounded soldiers were killed and two British soldiers were wounded.

"Turkish aeroplanes successfully attacked the enemy's man-of-war at Sei-Kantara and the docks of Port Said."

DISPATCHES RECEIVED BY AMBASSADOR

Nature of Proposals From Foreign Office Not Made Public.

Von Bernstorff Expecting Additional Dispatches on the Matter.

Visit of Gerard to Emperor William Attracting Much Attention.

Washington, April 28.—Dispatches received at the German embassy today from the Berlin foreign office indicate that Germany will attempt to meet the American demands for the immediate abandonment of its present practices in submarine warfare. The nature of the proposals was not disclosed.

Count von Bernstorff has not been advised whether the suggestions he recently made to his government at the invitation of the foreign office have been adopted. He expects additional dispatches.

A visit of Ambassador Gerard to Emperor William was a topic of broad interest in official and diplomatic quarters today.

German embassy officials believed the emperor invited Mr. Gerard to confer with him for the purpose of elaborating for the benefit of President Wilson his position and the position of the German government in further explanation of certain phases of the forthcoming German reply to the American note. It would be unusual for the emperor to conduct negotiations directly with the diplomatic representative of a foreign government.

Gerard Visits Emperor.

Berlin, April 28, via London.—James W. Gerard, the American ambassador, and Joseph C. Grew, secretary of the American embassy, left Berlin last night for German army headquarters for an audience with Emperor William.

It is evident that Emperor William wishes a thorough personal talk with Mr. Gerard in order to obtain a clearer view of the American position on the submarine issue.

The invitation to visit the German headquarters, which was brought to the ambassador personally by Foreign Minister von Jagow, is regarded in financial circles as a good omen. Nevertheless, experienced observers consider the situation still very serious and believe that the mere fact of the ambassador's meeting with the emperor and his advisers is of less importance than what was done at the conference at German headquarters.

SECOND FLOOD OF TELEGRAMS SOON

Another Deluge of Anti-War Messages Expected From East.

Chicago, April 28.—The deluge of so-called anti-war sentiment telegrams sent from Middle Western cities to congressmen of this section a few days ago will be repeated from Eastern states, it was announced here today by J. H. Forrest, secretary of the Embargo Conference, the organization which is said to have promoted the scheme and paid for the telegrams.

Mr. Forrest has just returned from New York where he said he completed plans for the second flood of telegrams. Forrest said instructions had been issued to end the sending of telegrams from the Middle West, but to follow up the campaign by writing letters to congressmen.

FIRST SHIP TO FOLLOW NEW ROUTE TO N. Y.

New York, April 28.—The freight steamship Westerdyk, first of the Holland-American vessels to follow the newly selected route to the north of Scotland on the voyage from Rotterdam to New York, arrived here today in ballast. The change in the route was announced last week, war dangers being assigned as the reason. The line's ships formerly passed through the English channel, a voyage about five days shorter than the present one.

"The Westerdyk put in at Kirkwall and 125 sacks of mail were removed by the British authorities, according to the officers.

ARE INVESTIGATING ATTACKS ON WILSON

New York, April 28.—An investigation was begun today at the office of the United States district attorney to determine whether a crime had been committed by persons responsible for attacks on President Wilson and the national administration that have appeared in Irish-American papers published here since the outbreak of the revolution in Dublin.

The attention of the Federal authorities was first aroused by an editorial statement that information which led to the sinking of the German ship which attempted to land arms and ammunition on Irish soil came from a member of the Washington administration "on the orders of President Wilson." This declaration has been authoritatively denied in Washington.

Boston, Mass., April 28.—Snow fell over Eastern Massachusetts and Rhode Island today, the latest date for any appreciable fall in more than twenty-seven years.

WILL STAND BY THE PRESIDENT

Loyal American League Protests Against Pro-German Activity.

New York, April 28.—In answer to attacks made against President Wilson for his attitude toward Germany in the submarine controversy, William Lustgarten of 68 William street, Manhattan, head and organizer of the Loyal American league, said that if an attempt should be made to align the German-Americans against the president in the election on this issue, the league would do everything in its power to counteract such an attempt.

In his statement Mr. Lustgarten said:

"At a time like this, it is well to emphasize the fact that the Koelbles, Weismanns and Ridders, who have fostered the various pro-kaiser societies, do not speak for all Americans of German birth. The large mass of citizens of German origin have no sympathy with the outrageous political intrigues of these men. We denounce the attempt to inject the test of loyalty to the kaiser as a criterion of the political character of candidates for public office."

QUIET ON THE VERDUN FRONT

No Important Events Reported During Night on French Lines.

Numerous Aerial Attacks Are Made By French Aviators.

Paris, April 28, 12 m.—No important events are reported during last night along the whole French front. There has been intermittent artillery fire about Avocourt and Esnes and some trench fighting in the section of Regneville, west of Pont-a-Mousson.

Several aerial combats are reported in the course of which a Fokker plane was driven to the earth in the enemy's lines in the region of Nesles-Chaulnes. This information is contained in the French official report issued this afternoon, the text of which follows:

"Last night witnessed no event of importance except an intermittent bombardment in the regions of Avocourt and Esnes and a certain activity on the part of our trench guns in the sector of Regneville, west of Pont-a-Mousson.

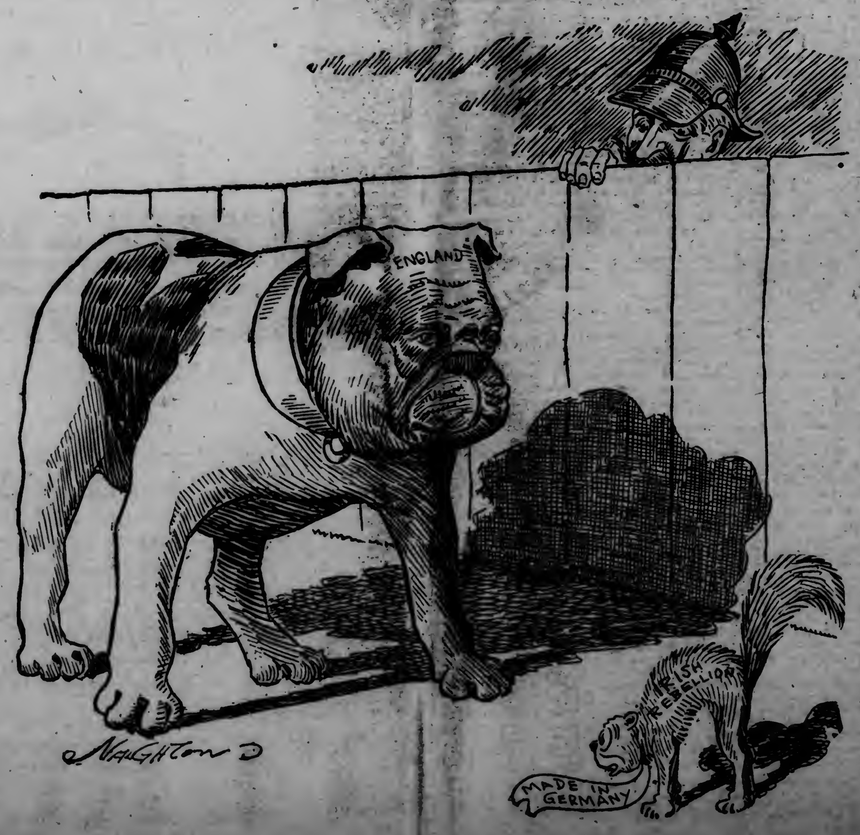
Numerous Aerial Attacks.

"During Thursday French aviators delivered numerous aerial attacks. An aeroplane of the enemy was brought down in the region of Fromezey. Two other German machines, attacked by French airmen, were compelled to land seriously injured, one near Douaumont and the other in the wood of Montfaucon. In the region of Nesles-Chaulnes a German Fokker plane reached by the French fire was seen to fall head first within the German lines. During the day of the 27th a French air squadron in the Woevre bombarded the railroad station at Lamarche, throwing down eighteen shells."

INCREASE IN STORAGE CHARGES SUSPENDED

Washington, April 28.—Proposed increases of from 100 to 400 per cent in storage charges on grain held more than sixty days in elevators in New York, Philadelphia and other Atlantic seaboard points for export were suspended today by the interstate commerce commission until Aug. 29. Fifteen railroads are affected.

The new tariffs would make no increase in the storage charges on grain held less than sixty days, but would gradually raise the rate thereafter. The increases were proposed by the roads to relieve congestion at Eastern terminals.



NO ANTI-AMERICAN SENTIMENT IN TOKIO

American Dispatches Are Given Prominence But No Animosity Displayed.

Tokio, April 28.—Dispatches from America concerning Japan's protests against the Burnett immigration bill are given prominence by the Japanese newspapers, but no anti-American sentiment has been voiced. The dominating note in the slight press comment is confident that the American legislators will not adopt a law unjust to Japan or offensive to Japanese dignity and honor.

The Japanese government resents the proposal to enact into law the Root-Takahira agreement restricting immigration of Japanese laborers, and also objects to a provision in the pending immigration bill which by inference would class Japanese with excluded Hindus. The senate immigration committee yesterday agreed to modify the bill by eliminating reference to the Root-Takahira agreement.

GERMANY: "SCRATCH HIM, KITTIE!"

SUMMARY OF THE WAR NEWS

Naval events are again to the front in the war news with today's announcement that the British battleship Russell has been sunk in the Mediterranean by striking a mine and that a German submarine has been sent to the bottom by the British off the English east coast.

There were more than 800 men on board the Russell and about 124 are missing. Eighteen men on the German submarine were captured.

The Russell was comparatively an old vessel, having been completed in 1903. She displaced 14,000 tons and her heavy guns were four of the 12-inch type. She is the eleventh British battleship to be lost during the war.

Another contingent of Russian troops has reached Marseilles for service on the western front. This makes the third contingent whose arrival the French military authorities have permitted to be reported. As in previous instances the strength of the contingent is withheld, but news dispatches from Marseilles have indicated a belief that as many as 250,000 Russian troops would probably be transferred this spring to the France-Belgian front.

For the first time in many days the French official statement mentions no notable activity, even by the artillery in the Verdun region. Only an intermittent bombardment in the vicinity of Avocourt and Esnes to the west of the Meuse is recorded.

Along the rest of the French front there were no events of importance. German efforts for the present seem to be directed against the British along the line in Northern France and Belgium, where London last night reported activity that seemed to observers there to indicate that the Germans might be about to launch an offensive as determined as that directed against Verdun.

Ambassador Gerard left Berlin last night for German army headquarters where he will have an audience with Emperor William, who with his advisers is considering the reply to the American note on submarines.

OBSERVE BIRD AND ARBOR DAY

Pupils of County and City Schools Give Appropriate Programs.

Trees Are Planted and Protection of Songsters Urged.

Arbor and Bird day is being observed by city and county school children today in Duluth as in the rural schools nearby. Supt. R. E. Denfeld of the city schools and Supt. N. A. Young of St. Louis county schools have been notified that programs and exercises will be given in various schools.

Tree planting will be general at the rural schools, according to Supt. Young, who estimates that about 500 new trees will be placed by the boys and girls clubs in the rural districts.

Tree planting in the city is usually directed by members of the board of education committee on maintenance of buildings and grounds, and children will not take part in any active tree planting, in the city.

"Teachers and principals were notified several days ago," said Supt. Denfeld, "and while not all of the schools will have exercises, many of them will have special programs. F. B. Carey, head of the commercial department of Central high school, is vice president of the Minnesota Game and Protection league for the Duluth district."

Will Plant 500 Trees.

"Many of our rural school buildings are new and stand in open places without shade near," said Supt. Young. "We have encouraged our pupils to plant trees, and so have the teachers. It would not be surprising if at least 500 trees were put out on this Arbor day."

Programs with topics bearing on plant life, trees, birds and dumb animals were presented in both city and county schools, impressing upon the children the thought of beautifying the landscape and teaching the care of birds and animals.

In his Arbor and Bird day proclamation, Governor J. A. Burnquist said:

"The season of the year has again arrived when every home in Minnesota can be beautified by the planting of trees, shrubbery and flowers, and when in our schools special study of arboreal life should be encouraged by fitting exercises and all of our citizens, by proper activity, be made to realize more fully the practical and esthetic value of plant culture and tree life."

KNOX CRITICIZES FOREIGN POLICY

Taft's Secretary of State Comments on Handling of Mexican Affairs.

Pittsburgh, Pa., April 28.—The foreign policy of the present national administration, especially that affecting Mexico, was severely criticized by speakers at the annual Grant day banquet of the American club here last night. Philander C. Knox, secretary of state in President Taft's cabinet, explained why Mr. Taft did not recognize Gen. Huerta as president of Mexico, and replied to the assertion that President Wilson inherited the troublesome Mexican situation from his predecessor, while United States Senator Boise Penrose of Pennsylvania denounced the management of international affairs in connection with Mexico as "constituting one of the most deplorable chapters in our history."

Other speakers included United States Senator George T. Oliver of Pennsylvania, James W. Wadsworth of New York, and William Alden Smith of Michigan.

The Herald.)—It is expected labor organizations of the state will support Nonpartisan league candidates in the coming primaries.

The leaders of the league have interested the labor leaders in their proposition and the result has been that the Trades and Labor assembly of Fargo has called a meeting of the union labor men for Sunday afternoon. In addition to the local union labor men it is understood that there will be delegates at the meeting from the labor organizations at Grand Forks and Devils Lake.

The meeting to be held here on Sunday will be behind closed doors, and no will be admitted except a few of the leaders of the Nonpartisan league who are speakers, and laboring men holding union cards.

HEALTH TALKS

BY WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

Changing Medicine

Our irrepressible friend, the "old woman," seems destined to remain the doctor's Nemesis. She is always on hand to point out his errors or to emphasize the evil or untoward effects of his treatment, and, if you are in her opinion mentally inferior, to tell you just what you ought to take.

WILLIAM BRADY M.D.

She it is, in her figurative being, who creates and maintains the fear of antitoxin harbored by uneducated people. It is her suggestion that causes the patient to discontinue this or that part of the treatment without seeking the doctor's advice, whenever any new or unusual developments arise in the course of an illness. The old woman of the neighborhood leaves in her meandering wake a trail of distrust, suspicion and despair. She hastens the inevitable bad ending, and postpones the hoped-for convalescence. She comes to the house of sickness like a well-wishing friend—and usually she does mean well—but she only contaminates the atmosphere.

Although hundreds of different medicinal agents are commonly administered with a hypodermic needle, the old woman acts and yammers on the assumption that anything so administered is dangerous dope. Although nine out of ten of the modern sera or vaccines are utterly harmless, even when they fail to produce the anticipated results, the old woman finds therein a sufficient explanation for any possible skin disease or constitutional disturbance the patient may acquire at any future time—among the troubles being eczema and tuberculosis. The old woman knows—hasn't she had "experience" in gossiping about the neighbors' health?

The old woman steps into the breach and contributes the straw that turns the decision against a life-saving or health-conserving operation. They "didn't do them things" when she was a girl. And look at her! But don't look at the mortality tables of her time—because if you do you will be horrified at the high death rate from curable diseases.

What we wish to convey, when we say such mean things about the "old women" is just this: No one undertakes to give you advice unless he or she assumes to know more than you know. And no one offers gratuitous advice unless you are of a weak, easily influenced character. In short, when the old woman takes you in hand she (or maybe it is he) betrays a lack of respect for your personality. The assumption is that you don't know enough to know your own mind.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

Dentistry for Expectant Mother.

Will you please tell me if it would be all right for me to have my teeth crowned or filled or extracted during pregnancy? The teeth are in bad condition.

Answer—By all means have the teeth put in good condition at once. That or any other minor surgical treatment is perfectly safe and advisable.

Milk of Magnesia for Bloating and Hives.

I suffer considerably from bloating, indigestion and hives. I find milk of magnesia very helpful. Could pepsin be added to it? If so, in what form would you advise it?

Answer—It could, but it would be pepsin wasted, as pepsin requires an acid medium. Moreover, pepsin as a remedy never in itself does any good.

Electric Vibrator.

Is an electric vibrator good for the health?

Answer—Absolutely useless.

"PLAYING" DOCTOR FATAL FOR CHILD

Moorhead Girl Killed By "Medicine" Administered By Playmates.

Moorhead, Minn., April 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—As the result of taking some medicine administered to her by her playmates while engaged in "playing doctor," Lael, a 7-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Iver Strom of 1018 Eleventh street south, is dead.

The little girl with several other little girls of the neighborhood were playing near the Strom home. Lael was playing patient, while one of the other little girls was playing doctor and the other nurses. They obtained several bottles of medicine in some manner and after mixing the contents of several administered a dose to the child.

Soon after taking the concoction the Strom girl became very weak and was carried to her parents' home. A physician was called and she was removed to a hospital, where she died in about twelve hours.

TO ENCOURAGE SCHOOL DEBATE

Trophy Cup Suggested for Interscholastic Contests at Lakes Head.

Success of Wallace Cup for Oratorical Contests Is Marked.

The success of the Wallace cup, given by Dr. C. J. Wallace of Duluth, for a series of oratorical and declamatory contests between the high schools of Duluth and Superior, has caused the suggestion to be made that a similar cup, offered for debates between teams of the same high schools would cause fully as much interest and would be an incentive for students in these schools to develop the faculty of quick thinking and ready discussion.

The Wallace cup has been the subject of contest for a number of years and the next attempt to get a "leg" on it will be on May 12. It has caused the development of budding orators and declaimers in the various schools, of whom the institutions are very proud.

The ability to think on one's feet, quickness of thought and confidence, when placed before an audience, it is believed, would be as successfully developed were a similar cup offered for debates on the same plan.

D. C. H. S. Wins Thrice.

In this year's Wallace cup contest the contestants from the Duluth Central high school will be John Ahlen in oratory and Betty Kyle in declamation. Those from the Superior Central will be Philip Litman in oratory and Clara Ferguson in declamation. The Nelson Dewey school in Superior will enter Robert Jordan in oratory and Lois Harkness in declamation. The contestants from the Denfeld high school in Duluth will be chosen in local contests to be held next Monday and Tuesday.

This will be the seventh contest in the series, and the cup, which is to go permanently to the winner of the most contests in a series of ten, has been won three times by Duluth Central, the present holder, and three times by Superior Central. It is a beautiful affair of silver, 24 inches high without the base, which is 3 inches high. It is an exact duplicate of the cup which President Roosevelt presented to the United States Atlantic fleet at the close of its record-breaking tour of the world.

On the cup are engraved the names of the contestants who have won it for their respective schools, and the dates of the contests, and it is a matter of the keenest interest to every high school pupil to see that his school gets it, and if possible to have his or her name added to the list that constitutes the cup's roll of honor.

Would Encourage Public Speaking.

This was the object of the presentation of the cup—the arousing of interest of that kind. At the time of its presentation the donor pointed to the intense rivalry in athletics, and the limited number who could take part in the activities of that rivalry. It was too bad, he said, that there was no mental rivalry to correspond with that of physical strife; and having been interested from boyhood in public speaking of all kinds, he decided to offer a trophy to encourage that line of work. Now the teachers and pupils would like to see a debating cup offered.

AITKIN WEDDING.

Aitkin, Minn., April 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—Miss Alma Lind and Richard Johnson, two well known young people of this place, were married Monday afternoon at the M. E. parsonage, Rev. U. S. Villars officiating. Miss Edith Lind and Carl Lind, sister and brother of the bride, were the attendants. Mr. and Mrs. Johnson departed for Duluth, and will make their home at Rabey.

Announcements have been received here of the marriage of Miss Mina Luella Kibby, eldest daughter of Postmaster and Mrs. C. W. Kibby of Bennettville, to Raymond H. Woodman, which took place Saturday, April 22, at Camden, Minn. The young people will make their home at that place on a farm.

RED RIVER VALLEY FARMERS SEEDING

Ten Days Behind Schedule But Large Acreage Will Be Sown.

Crookston, Minn., April 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—Seeding is general in the Red River valley except in a few localities. This does not mean that all the land is fit to work, but on virtually every farm there are fields where a start can be made. In some localities the farmers have been seeding all week, but work was not general till today.

Thursday was the warmest day of the spring, and a bright sun and breeze worked wonders in the fields. While the farmers are ten days behind with their work, the total acreage of grain depends on the future weather.

Less Wheat Acreage.

The wheat acreage will be cut from 10 to 20 per cent in some localities, but if bad weather does not interfere seriously, a full acreage will be seeded by an increased acreage of oats and barley, flax, potatoes and corn. In a few localities, where ditches were too small to take care of the water, some land was badly overflowed, but with no heavy rainfall for a week it will all be in shape for seed, and the percentage of land so affected is relatively very small.

CONSOLIDATION OF SCHOOLS POPULAR

WEST END

PLAN MAY DAY PROGRAM.

Business Men Will Give Demonstration of West End Industries.

Business men of the West end will meet at luncheon at 8 o'clock this evening at the Rex hotel to plan a May day celebration to be held the latter part of next month on the streets of the West end. A committee to have charge of the details will be appointed.

It is planned to have a demonstration in which the various industries of this end of the city will be represented. The meeting tonight has been arranged under the direction of Emil H. Olson and Walter A. Swanstrom.

MIDSUMMER DAY PROGRAM.

Swedish-American League Will Outline Plans for June 24.

Plans for the celebration of Midsummer's day, June 24, will be outlined Monday evening at a meeting of the Swedish-American National league to be held at the Sloan's hall, Twentieth avenue west and Superior street. Various committees to handle the details of the celebration will be appointed.

According to present plans the celebration this year will outdo former affairs of the kind held by the local organization. An automobile parade is to be one of the features in which machines will be decked in holiday style. The principal program will be held at Lincoln park during the afternoon and evening.

The league represents committees of five men from each of ten Swedish organizations of Duluth. The officers of the organization are O. W. Olson, president; Carl J. Carlson, vice president; Gust Hedman, secretary; and Gust Hjerpe, treasurer.

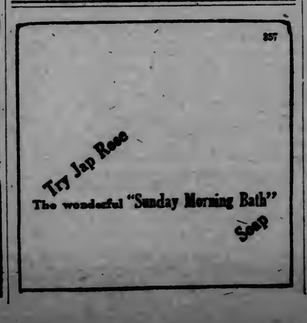
West End Briefs.

The Epworth League of the Grace Methodist church will entertain this evening at a social in the church parlors. Miss Elenore Anderson is in charge of the program.

An entertainment will feature a meeting of the Young People's Society of the First Swedish Methodist church, Twentieth avenue west and Third street tonight. A musical and literary program has been planned.

A social meeting has been planned for tonight by Duluth camp No. 2341, M. W. A., at the Woodman hall. Cards and dancing will feature the entertainment.

Mrs. A. J. Milligan, 2314 West Michigan street, has returned from a short visit to relatives at Barnum, Minn.



Rev. E. A. Fagenstrom of Albert Lea will give an illustrated lecture this evening at the First Swedish Baptist church, Twenty-second avenue west and Third street. He will speak on a "Trip Through Sweden."

WALKER NEWS NOTES.

Consolidated School Meeting Held at County Seat Well Attended.

Walker, Minn., April 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—About thirty farmers attended the meeting here Saturday to hear Messrs. Witham and Blackburn of Pine River and Pederson of Jenkins talk on consolidated farmers' clubs. J. W. Rice, chairman of the Shingobee board, presided and among the speakers, aside from those named, were: O. G. Mason, Remer; Fred Lembke, Wilkinson; Pete Pilgenger, Turtle Lake; Thomas Welsh, Leech Lake, and all gave good talks telling of local conditions in their respective townships. F. A. Dare, who gave his views on the importance of consolidation in order to bring about effective farm legislation; J. S. Scribner, who spoke on tax matters, and Supt. Ross, who spoke regarding school district taxes. It is expected that the neighboring clubs will join the county consolidated club.

Judge Ely Wright returned Wednesday from his winter's visit in the South, accompanied by his two daughters, Mrs. Fabian and Mrs. Trott. The former will spend the summer here.

Bartosch & Lindert recently purchased a tract of land comprising some 6,000 acres adjacent to Walker, and have placed it on the market. Ole Larson is working with them and sales have already been made. It is the purpose of this company to fence this land into reasonable sized farms, make improvements on each tract and then find a settler. The move is one of great benefit to this community.

W. N. Warner has announced himself as a candidate for commissioner in the Commissioner Jones district. Mr. Warner states in his announcement that he has made no promises and shall make none during the campaign except the general promise of an honest and economical administration. He is well known in his district.

Charles Kinkele and Rev. J. C. Jewell went to Pine River Monday to join Bert Wideman and officially view a ditch out from that village. Our ex-mayor says he always took Mr. Jewell to be a Methodist, but since seeing him take to the water, in order to do a good job at ditch viewing, he's about decided that Brother Jewell is a Baptist and doesn't know it.

Mr. Wilson of the firm of Connors & Wilson has been in town this week and states that his crew started work on the Akeley-Walker road on Wednesday and they hope to have the stretch between these two places completed by July 1. His camps are located near the Olson farm.

Willie Rogers was released from the state sanatorium the first of the week, and is once more in the best of health. He left for Rogers this week.

A number of the boatmen found it necessary to dynamite the ice Saturday night to protect their boathouses, and the blasts echoed all over the town like a German invasion.

To Fight Blindpigs.

Brainerd, Minn., April 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—In resolutions unanimously adopted by the Brainerd Chamber of Commerce, the illicit traffic in liquor was condemned. The authorities were urged to prosecute offenders, and the moral backing of the chamber was pledged to break up the blindpig nuisance.

Alkali Makes Soap Bad for Washing Hair

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali, which is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle.

The best thing to use is just plain mulsified cocoanut oil, for this is pure and entirely greaseless. It's very cheap, and beats the most expensive soaps or anything else all to pieces. You can get this at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family for months.

Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in, about a teasponful is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy and easy to handle. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff.—Advertisement.

HIGH COST OF COTTON NOW NOTHING TO WHAT IT WAS WHEN GRANDMA WAS GIRL

Consumers are inclined to complain of the higher cost of cotton goods that has come about during the last year, and it is being noted with some apprehension that the price tendency is still upward.

It is contended by some of the old-time jobbers, however, that merchants nowadays do not really know the height to which prices of all commodities can be advanced under special stress. A price list issued by H. B. Claffin & Co. of New York is interesting on that score.

While buyers now consider 7 cents a high price for a staple cotton print, in 1864 these goods cost anywhere from 25 cents a yard, the quotation on Cohoes Falls, etc., to 60 cents for Cocheco and Merrimack prints. American prints were then priced at 45 cents a yard. Lancaster ginghams in those days cost 48½ cents a yard and Everetts cost 47½ cents. Today 8 cents is top for this class of goods.

On delaines prices ranged, per yard, from 55 cents for "all dark" to 75 and 85 cents for all wool. Apron checks cost from 45 to 60 cents a yard. Thirty-five to 58½ cents a yard was the price range on striped shirtings, while furniture checks brought from 37½ to 65 cents. Seventy-five cents a yard was the top price asked for ticks, while today eight-ounce goods bring around 15 cents a yard. The high point asked for Canton flannel was 30 cents a yard for Naumkeag, bleached.

For indigo denims, 2.20-yard, 18½ cents is today considered a high price. In 1864 denim prices ranged all the way from 40 cents a yard to 70 cents. Brown shirtings were also sky high, while brown sheetings that today sell around 6¼ to 7½ cents then cost up to 90 cents. Linseys and bleached corset jeans were correspondingly high. Fifty-five cents a yard was the highest price asked for ¼ bleached cottons, while 4-4 bleached cottons sold all the way up to 77½ cents. The highest point reached on "Fruit-of-the-Loom" 4-4 goods in the last couple of years was 9¼ cents. Bleached sheets and pillow cases sold as high as $1.00 for 10-4 Pepperell goods. High prices were also quoted on Coates spool cotton and No. 53 worsted braid.

ROTARIANS AND CHURCHMEN DINE

Joint Meeting at Endion M. E. Church Indorses Cleanup Week.

Rotarians linked arms with the members of the Endion Men's club last night, when they held a joint meeting at the Endion M. E. church. It was the regular Rotary club meeting, but business was excluded because of the nature of the assembly.

Resolutions were adopted indorsing the cleanup and paintup campaign, which will be carried on in Duluth the week of May 4 to 10 under the direction of the Duluth Commercial club.

John Lumm of the Clyde Iron Works, gave an illustrated lecture on the logging industry. Three reels of motion pictures, shown in conjunction with the talk, gave views of the logging industry in Louisiana.

Dinner was served at 6:30 o'clock by the women of the Endion church. Harry Armstrong, president of the Rotary club, presided at the dinner and during the program which followed.

FRIENDS HONOR AGED MINISTER

Rev. N. L. Upham Is Given Present on Eighty-Third Birthday.

In honor of his eighty-third birthday anniversary, twenty-five members of the First Presbyterian church and a delegation of Duluth Presbyterian ministers presented Rev. N. L. Upham with a chair last evening at his home, 1528 East First street.

Rev. J. A. McGaughey of the Second Presbyterian church, Dr. W. W. Lawrence of the Glen Avon church and Rev. George Brewer of the First Presbyterian church appeared in behalf of the Presbyterian ministers, each delivering a short talk during the evening. Rev. Upham responded in accepting the gift, which was formally presented by George Wilson for the congregation of the First church.

In his talk on "Companions in Service," Rev. Brewer referred to Mr. Upham as the "pastor emeritus" of Duluth.

ALBANIA STARVES; APPEALS FOR AID

Americans Asked to Help War-Crushed Little Principality.

Letters appealing for aid in behalf of famished Albania are being sent out by the Albanian relief committee to persons throughout America. The letter from the committee's headquarters at 70 Fifth avenue, New York, follows:

"To a Good Samaritan:

"A nation is dying of hunger. It is a small, weak nation, and its call for help is unheard among the stronger appeals of its powerful neighbors, in their sudden, recent sufferings. For three years the country of Albania has been the victim of sword and famine. Now the people are without food, 10,000 human beings are starving daily.

"The women are emaciated; their bones seem about to protrude through the skin. Would you give bread to one famished woman, save her a child dear to her as yours to you? Would you with a grateful look from the appealing eyes of her in whose wasted hands you place the gift?

"Give 100 cents to buy flour for Albania. If you have given to other countries until you feel that you can do no more, give a few cents. A bit of bread from each of the well fed to one of these will feed all."

GOVERNOR GUEST OF OFFICE MEN

State Executive Will Speak at the Regular Monthly Dinner.

Governor Burnquist, who was the guest of honor at the annual banquet of the West Duluth Commercial club last evening, will deliver an address at the regular monthly dinner of the Duluth Association of Office Men to be held at the Elks' club this evening.

George L. Gross, president of the club, announced this morning that the meeting will be open to members and their friends.

The only other address of the evening will be made by Ray M. Hughes. Governor Philipp of Wisconsin, who had also been invited, is unable to come at this time, he wired Mr. Gross several days ago. The dinner will commence at 6:30 o'clock.

Governor Burnquist is spending the day with officials of the normal school and he will leave for St. Paul immediately after the dinner this evening.

FINESSE NEEDED TO FIND WOMEN'S HOSE

SAYS BARBER

How could a detective be expected to locate six pairs of women's silk stockings with pink borders on the tops?

That is the problem confronting Detectives E. H. Barber and John Roberg at headquarters. Six pairs of hosiery, peculiar because of the pink borders, have been stolen, and the former owner is very anxious to have them recovered.

"If they were stockings with pink borders on the ankles it would be different," said Detective Barber—"but on the top. Nope, it simply can't be done. The styles aren't that bad yet."

Mrs. Charles Schramm of 314 East Seventh street started the trouble when she reported the theft of a suitcase from the hallway of the West hotel, 20 North Second avenue west, last night.

The suitcase contained some laundry and the aforesaid stockings with the pink decorations.

PLAN FOR SOCIAL CENTER BUILDING

Jackson Farmers' Club of Herman Township Propose Improvement.

Construction of a social center building and the maintenance of a community playground are proposed by the Jackson Farmers' club of Herman township.

J. W. Johnson, secretary of the organization, announced yesterday that plans are now being made for the construction of a building to be used for the meetings of the club, dances and entertainments staged by the members from time to time.

The large field owned by the club near the Jackson school will be equipped with playround apparatus and a baseball field laid out for the proposed Jackson baseball team.

Porterfield Candidate.

Fargo, N. D., April 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—State Senator W. P. Porterfield, Democrat has announced his candidacy for re-election. So far Mr. Porterfield has no opposition in the primaries and his real fight will come at the general election this fall when he will be opposed by a Republican nominee, probably, Gilbert Haggart, the only Republican out for the place so far.

NATION MUST BE PREPARED

Col. Roosevelt Talks on Preparedness to New York Methodists.

Peace of Cowardice Becomes in the End Peace of Death.

New York, April 28.—Theodore Roosevelt urged the doctrine of preparedness upon a large number of Methodists gathered last night at the annual banquet of the Methodist Social Union of New York and referred to the latest phases of the relations with Germany and Mexico as showing that "timidity and weakness invite war instead of averting it."

"I have a right to speak to you for peace," said the colonel in declaring that he abhorred a wanton and unjust war. "I was president seven and a half years. This nation during all that time never for one moment permitted any power to wrong this country or to wrong Americans either in their person or property or to make us recreant to our duty to others; and yet during those seven and a half years not one shot was fired by any man in American uniform against any foreign foe and not one American man, woman or child was slain by representatives of any foreign nation.

The Peace of Cowardice.

"If those old Methodist circuit riders who spread Methodism had considered peace the chief of all earthly goods they would never have gone west of the Alleghenies. If Peter Cartwright and his fellows had feared to face trouble, if their zeal for the faith had been less than their dread of disturbance, there would not have been a single Methodist church west of the Alleghenies. They believed in keeping the peace. But they believed even more in keeping the faith. They strove for the peace that comes through righteousness. They were not only good Methodists, good Christians, but they were sound, stalwart American patriots. They knew that there is a peace which is the peace of cowardice; and that the peace of cowardice becomes in the end the peace of death. They knew that the peace which comes through the abandonment of duty, through shrinking back when the forces of evil advance, through putting ease and material well being and soft sentimentality above stern devotion to unpleasant duty may mean, and in all probability will mean, the loss of everything that makes life livable to honorable men and upright women.

Our Relation to Peace.

"We can play the greatest part on behalf of peace that any nation has ever yet played. We can play it not by treading in the footsteps of China, not by showing that we have lost the iron that was in the blood of our fathers, not by permitting America to become a jangling knot of old world nationality, where the descendants of the old stock are too feeble either to stand up for themselves or for anyone else. We can take our permanent place as a great nation only if we realize that we are a separate nation, akin to, but distinct from all the people of Europe, and if we loyally and with proud endurance of the labor of preparation and effort, do duty to ourselves and to others.

"This means that our lives must not primarily be devoted to the greedy achievement of purely material well-being and of ease and self-indulgence; it means that we must not surrender our souls to the guidance of that species of sentimentality which eats like an acid into the rugged strength of character; it means that with toil and forethought and self-sacrifice we must prepare this nation in things industrial, things social, and things military, in the body, in the mind, and above all in the soul, so that in the mighty days it may stand equal to the mighty days."

Author Visits Gopher Home.

Sauk Center, Minn., April 28.—Mr. and Mrs. Harry (Sinclair) Lewis arrived this week for an extended visit at the home of Harry's parents, Dr. and Mrs. E. J. Lewis. It was the first visit home of the young author in eight years and he has been kept busy receiving congratulations of his hosts of old friends on his successful climb up the literary ladder. Mrs. Lewis is a native of New York city and this is her first visit here.

It is probable that the couple will remain in Sauk Center during the entire summer and continue on next fall to California for the winter. While here Mr. Lewis will devote his time on a new novel which he will publish in the spring.

BIG SUPPLY OF PRODUCE

Apple Stocks Are Unusually Large for This Time of Year.

Green Vegetables Come in Freely From South and West.

Supplies of fruits and vegetables on the Duluth produce market are reported to be the most liberal and to cover the widest range at this season in years. Quotations are considered reasonable all through the list.

Supplies and sales of apples are said to be setting new high records for this late in the spring, and prices are only slightly higher than last fall despite the accumulated storage charges. That is due to the cutting off of exports owing to the scarcity of vessel space and high freight charges. Advices from the East are to the effect that packers have lost more than $8,000,000 on apples this year, due to a combination of conditions that were not foreseen last fall. The crop turned out heavier than had been estimated and in addition there was to be marketed the quantity usually exported, estimated at 1,000,000 barrels. While consumption was increased as the result of an extended campaign, it was not sufficient to take care of the supplies and there is said to be considerable quantity of the fruit still in storage. On the Duluth market however, the choice in barrel apples is now down to Baldwins and Ben Davises, and it is expected that the former will be off the list in about ten days.

The choice in other fruits is good, according to the Fitzsimmons-Palmer company, the Culbertson Bros. company and the Stacy-Merrill Fruit company. Oranges are firm with supplies confined to navels at present. Valencias are, however, expected to be available within a short time. Strawberries from Louisiana are coming to hand freely and prices show a reduction. The fruit is now to be had in quart boxes. Grapefruit is higher, and firm prices are expected from now on till the end of the season.

Vegetables Abundant.

Green vegetables are now being received from Louisiana, Florida and California, and their quotations average up reasonably through the list. Tomatoes are in better supply and demand for them has increased with the improvement being shown in quality.

While potatoes are still quoted at 90 cents a bushel, an advance of 10 cents is predicted next week. Receipts have fallen off on account of farmers being engaged in their spring work.

Local commission houses are now selling large quantities of seed potatoes and onions. Choice seed stock is said to be becoming scarce, and their market is thought likely to be advanced.

Butter Still High.

Butter prices are the same as a week ago at 35@37c for the best creamery. The way butter prices have been maintained this spring in the face of the generally increased production has been a surprise to the trade. It is attributed to the enormous Eastern demand and the comparatively early cleaning up of storage supplies. An easing off in the market is, however, expected in the near future, as the make of the creameries is gaining steadily.

The shipping of a substantial tonnage of butter and eggs to the Eastern markets upon the first package freight boat sailing from this port for the season was reported by the Bridgeman-Russell company. The quantity shipped to the East from this point during the present season is expected to show a large gain over last year.

Quotations in eggs are also unchanged at 22@23c a dozen. As packers are now taking all the surplus supplies off the market, prices are thought likely to rule firm at around their present levels. Egg receipts from over this territory are increasing.

IS RIGHT AS TO GERMANY

Miller Commends President But Says Other Nations Equally Guilty.

From The Herald Washington Bureau.

Washington, April 28.—In a letter to Elmer Smith and other constituents in Grand Rapids, Minn., Representative Clarence B. Miller has given his views on peace for the United States. The letter was written in answer to a telegram dated April 22, reading: "We, your constituents, demand that you oppose war with Germany."

The letter is as follows:

"Any man charged with responsibility should make every honorable and legitimate effort to avoid war with any country. War is a condition that should not be lightly assumed by any nation. I have all along earnestly desired that our nation shall not become embroiled in the war now almost world-wide. I have believed all along that a firm stand for our national rights and the rights of our citizens would be respected by the various belligerent nations. During the war period already passed, almost two years, American rights have been flagrantly violated by several of the belligerent nations.

Firm Stand Required.

"I have always believed it the duty of our government to take a firm and determined stand to protect our rights as a neutral people and to stand by the position taken. The president has now taken a determined stand respecting the violation of our rights by Germany. In this he is right and should receive our united support. He, however, should not single out Germany in this regard. Other nations are equally guilty of riding rough-shod over American rights, and toward them the president should take the same attitude he has taken toward Germany. If he does that, there will be presented a spirit of fairness and a general determination to protect American interests and rights. I think that attitude would be respected by all the belligerent nations and peace be preserved, as no one of them certainly desires war with the United States.

Must Support President.

"The president is charged with complete responsibility in the conduct of our foreign relations. If he conducts them so as to bring on a practical state of war, as he has the power to do, our government will be so committed that its honor is involved, and whether we consider the president's course leading up to that event right or wrong, the interests of our country will require that he be supported at that time by a united country. Just now it seems to me our proper course is firmly to insist upon recognition of and respect for undoubted American rights by all nations. At the same time we should approach the subject in a spirit of fairness, not captious or hypercritical, as a high-minded, determined man should approach any subject involving his honor and his rights."

PUBLISHERS END MEETING

Message From President Asks Influence for Fair Play and Peace.

New York, April 28.—A message from President Wilson expressing the hope that the press of the United States always may use its influence for "fair play, right understanding and peace, prosperity and glory of America" was read last night at a banquet which brought to an end the annual meeting of the American Newspaper Publishers' association.

Men of prominence in many walks of life were the guests of the organization. They included Governor Charles S. Whitman, Secretary of War Newton D. Baker, Mayor John P. Mitchel, Dr. V. K. Wellington Koo, Chinese minister to the United States; Representative John J. Fitzgerald, Senator Warren G. Harding, Otto H. Kahn and Daniel Willard.

In reply to the president's telegram, a message signed by Herbert L. Bridgman, president of the association, was sent to the White House, assuring Mr. Wilson that the American Newspaper Publishers' association "stands for the first word of its name, and will defend it against all comers."

Governor Whitman in his address declared the press to be "the great interpretative factor in American life."

"From the day when the European war shook us from our dream of world peace, our boast of security," he said, "the best thought of this land has been for preparedness for national defense. We can prepare for peace as well as for war, bulwarking free institutions even while we protect them. There is no greater preparedness than the restoration of our ancient confidence in the high destiny of America, the rekindling of our hopes and faiths, the banishment of every divisive prejudice that has arisen to plague and to retard."

Mayor Mitchel said good government in this country depends upon good newspapers, "because we depend on them for our knowledge of current events." He declared that this responsibility is very grave at present.

COLLIE DOGS ARE SENT FAR NORTH

Oshkosh, Wis., Pair to Be Used Herding Reindeer Under Arctic Circle.

Oshkosh, Wis., April 28.—Two pure white Scotch collie pups, a pair of thoroughbred dogs specially selected for their herding instincts, have just left Oshkosh for what is said to be the northernmost white man's habitation in America. The dogs are from the Island White Collie Kennels and are bound for Point Barrow, Alaska, where they will be used to herd reindeer belonging to the United States government. May 1 they are to leave on the revenue cutter Bear for the long sea trip north and will reach Point Barrow, which is on the extreme northern tip of Alaska, about the middle of August. By that time the collies will be well grown and it is expected they can easily become acclimated and hardened to the rigors of the new country, where the port is open only six weeks in the entire year. An elaborate supply of dog biscuits, medicines and disinfectants went along.

Thomas Gordon, a Scotchman, who went into the Arctic when a boy of 15, working on a whaling ship, is the man to whom the dogs are consigned. He is about 45 years of age and has been engaged in whaling, trading and census taking among the Eskimos. He is married to an Eskimo woman and has a large family of children. His residence is the farthest north of any white man's home in America. Mr. Gordon is in charge of a government project to propagate reindeer and required dogs to help herd the animals. He wrote of the need to a banker in Ohio, stating that this friend was the only person, outside Alaska, with whom he could claim acquaintance.

Only Lapp Dogs There.

Only savage Lapp dogs, useless for herding, lived in the region, Mr. Gordon declared. The pair he is to receive are registered with the American Kennel club and their mothers were carefully selected as exceptional individuals in the care of cattle. Being pure white in color, a strain developed here from the ordinary collie, it is expected they will have the benefit of protective coloration, the biological term which seeks to explain why Arctic animals are white like the snows and other sorts in like relation to their surroundings. One of the Oshkosh dogs was taken to lower Alaska last fall, and came through the winter easily, sleeping out of doors in the customary manner. Arrangements will be made to send others to Point Barrow if the pair just dispatched can withstand the cold and snows.

DONALD GRANT WEDS CASS LAKE GIRL

Cass Lake, Minn., April 28.—The marriage of Miss Margaret Parshall, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. H. F. Parshall of Cass Lake to Donald Grant, Jr., of Faribault, was solemnized Thursday evening at 8 o'clock at the Episcopal church. Bishop Edsall and Bishop Morrison officiated.

When a Physician Prescribes Whiskey

you should have in mind the true medicinal whiskey—Duffy's. Because every day experience proves that a good stimulant like Duffy's properly used will accomplish much to keep the old young and the young strong and vigorous. Physicians of wide repute advocate the moderate use of alcoholic stimulants because, "in disease whiskey is a rapid and trustworthy restorative. In many cases it may be truly described as life-saving, owing to its power to sustain cardiac and nervous energy, while protecting the wasting nitrogenous tissues."

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey

taken in tablespoonful doses before meals and on retiring as directed, stimulates the mucous surfaces of the stomach and activates the natural digestive juices so that full nutriment from the food eaten is assimilated into the blood. The body thus given its full proportion of nourishment is assured abundant strength.

"Get Duffy's and Keep Well."

Sold in SEALED BOTTLES ONLY. Beware of imitations.

NOTE: Get Duffy's from your local druggist, grocer or dealer, $1.00 per bottle. If he cannot supply you, write us. Send for useful household booklet free.

Like a Boy at 50 Bubbling Over With Vitality—Taking Iron Did It

Doctor says Nuxated Iron is greatest of all strength builders—Often increases the strength and endurance of delicate, nervous folks 200 per cent. in two weeks' time.

NEW YORK, N. Y.—Not long ago a man came to me who was nearly half a century old and asked me to give him a preliminary examination for life insurance. I was astonished to find him with the blood pressure of a boy of 20 and as full of vigor, vim and vitality as a young man; in fact a young man he really was notwithstanding his age. The secret he said was taking iron—nuxated iron had filled him with renewed life. At 30 he was in bad health; at 46 careworn and nearly all in. Now at 50 a miracle of vitality and his face beaming with the buoyancy of youth. As I have said a hundred times over, iron is the greatest of all strength builders. If people would only throw away patent medicines and nauseous concoctions and take simple nuxated iron, I am convinced that the lives of thousands of persons might be saved, who now die every year from pneumonia, grippe, consumption, kidney, liver and heart trouble, etc. The real and true cause which started their diseases was nothing more nor less than a weakened condition brought on by lack of iron in the blood. Iron is absolutely necessary to enable your blood to change food into living tissue. Without it, no matter how much or what you eat, your food merely passes through you without doing you any good. You don't get the strength out of it and as a consequence you become weak, pale and sickly looking just like a plant trying to grow in a soil deficient in iron. If you are not strong or well you owe it to yourself to make the following test: See how long you can work or how far you can walk without becoming tired. Next take two five-grain tablets of ordinary nuxated iron three times per day after meals for two weeks. Then test your strength again and see for yourself how much you have gained. I have seen dozens of nervous, run-down people who were ailing all the while, double their strength and endurance and entirely get rid of all symptoms of dyspepsia, liver and other troubles in from ten to fourteen days' time simply by taking iron in the proper form. And this after they had in some cases been doctoring for months without obtaining any benefit. But don't take the old forms of reduced iron, iron acetate or tincture of iron simply to save a few cents. You must take iron in a form that can be easily absorbed and assimilated like nuxated iron if you want it to do you any good, otherwise it may prove worse than useless. Many an athlete or prizefighter has won the day simply because he knew the secret of great strength and endurance and filled his blood with iron before he went into the affray, while many another has gone down to inglorious defeat simply for the lack of iron.—E. Sauer, M. D.

NOTE.—Nuxated Iron, recommended above by Dr. Sauer is not a patent medicine nor secret remedy, but one which is well known to druggists and whose iron constituents are widely prescribed by eminent physicians everywhere. Unlike the older inorganic iron products, it is easily assimilated, does not injure the teeth, make them black, nor upset the stomach; on the contrary, it is a most potent remedy, in nearly all forms of indigestion, as well as for nervous, rundown conditions. The manufacturers have such great confidence in Nuxated Iron that they offer to forfeit $100.00 to any charitable institution if they cannot take any man or woman under 60 who lacks iron and increase their strength 200 per cent or over in four weeks' time, provided they have no serious organic trouble. They also offer to refund your money if it does not at least double your strength and endurance in ten days' time. It is dispensed in this city by Boyce Drug stores and all other druggists.

JAPAN PAYS HONORS TO BISHOP HARRIS

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)

Tokio, March 10.—Unusual honors were paid to Bishop Merriam C. Harris of Korea, before his departure from Japan for the United States. It is understood that the bishop, who is the head of the American Methodist Episcopal mission in Korea, will retire, but friends and admirers have agreed to provide a residence at Kamakura-by-the-sea if he will return to live here permanently.

Among the prominent men present at a farewell dinner were Baron Ishii, the minister for foreign affairs, George W. Guthrie, the American ambassador, and Viscount Kaneko. Baron Ishii in the name of Emperor Yoshihito conferred upon the bishop the second order of the Sacred Treasure and at the same time eulogized the veteran missionary's work in Korea. Ambassador Guthrie likewise made a speech of appreciation of the bishop's labors.

METHODIST CONFERENCE

Quadrennial Session of General Conference Meets Next Monday.

Will Consist of Eight Hundred Ministers and Laymen.

Saratoga Springs, N. Y., April 28.—On the morning of May 1 there will convene in Saratoga Springs, the twenty-seventh delegated quadrennial session of the general conference of the Methodist Episcopal church. This delegated body of over 800 ministers and laymen in equal numbers meets every four years to review the work of the church and to revise and add to its legislation. The general conference is made up of delegates from the 133 annual conferences, the annual conference being the working unit of Methodism. These delegates are elected on a basis of one ministerial delegate for every forty-five, or fraction not less than two-thirds of forty-five, ministerial members in any given annual conference, the number of lay delegates always being the same for each conference as its ministerial delegates. Laymen were first admitted to the general conference in 1872, and in 1900 women were acknowledged as lay members. These lay delegates are elected at a meeting of one representative from each local church in each annual conference territory. For the past twelve months, as the annual conferences have met, delegates have been elected.

The First Conference.

The first general conference of American Methodism was held in Baltimore, Md., in 1792, at which all preachers in full membership of an annual conference were eligible. The first delegated general conference was held in New York city, May 1-22, 1812. At this conference the first Episcopal address, an utterance which has become of increasing importance, was delivered. This Episcopal address is now accepted as the official declaration of the church on important theological, administrative and social problems. At the general conference held in New York city in 1844, the agitation over slave-holding became so acute as to result in plans for separation between that section of the church in the North and the section in the South. The Methodist Episcopal church, South, was organized in Louisville, Ky., May 1, 1845.

Methodism began in America with the arrival of Philip Embury and Barbara Heck, Irish immigrants, who were enthusiastic in the propaganda of their faith. John Wesley, who was the founder of Methodism in England, remained at the head of American Methodism until the revolutionary war severed relationships between England and the United States. All of the preachers with the exception of Francis Asbury returned across the sea, whereupon, Sept. 1, 1784, John Wesley ordained Dr. Thomas Coke to be superintendent or bishop of the Methodist societies of the United States of America. There are now twenty bishops and seven missionary bishops serving the Methodist Episcopal church throughout the world. The former are elected by general conference and located for periods of four years each in cities which are designated episcopal residences. The latter are elected by general conference for continuous service in specific fields.

Organized at Baltimore.

The Methodist Episcopal church was organized at Baltimore, Md., at the so-called Christmas conference, Dec. 24, 1784, to Jan. 2, 1785. At that time there were 104 preachers and 18,000 communicants. There are now over 15,000 preachers and 4,033,123 members. In the early days of the Methodist church the salary of a preacher was $64. If married, he received the similar amount for his wife, with $16 for each child under six and $22 for each child between 6 and 11.

Among the important matters that will come before the general conference are the questions concerning organic union with the Methodist Episcopal church, South, which has been under discussion with both of these important branches of Methodism for some time; the question whether the church shall elect bishops for races and languages; the election of bishops to take the place of those who have died during the last four years and those who will retire from active service automatically by reason of this session being nearest to their seventy-third birthday; the election of editors for the church press, which includes the Methodist Review, the numerous weekly Christian advocates, the Epworth Herald, and the Sunday school publications of the church; the election of corresponding secretaries for such church boards as the board of foreign missions, the board of home missions and church extension, the Freedmen's Aid society, the board of education, the board of Sunday schools, etc.; the election of publishing agents (administrative heads) of the Methodist Book Concern, etc.

DISARMAMENT FOR NORWAY PROPOSED

Bill Is Introduced in Parliament By the Socialist Faction.

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)

Christiania, April 11.—Complete disarmament for Norway is called for in a bill which has been introduced in parliament by the Socialist faction of that body. This measure asks the government to frame and pass as soon as possible a resolution or bill providing for the abandonment of the whole army and navy. It also asks that all treaties between Norway and other countries, which might possibly be a hindrance to complete disarmament, be either altered or replaced by new treaties, and that treaties providing for arbitration in all controversial questions be secured with all foreign nations.

This bill is in accordance with the program of the Norwegian Socialist party, which during the last election, advocated disarmament irrespective of whether other nations would disarm or not. Since the Socialists control only one-third of the assembly the bill now pending will not be passed this session, but if they should get control of parliament at the next election, a bill of this nature undoubtedly would be passed and become a law.

EMPLOYMENT BUREAU FOR GERMAN FACTORIES

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)

Copenhagen, April 10.—An employment bureau has been established here for twenty large factories in Germany. Contracts are made for two months with traveling and passport expenses. Wages are about 35 cents an hour, the working day usually consisting of from ten to twelve hours. The bureau has already secured 400 workmen.

DRIED EGG INDUSTRY

Is Permanent One Because It Meets Distinct Economic Need.

Results of Study of Problem By Department of Agriculture.

Washington, April 28.—The frozen and dried egg industry, declares a new publication of the department of agriculture, is a permanent one because it meets a distinct economic need. Many eggs which could not stand long shipments may be preserved as wholesome food by freezing them out of the shell or by drying. In the beginning, however, there was a natural popular prejudice against the business, which was increased by the ignorance and carelessness of some of the pioneers. It was under these conditions that the department of agriculture undertook a study of the problem in order to lay the groundwork for a scientific preparation of an extremely perishable product. Some of the results of this study have just been published in a professional paper, Bulletin No. 224, "A Study of the Preparation of Frozen and Dried Eggs in the Producing Section."

"Seconds" and Bad Eggs.

The eggs commonly used by reputable firms for breaking are small or oversized eggs and dirty, cracked, or shrunken eggs. To the trade these are known as "seconds." They are not to be confused with eggs that are unfit for human use, such as the classes known as black, white, mixed, and sour rots, green whites, eggs with stuck yolks, musty and moldy eggs, blood rings, etc. These should be rejected entirely or else used for tanning purposes only. Eggs with a bad odor should be rejected absolutely.

Careful candling before the eggs go to the breaking room is one of the principal points upon the importance of which the new bulletin insists. Careful candling is not only necessary to prevent the use of unfit eggs, but it will also prevent the waste of a number of perfectly good eggs which might otherwise be rejected. In order to insure that the eggs are well candled the bulletin recommends some system by which the work of individual candlers may be checked. Eggs that it is found difficult to grade should be set aside by the regular candlers for examination by an expert. Furthermore, the eggs should be graded again when out of the shell, for certain kinds of infection can only be detected when the eggs have been broken. When grading eggs out of the shell, only two grades should be recognized—food eggs and tanner's eggs.

Great Speed Undesirable.

While it is desirable, from a financial standpoint, that the breakers should work with rapidity, too much speed is not to be desired because of the danger that unfit eggs may be included with good ones before the breaker can detect the difference. When this happens, no attempt should be made to save the good eggs. In practice, it was found that in order to prevent waste and to insure good grading, no more than three eggs should be broken into a cup before it is emptied. It was also found that from twelve to sixteen eggs a minute is as rapid work as can be done satisfactorily. Even this is not possible if the breakers are permitted to talk or their attention is distracted from their work in other ways.

The bulletin also discusses in some detail the measures necessary to secure cleanliness in egg-breaking establishments.

Separate Rooms Required.

It emphasizes the necessity for separate rooms for chilling, candling, breaking, freezing and drying the eggs. Each should be maintained at a definite temperature by artificial refrigeration. A room for washing and sterilizing the utensils should adjoin the breaking room. When a bad egg is found, all apparatus contaminated by it must be exchanged for clean, and the hands of the operator washed before beginning work again.

The production of frozen and dried eggs, it is said, is primarily an industry for the egg-producing sections. Many eggs that now reach the large consuming markets in a totally unfit condition could be saved and a large portion of the annual waste eliminated if they were treated in time.

FOR REGULAR SUPPLY OF STEEL FOR JAPAN

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)

Tokio, March 20.—Kojiro Matsukata, president of the Kawasaki Shipbuilding company of Kobe, is going to the United States to open negotiations with American steel companies for a regular supply of steel for Japan.

Representing all the shipbuilding interests of Japan, Mr. Matsukata will also visit England to negotiate with the British government for the abolition of the ban on steel shipments and on his way home he will visit Italy to study the building of submarines. It is hoped to construct Japanese submarines entirely at home. Instead of depending on foreign countries.

MONACO LOSES GUARD OF HONOR

Recruited From Abroad and All Now With Own Countries.

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)

Monte Carlo, April 10.—The old Guard of Honor of the Prince of Monaco, four officers and eighty-two men, which constituted the military force of the principality in pre-war times, has disappeared since the European war came, for the whole gendarmerie of Monaco was recruited from abroad, and the members were all either Frenchmen or Italians. They have now been called to the colors of their respective countries, so that neutral Monaco found itself suddenly without adequate protection. Then the people volunteered their service, but to prove their independence as well as their dislike for militarism, they wear no uniform, merely their ordinary civilian costumes and a red and white woolen armlet.

In front of the main entrance to the palace stands a sentry, a 16-year-old boy, leaning on an old pattern rifle, its fixed bayonet towering several feet above his head. He is dressed in a nondescript tweed suit, very baggy at the knees, and wears no cartridge belt, merely the red and white armlet.

Yet Monaco is not entirely neutral. Many of its youth have entered the French foreign legion, and the heir-apparent, Prince Louis, holds a commission in a French regiment.

HOT ELECTION IN MANILA IN JUNE

Municipal Board of Ten Members to Be Chosen By City.

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)

Manila, P. I., March 15.—The municipal government of Manila will undergo a radical change as a result of the city elections which will be held June 6, interest in which has already developed so far that there are seventy-five candidates for the ten positions of members of the municipal board, which is to be elected. While heretofore the general mass of the Filipino people have paid little heed to elections, each year has shown a growing interest, and the coming local contest will be one of the most exciting political campaigns that the city has known since the American occupation.

The new city charter passed by the legislature at its last session calls for the election of a municipal board of ten members. Heretofore this board, which has consisted of six members, has had only two direct representatives of the people, the other members having been the alcalde or mayor, appointed by the governor general, two other members appointed by the chief executive and the city engineer as a member ex-officio. The new charter requires the election of all members, not by districts, but by the city at large. In addition to the board, but not a member of it, there will be an alcalde, appointed by the governor general, and his office will closely resemble that of the mayor of the average American city.

Some of the numerous candidates for places on the board are men who have mingled in the political game here since the first days of American occupation, but there are many newcomers, with new ideas and ideals of political service. In some respects the election will mark a battle between the old and the new, a struggle between the generation which has ruled Filipino politics for many years, and the generation which has barely come to maturity, the youth of the country.

BIG TAX IN HOLLAND ON ALL WAR PROFITS

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)

The Hague, April 10.—According to the war profits tax bill that has now reached the Dutch parliament, 30 per cent of all such profits beyond the first $800 will have to be turned over to the state.

This means that every Dutchman or Dutch company making war profits of say $2,000 will pay 30 per cent on $1,200 of this, or $360, into the public treasury, and so on. The tax is to be levied as from Aug. 1, 1914, the increase in income being reckoned by a comparison with the twelve months preceding that date. Imprisonment penalties are provided for incorrect declarations of income and falsified balance sheets and books.

THE FRENCH LIKE OUR COLD STORAGE BEEF

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)

Paris, April 10.—"Frigo," as the French call American cold storage beef, has taken so well in France that its popularity has, for the time being at least, defeated the purpose of its importation—that is to say, the easing of retail prices of meat. The mayors of several suburban towns having expressed the wish to follow the example of their Parisian colleagues and organize retail stores for the sale of refrigerator meat, were informed that they must go slow, as the imported article is rare. Many butchers who resisted its introduction at first are now selling it at the same prices as fresh meat; in some cases it has brought even more. The authorities are taking the matter up and propose to fix maximum retail prices.

INDIAN RUPEE BEING USED IN EGYPT NOW

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)

Cairo, Egypt, April 2.—The Indian rupee has just been made legal tender in Egypt, and large quantities of the coins have been brought into circulation.

There has for some time been a shortage of silver and other change in Egypt owing to the great influx of troops. A considerable quantity of newly-minted Egyptian coin was brought from England last year, but it proved insufficient to meet the local demand. Some of the consignments brought from England were lost at sea, and since it would take some time to replace them, the Egyptian government decided for a time at least to use the Indian rupee, large quantities of which are available. The innovation is only a provisional one until sufficient new coin can be minted in England and sent out.

NEW PACKING HOUSE AT SOUTH ST. PAUL

St. Paul, Minn., April 28.—Armour & Co., it is announced here, will build a packing plant in South St. Paul to cost from $1,500,000 to $2,000,000. Work on the foundation of the structure, it is said, will begin in ninety days. Twenty-five acres of ground have been obtained for the plant.

Indigestion May Be Due to Constipation

Neglect of Important Function May Seriously Impair the Health.

There are many people who believe they suffer from indigestion when their discomfort really is due to a constipated condition.

Bloat, with its attendant mental depression, sick-headache, the belching of sour stomach gases, etc., are frequently due to inaction of the bowels. Relieve the congestion and the trouble usually disappears. The use of cathartics and purgatives should be avoided, however; these shock the system unnecessarily and, at best, their effect is but temporary. A mild laxative is far preferable.

The compound of simple laxative herbs known as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin and sold in drug stores for fifty cents a bottle, is highly recommended. Mr. Benj. Bassin, 360 Madison St., Gary, Ind., thinks Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin a wonderful medicine; for four years he had a severe case of indigestion and constipation before trying Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which he is glad to recommend to all who suffer with stomach and bowel trouble.

BENJ. BASSIN

A bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin should be in every home for use when occasion arises. A trial bottle, free of charge, can be obtained by writing to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 45 Washington St., Monticello, Ill.

SEEDING GENERAL IN NORTH DAKOTA

Fargo, N. D., April 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—Seeding operations have begun in almost all parts of the state and only the Red river valley is in such shape that the work has not yet been undertaken. From Casselton west along the Northern Pacific seeding is being done and it is believed that with a few more clear days this work can be undertaken in the valley.

GOES THROUGH FALLS.

Wausau, Wis., April 28.—Frank Reidle of Mosinee yesterday successfully guided his launch over the dam there and through Little Bull falls and was carried a mile below the falls before he succeeded in landing on an island, after the engine of his launch had failed and the boat was hurled down the stream by the current.

During logging days Little Bull falls claimed many victims, and Reidle is the only person known to have gone through them alive.

river stretches from the highlands on the Minnesota side to the highlands on the Wisconsin side.

The people of French island, a community of several hundred whose settlement lies between the Mississippi and Black rivers were cut off from communication with the main land today when the water passed the road and bridge leading from the island to North La Crosse. Onalaska is still cut off with a foot of water over the wagon roads and railway tracks.

Vigilance Prevents Serious Loss.

Ceaseless vigilance and labor have prevented a serious property loss all the way from Winona to La Crosse. Day and night men are working on the railways, trains creep along, supplies have been removed from river warehouses, boathouses have been fortified and farmhouses in the lowlands and on the islands have been strengthened. Thousands of head of stock have been drowned, however, and the bodies of these, with the debris of buildings which have been taken out, are floating down stream.

Between La Crosse and Prairie du Chien, the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railway runs on the river bank on the west side and the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy on the east side, and interest after the next few days will be attached mainly to that section. It is believed here that the crest of the flood will be reached by tomorrow and that the river will begin to recede slightly by Sunday.

pected that arrangements will be made for the first conference in Juarez tomorrow.

Vested With Plenary Powers.

It was indicated that Gen. Obregon was vested with plenary powers by First Chief Carranza to effect an adjustment of the military situation along the Mexican border.

The Mexican minister of war held several conferences today with the military and civil authorities of the de facto government in Chihuahua, in which every phase of the situation was discussed.

Gen. Obregon made it clear that the Carranza government was in position thoroughly to police Northern Chihuahua and that the American troops, having fulfilled their announced purpose of breaking up the Villa bands, should withdraw. Some 40,000 Carranza soldiers stretching across Northern Mexico, from Sonora to Eastern Chihuahua, was his most potent argument.

Preceding the special train of Gen. Obregon by an hour was a troop train sent in advance as protection from possible surprise attack by Villa bandits.

All Juarez turned out to welcome Gen. Obregon. Troops lined both sides of Calle Comercio, from the railroad station to the customs house, where he and his party were escorted.

Gen. Gabriel Gavira, with his staff, dressed in field uniforms, with Andres Garcia, Mexican consul to El Paso, officially welcomed Gen. Obregon at the station. The war minister wore his field uniform of gray and a campaign hat of broad brim. He has only one arm, his right arm having been torn away by a Villa shell at Celaya.

Villa Bandits Fleeing.

Columbus, N. Mex., April 28.—Villa's scattered adherents are gradually being pushed to the wall, according to unofficial reports here today. These reports said that the remnants of the Villista army are fleeing wildly for cover, the men half starved and almost physical wrecks, with no thought but a haven of safety for rest.

Carranza Troops Withdrawn.

Field Headquarters, Namiquipa, April 28, wireless to Columbus, N. Mex.—Numbers of Carranza troops, which had been withdrawn, resumed today to points in the field south of Guerrero. The ostensible purpose of this movement, it was said, was to prevent combination of the adherents of Carranza and Villa factions against the Americans. It is known that some agitators have been exhorting the populace of the section to resist the American troops, and Col. George A. Dodd recently discovered the sentiment of the people to be very bitter.

Marching Orders Received.

Columbus, N. Mex., April 28.—Marching orders were received today by approximately one-half of the number of soldiers on station here. These troops, largely cavalry, will probably cross the border to reinforce Gen. John J. Pershing late this afternoon.

It is believed the troops are to be stationed along the American line of communications, extending from Columbus to San Antonio, about 325 miles south of the frontier.

Military officers said there is no connection between the impending dispatch of the reinforcements and the reported arrival of four trainloads of Carranza soldiers in the Guerrero district.

with the principal fighting apparently around Hulluch and Loos.

Irish Regiments Praised.

The Irish regiments are given special mention for bravery in a counter-attack which drove the Germans out of a section of trenches where they had gained a footing with the help of gas and artillery curtain of fire.

The communication closes with an account of the aeroplane activity, including a description of a fight between a German "two-seater" and a British "one-seater" resulting in the death of both German aviators and the destruction of the machine, which fell from a height of 14,000 feet.

Of the work of the Irish regiment the communication says:

"This morning the enemy discharged gas from trenches south of Hulluch.

"Later a second gas cloud was released from about the same place and after a heavy bombardment the enemy gained a footing in our front and support lines east northeast of Loos.

"A counter-attack by our Irish troops took place within half an hour and the enemy was driven out leaving many dead in our trenches.

"The enemy also advanced from trenches just south of Hulluch, but this was enfiladed by our machine guns and many corpses were left in front of our trenches. A few Germans reached our lines but were driven out."

MAN BURIED ALIVE IN MOLTEN METAL

Chicago, April 28.—A coroner's investigation into reports that a man had been buried alive in 100 tons of molten steel at a steel plant in Gary, Ind., near here, is under way today. Information came to the coroner yesterday that two men were dead and a third in a critical condition as the result of an explosion at the plant Sunday.

It was said three men were at work in a pit under an open hearth when an explosion allowed 100 tons of molten metal to run into the pit. Two of the men are known to have escaped from the pit, one of whom has since died and the other is seriously injured. The third man has not been found and it is reported that he was encased by the metal as it solidified.

HOUSE CAUCUS FAVORS BILL

Washington, April 28.—Democratic leaders of the house apparently were confident today of the passage of the Philippine independence bill as a result of the action of the party caucus last night.

House Democrats in caucus last night approved by a vote of 140 to 35 the senate's Philippine independence bill, but agreed to permit an amendment in the house to the prohibition section of the measure. Twenty-eight members announced that they would not be bound by the action of the caucus.

The vote came after the caucus had been in session until nearly midnight. Opponents of the bill fought vigorously to prevent action, as they did successfully Wednesday night, in spite of the reading of a letter from President Wilson giving the measure unqualified indorsement.

STREET CAR RUNS WILD; ONE KILLED

Becomes Unmanageable at Cincinnati; Races Down Hill and Jumps Track.

Cincinnati, April 28.—A doubletruck Vine-Burnet street car, crowded with men, women and children, became unmanageable as it was approaching McMillan street yesterday, ran wild on a down grade for six blocks, jumped the track, crashed into a telegraph pole and caused the death of one woman and injury to thirty-eight others.

Miss Carrie Stilger, aged 31, an attendant at the Cincinnati General hospital, was beheaded. She was to have been a bridesmaid last night at the wedding of Miss Carrie Geisler, who was with her on the car. Miss Geisler was seriously, although not necessarily fatally injured.

Physicians at the various hospitals to which the injured were taken hurriedly, announced that probably twenty of the injured were in a serious condition, some possibly fatally hurt, although the exact extent of their injuries could not be determined definitely for a day at least.

The car was crowded and Motorman Thomas Devanney in a statement to the police said he first noticed that his brakes were out of order when he attempted to slow down to throw the switch at McMillan street. The brakes did not respond and he could not help allowing the car to run past the switch and onto Highland avenue. There is a steep down grade at this point. The car took this down grade with ever-increasing speed, and was going at a terrific pace when it reached a turn in the track at Dorchester avenue. Its velocity carried it off the track and against a telegraph pole.

Eleven city ambulances hurried the injured to hospitals while another removed the dead woman to the morgue.

POLICEMEN OBJECT TO WORK OF DEPUTIES

Pittsburgh, Pa., April 28.—Nine policemen making up the borough force at Wilmerding, where the Westinghouse Airbrake company's plant is closed because of the strike of electrical and munitions workers in the Turtle Creek valley, notified their chief today that they would resign unless the deputy sheriffs were removed. They said they had no objection to the deputies remaining at the works, but they did not want them patrolling the town.

WALKER HAS PASSED LICENSE ORDINANCE

Walker, Minn., April 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—Walker, although in the Indian treaty territory, is to have saloons, according to an ordinance just passed by the village council. The license fee has been placed at $500 and covers the sale of liquors, malt and mixed intoxicants. No license will be issued for a shorter term than one year and no refund will be made by the village for any unused portion of the license should any licensed place be closed by either government or state before the expiration of the year for which the license runs. Pool halls and all "near beer" places will be obliged to take out a license under this ordinance and any violation of the ordinance will be punishable by both fines and imprisonment. The council recognizes that Indian agents are unsuccessful in prohibiting the liquor traffic here, and the granting of licenses is presumed to give the village more power in controlling the liquor situation.

Cut With Own Ax.

Warroad, Minn., April 28.—John Wittmeier of Moranville, while cutting wood with a double-bitted ax, cut himself in the head very seriously and is under the doctor's care. He hit a clothes line, one edge of the ax striking him in the forehead, cutting a gash three inches long and clear to the bone.

Bumps Into Bridge Pier.

Baudette, Minn., April 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—The steamer Five Roses, owned by J. W. Collins of this place, ran into the pier of the International bridge on Tuesday and was badly damaged. The bridge tender, thinking the bridge was opened wide enough to allow the boat to pass through, did not open it as far as possible. Due to the swift current and narrow passageway, the boat was badly damaged.

TO GET DATA ON INDUSTRIES

W. N. Ryerson Will Study St. Louis County for Government.

Part of Nation-Wide Movement Started at President's Request.

A census of all the industries of St. Louis county will be made by William N. Ryerson, general manager of the Great Northern Power company of Duluth, for the purpose of informing Uncle Sam just what is the output of raw and manufactured products in this county.

The work is being done at the request of President Wilson, who desires to know the output of every industry in the United States so that every possible preparation can be made in the event of this country having to go to war.

A complete survey of all the manufacturing and producing sources in the country will be made, the country being divided into districts, and each state being a unit which, in turn, is divided into districts. The representatives of all the Gopher districts met this week in Minneapolis, Mr. Ryerson of this city being present.

Gathering Data at Once.

"Our meeting was simply a preliminary one," said Mr. Ryerson this morning. "It was just a get-together affair, and every district was represented. We formed a permanent organization and elected H. V. Winchell of Minneapolis, a mining engineer, chairman and secretary. I returned from Minneapolis yesterday and have since been busy collecting data from Col. Eva of the Duluth Commercial club and from heads of industries. I will also ask all of the civic and commercial organizations in all of the Mesaba and Vermilion range towns to help me in gathering data. I expect to have this ready to take with me to Minneapolis next Tuesday when the next meeting of the board will be held.

"The members of the board pay all of their own expenses. We have been instructed by the naval board not to retain copies of private information given to us, but to destroy all but the original sheets which must be sent in to W. S. Gifford, chief statistician of the American Telephone & Telegraph company.

"The board framed a letter, which I am sending out to all of the various organizations and heads of industries in St. Louis county."

CLERKS MUST FACE VOTERS

Legislative Act Extending Their Terms Thrown Out By Court.

Action of the 1915 legislature in extending the terms of district court clerks in thirty-two counties, among them St. Louis county, was annulled today when the state supreme court held the act to be unconstitutional. As a result all county clerks who were elected four years ago will not be permitted to hold over two more years but will conclude their terms this year.

The aim of the 1915 statute was to make the election of clerks of the district court throughout the state uniform and held in connection with the election for all other county offices, with the exception of the office of the judge of probate, whose term is fixed by the Constitution at two years. The legislators passed a law at the last session declaring that there shall be no election for the office of the clerk of the district court in 1916 of successors to clerks who were elected in 1912 for terms commencing in January, 1913, and terminating in January, 1917. The law further provided that such clerks should continue in office until January, 1919 and until their successors had been elected.

This, the supreme court says, constitutes an extension of the four-year term and is therefore unconstitutional as respects the office of clerks. There can be no holdovers, the court says, and an election must be held this year for those affected.

J. P. Johnson, clerk of the district court, is among the officeholders affected by the decision and will be a candidate for re-election at the June primaries.

WILL DRILL FOR ORE ON HIGHLAND RANGE

W. F. King, diamond drill contractor of this city, and a number of his associates residing in Minneapolis, will place a number of drills at work May 15 in the Highland range district, about twenty-seven miles above Two Harbors. The exact descriptions are 3 and 4, 54-11 and 28, 55-12.

Some time ago the owners drilled this land sufficiently to determine that there was plenty of iron ore there and the assays ran as high as 59 per cent. Near this property is land that was drilled eight years ago by the late John Morrow, John McGreevey and Duncan McLeod.

"Drill work which we did in the past has fully satisfied us that Highland range contains large bodies of ore and we intend to drill the entire three sections of land which we own there," said Mr. King. "I have associated with me some of the more prominent business men of Minneapolis. There is no question in my mind but what the drills will show all that we expect."

Mr. King is one of the best known drilling contractors in Northern Minnesota, having done much work on both the Mesaba and the Vermilion ranges.

EMPLOYMENT OFFICE FOR WOMEN UPTOWN

An amendment to the ordinance regulating the operation of employment offices in Duluth, so that an agency for women will be allowed outside of the restricted district, is being considered by Commissioner Silberstein, head of the safety division.

At present no employment agencies are allowed in the central business section, the district where they are allowed including the territory below Superior street and from Fourth to Seventh avenues west.

Women interested in employment offices have complained that it would be impossible for them to open offices near those now operating for men, and they have asked the safety head for a change in the employment office ordinance.

CHARMING GREETING CARDS FOR MOTHER'S DAY—14th OF MAY

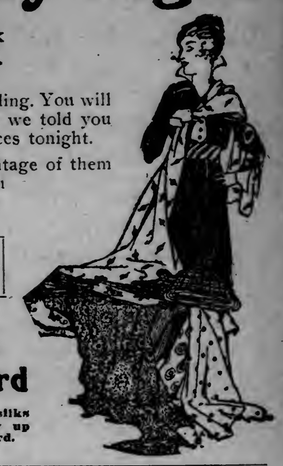
YOUR NEW GLOVES SHOULD MATCH YOUR COSTUME

You are wise when you buy gloves without delay—there's a scarcity of good qualities—next summer some wanted kinds may probably be unprocurable.

And you are especially wise to buy gloves here—the qualities are so satisfactory.

The Silk Sale Closes at 9:30 Saturday Night



SO COME EARLY TOMORROW. Any silk in these lots unsold at that time go back to regular prices Monday. There are big savings on all the silks offered in the sale.

Thousands of yards of silks, hundreds of different kinds to pick from—all of them taken from regular stock and up to the regular standard of Gray's good silks.

Not all of our silks are included, but the choice is broad and varied—you can find something to please you at a greatly reduced price tomorrow.

The west aisle is given entirely over to the silk selling. You will find it easy choosing in the various lots of which we told you yesterday. We will simply remind you of the prices tonight.

See what reductions are in force and take advantage of them before it is too late. Come in the morning if you can—it will pay and pay well.

NO APPROVALS. NO EXCHANGES.

Extra help to wait on you, nevertheless we will scarcely be able to take care of the crowds we will have tomorrow afternoon and evening—so come in the morning.

Paris Says—Ribbons! Ribbons!!

Ribbons for frocks and ribbons for hats. Ribbons for everything. Many charming effects are made with ribbons. Every width of ribbon is pressed into service from the tiniest, thinnest black velvet which encircles a white throat and falls in cascades in loops and ends to the waistline, up to sash ribbons almost half a yard wide used for girdles and flouncings.

Paquin has evolved a tailored suit of navy blue serge with many flouncings of black ribbon on the skirt. Each flounce a bit narrower than the flounce before.

For example, the flounce at the foot of the skirt is five inches wide, the last flounce at the hip is but an inch wide. The blue serge showing between the ribbons makes a mighty saucy skirt.

This gives you an idea of the use of ribbons in skirts and suits.

And on the spring hats, ribbons are used in all sorts of clever ways. Paris calls them "Cocardes"—in English we say Cockades. All sorts of fascinating shapes—wheels, wings, pompoms, apples, Mephisto leaves and flowers.

Come and see—this style news is very important to you because of our timely offering in rich new spring ribbons of many kinds, in many widths.

Especially attractive are the lots at 25c and 35c.

Your Brassiere Is Important

The Brassiere takes the place of the corset cover. Not only that, but it supplements the corset—it therefore requires the skill of the corset designer to produce an accurate brassiere.

WARNER'S BRASSIERES

are designed by the designers of Warner's Corsets, who understand perfectly the requirements of the human figure.

Warner's Brassieres hold the figure above the waist in smooth, natural lines. There are light styles for the slender, and more sturdy ones for the heavier figure. There are also models which have guaranteed washable dress shields attached.

But whatever type you require, you will find Warner's Brassieres trimmed and finished as daintily and attractively as you wish, in laces and embroideries—some are designed for you to embroider at home if you prefer.

Little Shoes for Little Feet

Royal Quality at Popular Prices

You will find such satisfying stocks of children's shoes here.

We try here and there and everywhere until we know just which maker makes the best shoes for children of various ages and for various kinds of wear.

For instance, one of our makers sends us a boy's shoe that excels anything else we know of in looks and wear to sell at $3.50 the pair.

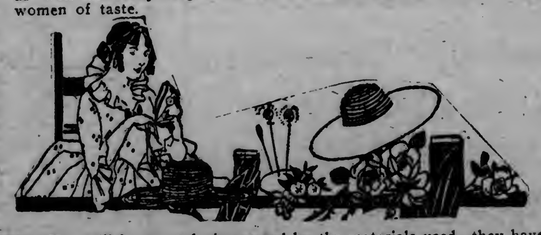
Another maker sends us some corking good boys' shoes to sell at $2.50 and $2.75. Each specializes pretty largely on the shoes we recommend.

From another maker we secure some girls' shoes to sell at $2.50 and $2.75, which look at least 50c better than their price—and from some other makers we get shoes to sell at $2.25 or less, and still other makers furnish us $3.00 and $3.50 shoes for girls.

So no matter which you want—a dress shoe or a school shoe, for little or big boys or girls, you will find the shoe you want at the price you ought to pay.

And no matter how busy we are we will take time to fit the little folks properly.

If you cannot come to the store with them you may safely send them here alone and we will feel in honor bound to do as well for them as though you yourself were with them.



There's An Individual Style in a Hat for You at Grays

There's such a satisfaction in coming to a Millinery Department which is operated as ours is.

You know our milliners are women of experience in catering to the wants of the discriminating trade. We maintain a big and busy workroom of talented trimmers and skillful makers who are ready and able to design a hat specially for you if you wish.

Their ability is particularly reflected in the many beautiful hats we have ready for tomorrow.

You will see copies of imported models and clever adaptations, as well as many original ideas which will appeal to style-loving women of taste.

You will be properly impressed by the materials used—they have the richness which appeals to you and this very richness makes it possible for hats to be moderately priced because it permits of a simplicity of trim impossible in using cheap materials.

There is no overloading of the hats at Gray's—in fact the trade appreciate the fact that Gray's milliners are close students of style and artists in its expression.

We cordially invite you to see the many new and charming hats fresh from our workrooms for Saturday selling.

Those priced at $8.00 to $12.00 are striking examples of high art milliners at moderate prices. Other styles in trimmed hats at $5.00 to $25.00, or we will make them to order for less or for more as you wish. We believe that you will try to come in the morning.

You certainly would if you saw how busy we were last Saturday afternoon and evening.

NEWS comes from Cleveland of the approaching marriage of Miss Frances Eells to Allan G. House, of Cleveland, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. E. House of this city. The wedding will take place June 3 at 4:30 at Trinity Episcopal church, Euclid avenue and East Twenty-second street.

Miss Eells, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Eells, will have as her maid-of-honor her sister, Miss Harriet Eells, who was a bridesmaid at the wedding Tuesday of Miss Oriana Stephens and Augustus C. Newell.

Other attendants will be Miss Eells' sister, Mrs. Robert H. Crowell, her sister-in-law, Mrs. Dan P. Eells, Jr., of Milwaukee, Miss Dorothy House, sister of the bridegroom, Miss Louise Scheerer of East Orange, N. J., Miss Rachel Wilson and Miss Janet Dodge, herself a June bride-elect, whose marriage to John N. Garfield takes place June 27.

Little Maude Eells, another sister of the bride-to-be, will act as flower girl. Arthur House will serve his brother as best man.

EVENTS OF TONIGHT AND TOMORROW.

Mrs. Alice Stebbins Wells of Los Angeles, the pioneer policewoman, will speak at 8 o'clock tonight at the Commercial club under the auspices of the Woman's council.

The spring party of the Assembly will be given tonight at the Spalding hotel.

A "homeseekers' excursion" will be given tonight at the Y. W. C. A. for members.

The educational committee of the Matinee Musicale has arranged a program which will be given at 8 o'clock tonight at the Jackson school.

The marriage of Miss Lois Trott and Walter Dacey will take place at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon at the rectory of the Sacred Heart cathedral.

Women in California Organize for Defense

Los Angeles, Cal., April 28.—Prominent society women here have organized for defense, and regular drilling has begun. In addition to the training for infantry service, there is a separate branch of the Women's Auxiliary to the Naval League of the United States, the members of which are learning to operate wireless in case any emergency might arise.

Miss Lucretia Del Valle, daughter of Former Senator R. F. Del Valle, enlisted in the first squad for infantry duty. Lieut. Neal C. Johnson of the National Guard is acting commander, and the city parks are being used as drill grounds.

At the head of the woman's auxiliary is Mrs. Randolph Huntington Miner, wife of a former officer in the United States navy and leader in exclusive circles.

Recruiting is proceeding rapidly with indications that this city will take the lead in the preparedness of its women.

Women Net Good Sum From Rummage Sale

The dental clinic committee of the Woman's council made $72 at the rummage sale that was held yesterday for funds to help run the clinic. The entire stock of clothing, most of which was for summer wear, papers and magazines were disposed of. News of the sale traveled far, and among the purchasers were several from Allouez.

Will Play Lead in Swedish Play

Miss Alphild Peacock of Superior, as "Ingeborg," will play the lead in "Nerkingarne," the Swedish play which the Linnaea club will give May 11 and 12. The part of "Ingeborg" requires a voice that can reach high C and Miss Peacock does this with ease.

Shakespeare Festival At Central High School

A Shakespeare festival will be given at Central high school about the middle of May. The setting will be the Forest of Arden and several appropriate scenes from Shakespeare's plays will be presented. The festival is being arranged by Miss Taylor, Miss Harris, Miss Hann, Miss Gemmel and Mr. Dickinson. Miss Hann has charge of the costuming, and Mrs. Dixon and Miss Wright of the music. Dances such as were popular in Shakespeare's day will be directed by Miss Stoughton.

Jackson School Program.

The educational committee of the Matinee Musicale has arranged a program which will be given at 8 o'clock tonight at the Jackson school for the benefit of the music fund of the school. Those who will take part in the program are Miss Gladys Magner, Miss Marian Worley, Miss Florence Hyland, Mrs. James F. Walsh, Miss Josephine Carey, Mrs. Harry C. Strong, Dr. F. A. Amundson and David Drummond. The school orchestra will play the opening number and children of the school will give a folk dance.

Larson-Halvorson.

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Larson of Rice Lake, Minn., announce the engagement of their daughter, Anna Helen, to John Albert Halvorson of this city. The wedding will take place May 7.

HIGH SCHOOL SENIORS WILL PRESENT DICKENS' STORY AS CLASS PLAY

Pearl Deatherage, "May Fielding."

Dora Mitchell, "Mrs. Fielding."

Daisy Macaskill, "The Cricket"

Betty Kyle, "Bertha."

Katherine Brick, "Tilly Slowboy."

Eleanor Currie, "Mrs. Dot."

Harry Haines, Stage Manager.

Norman Tufty, Business Manager.

Irving Auld, "Caleb Plummer"

Philip Bergquist, "Mr. Tackleton."

Allace Cowan, "Dot."

Willard Thorp, "John Perrybingle."

The final rehearsal for "The Cricket on the Hearth," the production to be presented at Central high school tonight and tomorrow night as the annual senior class play of the local institution, was held last evening, and all is now in readiness for the lifting of the curtain, when the 1916 thespians will exhibit their dramatic skill before what already promises to be one of the biggest crowds that has ever attended a senior play at the Central school.

The cast has been rehearsing diligently for the last month under the careful tutelage of Coach Lee C. Rasey. "The Cricket on the Hearth" is adapted from Charles Dickens' novel of the same name. The "Crickets' Song" to be interpreted by violins, is the melody that runs through the performance, and the high school orchestra and the Boys' Glee club will furnish the rest of the music.

The members of the cast and the parts which they will play are as follows: John Perrybingle, Willard Thorp; Dot, Allace Cowan; Bertha, Betty Kyle; Caleb Plummer, Irving Auld; Tilly, Catherine Birch; Mr. Tackleton, Philip Bergquist; Mrs. Fielding, Dora Mitchell; May Fielding, Pearl Deatherage; Old Gentleman, Donald Alexander; The Cricket, Daisy Macaskill.

For the Housewife's Eye

Some More or Less Valuable Information About the Retail Markets.

California asparagus, 20 cents a pound.
Wisconsin asparagus, 10 cents a bunch.
New cherries, 40 cents a pound.
Strawberries, 20 cents a quart box.
New Florida pineapple, 25 cents.
High school cucumbers, 30 cents each.
Seeds, 5-20 cents a package.
Broilers, $1.50 per pair.
Hens, fetch 28 cents a pound.
Fresh muckerel, 50 cents apiece.
Fresh halibut, 25 cents a pound.
Fresh Chinook Columbia River salmon, 30 cents a pound.
Squid, 15 cents a pound.
Frog legs, 15 cents a dozen.

New cherries, which probably haven't been on the market before in their whole lives, were most tempting this morning, being quite stylishly arranged in boxes, according to age and color. You can buy them in yellow paper bags, though, if you have no use for the box, or for so many cherries.

High school cucumbers are being sold by the yard—just like baby ribbon or town lots. They certainly do go a long way, but then they ought to for 30 cents, which brings to mind an economy which should be more thoroughly practiced, we think, and that is—seeds. Why buy all these expensive vegetables at high prices when for a paltry 5 cents you could buy a package of seeds and raise a whole bevy of the same—and work lots harder over doing it? Work is good for those that like it, and there is a certain amount of pride in raising something, even if it's only wild oats, and feeling that you have had a hand in it. Wild oats of course are not hard work, but think of the joy of bringing up a family of tomatoes, or turkeys, or something which needs constant nurturing and the tenderest of care. And consider the joy that would be yours, and the extra pin money that would be your wife's if you get out in a little garden and start something.

Broilers evidently feel the eternal call of spring, as they, too, are pairing off, and nothing—not even 75 cents—can separate them. There were also some nice, sturdy and reliable hens—you knew they were reliable because they looked as if they had been used to being depended on for some time, probably since they were girls. The kind man in the market had put some cute green little ferns across their chests—which really made them seem almost young again. Clothes do make such a difference.

The squid is an intelligent looking animal. It is an Italian fish, and as far as we're concerned, no international complications will arise over it, if it tastes like it looks. We're for America first—even in fish.

Events of Interest.

The assembly will hold its annual spring dance at the Spalding tonight and it promises to be one of the largest affairs of the spring season. A number of out of town guests are expected and an exceptionally good program of dances has been arranged by the committee in charge, which consists of Fred E. Wolvin, Lawrence S. Gordon, Laird Goodman and Wilbur F. McLean.

Hanson-Paulson.

Miss Agnes Eleanore Hanson and William Charles Paulson were married at 8 o'clock last night at the residence of the bride's mother, Mrs. Annette Hanson, 2013 West Fourth street, by Rev. H. A. Ostle of the First Norwegian-Danish M. E. church. Miss Sarah Paulson, sister of the bridegroom, played Mendelssohn's wedding march as the processional. Miss Nora Otterson sang "O Promise Me" and "I Love You Truly."

A color scheme of green and white was carried out in the decorations. Tall vases of Easter lilies were used about the rooms and the ceremony took place before an altar banked with ferns and lilies.

The bride wore a gown of white crepe de chine, made instep length. Her long veil was caught to her hair and fastened to her gown with sprays of lilies of the valley and she carried a bouquet of the same flowers and Bride roses. Miss Evelyn Otterson, the bridesmaid, wore a gown of pink crepe de chine with a girdle of pink satin. Her bouquet was of pink and white sweet peas. Little Clydis Sorenson, cousin of the bride, was the flower girl. She wore a white frock and carried a white basket of pink and white sweet peas. Donald Fisher, nephew of the bride, in a white suit, carried the ring in a lily. William George Hanson, brother of the bride, was the best man.

Mrs. Hanson, the bride's mother, wore a purple gown trimmed with lace. Mrs. Charles Fisher, the bride's sister, wore golden brown silk combined with Georgette crepe. Her corsage bouquet was of white roses.

The out-of-town guests were the bride's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fisher and their sons, Donald and Robert, of Minneapolis.

After the ceremony a reception for fifty guests was held. Assisting in the dining room were Miss Emma Iverson, Miss Alice Simonson, Miss Anna Burur, Miss Ogot Thygeson and Miss Mabel Christianson. Mrs. John Sorenson and Mrs. Otto Otterson assisted in serving.

Mr. and Mrs. Paulson will be at home at 105 Vernon street after May 15.

Efficient Housekeeping

BY Henriette D Crauel

For Day After Tomorrow

HAVE you ever had a cosmopolitan dinner on Sunday? If not, this would be a good time for it while we are trying hard to preserve our neutrality. The following menu has possibilities!

Soup a la Italienne
Spanish Olives English Wafers
Creamed Finnan Haddie
Yorkshire Pudding (Roast Beef)
Virginia Sweet Potatoes candied
Asparagus
Scotch Scones Canadian Maple
Tomatoes and Lettuce with French Dressing
Charlotte Russe Cafe au lait
Ginger Nuts

The soup, Italian style, we make with vermicelli or fine-cut noodles and put a little minced parsley in when it is done. A small dish of grated Parmesan cheese is often passed with this soup, as some diners like to sprinkle a little into it.

We will not have finnan haddie again until the fresh catch is caught and smoked; not until cold weather returns at least, so that a little of it, creamed and served on points of toasted buttered bread, will be enjoyed, for it is the fishiest tasting fish I know of.

Yorkshire pudding is nothing less than prime roast of beef, English style. Exceedingly rich it is, almost a meal in itself, but simple to prepare. Select a fine cut with considerable brisket on one side. Lay several hardwood (not pine), sticks across a dripping pan and place the meat on them, or lay it on a grating over the pan. The brisket side should be uppermost, or else lay suet over the top, so it will neither dry nor scorch in baking. Baste often, and about forty minutes before it is done mix the pudding.

One pint of milk, four beaten eggs, two cups flour, two teaspoons baking powder, one teaspoon of salt. This should make a batter not too stiff to pour. Pour the fat and meat juices in the dripping pan under the roast into another holder, leaving just enough to grease the pan. Pour in the batter and return to the oven, letting the dripping from the roast fall on the pudding. Baste the meat with the gravy you poured off to make room for the batter. When serving put the roast in the center of a platter and the pudding, cut in squares, around it. This is delicious.

You may prefer hominy to the sweet potatoes for the vegetable, and perhaps tomatoes in French dressing are not liked by your family. There are green vegetables galore on the market, so you can easily make another choice. Celery and cauliflower seem rather expensive, but when you remember that every bit of these good foods are edible the prices appear more reasonable. The Bermuda potatoes are sweet and tender, and when creamed or just dressed with salt, pepper and butter, seem too good to be this so-called common vegetable. Very early cherries look tempting, and will please housekeepers who do not like to make desserts on the Sabbath.

Bed Time Tales

Mrs. Mouse and Her New Home

A certain little Mrs. Mouse lived in a great, big office building—oh, a great big, big office building that was many stories high. And, moreover, she had lived there ever since the building was built. May be she came there in the first place because she could get such choice scraps from the workmen's lunch boxes; or maybe she just happened to drop into that particular building for an afternoon call—nobody knew but Mrs. Mouse herself just how or why she came. And you may be perfectly sure that she never told!

Anyway, she was there; and she thought the building a very nice place to live. But, through the building as a whole quite suited her, her own special home in a niche in the wall back of the office boy's desk didn't suit her one bit.

"I think I will have to hunt me a new nesting place," said Mrs. Mouse to herself one fine morning. "That office boy is so lively that I never can tell when I may run in or out of my nest! Such a location will never do for mice babies. They would be caught, or at least endangered, before they were one week old. I will go this very day and find a better place to live."

And with that brave resolution, she journeyed forth into the office.

But, dearie me! Home-hunting in a busy office is no easy matter—Mrs. Mouse soon discovered that! Men were coming and going; girls were pounding away on noisy machines on their desks, and there was so much confusion that Mrs. Mouse had to go slow indeed.

After nearly an hour's scurrying and hiding, she found herself in a room that was quiet and restful. "This is where I will make my nest," she decided at once. "I couldn't find a better place if I hunted all day." And then she looked around to see just exactly where the nest should be placed.

It didn't take her long to find a drawer in the great mahogany desk that had a loose board at the back—just the place for a nest!

So she brought to that drawer soft bits of lint, scraps of paper and choice crumbs.

And in that same drawer, some few days later, a whole family of baby mice were born. How glad Mrs.

She found herself in a room that was quiet and restful.

Mouse was that she had found a quiet, safe place for her babies to live!

"Nobody will bother us here!" she declared contentedly; "while out at the other home that office boy would not have given me one minute's peace!"

But Mrs. Mouse should not have been so sure no one would find her. For at that very minute the manager of the office was hunting in his desk for some papers he needed. "Look in that bottom drawer you seldom use," suggested his assistant, and the manager pulled open the drawer and found—Mrs. Mouse and all the babies! Maybe he wasn't as surprised as she was! But he shut the drawer and let her stay and she and her babies lived there for many a day.

Peggy Peabody's Observations

Braveness in the Pinch

It is not every man who is cast in heroic mold. There are many fair weather sailors floating serenely through life, who never awaken to their deficit until called upon suddenly to answer to the best or the worst that is in them. There are men and women in high places everywhere, morally responsible for the safety of the lives of others before their own, by virtue of their positions, who are not equal to any task that jeopardizes their chances of life, meaning life in its broad sense, not simply life in relation to death.

There is no way of proving the sort of stuff one is made of either until the summons comes. And though the world may not know it, many a son of Adam and daughter of Eve knows himself and herself for a craven coward, for they have been tried by fire and found wanting.

When you can find men and women who can be brave and helpful and withal clear-headed and calm in the face of much terror and suffering you have a type rare in human nature.

Many of us are brave in the face of physical danger when our own lives and the lives of one or two others are in peril. It is a far different story when pandemonium reigns supreme and a hundred or two hundred panic-stricken, screaming, battling men and women are fighting like insane beings for their chance of life, under the most horrible conditions.

The sea has always seemed to draw men of high moral and physical courage to her service, although we have frequently learned of heroes in all walks of life on land. Those who follow the sea have developed high moral and physical characteristics to a state bordering upon perfection. Men who follow the sea look upon the desertion of a ship by its commander as a crime. Most of them prefer death rather than life at such a cost.

The men who hold the throttles of the locomotives that pull our railroad trains in all sorts of weather and under the most trying conditions are governed by the same spirit or else we should have more serious accidents and a greater loss of life. You will find that brave men, and women as well, are distinctively a rare type in real life.

SIDE TALKS

By RUTH CAMERON

No Old Women

"There are no old women nowadays," the head of a beauty parlor in a big city said to me not long ago. "They don't let themselves grow old. They keep themselves up, keep their skins clear, dress their hair becomingly and look after their nails."

I looked about the beauty parlor and could well believe her. Of the dozen or so women who were having manicures several were not far from 60. A woman between 50 and 60 had just come out of one of the booths with her white hair piled in graceful waves. At the appointment desk, a woman of 60 or thereabouts was making an appointment for a facial massage.

This is, indeed, the day when old as well as young believe in making the most of themselves.

Grooming Makes Young and Old Easy to Look at.

And I am glad to see it. There is no reason why youth should have a monopoly of the good grooming which helps make people easy to look at. In fact, youth could do without that grooming better than middle age and old age, for youth is beautiful in itself.

But there is another side to the medal. Let me tell you about a woman who came into the parlor while I sat there.

She was unquestionably a woman of 60. She was dressed as if she were 35. Her white hair was coiffed with a messy elaboration of puffs. She was carefully corseted, but that could not conceal the fact that she was fat, with the gross fatness of those who lead lazy, useless, overfed lives. Her eyes were roving and restless, her mouth discontented. There was an indescribably hard look about her whole face. One could not imagine a natural smile alighting on those lips, it seemed as if it would have broken into fragments against the hardness of the face.

She Forgets to Keep the Wrinkles Out of Her Heart.

That woman is the other side of the medal. She stands for the class of women who have got the realities and the surface things of life mixed up, women who are so anxious to keep their faces young that they forget to keep their hearts and minds young.

She represents the ugliness and abnormality of arrested development as compared with the beauty of normal healthy development.

She is the kind of woman who doesn't like to have people know she is a grandmother, the kind who is jealous of the youth of her own children, instead of enjoying it and entering into a second youth through it.

She Has Confused Pleasure and Happiness.

She has mistaken pleasure for happiness all her life. That is why her mouth is so discontented and her eyes so restless.

As I said before, it is good for a woman, whatever age she may be, to make the most of herself, but making the most of one's self means not only keeping one's body well groomed, it means letting the mind and heart grow; it means keeping pace with the years instead of hanging back; it means mellowing through and through instead of hiding under a simulation of surface bloom a heart of dry rot; it means all the difference between aging youth awkwardly and growing old gracefully.

SEEK ROUTE TO SUBURBS

Traction Company Negotiates With Steel Company for Land.

Extension May Reach New Duluth Some Time Next Year.

Negotiations are now under way for the use of the Minnesota Steel company's property for the proposed street car extension to Gary and New Duluth.

City hall officials said this morning that representatives of the Duluth Street Railway company and the steel company were endeavoring to reach some agreement on the plan to use the plant property for the New Duluth extension. The tracks will be built this year to Morgan Park and the negotiations are under way to continue the line to New Duluth, without necessitating a long roundabout route. It is believed that the New Duluth stretch will be built next year.

J. W. Robertson, president of the Duluth Street Railway company, has presented the proposition to the steel plant, officials, who are reported to look favorably on the plan and to be willing to assist in any reasonable way. If these negotiations go through successfully, the line will run through Morgan Park, past the steel plant and cement plant buildings, to the New Duluth highway, turning south toward Gary and New Duluth along Commonwealth avenue.

Work on the Morgan Park extension is now under way, and it is expected that street cars will be running to the steel plant about June 1. In addition to the laying of this line this year, the traction company will lay new rails for the Grand avenue pavement and in all probability for the Woodland avenue pavement, should that improvement be ordered this year.

MANY BABIES ENTERED.

Brainerd's Baby Welfare Week to Be Next Week.

Brainerd, Minn., April 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—Baby Welfare week will be held May 4, 5 and 6. Over 100 babies have been entered. Merchants will make exhibits in the Citizens State bank hall. Babies from 3 months to 2 years, divided in five classes, have chances to win first and second prizes in the several classes. Dr. Washburn of the agricultural college will deliver an illustrated lecture. Dr. Taylor will speak and superintend the examination of babies. Local physicians will assist.

Brainerd's "Garden Club" starts out with 1,500 packages of Minnesota seed and 300 contestants. Vacant lots will bloom like the rose.

At special meetings held at the Swedish Christian Bethany church, Rev. John Daniels of Duluth, Rev. Nath. Franklin of Minneapolis and Rev. Carl Olson of St. Cloud will participate, assisting the local pastor, Rev. Theodore Clemens.

Deft fingers caressed and kneaded the dough and then baked the finest of bread and biscuits ever placed on exhibition in Brainerd, all the handiwork of the domestic science class of the Brainerd high school.

AMUSEMENTS

"OMAR THE TENTMAKER"

Another Rhymed Review

Omar is back, he's been here once before.
But let the latchstring stay outside the door.
You know how little while he has to stay,
And once departed may return no more.

Think not what will come to him eventually
Nor with tomorrow, this day's pleasures sully,
Tomorrow, why tomorrow he may be
In a new play by Richard Walton Tully.

When he did formerly frequent this busy mart,
We wrote some little quatrains 'bout his art,
And just to save the work of writing more,
We'll reproduce the same—in part.

* * *

So turn back the wheel of life a thousand years,
And share with him his laughter and his tears,
Ah, take the cash and let the credit go,
Nor heed the pratings of the drama's seers.

To laud the cup; cold reason to upbraid,
May serve to advertise the liquor trade,
But let us quarrel not with his philosophy,
Its appeal is to the morally decayed.

This poet gay, when starting on a souse,
Drank not for joy of the carouse,
But hoping in a godden shiftless way,
To deaden griefs his memories did arouse.

'Tis not in such a way that men should drink,
For 'tis immoral thus to court the clink
Of glasses. Drink for love of it instead—
('Twas Chesterton said this first, I think.)

So let him preach his quaint philosophy,
At times it borders more on sophistry,
View the play as just a highly colored tale,
And get amusement free from rough hilarity.

You in former years did frequently frequent,
Musical comedies that offered merriment,
You laughed, and yawned, and mentally
Came out of the selfsame door wherein you went.

But Omar does the seed of wisdom sow,
Though tares among his grains of knowledge grow,
And sugar-coated is his wisdom by deft art,
And gorgeous stage production. That's why we go.

We're glad that though an Oriental fakir
Parted Shireen from her Tentmaker,
The Vizier made good his vow, and Omar
For better and for worse did take her.

We're glad the Christian got away,
Just what became of him they didn't say,
But probably he reached fair Albion's shore,
And his sons are fighting Germany today.

And one there is amid this traveling host,
Whose art defies the captious critic's roast,
So just this once, friend Omar, we'll agree,
If it's on you, to drink to Guy Bates Post.

Ah, Mr. Post, could you and I conspire
To grasp this company of yours entire,
Would we not shatter it to bits—and then
Remold it nearer to the heart's desire?

But we'll not rail against the owner's strictures,
Nor carp at one of stageland's noted fixtures,
We'll overlook the way some yell their lines,
If you'll only not go into motion pictures.

But if like others, Omar, you should pass,
And take up silent drama, with the mass
Of many lesser stars, we'll mark your place
At Thespis' banquet and turn down an empty glass.

POPULAR SHOW AT GRAND.

Gallagher and Carlin in "Before the Mast" Head Diversified Bill.

The new show opening at the Grand theater yesterday was a decided improvement over the show for the first half of the week, and capacity audiences were well pleased with the vaudeville and photoplay offerings.

Gallagher and Carlin, in a breezy skit entitled "Before the Mast," were given a warm reception, and their comedy, while somewhat time-worn, went well. These two comedians have played in Duluth before and have always been popular attractions. The act is well staged and contains much wholesome humor.

E. J. Moore, with chatter and tricks of legerdemain, kept his audiences laughing and mystified for about fifteen minutes. He has a lot of fun with the orchestra and his audiences, and holds their attention throughout the act.

Maley and Woods in songs and dances put over a good act. The Flying Mayos, a man and a young woman, do some sensational performance upon the flying rings and trapeze.

Jack Mulhall and Vera Sisson are featured in a photodrama entitled "The Man Who Called After Dark," and the picture stands out as one of the best seen at the Grand in some time. Sis Hopkins in "The Fickle Fiddler's Finish," the Selig Tribune news events of international interest, and short comedy films complete the program.

Theater Gossip.

Because of the large audiences that have viewed the famous story by Rex Beach, "The Spoilers," at the Orpheum-Strand, arrangements were completed today to hold the picture over for Sunday also at the Orpheum-Strand. The famous de luxe edition of this picture in twelve reels will be offered to all school children on Saturday only at 10 cents, so that all the young people may have the opportunity of seeing this picturization of the popular novel.

"THE SPOILERS" TO HOLD OVER SUNDAY AT ORPHEUM-STRAND.

The screen production is presented with William Farnum, Kathlyn Williams and an exceptional cast, and is complete in every feature.

Marion Fairfax, an American dramatist, wrote "The Immigrant," especially for Valeska Suratt. It is a strong, appealing story of a Russian girl, who comes to America in the steerage to live with her sister. Jesse L. Lasky took the completed screen play and in his famous studios, selected the star who just fits the part of Masha, the immigrant girl, and all the other players who do their parts so well. Then with these, the story, the star and support of other actors, and his staging and lighting effects, he put the story on the film with a fine combination of acting and photography.

WORTHY PLAY AND PLAYERS IN LYRIC FILM.

The story is interwoven with American scenes both East and West, each chapter shown with all the advantages of good acting and fine staging effects.

One hundred genuine Russian immigrants appear in several scenes as steerage passengers on the vessel that brings the little immigrant girl. Those who saw the picture here previously, remember that it stood out as a notable success.

"The Immigrant" will be at the Lyric today and tomorrow.

Sadly bedraggled and ragged, Mary Pickford wearily opened the factory door, almost too heavy for her, paused before the time clock, punched it, wiped a tear from her half-closed eye, sighed and stumbled listlessly through the second door through which long lines of sewing machines could be seen.

Thus you have one of the many interesting scenes of "The Eternal Grind," Mary Pickford's latest motion picture, which comes for two days, Friday and Saturday, to the Rex Beautiful. Mary Pickford's appearance in the Famous Players-Paramount success, "The Eternal Grind," proves that with "Little Mary," each piece of work may be better than her last.

Three sisters live together in dire poverty, working in a factory owned by James Wharton. Mary, the sister-role enacted by Miss Pickford, is a capable, fearless girl, who assumed the responsibility of caring for her other sisters. Amy is a moral weakling and Jane is a chronic invalid. The story, thus shaped, with its many real tragedies shown so clearly that they bring tears to eyes uninvited, taxes the powers of the young woman who takes the leading role, but all who have seen it declare that it is the "triumph of all triumphs" for Mary Pickford.

"The Hero of Submarine D-2," with Charles Richman and Eleanor Woodruf in the stellar roles, will close its engagement at the Zelda theater with this evening's performance. This is a gripping story that holds throughout and is enacted by an all-star cast.

NOTED DETECTIVE FILM COMING TO ZELDA.

Coming tomorrow for one day, Bryant Washburn and Ruth Stonehouse will be featured in a mystifying detective story, "The Alster Case."

Who killed Cornelia Alster?

This is the baffling problem in this five-act mystery photoplay, which puzzles all spectators and keeps them keyed up with suspense and excitement to the very climax.

The drama is taken from the novel by Rufus Gillmore, author of "The Opal Pin" and "The Mystery of the Second Shot." The grim finger of suspicion points at five persons. You are sure it is one and then another who committed the crime. Then comes the great denouement, revealing the real slayer.

FREE LECTURE ON PHILOSOPHY

Duluth friends of L. J. Hopkins, formerly of Duluth but now a resident of Chicago, are looking forward to his lecture this evening at the First Unitarian church, Eighteenth avenue east and First street.

Mr. Hopkins, since his retirement from active business, has devoted himself in the study of philosophy and psychology. He has frequently been called upon to deliver supplementary lectures at the University of Chicago, and is looked upon as one of the leaders in philosophical thought in the West.

The lecture this evening will be on "The Religious Aspects of Modern Philosophy." It will be free, and anyone interested in the subject will be welcomed.

Previous to the lecture, which will begin at 8 o'clock, the Men's Club of the Unitarian church will give a dinner, at which Mr. Hopkins will be the guest of honor.

LOSES CAR WHILE AT CLUB DINNER

While Austin Mendenhall, 219 Twenty-ninth avenue west, was attending a Rotary club dinner at the Endion M. E. church, Nineteenth avenue east and First street, last night, thieves took his automobile.

When the last toast had been given, and the last course served, Mr. Mendenhall left the hall, only to find that he would have to take a street car or walk if he was to reach home.

Police started a search for the stolen machine, and it was recovered on Nineteenth avenue east, between Eighth and Ninth streets, shortly after 2 o'clock this morning.

Sergeant John Englert, with Driver Mark Stewart, noticed the abandoned car and investigated. A short examination proved that it was Mendenhall's auto.

TODAY IN HISTORY.

James Monroe born, 1758.

Born Westmoreland county, Virginia. Studied at William and Mary college interrupted by his enlistment in the Revolutionary army. Served at Harlem Heights, White Plains, Trenton, Brandywine, Germantown and Monmouth. Elected to Virginia legislature, 1782; to congress of the Confederation, 1783-1786. Supported Patrick Henry in a futile opposition to the Constitution. In United States senate, 1790-1794, opposing the Washington-Hamilton administration; but Washington made him minister to France in 1794, whence he was recalled in 1796. Governor of Virginia 1799-1802; later minister to England, then to Spain. Elected governor of Virginia again 1811, but became Madison's secretary of state in the same year, and succeeded him in the presidency in 1816. Re-elected in 1820. The "Monroe doctrine" was announced during his presidency, which was known as "the era of good feelings." Died July 4, 1831.

MR. KELLOGG'S SPEECH.

Frank B. Kellogg of St. Paul, who is a candidate for the Republican nomination for United States senator, made the opening speech of his campaign in his old home in Rochester yesterday. He spoke a good piece, with a good deal of solid sense in it, and with some things in it that we can cordially agree with and others that we can as cordially disagree with.

For instance, while Mr. Kellogg's ideas of military equipment are not particularly extravagant, some of his reasoning is; and if his reasoning were to be accepted, the military program he favors is dangerously inadequate.

For Mr. Kellogg shares with Colonel Roosevelt and Mr. Congdon a fear of alien aggression after the European war that we believe to be supremely foolish. To the suggestion that no enemy threatens, Mr. Kellogg replies: "Two years ago war seemed as remote as at any time since history has recorded the doings of men." Yet a long process of armament and international intrigue for commercial, political and military supremacy had made war in Europe as inevitable as the rising of tomorrow's sun. All signs, even if all men did not see them, pointed to war. The stage was set for it, and all Europe was bent headlong toward the abyss of it. The Serbian affair was only a match to a train of powder leading to magazines ready for the explosion. Europe was thinking war, preparing for war, inviting war; so war came. The chief danger to this country of future wars lies in the triumph of such ideas as those Mr. Kellogg and Colonel Roosevelt are urging upon the American people—so far with poor success.

Mr. Kellogg's criticisms of the Wilson administration are simply what you might expect of an opposition party candidate. And they are very vulnerable.

For instance, Mr. Kellogg criticizes the Mexican policy of the administration. There has not been a day during the two years when Mr. Taft was carrying on the policy of watchful waiting or the three years when Mr. Wilson was carrying it on, when there was any alternative on earth to that policy except war with Mexico. Is Mr. Kellogg for war with Mexico?

As to Europe, Mr. Kellogg says: "We have not stood firm, as we should, for the protection of American citizens upon the high seas and the protection of American commerce with both neutral and belligerent nations."

What CAN he mean by this? Republican leader Mann and other Republican critics of the administration have lately charged it with being TOO firm in its demands upon Germany, and have accused it of plotting for war. Mr. Kellogg says it has not been firm enough. Yet there has not been a day when there was any alternative on earth to our policy toward Germany, which has jeopardized and destroyed the lives of American citizens upon the high seas, or toward Great Britain, which has unlawfully, as we believe, interfered with our commerce with neutral nations, except war. Is Mr. Kellogg for war with Germany or Great Britain? Or both? Or which?

With his alarms about foreign invasion he can find no sympathy at all. After this war no European nation will be able to plan or finance a conquest of this country, even if it dared so expose itself to its European enemies.

One thing Mr. Kellogg fortunately makes clear by his praise of Senator Nelson's lone stand for America and against cringing to alien influence: if elected he would not add one more to the list of slackers now representing Minnesota in congress.

Everybody, surely, will sympathize with his plea for an American merchant marine. It would have been a clearer plea, perhaps, if he had stated the means he favors to that end. We trust he is not for ship subsidies.

Mr. Kellogg's declaration for the budget system in national and state appropriations is intelligent and timely. His tariff views, though "regular," are fairly moderate, and the present tariff law, which he criticizes, is fairly well described by his specifications.

The general principle laid down here is capable of being construed, if taken broadly and if it had been at the beginning of his speech where it belongs instead of at the end, to take in the whole program of social justice, which is vastly more important than foreign relations and militarism, to which he gives first place: "We should strive for laws in the interest of social justice and a higher state of civilization; laws prohibiting child labor, which is cruel, inhuman and tends to degenerate the race; laws to maintain the independence, security and integrity of labor; and laws in the interests of the health, safety and morality of the people; FOR HUMAN RIGHTS ARE FAR GREATER THAN PROPERTY RIGHTS." We should interpret such a declaration to include minimum wage laws, minimum working-day laws, laws for old age pensions, insurance against sickness, unemployment, etc. Would Mr. Kellogg, who says it so well, interpret it so broadly?

There is wisdom, and wisdom sorely needed, in these words: "We are too apt to think that the mere form of government is a guaranty that we shall always enjoy liberty, prosperity and happiness. The blessings of democracy demand a corresponding vigilance, knowledge of principles, individual sacrifice and intelligent participation in public affairs. If we would maintain the purity and efficiency of representative government, if we would preserve our institutions and present liberty, we must exercise the prerogative of citizenship intelligently and vigilantly." That is a thought which every citizen should take home to himself.

Rather than a progressive with a brake on, Mr. Kellogg in his opening speech sounds like a conservative with a move on.

Senator Husting of Wisconsin seems to have found a more or less effective way of standing by the president.

CLEAN UP, PAINT UP, FIX UP!

By official proclamation Duluth's Clean-up and Paint-up Week begins next Thursday, May 4.

Are you ready for it?

Duluth is going to have thousands upon thousands of visitors this year—thousands more than it ever had before, what with conventions and the biggest year's summer tourist business on record. It ought to receive this company looking its prettiest. Clean-up and Paint-up Week is the essential foundation for it.

If you are impatient, of course you needn't wait. Conditions are ripe, and you can start in any time—the sooner the better. But if it is not convenient to start earlier, next Thursday get out your old clothes, the rake, the wheelbarrow, the paint brush and paint pot, and get busy.

DO IT FOR DULUTH!

In saying he is proud of his state and nation, Governor Burnquist announced a platform on which he has plenty of company.

AFTER THE WAR.

Seekers for tariff subsidies strive to ink the air with gloom over what Europe is going to do to us commercially after the war unless we "prepare."

For a change, listen to a man who is no subsidy seeker, but a trained, wise, cool and dispassionate financial expert, one of the best in the country—Alexander Dana Noyes, financial editor of Scribner's Magazine and of the New York Evening Post, speaking in Scribner's:

> The hard times in Europe will follow this war as they followed that of a century ago; but cheap European labor, which is necessarily the basis of the "economic invasion," is not a similar probability. The present war will end with the labor party holding the balance in parliament, and to a great extent dictating wages. A recent symposium of views of practical German business men, collected at Berlin, drew forth the unanimous prediction that, to enable the people to meet the heavy taxes imposed for war expenses, wages of labor must be either maintained or advanced, in spite of the fact that they are now unprecedentedly high. But a rise in labor cost does not pave the way to the "dumping" of low-priced competitive merchandise. And, in fact, one European industrial community, that of France, has already sent an expert commission to this country for the purpose of studying the best means of obtaining from the United States, after the war, the huge supply of materials needed for reconstruction of the devastated war belt.

How Europe can have a large part of its labor supply destroyed by war, undergo vast destruction of property that has to be rebuilt or replaced, shoulder an enormous and unprecedented tax burden, and still be in a position to offer dangerous commercial competition, is a thing that only those who are using every imaginable means to get tariff subsidies can see.

That report that there is a blue tiger in Asia won't stir even a passing interest in some minds unless there is also assurance that the beast cannot see.

THERE MAY BE TRAGEDY IN IT.

After all, when all's said and done, there may be the deepest kind of tragedy in the Roosevelt position just at present.

Suppose, for example, that the man is sincere in his attitude; that he is really patriotic—deeply and intensely so; that his one thought and ambition is, as he says it is, for the greatness and success of this country. And then suppose that he sincerely believes, as he seems to, that there really is no other person in the whole world except himself who can bring this country safely through its present perils and out into a glorious future. And then imagine the intensity of his grief, the fearful depths of misery into which he must be plunged by the realization that there actually are men who are striving to keep him from returning to the presidency so he can accomplish all this.

Can anybody deny that there is tragedy for him in such a situation?

Or suppose that he is firmly convinced that his own is the greatest name that has appeared on the pages of American history since the days of Lincoln, and at the same time realizes that when the history of these days is written, and the name of the United States of America stands out prominently in those thrilling pages, another than himself will be recorded as having been at the head of this great nation and as having guided it safely to its high destiny. Think of the sense of the injustice of fate that such a conviction and such a knowledge must bring him. Can anybody doubt that there is tragedy for him in such a situation?

Is Roosevelt perhaps entitled to more pity than has been shown him as yet?

It is announced that eighty-five per cent of the men in the navy are re-enlisting. Must be the navy isn't such a terrible place, after all.

LITERATURE THAT ISN'T WRITTEN.

Tell you what would be an interesting book:

What Judge Taft would say about Roosevelt if he had Roosevelt's vocabulary, Roosevelt's power of vindictive expression, Roosevelt's lack of delicacy, and Roosevelt's utter freedom from restraint of any kind.

Henry Ford somehow doesn't seem inclined to be the George W. Perkins of any political aspirant.

DISCOURAGING.

A man writes to the New York Sun to complain that the hardest worked phrase in the language is "The trouble is." "Talk with family, friends, neighbors—they all begin every other sentence with 'The trouble is.'"

Bert Taylor, who is a sort of language shark, as he was when he was writing pieces for the morning paper here, agrees with this and adds a complaint of his own:

> "Another hard worked phrase we have noticed is 'I see,' used by persons who are receiving telephonic communications. Perhaps it is confined to this office. Do you hear it in YOUR shop?"

Of course; and it is heard in every shop. But what's the use?

Recently enterprising persons, aspiring to serve humanity and vary the monotony of existence, strove to supplement this phrase with the more logical one, "I get you, Steve," with humorous disregard to whether or not the other party to the conversation were named Stephen, Clarence, Ole or Marguerite.

What did they get for it? Crushing rebuke for using slang! This is a cruel, hard world!

"The old canoe" may have been "beautiful and blue," as recorded, but it was a mighty treacherous affair, just the same.

A Garden From Clay

House and Garden: If clay is your garden's lot, turn attention to roses; specialize in the many kinds of this unrivaled flower which especially thrives in clay, and let the splendor of these compensate for the lack of variety in your flower garden. Certain bulbs may do well also; and perhaps certain other perennials; but it is hard to say just which ones. For myself, I have grown superb larkspur, splendid foxgloves, Canterbury bells beyond desire, spice pinks in unlimited quantities, dear old yellow day lilies—speciosum lilies, hardy pompon chrysanthemums, Sweet Williams, iris of the Germanica strain of magnificent quality—the Japanese not at all successfully—all kinds of roses in greatest abundance and of fine quality, and just one kind of annual—the California poppy. Daffodils and tulips also have done fairly well. Other bulbs die out.

Hollyhocks, phlox, shasta daisies, many of the other lilies, and practically every other flower in the list of possibilities, have lived to give me hope for a season perhaps—and then vanished from the face of the too hard earth. So I would suggest the plants named in the paragraph above as perhaps the only ones certain to live and give satisfaction in a heavy, clay soil of the yellow and particularly unfavorable type. This does not mean that these plants prefer this soil, by any means; but they have seemed to be able, with me at any rate, to adapt themselves to it—and that without any more care or fertilization than has been given to the other things that have died out.

It Was There.

Browning's Magazine: Prof. Physics—Now, young man, what is a vacuum?

Young Man—Why, er-er, well, it's in my head, professor; but I can't seem to think of it just now.

Rippling Rhymes

By Walt Mason

The Wicked War.

I bought a ton of shredded coal. "The price I've had to raise," remarked the dealer, as he dole, and checked his loaded drays. "The war in Europe makes things high, and you'll be passing wise, if you produce your wad and buy, before another rise." I went downtown to buy some ice, to use in place of coal; that dealer, too, had raised the price, and sprung his rigmarole. "The warring nations cannot find enough to cool their guns; they're buying all the ice that's mined, and still lack countless tons." I asked the baker for a pie, to feed my hungry aunt; he said, "The war has made pies high—" I cried, "Aroint! Avaunt! You merchants hand out whiskered lies, that you may boost the price; they are not shooting men with pies, or loading guns with ice. I don't object to being skinned, when sinkers I demand, but if you must use heated wind, produce a fresher brand."

The Platforms of 1912

Editorial in the San Francisco Bulletin.

Political platforms are like old love letters. Who would not shed a sentimental tear over that "covenant with the people," which the Progressive party drew up at Chicago on Aug. 7, 1912, amid such high hopes and such impressive enthusiasms?

"The conscience of the people in a time of grave national problems has called into being a new party, born of the nation's awakened sense of injustice."

Now it is expected that the new party will be called out of being, that the nation's awakened sense of injustice has been satisfied or has been put to sleep again or did not in fact exist.

"This declaration is our covenant with the people, and we hereby bind the party and its candidates in state and nation to the pledges made herein."

What was the covenant? An honest attempt "to establish and maintain equal opportunity and industrial justice"; to do this in place of the "old parties," who had, the Progressive platform said, "turned aside" and become "the tools of corrupt interests, which use them impartially to serve their selfish purposes."

The Progressive party covenanted with the people "to provide a more easy and expeditious method of amending the Federal Constitution"; to secure legislation prohibiting child labor, establishing the principle of one day's rest in seven, establishing the eight-hour day in continuous industries; to adopt a system of social insurance against accident, sickness, unemployment and old age; to destroy the tyrannical veto power of courts by subjecting certain judicial decisions to popular review; to do everything possible to replace war with "judicial and other means of settling international differences"; "to maintain for the present the policy of building two battleships a year."

When the Progressive platform came to deal with big business, with the tariff and with the development of commerce it dropped the strictly democratic attitude which it had assumed and proposed technical solutions which had nothing to do with its main purpose. It took its color from its program for social legislation. Its power was gained by its appeal to a restless body of democratic opinion, which found nothing congenial in either of the old parties. Its strength was greatest in those states of the Middle West which are characteristically non-militaristic and non-imperialistic; where, that is, the democratic tradition of American life still survives in almost its old vigor.

A comparison of this platform with the contemporaneous effusion of the unregenerate Republican party indicates that the principal difference was in spirit rather than in matter. The Republican platform did not refer to itself as a covenant, but it outlined a vague scheme of social legislation, denounced monopoly and privilege, promised to see what could be done to reduce the cost of living, and expressed itself as in favor of conservation, the parcel post, the restriction of immigration, and the abolition of "involuntary servitude" at sea. But these promises, in the Republican platform, had a cynical ring. In the Progressive party platform people—4,000,000 people, at least—believed them. Without a radical program the Progressives won a great many radical votes. The wind of freedom blew—partly by nature and partly by the aid of bellows and other artificial devices—through its every utterance.

What has become of this enthusiasm? Will it allow itself to be transfused into the pale veins of the Republican party? Will it drop social reform as an outworn philosophy and grasp a principle which is wholly foreign to its accustomed habit of thought? Will it join with its unreformed reactionary enemies in a scheme of militarism and imperialism?

These questions are asked as any impartial observer might ask them. Is the thing possible? Can the Progressive be rounded up and "delivered"? The answer, whatever it may be, will be a valuable contribution to the science of politics.

Health Insurance Next

The New Republic: Compulsory insurance of the worker against the mischances of sickness is the reform now in the order of the day. The institution is already established in Germany, Austria, Hungary, Luxemburg, Norway, Holland, Great Britain, Russia, Roumania, Serbia, Greece. When a social reform has won success in Russia and the Balkan states, one may suppose that it is about to receive a hearing in the United States of America. And now three of our chief industrial states, New York, Massachusetts and New Jersey, are discussing sickness insurance bills, under the more optimistic name, "health insurance."

These bills spring largely from a common source and are almost identical in terms. If they pass, the manual worker, or any other employe with salary under $1,200 a year, will be assured medical and surgical attendance and nursing through a period of sickness extending to six months; medical and surgical supplies up to a cost of $50, and money benefits equivalent to two-thirds of his wages for a period not longer than six months. In return for his advantages under the law, he will be forced to contribute, in the ratio of his earnings, towards two-fifths of the aggregate cost of insurance. His employer will contribute another two-fifths, and the remaining fifth will come out of the state budget.

Uniting the Family.

Youth's Companion: How many households have a family hour—a definite time in the week when all the members of the family gather in perfect serenity for an interval of genuine communion? Although civilization brings many advantages in its train, it has the great fault of tending to disrupt family intercourse. Each member has too many individual activities. Fathers have their business; sons, their business or education; mothers, their domestic duties or social occupations; daughters, their business, their education, or their social life.

All these things are right and worthy in themselves, but they do not tend to weld the family. If members of a family will make it a rule to devote themselves for one hour in the week wholly to one another, the spirit of family life will be quickened and strengthened. Often the members of a family pursue parallel courses that do not intersect. It is mere platitude to point out great events—travel, marriage, death and the like—must inevitably cause disintegration. But so long as the family is together under one roof, the spirit of union and common interests should be fostered.

Old Dog Tray.

The morn of life is past, and evening comes at last;
It brings me a dream of a once happy day,
Of many forms I've seen upon the village green
Sporting with my old dog Tray.

Chorus.

Old dog Tray's ever faithful,
Grief cannot drive him away;
He's gentle, he is kind; I'll never, never find
A better friend than old dog Tray.

The forms I called my own have vanished one by one,
The loved ones, the dear ones, have all passed away;
Their happy smiles have flown, their gentle voices gone,
I have nothing left but old dog Tray.

When thoughts recall the past his eyes are on me cast,
I know that he feels what my breaking heart would say;
Although he cannot speak, I vainly, vainly seek
A better friend than old dog Tray.

—Stephen Foster.

Political Straws in the Minnesota Breezes

Campaign Subjects Discussed by Minnesota Editors.

Something Is Going to Drop.

One thing that is bound to cut a large figure in the June primary is that vote of the Minnesota delegation on the Gore and McLemore resolutions. The Cass Lake Times brings it up thus: "Minnesota has another serious job on her hands at the next election in providing for an entire new congressional delegation, except one who has shown his mettle and statesmanship too clearly to be discredited. The time has gone by when political gerrymandering will serve for patriotism and in the future the voters would know before casting the ballot whether they are voting for AMERICANS who are loyal to their own country, or nondescript politicians who care more for future possibilities of a return than for the honor and integrity of the American flag. Every member of the lower house will be on the defensive when the time comes to ask for approval, and every one should receive the rewards he has earned."

Suspicious—and No Wonder.

Some people are suspicious of the ex-leader of the Bull Moose herd. The Ada Herald, for instance, says: "Do you notice that all of the bankers are lining up for Roosevelt? They may not have received their orders from Wall Street, but it looks mighty suspicious."

For Appearances' Sake, Anyway.

Frank Day in the Fairmont Sentinel offers this advice: "The newspaper that flayed Roosevelt to a fare-you-well in the last campaign and is now crawling on its belly to him had best be a little careful about criticizing President Wilson for changing his mind."

Roosevelt "Too Much of a Dose."

Here is another sample of how Roosevelt would reunite the G. O. P. The Bertha Herald says: "From present indications Theodore Roosevelt will be the nominee of the Republican party for president. If the Republican party honors Roosevelt with the nomination after all he has said and done against the party, we will lose faith in those who have been looked upon as party leaders, and be forced to the conclusion that sinister motives are behind their movements. The Herald would very much desire to support a Republican for president, but Roosevelt is too much of a dose to swallow; and then, Mr. Roosevelt cannot unite the Republican party."

Hist! A Plot Is Scented!

Why the G. O. P. change toward T. R.? The Waverly Star and Tribune has a suspicion which it puts like this: "If the Republicans really desire to get rid of Roosevelt they should nominate him for president and the voters will get rid of him in November, and remove a great deal of party discord once and for all. With Roosevelt out of the way, there would be some chance in 1920 of letting the real Republicans select their candidate for president—they would not have to wait for word from Wall Street 'Republicans.'"

Eberhart's Stratagem.

Here's an interesting analysis of the Eberhart program from the Wahkon Enterprise: "It is claimed that A. O. Eberhart will not attend the Republican national convention—to which he was recently elected as a delegate—because he is afraid that the convention will nominate Roosevelt for president, and thus defect the German vote to one of Eberhart's opponents for the senate. The Germans don't want Roosevelt and Eberhart says he don't. But he appoints as his alternate to the convention one Ed Smith, whom he knows to be a Roosevelt man. What beats us is how Eberhart can square himself with the Germans on that score."

Wisconsin Clippings

Things the Badger State Editors Are Saying.

And Its Spirit Goes Marching On.

Ashland Press: A press dispatch reads: "The world's greatest battle at Verdun was forgotten for a moment as the Frenchmen discussed the speech of our president." Well, we don't know what the outcome of the speech will be, but we know that if the horrors of Verdun were laid aside for one second on account of that speech, the speech was not made in vain. It has already fulfilled one mission.

A Sure Winner.

Eau Claire Telegram: An exchange says: "We are holding no brief for Woodrow Wilson." That's right. Don't hold it. Spring it. You can't lose.

The Horrors of Progress.

Ladysmith Journal: "A well known attorney of Eau Claire remarked yesterday that there was not the interest shown in court matters now that there was a number of years ago. He told of how, say twenty or more years ago, the courtroom would be crowded with attorneys, jurors, witnesses and spectators. He added that when court opened yesterday there were only the court officials and seven or eight attorneys present. 'The compensation law and numerous other laws,' remarked the attorney, 'is the reason for a big falling off in the law business.'"—Eau Claire Leader.

Here is another chance for the standpatters to holler. Progressive laws have killed popular interest in lawsuits. Down with the reform laws! Let's go back to the days when terms of court dragged on for weeks, and the whole county turned out either as litigants or as witnesses.

Something to Beef About.

Eau Claire Leader: Perhaps it was natural that a Chicago judge would prefer Bacon to Shakespeare, the judge living in a stockyards town.

A Plea for Common Decency.

Chippewa Falls Independent: The Superior Telegram, one of the big, broad-minded newspapers of the state that takes orders from no one, says that some Republican newspapers make the mistake of condemning everything the other political party does. In pursuing such a policy they weaken the force of their arguments against the really weak points of the Democratic party. When the Democratic administration does what is right it should receive due credit, but there are Republican newspapers which never give it credit for doing anything in the right way, although often it has been right. Such an attitude is not only unjust, but it wins nothing with the voters of this country, the most of whom are able to use excellent discrimination in such matters.

A Timely Example.

Wausau Record-Herald: Sir Roger Casement is receiving an object lesson in the folly of preferring some other country to his own.

A Gary Supper.

Louisville Courier-Journal: The editor of the Gary, Ind., Times says he is not in Who's Who or screened for view in the movies, and: "What's more, we are going to have fried salt pork for supper and after that we are going to smoke a corncob pipe and play with the baby till the sandman shuts his little eyelids. So, 'Who's Who' and the great and near-great can go their way and we hope they have as good time as we do."

We have heard of the Gary dinner. Here's an inspiring description of the Gary supper.

The Work of Political and Alien Partisans

Editorial in the Chicago News (Ind).

There is on foot a widely organized effort to make it appear that the peace loving president of the United States is trying to force this country into a war with Germany. Some newspapers and some members of congress are lending themselves to this effort. Spectacular piles of telegrams, many of them worded according to one carefully devised formula, are being sent to senators and representatives, urging them to turn deaf ears to unnamed persons who, the senders of the telegrams say, "are clamoring for war."

If any citizen of the United States outside of a lunatic asylum wants this country to go to war with Germany the question of his sanity ought to be carefully considered by competent alienists. Certainly, the president of the United States is not so lacking in intelligence or morality as to desire war with Germany or any other country. Everybody knows, or ought to know, that he has labored steadily for long months to keep the nation out of war. The methods that he has employed may be fairly criticized. They are doubtless faulty, since a president is a mere mortal man. But he has done his best, he is still doing his best, to keep the nation out of war.

Mr. Taft says the president is right in what he is doing. Mr. Taft is a man of peace. Richard Olney says the president is right. Richard Olney as secretary of state assisted President Cleveland in bringing to time the British government over the Venezuela boundary affair. On his official record he can hardly be called pro-British, the term that many critics like to hurl at President Wilson. Liberal-minded men in Germany say the president is right. Witness the ringing words of Maximilian Harden on this subject.

The outcome of the submarine controversy seems likely to show official Germany conceding that the president is right unless the organized clamor in this country against the president prevents Germany from taking this action.

It is nothing less than shocking that so many American citizens have chosen to do all in their power to block the president's efforts to serve humanity and civilization by making a stand against barbarous methods of submarine warfare under which hundreds of peaceful American citizens have lost their lives while engaged in their own lawful affairs.

I cannot help the thought which grows steadily upon me, that the better part of prayer is not the asking, but the kneeling where we can ask, the resting there, the staying there, drawing out the willing moments in heavenly communion with God, within the closet, with the night changed into the brightness of the day by the light of Him who all the night was in prayer to God. Just to be there, at leisure from ourselves, at leisure from the world, with our souls at liberty, with our spirit feeling its kinship to the Divine Spirit, with our life finding itself in the life of God—this is prayer. Would it be possible that one could be thus with God, listening to Him, speaking to Him, reposing upon His love, and not come out with a shining face, a gladdened heart, an intent more constant and more strong to give to the waiting world which so sadly needs it what has been taken from the heart of God?—Alexander McKenzie.

THE OPEN COURT

Readers of The Herald are invited to make free use of this column to express their ideas about the topics of general interest, but discussion of sectarian religious differences is barred. Letters must not exceed 300 words—the shorter the better. They must be written on one side of the paper only, and they must be accompanied in every case by the name and address of the writter though these need not be published. A signed letter is always more effective, however.

The Herald does not publish original verse. Contributions of this nature that are submitted for the editor's perusal must be accompanied by a stamped and addressed envelope, if their return is desired. Otherwise no manuscript will be returned.

THAT PRINTING CONTRACT AND "DOING IT FOR DULUTH"

To the Editor of The Herald:

It was with mingled feelings that I read your article on page 9 of last night's Herald with the heading, "Big Printing Contract." First I was pleased to learn that this firm of local printers had succeeded in securing this contract, and congratulate them on their success, and also hope they will succeed in satisfying their customer and prove that they can do as good work as any Twin City, or any other city, printer can produce.

However, I desire to take issue with you when you state in the second paragraph of this article that "it is only recently that local printers have been equipped to handle jobs of this character and size," when as a matter of fact there has not been a time during the past fifteen years or more, when there have not been from three to half a dozen printing establishments in this city with an equipment sufficient to turn out any job that can now be turned out by the successful firm referred to in this case.

This belittling of our resources, either past or present, is not good advertising for any of our local industries, and is so unlike the usual attitude of The Herald, that I could not resist taking exception to it.

While on the subject it might not be amiss to state that the printing industry of this city will bear very favorable comparison with that industry in any city of its size in the country, both as to the equipment of its plants and the quality of work turned out, although I am not so sure about the comparison when it comes to volume of business; but I am sure that if the large consumers of stationery were as solicitous about spending their money for this class of work at home as they are to impress upon the local merchants to purchase from the local jobbers, deposit their money in the local banks, etc., the volume of this work done at home would materially increase, the payrolls would mount rapidly, increasing the population and purchasing power of the workers in this and kindred industries.

It is really amusing to watch some of the active spirits of the Duluth Commercial club making some earnest, and, I have no doubt, sincere, grandstand plays about the best methods of building up the commercial interests of our city—some of them occupying executive positions in the club, and others even on the advertising committee appointed to boost for the city—return from their meetings to their business offices, and next day, either personally or through their subordinates, order a big quantity of advertising or stationery from some printer or lithographer in the Twin Cities, Milwaukee, Chicago, Detroit, or any old city except his home city, where he makes his money; and, if he is a banker, reaches for all the home money he can get to handle.

It is astonishing "how sweet the grass looks over the fence," and how many people are imbued with the idea that they can buy so much better and cheaper in some other city. This idea is not new or confined to Duluth, and will never be eradicated from some minds; but it seems to me that one of the important functions of a Commercial club should be to educate its members—and keep continually educating them—to spend at least the bulk of their money with their local merchants and manufacturers, as at least a considerable portion of it will surely find its way back to them; while all the money they spend in distant cities—that could just as well be left at home—is gone never to return.

Being possessed slightly of a sense of humor, it rather tickled me to witness the monumental gall of the editor of a local wholesale house journal in a recent issue doing some frantic stunts of "DOING IT FOR DULUTH," when the publication carrying the said stunts was printed, the cuts made, the addressing done, and even the postage paid for at the Saintly City—not the Zenith City—while the cuts could be made in at least one good house, and the printing done equally well, in at least half a dozen printing offices here in Duluth. DO IT FOR DULUTH! Build up home industries! This and similar things have been going on for years right under the nose of the Commercial club, and will possibly continue, as the men who do it or their employes are the leaders in the Commercial club's activities, and remind one of the doctor who used to advise, "Don't do as I do, but do as I tell you."

This letter is written about one industry in particular, but no doubt is applicable to numerous others. I believe that such conditions are not confined to Duluth, or that our jobbers, bankers, or merchants, are any worse in this respect than in many other communities; but as our location has set us up in a corner rather away from the center of things, we are rather more dependent upon ourselves than the majority of growing cities, and our growth and prosperity, to a great extent, depend upon our loyalty to local industries, and co-operation in encouraging their extension and growth.

Yours truly, PRINTER.

A PARK, BATHING BEACH, BAND AND BOATS WANTED

To the Editor of The Herald:

Summer is coming and I know every one is looking forward to the good old summer time. I am, I know, and I can hardly wait until summer arrives.

Duluth is a beautiful city; but don't you think there is one thing lacking? That is a park. Duluth has some beautiful natural parks, but I mean a park that will cost the city a lot of money.

Last summer a swimming beach was started at Grassy Point. I hope it isn't forgotten this year, for I am looking forward to it. But why not make this park a city park? Wouldn't it be grand to have a nice, big beach, a big boathouse where you could rent a rowboat for 25 cents an hour, build a pavilion where the band plays every Sunday evening and while you are drifting about in that rowboat you could listen to the music or watch a dozen kids playing leap frog in the water?

Wouldn't it be nice to have a rustic bridge built from the main land to the island, plant a lot of flowers and make a beautiful border along the driveway? I know of no place where I could rent a boat and listen to a band at the same time. I would like to see Duluth have a park like Como of the Twin Cities, only don't forget the beach.

Just the other day, while riding on the incline car, a couple of tourists were remarking about Duluth and one said:

"It's a shame for a city like this that has such a lot of water not to have at least one good swimming beach." We don't want travelers saying that. Let's make them say:

"What a pretty city, and such parks! Aren't they great? Let's live here!"

I vote that Duluth make Grassy Point one of the prettiest parks in the state. I thank you.

WANTS TO KNOW WHY HE CANNOT GET A JOB

To the Editor of The Herald:

I have noticed a great deal of talk among and by railroad agents in the different papers relative to prosperity, and the great amount of tonnage they are hauling, the men they employ, etc. What I want to know is this—and I hope some railroad agent will see it and either prove this loud talk or shut up:

If there is so much business going on as has been reported, and the roads have to have so much help, why in the name of a half watermelon can't a man get a job as fireman or brakeman? I have applied in person and by writing. All I ever could get in either form of application was: "We will keep your name on file." That is all that has ever been done. No doubt it is "kept." I have letters in my files dated in 1913 from superintendents of railroad divisions, and they have "kept" my application on file.

Just a few days ago I applied to a road as either fireman or brakeman. The answer was, "We are not taking on any more men just now; however, we will 'keep' your application." Twenty-four hours afterwards a "greenhorn" friend of mine goes to the same railway and gets on as fireman. I never even was requested to take the physical examination, and have applied to every road in the city of Duluth. Now, Mr. Agent, and Mr. Editor, can you tell me why?

Today I was informed one road took on over twenty crews, both "layoff" of last fall and some "rookies." From this one I have a letter about a month old (I do not desire to give dates of any of these letters nor from whom they come, but am willing to show them to the editor of this paper to prove my claims), and was given the same answer, "We are not taking on any men at this time; however, we will 'keep' your application on file." Yes, no doubt it will be "kept."

For my part, I have given up hopes of ever getting on a road (unless I pay my fare). As far as my physical condition is, there is no man in the city of Duluth that is in a better condition than I, also otherwise.

Answer, Mr. Agent, or keep "mum."

Yours truly,
"MORE PROSPERITY."

NEURALGIA'S ONE SYMPTOM

Neuralgia is a disease which has but one symptom—pain.

The pain of neuralgia is sharp and shooting with intervals of freedom.

An attack of neuralgia does not give immunity but recurrences are the rule. The same nerve is generally affected which means that this particular nerve has lost its resistance and that there will be recurring attacks until the strength of the nerve is built up.

How can the strength of a nerve be restored? The nerves are nourished entirely by the blood and weak nerves are toned up by supplying to the blood the elements that the nerves lack. As the general health and strength of the patient are built up the nerves resume their normal functions, inflammation caused by lack of nutrition disappears and the neuralgic attacks cease.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a tonic exceptionally well suited for the treatment of neuralgia because they contain no alcohol, stimulating or habit-forming drugs. The tonic treatment with these pills is well worth a trial by any sufferer from neuralgia.

Write today for booklet on nervous disorders to the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y. Your own druggist sells the pills or they will be sent postpaid at 50 cents per box.

ANSWERS THE LETTER FROM MR. GILMORE

To the Editor of The Herald:

In your issue of the 24th inst., the solicitude expressed by Mr. T. M. Gilmore, president National Model License league, for the "weaker brother," is touching.

For what are the licenses of his "license league" asked and granted?

To sell liquor of course.

Who buys the most liquor?

The "weaker brother," as long as he has a cent.

Why is he weak? Because he is addicted to the use of the liquor these saloons are licensed to sell.

Does Mr. Gilmore pretend that licensed saloons refuse to sell to drinking men? Where, then, do these men all get their continued supplies? Is it from "blind pigs?" According to Mr. Gilmore's theory there are no such places where saloons are licensed; they are waiting to "spring up like mushrooms the minute the ban is put on the local sale of liquor."

I wonder who sold what made the little 10-year-old boy drunk in West Duluth a few days ago!

Of course intoxicating liquor will "debauch the boys," but it is not because the place which sells it has no license—'tis the nature of the poison drug, alcohol, to do just that, wherever 'tis bought.

If Duluth votes out the licensed saloon, all the blind pigs will be advertised as showing what a failure the law is. They are here now, but as they prove nothing against a dry law, no one is pointing at them.

There are more blind pigs in Chicago, with all its 7,000 and more licensed saloons, than in the whole state of Maine.

Bad as a blind pig is, 'tis not so bad as a licensed saloon. The former has to be found; the latter is an open door of temptation. Men who are not yet addicted to strong drink, often take it only because some one says: "come on," or because it is their turn to treat. It is a social habit which will become a charm in time, but if the open opportunity is not there, they will not hunt for it. Also they would feel too respectable to go to some kitchen or barn for a secret, illegal drink.

There is no question but that the use of liquor is greatly lessened by shutting up the licensed saloons, and that is why the president of the license league objects to having it done.

The article quoted by him does not show that the Longshoremen's union of Tacoma is asking to have the saloons licensed again for their protection. If the commissioner of public safety is not trying his best to suppress the illegal sale of liquor in that city, he is failing in his duty; it would be unreasonable, however, to expect better enforcement of this law than of any other. If a burglar robs a house or a sneak thief picks a pocket, we do not say: "Protect us by licensing them."

The mayor of Tacoma, A. V. Fawcett, says: "Economically, Tacoma is in better shape right now than for years. Working men, who last year spent most of the time looking for employment, are now practically all employed. Grocers report business growing all the time and collections much better. The shoe dealers testify that there has been an unprecidented boom in the sale of children's shoes. Many old shacks, that were occupied by saloons on the prominent streets, are being torn down and replaced by modern business blocks. Practically every building vacated by a saloon is occupied by some other business."

"The police judge states that there has been a decrease of 48 per cent in drunk, and drunk and disorderly cases the first month of prohibition, while vagrancy has decreased 63 per cent and there was not a case of fighting or disturbing the peace in the entire month of January.

"Prohibition has not brought any of the disasters predicted by its enemies, but is daily demonstrating that it is a good thing."

The mayor ought to know.

Respectably,
MARY J. JAQUES.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

This department does not pretened to be infallible. It will endeavor, however, to answer questions sent to it by readers of The Herald to the best of its ability, reserving the right to ignore all that are trifling or of concern only to the questioner, or that ask for advice on legal or medical questions.

To receive attention, every inquiry must bear the name and address of the person sending it. This is not wanted for publication, but as an evidence of good faith.

W. J. Sterling, Wadena, Minn.: In what localities in the northern and western half of Minnesota is the population mostly Swedish?

Ans.: The last state census shows only two localities where the population is mostly Swedish—the township of Lake Jessie in Itasca county and Ashawa village in St. Louis county. Aside from these there are only seven townships in the entire state in which Swedes outnumber or equal the people of any other one nationality. These seven are: Glen and Lakeside in Aitkin county, Atkinson in Carlton county, Evergreen in Itasca county, Maxwell in Lac Qui Parle county, Spruce in Roseau county, and Clinton in St. Louis county. In none of the counties taken as a whole do the Swedes predominate.

A. Hedenberg, Duluth: How may one obtain admission to West Point, and what are the requirements?

Ans.: Appointments are usually made one year in advance, by the secretary of war, upon nomination or recommendation of the senator or congressman from the state or district in which the appointee lives; these nominations may be either direct or after a competitive examination, as the representative may wish. Some times two alternates are also named, and the better qualified of these receives the appointment if the original nominee fails to pass the required tests. Appointees must be between 17 and 22 years of age, free from any infirmity which may render them unfit for military service, and able to pass, unless a satisfactory certificate is submitted, a careful examination in English grammar, English composition, English literature, algebra through quadratic equations, plane geometry, descriptive geography and the elements of physical geography (especially the geography of the United States), United States history and the outlines of general history.

The BIG DULUTH
WILLIAMSON & MENDENHALL

A Tercentenary Book.

MASTER WILL OF STRATFORD: A MIDWINTER NIGHT'S DREAM. By Louise Ayres Garnett. New York: The Macmillan company. 60 cents.

Here is one of the oddest of mixtures—William Shakespeare as a boy, his mother, a girl playmate, Titania, Oberon, Puck, a rascal peddler, Queen Elizabeth, Sir Thomas Lucy, and fairies ad libitum. It is a fanciful bit of dramatic writing, intended, apparently, to show the character of the boy in a light that would explain later achievements in the dramatic world. Some remarkably good construction is to be found in the play, and perhaps it would be susceptible of production; but whether it would "go" or not, just put yourself in the proper frame of mind for a queer midwinter night's dream and you will find it mighty pleasant reading.

By the Spoon River Man.

SONGS AND SATIRES. By Edgar Lee Masters. New York: The Macmillan company. $1.25.

Nobody who read the Spoon River Anthology escaped without a desire to see how its author would handle verse of the more generally accepted form. Here are some samples of such work from his pen, and his friends are amply justified in their belief that he could deliver the goods. He takes to rhyme and rhythms as naturally as he does to the peculiar psychology he uses so effectively in the anthology, and his verse is none the less pleasing when it is put in stereotyped form than when left "free." In the list of poets whose work will justify the statement that poetic writing in these days underwent a decided renaissance, the name of Edgar Lee Masters has already been assured of a place.

Punctuation As a Pleasure.

WHY WE PUNCTUATE, or Reason versus Rule in the use of marks. By William Livingston Klein. Minneapolis: The Lancet Publishing company. $1.25 net.

Too many of us have gained a notion that the chief purpose of punctuation is to pester the person who tries to write something. Here is a book that puts it in an entirely different light. For here reason is supreme, and not only that, but you are shown so clearly the effect of the different uses of the various marks that you can reason out for yourself any problem that may come up. Sentences are given with examples of the effect of different punctuation, and the whole system is mapped out on a basis of making a thing clear, instead of trying to remember a lot of abstract rules and regulations. It is a book that is bound to be an eye-opener to many a tortured mind.

Applied History.

THE STORY OF THE MAP OF EUROPE. By L. P. Benezet. Chicago: Scott, Foresman & Co. 60 cents.

One of the most insistent criticisms of history-teaching as it is generally conducted is that it fails to relate the past with the present. In this latest addition to the Lake History series, this error is overcome so completely that you forget you are reading of incidents long past, and see them only in relation to the present. The book starts with the story of two men, American immigrants both, and comrades in their work, though one came from Russia and one from Germany. Suddenly both are called home to bear arms and sent out to kill each other. Why? Because the story of the map of Europe is what it is. And then this story is laid before you in impartial and interesting and instructive fashion. The book constitutes valuable reading matter for any who wish to understand more fully the conditions and influences that are at work and have been at work for many years in the countries now engaged in the great war.

Is Fiat Life Funny?

RENTING A FURNISHED APARTMENT. By G. Smith Stanton. New York: The J. S. Ogilvie Publishing company. $1.00.

"Go to, now," you can imagine the author saying to himself: "I will now take my pen in hand and write something funny. What shall it be about? Well, let us find some entirely new and original subject—let us write about life in a flat." So he writes about life in a flat. In a number of printed pages interspersed with exceptionally good photographic illustrations, he tells of the troubles of a family that moves from the suburbs of New York into a furnished apartment, for the winter. The story is in fact a more or less detailed, plain, unadorned recital of troubles of one sort or another.

The City and Its People.

THE CITIZENS' BOOK. Edited by Charles R. Hebble and Frank P. Goodwin. Cincinnati: Stewart & Kidd company. $1.25 net.

One of the editors of this book is manager of the civic and industrial department of the Cincinnati chamber of commerce, and the other is director of vocational and civic service in the Cincinnati public schools. The fact that Cincinnati has a chamber of commerce with such an official, and a public school system with such a department, speaks volumes for the community. The book is about Cincinnati, but students of municipal government everywhere will find its reading profitable. It is the basis of instruction in civics in the Cincinnati schools. Using Cincinnati as a type of community life, the book treats of every angle of community life in an interesting and instructive way.

An Amateur Crook.

AN AMIABLE CHARLATAN. By E. Phillips Oppenheim. Boston: Little, Brown & Co. $1.30 net.

Sticking wisely to his field of pure entertainment, Mr. Oppenheim has attained a skill in it not shared by many. His stories, for those who seek mental distraction without irritating problems, who read to rest their minds, not to agitate them, are reliably entertaining.

Joseph H. Bundercombe, a rich American, went to London with his daughter, Eve, and they became acquainted with Paul Walmsley, a young Englishman of good family. After he had been attracted by Eve, Paul met Bundercombe in a situation that made the millionaire appear to be a clever professional crook. Walmsley did not at all approve of such conduct, but he was so drawn to Eve that he tolerated it, and even helped it. Wherever Bundercombe went, something was sure to happen; jewels disappeared, money was stolen or there was cheating at cards. And yet he always kept clear of everything except suspicion, and nearly had his Scotland Yard followers in. Bundercombe is a highly individual and diverting creation, one of Oppenheim's best, and the story is entertaining from beginning to end.

Wild West and Movies.

THE PHANTOM HERD. By B. M. Bower, author of "Jean of the Lazy A," "Chip of the Flying U," etc. Boston: Little, Brown & Co. $1.30 net.

There seems to be a recent alliance between Wild West fiction and the movies. In this story Luck Lindsay, former ranch-hand and later in the movies, wrote a movie scenario of the real West, but was unable to find a producer. The "happy family" from the "Flying U" ranch had faith enough to pool almost its last dollar for the venture, and they all trooped down to New Mexico to live Luck's story of "The Phantom Herd," while he caught it with the camera. Their fight through a hard season, the difficulties and disasters that brought out all the human nature in the company, Luck's dogged determination that carried them through against odds seemingly overwhelming, make up the thrilling tale. As in previous stories, Miss Bower shows a consummate grasp of the West, and handles her materials well.

A Pretty Tale.

BABETTE. By F. Berkeley Smith, author of "A Village of Vagabonds," "The Street of Two Friends," etc. Garden City, N. Y.: Doubleday, Page & Co. $1.25 net.

Babette, pretty, innocent and unspoiled, fell in love with Raveau, a chance visitor to the old French ruin wherein her father, Pivot, the Jailer, kept his prisoners. Raveau, striking, cool, attractive, resourceful, is "alias" several other names and is, indeed, a master thief—a thief of character and individuality, an artist in crime. That he had his own code of honor is shown early in the story when, seeing the grief that came to a family of Americans when he stole the pretty necklace of the daughter of that family, he nonchalantly returned it. The clash between the ideals of the simple, innocent Babette, to whom he seemed all that was fine and splendid, and the history and practices of this captain of criminals, and what comes of it, makes a very charming tale which is admirably backgrounded in provincial France before the war blasted it.

Plenty Happens Here.

THE DIAMOND FROM THE SKY. By Roy L. McCardell. New York: G. W. Dillingham & Company. $1.35 net.

Those liking old-fashioned thrillers will find plenty to satisfy them in this work that captured a $10,000 prize in a newspaper movie contest, and was printed in the papers as well as shown in many motion picture houses, including Duluth. It is a succession of absorbing episodes centering around the possession of a valuable diamond that always appears to get its temporary possessor into all sorts of trouble, sometimes causing a death or two. The title of the jewel came from its strange origin. Back in Virginia in prerevolutionary days, Sir Arthur Stanley is captured by Indians, who are about to burn him at the stake when an aerolite descends with a roar and a lighting up of the heavens that throws his captors into several fits. He takes advantage of the incident to work on their superstition and claim it was an evidence of divine wrath over his treatment. The scheme works; he is released and allowed to go with many protestations of sorrow over the incident. He visits the spot where the aerial visitor struck the earth and finds on the aerolite's surface an immense diamond of fabulous value. He pries it loose, names it the Diamond from the Sky and wills it to future Stanleys. Two hundred years later, rival factions of the Stanley family contend for the diamond, also for title to large land holdings in England, to say nothing of an earldom; and around this rivalry Mr. McCardell has woven a tale that for thrilling adventure on land and sea grips the reader or the movie fan till the end, when the diamond becomes the property of the rightful heir along with the English title. The story ranges from Virginia to Los Angeles, and even includes a plunge into the waters of the Pacific, where the diamond is thrown by one possessor who fears to keep it. The climax comes in England and in Virginia, when the gem and title reach their proper owners.

FINDS SKULL AMID DEBRIS

Salvation Army Worker Discovers Bones in Making Rounds Downtown.

Coroner Scouts Idea That Head Belonged to Physician.

A human skull, with the lower jaw missing, was picked up this morning by Salvation Army workers on their rounds of downtown office buildings collecting waste paper and old clothes.

Theories that the skull was one which had been discarded by a practicing physician were discounted by Coroner C. F. McComb, who said that the condition of the bones indicated that the skull was one which had not been treated.

Police, following the instructions of the coroner, took the skull, together with a list of the places visited by the Salvation Army collectors, in an effort to trace the ownership, or clear up the mystery surrounding the bones.

John O'Leary driver of the wagon who collected the skull, said he did not remember where he had picked it up. "I visited several downtown office buildings, including the Wolvin building, the Board of Trade, the Torrey building, the Providence building, and several department stores."

The bones were badly decayed, and evidently had been exposed to the air for a long time, as they were browned from long exposure.

Police Lieut. N. U. G. Terry and Driver Earl Eckard accompanied the coroner to the Salvation Army industrial department headquarters at 1202 West Michigan street late this morning and began the investigation.

"If a doctor had had the skull, it would be better preserved," said the coroner. "I am inclined to think that a further search might reveal more bones."

OBITUARY

Rev. Josiah Streng, president since 1902 of the American Institute for social service, president of the Social Center association of America, former president of the American Foreign and Christian union, editor and author, died in New York April 23, aged 69.

Stephen Fiske, author, dramatist and once widely known as a journalist and war correspondent, died at New York April 27 at the age of 76. He was born in New Brunswick, N. J., and after being graduated from Rutgers college in 1862 was admitted to the bar but soon abandoned the laws for journalism. He acted as war correspondent for the New York Herald during the Civil war and also became dramatic critic for that paper. Later he founded the New York Dramatic Mirror.

Edward Farrer, one of Canada's most distinguished journalists, died at Ottawa, April 27 of heart disease. Mr. Farrer was born in England of Irish parentage and came to Canada in 1870, joining the editorial staff of the old Daily Telegraph of Toronto. Subsequently he became connected with different publications in the United States and Canada. Mr. Farrer was in his sixty-sixth year.

Fred Burgess, pioneer of Oshkosh, Wis., died April 26, aged 82 years. He formerly was sheriff and chief of police.

B. F. Carter, 91, formerly prominent business man and legislator of Oshkosh, is dead at Hollywood, Cal., according to word received at Oshkosh.

AITKIN JOTTINGS.

Council Purchases Metal Waste Paper Boxes to Hold Refuse.

Aitkin, Minn., April 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—The village council has decided to purchase and install metal waste paper boxes about the town to eliminate the waste which now appears upon the streets. The council will also place traffic signs at the street crossings most in use to guide the traffic to the right side of the street.

The postoffice at Cedar Lake has been ordered discontinued April 29 and all mail addressed to that office will be sent to Aitkin and delivered over route 3, which was established recently.

The Aitkin County State bank was granted a charter April 21 and the name has been changed to the National Bank of Aitkin. There will be no change in the officers: C. P. De Laittre, president; J. J. McDonald and W. F. Knox, vice presidents; J. B. Galarneault, cashier. The change gives Aitkin three national banks.

Mississippi River Rises.

The water in the Mississippi river here continues to rise steadily and is now more than fifteen feet above the low water mark and twenty-two inches lower than in 1888, when it reached the highest point ever known here.

At the Palisade bridge logs estimated at 17,000,000 feet have formed a jam three-quarters of a mile in length with the water backed up three feet above it. Efforts to break it have not yet been successful.

Miss Nellie Pilgrim and John Arends were married Wednesday at the home of G. W. Sutton, Rev. C. C. Sutton performing the ceremony. The young people will make their home at Hill City.

A son was born April 22 to Mr. and Mrs. Peter Larson and a son was born April 20 to Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Mulvihill.

Aitkin county schools which have closed for the summer are: District 13, Thor, Miss Sophie Tronstad, teacher; district 23, Lone Pine, Miss Eva Small, teacher; district 73, Mrs. E. E. Reynolds, teacher; district 59, Mrs. May Singleton, teacher; district 42, Verdon, Miss Mabel Hall and Miss Theresa Holden, teachers; district 40, Kimberly, Miss Ellen Ladd, teacher; district 50, Rat Lake, George Sanders and Miss Faith Millard, teachers.

U. S. GRAND JURY MAY PROBE MILK COMBINE

Fargo, N. D., April 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—Col. M. A. Hildreth, United States district attorney, who started the investigation of the alleged dairyman's combine in this city and stated that there would be several of the dealers of the city brought before the Federal grand jury which meets here in June.

Col. Hildreth stated that he talked with one "independent" dealer who said that he had been asked to join in a combine for the purpose of fixing prices but who refused. This man will be subpenaed as a witness before the grand jury.

It may be that an investigation will also be made into the prices charged at Bismarck where it is stated 10 cents per quart is being charged for milk.

SPRING & SUMMER WALK-OVER SUGGESTIONS
FOR MEN AND WOMEN

WALK-OVER shoe superiority is so apparent and so obvious that it speaks for itself. But the visible superiority of WALK-OVER shoes is merely a hint of the inside excellence—the excellence that you cannot see, and that lies unrevealed until discovered by your feet in the test of actual wear and service.

This test you are invited to make at the opening of the new season.

Take a good look at the WALK-OVER shoe beauties displayed in our windows. Every one correct in style, ideal in perfection, and giving promise of looking better on your feet than in the window.

If none of the new models shown in our windows seems to meet with your full approval, the chances are more than even that you may find just what you desire at our store.

And you will find courteous and agreeable treatment as well.

That's a WALK-OVER custom. Will you call?

OLD-FASHIONED PATRIOTISM IS CHIEF NEED OF AMERICA, SAYS SPEAKERS

Governor Burnquist and County Attorney Greene Chief Speakers Before West Duluth Commercial Club at Fourteenth Annual Banquet---Governor Speaks on Minnesota and Her Resources---John Owens Traces Development of Mining and Agriculture---Emil J. Zauft Toastmaster.

A restoration of the old patriotic spirit, which inspired the fathers of 1776, fired the men of the sixties when they volunteered to preserve the nation, and swept the men of 1898 into the citizen army to meet Spain, the foe of America at that time, was pleaded for by Governor J. A. Burnquist of Minnesota and County Attorney Warren E. Greene, who were the chief speakers last evening at the fourteenth annual banquet of the West Duluth Commercial club.

The affair was held in Moose hall, Central avenue and Ramsey street, and was attended by more than 400 citizens of the city and state. The speakers were given, not only cordial greeting, but their remarks were enthusiastically applauded, as they touched on local, state and national topics.

The governor and county attorney both referred to the possibility of the breaking off of relations with foreign powers and the possibility of this country becoming embroiled in the European conflict.

Governor Burnquist touched also on the resources of Minnesota. He said that while lumber and iron ore industries are of vast proportions, the citizens should not overlook the fact that the agricultural interests are of far greater importance to the success and welfare of the commonwealth. More interest in this industry, he said, should be taken by the cities because the life of the cities depend on the success of the country. He advocated that every citizen vote for the passage of Amendment No. 1, which will provide for the reclamation of a great proportion of swamp lands of Northern Minnesota.

Foreign-born May Be Trusted.

"We are all proud of the state of Minnesota and its people," said the governor, "but we are still prouder of the United States. There is no other country on the face of the globe which offers similar opportunities."

The speaker then touched slightly on the threatened break in diplomatic relations. Said he:

"If this country gets into trouble, our foreign-born citizens will unquestionably aid us as they did in the days of our forefathers, when they went out and fought against their mother country to maintain the independence of this nation.

"War is a terrible thing, but despotism is worse. Conflict is terrible, but slavery is still worse. The time will come and that in the near future, I believe, when all international squabbles and disputes will be settled by international boards of arbitration."

Mason M. Forbes, toastmaster, introduced his "boss" by saying that Mr. Greene had been assigned the topic of "Our Nation" because of the inability of Congressman Clarence B. Miller to be present. He read a telegram from Mr. Miller in which greetings were sent members of the club, stating that international matters were of such concern that he was unable to leave Washington at this time.

"There probably never has come a time when I had a greater desire to speak on the subject that I have been assigned to than at the present," said Mr. Greene.

He said that the nation is now finding itself where it may be drawn into the affairs of the other nations. He said that people of this country were probably never more surprised than when war was declared in Europe, believing that in this enlightened age, war was an impossibility. The developments of this war, he said, have caused this country to drop in the estimation of the countries of Europe until now American opinions are of little value and no credit is given to this country's good intentions.

Must Protect Citizens.

Mr. Greene said that the most vital work on the part of a nation was to protect its citizens at home and abroad. He declared that the attempt of this nation in that respect is not held in high esteem by the foreign powers.

"They know and we know, and they know that we know that we have not been giving our citizens the protection that they are entitled to abroad," he asserted. "They also know of our military insufficiency."

The speaker charged that America after policing the Philippine islands for several years and encouraging industry there now proposes to cast them aside, and declared that the islands would be grabbed up by the first nation whose war ships would be able to reach their shores on the departure of the United States.

Mr. Greene charged that the government has entirely abandoned the protection of its citizens in Mexico and that the Mexicans had not only destroyed the property of the Americans but also destroyed lives.

In touching on the possibilities of a break with Germany, the speaker said that the difference between the disputes with that nation and with the British was that while the latter had only destroyed or confiscated property which the British could be made to pay for, but that the Germans had destroyed lives for which no money recompense could make good.

"Fortunately President Wilson has taken the right stand according to international law," said Mr. Greene. "I believe that every citizen should back him up regardless of nativity, party or creed. This is the time for the permanent abolition of the hyphen from American life. This is the time to choose between free America and old world conditions.

Meeting the Test.

"This is nothing new. On April 19, 1775, the minute men took down their muskets to repel invasion and to declare that this country shall be free and that all men were born equal. The citizens of the United States, whether they are born here or have come h and sworn allegiance to this country will arrive at the same decision now. The immigrant of today is passing the test in just the same manner that he did years ago in the days of our forefathers."

Mr. Greene gave a scathing rebuke to the author of an article in the "Open Court" of The Herald, in which the writer had derided patriotism. Such articles, he said, are ill-advised, and are a direct slap at the blood shed during the revolution and later during the civil war that all men, even such as he who wrote the article might enjoy the benefits of a free nation.

Emil J. Zauft, president of the club, in opening the speakers' program, extended a hearty welcome to the guests. He then gave a short summary of the industries of West Duluth. He said that the total value of products manufactured in Duluth, and, exclusive of the ore and coal industry, was $36,000,000 and of this total West Duluth contributes $21,000,000. He told of the number of men and the approximate annual payroll of each plant in this end of the city, also giving a brief history of each industry.

Mayor W. I. Prince claimed that Duluth is the sixth largest city in the country in the mileage of its streets and area. Duluth, he said, has 190 miles of streets and covers 75.81 square miles. He spoke of Duluth's greatness in shipping and other industries.

Mining Development.

John Owens of Cook was introduced as the first mayor of Virginia. Mr. Owens told of the first trails leading into the iron country, the opening of the first mines and the shipping of the first ore. Following a brief discussion of this development he spoke on agriculture and declared that the future salvation of the cities would be a "back to the farm movement." Better roads, cheaper money and other assistance to the farming communities were advocated. He asked the vote of all citizens on Amendment No. 1, which would guarantee loans on farming property.

J. M. Davidson, manager of Morgan Park, was the only other speaker. His address in full is given in another column.

The supper was served by the Ladies' Aid Society of Our Savior's Norwegian Lutheran church. The crowd began filing into the big hall at 6:30 o'clock sharp. Plates were provided for 410 guests and several more were served at another table.

The program last night also included musical selections by Fiaaten's orchestra, vocal solos by D. W. Helstand and John R. Batchelor who were accompanied at the piano by Miss Marie Krantz. A selection by the Denfeld high school quartet was also on the program.

Yesterday afternoon Governor Burnquist and a committee of the club were guests of W. A. McGonagle president of the Duluth Missabe & Northern railroad, on a trip through the Duluth steel plant. The party also visited the Universal Portland Cement company's plant.

MORGAN PARK HIS THEME

Manager Davidson Tells of Its Aims and Work Among Employes.

Education, Housing Conditions and Social Benefits Lauded at Banquet.

John M. Davidson, manager of the Morgan Park company, in his address at the banquet of the Commercial club last night, told the reason why it was necessary for a corporation like the Minnesota Steel company to provide homes for its employes. He outlined what the future policy of the Morgan Park company would be in relation to the people of the park and the city and predicted great growth for the suburbs. He asked co-operation with the citizens in securing better roads and service for the steel plant district. His address follows:

"In accepting the very kind invitation of the Commercial club of West Duluth to speak to you for a few minutes on the subject of 'The New Industry,' I find myself somewhat at a loss to know just what aspect of the work would prove of particular interest on this occasion to the members and guests of this organization.

"The figures relating to the capital invested in the steel industry at Morgan Park, the amount of payrolls, the number of employes added to the city's population, the nature and tonnage of its manufactured products, and its influence upon the growing commercial importance of this great inland harbor are all familiar to you, as is also the fact that the Minnesota Steel company is one of the large industries in Northern Minnesota which is not subject to seasonal operation. But it may not be quite so evident to you the relation which the Morgan Park company bears to the new industry, and it occurred to me, therefore, to review briefly the reasons why the Morgan Park company exists and to outline our conception of the relations which exist, or which should exist, between that company and the business interests here represented.

Location Ideal.

"A suitable location for a manufacturing industry of the size of the Minnesota Steel company is rarely to be found within the populated area of a large city. The space required for the buildings and their possible future additions and for the extensive railroad facilities and storage yards necessary can usually bo found only at some considerable distance from the center of population. For this very reason the industry finds itself at the beginning more or less isolated from all the neighboring communities from which it hopes to draw its supply of labor and with which it hopes to maintain commercial and social relations.

"To operate the business successfully and continuously, there must exist, or be created in a very short space of time, good avenues of travel and good transportation facilities to nearby communities. There must exist, or be rapidly created, adequate residential sections within easy reach of its employes; and these must be of a character to attract the class of skilled workmen necessary for profitable operation of the plant. The extension of public service facilities of every character must be forthcoming long before the natural growth of any neighboring community, in the ordinary course of events, would reach the industry, and it is apparent, therefore, that in the establishment of a new manufacturing operation on such a large scale and under such circumstances a very great deal of capital must be expended by that industry from which no adequate return can be expected for many years to come.

Satisfied Workmen.

"There is only one way in which an industry so located can justify the expenditure of millions of dollars in the construction of a new plant, and that is to assure itself of an immediate supply of competent and satisfied workmen by creating at its own expense a new residential district sufficient in size and sufficiently well developed in all municipal improvements to supply the present and immediate needs of these workmen. The business of a steel company is to make steel; not to build towns nor to engage in real estate development projects But steel making is a highly technical business, and, to get the plant in operation, experienced workmen must be first obtained from other centers of the steel business. It is self-evident, therefore, that the building of a new residential section in this wholesale manner is not done from choice, but because it is an operating necessity of the plant.

"No employer who lays out a residential section for his employes under those conditions expects that all of them will live there. We realize that ready-built houses are in large part but a temporary expedient for housing the influx of new labor which the creation of the industry demands, and that a proportion of the permanent employes will seek sooner or later to establish their own homes in that community or in the surrounding districts, as soon as these districts become developed by transportation lines and by good roads. The Morgan Park company feels, therefore, that it has accomplished the first and most important part of its work when it has established the nucleus of the new district and has laid it out upon sound principles of city planning and made suitable provision for further extensions upon the same lines whenever that extension becomes necessary.

Growth That Is Beneficial.

"We are fully conscious of the responsibility which rests upon us to make sure that this development takes place upon such broad and liberal lines that it will ultimately prove to be a benefit to that section of the city. This responsibility for the proper development of Morgan Park and, to a less degree, for the development of nearby communities extends to and is concerned with every phase of commercial and social activity which you gentlemen here represent.

"We are concerned in the extension of good roads and of adequate and immediate transportation facilities in every direction where our employes reside or may reside, and feel that we have a common interest with you in these extensions. We are interested in every movement to secure good housing and sanitary conditions in adjoining communities. We are concerned in the relation which exists between merchandising methods and the retail prices of household commodities. We are concerned in every measure which may be taken to promote the public health and to increase individual earning capacity; in the latest development of educational systems and buildings; in the promotion of savings deposits among our workmen to encourage thrift and the building of permanent homes. In fact, every question of commercial social welfare which interests you gentlemen interests the Morgan Park company to an even greater extent because of the fact that many of the civic advantages which the older parts of the city now enjoy we have yet to attain.

Much New Construction.

"For the last several months we have been steadily pegging along as best we knew how on a good deal of new construction which may possibly interest you; and with your permission I will briefly outline some of the features of particular interest upon which we are now working.

"The general hospital, which will be a very complete and well-equipped structure, will not be confined to the use of our employes alone. It is planned to make its services available to all residents of Morgan Park, in so-far as its capacity will permit.

"In practically all of the older towns in which branches of the steel industry are located, a need has been felt for some adequate provision for taking care of the young unmarried men, and an attempt is being made in Morgan Park to supply this need by building four rooming clubs containing central dining rooms and recreation and reading rooms; and it is hoped that when these are fully completed and equipped, we will have developed a method of combining the fraternal spirit of the clubhouse with the home comforts of the boarding house at very moderate rates.

"A fireproof and steam heated community garage has been provided to take care of the immediate needs of the residents; and the arrangement of the building is such that it can be extended as the number of automobiles in the park increases.

General Store.

"Because of the present isolated condition of Morgan Park in the matter of transportation and its distance from any center of population of the city of Duluth, we have provided a general merchandise store, intended to supply the most immediate requirements of the residents. The Lake View store will contain a fairly complete line of all the most usual personal and household supplies. In the same building there will be a number of independently operated stores and offices, such as a pharmacy and drug store, a bank, barber shop, milliner, and so forth. These are intended as temporary accommodations, pending the establishment of permanent business buildings elsewhere in the park.

"A refrigerating plant, originally intended to provide an immediate supply of pure ice for the general hospital and for the store has since been enlarged to enable us to extend this service to all residents of Morgan Park.

"A point of particular interest in connection with this store is the system of payment and collections which will be in use. The principle upon which it will be run will be based upon the same sound business principles to be found elsewhere in the city of Duluth, but possibly with this difference; that while we propose to give our patrons all the advantage of a cash store, we will endeavor to so govern the extension of credits that customers inclined to be neglectful of their obligations will not enjoy the benefits of the store at the expense of those who promptly discharge their indebtedness. We feel that a large part of the cost of merchandising is due to ill-advised lenience in this respect, and we hope that the rules which we have laid down for ourselves in this regard will be found beneficial alike to the residents of Morgan Park and to those merchants in the city of Duluth who may not yet have put such a system into effect.

"Realizing the importance of the modern school in the social and commercial life of today, we have donated to the board of education of the city of Duluth a tract of ten acres, equal to three and one-half city blocks, located in the most central part of Morgan Park. It may seem strange to some of you gentlemen that so large and so prominent a section of Morgan Park should be given up to school purposes. We justify this on two grounds. First, because of the important part that well organized schools play in fitting the child of today to find his place in the world of tomorrow; and second, because we believe the well equipped playground under intelligent control is capable of developing the highest excellence of mind and body. We sincerely hope that these school grounds will be developed to an extent commensurate with their educational value.

Community Center.

"Not only is the school building of today of the highest importance as an educational institution, but it is felt by the Morgan Park company that the very complete facilities for assembly purposes provided within and without the structure should be taken advantage of as a community center insofar as the educational authorities see fit to permit. The multiplication of public buildings, whether educational, social, or religious in character, is to our mind an unnecessary tax upon any community; and insofar as one public building can be made to serve two or more purposes, so far has that community advanced in modern city development.

"The general arrangement of Morgan Park as a whole represents our most sincere attempt to realize the ideal residence community. We have provided concrete streets and sidewalks; attractive shrubbery, grass plots and garden spaces; underground conduits for all electric wires; dwelling houses of varied design and size and of an enduring and practically fireproof character at a moderate rental; an adequate supply of pure drinking water; separate sanitary and storm sewer systems, and made definite plans for the future extension of the streets, the sewer systems and the public service lines. This year we are providing a clubhouse, baseball and tennis fields, and making use of the unoccupied areas as parks and picnic grounds for the residents.

Houses for Employes.

"It may interest you to know that a great deal of thought and effort has been spent by us in endeavoring to solve the problem of how to provide attractive, sanitary and permanent houses for small income workmen, and especially for those of foreign nationality. While a number of instances can be cited where dwelling houses have been planned for the better paid classes of workmen, the low-wage workman appears to have been passed by because of the inherent difficulties of the problem and because of the alleged tendency of the foreign-born workmen to congregate together in undesirable settlements. The fact that such settlements exist is beyond dispute; but whether it is the result of deliberate intent on their part or because they can find nothing better at prices within their reach is largely a matter of opinion.

"We have some reason to believe that we can succeed in developing a type of house at such a low rental as to be within the reach of the lowest paid employe and at the same time give him the maximum degree of comfort and social advancement. The effect of good town planning and administration is to increase savings, to reduce living expenses and sickness, to increase physical and mental efficiency, to assist the wage earners in becoming permanent and home-owning citizens by having more money to spend for luxuries and investments. In such enterprises the local merchants and business men of Duluth have a direct interest with the employer of labor in raising the standard of living of the low-wage workman.

"The Minnesota Steel company and the Morgan Park company appreciate very fully the co-operation which has been extended to us by the city of Duluth and by the various commercial bodies which are represented here this evening. An enterprise of this character has never succeeded and never will succeed by individual effort alone. We have felt the need of your co-operation in the past; we feel the need of it still. We consider ourselves individually as citizens of Duluth and hope that we shall prove at all times to be public-spirited and broad-minded citizens.

Highways and Trolley Lines.

"One more word and I am done. I am a comparative stranger in this city and unfamiliar with the earlier history of West Duluth; but I have been informed that your rapid growth and prosperity is attributed largely to your good connecting highways and to the extension of the street car lines from Duluth proper.

"We predict for you an even greater expansion as the present stretches of well paved highways become connected and extended to Morgan Park and to our neighbor communities west and south of us. Business follows the paved road and the trolley car, and the Morgan Park company has a common interest with the Commercial club of West Duluth in uniting in one continuous highway the communities of West Duluth, Morgan Park, Gary and New Duluth."

NORMAN COUNTY MAN FOUND DEAD NEAR ADA

Ada, Minn., April 28.—The body of William Schumaker, aged 26, sort of a character in Norman county, who made a living by peddling articles about, was found Wednesday on Carl Krogstad's farm in the southeast quarter of section 19, about two miles south of here, on the Wild Rice river. He had apparently been dead two weeks and Coroner Hintz after an examination said death was due to natural causes. In the dead man's pockets $1.85 was found and a bottle of wood alcohol. By his side lay a sample case and a sample flat iron, which he had been peddling from house to house. The flat iron was heated by alcohol and he carried a bottle of it to demonstrate the iron.

The deceased, who was familiarly known as "Billy" Schumaker, was about 26 years of age, and was well known all over the central part of the county. He was not considered very bright.

ON THE IRON RANGES

IS HELD TO GRAND JURY

Kittzville Assistant Postmistress Alleged to Have Embezzled From Govt.

Mrs. Dolly Brown Accused of Getting Away With $128 in Funds.

Virginia, Minn., April 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mrs. Dolly Brown, assistant postmistress at the village of Kittzville, yesterday afternoon waived examination on a charge of embezzling $128 funds from the Kittzville postoffice before United States Commissioner Otto A. Poirier, and was held to the Federal grand jury in $2,000 bail.

Mrs. Brown was in jail this morning, but expected to perfect bail today.

Her arrest was made yesterday by Deputy United States Marshal J. S. Cash on a warrant sworn out by Assistant United States Attorney Dickinson of St. Paul.

Inspector Got Evidence.

The information on which it was based was secured recently by the postoffice inspector. Mrs. Brown made no statement at her preliminary hearing. She is the wife of former justice of the Peace Brown of Kittzville, who disappeared some time ago, deserting his family.

WEST DULUTHIAN GIVES ADDRESS

Virginia, Minn., April 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—Rev. Eugene Nelsen of West Duluth addressed the district conference of the Danish-Norwegian M. E. church this morning on "What Ought We to Preach Regarding the Second Coming of Christ?"

A round table discussion subject by the pastors in attendance followed.

Rev. Torjus Olsen of Grand Forks spoke on "How Can a Pastor Best Use Different Organizations for Personal Work?"

Rev. Edward Evenson of Superior delivered a doctrinal address on "Different Theories of Atonement." The conference will be closed tomorrow.

VIRGINIA MINES WORK FULL BLAST

Virginia, Minn., April 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—With ideal weather conditions every iron mine in the Virginia district that is being operated is working at capacity and ore shipments from this district are practically up to capacity this week.

The local labor situation is excellent. There are plenty of men for the mines and all have practically full crews at this time, while there is still some demand for labor.

Operators on the extreme eastern end of the range are not so fortunate and some of them are reported to be working short handed. It is expected, however, that this situation will rapidly adjust itself.

JUDGE HUGHES WILL SPEAK BEFORE CLUB

Virginia, Minn., April 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—Judge Martin Hughes of Hibbing will address the Virginia Commercial club at its meeting next Thursday evening on "Our Duty to the Allen." Judge Hughes talk will deal with the subjects of citizenship and preparedness. It is expected that one of the largest audiences which has ever attended a Commercial club meeting in the city will hear Judge Hughes, who is very popular with Virginia people, intensely interested in the subject that has been chosen for him and especially well equipped to speak upon it.

Plan Joint Road Meeting.

The club will also take up the matter of securing a joint meeting of the commissioners of Koochiching and St. Louis counties here with Senators Nord, Haley and Griggs as the guests of honor, when the construction of thirty miles of highway which will provide a complete highway from Duluth to International Falls will be discussed. It is proposed to make the section of the road from Duluth to International Falls a part of the Kansas City-Canada-Gulf highway, sponsored by the National Highways association. This highway has its origin at Cameron, La., on tide water, and is at present extended to Duluth. It is hoped to secure for its maintenance and upkeep federal aid.

The meeting of the commissioners of Koochiching and St. Louis counties will also be for the purpose of outlining a campaign to defeat legislation directed toward the abolishing at the next session of the state legislature of the state highway commission. Senator Nord of International Falls will probably preside. Other local road problems will be discussed.

HURT BOARDING TRAIN AT COOK

Cook, Minn., April 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—As Ed Joyce of this place was boarding a moving Canadian Northern passenger train here last night he slipped and the journal box of a coach crushed his head and injured his back. He was given medical aid here, then taken to Lenont hospital in Virginia this morning. His condition is serious, but he may survive.

WEARS STOLEN TROUSERS INTO COURT; IS SENTENCED.

Chisholm, Minn., April 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—Wearing in court the very trousers he was charged with purloining from Nick Juravich, Rado Kusich, aged 40, was convicted of theft before Judge Master and given thirty days at the county work farm.

MUCH BENEFIT IN CANNING FACTORY

Grand Rapids, Minn., April 28.—The big benefit that Itasca county farmers would derive from the operation in this section of a canning factory to handle all the vegetables raised for which a good market cannot always be secured is becoming more patent and widely discussed.

While such a factory would not run all the year, it would give more employment to labor which would naturally be of great value to the welfare of the village and would be of vital importance to the people of the farming communities within the trading territory of Grand Rapids. In fact, it is agreed, a factory of that kind, in case it were found possible, would be one of the greatest factors in building up the community.

Farming Lands Just Suitable.

In the first place, it is argued, the farming lands of this part of the country produce excellent vegetables in great abundance. This factor would insure a good product from the factory and should insure a market for the product. All kinds of vegetables can be grown here and the quality is not excelled.

But the most important argument put forward in behalf of such an industry, is that it would give a market for one of the crops which could be raised, not only in great abundance but profitably on small acreage. The average settler in Northern Minnesota, with limited funds, can not produce any other crops which would pay as well as market produce, it is contended.

HIBBING WINS AGAIN.

Virginia's Ore Diggers Appear to Have Been Outplayed.

Virginia, Minn., April 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—Lefty Davis' 1916 band of Ore Diggers lost the second exhibition game of the season to Judge Brady's Hibbing baseball veterans at Oliver park yesterday afternoon by a score of 6 to 2.

The Hibbing club outhit, outlucked and outplayed the Ore Diggers, who lost through ragged play induced by the fact that it was the first time many of them had been in a uniform this season and that no opportunity has yet been offered to develop team work or a consistent working machine.

A fair crowd saw yesterday afternoon's exhibition and accompanied the club to Hibbing this morning, where the baseball season is officially opened at the Hibbing park this afternoon. Withers and McGraw were the battery for Hibbing and Swanson, Johnson and Buster worked for the Ore Diggers.

Troy Agnew and De Fait arrived yesterday to join the Davis crew and may work in today's game. De Fait is loaned to the Virginia club by Topeka. He will play third base and looked good in yesterday's exhibition. Agnew was the Virginian's first-string catcher last season and is a great favorite with local fans.

The Northern league season will open in Virginia next Wednesday with a game between the Virginia and Fort William clubs. Mayor Boylan will pitch the first ball and the teams will parade to the grounds behind the new Virgina band.

The score by innings:

Hibbing	2	0	0	2	1	0	0	1	0	—6

INJURED CHISHOLM MINE WORKER DIES

Chisholm, Minn., April 28.—Tom Rupich, age 37, who was crushed between a motor car and the side of the drift in the Chisholm underground mine about two weeks ago, and who was thought to have fully recovered from the effects of the accident, was taken suddenly ill Thursday and died before medical aid could be summoned. Death is presumed to have resulted from effects of the injury.

He is survived by a wife and three children, all of whom are residing in Austria. The funeral will be held Sunday and interment made in the local cemetery.

TOWN OF WHITE TO BUILD SOME ROAD

Aurora, Minn., April 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—Bids have been called for by the town of White for the construction of three miles of the Lampa road. This road will connect the Embarrass farming country with Aurora and is much desired by Aurora people and the farmers who have been working for it for the past five years. The township already has two miles constructed and will construct three miles more. The county commissioners have agreed to commence work at once on the remaining two miles necessary to complete the road.

DRY ITASCA COUNTY CAMPAIGN PLANNED

Grand Rapids, Minn., April 28.—Petitions for a county option election for Itasca county are being circulated by a few citizens of the county. Although the movement has not got into full swing, a number of names have already been secured.

R. A. Stone, county attorney, who has been instrumental in drawing up the petitions, and getting the movement started, says that even though the county is all dry at the present time under the Indian treaty provisions, there is a good deal of sentiment in favor of putting the county on record on the subject. He said that he was confident the county would vote dry, especially after the trial which had been given a liquorless regime.

There were 2,925 votes cast in Itasca county in 1914, and that will make it necessary to provide something over 700 names on the petition before an election can be called. The campaign for names on the petitions will start in earnest soon, according to Mr. Stone.

MAYOR POWER HURLS FIRST BALL THROWN

Hibbing, Minn., April 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—Today is a holiday here. By order of the mayor, who issued a proclamation, Hibbing places of business were closed from 2 o'clock until 5, when Virginia Northern leaguers opposed Hibbing in the first at-home game, which was witnessed by one of the largest crowds of the season.

Mayor Power threw the first ball, a perfect drop, which was received by Mayor Boylan of Virginia.

Band Heads Parade.

The Hibbing Concert band led an automobile parade, consisting of the players and private citizens, to the park.

The battery for Hibbing was Ingersoll and Buster. Green performed for the leaguers.

The Hibbing grounds are in perfect shape and the weather conditions ideal.

LIQUOR TOTER AND OUTFIT ARE TAKEN

Chisholm, Minn., April 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—Matt Jelenc, aged 30, married and the father of four children, was taken into custody by Indian Agents Ellis and Benson early Thursday morning on a charge of smuggling liquor into Indian territory.

Jelenc was arrested by the officers on the Chisholm-Buhl highway as soon as he had crossed the territory boundary, or dead line.

Three barrels of whisky, two barrels of bottled beer, a team of horses and a wagon were confiscated by the government men and the liquor was destroyed. Jelenc was taken to Virginia Thursday and arraigned before United States Commissioner Otto A. Poirier.

SCOTT IS CANDIDATE.

Hibbing Village Attorney Will Again Run for Legislature.

Hibbing, Minn., April 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—Samuel Scott, representative of the Sixtieth district last year will again file for re-election, as he stated he had made up his mind to again become a candidate.

Scott has until May 10 to file and will do so in the course of a week. That he will have opposition is rumored here, as it is said D. T. Collins of Hibbing may enter the race. Collins has not declared himself but friends say that there is a possibility of his listening to his supporters and getting into the fray.

Collins was a candidate last year and did not finish with the first four successful candidates.

Last year Mr. Scott received 1,299 votes, while his opponent from Hibbing, Mr. Collins, received 1,101. Representative Bessette led with 1,661 votes.

HIBBING BAND IS CONSIDERING LEADER

Hibbing, Minn., April 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—Le Roy Thomas, band leader of Duluth, is anxious to lead the Hibbing Concert band this year, according to a letter received by Secretary Elkstrom of the Hibbing band.

J. J. Cason, for four years leader of a symphony orchestra and assistant conductor of the First Regimental band of Minneapolis, is considered by many a being the logical man for the Hibbing leadership.

Many of the Hibbing band members have resigned from the organization, but they are expected to again take an active part in the organization of another good band now, since the matter of an appropriation has been settled.

The band is again holding rehearsals twice a week and is expected to again be the best band on the Mesaba range.

DRILL EXPERT WILL GO TO COLERAINE

Chisholm, Minn., April 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—L. C. Bishop of Ironwood, Mich., drill efficiency expert of the Oliver Iron Mining company, who has for the past three days been compiling records of drilling in the underground mines of this district, will complete his work here on Saturday and leave for Coleraine.

AURORA HAS STARTED CLEANUP CAMPAIGN

Aurora, Minn., April 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—The week commencing today has been designated as clean up week at Aurora by the council and board of health. An effort is being made through the co-operation of the citizens to have all premises, streets and alleys cleaned up and in the best

SUPERFLUOUS HAIR MUST BE ATTACKED UNDER THE SKIN

It has been proven by the world's greatest authorities that hair is bound to grow out coarser and stiffer after each removal unless it is devitalized. It is impossible to devitalize hair with pastes and rub-on preparations, because they only remove hair from the surface of the skin.

DeMiracle, the original liquid depilatory, devitalizes hair by attacking it under the skin as well as on the skin. Imitations of DeMiracle are as worthless as pastes and rub-on preparations, because they lack certain ingredients that DeMiracle alone contains, which give it the power to rob hair of its vitality—its life-sustaining force. DeMiracle works equally well for removing hair from face, neck, arms and under arms or from limbs to prevent it from showing through stockings.

Buy a bottle of the genuine DeMiracle today and you will get the original liquid hair remover. Others are worthless imitations—refuse them. Remember, you are not asked to buy DeMiracle on a mere promise of your money being refunded. DeMiracle is the only depilatory that has a binding guarantee in each package which entitles you to the refund of your money if it fails.

DeMiracle is sold in $1.00 and $2.00 bottles. The larger size is the most economical for dermatologists and large users to buy. If your dealer will not supply you buy a bottle from I. Freimuth or order direct from us. The truth about the treatment of superfluous hair mailed in plain sealed envelope on request. TURN HAIR DARK WITH SAGE TEA

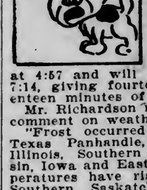
If Mixed With Sulphur It Darkens So Naturally Nobody Can Tell.

The old-time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur for darkening gray, streaked and faded hair is grandmother's recipe and folks are again using it to keep their hair a good, even color, which is quite sensible, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage.



Nowadays, though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the mussy mixing at home. All drug stores sell the ready-to-use product, improved by the addition of other ingredients, called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound" for about 50 cents a bottle. It is very popular because nobody can discover it has been applied. Simply moisten your comb or a soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also produces that soft luster and appearance of abundance which is so attractive. This ready-to-use preparation is a delightful toilet requisite for those who desire a more youthful appearance. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.—Advertisement.

WARMER

The fine, sunny weather still continues and the warmth that is developing today makes it feel more like summer than any yet. There is a little wind but taken altogether the day is delightful.

A year ago today was fair and warm. The sun rose this morning at 4:57 and will set this evening at 7:14, giving fourteen hours and seventeen minutes of sunlight.

Mr. Richardson makes the following comment on weather conditions:

"Frost occurred last night in the Texas Panhandle, Kansas, Missouri, Illinois, Southern Michigan, Wisconsin, Iowa and Eastern Nebraska. Temperatures have risen somewhat from Southern Saskatchewan and Manitoba southward to Nebraska and Colorado, and have fallen over the extreme Northwest. During the last twenty-four hours precipitation occurred over Atlantic and North Pacific districts, Northwestern Ohio, Southeastern Texas and Northern Alberta. Snow was falling at Boston, Mass., this morning."

LOCAL FORECAST

Duluth, Superior and vicinity, including the Mesaba and Vermilion iron ranges: Partly cloudy and warmer tonight. Saturday probably unsettled weather with cooler during the afternoon or night. Fresh to strong southerly to westerly winds.

BUHL WOMAN INJURED; DULUTHIAN GIVES AID

Buhl, Minn., April 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mrs. T. P. Corey, wife of a local merchant, is recovering from injuries sustained yesterday afternoon when the car in which she was riding with her husband became unmanagable and dashed into a telephone pole on the Chisholm road near here. Mr. Corey escaped with a few bruises while Mrs. Corey has bad cuts and possible internal injuries.

Lee Barrett of Duluth, a traveling salesman for Stone-Ordean-Wells, was passing in his machine a few moments later and helped revive Mrs. Corey. She was taken home.

HIBBING ATHLETES ALREADY TRAINING

Hibbing, Minn., April 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—Hibbing athletes are already in training for the baseball and track seasons. According to Coach McMillian, Hibbing stands an excellent chance of winning the honors in high school baseball this year.

With Elmer Nord one of the greatest athletes the range high schools have ever produced as the pivot to build up a team, Hibbing fans are looking for a big season with plenty of wins.

Porteus is expected to shine in the dashes for the high school track team this year and is displaying much form in his early workouts.

There are numerous candidates out for every position on the high school nine and with the coaching of Nord and McMillian, the high school team looks like a winner.

The Hibbing park is being used by the candidates for both the track and baseball workouts.

VIRGINIA ELKS ARE GOING TO CHISHOLM

Virginia, Minn., April 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—Virginia Elks will send a large delegation to Chisholm on Saturday evening, May 6, when Chisholm's new lodge of Elks is to be installed. The local Elks will charter special cars on the Mesaba Electric line for the trip to Chisholm and return. Eveleth Elks will also attend and are arranging for special car service.

New Equipment Arrives.

Chisholm, Minn., April 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—Three shovels, two Bucyrus and one Osgood model 95, and two standard locomotives to be used in mining operations at the Dunwoody pit, one of the Great Northern properties, arrived in this district Thursday.

Keewatin Has Orchestra.

Keewatin, Minn., April 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Keewatin orchestra has been reorganized with Walter J. Dillon, manager of the King Lumber company, as leader. The orchestra consists of six pieces, piano, violin, clarinet, trombone, cornet and drums, and will make a specialty of playing at dances and entertainments.

HIBBING WEDDING.

Hibbing, Minn., April 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—Miss Emma Kleffman and Calvin T. Chamberlain, formerly of Buffalo, N. Y., were married Tuesday at the parsonage of the Blessed Sacrament church, Rev. Father James Hogan officiating. The bride was attended by her niece, Miss Lydia Kleffman. The best man was the bride's nephew, Ralph Kleffman. Following the ceremony the party went to the home of the bride's mother on Sellers street, where a wedding dinner was served to relatives and immediate friends. The couple left for a brief honeymoon visit at Duluth, after which they will be at home at 824 Sellers street. The bride has lived here practically all her life, and graduated from the Hibbing high school in the class of 1908. The groom has resided here seven years, during which time he was employed as an electrician. He has purchased a candy store and later will establish an electrical shop.

JUNE WILL BE HOME-BUYING MONTH

Real Estate Exchange Will Boost House Purchasing Idea.

June will be designated "home-buying month" by the Duluth Real Estate exchange.

At a meeting of the executive committee of the exchange today, it was decided to launch a special campaign during which real estate operators will boost the home buying idea by impressing upon citizens the many advantages it offers over mere rent paying. An effort will be made to prove furthermore that investment opportunities equal to, if not surpassing any city in the United States, are being offered in Duluth.

With a view to promoting interest in the campaign, The Herald has concluded to offer prizes for the best article describing the actual experience and benefits derived by persons who have bought their homes in Duluth. These contributions will be published during the month of May and the judging of their merits will be left in the hands of an independent committee. The first prize will be $25, second prize $10 and five other prizes of $1 each will be given. Further particulars as to conditions and date of the contest will be announced later.

NOT ALL DUE TO FOREIGN DEMAND

Northern Pacific President Says Business Is Prosperous Anyway.

"Every community on our lines shows an increase in car loading, and the intrastate shipments show as much in excess of the shipments last year as the shipments to the coast ports do," declared President J. M. Hannaford of the Northern Pacific railroad, who was in Duluth last evening with a party of officials, on the way to the Cuyuna range for an inspection trip. They left this morning.

Mr. Hannaford asserted that the prosperity of the railroads of the country is not due wholly to the shipping to the coast for transportation to foreign ports, for every branch shows that the business growth is and railroad transportation is enjoying a boom in every section of the country, in places not directly affected by the foreign situation.

"March figures for the Northern Pacific," said he, "indicate a prosperity such as the United States has never before seen. The railroad is a barometer of business and all roads are enjoying the same conditions. The shipping of material to the coast ports, has, of course, been an important factor in improving railroad earnings but it is by no means the chief cause. Our road showed in March a gross income of about $6,000,000, as compared to $4,600,000 in the same month a year ago."

Mr. Hannaford spoke of the demand made by railroad employes for an eight-hour day, with time and a half for work over that period, and said that he believes arbitration will have to be resorted to to settle the question. The railroads have to have their replies in to the employes' offices by tomorrow.

Accompanying the president were First Vice President George T. Slade, General Manager J. M. Rapelje, General Supt. C. L. Nichols, A. M. Burt, superintendent of maintenance, and J. B. Beard, freight traffic manager.

Calcium's Value in Tuberculosis

As a tonic and remedial agent in the treatment of tuberculosis, this element is being studied by scientists and physicians everywhere.

For more than two decades users of Eckman's Alterative have tested its efficacy in such cases, for calcium chlorid is one of the chief constituents of this preparation, which has produced beneficial results in thousands of instances. And in this form it is so combined as to be easily assimilated.

If you are thus afflicted, a trial may prove this to be just what is needed to assist Nature in bringing about a return to normal health.

It is safe to take, because it contains no poisonous or habit-forming drugs of any sort.

NEWS OF THE NORTHWEST

WILL MEET AT THIEF RIVER

Red River Valley Dairymen to Gather There Dec. 6 and 7.

Dairy Stock Show Will Be New Feature of This Year's Meeting.

Crookston, Minn., April 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—The directors of the Red River Valley Dairymen's association, in session here, yesterday afternoon selected Thief River Falls for the next annual meeting and set the dates for Wednesday and Thursday, Dec. 6 and 7.

The association aims to have the meeting the biggest and best in its history.

At the conference there were present President C. G. Selvig, Secretary L. J. Hauske of Halstad, Vice President A. B. Stensgaard of McIntosh and Treasurer C. M. Davidson of Climax. A spirit of enthusiasm was manifest which augurs well for the success of the Thief River Falls meeting.

One of the new features planned for this year is a dairy stock show at the convention, for which an additional $100 was appropriated to be used for prizes, thus insuring a fine showing of dairy cattle. This makes possible another interesting feature in the nature of a competitive dairy stock-judging contest between the butter-makers and the dairymen. On the first day there will be an elimination judging contest, after which two teams of five men each will be selected, one from the butter-makers and one from the dairymen, who on the second day will publicly judge several rings of dairy cattle. This will prove a big drawing card.

Usual Butter Contests.

There will be the regular butter contest, in which each creamery enters a tub of butter, and the annual butter-makers' scoring contest.

There will also be the regular six big contests, as follows:

1. The creamery which shows the largest percentage of patrons who keep herd records, the butter-makers in the winning creameries getting the following prizes: First, gold watch; second and third, $10 each; fourth and fifth, $5 each.

2. For the individual farmer who has kept the best and most complete and accurate herd records for the year. The eight prizes are $25, $20, $15, $10 and four for $5.

3. For the creamery association wherein the greatest number of pure bred sires were purchased during 1916.

4. For the creamery association in the territory of which the greatest number of silos are in use.

5. For the creamery association in the territory of which the largest number of silos were constructed during 1916.

6. For the creamery association in which the patrons have the largest acreage of clover and alfalfa.

Thief River Falls has offered substantial encouragement to the association and a record attendance is anticipated.

AITKIN TO GRADUATE ITS LARGEST CLASS

Twenty-Five Boys and Girls Will Get High School Diplomas.

Aitkin, Minn., April 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—The largest class in the history of the Aitkin high school, twenty-five, will graduate this year. They are Vernon Stowe, Theodore Keeler, Benjamin Keeler, Archie Wanous, Leo Nelson and Misses Dorothy Seavey, Clare Seavey, Helen Harper, Ruth Mathews, Esther Johnson, May McDonnell, Gertrude Smith, Thelma Haugan, Marian Holden, Ellen Carlson, Marvel Dolan, Mavia Dolan, Lucile Rogers, Margaret Robinson, Louise Hense, Emma Olts, Myrtle Johnson, Ruth Carrigan and Adele Coffin.

Vernon Stowe will be the valedictorian, and Miss Dorothy Seavey, salutatorian. The next highest honors were won by Miss Helen Harper and Miss Ruth Mathews.

Senior-Junior Banquet.

The senior-junior banquet will take place Saturday evening. The baccalaureate sermon will be preached Sunday evening, May 28, and commencement exercises will be held June 2.

Caps and gowns, which were worn here last year by the seniors for the first time, will be used again this year. Miss Adeline Hanson is president of the class, and Miss Dorothy Seavey, secretary.

MANY ATTENDING AUSTIN GATHERING

Large Crowd at Minnesota Sunday School Convention.

Austin, Minn., April 28.—Austin is entertaining the largest convention ever held here. Twelve hundred delegates from every part of the state are here to attend the sessions of the Minnesota Sunday School association.

Mayor John H. Anderson made the address of welcome. The response was by Vice President W. A. Buchanan of St. Paul. Charles M. Andrist, private secretary of Governor J. A. A. Burnquist, told of the first Sunday school he ever attended and paid a fine tribute to his mother, who compelled attendance.

Prof. W. H. Wood of Hamline university urged Sunday school teachers to get into close touch with the scientific thought of the day, which, he said, was not opposed to religion and could be harmonized with it to make the Sunday school a real part of the educational system of modern times.

Life's Most Critical Period.

Prof. W. V. O'Shea of the University of Wisconsin showed by charts that the most critical period of one's life begins and ends with the teens. In a few months nature practically remodels the face of a boy and of a girl. "It is important to keep the boys and girls growing as long as possible," he said. "Children who ripen early stop early in their mental and moral development. Among nations those whose children come to maturity very early occupy a very low scale in civilization; the most progressive peoples know how to keep their youth growing for the longest period."

MOTHER OF FOUR CHILDREN

How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Kept Her Well and Strong.

Lincoln, Illinois.—"I have used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for ten years with good results and I have four healthy children. This summer I was in a very run down condition and the very hot weather seemed more than I could stand, but I commenced taking your Compound in June and from then until September 25th, when my last baby was born, I got along much better than I had before. My baby was a girl and weighed 14 pounds at birth, and I recovered very rapidly which I am sure was due to your medicine. I am well and strong now, nurse my baby and do all my work. I had the same good results with your medicine when needed before my other children came and they are all healthy. My mother has taken your medicine with equal satisfaction. She had her last child when nearly 44 years old and feels confident she never would have carried him through without your help, as her health was very poor."—Mrs. T. F. CLOYD, 1355 North Gulick Ave, Decatur, Ill.

Expectant mothers should profit by Mrs. Cloyd's experience, and trust to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

GIVE WAGE INCREASE IN ST. CLOUD SHOPS

St. Cloud, Minn., April 28.—The employes of the Great Northern car shops at Waite Park will receive about a 6 per cent increase in wages, beginning on April 24. Supt. Lindt received this official notice.

The increase is in recognition of the faithful work of the employes, many of whom have been with the company for years, and have given the Waite Park shops the best record in the whole Great Northern empire.

The hour men get an increase of 15 cents a day, and the men on the weekly salaries will get a corresponding increase.

KENOSHAN PRESENTS STOCKINGS TO FRENCH

Kenosha, Wis., April 28.—Robert W. Allen, a young Kenosha millionaire, has sent 46,000 pairs of stockings to the New York committee in charge of relief for French war sufferers. The supply included heavy socks for the men at the front and stockings for the women and children at home.

MILITIAMAN FINED.

Fargo Member of National Guard Punished for Being Absent.

Fargo, N. D., April 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—At the first court-martial into the conduct of a member of Company B, First infantry, North Dakota National Guard, that has been held in recent years, Private William A. Rasmussen was found guilty of wilful disobedience of orders and fined $10 or an alternative of five days in the Cass county jail.

The court was held on special orders issued from the office of the adjutant general of the state, Capt. A. E. Wineman, commanding Company M, Grand Forks, being named presiding officer. The charges were prefered by Capt. G. A. M. Anderson, commanding Company B, stating wilful disobedience of orders with the specification that Rasmussen wilfully and without consent of his superiors failed to appear at the inspection of the company held on March 15.

NORTHOME CREAMERY.

MONUMENT TO SOLDIERS

Fargo Raises Money to Complete Memorial to War Heroes.

Fargo, N. D., April 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—Thursday was soldiers' monument day in Fargo and committees from the patriotic orders of the city collected the balance needed to erect a large monument in the city to the memory of the soldiers and sailors of the Civil and the Spanish-American wars.

The monument will probably be located on Broadway, at the place where an Indian monument is now located, near the Northern Pacific railroad tracks, although the matter has not been decided.

The stone will weigh over fifty tons, will stand twenty feet high with a base ten feet square. The top will be surmounted with the figure of a soldier of the Civil war, while tablets will be placed on the reverse side of the shaft on which will be placed the names of deceased members of the two wars who are buried in the Fargo cemeteries.

FOR BRAINERD PASTOR.

Fifth Anniversary of His Pastorate Is Celebrated at Church.

Brainerd, Minn., April 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—The fifth anniversary of his ministry in Brainerd was celebrated at the First Congregational church by members of the congregation and friends of the pastor, Rev. G. P. Sheridan. George D. La Bar, president of the First National bank, presided. A social hour and refreshments followed the program.

Those taking part were Miss Gladys Nitterauer, pianist; Al Mraz, baritone; P. W. Donovan, speaking for the church at large; trio composed of Edwin H. Bergh, W. P. Bergh, violin solo; concluding with remarks by Rev. Mr. Sheridan.

Everyone Should Drink Hot Water in the Morning

Wash away all the stomach, liver, and bowel poisons before breakfast.

To feel your best day in and day out, to feel clean inside; no sour bile to coat your tongue and sicken your breath or dull your head; no constipation, bilious attacks, sick headache, colds, rheumatism or gassy, acid stomach, you must bathe on the inside like you bathe outside. This is vastly more important, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, while the bowel pores do, says a well-known physician.

To keep these poisons and toxins well flushed from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels, drink, before breakfast each day, a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it. This will cleanse, purify and freshen the entire alimentary tract, before putting more food into the stomach.

Get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from your pharmacist. It is inexpensive and almost tasteless, except a sourish twinge which is not unpleasant. Drink phosphated hot water every morning to rid your system of these vile poisons and toxins; also to prevent their formation.

To feel like young folks feel; like you felt before your blood, nerves and muscles became saturated with an accumulation of body poisons, begin this treatment and above all, keep it up! As soap and hot water act on the skin, cleansing, sweetening and purifying, so limestone phosphate and hot water before breakfast, act on the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels.

CLOQUET COUPLE WED.

Cloquet, Minn., April 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—George Anderson and Miss Clara Marie Ehrman, both well known Cloquet people, were married yesterday morning at the rectory by the Episcopal minister, Rev. James G. Ward. They left in the afternoon for a short wedding trip to the Twin Cities after which they will make their home in this city. Mr. Anderson is employed as sawyer in one of the local mills.

CLOQUET Y. M. C. A. TO EXHIBIT MANUAL WORK

Cloquet, Minn., April 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Y. M. C. A. will give an exhibition this evening of the work done in the manual training department during the winter months by the members of the boys' department. Some very nice furniture has been made, such as library tables, writing desks, book cases, etc., there being about forty pieces in all. All of the material is furnished free by the Y. M. C. A. with the exception of the paints and stains.

The work has been under the direction of John McMellean who has had considerable experience along this line and much credit is due him for the good work accomplished. There have been 125 invitations sent out to the residents of the city.

FLOODWOOD NOTES.

Floodwood, Minn., April 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—John Mustonen and M. W. Hingley returned home from Wisconsin with another carload of Holstein cows, to be divided among settlers. This makes over 100 milch cows of high grade Holsteins brought into this district since New Years.

Halmar Lauri of Halden township is getting ready to put in quite a large acreage of oats, as soon as the ground dries. Last year his oats made eighty bushels to the acre, and was seeded the first week of April, which was the earliest seeding around here, and this has convinced Mr. Lauri that early seeding pays the best. C. J. Lehman of the Prairie Lake district is another settler who seeds early and his oats last year made over seventy bushels to the acre and tested forty pounds to a bushel.

ITCHING ON SCALP HAIR CAME OUT

Had to Lie Awake and Scratch Scalp. Hair Became Very Lifeless and Broke Off Terribly.

HEALED BY CUTICURA SOAP AND OINTMENT

"My daughter had an itching on her scalp and upon it was some sort of pimples. She complained of having to lie awake and scratch her scalp and her hair came out gradually till finally she had hardly any. It became very lifeless and split at the ends till it just broke off terribly.

"The trouble lasted several months and she tried all kinds of shampoos and soaps but all failed. Then she got Cuticura Soap and Ointment. She would wash her hair with the Cuticura Soap and after it had dried she used the Ointment. In a few days she felt better, and in a short time she was entirely healed." (Signed) Mrs. Ida Irvin, N. BOAT CLUB "COMES BACK," OLD TIME SPIRIT BEING SHOWN AT THE ANNUAL MEETING

Great Enthusiasm for National Regatta Already Displayed—Membership Campaign Expected to Restore Membership to Old Figure—Julius H. Barnes Given Ovation—Officers Are Re-elected.

The Duluth Boat club has "come back" after one season when the greatest organization of its kind in America seemed to be "slipping."

The first real step in a concerted movement to boost for the Duluth Boat club finances and the success of the regatta to be held next August by the National Amateur Rowing Asociation of America was taken last evening at the annual meeting of the local oarsmen, which was held in the Commercial club.

It was the first time since late in 1915 that the members have assembled, and the cheering and applause that accented every feature showed plainly that the members are possessed of the proper brand of enthusiasm.

Every speaker was given rousing cheers, the reports of the officers were each roundly applauded and every worthy suggestion for boosting was received with open arms. The gathering was full of ginger. Throughout all of the serious business that means so much to the best organization of its kind in the world, there was a vein of quiet humor that sparkled intermittently throughout the proceedings.

Barnes Loudly Cheered.

Deafening applause followed the announcement that Julius Barnes would speak. Mr. Barnes took the floor, but it was several minutes before he could get an audience. When he did, he asked the members: "Are we wasting our time in trying to keep up the proper spirit and life in the Duluth Boat club? Would you like to see the boat club go? Is it worth keeping? For twenty-five years this club has been the summer social center for the young men and women of Duluth and much real good and happiness has resulted. In a business way it has trained many local young men and given them their first start in life. I could name them to you. Most of them are prosecuting successful lines of endeavor in this city right now.

"I do not know why the club is slipping. Six years ago when Duluth had a population of 20,000 less than today, we had 1,400 members in our club. Now we have about 500. I say, what is the cause for this depreciation. I know the popularity of the automobile, the prejudice against the aerial bridge and the decline in motor boating have had their effect on the membership of the club and lukewarmness of many who are still members.

Membership Failing Off.

"Our club is one of the oldest in the state and the best of its kind in the world. It has been in existence for twenty-five years and grown constantly until the last two years. We should take a real pride in the organization and all get out and work together to boost.

"We are bringing to Duluth Samuel W. Wright of Worcester, Mass., for twenty-five years an instructor of wrestling, boxing, swimming and rowing in the East. He has trained some of the best athletes in the world and is a thoroughbred trainer. He will instruct the boys from 10 years up. I want every boy in Duluth to take advantage of this new feature. Every boy should know how to wrestle, swim, box and row so that he will be physically able to take care of himself. I think that the world's history of the last twelve months has taught us the value of preparedness and the place to start is with the American boy.

"Our regatta next August should be a model for the entire world. We have everything to go with, so why not start? In closing I make an earnest appeal to the general membership of the club to do everything possible to boost and bring in new members. We must make our show a grand success."

Boost Membership to 1,000.

Bentley P. Neff made a short talk in which he said the members should help in every way to get the club membership back to 1,000 by the first of July.

Jim Ten Eyck, Jr., former coach of the Duluth Boat club and a prime favorite with Duluthians generally, said the present year looked liked the best in the history of the club. He said the local boys should win at least eleven of the thirteen events on the national program. "Early in the spring matters looked rather dubious for the framing of good crews," said the former coach, "but now everything is fine. We have fifteen old seniors back at work and these are the men who must deliver the goods. We also have a good squad of juniors who are sure to show to advantage.

"While I am here I want to put in a good word for Sam W. Wright, the new trainer who is coming here to teach the Duluth boys to row, swim, box and wrestle. Wright is a real trainer and will do a heap of good. Now is the time for you fathers to register your boys. The youngsters can go to the club in the morning and remain all day if they choose. A popular priced midday meal will be served to them.

"The only means of revenue we have to finance this coming regatta are the gate receipts and the grandstands. The latter, when completed, will accommodate 4,000 people. If we can fill these stands our meet is going to be a success, but we will not make any money."

Ned Ten Eyck, brother to Jim and present coach of the club crews, made a short talk in which he said he was pleased with the manner in which he has been treated since coming to Duluth. "I cannot say at this time just where my men will finish and I will make no predictions. The boys are working hard and I am delighted with the spirit they are showing."

Officers Re-elected.

All of the old officers of the club were re-elected with the exception of Walker Jamar, secretary, who, for business reasons, refused to accept another term. His place will be filled by Albert Ames. The old board of directors was selected to serve another year. The officers follow: President, J. D. Mahoney; vice presidents, W. S. Telford, John G. Williams, B. P. Neff and J. F. Killorin; treasurer, Arthur P. Barnes; club captain, Wallace Quimby. The four directors re-elected are J. E. Horak, Ray W. Fenton, J. H. Barnes and A. Miller McDougal. Harris Trux will serve another year as sailing captain and Loren Kennedy will be at the head of the lawn tennis division.

A splendid program of music was furnished by a string orchestra, which rendered several very catchy selections, and a double quartet of male voices, under the direction of James Myron, sang two good numbers.

SOME OF THE MEN WHO WILL BOOST FOR SUCCESS OF NATIONAL REGATTA

J. D. MAHONEY,
For Twenty-Five Years an Officer of the Club.

"Dan," who was re-elected president, has served in nearly every office of the Duluth Boat club and has worked hard to make it a success.

JULIUS BARNES,
Leading Spirit in Duluth Boat Club.

Mr. Barnes has done more than any man in Duluth to keep alive the local organization, and takes a real pride in the club.

BENTLEY P. NEFF,
Re-Elected Vice President.

Mr. Neff has served the club in one office or another for years, and never overlooks any opportunity to work for its interests.

ALBERT AMES,
Brought Back From the West to Assist Club.

Mr. Ames has long been identified with the Duluth Boat club and the local Y. M. C. A. He is the new secretary of the club. "Albert" was the man who invented the word "tact."

WALLACE QUIMBY,
Is Re-Elected Captain of Club By a Rousing Vote.

Besides his duties as corresponding secretary, Mr. Quimby will again fill the role of captain of the club.

Giants Win Another.

Boston, Mass., April 28.—Tyler held the New York Nationals to five hits yesterday, Boston winning 3 to 2. The Braves' pitcher retired the side on strikes, beginning with Kauff, in the second inning; and fanned the first man up in the next. Boston went after Tesreau in the first inning, getting two runs on three singles and an error by McKechnie. Gowdy's single and Tyler's double added another run in the fourth. Merkle walked in the fifth inning, and went to third when Gowdy made a bad throw on McKechnie's first hit of the year, scoring on Rariden's sacrifice fly. Burns tripled in the ninth and scored the Giants' second tally. Score:

	R.	H.	E.
Boston	2	0	0 1 0 0 0 0 0 x—3	7	1

Batteries—Tesreau and Rariden; Tyler and Gowdy.

Cubs' Sixth Straight Victory.

Chicago, April 28.—The Chicago Cubs won their sixth straight game yesterday when they defeated St. Louis 9 to 5 in the first game of the series. The locals bunched hits off Jasper and forced his retirement in the fourth inning and then continued their attack against R. Williams, a recruit pitcher obtained from the American association.

Vaughn had little trouble holding the visitors after the second inning, but he eased up in the ninth and St. Louis bunched hits for three runs. Score:

	R.	H.	E.
St. Louis	1	1	0 0 0 0 0 0 3—5	9	1
Chicago	0	0	3 6 0 0 0 0 x—9	12	2

Batteries—Jasper, R. Williams and Brottem; Vaughn and Fischer.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

Senators 4; Athletics 2.

Washington, April 28.—Washington defeated Philadelphia yesterday 4 to 2. With the score tied in the seventh, Myers relieved Bressler with two on bases and although an infield hit filled the bases, the locals could not score. In the eighth, however, a pass, two singles, a hit batsman and a sacrifice fly accounted for two runs.

Score:	R.	H.	E.
Washington	1	1	0 0 0 0 0 2 x—4	6	0

Batteries—Bressler, Myers and Meyer; Harper and Williams.

Cunningham Wins His Game.

St. Louis, Mo., April 28.—Detroit won from St. Louis yesterday 7 to 2, despite the appearance on the mound of Wellman, an old "jinx." He was hit hard in the fourth and Davenport was sent in to relieve him, but Davenport weakened and was succeeded by Groom, who allowed five hits and a run in two sessions. Then came Park, who did good work, but it was too late. On the other hand Cunningham worked steadily and effectively for the Tigers, allowing seven hits, well scattered, and being ably supported. Five errors by St. Louis figured in the counting. The score:

	R.	H.	E.
Detroit	1	0	0 4 0 1 1 0 0—7	11	2
St. Louis	2	0	0 0 0 0 0 0 0—2	7	5

Batteries—Cunningham, Dauss and Stanage; Wellman, Davenport, Groom, Park and Severeid.

White Sox Beat Indians.

Cleveland, Ohio, April 28.—Chicago bunched its hits off Mitchell yesterday and won 5 to 3. Faber was hit hard but his support saved him from being scored on until the sixth, when Cleveland made its three runs on a hit, two passes, an error, and a sacrifice fly Faber again wavered in the eighth but Russell came to the rescue and stopped a rally. Shortstop Chapman of Cleveland, is out of the game with water on the knee. Score:

	R.	H.	E.
Cleveland	0	0	0 0 0 0 3 0 0—3	9	1

Batteries—Faber, Russell and Schalk; Mitchell, Klepfer and O'Neill, Billings.

AMERICAN ASS'N.

Millers 9; Mudhens 5.

Toledo, Ohio, April 28.—Minneapolis hit the Telodo pitchers for a total of sixteen bases yesterday and won the second game of the series by the score of 9 to 5. Bailey was ineffective and after six hits and five runs had been marked up Bresnahan took him out and sent in Kaiserling. In the sixth inning nine visitors were up and four of them walked. The locals made three runs in the second on Wood's single, Perring's triple, Sweeney's safe hit, and an infield out. Minneapolis' three errors did not figure in the scoring. Score:

	R.	H.	E.
Toledo	1	3	0 0 0 0 0 1 0—5	10	1

Batteries — Williams and Owens; Bailey, Kaiserling and Sweeney.

Saints Score Shutout.

Columbus, Ohio, April 28.—Outfielder Gilmore, by spearing Johns' drive as he fell, enabled Pitcher Douglass to get a one-hit 3 to 0 victory for St. Paul yesterday afternoon over Columbus. The catch prevented Bratchi from scoring. Chappelle was the only other home player to reach first, on a single and a pass. Errors accounted for the last two of St. Paul's runs. Score:

	R.	H.	E.
Columbus	0	0	0 0 0 0 0 0 0—0	1	3
St. Paul	0	0	0 0 0 0 2 0 1—3	5	1

Batteries — Bruck, Blodgett, Vance and Coleman; Douglass and Land.

Colonels' Seventh Straight Win.

Louisville, Ky., April 28. — James pitched effectively yesterday and Louisville defeated Kansas City 4 to 1. It was Louisville's seventh consecutive victory. The game was played quickly on a slow field. Farmer walked, singled and hit two doubles in four trips to the plate. Both Crutcher and Gardner were pounded off the rubber in the fifth when a triple, two doubles and a single netted Louisville three runs. Harry Moran, a lefthander, probably will pitch for Louisville today. Score:

	R.	H.	E.
Kansas City	0	0	0 0 0 1 0 0 0 0—1	6	0
Louisville	1	0	0 0 3 0 0 0 x—4	9	0

Batteries—Crutcher, Gardner, Regan and Hargrave; James and La Longe.

Hoosiers 7; Brewers 2.

Indianapolis, Ind., April 28.—Taking advantage of Shackelford's wildness, Indianapolis won yesterday's game from Milwaukee by making five runs in the first inning. After Shackelford had filled the bases with passes and a hit batsman, and Dolan had scored a runner with a single, Jack Leary drove a base-cleaning triple over Jim Thorpe's head. Derrick was walked and Gossett, facing Walker, who relieved Shackelford, squeezed Leary home. Falkenberg was most effective throughout. Score:

	R.	H.	E.
Indianapolis	5	0	0 0 0 1 0 1 x—7	6	2

Batteries—Shackelford, Walker and Mayer; Falkenberg and Gossett, Schang.

STANFORD RAISING FUND FOR CREW

Need Money to Send Men to Poughkeepsie Regatta.

Palo Alto, Cal., April 28.—A campaign to raise $7,000 to send the 'varsity crew and track team east this year was begun yesterday by Leland Stanford, Jr., university student body officials. Each of approximately 2,000 students will be asked for $2 and alumni are co-operating.

The fund is to defray the expenses of the crew which will enter the Poughkeepsie regatta next June and to finance the trip of the track team to the intercollegiate conference meet to be held in the Harvard stadium.

Wins Trophy for Marksmen.

Philadelphia, April 28.—R. L. Spotts of the New York Athletic club won the Dupont challenge trophy yesterday at the ninth annual target tournament of the Keystone Shooting league, at Holmesburg. He broke 98 out of 100 clay pigeons, the trophy being awarded to the shooter making the highest score in the last 100 birds. In the day's shoot Spotts broke 170 out of 175 birds.

The Durable Dutchman.

O, he was a rollicking buccaneer
And his years were forty and one,
And every year as he'd reappear
They'd tell him his work was done,
But year by year he would reappear,
The same as the year before,
And he'd calmly say in his homely way
"We'll tackle it one year more."

Then he'd saunter forth in the days of spring
And he pick up his old black bat,
And he'd heft the thing and he'd take a swing,
And he'd turn it this way and that.
And year by year when the sizzling sphere
Came by with a rush and a roar,
He'd knock it a mile and he'd calmly smile:
"We'll tackle it one year more."

His brow grew sere as year by year
He fielded the bunt and fly,
And his hair grew gray as day by day
He biffed the ball in the eye,
But his heart was light and his eye was bright
As ever in days of yore,
And he'd swing his flail to the same old tale:
"We'll tackle it one year more."

He wasn't the rage on the vaudeville stage,
Nor he wasn't a Broadway swell;
With the sparkling wine and the lights that shine
He never could mix up well,
But year by year has he chased the sphere
Till the years piled up a score,
And still today he can calmly say:
"We'll tackle it one year more."

So here's to Honus, the King of the Swat,
And here's to his lusty blow;
May he ever maul the twirling ball
And be able to beat the throw;
May ever he make the echoes wake
With the grandstand's rousing roar,
But perish the day when he falls to say:
"We'll tackle it one year more."

Fulton Fights Tonight.

Fred Fulton, the Rochester, Minn., giant, will meet Al Reich this evening in a 10-round bout before a New York club.

Fulton "picked up a nail" in his daily gallop yesterday in New York. That is, Fulton injured his left hand on Frank Kendall's hard head in a gym bout at the Pioneer Sporting club.

Instantly there was great concern on the part of Fulton and his trainer, Tex O'Rourke. It was found that the large knuckle on his left thumb was swollen. O'Rourke spent a half hour on that sore joint after Fulton had repaired to his dressing room. The big fellow winced with pain as O'Rourke kneaded the injured member.

"That's the first time I ever hurt either of my hands since I've been boxing," said Fulton. "It'll be all right in the morning, but at that I'll favor it a bit tomorrow in my work, so that there will be no chance of its bothering me when I meet Reich. I wore a pair of new gym gloves this afternoon. The thumbs were padded too heavily and when I hit Frank high on the head my left hand got a sudden twist, all caused by this extra padding."

Tex O'Rourke had the tape on Ful-

ion yesterday and Frcd was astonished when he found that he was two inches taller than his old measurements indicated. Fulton stood in the dressing room doorway in his fighting shoes and the tape marked off 6 feet 6¼ inches. They allowed a half inch for the thickness of his shoe heel, which makes his actual height 6 feet 5¾ inches.

Fulton explained that he had always sent out 6 feet 4 inches as his height, that measurement having been taken when he was 21 years old. "I didn't realize that I had grown up any," explained Fulton. "I knew that I had filled out some, but I was surprised when I saw the mark on the doorjamb measured off."

Fulton's other measurements were: Weight, 217¾; reach, 83¾; neck, 16½; chest, 42; expanded, 45; waist, 34; biceps, 13½ normal; tensioned, 15½; forearm, 13¾; wrist, 8; thigh, 23½; calf, 16, and ankle, 10½.

Cox Great Horseman.

Walter Cox of Cleveland is being credited with one of the most spectacular feats in the history of modern harness racing. Last summer Cox campaigned Worthy Prince around the Grand circuit, started the trotter eleven times in stake races, won close to $12,000 with the steed and brought the Prince into winter quarters with his record the same as that which he carried before he started the season. Worthy Prince was a 2:11¼ horse last spring. Right now he is a 2:06 performer and there is no question about that. But the record still is 2:11¼, and he is eligible for all the stake races in which he participated a year ago. Moreover, Peter Scott, his 1915 nemesis so far as first money is concerned, has passed on and the field is clear for the scion of royalty.

Many Billiard Players.

Baschall is known as America's national game. Millions are interested in it, read it and go to see it. In number of actual players, though, billiards is giving it a hot battle, if not even surpassing it, writes S. G. Barclary in the New York Sun. Harken to John T. Doyle, billiard impresario and considerable statistician, who has reams of data ready to spin off as fast as the mind can comprehend.

"There are approximately 240,000 billiard players in Greater New York and 4,000,000 of them in this country," said Doyle. It was in the little office of his establishment on Forty-second street. Doyle reached for a pencil and a small pad of note paper. He began to jot down numbers as rapidly as he can write.

"The only sports that New Yorkers participate in to a large extent besides billiards are golf and tennis," he resumed. "It is hard to get at the exact number of tennis players, but golf is easy to estimate. There are 100 courses within forty miles of Broadway, with membership averaging 400 in each. That makes a total of 40,000. The public links have about 10,000 additional, with 9,000 licenses out, and about 1,000 others who pay the daily fee. Thus there are about 50,000 golfers in and about New York."

Wefers Has Good Record.

Bernie Wefers, who retires as coach of the Columbia track team in June to go to Fordham, has had a remarkable record in the nine years in which he has been training the Blue and White athletes.

His greatest pupils, perhaps, were Harry Babcock, winner of the Olympic pole vault championship in 1912, and Russell Beatty, who holds the intercollegiate record in the shot put. In addition to these stars, Wefers, in almost a decade on Morningside Heights, has turned out a fine string of athletes from the meager material that came to his hands.

Babcock was the greatest all-round performer he developed. His versatility is attested by the fact that in the four years in which he competed in the intercollegiate championships he scored in the high jump, the broad jump and the pole vault. He set a new pole vault record in 1912, when he cleared 12 feet 8¾ inches, and in 1913 he cleared 12 feet 9 inches, but was defeated by Robert A. Gardner of Yale, who did 13 feet 1 inch.

Beatty's best performance was his record-breaking put with the 16-pound shot in the 1913 intercollegiate games when he set his mark of 48 feet 10¾ inches.

In the sprints, Wefers developed H. H. Jacobs, a 10-second man who had the misfortune to break down twice just before the big games.

Wefers' best year at Columbia was in 1913 when the Blue and White scored 13 points in the intercollegiate and tied with Harvard for fourth place.

COMMENT ON CURRENT AND FUTURE SPORTS

Grand Circuit Harness Meeting and Kentucky Derby News for Horsemen; Dope on Baseball Stars and Teams; Macklin's Successor at Michigan Aggie School.

Cleveland, Ohio—The Western Reserve 2:08 trot promises to enlist the greatest attention of the headlining events of the second Grand Circuit meeting to be held at North Randall the week of Aug. 21. Each of the four early-closing events booked has a rather distinctive entry, but in the Western Reserve event 13 of the most highly touted trotters are nominated. Among them are Peter Mac, Mabel Trask, Worthy Prince, Ames Albingen, Bonington and Peter McCormick.

Trackmen declare this event a classic and expect a new track record to be established. Probably twelve of the horses entered will go to the post as some of the trainers have made double entries, but it is assured, horsemen say, the dozen trotters which are given the word will be the greatest aggregation of trotting stars ever competing in the same race on the North Randall track.

Grand Rapids, Mich.—T. Dinsmore Upton, athletic director of the Grand Rapids Central high school, who has been mentioned as possible successor to John F. Macklin, former football coach of the Michigan Agricultural college, is an avowed candidate for the position. Upton made this announcement after a delegation of M. A. C. alumni conferred with him regarding the matter.

Lansing, Mich.—John Farrell Macklin, who recently resigned as director of athletics at the Michigan Agricultural college will not return to coach the football squad next fall. This fact has just been officially announced. When Macklin left M. A. C. to enter private business in Pennsylvania, he tentatively agreed to return for the autumn football practice in 1916 if his business affairs would permit. It is expected that his successor will be announced soon.

* * *

Detroit, Mich.—Manager Jennings of the Detroit baseball club has been amused at stories published in American league cities, that baseball scouts have been closely watching the work of Pitcher Watson, a left-handed twirler who, until recently, was with the Trinity (Texas) university team. When the Tigers were at Waxahachie last winter, Watson burst into prominence by striking out twenty-six batters of the Texas Christian University team, in a fourteen-inning game. Manager Jennings took official notice of the fact; watched Watson in a practice work-out and Watson's signed contract now is in President Navin's safe. The youngster will play with the Houston, Tex., club this season, after which he will be recalled by the Tigers, it was announced.

Ann Arbor, Mich.—Spring practice of the University of Michigan football squad, has brought out at least one prospective star. Johnson, former lineman of the Grand Rapids Union high school, who is considered one of the strongest men at the university, made a spectacular showing. His long, accurate, forward passes won commendation from the coach. Johnson probably will be used in the line.

* * *

Detroit—The Detroit Americans and New York Nationals will play at least six games during the 1917 spring training season. Detroit again will train at Waxahachie, Tex., while the Giants will return to Marlin, which is near by. Exhibition games will be played at Waxahachie, Marlin, Fort William, Dallas, Kansas City and one of two other cities, one of which probably will be Atlanta.

* * *

Detroit—Manager Jennings and members of the Detroit Americans are much averse to playing exhibition contests during the spring season with minor league teams of doubtful caliber. It is quite probable that next spring the Tigers will avoid many such games. This year it was necessary for Jennings' men to spend several nights on sleepers to reach minor league towns for a single game which proved one-sided. Cobb and Crawford, who were out of the Detroit lineup for several days recently, declare they caught severe colds during these barnstorming jaunts.

Grand Rapids, Mich.—The local Central league team has signed the third member of the famous Coveleskie baseball family. John Coveleskie is expected to play in the Grand Rapids outfield. He is a brother of Harry, the Detroit pitcher, and Stanley, one of Cleveland's young twirlers.

* * *

Chicago—George McConnell, the tall pitcher who is doing the best early slab work for the Cubs, picks out his own days for going on the mound. He is his own judge as to his fitness to perform, but according to Manager Tinker, never fails to be ready to take a regular turn on the slab. McConnell pitched twenty-six consecutive innings without giving a base on balls. In the twenty-seventh inning Vlox drew the first pass. Vlox also was the only man to make a safe hit off long George in the first game of the Pittsburgh-Chicago series. Tinker expects that four men will do the major part of the pitching for him this season. The quartet are McConnell, Hendrix, Seaton and Vaughn.

Louisville—The forty-second renewal of the Kentucky Derby will take place at Churchill Downs, Louisville, May 13. Almost every 2-year-old of the 1916 season of any distinction in the country has been entered, and the indications are that this year's classic will surpass the forty-one that have gone before.

It is said that betting in the "future books" has been brisk, and that the Whitney stable is getting a lot of play. Thunderer, a chestnut colt, is at the shortest price, 4 to 1 being laid against his chances. Dominant, another Whitney entry, Star Hawk of the Macomber stable and George Smith, J. Sanford's entry prevail at 6 to 1.

Only about one-fourth of the fifty-six nominations which were received for the Derby will go to the post. Several English and French 3-year-olds of high class have been entered.

CENTRAL GUN CLUB STARTS

Will Hold First Practice Shoot of the Year Saturday Afternoon.

The real activities of the season will commence at the Duluth Central Gun club grounds at Twentieth street on Park Point Saturday afternoon and Sunday morning, April 29 and 30. Some few of the enthusiasts have already limbered up their shooting elbows a bit, despite the prevailing bad shooting weather, but the main body of members will start along the scatter gun barrels for the first time this season on the dates above mentioned.

This year's rules provide a season's trophy contest in which members are required to score on 100 blue rocks for each of the months of April, May, June and July, with a final 100-bird handicap contest on Aug. 5. The unseasonable weather has prevented all but one of the members from shooting in this contest up to date, but members are reminded that either tomorrow afternoon or Sunday morning the 100 birds for April may be shot at, or members may shoot at 200 birds during May to catch up with the schedule. Members are also reminded that shells will be furnished and sold at the clubhouse.

The special event for the opening dates will be a Class A contest at fifty blue rocks, a prize going to the winning contestant. This is a straight contest, not a handicap. The first official classification shows members who will contest in the A class at this shoot to be the following: M. F. Jamar, Jr., W. A. Abbott, Roy Buchanan, E. G. Bush, Dr. Jones, H. Eisenach, F. E. Brooks, F. Russell, C. W. Wilson, Dr. Clark, F. C. Schott and W. Mendenhall.

On the following week Saturday afternoon and Sunday morning, May 6 and 7, a 50-bird contest is scheduled for the B class members.

This evening will see a general taking down and polishing up of the old reliable dusty guns after the long winter's rest. Many glistening eyes will glance along the barrels. Many imaginary blue rocks will be shattered in the private precincts of the "dens"—many more, doubtless, than the reality of the morrow.

But the bunch will be on hand, with their shooting irons, their enthusiasm and their alibis. And here's to the fellow who gets them all!

IRONTON BALL FANS HAVE FORMED NINE

Ironton, Minn., April 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—Baseball enthusiasts met in the fire hall Monday night. Robert Mayheu was elected business manager; Harold Bolder, secretary and treasurer, and A. H. Proctor, Thomas Mulvaney, Capt. McGuire, D. B. McAlpine and William Seafield, directors. Mr. Proctor headed the subscription list with a donation of $50. A practice game will be played Sunday on the home grounds with the Crosby team.

MAKES NEW AERO ALTITUDE RECORD

London, April 28.—Harry G. Hawker made a world's altitude record in an aeroplane at Brooklands Wednesday, according to an announcement made by the Aero club here. Hawker ascended to a height of 24,408 feet.

The greatest height attained by any aviator was 25,756 feet by Heinrich Oelrich, a German aviator, in 1914. This feat, however, according to available data, has not been recognized by the Royal Aero club. In 1915 Hawker made a new British altitude record by ascending 20,000 feet, the previous record having been 14,500 feet.

SUPERIOR TO PLAY DULUTH

Brautigan's Men Will Come Here Saturday to Meet Sox.

O'Brien Will Use Several Pitchers—Badgers' New Lineup.

Manager O'Brien of the Duluth White Sox will work three or four pitchers against the Superior Northern league team when the crews line up tomorrow afternoon at Athletic park in the second practice game of the season. If the weather is fair the twirlers will have their first opportunity of the year to get up a real sweat and display all of their stuff.

The Superior team of tomorrow is not the same that appeared here last Sunday. Manager Brautigan has almost an entirely new lineup and Duluth will not have the runaway it did in the first engagement.

The battle is scheduled for 3 o'clock and will go the full nine innings. Either Lane or Culver will start on the slab for the locals, and Smith or Donaldson, the mainstays in the Red Sox camp, will open on the mound for Brautigan's men.

Next Sunday the same crews will play in Hislop park at Superior and a record crowd is predicted. It will be the first time this year that the Badger fans have had an opportunity to see their team work and they will turn out en masse. Many Duluthians will journey across the pond to witness the exhibition.

There are no bands playing in Virginia today. Yesterday afternoon Judge Brady's Hibbing Colts took Lefty Davis' Ore Diggers into Oliver park at Virginia and trimmed them for the second straight game this year by a count of 5 to 2. Two consecutive victories have led the range fans to believe that Hibbing has a better ball crew than Virginia.

OLD PLAYERS ON PEG CREW

Catcher Berger, Pitcher Stevenson and Sheffield Report to Moll.

Whitewater, Wis., April 28.—Owner Moll arrived from Milwaukee Tuesday morning to spend a few days with the club in the training camp. Everyone was glad to hear from Moll that Hank Miller and Catcher Berger will join the club by the beginning of the season. Moll has arranged for another pitcher to join the club tomorrow. Jeff Clark is the name of the new arrival. Clark has had considerable experience and Moll is very enthusiastic about him and expects him to turn out to be a very successful hustler the coming season. Moll has arranged with Sheffield, who is at present at Austin, Tex., coaching the St. Edmond college, to report to the club at the opening of the season. Sheffield says he is in the best of condition and expects to arrive about the first of May.

Leaves Saturday.

The club will leave Saturday morning for Beloit, where they will play the Fairbanks-Morse company team Saturday and Sunday. The team will go on the field in almost the regular lineup. There is a possible chance that Pitcher Stevenson will be back by the first week in May. Moll is not satisfied with the arrangements made by the Brooklyn club in turning Stevenson to the Beaumont club in the Texas league. Moll has already opened negotiations whereby Stevenson will be returned to the Winnipeg club. Moll is extremely well satisfied with the material he now has and is confident of making a good showing this season and of satisfying the Winnipeg fans.

Plays Milton College.

A stiff workout was held in the morning. The club left at noon in automobiles to play a game with Milton college at Milton. The pitchers were given a chance to use their wings. Miller and Gervais pitched two innings and Donovan the fifth. Rain cut the game short at the end of the fifth inning. Summers caught the first three innings, being relieved by Moore for the rest of the game. Milton college found great difficulty in connecting with the ball and could not get a hit off any of the pitchers. Nagle led the hitting for the club, making a single and two doubles. The final score was 11 to 0 in favor of Winnipeg. The men were glad of the chance to take a little auto trip and see the country. The game was too one-sided to be interesting.

NEWS AND GOSSIP OF THE BOXERS

Tommy Burns, the ex-world's champion, expects to take on Carl Morris at Tulsa July 4. Burns always manages to get in where the big money is.

* * *

Eddie Moy, the Allentown, Penn., boxer who was Freddie Welsh's sparring partner here, has got into trouble in Australia, because he announced that fact. The authorities figured he must be an Englishman and decided to make him do army services. Moy has cabled his folks to send on the documents to show he is an American.

* * *

Milburn Saylor must have recovered from his recent illness, for he is about to engage in a couple of bouts in New York.

* * *

Johnny Dundee wants 5 per cent more than the promoter offers him to box Saylor, and that is holding up that bout. Frankie Callahan will likely be Saylor's other opponent.

* * *

That colored heavyweight league is continually increasing. Thompson, the St. Louis heavy, has proved such an apt pupil in bouts with Wills and Johnson that he has been taken into the fold, so as to remove some of the sameness from the bouts in that league.

* * *

A machinist in Madison, standing 6 feet 6 inches and weighing 260 pounds, wants to be a hope. If he goes to New York they will make him think he is one while he is able to get any of the promoters to give him a chance.

* * *

Charlie White is quoted as saying in the West that he will never box Matt Wells again. That must sound strange to some of the wise sports who have been tipped to be ready to get their money down on White when he boxes Wells in Boston, for that city has been selected by White to give Wells his "K. O."

BRAINERD RIFLE CLUB WILL SOON SHOOT

Brainerd, Minn., April 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Brainerd Rifle club has received its quota of guns for a company of forty, in addition to rifles bought by the members. Ammunition, 4,800 rounds, has been received. The markers and targets are expected in a few days. High water of the Mississippi has submerged the rifle range, and shooting will commence as soon as the waters subside.

Moha Kayos Caponi.

Beloit, Wis., April 28.—Bob Moha of Milwaukee knocked out Tony Caponi of Chicago in the fifth round of a scheduled 10-round bout here last night. The men are middleweights.

Montreal, Que., April 28.—Eddie Wallace of Brooklyn, N. Y., outfought Frankie Fleming, the Canadian featherweight champion, for nearly two rounds of a 10-round match here last night. Just before the end of the second round Fleming fell to the floor, claiming a foul, and refused to go on.

Will Coach Utah.

Urbana, Ill., April 28.—J. Watson, captain of the University of Illinois football team in 1915, announced today that he will coach the football and basketball teams of Utah Agricultural college, Logan, Utah, the coming season.

Cornell Crew's New Captain.

Ithaca, N. Y., April 28.—John L. Collyer, a junior, was elected captain of the 1916 Cornell varsity crew by members of the eight yesterday. Collyer last year stroked the victorious crew at Poughkeepsie.

STATE SUPREME COURT DECISIONS

St. Paul, Minn., April 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—Decisions were handed down by the Minnesota supreme court in the following cases today:

ST. LOUIS COUNTY.

Cannot Reopen Case.

In re estate of Antoine Poupore, deceased, Aldine Poupore and O. B. Kinsley, administrators, appellants, vs. Stone-Ordean-Wells company and Schwartzchildt & Solberg company, respondents—

On an appeal from the district court in the name of the widow of a decedent, involving her right to a statutory allowance under G. S. 1913, section 7243, R. L. 1905, section 3653, the respondents move to remand that they may apply for leave to reopen the case and show that the widow died prior to the institution in the probate court of the proceedings for an allowance. It is held:

1. That a judgment or determination for or against a decedent when jurisdiction was acquired prior to his death is not void.

2. That such judgment or determination, when the party for or against whom it is given was dead at the time of the commencement of the action or proceeding, is void.

3. That upon the suggestion in this court of the death of a party, a hearing of the appeal will not be had without a substitution; that if the party was dead at the time of the institution of the proceeding, it is proper practice to move to dismiss the appeal; but that the respondents are not entitled to a remand of the case in order that proof may be made in the district court of the death of the party.

4. That when a widow dies prior to an allowance under G. S. 1913, section 7243, R. L. 1905, section 3653, the right of selection survives to her personal representative.

Motion to remand denied.

DIBELL, C.

HENNEPIN COUNTY.

Taxation Rule Defined.

State ex rel. Minneapolis Gas Light company, relator, vs. Samuel Lord, J. G. Armson and J. T. Hale, as the Minnesota tax commission, respondents—

1. The mains, pipes and conduits used and employed by the Minneapolis Gas Light company for the distribution of gas to its patrons do not come within the expression of "tools, implements and machinery," as used in class 3 of chapter 483, Laws 1913, and are properly assessed for taxation under class 4 of that statute.

Writ discharged. BROWN, C. J.

HENNEPIN COUNTY.

New Trial Refused.

Snelling State bank, respondent, vs. Mathias Clasen, appellant—

1. The indorsee of negotiable paper, taken as collateral security for an antecedent debt, is in the position of a purchaser for value.

2. The words "as per contract" written on the back of a note at the time of its execution, under which the payee indorses at the time of the negotiation, do not affect the negotiability of the note.

3. Such words cannot be overlooked by the purchaser; but when a contract accompanies the note and passes to the purchaser, the contract not giving the maker a defense, he is not charged by such words with knowledge of another agreement giving a defense.

4. When there is fraud in the inception of a note or in its negotiation the burden is upon the indorsee of proving that he purchased before maturity, in due course, for value, and that he was without notice of equities in the maker; but the negotiation of a note given in part payment of the purchase of lands with an agreement that if the maker is dissatisfied upon inspection the payee will return it does not constitute such fraud.

5. The right to call an officer of an adverse party for cross-examination under G. S. 1913, section 8371, R. L. 1905, section 4662, is to be determined as the situation is at the time of the trial; and there is no right to cross-examine one not an officer at the time of the trial though he was an officer at the time of the transaction involved.

Order affirmed. DIBELL, C.

HENNEPIN COUNTY.

Lower Court Reversed.

Carl M. Moir, respondent, vs. Hennepin Auto company, appellant—

Plaintiff demurred to a counterclaim in defendant's answer on the ground that it did not arise on contract nor out of the transactions set forth in the complaint. Held not well taken.

Order reversed. TAYLOR, C.

HENNEPIN COUNTY.

New Trial Ordered.

Municipal Court, Minneapolis. R. A. Jacobson, appellant, vs. Brasie Motor Car company, respondent—

Certain material facts found by the trial court not being supported by the evidence, and the record containing evidence which might support the finding of other material facts, a proper result can best be reached by a new trial.

Judgment reversed and new trial granted. SCHALLER, J.

RAMSEY COUNTY.

Trial Court Mistaken.

Max Kanevsky, et al, respondents, vs. National Council of the Knights & Ladies of Security, appellant.

In this action to recover on a beneficiary certificate issued by defendant to an insured member, the trial court refused an application of defendant to enjoin the prosecution of this action until a prior suit in equity, brought by defendant against the insured in his lifetime, to cancel the certificate, had proceeded to judgment. It is held.

1. The order is appealable.

2. The suit to cancel the policy did not abate on the death of the insured; the jurisdiction of the court over the suit was not lost by the death of the defendant, or by the fact that plaintiff then had an adequate remedy at law by way of defense to an action on the certificate, or by the fact that such action at law was begun before the beneficiaries were substituted as defendants in the equity suit. Following National Council vs. Weisler, 131 Minn. 365, 155 N. W. 396.

3. The rule that where a court of equity once acquires jurisdiction, it will retain it, proceed to a decree, and as an incident will restrain the prosecution of actions at law subsequently commenced which interfere with the exercise of its jurisdiction, is applied to the facts in this case. The suit to cancel the policy was pending when the action at law was commenced and the court had full jurisdiction of the parties and subject matter. Prosecution of the action at law should be restrained until the suit to cancel the policy proceeds to judgment.

4. Defendant did not abandon the action to cancel the policy or its right to enjoin the prosecution of this action because it failed to plead in its answer the pendency of the former suit.

5. Defendant was not guilty of such delay or laches as should defeat its right to the relief asked.

Reversed. BUNN, J.

RAMSEY COUNTY.

Company at Fault.

J. McNaney, respondent, vs. Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific Ry. Co., appellant.

The evidence examined and held to justify a finding by the jury that plaintiff, a brakeman employed by defendant in interstate commerce, was injured because the caboose in the train whereon plaintiff was working was supplied with an insecure grab iron; also that defendant negligently failed to provide plaintiff with a reasonably safe place of work and that such negligence caused or contributed to the injury.

The Federal safety appliance acts require secure grab irons upon a car or caboose in an interstate commerce train; and if a brakeman while using such a grab iron, in the ordinary mode, is injured because it is insecurely fastened the railway company is liable.

The complaint states a cause of action against defendant as master for failing to furnish its servant with a reasonably safe place wherein to work.

Affirmed. HOLT, J.

WRIGHT COUNTY.

Clerk's Term Four Years.

State ex rel. John J. Abel, relator, vs. John A. Berg, auditor of Wright county, Minnesota, respondent—

1. By the Constitution the office of clerk of the district court is elective, the term is for four years, it commences and terminates on the first Monday in January, and upon its termination there is a vacancy and not a right in the incumbent to hold over.

2. The term cannot be extended by the legislature; and the statute, Laws 1915, chapter 168, which in effect provides that there shall be no election in 1916 of successors to clerks who were elected in 1912 for terms commencing on the first Monday in January, 1913, and terminating on the first Monday in January, 1917, that such clerks shall continue in office until the first Monday in January, 1919, and that their successors shall be elected in November, 1918, constitutes an extension of the four-year term and is unconstitutional as respects the office of clerk.

3. Under the Constitution providing that the clerk shall be elected, that his term of office shall be four years, that the official year shall commence on the first Monday in January, that all terms of office shall terminate at that time, that the general election shall be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, commencing with the year 1884, that thereafter elections shall be biennial, and that the county officers shall be elected at the general election, the legislature cannot provide that at the general election in 1916 successors of the clerks who were elected in 1912, and whose terms expire in January, 1917, shall not be elected, but that they shall be elected in 1918, and thereby create a vacancy commencing in January, 1917, to be filled by appointment; and Laws 1915, chapter 168, construed as intending to create such vacancy, is unconstitutional.

Peremptory order directed. DIBELL, C.

FREEBORN COUNTY.

Verdict Was Excessive.

L. J. Roemer, respondent, vs. Jacob Schmidt Brewing company, appellant—

1. The liability of a corporation for a slander uttered by its agent is governed and determined by the same rule which determines its liability in case of a libel published by such agent, and it is responsible for a slander uttered by such agent in the course of his employment and while engaged in furthering the business of the corporation.

2. The evidence is sufficient to sustain the finding of the jury that the slanderous words were heard by other persons as well as by plaintiff.

3. New trial granted on the ground that the verdict is so excessive as to indicate that it was given under the influence of passion or prejudice.

Reversed. TAYLOR, C.

KITTSON COUNTY.

Holiday Work Undone.

Farmers Implement company of Hallock, Minn., respondent, vs. Charles Sandberg, appellant—

1. Under G. S. 1913, No. 9412, subd. 6, R. L. 1905, No. 5514, subd. 6, providing that the word "holiday" shall include, among other days, "Lincoln's birthday, Feb. 12," and providing that "no public business shall be transacted on those days except in cases of necessity, nor shall any civil process be served thereon," the words "civil process" include the original summons in a civil action.

2. The service of summons on Lincoln's birthday, when the statute forbids, does not confer jurisdiction.

Order reversed. DIBELL, C.

BECKER COUNTY.

Trial Court Affirmed.

Luck Land company, respondent, vs. C. J. Minor, et al, defendants; F. A. Dickson, appellant—

In issuing a patent to land in fee simple to a mixed blood Chippewa Indian of the White Earth Indian reservation, the officials of the United States necessarily determined that the Indian was an adult. Such determination is conclusive as to the Indian's right to take and hold title, except in a direct action to set aside the patent.

The issuance of the patent, while an adjudication of the patentee's right thereto, and of his title to the land, does not prevent the courts of this state from inquiring into the question of the Indian's age for the purpose of determining the validity of a conveyance from him.

Under the Federal statutes after a patent in fee is issued to an Indian questions as to the validity of his subsequent transfers of the land are controlled by the laws of the state.

MASONS HONOR FORMER OFFICIAL

Alfred Le Richeux, for many years connected with the York Rite Masonic bodies of Duluth in the capacity of secretary, who owing to physical infirmities, has been obliged to resign from two of the lodges, was honored by Keystone chapter, No. 20, Royal Arch Masons, at its regular convocation Wednesday night. The chapter accepted his resignation as secretary and then conferred upon him the title of secretary emeritus as long as he remains a member of the chapter.

Mr. Le Richeux served as secretary of Keystone chapter for fourteen and one-half years and acted in a similar capacity for Duluth Commandery, No. 18, Knights Templars, for twenty-six years. He resigned as recorder of the commandery last March, and N. H. Wilson was elected as his successor. He is still connected with Duluth council, No. 6, R. & S. M., as its secretary.

N. H. Wilson has been appointed acting secretary of the chapter to fill out Mr. Le Richeux's unexpired term. The annual election of officers will be held in September.

Brainerd I. O. O. F. Affair.

Brainerd, Minn., April 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—The 97th anniversary of Odd Fellows was celebrated by Odd Fellows, Rebekahs and their families and friends at Odd Fellows hall. The Junior Symphony orchestra played under the direction of Edwin Harris Bergh. Rev. F. W. Hill, pastor of the First Methodist church, delivered an address. Others taking part in the program were Leona Holst, Hazel Russell, Gladys Peterson, Walter Fisher, Fern G. Clark and Georgia Drexler.

TAX COLLECTIONS IN COUNTY GOOD

St. Louis county tax collections have been remarkably good this year, according to County Treasurer George H. Vivian. Taxpayers have been prompt in meeting their obligations and the books show a comparatively small arrearage. The aggregate amount of taxes due this year is $9,393,343.12. The great bulk of this amount is taxed against real estate. County Treasurer Vivian recently turned over the delinquent personal property tax list to the clerk of the court who later delivered it to Sheriff Meining for collection. The amount to be collected, considering costs and penalties, is $31,975.84.

IF TOO FAT GET MORE FRESH AIR

BE MODERATE IN YOUR DIET AND REDUCE YOUR WEIGHT. TAKE OIL OF KOREIN.

Lack of fresh air, it is said, weakens the oxygen-carrying power of the blood, the liver becomes sluggish, fat accumulates and the action of many of the vital organs is hindered thereby. The heart action becomes weak, work is an effort and the beauty of the figure is destroyed.

Fat put on by indoor life is unhealthy and if nature is not assisted in throwing it off a serious case of obesity may result.

When you feel that you are getting too stout, take the matter in hand at once. Don't wait until your figure has become a joke and your health ruined through carrying around a burden of unsightly and unhealthy fat.

Spend as much time as you possibly can in the open air; breathe deeply, and get from Boyce Drug store, 331 W. Superior St., or any druggist a box of oil of korein capsules; take one after each meal and one before retiring at night.

Weigh yourself every few days and keep up the treatment until you are down to normal. Oil of korein is absolutely harmless, is pleasant to take, helps the digestion and even a few days' treatment has been reported to show a noticeable reduction in weight.

RED LAKE RIVER IS NOW FALLING

Crookston, Minn., April 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Red Lake river is still high here, but has dropped four feet ten inches in the past week. Half off Central park is again in view, and the water is rapidly disappearing from cellars.

The biggest damage to the park comes from young trees which have been stripped of bark by big ice cakes scraping over them, and which will all have to be replanted. Some of the old trees, it is feared, have also been ruined by the action of the ice as it swept over the park. The swings, slides, etc., have also been damaged, and the outbuildings swept away.

Farmers Kick on Ditches.

The county commissioners, now in session, have been deluged with complaints from farmers who have been flooded as the result of ditches with insufficient capacity. This generally results from new ditches having been constructed with older ditches as outlets, without the capacity of the latter being increased to take care of the increased volume of water. The farmers have no recourse where they have been damaged as the result of such conditions, but the board is taking steps to have some of the ditches cleaned out to guard against a recurrence of conditions such as prevailed this spring.

MANY GATHERINGS IN THIEF RIVER FALLS

Thief River Falls, Minn., April 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Commercial club will hold its annual club dinner on May 1, at which Former Governor Eberhart will be the principal speaker. On May 4-5, the Ninth District Federation of Women's Clubs will meet in annual convention, and on May 16 the ninth annual bankers' convention will be held here. Telelaget I America will hold its annual gathering here June 23-24. The annual convention of the Red River Valley Dairymen's association will be held here Dec. 6 and 7.

MEMORIAL DAY PROGRAM.

Arrangements Will Be Made at Meeting of Citizens' Staff.

A meeting of the Citizens' Staff will be called early next week, according to W. W. Huntley, president, who expects that definite plans for the Memorial day observance in Duluth will be worked out at that time. An effort will be made to secure the Auditorium for the memorial services, but the building will change hands on May 1 and no definite assurances have yet been received by the committee.

Derelict Father Fined.

It's Dr. Edward's Olive Tablets For You!

Beware of the habit of constipation. It develops from just a few constipated days, unless you take yourself in hand.

Coax the jaded bowel muscles back to normal action with Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel. Don't force them to unnatural action with severe medicines or by merely flushing out the intestines with nasty, sickening cathartics.

Dr. Edwards believes in gentleness, persistency and Nature's assistance.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets open the bowels; their action is gentle, yet positive. There is never any pain or griping when Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are used. Just the kind of treatment old persons should have.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color. Take one or two occasionally and have no trouble with your liver, bowels or stomach. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

CITY ANTICIPATES CLEANUP WORKERS

Although "cleanup" week will not begin until May 4, according to the proclamation issued Wednesday by Mayor Prince, all the public parks in the city are now being given a thorough cleaning.

Park Manager Cleveland and a crew of men are busy removing the winter's collection of rubbish from all the parks.

The pavilions and rest rooms in the parks are now open for use, while the fountains and water connections have all been turned on.

City officials have all promised to support the "cleanup" campaign, which will begin next Thursday morning.

ENDS LONG ILLNESS.

Charles V. Lee Dies at Hospital; Funeral Saturday Afternoon.

Charles Valentine Lee, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ared V. Lee of the Granville apartments, died at St. Mary's hospital yesterday afternoon following a long illness. He was 37 years old.

In addition to his parents, Mr. Lee leaves three sisters, Miss Lee of Duluth, Mrs. R. B. Hayes of New York city and Mrs. C. A. McDonald of Duluth.

Funeral services will be held Saturday at 2 p. m. from Crawford & Son's chapel. Rev. A. W. Ryan will officiate and interment will be at Forest Hill cemetery.

DATES ARE SET FOR ENCAMPMENT

Duluth, Hibbing and Eveleth state militia members will leave for Lake City for their annual ten days' encampment June 20. Word to this effect was received today by Col. F. E. Resche of the Third regiment.

"We will have about 800 men of our regiment in camp this year," said Col. Resche. "The two range companies will come to Duluth, where they will be joined by the three local companies and the members of the Third Regiment band. As usual, we will leave here at night and will be in Lake City the following morning.

"During the last few days many members of the Duluth and range companies have expressed some concern over the encampment dates for the reason that a report had been circulated saying that the boys would be in camp on primary election day, which falls on June 19."

Prosperous Duluth

The United States is the richest nation of all history.

It produces one-sixth of the world's wheat, four-ninths of its corn, one-fourth of its oats, one-eighth of its cattle, one-third of its hogs, one-twelfth of its sheep, and makes the best clothing in all the world.

The best of this best clothing can be found in prosperous Duluth, right here at the Columbia.

• •

The Stein-Bloch, Sincerity, Society and Sampeck Wholesale Tailor Shops of national repute produce the clothing we sell to men and boys.

• •

In this spring's assortments you can buy these famous makes as low as $14.50 for men and $6 for boys, but for next Fall they will hardly be able to produce any clothes at these prices, for they will not lower the quality and workmanship of their garments.

• •

Men's Suits are here at $10, $14.50, $17, $20, $25, $30 and $35, and we assure you if the Columbia label is inside of the coat, your suit is worth every cent of whatever you spend.

• •

Our year-round Special, the Columbo, $14.50 Suit, is a successful experiment along the co-operative lines of quantity selling on a very narrow margin of profit. It is a fact that Minneapolis and Chicago stores sell the same suits at $18 and $20.

• •

Our April business beats all previous records. This is proof positive that the wave of prosperity is flooding Duluth, and that Duluthians patronize this quality store—the only safe place in times of rising prices. We protect our customers.

• •

Women are wise to this as is evidenced by the enormous increase of business, in the boys' and children's section on the second floor of our establishment.

ODD FELLOWS TO KEEP ANNIVERSARY

Elaborate ceremonies are being arranged by members of West Duluth lodge No. 168, I. O. O. F., to be held at Odd Fellows' hall, 602 North Central avenue, Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. The affair is in honor of the ninety-seventh anniversary of the founding of the order.

The principal address of the afternoon will be given by Rev. J. Wilburt Lillico, pastor of Merritt Memorial Methodist church. A short talk will also be given by John Peyton and other members of the order. The musical part of the program will include selections by the Asbury M. E. quartet and other West Duluth talent.

H. J. Bell is chairman of the committee on arrangements. The committee includes Eric Nylund, J. P. Myron, Louis Flescher and P. G. Phillips. The committee on decorations include Mr. Nylund, Charles Mathews, Walter Loveiace, L. C. Heckroth and H. J. Bell. R. J. Duffy is chairman of the reception committee.

Invitations have been extended to members of Central link, Duluth lodge, No. 28, and the Canton lodge to attend the ceremonies.

C. N. FREIGHT TRAIN HAS NARROW ESCAPE

A Canadian Northern freight train of sixty cars narrowly escaped being pitched down a steep embankment just west of the tunnel when two cars left the rails owing to a soft spot in the road bed. The train was going at slow speed.

The two cars that left the track, were held from going over the embankment by the remainder of the train. The wreck delayed the outbound passenger train yesterday until 5:15 p. m. A short time before the wreck the Duluth bound passenger had passed safely over the same place.

Child Summoned.

Elsie Violet, the 14-day-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kaljalainen, 22 South Fifty-ninth avenue west, died this morning. The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock from the residence. Interment will be in Oneota cemetery.

Will Resume Sewing School.

The sewing school held by the women of the West Duluth Women's Christian Temperance union will be continued tomorrow afternoon. No session was held last Saturday owing to the closing of the library during the day. The school is attended by nearly 100 children of this end of the city, who are given instructions in the making of all classes of garments.

Killed By Train.

Mrs. T. F. Olsen, 512 North Fifty-ninth avenue west, this morning received word of the death of her cousin, Oral Ditty at Kelliher, Minn. The young man was employed as brakeman for the M. & I. railroad. Shortly after pulling out of the station yesterday morning at Kelliher the young man slipped and fell under the cars. Both legs were severed above the knees and he was internally injured. He died during the afternoon. The body will be taken to his former home at Maple Plain, Minn. The young man's mother died about six weeks ago.

SAWMILL WILL BE REOPENED

The West Duluth sawmill of the Alger-Smith Lumber company will resume operations Monday morning at 7 o'clock. The mill has been idle since the bay froze over on Nov. 1 last fall.

The resumption of activities at the sawmill will give employment to about 200 men Monday. In addition to this a night crew may be put to work about June 1, according to M. J. O'Brien superintendent of the mill.

A large supply of logs has been received at the local mill and daily shipments of thirty-five cars of logs will keep the mill operating all summer. It is expected to operate this year until Dec. 1.

During the winter the sawmill has been given a thorough overhauling. Close to $10,000 has been spent in repairs to the building and the replacement of machinery. Several departments have been entirely rebuilt.

LIGHTS AND SHADOWS OF POLICE COURT

PAGING MR. FIELDING.

Police Receive Request to Hunt Up Son of Washington Woman.

Guy M. Fielding is being "paged" by police today.

Chief R. D. McKercher received a letter from Mrs. E. E. Bell of Orting, Wash., who is Mr. Fielding's mother, and who is anxious to locate her son.

"He used to live in Duluth," the letter read. "He was there about three years, and last spring he went to Fond du Lac, Wis. I haven't heard from him since then."

The chief turned the matter over to Chief of Detectives Lahti, who has started a search for the missing son.

TOO STRONG ON "NERVE"

Eddie Goss and "Pupil" Are Both Locked Up.

"Nerve, me by," said Eddie Goss, "'sall yuh need to get by in this little ol' world. Watch me."

"Eddie," police say, swaggered down the street, and walked up to the nearest pedestrian, who happened to be under the weather, and who also happened to be Ecrikki Risu.

Of course Goss didn't recognize Ecrikki Risu as a man with an unusual memory. If he had, this story would never have been told.

As it happened, he snatched Risu's watch, value $10; deftly flipped a $5 bill from Risu's vest pocket, and ran down the street.

Risu was so startled, and so befogged by liquor, that he didn't say a word, or even raise an outcry. Charles Wirta, Goss' friend, was duly impressed by the results, and vowed that nerve accomplished wonders.

Wirta was locked up later, though, as a suspect, and last night Goss was caught in Superior.

The exponent of "nerve," with his pupil, faced a municipal court judge this morning, charged with petit larceny. Both pleaded not guilty.

FATHER IS DYING.

Asks Police to Help Him Find His Missing Son.

A dying father who wants to see his son before he passes way has asked police to locate August Edward Sarvi, an 18-year-old boy, who left home in July, 1915. The father is Gust Sarvi of Sebeka, Minn.

"He left home nine months ago," said the letter received from the mother by Duluth police. "He was in Duluth about three weeks, but we have not heard from him since.

"His father is dying and will never see his boy again unless August hurries home." The Sarvi home formerly was at Menagha, Minn., according to the letter.

Chief of Detectives Gust Lahti is looking for the youth, who is described as being about six feet tall and weighing about 150 pounds. He has blue eyes and light hair.

POUPORE CASE IS UP AGAIN

Supreme Court Makes Decision on Estate of Well Known Character.

Finis is yet to be written to the story of the affairs of Anton Poupore, former resident of Poupore's Siding, this county, whose Dr. Jeykll and Mr. Hyde existence came to light shortly after his death in September, 1909, when it was discovered that he had two families—one in Minnesota and one in New York.

Ever since his death his estate has been involved in some sort of litigation. The first was a contest between the New York and Minnesota widows as to which was entitled to the estate. The courts decided in favor of the New York wife and children, and then the creditors of the estate began their fight in the court to establish their claims.

Today the Minnesota supreme court handed down a decision affecting one phase of the litigation which has been pending between the recognized widow and the creditors. The court holds that although the widow died before she had obtained her allowance under the law, the right of selection survives to a personal representative. The high court, however, refuses to grant the motion of creditors to remand the case to the district court, in order that formal proof of death may be made. The creditors were the Stone-Ordean-Wells company and the S. & S. Packing company.

ADDITIONAL SPORTS

PENNSY RELAY IS ON FOR TWO DAYS

Big Track and Field Meet Attracts 2,400 Athletes.

Philadelphia, April 28.—Despite the cold, damp weather that prevailed here yesterday, Franklin field was crowded with visiting athletes limbering up and taking their final workout in preparation for the University of Pennsylvania relay carnival today and Saturday. The cinder path was in fair condition, but the field was somewhat muddy.

Among the early arrivals was the squad from Dubuque college, Dubuque, Iowa, which included Sol Butler, the negro sprinter who holds the record for the 60-yard dash and also is a broad jumper of ability.

The Missouri teams, headed by Simpson, the champion hurdler, and Pennsylvania state college also came in, but they did not practice, owing to the cold weather.

The University of Chicago one-mile relay team arrived late in the afternoon and went directly to Franklin field to inspect the track. They did not don their running togs.

Today's program includes the pentathlon, sprint medley and the distance medley championships, in addition to several school championships.

Entries for the two days' meet include 2,400 athletes from 130 colleges and many high schools and academies. Fifty-eight relay races are scheduled in addition to numerous special events.

THIEF RIVER FALLS HAS BASEBALL CLUB

Thief River Falls, Minn., April 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—Baseball enthusiasts have organized the Theif River Baseball club with the following officers: G. A. Penny, president; W. A. Devenney, secretary-treasurer. The directors elected Charles A. Nacon manager of the team and C. A. Pitt assistant manager, while a field captain will be selected by the manager at a later date.

Hoffmeister, who went to Duluth to try out with the Northern league team of that city, but who arrived too late to secure a place, will wear a Thief River Falls uniform this season. He is expected home this week.

New uniforms will be ordered in a few days.

FIXITS OF SUPERIOR WILL PLAY LOWELLS SUNDAY

The first intercity and semi-professional baseball game of the present season will be played next Sunday at Athletic park when the Fixits of Superior will stack up against the Lowells of West Duluth. Both managers have large squads and every possible player will be given a chance to show what he's got.

The Fixits' squad follows: Catchers, De Santo, Monoghan; pitchers, Wright, Gallagher, Stevenson; first base, Bardon, Duff; second base, McKinnon, Cushway; shortstop, Ashby, Weeks; third base, Holdstrom, Ross; outfielders, Gray, Redfield, Bird, Shoffman.

ANGELL'S LAW LIBRARY LEFT TO UNIVERSITY

Ann Arbor, Mich., April 28.—All of the works dealing with international law in the library of the late Dr. James B. Angell, president emeritus of the University of Michigan, are left to the general library of the university, in the educator's will, just admitted to probate. The collection contains many law books which are not duplicated in any library in the United States.

Other property valued at $10,000 is bequeathed to members of Dr. Angell's family, and legacies also are left to two servants who have been with the family for many years.

Three Sailings Monthly.

Madrid, via Paris, April 28.—The new regular steamship service between Vigo and New York, soon to be inaugurated by the Spanish transatlantic line, will begin with three sailings each way monthly, according to an announcement by the company.

FIDELITY BLDG.

14 West Superior St.

It is a well known fact that the most successful concerns are the most discriminating in the selection of locations for their offices.

We are proud of our tenants and a glance at the names on the Fidelity Building Directory (in the lobby) cannot fail to convince any reasonable person that our pride is justified.

That we are still able to offer a few very desirable offices is due to the fact that we have been just as discriminating in the selection of our tenants as the tenants have been in their selection of a building.

An office in the Fidelity Building is a credential of business or professional integrity.

Allow us to show you these offices. The rents are reasonable, the service excellent and the building fireproof. Very low insurance rates.

Before the Battle---

MILK!

The Allies' Armies in the Trenches Are Served Milk Before Each Engagement

To perform the master feat, to exert the extra energy needed for war, the French have found pure milk to be the most perfect stimulant. The French soldier, fortified with milk, goes into action with a dash, and performs his work with the minimum of exhaustion. He is attentive and alert when put to the test. Pure Milk slows down his pulse, strengthens his heart and muscles and tones up the human machine for endurance and efficiency.

Pure milk contains sugar, minerals, oils and fats, albumins, starches and water. These are all the foods necessary to life, and in milk we find them excellently, proportioned.

Pure milk is not only a safe and nourishing food for infants and growing children, but has been proved by scientific experiment to be one of the most powerful stimulants known—needed by full-grown men and women.

If your day's work is a battle; if your brain becomes dull and sluggish; if you are not performing up to the full measure of your efficiency, DRINK MILK! Pure Milk will whip up your tissues, hold you to your task without reaction and collapse, and will prove a vital tonic, not only harmless but exceedingly appetizing.

APPETIZING, if you know the milk has been clarified—rid of any possible refuse that might have slipped in through insanitary conditions in the stable, poorly groomed cows or carelessness in the handling.

HARMLESS, if the milk has been pasteurized. Pasteurization heats the milk to a temperature that kills any chance disease germs in it. Fortunately THIS TEMPERATURE IS NOT HIGH ENOUGH TO AFFECT THE CREAM VALUE, TASTE OR DIGESTIBILITY OF THE MILK. Thirty minutes at this temperature, then promptly cooled, it is just plain milk—but pure.

Buy Milk In Bottles and Insist That It Be Clarified and Pasteurized.

Why Fried or Scrambled Eggs are Hard to Digest

You have seen fried eggs, an omelette or scrambled eggs, fried in cow-butter or animal fat, that seemed as though varnished. That was due to and caused by the action of the fat on the albumins, which were toughened and given the character of rubber. What was a food, became an indigestible, fermenting mass.

SAWTAY

100% Pure Butter-of-Nuts

For Baking, Shortening, Frying & Candy-Making

adds to the food-value of the egg. It does NOT harden the albumins and leave the product varnished with grease. You never will know the distress of indigestion if your food be made with or of SAWTAY. The scientists have testified that SAWTAY digests to 98% and melts at a lower temperature than that of your stomach. Most fats do not. Further, you can use the same portion of SAWTAY over and over—fry eggs, strain, then onions, strain, and use the same portion for baking a pie or a delicate cake.

SAWTAY BREAKFAST MUFFINS OR ONE EGG MUFFINS

2 cups flour — 2 tablespoonfuls sugar
4 teaspoonfuls baking powder — 1 cup milk
½ teaspoonful salt — 3 tablespoonfuls Sawtay
1 egg

Mix and sift the dry ingredients. Add milk gradually and the egg well beaten. Add the melted SAWTAY last. Bake in muffin pans (thoroughly greased with SAWTAY) 25 minutes in a moderate oven.

PARKER HOUSE ROLLS

2 cups flour, 2 teaspoons baking powder, 1 teaspoon SAWTAY, 1 cup milk, pinch of salt. Put SAWTAY in milk and heat until lukewarm, add the baking powder and salt to the flour, then mix all with milk and heat well for five minutes. Flour board well, turn out dough and add enough flour to it to make stiff and smooth. Roll to about one-half-inch thickness, cut with three-inch Biscuit cutter, place a dent in the center of each roll, turn one half over the other, brush with milk and bake for twenty-five minutes in moderate oven. Makes one dozen rolls.

Sawtay is Economical—
Use one-fifth less and over and over.

FINNISH SOCIETY IS INCORPORATED

S. S. Casco Osasto is the name of St. Louis county's latest society, incorporated for the study and discussion of politics, economy and social science.

Jacob Pajala, Fred Pekola, Matt Joki, Sam Nikkola and Matti Lahteenmaa, all of Casco, are charter members and organizers. Incorporation articles were filed today with the register of deeds.

One of the objects of the society is to promote the mutual welfare of the Finnish speaking people of that community.

LUTHERANS MAKE PLANS

Will Celebrate the Quadri-Centennial of the Reformation.

Preparing for an Appropriate Commemoration of the Event.

New York, April 28.—Four million Lutherans in America are laying broad plans for a commemoration next year of the Reformation, the Rev. Howard R. Gold, executive secretary of the joint Lutheran Committee on Celebration of the Quadri-Centennial of the Reformation, told the Lutheran society at a dinner here last night. Mr. Gold outlined the committee's plans and discussed the leading features of the commemoration. The Lutherans in this country will be in communication with "the 76,000,000 Lutherans the world over," in carrying out the project, he said.

"On Oct. 31, 1917, it will be 400 years since the Reformation took a definite beginning with the nailing of the now famous ninety-five theses upon the Wittenberg church door," Mr. Gold said. "Already active preparations are under way for an appropriate and constructive commemoration of the event. The Reformation is an established historic fact and Martin Luther's place as the leader among reformers is fixed. The observance of a religious leader is almost coincident with the tercentenary of a great genius in literature, Luther and Shakespeare are men worthy of chief places among those who have served their fellowmen well. Opinions may differ in a degree about such leaders but on anniversary occasions all men are in a mood to appreciate.

Lutherans Will Co-operate.

"It is gratifying to note that the large Lutheran bodies are joining forces for celebration purposes. Five synods of national character are in co-operation in all the leading anniversary features and in certain practical lines all Lutherans will co-operate. National headquarters have been established for advisory purposes in the Horner building, Philadelphia, the city where the history of Lutheran church is so intimately related to our colonial and early national life.

"Numerous sub-committees are at work pushing and shaping the plans outlined by the joint committee to which they are responsible. Some of the most important are literature and public information, public meetings and program, medals, motion picture film, statistics, music, exposition and finance.

"A Reformation library is established and the circulation of books, monographs and pamphlets facilitated. Books are translated from foreign languages and a fund of fresh literature will be produced in this country. A group of American scholars is translating the principal works of Luther; two volumes are already issued. The second volume of "Luther's Correspondence" comes from the press in the autumn and a new popular life of Luther is being prepared by a well known American writer. A recent history of the Reformation will be translated.

Will Furnish Speakers.

"A number of selected writers will cover the phases of the Reformation history and a lecture bureau established at headquarters will furnish speakers and subjects suitable for any occasion. All the leading and related factors of the Reformation will be treated by specialists, and in the light of the most recent research. The design for the quadri-centennial medal is being made by a sculptor of reputation and will be ready for distribution in October, 1916.

"The large centers have their local committees at work. Endeavors are made to select dates in such a way as to avoid conflict as far as may be possible. There will be celebrations in all sections, and it is expected that they will be arranged as to come to a fitting climax in a recognized center of each section.

"The celebration will naturally take on the character of a religious observance but the program will not be confined to that sphere. There are related fields which especially in recent years have received considerable attention. So much so that one can not go far into Reformation principles and developments without dealing directly with political science, economics, public education, and social problems. To re-examine these principles and to trace their influence on progress subsequent to the sixteenth century, and to view their application to modern life and problems, will be the task of students of the Reformation.

Pageants and Tableaux.

"Sunday schools, the Luther league, Men's societies, and Women's societies are planning to take active part in special features. Pageants and tableaux will be standardized and used wherever arrangements can be made.

"It is expected that church life will be quickened and that permanent benefit will be derived. All the church boards are now, or will be, engaged in campaigns for raising jubilee funds that will endow educational and other institutions, or establish new ones. Some large amounts have already been subscribed and the buildings under construction will be dedicated in 1917.

"Attention will be given to practical church life. Methods of work will receive careful survey and revision of standards of activities will take place. Means of conservation are being considered which will be given practical application after Oct. 31, 1917. It is our earnest hope that a spiritual uplift will accompany and follow this anniversary year; and unless we can quicken the pulse beat and increase the effectiveness of our common Christianity we shall have celebrated in vain."

PRINCE JOHN CHARLES, BABY OF THE BRITISH ROYAL FAMILY

PRINCE JOHN CHARLES.

This is a recent picture of Prince John Charles, the "baby" of the British royal family. He was born July 12, 1905, and he will be only 11 years old this year. So he is not taking a very lively interest in the war. He is at present at school.

AMERICAN DOCTOR MADE A GENERAL BY CZAR NICHOLAS

GEN. DR. PHILIP NEWTON.

Dr. Philip Newton went to Russia at the beginning of the war to do Red Cross work and for his services at the front he was made a general by the czar. After a visit to the United States he is returning to Russia with fifteen automobile ambulances presented to Russia by the American Hospital and Ambulance in Russia.

Most Famous Male Dancer In World Now in America

NIJINSKI AND FAMILY.

Nijinski, the famous Russian dancer, arrived in New York recently accompanied by his wife and his child. He is the most famous male dancer in the world and was a leading member of the Diaghileff Ballet Russe when it appeared in Paris and London. When the war began he was in Vienna, and he was interned there by the Austrians. All diplomatic efforts to obtain his release so that he might appear in America failed for a long time. Finally the Austrian government consented to exchange him, and he got to Paris and thence came immediately to America.

Damrosch's Daughter As a Flower Girl

GRETCHEN DAMROSCH.

Gretchen Damrosch, who was one of the society girls selling flowers at the flower show in New York, is the daughter of Walter Damrosch, organizer and conductor of the New York Symphony society. She had two distinguished grandfathers, her maternal grandfather being the late James G. Blaine, and the paternal, Dr. Leopold Damrosch, composer and conductor.

BOASTING WOULD BE UNMAIDENLY

Topeka Journal: There is a family in town that has a number of attractive daughters. The father guards his daughters like a faithful old watch dog, and the mother, thinking her husband's discipline a bit severe, and remembering her own youth, rather aids and abets the girls in their schemes for entertainment. Father insists that the beaux jog on home at 9:30, but mother turns back the clock. She tells what she considers a rich joke on her husband. A smart-Aleck college chappie had come a-calling on the youngest of the girls, and father didn't like his looks or his manners. The next morning he called his daughter to one side and inquired what time the young man had left the evening before. She told him the hour. "I heard the door open," the father said, "and it was a good while before it closed again. Did he kiss you when he left?" Daughter blushingly acknowledged that he did. "How many times?" the cross-examination continued. "Well, father," flared the girl, "I am making a confession, but I'm not going to brag."

MARKETS UP AT THE CLOSE

Wheat Strong After Early Weakness on Weather Predictions.

Flaxseed Off to New Low Levels on Movement—Heavy Selling.

Duluth Board of Trade, April 28.—The market was strong around the close with continued good bidding.

May wheat closed ⅜c up, July ⅛c up and September ⅜c up.

May durum closed ⅞c off and July 1c off.

Oats closed unchanged at 42c for on the track; rye, unchanged at 91@92c, and barley unchanged at from 65c to 73c.

At Winnipeg, May oats closed unchanged to ⅛c up at 45@45⅛c and July unchanged at 44⅞c.

At St Louis, May wheat closed at $1.10 and July at $1.11⅜.

At Kansas City, May wheat closed at $1.05¼ and July $1.07⅛.

Puts on Minneapolis July wheat closed at $1.17⅝ and calls at $1.20⅝.

After selling off sharply at the start today on lower cables and reported favorable conditions for seeding over the Northwest the wheat market took an upturn on predictions of more unsettled weather tomorrow.

As a rule the day's news was on the bullish order. Experts reported a further falling off in the condition of the crop over the Southwest and in districts further north, considerable winter killing was noted. Receipts of spring wheat on the Northwestern markets continue to fall off, and that is expected to continue for some time yet, till farmers are through with their spring rush. There is also said to be more of a disposition among growers to hold the remaining supplies on their farms for higher prices. It is argued that in view of war conditions, foodstuffs are unlikely to sell off materially below their present price levels, while in the event of the crop and acreage of spring and winter wheat being reduced to the extent indicated in the preliminary reports, there should be a sharp upturn in the markets.

Receipts of wheat at Duluth today were just 19 cars against 58 last year. Minneapolis had 124 cars against 210 a year ago. The movement is heavy from the Canadian Northwest, as shown in the receipts at Winnipeg from day to day. Today 663 cars were received there against 135 a year ago. According to advices from Winnipeg, 17,365,000 bu of all grains have been shipped out from elevators at Fort William and Port Arthur since last Saturday night up till today.

The movement from Duluth has been more moderate, with wheat stocks at the Head of the Lakes estimated to show a decrease of 3,500,000 bu in the week.

May wheat opened ¼c off at $1.17½, declined to $1.16⅝, and then firmed up on good bidding to $1.18¼ at the noon hour. July opened ¼c off at $1.18, broke ⅞c more, and then advanced to $1.18⅝. September was traded in unchanged at $1.15⅜.

May durum opened unchanged at $1.14, broke 2c and then firmed up ⅞c. July opened ⅛c off at $1.15⅛, slumped ⅞c more and then recovered ⅝c to $1.14.

Flax Slumps Again.

Flaxseed continued its downward course. A batch of selling orders was in for execution at the opening, and with the catching of stop-loss orders, prices were run down sharply. There was no special news out, other than that crushers showed a disposition to wait for concessions. Weakness at Winnipeg was, however, a factor.

May flax opened, ¾c off at $2.06, and closed, 5¼c off at $2.01 bid. July opened, ½c off at $2.07, and closed 4½c off at $2.03. November opened, ¼c off at $1.90, and closed, 4⅛c off at $1.86 bid.

At Winnipeg, May flax closed 5c off at $1.78, and July 5⅛c off at $1.81½.

At Buenos Aires, flax closed 1c off at $1.30¼ and London 1⅝c off at $2.55⅞.

Broomhall cabled from Liverpool: "Wheat market was dull and easier with prospects of liberal arrivals. Spot was unchanged to 1d lower with pressure of No. 1 Manitoba, nothwithstanding lighter shipments from Argentina. Cargo market was easy; Manitobas and winters 6d lower, with demand quiet. London was weak with large arrivals and scarcity of storage room. Continental demand is being satisfied."

A wire from Fort William said: "From Saturday until last night 17,355,000 bu of all grains had been loaded and carried to Buffalo, Montreal and Tiffin. A big shipment went out yesterday with the departure of 17 steamers carrying 3,132,000 bu, while the biggest day's cargoes loaded were 4,817,000 bu on Wednesday. Some 57 steamers have departed from here since the opening, all loaded to capacity. There were 38 boats in port at one time yesterday, and five or six were expected last night and this morning."

Modern Miller says: "In Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and Missouri there are no improved conditions in the growing wheat with extensive plowing and winter killing. There is no material change in Kansas. Nebraska has prospects for good yield. From Oklahoma there are conflicting reports. There is delay in low lands and probable reduction in acreage."

• • •

Weather forecast:

Partly cloudy, unsettled and cold in North and South Dakota, Nebraska, Kansas, Minnesota and Iowa.

Illinois, Wisconsin and Iowa—Becoming unsettled.

Missouri—Cloudy and unsettled.

Russell's News, New York, said: "Cables from Holland state that there is growing uneasiness over the additional sinkings of Dutch vessels. The export interest in wheat yesterday appeared to be almost entirely restricted to the buying of wheat by Greece. Parties in close touch with this business stated that the transaction did not exceed 50,000 tons of durum wheat although there were rumors of considerable more. The export business in corn was placed at 300,000 bu."

Snow's report said: "My reports from the Northwest indicates only a moderate reduction in the spring wheat acreage. Seeding is underway rather late but is not too much delayed to secure good results if later weather conditions are satisfactory. My advices indicate that South Dakota may have an acreage equal to last year, while Minnesota apparently will show only a moderate loss. The Red river valley in North Dakota is in bad shape, and the acreage decrease will be sharp there, but the territory west of that district is not much affected. The worst feature of the situation is lack of fall plowing, and the hurried and inefficient manner in which the crop must be seeded, but this is a factor that depends for its final effect largely upon the weather conditions later in the season."

A Chicago wire to Charles E. Lewis & Co. said: "Herbert Trobson of Ross, Smith & Co. of Liverpool, who generally are credited with being official purchasing agents of the British government, is here today and says he is bearish on wheat, due to the poor condition and quality of hard winter wheat. India has a larger carry-over than the trade has been figuring on. He is surprised that Chicago and Winnipeg should be selling at practically the same prices, as export demand of late has been disappointing."

CHICAGO MARKET.

Chicago, April 28.—Favorable weather northwest and lower Liverpool quotations gave a downward swing today to the wheat market here. The volume of trade was not very large, and prices were easily influenced. Brokers said deals in the May option had become difficult to execute and that the delivery showed signs of tightening. Initial prices which ranged from ⅜c decline to a shade advance with May at $1.12⅜@1.13 and July at $1.14@1.14⅜ were followed by a slight rally and then a general decline.

Reports that green bugs were causing damage throughout Oklahoma tended afterward to rally the market. Missouri advices were also received that told of injury from Hessian fly. The close, nevertheless, was weak at $1.13⅜ for May and $1.14⅞ for July—with the market ¼ off to ⅝c up compared with yesterday's finish.

Corn turned down grade owing to the weakness of wheat. Besides field conditions were such as to favor plowing and planting. After opening ⅛c to ⅜@½c lower the market continued to recede.

Later fluctuations seemed to be governed entirely by the action of wheat. The close was heavy at ⅛ to ⅜@½c net decline.

In oats as in other grain auspicious weather had a bearish effect. Commission houses took almost unanimously to the selling side.

Higher prices on hogs put firmness into provisions. On the bulge, however, signs appeared that packers were unloading.

(Note—The customary way of quoting foreign exchange is as follows: Sterling quoted at so many dollars to the pound; German exchange so many cents to four marks; French and Italian exchange so many francs or lire to the dollar, and Austrian, Russian and Scandinavian exchange quoted so many cents to the unit of currency.)

QUIET MARKET IN COPPER STOCKS

Operations in mining stocks at Boston were erratic today with trading light. Traders are awaiting developments in both the Mexican and German situation before increasing their commitments.

Greene-Cananea turned weak after its bulge of yesterday, selling off $1 in the late trading at $49.75.

Paine, Webber & Co. had the following from New York: "The pronounced strength of silver is being reflected by an improved demand for silver shares. A substantial class of buying is in progress in the rails and they look considerably higher."

• • •

Silver sold at 71⅜ cents in New York today, the highest since 1896.

• • •

London metal markets: Spot copper closed unchanged; future unchanged; electrolytic up £1 10s; spelter up £1, and futures up £1.

Announcement was made yesterday by officials of the Anaconda Copper Mining company and other mining companies operating the Butte district that, effective May 1, the wages of miners and smelter men at Butte, Anaconda and Great Falls would be raised 25 cents a day. This makes the minimum wage $4.50 per day.

The Anaconda company also gave notice that wages of its salaried employes which are $300 a month or less would be raised at the rate of 10 per cent. This rate of pay is to be effective so long as copper is quoted at more than 25 cents a pound.

About 25,000 men are affected by the increased wages. The advance amounts to about $6,000 a day for the miners and smelter men in the three cities.

MARINE COMPANIES REAP BIG HARVEST

Mercantile Corporation Reports Quarterly Net Earnings of $14,000,000.

The harvest now being reaped by the steamship companies as a result of the war is illustrated in the current earning reports of the International Mercantile Marine company.

For the quarter ended March 31, the company is estimated to have earned $14,000,000 net. This is at the annual rate of $56,000,000, and, deducting taxes, it is estimated there would remain for corporate purposes something more than $33,000,000, equivalent to nearly 65 per cent on the present $51,730,000 of preferred stock.

This would compare with $43,000,000 of net earned by Mercantile Marine last year. Out of this latter figure $26,000,000 remained for the company's use after deduction of taxes producing a surplus equivalent to 50 per cent on the same amount of preferred stock, or sufficient to wipe out 52½ per cent of the accumulated dividends on the preferred stock which on May 1 next will amount to 81½ per cent.

Steamship men estimate that on the current basis of rates and volume of tonnage in service, Mercantile Marine should average $4,000,000 of net profits monthly or a little better.

Prior to the outbreak of the war, the affairs of the corporation were in bad shape and a receiver had been appointed. A squabble for control has developed between the preferred and common shareholders.

STOCKS HAVE ANOTHER RISE

Marine Preferred Is Foremost Feature of the Final Hour.

Rails Are Again Strong on Publication of Remarkable Earnings.

New York, April 28.—Yesterday's brisk inquiry for stocks of various descriptions was resumed today, initial prices showing gains of material fractions to over a point. Rails, which figured conspicuously in the preceding session, were again very active under the lead of Union Pacific, Reading, New York Central and other standard issues. Crucible Steel and Baldwin locomotive led the specialties with pronounced strength in Bethlehem Steel, other munitions, equipments and industrials. United States Steel added substantially to its recent recovery and the metal group made further response to favorable trade conditions.

A rise in today's stock market was checked for a time by heavy profit-taking and some apprehension arising from another British marine disaster, but the setback was soon vercome, rails again taking the initiative on the publication of additional remarkable statements of earnings. Reading extended its gain to 3 points and other issues of that class indicated further accumulation. Mexicans were distinctly active and strong, American Smelting advancing 3¼ with 8⅜ for Greene-Cananea. United States Smelting came suddenly forward with an overnight gain of 4 and Bethlehem Steel featured the war issues on its rise of 18. Bonds were firm.

Trading diminished in the early afternoon and leading stocks yielded again, while inactive issues like American Cotton Oil, American Linseed, Corn Products and other fertilizers assumed temporary prominence at moderate advances.

Marine preferred was the foremost feature of the final hour, duplicating its record price of 85 on free absorption. The closing was firm.

SHORTER WORKING DAY WITH SAME PAY

Chicago, April 28.—The International Harvester company today granted a shorter working day with no reduction in pay to their employes who went on a strike yesterday. The new schedule, which goes into effect May 1, was announced following a meeting of officials, called to discuss the strike situation. George A. Ranney, the secretary, issued this statement:

"In consequence of reduced export trade in the business of the International Harvester company since the war, we are compelled to again adopt the nine-hour working day. Beginning May 1, our employes will receive ten hours' pay for nine hours' work. This applies both to day workers and piece workers."

The adoption of this new schedule was precipitated by the strike of some 5,000 persons in the McCormick and Deering plants, Mr. Ranney said, "but was not because of any demands made by the strikers."

LA FOLLETTE COMING BACK TO PLANT TREES

Madison, Wis., April 28.—Senator La Follette is coming back to Wisconsin on May 6 to plant a dozen Washington elms in the public grounds at Mount Vernon, a little village in Western Dane county, near where the senator spent his early days. He will be the speaker for the occasion.

The trees to be planted are offshoots from a tree planted by President Washington at his Mount Vernon, Va., home.

ANNIVERSARY OF WRECK OF NOBLE

Twenty Lives Snuffed Out in Storm Near Duluth.

The steamer Benjamin Noble, loaded with railroad iron, was lost with all hands, two years ago today, presumably off Knife island, about fourteen miles from Duluth. The wreck occurred in the heaviest storm that has prevailed at this end of the Great Lakes, during a season of navigation, since the wreck of the Mataafa on Minnesota Point, Nov. 28, 1905. A wind of fifty miles an hour was blowing and the storm lasted almost two full days. With this condition of wind for so long a period, Lake Superior was behaving at its worst, and it is believed that in the plunging in the sea, the Noble hit bottom, failed to recover and simply went down like a solid piece of steel, held by the heavy load of railroad iron which she carried. Twenty lives were snuffed out.

The following day, lifebelts, portions of hatch covers and other bits of the wreck washed ashore on Minnesota Point, but the craft itself has never been located. Officers on the steamer D. J. Morrell say that they saw the Noble off Knife island during the storm and that while they were watching her lights they suddenly disappeared.

Much damage was done inside the harbor that day, and at the Clarkson coal dock on Rice's Point, the 600-foot steel loading bridge of the dock blew down and wrecked the upper works of the steamer Champlain, which was unloading there at the time.

FLOATER'S BODY THAT OF SAILOR

Found at Ashland; Missed From Steamer W. L. Brown Last Fall.

Ashland, Wis., April 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—The floater found in Chequamegon bay last week has been identified as a Russian who was known as Steve Burke, although this was not his right name. He shipped at Superior last September and was missed from the steamer W. L. Brown at Ashland on Nov. 28. Later on the Brown tied up at Detroit, and Burke's suitcase was taken to the office of the Lake Carriers' association.

He shoveled coal for the firemen on the Brown and presumably was on the steamer Griffin for a time. He worked around Ashland at different times, and was supposed to have had a brother in Chicago.

HEADACHES

Thousands of men and women suffer from headaches every day, other thousands have headaches every week or every month, and still others have headaches occasionally, but not at regular intervals. The best Doctor is often unable to find the cause of many of these headaches, and in most other cases, knowing the cause, he does not know what will remove it, so as to give a permanent cure. All he can do is to prescribe the usual pain relievers, which give temporary relief, but the headache returns as usual, and treatment is again necessary. If you suffer from headaches, no matter what their nature, take anti-kamnia tablets, and the results will be satisfactory in the highest degree. You can obtain them at all druggists in any quantity, 10c worth, 25c worth or more. Ask for A-K Tablets.

SICK-HEADACHES

Sick-headache, the most miserable of all sicknesses, loses its terrors when A-K Tablets are taken. When you feel an attack coming on take two tablets, and in many cases, the attack will be warded off. During an attack take one A-K Tablet every two hours. The rest and comfort which follow, can be obtained in no other way.

Genuine A-K Tablets bear the AK monogram. At all druggists.

EXTENSIVE PLAY PROGRAM

Recreational Director Outlines Work for Eleven Public Playgrounds.

An extensive playground and recreational program has been outlined by J. R. Batchelor, recreational director, for the eleven public playgrounds.

Mr. Batchelor is arranging for the formal opening next Monday afternoon.

In addition to the regular field sports, contests, playground activities and the baseball leagues, Director Batchelor proposes to conduct physical tests for every boy and girl in the city, evening open air concerts and motion picture entertainments, amateur shows and circuses, cross-city relay race on July 4 and a play festival at Athletic park, where several hundred boys and girls will participate in field dances, sports and track contests.

During the summer Director Batchelor will be aided by twenty-four young men and women, who will be in charge of the playgrounds. The young men will begin next week, while the women assistants will not begin until the close of the school year in June.

"We will make each of the eleven playgrounds a social center for that community," said Director Batchelor in explaining his extensive recreational program for the coming summer months. "The evening open air entertainments are new in recreational work, but we are certain that they will be successful. The purpose of these is to bring the parents out in the evenings with their children. There will be motion picture shows, dancing specialties and games for the youngsters all staged under the supervision of the playground directors."

Tennis courts are now being laid out at the Chester and Harrison park playgrounds and these will be ready within ten days, Director Batchelor said this morning. The apparatus for the eight new playgrounds has been delayed and it is probable that the equipment will not be installed until the latter part of next week.

THREE MILES OF PAVEMENT

Duluth's Biggest Job Will Be Ordered Next Monday.

Duluth's biggest paving job of the year will be ordered next Monday afternoon.

This announcement was made today by Commissioner Farrell, head of the works division, who said that a resolution will be introduced ordering the improvement of Fourth street, from Twenty-seventh avenue east to Wallace avenue; Wallace avenue, from Fourth street to Woodland avenue, and Woodland avenue, from Wallace avenue to the end of the Woodland car line at Austin street. This pavement will be 600 feet short of three miles.

City Engineer Ayres is now preparing figures on the estimated cost of improving the street with asphalt, creosoted blocks or concrete, and these will be ready by Monday morning, he said today.

Only part of the pavement will be laid this year, as the city's improvement funds will not permit such a large expenditure, according to Commissioner Farrell.

The petition for the paving of Wallace and Woodland avenues was filed with the council shortly before Jan. 1, its signers including some of the most prominent residents of Duluth.

Grand avenue, the second largest paving job of the year, has already been ordered and the contract will be awarded to Olson & Johnson at the meeting next Monday afternoon on their bid of $162,662. Active work will start next Wednesday morning, it was announced today.

NEARLY 100 BOYS ENTER INDOOR MEET

"Y" Will Give Prizes for Winners in Every Class.

Nearly 100 boys have entered for the inter-Sunday school athletic indoor field meet to be held in the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium this evening at 8 o'clock. The meet is being conducted by the boys' department, Y. M. C. A., and the winners in each class will receive a banner in the colors of their school.

All the boys who made the Hustler club at the boys' department, Y. M. C. A., and the boys who qualified as efficiency men will meet tonight for dinner at 6 o'clock. After this each group will have its picture taken. These pictures are to be hung in the new boys' building.

The Intermediate Bible Study club will meet for dinner Saturday. All the members of the club are asked to be present.

The outing committee has arranged for a cabin party. One of the best cabins in Duluth has been secured for this trip. The party will leave at 1:30 p. m. Each boy will bring 10 cents for car fare and a lunch, including something to cook. How to cook one's own lunch will be one of the features of the trip.

Big programs have been prepared for Sunday. Both clubs will close for the season. The Knights of Sir Galahad will meet at 3 o'clock and Russell Duncan, president of the cabinet, will be the speaker. Herbert Miska will be the soloist. Special announcements about the Sir Galahad camp and picnic will be made, and each boy who brings a friend will receive a picture of Sir Galahad. The Sunday club will meet at 4 o'clock and Rev. George Brewer will be the speaker. Luncheon will be served. All boys in the city more than 15 years old are invited.

$20 spring suits $11.25, at the "3 Winners" removal sale.

ADVENTIST CHURCH ENLARGED.

Pastor White Will Give Discourse on "Who Broke Devil's Hammer."

The Seventh Day Adventist church on the corner of Tenth avenue east and Sixth street is now being considerably enlarged. The addition, when completed, will nearly double the seating capacity. Sunday night will be last public service held there until the work is completed. The pastor, Stemple White, will deliver an illustrated discourse Sunday evening on the subject, "How God Broke the Devil's Hammer." There will be special music. All seats are free.

Balmacaan topcoats $9.75. "3 Winners" removal sale.

MINERS LEAVE RANGE FOR FARM

Many miners on the range are planning to quit the mines for the farm, according to Joseph Mantel, a prominent merchant of Ely, who is now registered at the St. Louis hotel here. He says the farmers are advertising for men at $3.50 and $4 a day.

Mr. Mantell says that Ely is in a prosperous condition, and that much building is under way, while big improvements are being planned for the summer and fall.

THE WAGE EARNERS' GREATEST ASSET

It has taken us AMERICANS many years to realize that the real basis of personal efficiency—the one great secret of success, as well as happiness in life, lies in our physical condition. Our bodies are much like engines. They furnish the power that lies back of brain energy. When we increase our physical vitality we automatically increase our mental energy. Have you ever noticed how on some days when you feel out of sorts, when you seem to lack your usual physical energy, how inefficient you are in business? You may get by and turn out the work that you planned for that day, but did you do it as well as usual and wasn't it a tax instead of a pleasure? Now when you feel that way you are not well and need a good reliable tonic, so take a few minutes times and come to the Lyceum Pharmacy and talk to the Cactus Juice man, who is there just to advise and tell you of that wonderful preparation that he is introducing, or if you cannot come there just go to your druggist and ask for CALIFORNIA CACTUS JUICE.—Advertisement.

LEGAL NOTICES.

ARTICLES OF INCORPORATION —OF— BIWABIK SAND AND GRAVEL COMPANY.

KNOW ALL MEN BY THESE PRESENTS, That we, the undersigned, do hereby associate ourselves together as a body corporate under and pursuant and in conformity with the provisions of Chapter 58 of the Revised Laws of Minnesota, 1905, and amendments thereof, for the purpose of organizing a corporation, and do certify that to effect such purpose we have adopted and signed the following Articles of Incorporation:

ARTICLE I.

The name of the corporation shall be BIWABIK SAND AND GRAVEL COMPANY.

ARTICLE II.

The general nature of its business shall be to buy, own and sell sand, gravel and rock; to own and operate gravel pits, quarries and the necessary machinery incidental to the removing of sand and gravel and the crushing of rock; to own, operate and control docks for the storage of sand, gravel and rock in such place and places in the State of Minnesota, or elsewhere, as the Board of Directors may determine; to sell and deal in sand, gravel and rock, either at wholesale or retail, and to that end build and equip the necessary docks and warehouses in such places in the State of Minnesota, or elsewhere, as the Board of Directors may determine; to own and operate necessary trucks, steam cars, electric cars and other forms of conveyances as may be necessary to remove the said sand, gravel and rock from any property owned by the company, or property acquired by the company either through lease or otherwise, for that purpose, and for the purpose of delivering the same to the trade, and in general to carry on the business of mining, digging and removing of sand, gravel and rock, and of selling the same to the trade, and such other things as may be requisite and necessary to the complete performance of the purposes for which this corporation is organized.

ARTICLE III.

The principal place of business of the corporation shall be Biwabik, in the County of St. Louis and State of Minnesota, and the time of commencement of the corporation shall be the first day of May, 1916, and the period of its duration shall be thirty years.

ARTICLE IV.

The amount of the capital stock of the corporation shall be Fifty Thousand Dollars ($50,000.00), divided into five hundred (500) shares, at the par value of One Hundred Dollars ($100.00) each, and the same shall be subscribed for and paid in and issued at such time and in such amounts and upon such terms and conditions as shall be ordered by the Board of Directors of said company.

ARTICLE V.

The management of the corporation shall be vested in a board of three directors, who shall be stockholders of and in the corporation, and shall be elected yearly at the annual meeting of said corporation, to be held on the first Monday of May each year hereafter. Immediately following the annual stockholders' meeting, the Board of Directors, elected at said meeting, shall convene and shall elect from among their number four officers of the corporation, namely, president, vice president, secretary and treasurer, and any two of said offices, except the president and vice president, may be held by the same person. Until such annual meeting, to be held in the year 1916, Kirk S. Johnson, O. S. Andresen and Rae Zurovsky shall constitute the first Board of Directors, and shall hold their offices until their successors are duly elected and qualified. Until the election and organization of a new Board of Directors of said corporation, the following named persons shall be the respective officers of the corporation:

Kirk S. Johnson, President.
O. S. Andresen, Vice President.
Rae Zurovsky, Secretary and Treasurer.

ARTICLE VI.

The highest amount of indebtedness or liability to which this corporation shall be at any time subject shall be $25,000.00.

ARTICLE VII.

The names and places of residence of the incorporators of said company are as follows:

Kirk S. Johnson, Biwabik, Minnesota.
O. S. Andresen, Duluth, Minnesota.
Rae Zurovsky, Duluth, Minnesota.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, We have hereunto set our hands and seals this 24th day of April, A. D. 1916.

PETITION FOR APPOINTMENT OF GUARDIAN AD LITEM—

State of Minnesota, County of St. Louis—ss.

District Court, Eleventh Judicial District.

Adams Mining Company,
Plaintiff,
vs.

George H. Mann, Minnie Maxfield, George B. Williams, Floyd D. Williams, Perly Williams, Fay Williams, Minnie Williams MacAdam, Roy Williams, John J. Rupp, Christian Rupp, Eva Graham Swartwout, Ella Graham, Ella Kerr Stewart, Cora Kerr Stewart, Hannah Kerr, Homer A. Day, William Kerr, Emma Cooney, Emma Tope, Jennie Profrock, Manson A. Kerr, Linnie Miles, Ada Black and all other persons unknown having or claiming an interest in the property described in the complaint herein, Defendants.

To the District Court of the Eleventh Judicial District of the State of Minnesota, in and for the County of St. Louis:

The petition of the undersigned, Adams Mining Company, the plaintiff in the above entitled action, respectfully shows:

That the above entitled action has been commenced, and is now pending, in said court, for the purpose of partitioning the land described in the complaint herein; that the above named defendant, Roy Williams, is a proper party defendant in said action, and is an insane person; that said defendant, Roy Williams, has no guardian of any kind within this State, and is not a resident of or within this State, but is a resident of the State of Michigan, and is, as affiant is informed and believes, confined in the State Asylum for the Insane in the City of Pontiac, in said State.

That no appearance by or on behalf of said insane party defendant has been made in this action; that no application for the appointment of a guardian ad litem for him has been made, to the best of deponent's knowledge and belief; that summons in this action has been duly served on said defendant, and that more than twenty (20) days have elapsed since the service of the summons upon the above named defendant.

That on the 6th day of May, 1916, at 9:30 o'clock in the forenoon, or as soon thereafter as counsel can be heard, at the Court House in the City of Duluth, in the County of St. Louis and State of Minnesota, this application will be presented to the said court, or to one of the Judges thereof, for the purpose of securing the appointment of a guardian ad litem for said insane defendant.

Affiant further deposes and says, that the subject of this action is real property in the State of Minnesota, and that said defendant claims to have an interest therein or lien thereon: that the plaintiff asks to have the same partitioned according to the respective rights or interests of the parties interested therein; or for the sale of such property, or a part thereof, if it appears that a partition cannot be had without great prejudice to the owners.

Wherefore, your petitioner prays that Arthur W. Hunter of Duluth, Minnesota, who is a competent and responsible and disinterested person, be appointed guardian ad litem for said insane defendant, Roy Williams, for the purposes of the above entitled action.

Dated April 14th, 1916.

ADAMS MINING COMPANY,
By CRASSWELLER, CRASSWELLER & BLU, Its Attorneys.

State of Minnesota, County of St. Louis—ss.

Arthur H. Crassweller, being first duly sworn, deposes and says:

That he is one of the attorneys for the applicant above named; that he has read the foregoing petition and knows the contents thereof; that the same is true, except as to matters therein stated on information and belief, and as to such matters he believes it to be true.

ARTHUR H. CRASSWELLER.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 14th day of April, 1916.

When Poultry Raising Becomes Profitable!

When people who are interested in chickens, put poultry raising on a common sense, business basis, they will realize that it can afford them not only a source of great pleasure, but of large profits as well. Proper housing, right feeding, birds of good stock —these go to make up a paying "chicken business." And all of these are easily obtainable through reading the "Poultry, Pets and Live Stock" column a few pages over in the Want Ad section. They contain authoritative information about poultry and poultry supplies and where the best may be obtained.

Whether you have a dozen hens in the back yard, or a poultry farm, whether you wish to buy or sell, read these columns carefully and continuously and use them for your profit.
